4142.—Foll. 558; 12⅝ × 10 in.; ll. 13; ruled borders; writing described below; fully vocalised; illuminations (see below); worm-eaten and otherwise damaged in places; margins repaired throughout; copyist, Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn Niẓām ibn Qiwām al-'Abbāsī; dated 15 Rabī' II 857/1453. [DELHI]

القرآن

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II–CXIV.

A large Qur'ān carefully written (like nos. 1053–6 and 1072(a)) in a rather stiff Indian script which continued to be used occasionally in Qur'āns until a comparatively recent period (cf. no. 1056) and which is distinguished by a general clumsiness of effect, by the thickness of its horizontal strokes, the shallowness of the curves of final nūns and similar letters, the thinness and approximate horizontality of the vowel-marks, and other peculiarities[1].

Elaborate but rather crude illuminations on foll. 9*a* (beginning of Sūrah II—the opposite page is missing), 112*b* and 113*a* (Sūrah VII), 245*b* and 246*a* (Sūrah XIX), 377*b* and 378*a* (Sūrah XXXVIII) and 531*b* and 532*a* (Sūrah CXIV) mark the beginnings of the four quarters and the end of the text.

In the margin near to the beginning of each sūrah is written in red ink a Persian note headed فضل السورة concerning the rewards promised, according to alleged statements of the Prophet, for reading it. Below or near to this note is another headed ختم سورة (كذا) concerning the talismanic effects of reading the whole sūrah a specified number of times.

In the margin likewise are indicated (usually in red) the beginnings of the ajzā' and asbā'[1] and their subdivisions, the rukū'āt, the sajdahs, the variant readings (the abbreviations denoting the names of authorities being written underneath, usually in blue) and an apportionment of the text of each juz' among the five daily prayers, the names of which are written in red or blue. At the beginning of each sūrah is stated also in the margin the number of rukū'āt into which it is divided.

There are numerous marginal notes in various hands consisting largely of extracts from well-known works such as the 'Arā'is al-bayān, al-Baiḍāwī, al-Naisābūrī's Gharā'ib al-Qur'ān and the Madārik al-tanzīl. Interlinear notes and glosses also are frequent.

Red ink is used in the text for al-Sajāwandī's signs of pause, the مدّ منفصل, the first few words of each juz' and the headings of sūrahs.

[1] It has been ascertained from a photograph that this script belongs to the same type as that of Qur'ān no. 65 in the Āṣafīyah Library, Ḥaidarābād, which is stated in the catalogue to be written in the khaṭṭ i Bihār. Major Charles Stewart in his catalogue of Ṭīpū's Library, p. 166, describes a Qur'ān (no. VI) as "written in the Behāry character (a branch of the Cufick)." A manuscript of the Durr i majālis said to be written in the khaṭṭ i Bihārī is described by Khudā Bakhsh in his Maḥbūb al-albāb, p. 272.

[1] The copyist began but forthwith discontinued the indication of a division into athmān and atsā'.

The ends of verses are marked by yellow circles with blue centres and red circumferences, around which red and blue dots (usually eight in number) are arranged alternately. The text is enclosed within treble ruled borders of red and blue.

The colophon is followed (1) on fol. 533*a* by a prayer headed:

الدعاء لختم القران اللهم صلّ على محمد وعلى آل محمد وبارِكْ وسلّم

and beginning:

صدق الله العظيم وصدق رسوله الكريم ونحن على ما قال مولينا من الشاهدين

(2) on fol. 535*b* by a metrical fāl-nāmah headed:

فال منظوم از كفتار مولانا مسعود بن عالم بن مسعود اجّه

and beginning:

كر بخواهى فال مصحف بنكري
انج شرطست اندرو زان نكذري

(3) on fol. 537*b* by notes on the views of the "Seven Readers" concerning the reading of the Isti'ādhah and the Basmalah.

(4) on fol. 538*a* by statistics of the total number of sūrahs, verses (6666), words (77742), letters (340742) and rukū'āt (540) in the Qur'ān, together with a memoria technica.

(5) on fol. 538*b* by explanations of the abbreviations used to indicate the different readers.

(6) on fol. 539*a* by a list of the readers mentioned in the Kitāb al-Ghāyaḥ (presumably that of Ibn Bādish (Aḥmad ibn 'Alī), cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 8529). The names are grouped under the five towns, al-Kūfah, al-Baṣrah, al-Madīnah, Makkah, and al-Sha'm.

(7) ibid. by a similar list with the names of the rāwīs.

(8) on fol. 540*b* by metrical memoriae technicae including eleven verses beginning:

حافظا اين نظم را بشنو كنون
تا ترا در وقف باشد رهنمون[1]

(9) on fol. 541 by a table in six columns showing the names of the authorities through whom the readings associated with the names of 'Āṣim, Ḥamzah, and al-Kisā'ī were transmitted from the Prophet to Najm al-Dīn Balawī.

The last six names are in each case 'Alam al-Dīn Sakhāwī, Ṣā'in al-Dīn Baṣrī, Nūr al-Dīn Sīwāsī, Sirāj al-Dīn Sab'ah, Ḥāfiẓ al-Dīn Khwārizmī, and Najm al-Dīn Balawī.

Two additional columns contain a versified memoria technica by Maulānā Najm al-Millaḥ wa 'l-Dīn (presumably the aforementioned Balawī) for the abbreviations indicating the different readers. It begins:

بشنو اى قارى رموز مقريان
بيشتو جون ميكنم يك يك بيان

(10) on fol. 542*a* by two short sections headed respectively احكام المدّات and سورة الفاتحة. The latter deals with the pronunciation of the words عليهم and الصراط.

The preceding are all well written with rubrications etc. The numerous remaining leaves both at the front and at the back of the book are covered with a variety of extracts, prayers, notes, Persian and Arabic verses, etc. in different hands.

Colophon (fol. 532*b*):

تمّ هذا الجامع الكبير بيد العبد الضعيف الراجي الى رحمة الله العلّام احمد بن محمد بن ن[ظ]ام بن قوام العبّاسي القاري غفر الله له ولوالديه واحسن اليهما واليه فى وقت العصر من يوم الاربعاء الخامس عشر من شهر ربيع الاخر سنة سبع وخمسين وثمانماية

Under this colophon is a seal which is damaged but on which the date 939 can be read.

Beside the seal is a note which is only partially legible but in which the words استكتبه جدّى المرحوم المغفور لقراءة نفسه can be deciphered.

[1] For these verses cf. Gotha Pers. Cat. 2, Ethé 2703 fol. 29*a* (where they are ascribed to al-Sajāwandī) etc.

4143.—Foll. 485; $10\frac{1}{5} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 13; ruled borders; good, formal writing in some respects similar to that of no. 1051: fully vocalised (foll. 1, 37, 38, 48 and 49 have been supplied in a later hand); the beginning and end of the manuscript especially have been damaged by worms and otherwise; copyist, Muḥammad Dihlawī; 15th century (?). [DELHI 13 bis]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II 12–CXIV.

A slightly defective copy carefully and elaborately written.

The Qur'ānic text is in large thick letters and between the lines in small letters is a literal Persian translation, each Qur'ānic word having the equivalent word or words written under it. The verses are divided from one another usually by gilt circles with black circumferences (from a point on which a curved line is often drawn to or beyond the centre), but on foll. 2–7 by rosettes.

The rukū'āt are marginally indicated by means of gilt or red 'ains, the beginnings of ajzā' by the word الجزو (or جزو) and the sajdahs by the word سجده in red.

The headings of sūrahs are in yellow. At the beginning of each sūrah is written in red on the margin a statement concerning the place of its revelation and the number of its verses as well as a tradition concerning the rewards promised for reading it. Here and there are marginal statements concerning the circumstances in which a particular sūrah or verse was revealed.

The Qur'ānic text ends on fol. 482*a*. On fol. 482*b* a prayer headed دعا ختم القران begins as follows:

صَدَقَ اللّٰهُ الّذِى لَا اِلٰهَ اِلّا هُوَ اَصْدَقُ الْقَائِلِينَ وبَلَّغَتْ

رُسُلُهُ رِسَالَاتِهِ وَاَنَا بِذٰلِكَ من الشَّاهِدِينَ الخ

On fol. 483*b* the copyist, Muḥammad Dihlawī, who gives his name on line 4 of this page, begins an exposition of the rules which he has observed in writing this manuscript:

قواعدي كه درين مصحف نكاه داشته شده است

Unfortunately these last leaves have been damaged and it is not possible to read all the words, but for the most part the sense is clear. The consonantal text of Zaid ibn Thābit has, he says, been adhered to except where this would have caused difficulty to the reader. The readings of Abū 'Amr as transmitted by al-Yazīdī and those of al-Kisā'ī as transmitted by Nuṣair have been given in the text, the latter being distinguished by the use of red ink. The other variant readings are given marginally in red with the abbreviations for the names of the several authorities in blue underneath.

The pauses of al-Sajāwandī are given in red and the words ما and مَنْ are marked, according to the system of al-Rāzī, with the signs ∴ (= شرط), ن (= نفی), خ (= خبر), س (= استفهام) etc.

These statements concerning the rules observed in writing the manuscript are followed by two short chapters headed respectively ذكر فضايل قران and ذكر احاديث النبى عليه السلام

The manuscript begins with the words:

وَاِذَا قِيْلَ لَهُمْ اٰمِنُوْا الخ

There are lacunae after foll. 6 (II 68–76), 19 (II 184–192), 28 (end of II 255 and beginning of II 256), 29 (II 261–7) and 43 (III 95–106). About half of fol. 224 and the bottom of fol. 225 have been torn away.

1053

3402.—Foll. 387; $12\frac{4}{5} \times 8\frac{4}{5}$ in.; ll. 14; ruled borders; text in large writing similar to that of no. 1051, Persian translation in small nasta'līq; copyist,...b. Aḥmad Anṣārī Madanī...[?]; written for the Rāy Rāyān[1]...; dated Sha'bān 990/1582 (or 995/1587) "in the time of Jalāl al-Dīn Akbar Bādshāh Ghāzī."

al-Qur'ān.

Another copy written in a script similar to that of No. 1051, but with much less skill and elaboration.

[1] This title was borne in Akbar's time by Rāy Patr [?] Dās, who in the 31st year of the reign was appointed dīwān of Bihār. For further information concerning him see Ma'āthir al-umarā' II 139–41, Ā'īn i Akbarī (tr. Blochmann) p. 469, Memoirs of Jahāngīr (tr. Rogers and Beveridge) I p. 22 etc.

The text is accompanied by an interlinear Persian translation (different from that in no. 1052) marked by certain archaic spellings.

The headings of sūrahs, the first, seventh and last line on each page, the marks of pause, and the marginal indications of sections, sub-sections and rukū'āt are in red ink. The Persian translation is on some pages entirely in red, on others entirely in black, on others partly in red and partly in black.

The verses are separated from one another usually by red circles enclosing small black squares or circles.

Little now remains of the original margins. The first three leaves were apparently supplied in the 18th century. The last few leaves have all lost more than the margins and on fol. 387*a* about one-third of the colophon has been torn away. The following words are visible:

وقع الفراغ من كتابت هذ [sic] الكتاب العزيز الذي
لا ياتيه الـ[باطل من بين يديه] ولا من خلفه بخط
عبد [sic] الضعيف النحيف الحقير الراجي ا[لي رحمة
ربه القدير] ... بن احمد انصاري المدني ثم ثناي
[?] المحتـ[ـد] ... شعبان سنه ٩٩٠ حق وملك راي رايان
را [ي پتر داس] ... در عهد جلال الدين اكبر بادشاه
غازي خلد الله ...

For the circumstances in which this Qur'ān was "picked up in the streets of Lucknow, on the occasion of the entry of the Brigade under General Franks into that city, in 1857, by one of his Aides de Camp," and for other information see Ethé 2969.

1054

4133.—Foll. 240; 9½ × 5½ in.; ll. 19; ruled borders; writing similar to that of no. 1051; fully vocalised; illuminations; rubrications; marks of pause etc.; somewhat worm-eaten and otherwise damaged, margins repaired throughout; copyist, Jamāl al-Dīn ibn Rukn al-Dīn ibn Jamāl al-Dīn ibn Yumn [?] ibn Sulaimān; 16th century (?). [DELHI]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs I–XLVIII and CII–CXIV.

Another copy in similar but more compactly written script.

Fol. 1*b* and 2*a* as well as 240*b* are crudely illuminated.

Colophon:

وقد وقع الفراغ من تجويد هذه المصحف بخط
عبد الضعيف النحيف الراجى الى رحمة الله ربه الوالى
جمال الدين بن ركن الدين بن جمال الدين بن
يمن [?] بن سليمان غفر الله له ولوالديه الخ

On fol. 1*a* is the kursī-nāmah of a former owner, Shaikh Muḥammad Ṭufail Wālā-shāhī, described as ملازم سركار بادشاه محمد شاه صاحب قران with the date 11 Ramaḍān in the year 25 of the accession [of Muḥammad Shāh, who reigned from 1719–1748 A.D.].

1055

4145.—Foll. 408; 7½ × 5 in.; ll. 15 on foll. 108–185 and 262–387 apart from supplies, ll. 13 on foll. 196–256 and 388–end; ruled borders; fully vocalised; headings of sūrahs, marks of pause, the word الله, the opening words of sections and marginal indications of sections and subsections in red (on the 13-line pages these have mostly turned black); ends of verses marked by red circles with red centres; worm-eaten; many margins repaired; 18th century. [DELHI 18 bis]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II 91–LXXVI 11.

Another copy written (except for the numerous supplies in several inelegant hands) in similar script.

1056

4144.—Foll. 267; 9⅘ × 6⅘ in.; ll. 10, enclosed within ruled borders; writing similar to that of no. 1051; fully vocalised; in the headings of sūrahs red and black ink are generally used for alternate words or groups of words; marks of pause, marginal indications of sections and subsections and the word الله wherever it occurs are written in red ink; the verses are separated from one another by yellow circles with red spots in the centre and on four points of the circumference; slightly worm-eaten; some pages damaged; written for Miyān Wasāwā[1]; copyist, Ḥāfiẓ Walī Muḥammad; dated Tuesday, 25 Shawwāl 1194/1780. [DELHI 4 bis]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs XXX 17–CXIV.

A comparatively modern Qur'ān written in similar script.

Colophon:

تمت هذه القران المجيد وفرقان الحميد بعون الله الملك المجيد فى التاريخ عشرون وخمس من شهر شوال فى يوم الثلثا الف ومايئة وتسعون واربع سنه ١١٩٤ من هجرة النبى صلى الله عليه وسلم كاتبه حافظ ولى محمد ومالكه ميان وساوا فقير اللهم اغفر لكاتبها وقاريها ومالكها ولجميع المؤمنين والمومنات برحمتك يا ارحم الراحمين

A leaf is missing between foll. 7 and 8.

4146.—Foll. 375; $8\frac{3}{10} \times 5\frac{3}{10}$ in.; ll. 14; good naskhī, fully vocalised; headings of sūrahs, marginal indications of sections (both اجزاء and احزاب), subsections and sajdahs and marks of pause in red; verses divided by red circles; gilt decoration at top of fol. 1*a*; a division into منازل has been marginally indicated in black by another hand; slightly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 23 bis]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II–CXIV.

The actual text of the Qur'ān ends on fol. 370*b*.

Fol. 371 begins with the usual prayer (صدق الله الخ). This is followed by a long prayer beginning:

اَللّٰهُمَّ لا تُمِتْنِىْ حَتّٰى يَهْدِيْنِىْ [sic] which ends on fol. 373*a*.

Foll. 373*a*–375*b* contain versified rules (in Persian) for obtaining omens from the Qur'ān beginning:

اگر خواهى كه بينى فال قرآن الخ

Colophon:

تمت تمام شد بعون الملك الوهاب
هر كه خواند دعا طمع دارم
زانكه من بندهٔ كنه‌كارم

1058

4148.—Foll. 403; $12\frac{3}{5} \times 8\frac{4}{5}$ in.; ll. 13; ruled borders; clear but inelegant naskhī; rubrications (ajzā', rukū'āt, pauses etc.); foll. 1*b* and 2*a* elaborately, but not very artistically, illuminated; written for Gul Shēr; copyist, Saiyid Imām al-Dīn, a resident of Pānīpat; dated 1248/1832–3. [DELHI]

al-Qur'ān.

Colophon:

تمت هذ القران بعون الله الملك المنان على يد عبد الضعيف النحيف سيد امام الدين ساكن قصبه پانى پت بموجب استدعاى كُل شير درويش در سنه ١٢٤٨ هجرة النبوى صلعم

1059

4147.—Foll. 431; $11\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 9; ruled borders; large and clear, fully vocalised naskhī; headings of sūrahs and marks of pause in red; illuminated head-pieces and interlinear gilding on foll. 1*b*, 97*b* and 209*b*; somewhat worm-eaten, especially margins; no title; no colophon; 19th century. [DELHI 12 bis]

al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs X–CXIV.

The sūrahs are arranged in the groups X–XVI, XVII–XXV and XXVI–CXIV, each group beginning after a blank page or pages with an illuminated head-piece.

1060

4150.—A roll 11 ft. long × $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. wide enclosed within a cylindrical case measuring $3\frac{3}{10} \times \frac{17}{20}$ in.; minute, unvocalised naskhī with frequent omission of diacritic points; 19th century.

al-Qur'ān.

The whole of the Qur'ān written on a paper roll for use as an amulet.

[1] For this name cf. Census of India, 1911, Vol. IV, Baluchistan, Pt. I, p. 83: "Shrines, needless to say, are a very popular resort of the barren woman. Some shrines have a greater fertilising reputation than others, and the most famous of all is perhaps Shāh Wasāwa's kandī, a tree that grows in the Nasīrābād tahsīl."

The writing, which is partly in black and partly in red ink and runs at different times crosswise, lengthwise and obliquely, is enclosed within gold borders traced in such a way that alternate portions of the text form geometrical patterns and clauses of the Āyaḥ al-kursī.

For similar rolls see de Slane 571 and Rieu 76.

4149.—Foll. 186; $7\frac{7}{10} \times 5\frac{4}{5}$ in.; ll. 8 (ll. 11 on foll. 1*a*–12*a*); ruled borders; clear, fully vocalised naskhī; headings of sūrahs, marks of pause and marginal indications of sections and subsections in red; verses separated by red dots with black centres; water-stained and slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI]

al-Qur'ān.

Selections from the Qur'ān, viz. Sūrahs XXIX–XXXI, XII, XVIII, XXV, XXXVI, XLVII, XLVIII, LV, LVI, LXII, LXIV, LXVII–CXIV, II 284–286, III 138–141, VI 83–90, VII 52–54, XL 10–21, LI 47–60, XX, XXIV 35–40, XVII 79–86, LIX 18–24, XXIII 117–118.

Sūrahs XII 1–53 and II 284–286 are accompanied by an interlinear Persian translation.

Invocations in Arabic and statements in Persian concerning the method of reciting them are written on some of the margins.

3440.—Foll. 61; $8\frac{1}{5} \times 5\frac{9}{10}$ in.; ll. 5 usually; clear, large, vocalised Chinese naskhī; headings of sūrahs, marks of pause etc. in red; 19th century.

[Presented 27 June 1883. H. W. GABBETT.]

al-Qur'ān.

A volume of selections from the Qur'ān accompanied by a Chinese translation[1] which is written sometimes at the beginning, sometimes at the end, sometimes in the middle of the lines and occasionally between the lines.

The parts of the Qur'ān contained in the volume are Sūrah 1 (which is given twice, on foll. 1–3*a* and again on 3*a*–4*b*[3]), II 1–4 (foll. 4*b*–5*b*), 158 (foll. 5*b*–6*a*), 256–259 (6*a*–8*a*), 285–286 (foll. 8*b*–10*a*), III 6–7 (10*a*–10*b*), 14–17 (first five words only of 17, foll. 11*a*–12*a*), 25–26 (fol. 12), IX 129–130 (fol. 13), XXXVI (fol. 13*b*), LXVII (fol. 32*a*), LXXXVI–LXXXVII (fol. 4*a*), XCIII–XCIV (fol. 44*a*), XCVII (fol. 46*a*), XCIX (fol. 47*a*), CII–CIII (fol. 48*a*), CV–CXIV (fol. 49*b*).

Foll. 56–60 contain a prayer of the type which is to be found at the end of many printed and manuscript Qur'āns and which begins with the usual formula:

صدق الله العظيم الخ

On fol. 1*a* is the following note faintly written in pencil: "A Koran found by me at Amoy in ... the Admiral's House. W. M. Gabbett.

The most valuable Book yet found in China. W. M. G."

The following note is on fol. 61*a*: "This Koran was found by M General W. M. Gabbett in the Chinese Admiral's House at Amoy when taken by the force under the command of Lord Gough. My brother was then Lord G.s aide de camp. R. J. Gabbett, Vicarage, Foynes."

Inserted between foll. 60 and 61 is a letter dated 7th June /83 from Mr Hugh W. Gabbett, General Gabbett's son, who presented the MS. to the India Office.

4136.—Foll. 15; $7\frac{3}{10} \times 4\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 14; good naskhī; rubrications; illuminated head-piece, ruled borders and gilt interlineations; ends of verses marked by gilt circles; much worm-eaten; decorated oriental binding; 18th century. [DELHI]

al-Qur'ān.

Section 30 = Sūrahs LXXVIII–CXIV.

The last section accompanied by the annotated Urdu translation entitled Mūḍiḥ i Qur'ān (a chronogram = 1205/1790–1) by 'Abd al-Qādir ibn Walī Allāh Dihlawī. The translation is written in red between the lines, the notes, also in red, on the margin.

4141.—A volume containing the following parts of the Qur'ān:

(a) Sūrahs XII, XXXVI, XLVIII, LV 1–41, CII 8–CXIV.

This manuscript is for the most part rather clumsily written in a script similar to that of nos. 1051 and 1053–1056, but foll. 2, 3, 5, 7, 9, 10, 12, 23 and 43–5 were supplied in the year 1201/1786–7.

An interlinear Persian translation (written in red ink as far as fol. 14 b[1]) accompanies the text in the older part of the manuscript.

The ends of verses are marked by yellow circles with red centres and four red dots arranged round the circumference.

Foll. 45; $9\frac{3}{5} \times 5\frac{7}{10}$ in.; ll. 7; ruled borders; writing described above; headings of sūrahs, opening words of sections (ajzā'), marks of pause, the word الله wherever it occurs and marginal indications of sections and rukū'āt are in red; worm-eaten and water-stained; decorated, but much damaged, oriental binding; 17th century [?]. [DELHI]

Fol. 69*a* bears a duplicate copy of XIV 47–52.

On fol. 46*a* are the words

جلد هفتم از قران وقف

Foll. 46–69; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{4}{5}$ in.; ll. 15; clear naskhī; rubrications (marks of pause etc.) only partially added; decorated oriental leather binding; 18th century[?]. [DELHI]

(c) Sūrahs XXIX 45–XXXVI 26 and XLI 47–LI 30, i.e. the 21st, 22nd and 25th sections.

These three sections which bear on foll. 71*a* and 100*a* the words جلد یازدهم (سیزدهم) از قران وقف are in the same style of binding as the preceding and were apparently regarded as belonging to the same Qur'ān, but are in a different hand and on different paper. The marks of pause and marginal rubrications are, moreover, systematically added. The ends of verses are marked by small red circles. The headings of sūrahs are of the type

سورة الرّوم نزلت بمكة آياتها ستّون وكلماتها ٧١٩ وحروفها ٣٠٣٤

Foll. 70–129; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6$ in.; ll. 14; ruled borders; good naskhī; headings of sūrahs and ajzā', marks of pause, sajdahs, marginal indications of aḥzāb and rukū'āt in red; slightly worm-eaten; water-stained; decorated oriental leather binding; 18th century. [DELHI]

4139.—A volume containing the following parts of the Qur'ān:

(a) Sūrah II 101 (from السَّمٰوٰتِ)–229 (to تَأْخُذُوْا).

There is a lacuna between foll. 2 and 3 (from او in verse 112 to وَمَا اللّٰهُ in verse 134).

Foll. 20; $7\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{4}{5}$ in.; ll. 9; ruled borders; good, large, vocalised naskhī; marks of pause etc. in red; rukū'āt indicated by marginal 'ains and gold ornaments; ends of verses marked by gold circles; worm-eaten; decorated oriental binding; 18th century. [DELHI]

(b) Sūrah XLVIII.

Colophon:

كَتَبَهُ مِيْر اِمَامِ عَلِىْ سادات رضوى از فرزندان حضرت امام على موسى رضا صلواة [sic] الله عليه

Foll. 21–34; $7\frac{3}{10} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 6; treble, ruled, red and blue borders enclosing a brown ground; good, large, vocalised naskhī; no rubrications or marks of pause; margins repaired; copyist, Mīr Imām i [sic] 'Alī Sādāt i Riḍawī; 19th century. [DELHI]

(c) Sūrah XLVIII. Another copy written in the same style.

Foll. 35–51; $8\frac{2}{5} \times 5\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 5; slightly worm-eaten; apparently in the same hand as (b). [DELHI]

(d) Sūrah XVIII, followed by (1) (fol. 88*a*) the prayer for Muḥammad called Durūd i mustaghāth, (2) (fol. 110*b*) the prayer commonly known in India as the دعاء گنج العرش, (3) the Kalimah, (4) a magic square.

Foll. 52–123; $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{5}$ in.; ll. 5; ruled red and blue borders; each line is written on a brown ground bordered by red lines and is separated from the following line both by this red line and also by an intervening white space, but from foll. 83–94 the blue lines are omitted and from 105 onwards both the blue lines and the brown ground are omitted; good, large, vocalised naskhī; marks of pause etc. and rukū'āt in red; oriental binding; 19th century. [DELHI]

(e) Sūrahs XXV 23–XXVII 60, i.e. section 19.

Colophon:

اَلْمَكْتُوْبُ مِيْرزَا مُحَمَّدْ جَمْشَيْد بَخْت بَهَادُر جَمْشَيْد فَرْ

Foll. 124–159; $7\frac{4}{5} \times 5\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 7; very fair, large, vocalised naskhī; headings of sūrahs, opening words of rukū'āt, marginal indications of sections, subsections, sajdahs etc., fol. 154, and a Persian interlinear translation which is given on fol. 153*b* are in red; slightly worm-eaten; copyist, Mīrzā Muḥammad Jamshēd-bakht Bahādur Jamshēd-far; 19th century. [DELHI]

(f) Sūrahs XXVII 61–XXIX 43, i.e. section 20.

Foll. 160–178; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5$ in.; ll. 11; ruled borders; fair, large, vocalised naskhī; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI]

(g) Sūrahs LXXVIII–CXIV, i.e. section 30.

The text is accompanied by interlinear translations in Persian and Urdu and there are marginal notes in Urdu.

Colophon:

4140.—A volume containing the following:

(a) Sūrahs XII 54 (قال انك)–XVI.

Foll. 25; $8\frac{7}{10} \times 6\frac{1}{5}$ in.; ll. 13; ruled borders; thick, clear, but rather clumsy, vocalised naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI]

(b) Sūrahs XVII–XVIII 73.

Foll. 26–41; $8\frac{4}{5} \times 6$ in.; ll. 14; clear, large, rather uncouth vocalised naskhī: rubrications; much worm-eaten; 19th century. [DELHI]

(c) Sūrahs V 81–VI 110.

Foll. 42–60; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{10}$ in.; ll. 16; ruled borders; bold naskhī; rubrications (pauses etc.); fol. 51 supplied in another hand; 19th century. [DELHI]

(d) Sūrahs VIII 42–IX 94, i.e. section 10.

Foll. 52–60; same hand as the preceding, except foll. 52 and 60 which have been supplied in the same hand as 51; decorated binding. [DELHI]

(e) Sūrahs XXXIX 33–XLI 46, i.e. section 24.

Foll. 61–86; $8\frac{1}{10} \times 5\frac{3}{5}$ in.; ll. 9; large, good naskhī; rubrications (pauses etc.); 19th century. [DELHI]

B. COMMENTARIES.

3795.—Foll. 65*b*–92*b*[11]; $6\frac{3}{10} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 15; clear, partially vocalised naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; water-stained; 15th century. [Purchased 13 July 1909]

تفسير سورة الواقعة

Tafsīr Sūraḥ al-Wāqi'aḥ.

A commentary on Sūrah LVI ascribed to 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Abbās, who is said to have died A.H. 68/687–8 or soon after (see Ency. Isl. I 19*b* etc.).

This commentary is entirely different from that contained in the concise tafsīr ascribed to Ibn 'Abbās which has been printed several times. It is concerned mainly with the subject matter and contains much eschatological information. The words قال ابن عباس occur at frequent intervals and are usually written in red ink. The portions of the Qur'ānic text are introduced by the word قوله in red (sometimes followed by تعالى or عز وجل).

Beginning:

قال اخبرنا هرُونُ بْن ليثٍ عن مجاهدٍ عن ثابتٍ الخراسانى عن عن [sic] لُهَيْعَةَ [sic] عن يَزِيد عن حبِيبٍ عنِ الْوالد بن عبدَ [sic] الله الاسدى قال دخل عثمان بن عفان علي عبدَ [sic] الله بن مسعودٍ وهو مريض يَعودُهُ فقال له يا عبدَ الرحمن [sic] مَا تَشتكى قال اشتكى ذُنُوبِى وأَرْجُوا رحمةَ ربّى ... قال يا عبد الله فما اَرَى فى بيتكَ شيًا يكونُ لِصِبْيَانِكَ من بعدكَ قال يا ابن عفان قد علّمتمْ [sic] سُورةَ الواقعةِ اَحبُّ اليهم مما طلعَتْ عليه الشمس فانى سمعتُ رسولَ الله صلى الله عليه وسلم يقولُ من قرأ سورةَ الواقعةِ كل يومٍ حشا اللهُ قلبه نورًا ... وسمعتُ [sic] يقول صلعم من ارادَ ان يَتعلّم علم الاولين والآخرين والجنةَ والنارَ وعلم ما مضى وعلمَ ما بقى فَلْيَتعلّمْ سورةَ الواقعةِ بتفسيرها قال فخرج عثمان بن عفانٍ رضى الله عنه من عنده حتى اتى الى ابن عباسٍ فسلم عليه وقال يا ابن عباسٍ اَحبَبْتُ ان تُفسر لى سورةَ الواقعة قال يا ابن عفانٍ والله لقد طلبتَ مِنِى علم الاوّلين والاخرين حبيبى وقُرةِ [sic] عينى رسول الله صلعم يقول اذا وقعه [sic] الواقعة وهى صيحة تقعُ بالخلايق من قِبَلِ اسرافيل صَاحِبِ الصُرِّ [sic] وذلك قوله تعالى اقتربتِ السَاعةُ وذلك فى يومِ الجمعةِ يوم عرفةَ ... يامر الله تعالى اسرافيلَ ان يَصيحَ بالخلايق صيحةً يقول يا اهلَ الدنيا ... قوله ليس لوَقْعَتِهَا كاذبةٌ ليسَ فيها تكذيبٌ ولا بُد من وقوعها قوله خافضةٌ يعنى خفضَتْ الى الارضِ فاَمَاتَتْ سُكّانَ الارضِ الخ

تفسير السلمى

Tafsīr al-Sulamī.

Sūrahs I–XVIII.

The Shīʻite commentary of al-Sulamī, or, as he is frequently called, al-ʻAiyāshī (Abū 'l-Naḍr Muḥammad ibn Masʻūd ibn Muḥammad ibn ʻAiyāsh al-Sulamī al-Samarqandī[1]), abridged by omission of the isnāds. The author's precise date does not seem to be recorded, but he was the master of al-Kashshī (who lived in the first half of the fourth century A.H., see Rieu 633) and consequently cannot have flourished long before the year 300/912–3. Of his works, which are said to have been more than two hundred in number and to have been held in high estimation in Khurāsān, some are mentioned in the Fihrist of Ibn al-Nadīm, pp. 194–195, and in that of al-Ṭūsī, no. 690. Notices of him will be found—apart from the two works already mentioned—in Khulāṣaḥ al-aqwāl, fol. 113*a*, Muntahā 'l-maqāl, fol. 187*b*, and Rauḍāt al-jannāt III 17 (556).

With regard to this commentary the Rauḍāt al-jannāt has the following remarks:

كتاب التفسير المشهور الذى هو على مذاق الاخبار بل التنزيل على فضائل اهل البيت الاطهار اشبه شىء بتفسير على بن ابرهيم وتفسير فرات المشهورين ولم يكن عند صاحب الوسائل غير النصف الاول منه بل ولا عند صاحب كنز الدقائق الجامع لسائر تفاسير الاخبار ايضا غير ذلك النصف وفى مقدمات البحار عند ذكره لتفسير العياشى روى عنه الطبرسى وغيره ورايتا منه نسختين قديمتين وعد فى كتب الرجال من كتبه لكن بعض الناسخين حذف بعض اسانيده للاختصار وذكر فى اوله عذرا هو اشنع من جرمه انتهى

[1] In the Rauḍāt al-jannāt he is not called al-Samarqandī but al-ʻIrāqī al-Kūfī.

The commentary does indeed closely resemble that of 'Alī ibn Ibrāhīm al-Qummī (see no. 1077), being based mainly on traditions derived from the Imāms Abū Ja'far (Muḥammad al-Bāqir) and Abū 'Abd Allāh (Ja'far al-Ṣādiq).

It opens with a number of traditions concerning the Qur'ān and the family of the Prophet as sources of guidance. These are followed by some unnumbered chapters headed as follows:

Fol. 4*a*. (a) باب نزل (sic, for ترك) الرّواية الّتى بخلاف القرآن

Fol. 4*b*. (b) فيما انزل القرآن

Fol. 4*b*. (c) تفسير النّاسخ والمنسوخ والظّاهر والباطن والمحكم والمتشابه

تفسير القمّى
Tafsīr al-Qummī.

Sūrahs I–LIII 18.

A copy, defective both at the beginning and at the end, of the Shī'ite commentary of al-Qummī (Abū'l-Ḥasan 'Alī ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Hāshim), who must have flourished in the first half of the 4th century of the Hijrah. The date of his death does not appear to be recorded. Meagre notices of him will be found in al-Ṭūsī's Fihris, no. 451, p. 209, Khulāṣaḥ al-aqwāl (I.O. 3824) fol. 75*b*[4], Muntahā 'l-maqāl (I.O. 3802) fol. 134*a*[6], Brockelmann I 192.

This copy is slightly defective at the beginning, having lost apparently not more than one leaf. In the Introduction which is prefixed to the commentary proper the author first speaks generally of the importance of the Qur'ān and the exclusive knowledge of its meaning possessed by the Prophet's family. He then (fol. 2*a*) proceeds to the special section of which Ahlwardt has quoted the opening words (in this copy قال ابو الحسن علىّ بن ابراهيم بن هاشم القمى فالقرآن منه ناسخ ومنه منسوخ ومنه محكم ومنه متشابه ومنه خاص ومنه عام ومنه تقديم ومنه تأخير الخ) and discusses in turn the various subjects mentioned in the first sentence.

For further information concerning the nature of the commentary see Loth 50, Nöldeke-Schwally 180, Goldziher, Richtungen 279 foll. etc.

الكشف والبيان

al-Kashf wa-'l-bayān

Sūrahs LV 31–LXXXI 1, XCVII 1, and XCVIII 4–XCIX 4.

Fragments of the commentary of al-Tha'labī (Abū Isḥāq Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Naisābūrī) who died in 427/1035 (or 437/1045), see Ibn Khallikān, no. 30, Subkī III 23, al-Suyūṭī, Ṭabaqāt al-mufassirīn, no. 7, Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 154, Brockelmann I 350.

This copy lacks the isnāds which occur in Ahlwardt 742 and 743, gives the Qur'ānic text less fully and is otherwise slightly abridged in places.

The remarks on each sūrah begin with statements concerning (1) its place of revelation and (2) the number of (a) letters, (b) words and (c) verses in it. These are usually followed by Ubaiy ibn Ka'b's tradition concerning the rewards promised for reading it. The earliest commentators (Ibn 'Abbās, Muqātil, etc.) are often quoted, their interpretations being sometimes given one after another in a string preceded in each case only by the commentator's name (e.g. fol. 92*a*[4]:

يوفضون يسرعون ابن عباس وقتاده يسعون ابو العاليه ومجاهد يستبقون الضحاك ينطلقون الحسن يبتدرون القرظى يشتدون)

Of the authorities quoted Tha'lab (d. 291) and Ibn Jarīr (i.e. al-Ṭabarī, d. 310/923) seem to be among the latest.

For further information concerning the characteristics of this commentary see especially Ahlwardt 737, Cureton-Rieu 821 and Nöldeke-Schwally, Geschichte des Qorans II 173.

تفسير القرآن

Tafsīr al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II 133–VI 26 and XII 43–XLVII 38.

Fragments of one of the older commentaries, described on one of the fly-leaves as the تفسير امام احمد غزالى and in the Delhi Catalogue ascribed to his brother the celebrated Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī (d. 505/1111, see Brockelmann I 419, Ency. Isl. II 146 etc.). The latter composed a commentary entitled Yāqūt al-ta'wīl (Ḥ. Kh. VI 14447), but, as it was in 40 volumes, it must have been on a much larger scale than this work.

The manuscript begins abruptly in the middle of an introductory section evidently devoted to detailing the branches of knowledge ancillary to the science of exegesis. At the top of fol. 1 is the end of a list of abrogating and abrogated verses in the Qur'ān. This is followed (line 6) by a section on the eleven Readers (beginning which is still incomplete at the end of fol. 2*b*, where a large lacuna occurs, embracing the rest of the introduction, the commentary on Sūrah I and that on the first 132 verses of Sūrah II.

Prefixed to the notes on each sūrah is a statement concerning the place of its revelation. This is followed firstly by a statement concerning the number of verses, words, and letters contained in it, and secondly by a tradition concerning the rewards promised for reciting it. The Qur'ānic text is not given in its entirety but only the words commented on, and these for the most part only one, two or three at a time. The author regularly cites the interpretations of a number of early traditionists and commentators dating from the 1st to the 5th century. Among the latest is al-Māwardī who died in 450. The style is extremely concise, especially where variant readings and diverse explanations are cited, these being usually given one after the other, each preceded merely by the name of the authority responsible for it. Verses of poetry are often cited, usually anonymously.

Having set forth the circumstances which preceded the revelation of the sūrah the commentator continues

فانزل الله سبحانه وتعالى سورة يوسف بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الر تلك آيات الكتاب المبين كانه قال الالف انا واللام لي والراء ربوبيتي اقسم الله جل جلاله بوحدانيته وصفاته وربوبيته الخ

The "traditions relating to the mustering by Adam of his posterity" which occur at the beginning of Rieu 127 do not occur in this copy.

End:

الكشّاف عن حقائق التنزيل
al-Kashshāf 'an ḥaqā'iq al-tanzīl.

The well-known commentary completed in 528/1134 by al-Zamakhsharī (Maḥmūd ibn 'Umar) who died in 538/1144 (see Ibn Khallikān, no. 721, Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 388, al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 209, Brockelmann I 289 etc.).

According to Shams al-Dīn al-Iṣfahānī (quoted on fol. 13*b*[1] of no. 1126) this commentary, in so far as it is derived from earlier commentaries, is based mainly on that of al-Zajjāj.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى انزل القران كلاما مؤلفا منتظما الخ [sic]

An edition, by W. Nassau Lees, Khādim Ḥusain and 'Abd al-Ḥaiy, was published at Calcutta in 1856–9. For this and other editions (Būlāq 1281/1864, Cairo 1307/1890, 1308/1890–1) see Ellis 1 870–1, 876, Cairo 1 190–1.

Manuscripts are common: see, e.g., Ahlwardt 769–787, Cureton-Rieu 64–7, Rieu 104–6, Ellis-Edwards p. 3 (Or. 5102, Or. 6343), Loth 52–58, Nicoll-Pusey 17 (p. 66), Uri 7 (p. 48), 48 (p. 52), Vollers 86–93.

4159.—Foll. 129; $7\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 17; good, old, partially vocalised naskhī (except foll. 1–3); numerous marginal notes; somewhat worm-eaten; copyist, Ḥājjī Ḥusain ibn Maḥmūd ibn Maḥmūd al-Ṭūsī; 13th century. [DELHI 58]

al-Kashshāf 'an ḥaqā'iq al-tanzīl.

Sūrahs XIX 58–XXIII.

A good copy of a part, described in the colophon as the fourth daftar, of the same commentary. The volume is defective at the beginning and opens with three leaves supplied in a comparatively modern hand.

Fol. 1 b is headed تتمه سورة مريم and begins with the words وعن النابغة الجعدى which occur in the explanation of Sūrah XIX 58 (p. 831, l. 15 of the edition printed at Calcutta in 1856–9). The older part of the manuscript begins on fol. 4 a with the words وعلى مَعنيَيْن معنى النُزول which form part of the explanation of Sūrah XIX 65 (Calcutta edition, p. 833, l. 17).

There is a lacuna (corresponding to pp. 912, l. 4 ab infra–918, l. 2 ab infra in the Calcutta edition, i.e. Sūrahs XXII 58–XXIII 9) after fol. 107.

Sūrah XX begins on fol. 18 a, XXI on 57 a, XXII on 87 a, XXIII 9 on 108 a.

Colophon:

اَتمَ الدفترَ الرّابعَ من الكشّافِ عن حقائق التنزيلِ عُبيدُ الله الفقيرُ اليه الراجى عفوَهُ حاجى حُسين بن محمود بن محمود الطُوسِى لنفسه حامدًا ومصلّيا وسائلًا اَنْ يَمنح التوفيق فى اتمام اخواته الباقية

4161.—Foll. 224; $14\frac{1}{10} \times 10$ in.; ll. 33; good, largely vocalised naskhī in two different hands; illuminated title on fol. 1 a; a few pages water-stained, all somewhat worm-eaten, and some considerably damaged; numerous marginal notes at beginning; 14th century (apart from some leaves supplied apparently in the 18th).

[DELHI 56]

al-Kashshāf 'an ḥaqā'iq al-tanzīl.

Sūrahs I–XVIII.

The first half of the same commentary.

Fol. 1 a bears the illuminated title

كتابُ الكاشف [sic] فى تَفْسِير القران المجيْد لِلزّمَخْشَرِى

As far as fol. 62 the text of the Qur'ān is written on the margin, on which are also a number of corrections and notes.

The library seal of al-Sulṭān al-A'ẓam Shāh Rukh Bahādur is stamped on foll. 39 a, 122 a and 187 a and there is a large obliterated seal on foll. 39 a, 70 a, 121 a, 159 a and 182 a.

Sūrahs XIX 88–XXVII.

A fragment of the same commentary.

Beginning: اى يوم نحشر وَنَسُوق

(Calcutta edition, p. 841, l. 11).

End: وسمكه ثمانين وَقيل ثلاثين
(ibid., p. 1023, l. 18).

There is a lacuna after fol. 89 corresponding to pp. 932^{10}–941^{17} in the Calcutta edition, i.e. Sūrahs XXIII 101–XXIV 12.

4162.—Foll. 313; $11\frac{1}{10} \times 6\frac{3}{5}$ in.; ll. 39–43; ruled borders; clear Turkish naskhī; rubrications; illuminated heading on fol. 1*b*; written for Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad ibn Ja'far Kānī Shalabī; copyist, Aḥmad ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn Ismā'īl ibn Yūsuf ibn 'Abd Allāh called الديبه; dated Monday, 5 Sha'bān 1074/1664 (a colophon at the end of Sūrah XXXVII (fol. 154*a*) is dated 15 Dhū 'l-Qa'daḥ 1070/1660).

al-Kashshāf 'an ḥaqā'iq al-tanzīl.

Sūrah II 1–181.

A fragment of the Kashshāf extending from a point near the beginning of the remarks on Sūrah II (Calcutta edition I p. 17^{22}) to verse 181 of that sūrah, but with several internal lacunae.

Beginning:

فان قلت فما وَجْهُ اِخْتِصَاصِ كلّ سورةٍ بالفاتحة التى اُختُصَّتْ بها الخ

End: وَارَادَةَ اَنْ تَشْكُرُوْا وَقُرِئَ

الكشف عن مشكلات الكشاف
al-Kashf 'an mushkilāt al-Kashshāf.

Sūrahs I–CXI 2.

A good but slightly defective copy of the annotations of al-Fārisī ('Umar ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān, who died in 745/1344–5 according to Ḥājjī Khalīfah V p. 189^{6}) on the Kashshāf. The Cairo Catalogue I 192 gives his name as Sirāj al-Dīn 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn 'Umar al-Bihbihānī (s.l.) al-Kinānī al-Qazwīnī al-Fārisī and says that he died at the age of 37 or 38.

The words الكشف عن مشكلات الكشاف are used by the author in stating the scope of his work and are not given explicitly as the title. The work is usually referred to as Kashf al-Kashshāf or simply as al-Kashf.

The annotator refers frequently to the statements of his contemporary al-Ṭībī[1] (cf. fol. 3*b*[8] الفاضل الطيبى سلمه الله)

درر الاصداف فى حل عقد الكشاف (؟)

Durar al-aṣdāf fī ḥall 'uqad al-Kashshāf (?).

A supercommentary on the Kashshāf, probably the earlier of the two supercommentaries composed by al-Fāḍil al-Yamanī ('Imād al-Dīn [?] Yaḥyā ibn Qāsim al-'Alawī[1]) who died, according to Ḥ. Kh. V p. 190[1], in 750/1349–50.

[1] Apparently identical with the person who in the Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 414 is called 'Izz al-Dīn Yaḥyā ibn Qāsim ibn 'Umar ibn 'Alī al-Yamānī al-Ṣan'ānī al-Shāfi'ī al-Naḥwī, is said to have journeyed from Persia to Damascus in 749, to have told al-Ṣafadī there that he was born in 680, to have studied the Qur'ān at Baghdād and in al-Yaman, and to have composed a ta'līqaḥ on the Kashshāf and a commentary on the Lubāb of Tāj al-Dīn al-Isfarāyinī [cf. Ḥ. Kh. V 303[7]].

Neither the title nor the name of the author occurs in this manuscript, which is slightly defective at the beginning, but the identification seems to be almost certain. A passage quoted on fol. 73*a* of the Tuḥfaḥ al-ashrāf (no. 1096 infra) as from الحاشية الاولى differs only very slightly from the corresponding passage in this manuscript (fol. 29*b*[3]), and the two supercommentaries agree word for word in many other passages. In this work, moreover, we find no references to al-Ṭībī, the Intiṣāf and the Inṣāf, works which, as we know from Ḥ. Kh., became known to al-Yamanī only after the completion of the Durar al-aṣdāf. References to the Taqrīb, the Kashf, and to بعض الفضلاء are common in both works.

The statement of Ḥājjī Khalīfah that this work was completed in Ṣafar 738/1337 cannot be correct if the Cairo Catalogue is right in saying that the Tuḥfaḥ al-ashrāf was completed in Ṣafar 733/1332, since the former is admittedly the earlier work. Perhaps Ḥ. Kh.'s 738 is a mistake for 728.

A portion (Sūrahs XII–XXIV) of the Mabāḥith al-tanzīl, a tafsīr apparently by this author, is preserved in the British Museum (see Ellis-Edwards p. 4).

تحفة الاشراف فى كشف غوامض الكشّاف

Tuḥfaḥ al-ashrāf fī kashf ghawāmiḍ al-Kashshāf.

Sūrahs I–IX 25.

The second of the two supercommentaries on the Kashshāf composed by the same al-Fāḍil al-Yamanī (Yaḥyā ibn Qāsim al-'Alawī).

Ḥājjī Khalīfah states that al-Fāḍil al-Yamanī after finishing his Durar al-aṣdāf (see no. 1095) came across the annotations of al-Ṭībī and composed a second supercommentary on the basis of al-Ṭībī's annotations and his own Durar al-aṣdāf. According to the Cairo Catalogue I 137 the work was completed on 3 Ṣafar 733/1332 (but see the remarks on the date of the Durar al-aṣdāf, p. 23 supra).

The preface is omitted in this manuscript, in which the title Tuḥfaḥ al-ashrāf does not occur. At the top of the title-page, however, the work is stated to be حاشيه يمنى بر كشّاف and in the lower half of the same page there is a note by a former owner (name obliterated) beginning

هذه الحاشية من الفاضل اليمنى على الكشاف الخ

The correctness of this ascription is proved by the following words, which occur on fol. 91*a*[7]:

وقد بسطنا القول فى الجواب عن ذلك فى درر الاصداف

Beginning:

حاشية التفتازانى على الكشاف

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Taftāzānī 'alā 'l-Kashshāf.

Sūrahs I–X 58 and XXXVIII–XLIII 27.

A defective copy of the annotations of al-Taftāzānī (Sa'd al-Dīn Mas'ūd ibn 'Umar) on the Kashshāf.

For the life and works of al-Taftāzānī, a scholar of the time of Tīmūr and the author of several celebrated text-books, see Ḥabīb al-siyar III 3, 87 (places his death in 797/1394–5), Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 291 (places his death in 791/1389 on authority of Ibn Ḥajar), al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 134[10] (mentions that according to some authorities (e.g. Ibn Nujaim and apparently al-Kaffawī) he died on Monday, 21 al-Muḥarram 792/1390), and Brockelmann II 215.

Ḥājjī Khalīfah states, in a quotation from al-Suyūṭī, that these annotations are an abridgment of those of al-Ṭībī[1] (al-Ḥasan or al-Ḥusain b. Muḥammad, died 743/1342–3). He adds that they extended to Sūrah X and from Sūrah XXXVIII to LIV, and that the author ceased to work on them in 789.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى انزل على عبده الكتاب ولم يجعل له عوجا ... وبعد فان كتاب الكشاف الخ

The actual annotations begin on fol. 2*b* as follows:

قوله الحمد لله القران فى اللغة الجمع نقل الى المجموع المتلوّ الخ

Sūrah III:

قد سبق ان هذه الاسماء من قبيل المعربات وان لم يمسها الاعراب بالفعل الخ

Sūrah VII:

كتاب خبر مبتداء محذوف مبناه على ما اختاره من كون الفاظ لمتهجى [sic] على نمط التعديد الخ

On fol. 261*b* after the words

تتميما للفوايد دعاء ورحمة

(cf. Ahlwardt) is the colophon:

تمت النسخة الشريفة المشتملة على الفوايد الكبيرة رحمة الله على مصنفه رحمة واسعة

Sūrah XXXIX:

سورة الزمر سميت بذلك لما فيها من قوله زمرا فى آيتى الجنة والنار الخ

Sūrah XLII:

قوله اى مثل ذلك الوحى او مثل ذلك الكتاب الخ

End:

[Calcutta edition p. 1325[7]] قوله ما رجاه ابرهيم مبنى على ان ضمير جعلها لابرهيم واما اذا اريد جعلها الله

[the following word is uncertain].

The first comments relating to Sūrah I, of which the beginning is missing, occur on fol. 6*a*; Sūrah II begins on fol. 15*a*, III 125*b*, IV 158*a*, V 191*a*, VI 209*b*, VII 222*a*, VIII 239*b*, IX 246*b* (no heading: there is perhaps a lacuna here), X 257*b*, XXXVIII 262*a*, XXXIX 273*b*, XL 287*b*, XLI 297*a*, XLII 304*a*, XLIII 309*a*. There is a lacuna after fol. 5 (end of al-Zamakhsharī's preface and beginning of Sūrah I, corresponding to no. 1098 foll. 4*a*[16] to 7*b*[18]).

For other manuscripts see Ahlwardt 793, Āṣafīyah I p. 544, Ashraf 'Alī p. 2 (Sūrahs I–X 58), Bānkīpūr Handlist 277–78, Browne, Suppty. Hand-list 1035–6, Cairo I 204 (Sūrahs XXXVIII–XLVIII[beginning], Casiri 1412, Ellis-Edwards p. 3 (Sūrahs I–X 58), Peshawar 38, Qarawīyīn 146–7, and at least 23 of the Constantinople Catalogues.

On fol. 1*a* are various 'arḍ-dīdahs and seals including that of Amānat Khān Shāh-Jahānī with the date 1042.

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Taftāzānī ʻalā 'l-Kashshāf.

Sūrahs I–III 31 and V 48–65 (with several small lacunae).

Another defective copy of al-Taftāzānī's annotations on the Kashshāf.

The words آلة للصدق with which this manuscript opens and which will be found on fol. $3b^{21}$ of no. 1097 are the last words of a note on the word مصداقًا which occurs near the beginning of al-Zamakhsharī's preface (Calcutta edition p. 2^{8}).

This manuscript, which is written in clear, regular, unvocalised and to a large extent unpointed naskhī, is disfigured by numerous mistakes and was evidently copied from a manuscript in which the leaves were not all in the right order.

Beginning:

اله للصدق وما بين يديه مما تقدمه بالزمان الخ

Sūrah I:

قوله فاتحة الشيء اوّله وخاتمته آخره اذ بهما الفتحُ والدخولُ فى الامر والختم والخروج منه ولعدم اختصاصهما بالسورة ونحوها كانت التاء للنقل من الوصفية الى الاسمية الخ

Sūrah I on fol. $6b$, II $24a$, III $201b$, V 48 fol. $173b$ continued on $215a$.

The chief internal lacunae are at foll. 89 (Calcutta edition pp. 55^{27}–63^{9}), 95 (Calcutta edition pp. 67^{4}–75^{16}: the passage corresponding to pp. 75^{17-18} is on foll. 97 and 98), 211 (Calcutta edition pp. 193^{10}–195^{8}).

On the top left-hand corner of fol. $90a$, which had wrongly been numbered I, are scrawled the words حاشيه نيشابورى بر بيضاوى and no doubt in consequence of this the authorship of the work is ascribed in the Delhi Catalogue to Niẓām i Nīshāpūrī.

تنزيل الآيات على الشواهد من الابيات

Tanzīl al-āyāt ʻalā 'l-shawāhid min al-abyāt.

An autograph copy of the commentary of Muḥibb al-Dīn ibn Taqī al-Dīn al-Ḥamawī on the poetical citations in the Kashshāf of al-Zamakhsharī.

The author, Muḥibb al-Dīn Abū 'l-Faḍl Muḥammad ibn Taqī al-Dīn Abī Bakr ibn Dāwūd ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd al-Khāliq ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-'Alawānī al-Ḥamawī al-Dimashqī al-Ḥanafī, was the great-grandfather of Muḥammad Amīn al-Muḥibbī, who has given an account of his life in the Khulāṣaḥ al-athar (III 322–331). He was born in the middle of Ramaḍān 949/1542 at Ḥamāḥ and received his early education from his father. When his father became incapacitated through age he was sent to continue his studies under Abū 'l-Wafā', a son of the saint 'Alawān [see Brockelmann II 333]. Having studied under Abū 'l-Wafā' and other scholars for a number of years at Ḥamāḥ, he visited in turn Ḥalab, Ḥimṣ and Asia Minor. He was then appointed principal of a madrasah in Damascus and while resident there he studied Tradition and Qur'ānic Exegesis under Badr al-Dīn al-Ghazzī [see Brockelmann II 360]. At this period he married the daughter of Abū 'l-Fidā' Ismā'īl al-Nābulusī. In the year 978/1570–1 he left Damascus for Cairo. His account of this journey is preserved in manuscript at Paris (de Slane 2293), Cairo (Cat. Vol. VII 646, cf. Brockelmann II 361) and Cambridge (Browne, Hand-list 144 and 303). In Egypt he associated with a number of scholars who are named by al-Muḥibbī and held for a time the post of judge at Fuwwah. Subsequently he held judicial appointments at Ḥimṣ, Ḥiṣn al-Akrād, Ma'arraḥ al-Nu'mān and other places. Finally in 993/1585 he settled at Damascus and held the appointments of Nā'ib al-Kabīr, Qāḍī 'l-'askar and Muftī as well as lectureships in a number of madrasahs. He died on the 23rd of Shawwāl 1016/1608. He was distinguished in many branches of knowledge and was eminent both as a prose-writer and as a poet. Al-Khafājī devotes a section to him in his Raiḥānaḥ al-alibbā'. His handwriting, according to al-Muḥibbī, was extremely beautiful, but the writing of this manuscript is not remarkable.

Of his works al-Muḥibbī mentions the following (in addition to the Tanzīl al-āyāt):

(1) Annotations on التقسير (i.e. presumably al-Baiḍāwī).

(2) Annotations on al-Hidāyaḥ (doubtless al-Marghīnānī's system of Ḥanafī law).

(3) Annotations on al-Durar wa-'l-ghurar (i.e. Mullā Khusrau's Durar al-ḥukkām fī sharḥ Ghurar al-aḥkām, see Brockelmann II 226).

(4) 'Umdaḥ al-ḥukkām, a metrical work on fiqh.

(5) A commentary on Muḥibb al-Dīn [Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad] Ibn al-Shiḥnah's Manẓūmah on rhetoric.

(6) al-Riḥlaḥ al-Miṣrīyaḥ wa-'l-Rūmīyaḥ wa-'l-Tabrīzīyaḥ. Of these travels the Paris MS. de Slane 2293 seems to contain the first two parts and a Cairo MS (VII p. 646) the first part, which bears the title Ḥādī 'l-aẓ'ān al-Najdīyaḥ ilā 'l-Diyār al-Miṣrīyaḥ. Both the first part and the second part, which bears the title Bawādī 'l-dumū' al-'andamīyaḥ bi-wādī 'l-Diyār al-Rūmīyaḥ are preserved at Cambridge (see Browne, Hand-list 144 and 303).

(7) al-Sahm al-mu'tarid (a work with this title is ascribed by Ahlwardt (450 (27)) to Muḥibb al-Dīn's son Muḥibb Allāh).

(8) al-Radd 'alā man fajar.

(9) A collection of twenty risālahs

(وله عشرون رسالة مجموعة فى دفتر)

(10) Numerous ترسّلات, some of which were collected into a volume by his grandson.

In the present work the verses are grouped alphabetically according to the rhyming consonants. Within the groups they are arranged in the order in which they occur in the Kashshāf. The writer states that he had seen a commentary on these verses [perhaps that described in Cairo I 179] which suffered from the defect that it did not specify the آية which the verse was quoted to illustrate. In this work the author has stated in each case the آية to which the verse applies and it is to this circumstance that the book owes its title.

The title-page bears the following words:

الجزؤ الاول من شرح الشواهد بخط مؤلفه المرحوم الوالد رضى الله تبارك وتعالى عنه واسكنه فسيح الجنان بمنه وكرمه امين

Beginning:

مجمع البيان لعلوم القرآن

Majma' al-bayān li-'ulūm al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs XX–CXIV.

The latter part of a commentary by the Shī'ite scholar Amīn al-Dīn Abū 'Alī al-Faḍl ibn al-Ḥasan al-Ṭabarsī, who died in (Dhū 'l-Ḥijjah) 548/1154, see Majālis al-mu'minīn 212, Muntahā 'l-maqāl (I.O. MS. 3802) fol. 156*b*, Raudāt al-jannāt 512.

This commentary is distinguished by the methodical arrangement of the subject-matter under some or all of the headings (1) القراءة, (2) الحجة, (3) اللغة, (4) الاعراب, (5) النزول, (6) المعنى, (7) النظم, (8) القصة etc., in the case of the separate verses, and under the headings (1) عدد آيها, (2) اختلافها, (3) فضلها and (4) تفسيرها in the case of each sūrah as a whole. For further information see Ahlwardt 802 and Cureton-Rieu 1473 (where it is stated on the authority of a colophon, which does not occur in this manuscript, that the work was completed in Dhū 'l-Qa'dah 536/1142).

Beginning:

شرح شواهد مجمع البيان

Sharḥ shawāhid Majma' al-bayān.

A commentary on the poetical citations in the Majma' al-bayān of al-Ṭabarsī (d. 548/1153–4, see no. 1102) by Abū Muḥammad Muḥammad Ḥusain ibn Muḥammad al-Ṭāhir al-Sharīf al-Waḥīd.

The father of the author is no doubt to be identified with the well-known Muḥammad Ṭāhir Waḥīd, who was appointed historiographer to Shāh 'Abbās II in 1055/1645–6, was subsequently wazīr to Shāh Sulaimān, and who composed a history of the first fifteen years of the reign of Shāh 'Abbās, an Inshā' and a Dīwān. (See Ethé 1653, Rieu, Persian Catalogue 189*b*.) The composition of this work may consequently be placed with some probability in the second half of the 17th century.

The shawāhid are explained in the order in which they occur in al-Ṭabarsī's work, the opening of each sūrah being indicated in the margin by the formula شرح شواهد تفسير سورة— (in red ink) and in the text usually by a similar though shorter formula (شواهد تفسير سورة—) in black ink overlined in red, while the title of the sūrah under discussion is written in red ink in the top left-hand corner of the recto of each leaf. Each citation is introduced by the word منها (or ومنها) overlined in red.

It is the author's practice to arrange his information methodically in the following (unnumbered) sections:

(1) [without heading]. Information concerning (a) the poet, (b) the remainder of the line, if only a fragment is quoted, (c) the context etc., (d) the individual words from the point of view of accidence and lexicography.

(2) [with the heading الاعراب overlined in red]. Notes on the syntax.

(3) [with the heading المعنى overlined in red]. Elucidation of the meaning. This section is frequently omitted.

(4) [with the heading الاستشهاد به overlined in red]. Explanation of the point illustrated by the citation.

Occasionally these are followed by a fifth section introduced by the heading تذييل or التذييل, in which the author discusses not the citation but a point in al-Ṭabarsī's commentary.

Beginning:

جوامع الجامع

Jawāmi' al-jāmi'.

Sūrahs I–XVIII 30.

About half of the commentary composed in the period 18 Ṣafar 542–24 al-Muḥarram 543 (according to the author's colophon in Loth 64) at the suggestion of his son, Abū Naṣr al-Ḥasan, by al-Ṭabarsī (Abū 'Alī al-Faḍl ibn al-Ḥasan, who died in 548/1153–4, see no. 1102) on the basis of his Majma' al-bayān (no. 1102) and his abridgment of the Kashshāf entitled al-Kāfī 'l-shāf [الكافى الشّاف as it is written in this copy: in Loth 64 it is written الكافى الشافى, not الكافى فى الشافى as stated in Loth's Catalogue]. The author was at the time of composition more than seventy years old. For further details see Loth 64.

The title is mentioned in the preface, but whereas in this manuscript it is given in the form Jawāmi' al-jāmi' in Loth 64 it is written Jāmi' al-jawāmi'.

This commentary is much more concise than the Majma' al-bayān and the comments are not grouped under headings.

At the beginning of each sūrah are statements concerning its place of revelation and the number of its verses. These are followed by a tradition or traditions concerning the rewards promised for reading it (beginning usually فى حديث ابى).

Beginning:

Sūrahs xxxvii 101–147, xxxviii 4–xl 1, xl 11–59, xlii 19–xliii 27, xliii 57–81, xliv 35–42.

Fragments of the extensive commentary of al-Qurṭubī (Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn Abī Bakr ibn Farḥ[1] al-Anṣārī al-Khazrajī), who died and was buried at Munyaḥ Banī Khaṣīb in Upper Egypt in Shawwāl 671/1273, see Ibn Farḥūn 317, al-Suyūṭī, Ṭabaqāt al-mufassirīn, no. 88, Brockelmann i 415.

This copy bears on one of the fly-leaves in a modern Egyptian hand the words

قطعة من تفسير القرطبى الموسوم بجامع لاحكام القرآن

That the commentary is really that of al-Qurṭubī is shown by a reference on fol. 17*a*[16] to the Tadhkiraḥ [bi-aḥwāl al-mauṭā wa-umūr al-ākhiraḥ] as a work of the author's own. Another work of the author's, al-Iʿlām fī maʿrifaḥ maulid al-Muṣṭafā ʿalaihi 'l-salām, is mentioned on fol. 8*b*.

[1] bi-iskān al-rā' wa-'l-ḥā' al-muhmalaḥ according to Ibn Farḥūn.

Ibn Farḥūn says of this commentary:

وهو من اجل التفاسير واعظمها نفعا اسقط منه القصص والتواريخ واثبت عوضها احكام القرآن واستنباط الادلة وذكر القرآت والاعراب والناسخ والمنسوخ

Beginning (on a leaf bearing the number 2):

Sūrah XXXVIII 4 on fol. 19*a*, XXXIX on 59*a*, XL on 88*a*, XLII 19 on 102*a*, XLIII on 122*b*, XLIV 35 on 140*a*.

Complete copies of this work are rare. Two are described in the Cairo Catalogue, Vol. I, pp. 159 and 160, and of the sixteen incomplete copies mentioned on pp. 160–2 several contain considerable portions of the text. One consisting of eleven (in part defective) volumes (out of the sixteen into which it was divided) was copied, in so far as ten of the volumes are concerned, from an autograph in or about A.H. 766. Of the copies mentioned in at least seventeen of the Constantinople Catalogues 'Āṭif Efendī 194–207 (in fourteen volumes) must at any rate be nearly complete, while Ḥakīm Oghli 'Alī Pāshā 35–45 contains eleven parts.

For other copies see Ahlwardt 810 (Sūrahs I–II 180), 811 (III 119–IV 46), 812 (IV 102–VII), Āṣafīyah I pp. 536–8, nos. 116–20 (I–XV, XVII–XIX, XLII–LIII), Bānkīpūr Handlist I no. 252, Casiri 1279–91 (Vols. 1–5, 7–10, 12, 16), Cureton-Rieu 1549 (II 239–III), 1550 (XIII–XVIII 76), 1551 (XIX–XXIV 36), Ellis-Edwards p. 3 (XXXVII 147–XLVI 33), Leyden 1674 (I–IX 93, VI–XXXV), Qarawīyīn 62–79, 89–90, 184, 196.

I'jāz al-bayān fī kashf ba'ḍ asrār Umm al-Qur'ān.

A slightly defective copy of the Ṣūfistic commentary of Ṣadr al-Dīn (Abū 'l-Ma'ālī Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq) al-Qūnawī on Sūrah I (cf. Brockelmann I 449).

The author was a pupil of Ibn 'Arabī, a friend of Jalāl al-Dīn Rūmī, and in Ḥadīth the teacher of Quṭb al-Dīn Shīrāzī (Maḥmūd ibn Mas'ūd "al-'Allāmah," see Brockelmann II 211). He died, according to Ḥājjī Khalīfah I 9150, II 3357 etc. in 672/1273–4 (the date of the death of Jalāl al-Dīn Rūmī, who predeceased him according to Safīnaḥ al-auliyā' p. 68), but in 673 according to Ḥ. Kh. II 2372, III 6336, IV 9180 etc. and Subkī V 19. The date of his death is not mentioned in the Nafaḥāt al-uns (no. 539), the Ḥabīb al-siyar (III 1, 66) or the Safīnaḥ al-auliyā' (p. 68). The Khazīnaḥ al-asfiyā' (I 112) gives the incorrect date 630.

The title is given as above on the authority of Ḥājjī Khalīfah. In the colophon to the Ḥaidarābād edition it occurs in the form I'jāz al-bayān fī tafsīr Umm al-Qur'ān. It does not occur in the preface. On the second fly-leaf of this manuscript it occurs in the form I'jāz al-bayān fī tafsīr al-Qur'ān. In notes of ownership and descriptions on the second fly-leaf and on fol. 1*a* the book is variously described as Risālah i Asrār i Fātiḥah, Tafsīr i Sūrah i Fātiḥah etc.

The work is professedly based on revelations vouchsafed to the author himself, who intentionally abstains as far as possible from mentioning the views of other commentators.

After the long introduction (for the heading of which see Ahlwardt) the discussion of the Basmalah begins on fol. 69*b*. That of the Ḥamdalah begins on fol. 81*a*.

Beginning :

الحمد للّه الذى بطن فى حجاب عزّ غيبه الاحمى
فابهم وستر وسمل وظهر وتجلى ففهّم واظهر وجمّل . . .
رشح بال شرح حال اعلموا معاشر الاخوان الالهيّين
خاصّةً والمومنين بهم وباحوالهم والمحبين لهم عامّةً
. . . ان الله سبحانه منح عبده من عين منته الخ

This manuscript ends abruptly with the words وحيطتك بالاشياء, which occur on p. 356[16] of the printed edition, in which the remainder of the work occupies only one page and a few lines.

For other manuscripts see Ahlwardt 947 (c. 1100/1688), Bānkīpūr Handlist 202 (A.H. 1045), 203 (A.H. 1064), Cairo I 125 (824/1421), and at least 17 of the Constantinople Catalogues.

حاشية الاسفراينى على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Isfarāyinī 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs I–II 37.

The annotations of 'Iṣām al-Dīn al-Isfarāyinī (Ibrāhīm ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Arabshāh) on the commentary of al-Baiḍāwī.

The author died in 943/1536–7 according to Ḥ. Kh. I p. 477[3] and al-Shillī's al-Sanā' 'l-bāhir (cited by Rieu in Cureton-Rieu, p. 784 ad 573), in 944/1537–8 according to Ahlwardt, who does not mention his authority, and the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyaḥ 373, in 951/1544–5, at the age of 72, according to the Cairo Catalogue I 167 (cf. Brockelmann II 410, I 417).

In the Ḥabīb al-siyar III 3, 348, there is a short notice of a certain 'Iṣām al-Dīn Ibrāhīm who is described as the son of 'Arabshāh Isfarāyinī, but who is doubtless to be identified with the author. It is there stated that in the time of Sulṭān Ḥusain he was appointed lecturer in the madrasah of Shāh Rukh Mīrzā, that in Rajab 926 he migrated from Harāt to Bukhārā, where at the time when Khwāndamīr wrote he was enjoying the favour of 'Ubaid Allāh Khān [ibn Maḥmūd, the Shaibānid]. According to Rieu he died at Samarqand.

It is stated by Ḥ. Kh. that these annotations, which he describes as extended from Sūrah I to VI and from Sūrah LXXVIII to the end of the Qur'ān. They are dedicated to the ['Uthmānlī] Sulṭān Sulaimān ibn Salīm, who reigned from 926 to 974. According to Rieu, the author gives Shawwāl 940 as the date of completion (of the part relating to Sūrahs I–VI).

مشحونة بالتصرفات اللائقة والتحقيقات الفائقة

The present copy begins, like Loth 84, with the last words of the preface, viz.:

رجاء ان يهدينى الى صراط مستقيم قوله الحمد لله الخ

The annotations on Sūrah I begin on fol. 2*b*, as follows:

قوله سورة فاتحة الكتاب من قبيل اضافة المسمى الى الاسم الخ

Sūrah II on fol. 20*b*,

قوله وساير الالفاظ التى يتهجى بها فى القاموس الهجاء تقطيع الكلمة بحروفها الخ

End:

حاشية على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs VII 54–XLVIII 17.

Annotations on al-Baiḍāwī's commentary. According to the Delhi Catalogue the author is Ḥasan Chelebī [ibn Muḥammad Shāh al-Fanārī, who died in 886/1481, see al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 64, Brockelmann II 229]. No such annotations are mentioned by Ḥājjī Khalīfah, but 'Abd al-Ḥaiy Lakhnawī had read annotations on al-Baiḍāwī which according to his statement in al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 64[13] were by Ḥasan Chelebī. However that may be, these annotations agree closely for the most part with those preserved in Loth 85, which are stated in the top left-hand corner of the first leaf of each section to be by مولانا چلپى i.e. no doubt Sa'dī Chelebī [Sa'd Allāh ibn 'Īsā, who died in 945/1538–9, see al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 78[16], Rieu 279, Ḥ. Kh. I p. 477, Brockelmann I 417]. In spite, however, of this close resemblance, Loth 85 and this manuscript cannot be regarded as copies of the same work, though it is obvious that if one is not dependent on the other both have made wholesale use of a common source.

Al-Ilmām bi-taḥrīr qaulai Sa'dī wa-'l-'Iṣām.

A discussion, by Ibrāhīm ibn Ḥasan al-Kūrānī (d. 1101/1690 according to al-Murādī I 5, cf. Brockelmann II 385), of the notes (1) of 'Iṣām al-Dīn al-Isfarāyinī (d. 944/1537–38, cf. no. 1115 supra) on the comments of al-Baiḍāwī on the words رب العالمين (Sūrah I 1), and (2) of Sa'd Allāh ibn 'Īsā (Sa'dī Efendī, d. 945/1538–9, cf. no. 1116 supra) on the comments of al-Baiḍāwī on the words الَّذِى أَحْسَنَ كُلَّ شَىْءٍ خَلَقَهُ (Sūrah XXXII 6).

The work is in the form of an answer to a letter. Neither the title nor the author's name occurs in the present copy. Both are given here on the authority of the Cairo Catalogue VII 72, where another copy is described. The author states at the end of the work that it was completed on Tuesday 15 Dhū 'l-Ḥijjah 1093/1682 at his house outside al-Madīnah.

Beginning: ❋

حاشية الحنفى على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Ḥanafī 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs LXXIX 27–CXIV.

Annotations on the commentary of al-Baiḍāwī. The work is referred to in the colophon as hāḍhihi'l-risālaḥ al-Ḥanafīyaḥ and the author is identical with the person whom Jalāl ibn Naṣīr Chanābī in the preface to his ḥāshiyaḥ (see no. 1119) calls al-'allāmaḥ al-Ḥanafī and whose words he cites from time to time.

This defective copy begins with the words :

لجواز ان يكون من قبيل عطف مفرد على مفرد

The notes on Sūrah LXXX begin on fol. 3*a* as follows :

سورة عبس بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم قوله وآيها احدى واربعون قيل اثنان واربعون وقيل اربعون قوله عبس كَلَحَ وبَسَرَ اى النبى عليه السلام وتولى اعرض قوله روى ان ابن ام مكتوم اختلفوا فى اسمه واسم ابيه الخ

حاشية جلال بن نصير على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ Jalāl ibn Naṣīr 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs LXXVIII–XCIV 6.

A defective copy of the annotations of Jalāl ibn Naṣīr Chanābī on the last section of al-Baiḍāwī's commentary.

According to a note on fol. 1*a* Jalāl ibn Naṣīr was the younger brother of "Maulānā Jamāl." Jamāl ibn Naṣīr is known as the author of annotations on Jāmī's al-Fawā'id al-Ḍiyā'īyaḥ (see Ellis I 785), which he completed in 1019/1610–11. Jalāl ibn Naṣīr must therefore have flourished about the beginning of the seventeenth century. He wrote a ḥāshiyaḥ on 'Abd Allāh Ṭalanbī's Badī' al-mīzān, from which extracts are lithographed on the margin of the edition of the latter work published at Lucknow in 1261–2.

Beginning :

الحمد لله الذى نزل الفرقان، والصلوة على نبيه الذى هو نبى من بنى عدنان، ... اما بعد فيقول العبد المفتقر الى الله المتعال القدير، القوى تراب اقدام الطلبة جلال بن نصير، الچنابى ان هذه حواشى وتعليقات على الجزء الاخير من التفسير البيضاوى جمعتها ليكون [sic] تذكرة لاولى الالباب وتُحفة للفضلآء الطلاب، وتتبعت الحواشى الثلثة للعلماء الثلثة اعنى العلامة الشيروانى والعلامة السعيد [sic] الچلپى والعلامة الحنفى ودفعت بقدر الطاقة ما اعترضوا به على التفسير البيضاوى وغيره بعون الله تعالى وحسن توفيقه قوله اصله عما فحذف الالف وذلك لان الالف الاستفهامية قد يحذف [sic] فى الاغلب عند انجرارها بحرف جر او مضاف

Sūrah LXXIX on fol. 35*a*, LXXX 61*a*, LXXXI 76*a*, LXXXII 83*a*, LXXXIII 88*b*, LXXXIV 94*a*, LXXXV 98*a*, LXXXVI 103*a*, LXXXVII 106*b*, LXXXVIII 112*a*, LXXXIX 119*a*, XC 129*a*, XCI 134*b*, XCII 143*b*, XCIII 147*b*, XCIV 150*b*.

A note on fol. 1*a* runs as follows:

حاشيه بيضاوى بر سيپاره عم يتساءلون از ملا جلال چنابى رحمهما الله تعالى از صوبه لاهور

Another hand has added

برادر خورد مولانا جمال

On fol. 1*a* are the seals of Muḥammad Afḍal (with the date 1135) and Muḥammad Rashīd al-Dīn Khān (with the date 1227).

No other copy seems to be recorded.

4187.—Foll. 129; 7 × 3⅜ in.; ll. 17; very fair, small naskhī; much damaged by white ants; some leaves much discoloured and the writing on them more or less illegible; a few leaves and fragments of which the proper place is uncertain are now bound at the end after fol. 129; 17th century. [DELHI 42]

حاشية العاملى على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-'Āmilī 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs I–II 21.

Annotations on the early part of al-Baiḍāwī's commentary by the well-known Shī'ite scholar Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (Muḥammad ibn Ḥusain ibn 'Abd al-Ṣamad al-Ḥārithī), who died at Iṣfahān in 1030/1621, according to Raudāt al-jannāt IV 94, but in 1031/1622 according to Khulāṣaḥ al-athar III 440–55, cf. Brockelmann II 414, Encyclopaedia of Islam I 327.

Beginning:

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-'Āmilī 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs I–II 21.

Another copy of the same annotations, defective at the beginning.

Beginning:

لا فى الجاهلية ولا فى الاسلام كما مر

[These words, which belong to the discussion of the name الله in the Basmalah, occur in no. 1120 on fol. 22*a*.]

A former owner, by name Gharīb Allāh, has recorded on fol. 2*a* that he purchased this حاشيه غير معلومه تفسير بيضاوى in the year 1132.

One leaf is missing between foll. 120 and 121.

4189.—Foll. 246; $10\frac{1}{2}\times6$ in.; ll. 25; clear, small nasta'līq, largely destitute of diacritic points; numerous marginal notes, mostly derived from the annotator himself; worm-eaten; first and last leaves much damaged; copyist, 'Iṣmaḥ Allāh ibn A'ẓam al-Sahāranfūrī[1]; dated 1060/1650. حاشية السيالكوٹى على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkōṭī 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs I–II 229.

Annotations on the early part of al-Baiḍāwī's commentary by 'Abd al-Ḥakīm ibn Shams al-Dīn Siyālkōṭī. The author wrote annotations on a number of well-known text-books and enjoyed the favour of Shāh-Jahān. He died, according to the Subḥaḥ al-marjān 66[13], on 18 Rabī' I 1067/1656 (cf. Raḥmān 'Alī 111[6], where however 16 Rabī' I is the date given) and was buried at his native place Siyālkōṭ in the Panjāb. According to the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyaḥ 414[9] his death occurred in 1068 or 1097 and according to the Khulāṣaḥ al-athar II 318 after 1060. He is mentioned in the Ṭabaqāt i Shāh-Jahānī (Ethé 705, fol. 416).

Beginning:

اَلْحمد للّٰهِ الذى انزل القران شفاء لما فى الصدور. واخرج به عباده من الظلمات الى النور. والصلوه على رسوله الماحى آثار الكفر والشرور . . . يقول العبد الضعيف المسكين . عبد الحكيم بن شمس الدين الخ

The actual commentary on al-Baiḍāwī begins on fol. 2*a*, l. 8, as follows:

قوله الحمد للّٰه الذى نزل الفرقان على عبده رتب استحقاق الحمد على تنزيله بعد الاشاره الى الاستحقاق الذاتى المستفاد من لفظ الله الخ

The commentary on Sūrah I begins on fol. 6*a*, l. 20, as follows:

قوله سورة فاتحة الكتاب السورة بعض مترجم من كتاب الله تع اقلها ثلث ايات كما سيجىء الخ

Sūrah II on fol. 34*a*.

This copy, which is defective, ends in the middle of the note on the word مبتدأ which occurs in al-Baiḍāwī's explanation of the phrase او تسريح باحسان in Sūrah II 229.

One leaf is missing after fol. 238 and another after 243.

There are seals of Muḥammad Afḍal (1135) and Muḥammad Rashīd al-Dīn Khān (1227) on fol. 1*a*.

On fol. 1*a* is a note which has been partly damaged by worms but of which the following words can be read:

حاشيه . . . من تصانيف . . . كتبه عصمة الله بن اعظم السهارنفورى سنه الف . . . ١٠٦٠

For other copies see Āṣafīyah I pp. 542–4, Ashraf 'Alī p. 2, Būhār 6, Loth 90–91, Peshawar 42, Princeton 208, and at least 18 of the Constantinople catalogues.

For an edition (Constantinople 1270) see Cairo I 166. Another was published at the Murtaḍawī Press, Delhi, in [1875].

[1] 'Iṣmaḥ Allāh Sahāranpūrī was a scholar of some note, who composed a commentary on the Khulāṣaḥ al-ḥisāb of Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (see Loth 759) and annotations on al-Fawā'id al-Ḍiyā'īyaḥ. According to the Subḥaḥ al-marjān 52, the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyaḥ 407 and Raḥmān 'Alī 140 he died in 1039, but this is impossible since he wrote this manuscript in 1060 and completed his Anwār Khulāṣaḥ al-ḥisāb in 1086. It is possible that he died in 1089 and that the incorrect date is due to a corruption of ثلثين to ثمانين.

4190.—Foll. 132; $9\frac{1}{5}\times5\frac{3}{10}$ in.; ll. 21; good naskhī; illuminated head-piece on fol. 1*b*; margins repaired throughout; slightly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 36]

حاشية على تفسير البيضاوى

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrah 1.

Annotations on the commentary of al-Baiḍāwī.

The MS. is defective at the end and breaks off before the conclusion of the notes on the Fātiḥah. The second leaf, on which the author may have mentioned his name, is missing, but on the next leaf (now numbered 2) he speaks in laudatory terms of Shihāb al-Dīn Muḥammad Shāh-jahān (reigned 1628–1659).

Beginning:

الحمد لله كشاف ظلم الغواية بانوار تنزيل الهداية
معين طلاب اليقين فى البداية والنهاية الخ

After a long introduction devoted mainly to a discussion of the Isti'ādhah and the Basmalah, the annotations begin on fol. 21*b* ult. as follows:

فالآن نشرع فى تيسير المطلوب وتحصيل المقصود
قال الفاضل الجليل الماجد النبيل ناصرالدين القاضى
عبد الله بن محمد على [sic] الشيرازى البيضاوى
بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الحمد لله اختار الاسمية
اقتداء بالفرقان العظيم وشكرا على النعم الماضية
والاتية الخ

The notes on the Fātiḥah begin on fol. 30*b* as follows:

سورة فاتحة الكتاب فاتحة الشيء وخاتمته صفتان
سمى بهما اول الشيء وآخره اذ بهما الفتح والدخول
فيه والختم والخروج عنه

End:

فاتحة الكتاب اى هى الفاتحة انها السبع المثانى

4191.—Foll. 485; 12 × 8$\frac{3}{10}$ in.; ll. 33; fairly clear naskhī; slightly worm-eaten and water-stained; dated Sunday, 25 Jumādā II 1102/1691. [DELHI 35]

عناية القاضى وكفاية الراضى

'Ināyaḥ al-qāḍī wa-kifāyaḥ al-rāḍī.

Sūrahs x–xxv.

A volume, described as Part III, of the annotations of al-Khafājī (Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad) on the commentary of al-Baiḍāwī.

The author died, according to Khulāṣaḥ al-athar I 343[6], on the 12th of Ramaḍān 1069/1659 (cf. Brockelmann II 285, I 417 no. 31).

Beginning:

4192.—Foll. 242; 12½ × 10½ in.; ll. 29; clear naskhī; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; about one-third of foll. 2 and 3 has been torn away; 18th century. [DELHI 49]

ʻInāyaḥ al-qāḍī wa-kifāyaḥ al-rāḍī.

Sūrahs XXVI–XL 74.

A defective volume of the same annotations.

Beginning:

End:

ضلوا عنا بمعنى غابوا عنا من ضلت

[Būlāq ed. Vol. VII p. 383, l. 11]

The names of the commentators and others from whose works al-Khafājī compiled these annotations are frequently given on the margin of this copy.

Foll. 95*a* and 96*a* are duplicates of 95 and 96.

4193.—Foll. 266; 7⅘ × 5½ in.; ll. 17; ruled red and blue border; small, regular and clear nastaʻlīq; Qur'ānic passages overlined in red; slightly worm-eaten and water-stained; 17th century. [DELHI 41]

Ḥāshiyaḥ ʻalā Tafsīr al-Baiḍāwī.

Sūrahs I–II 111.

Annotations on the commentary of al-Baiḍāwī.

The statement of the Delhi Catalogue that the author is Mullā ʻAbd al-Ghafūr is doubtless an inference from the words which occur on fol. 2*a*, ll. 1–3.

وان وقعت فيه منى هفوة بل هفوات او صدرت فيه عنى كبوة بل كبوات فعلى الاخوان اولى الصلاح ان يغيروها بيد الاصلاح او يغمضوا عنها ويصفحوا صفحا جميلا لينالوا بذلك عبد الغفور اجرا جزيلا

Of the authorities cited the Qāmūs of al-Fīrūzābādī (died 817/1414) and the annotations of al-Taftāzānī on the Kashshāf, which were left unfinished according to Ḥ. Kh. in 789/1387–8 (see no. 1097) seem to be among the latest. The annotator from time to time ends a paragraph with some such formula as

هذا ما تيسر لى من هذا الباب بعون الله الملك الوهاب

Words are occasionally explained in Persian.

A leaf is missing from the beginning of the MS. and it is defective at the end.

Beginning:

نموذج علوم لب اهل فهوم

Namūdhaj 'ulum lubb ahl fuhūm.

Five copies (of which two are defective at the end, and one is a mere fragment consisting of the last three sections) of notes by Aḥmad Naqshband[1] on certain passages in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, the Anwār al-tanzīl of al-Baiḍāwī, the Anwār al-Furqān of Ghulām Naqshband and other works. The title is a chronogram indicating the year 1144/1731–32. The author states on fol. 96*b* ult. and elsewhere that Ghulām Naqshband (for whom see nos. 1127 and 1159) was his father.

passage from Ghulām Naqshband's Furqān al-anwār (a work on tradition, cf. fol. 115*b* note between ll. 4 and 5) relating to the same subject.

(3) fol. 97*b*[11]–98*a*[10] (= 178*a*[8]–178*a* ult. = 241*a*[15]–241*b*[7] = 256*a*[13]–256*b*[13]), another passage from the Furqān al-anwār relating to the reconciliation between Fāṭimah and Abū Bakr.

(4) fol. 98*a*[11]–98*b*[9] (= 178*a* ult.–178*b*[8] = 241*b*[8]–241*b*[18] = 256*b*[14]–257*a*[13]), another passage from the Furqān al-anwār relating to the tradition which states that the property of Prophets is not inherited.

(5) fol. 98*b*[10]–99*a* ult. (= 178*b*[8]–178*b* ult. = 241*b*[18]–242*a*[13] = 257*a*[14]–258*a*[4]), another passage from the Furqān al-anwār relating to the tradition that when the Prophet on his death-bed said

هلموا اكتب لكم كتابا لن تضلوا بعده

'Umar said

ان رسول الله قد غلب عليه الوجع وعندكم القران حسبنا كتاب الله

(6) fol. 99*a* ult.–99*b*[4] (= 179*a*[1-3] = 242*a*[14-17] = 258*a*[5–10]), a passage in Ghulām Naqshband's tafsīr the Anwār al-Furqān relating to the words والله سريع الحساب (Sūrah II 198 etc.).

(7) fol. 99*b*[5]–100*a*[1] (= 179*a*[3-12] = 242*a*[17]–242*b*[9] = 258*a*[10]–258*b*[11]), another passage from the Anwār al-Furqān (on Sūrah VI) relating to the question whether the ancestors of Muḥammad back to Adam were believers.

(8) fol. 100*a*[2-12] (= 179*a*[12-end] = 242*b*[9-18] = 258*b*[12]–259*a*[9]), another passage from the same tafsīr (on the same sūrah) in which it is stated that in Abraham's youth a day was equivalent to a month and a month to a year.

(9) fol. 100*a*[12]–102*a*[2] (= 179*b*[1]–181*a*[1] = 242*b*[19]–244*a*[4] = 259*a*[10]–261*a*[10]), the opening words of al-Baiḍāwī's commentary on Sūrah II (الم وسائر الالفاظ التى يتهجى بها الخ).

(10) fol. 102*a*[2-6] (= 181*a*[2-9(margin)] = 244*a*[5-8] = 261*a*[11-end]), al-Baiḍāwī's explanation of the words والله سريع الحساب (Sūrah II 198 etc.).

(12) fol. 102*a* ult.–103[12] (= 181*a*[8]–181*b*[7] = 244*a*[16]–245*a*[4] = 261*b*[12]–262*b*[13]), a passage from [al-Jurjānī's ?] Sharḥ al-Mawāqif relating to Fāṭimah's claim to inherit Fadak.

(13) fol. 103*a*[13]–103*b*[2] (= 181*b*[8-11] = 245*a*[5-9] = 262*b* penult.–263*a*[5]), another passage from the same work relating to the same subject.

(14) fol. 103*b*[3]–104*a*[5] (= 181*b*[12]–182*a*[3] = 245*a*[9]–245*b*[7] = 263*a*[5]–263*b*[13]), a passage from ['Ubaid Allāh ibn Mas'ūd's ?] Sharḥ al-Wiqāyah relating to عتق البعض.

(15) fol. 104*a*[6]–105*b*[2] (= 182*a*[4]–183*a*[1] = 245*b*[8]–246*b*[14] = 263*b* penult.–265*b*[6]), a passage from the commentary of 'Iṣmaḥ Allāh Sahāranpūrī on the Khulāṣaḥ al-ḥisāb.

(16) fol. 105*b*[2]–106*a* ult. (= 183*a*[8]–183*b* ult. = 246*b*[15]–247*b*[6] = 265*b*[7]–266*b*[10]), a passage from the commentary of 'Iṣmaḥ Allāh Sahāranpūrī on the Tashrīḥ al-aflāk of Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī.

(17) fol. 106*b*[1]–107*a*[6] (= 247*b*[7]–248*a* ult. = 266*b*[12]–267*b*[6]), a passage from the ḥāshiyah of 'Iṣām al-Dīn al-Isfarāyinī on the tafsīr of al-Baiḍāwī relating to Sūrah V 65.

(18) fol. 107*a*[7]–108*b*[4] (= 248*b*–249*b*[12] = 267*b*[7]–269*a* ult. = 270*a*–271*b*[1]), a passage from al-Baiḍāwī relating to Sūrah XVIII 109–110.

(19) fol. 108*b*[5]–109*a*[5] (= 249*b*[13]–250*a*[10] = 269*b* = 271*b*[2-end] [a few words are lacking from the end of the last copy]), a passage from al-Kāfī sharḥ al-Wāfī relating to متعة النساء and متعة الحج.

(20) fol. 109*a*[6]–110*a* (= 250*a*[11]–251*a* = 272 [the last few words are missing]), al-Qur'ān, Sūrah II 143–4. This section appears also in the work entitled Furqānāt al-ḥikam wa-nuzul al-kalim foll. 92*b*–93*a*[10].

These notes are all written in euphuistic language. After quoting the passage to be commented on it is the author's practice to introduce his own comments with a fanciful rhymed heading (such as نحل لدنية ملل سنّية and اجمال كلام اكمال نظام) which is written in red ink. At the end of the notes on each passage is a different rhyming and paronomastic chronogram for the year 1144 (e.g. تاريخ اتمام سنخى ملبّ انشاء نسخى fol. 98*a*[10]).

The first copy (foll. 96–110) appears to be in the writing of a certain Kalīm Allāh (see fol. 161*b*), the second (foll. 175–183, sections 1–16 only) and the third (foll. 239–251) in that of a certain 'Abd al-Salām (excepting the last section which is in that of Kalīm Allāh), the fourth (foll. 253–269, lacks section 20) is signed by 'Abd al-Salām, the fifth (foll. 270–272, sections 18–20 only) is in the same writing. All appear to have been written in the life-time of the author and three of them bear the impression of his seal.

On the margins are notes of which many are derived from the author himself.

Madārik al-tanzīl wa-ḥaqā'iq al-ta'wīl.

Sūrahs 1–xi 69 and xiii 41–cxiv.

A nearly complete copy of the commentary of Ḥāfiẓ al-Dīn al-Nasafī (Abū 'l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh ibn Aḥmad), who died in 710/1310–11, see Ibn Quṭlūbughā 86, al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 101, Brockelmann II 196.

The work appears to be based mainly on the Kashshāf.

After a very brief preface the commentary on Sūrah 1 begins on fol. 1*b*. This manuscript breaks off abruptly before the end of the comments on the last sūrah.

Beginning:

Madārik al-tanzīl wa-ḥaqā'iq al-ta'wīl.

Sūrahs 1–vi 159.

A part, described on fol. 1*a* and in the colophon as the first quarter, of the same commentary. This copy seems to have been transcribed from a defective manuscript since the commentary ends in it with the incomplete note after which the bare Qur'ānic text is given to the end of the sūrah. Notes and Persian verses are written here and there on the margins. A note on fol. 1*a* states that the manuscript was bought by Muḥammad Karīm Allāh (see no. 1110) for 15 rupees.

اَوْ يَاْتِيْ رَبُّكَ اى امر ربك وهو العذاب او القيامة

وهذا لان الاتيان متشابه واتيان

A leaf is missing between those now numbered 63 and 64.

4198.—Foll. 223; $10\frac{1}{10} \times 6\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 23 usually; ugly, cursive nasta'līq as far as fol. 133, thereafter fair naskhī of a peculiar type; rubrications; water-stained and slightly worm-eaten; 17th–18th century. [DELHI 68]

The first few leaves have lost their top margins and in a few cases the loss extends to a line or more of the text. The first page has lost four lines and the first legible words are عوج والمراد نفى الاختلاف.

Foll. 172 and 173 have been transposed.

4200.—Foll. 153; 12 × 7$\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 25; unbeautiful, but legible, nasta'līq; rubrications; early 19th century. [DELHI 71]

Madārik al-tanzīl wa-ḥaqā'iq al-ta'wīl.

Sūrahs XIX–XXXVII.

A part, described on fol. 1 a as the third volume (jild i thālith), of the same commentary.

On the fly-leaves are an index to the sūrahs and references to various passages in the text.

4201.—Foll. 371; 10$\frac{1}{2}$ × 6$\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 21; clear naskhī; rubrications; marginal notes in Arabic and Persian; water-stained; worm-eaten; copyist, Dāwūd; 18th century. [DELHI 72]

Madārik al-tanzīl wa-ḥaqā'iq al-ta'wīl.

Sūrahs XVIII 10–XXXVII 173.

A slightly defective copy of what is described in the colophon as the second volume of the same commentary.

Beginning:

اجْعل امرنا رشدا كلّه الخ

Two leaves are missing from the beginning, one after fol. 7, one after fol. 11, seven after fol. 331 and two after fol. 370.

Foll. 38, 48, 49, 84 and 284–91 are misplaced after foll. 49, 45, 51, 77 and 331 respectively.

4202.—Foll. 371; 11$\frac{3}{10}$ × 8$\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 29 usually; treble ruled borders; very fair, regular naskhī of a peculiar type in more than one hand, foll. 1 and 3–6 supplied in ordinary, fairly modern Indian naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten and water-stained; several leaves torn and otherwise damaged, especially at the beginning and end of the volume; 17th century. حاشية على مدارك التنزيل

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Madārik al-tanzīl.

Sūrahs I–XIII 37.

Annotations on the Madārik al-tanzīl of al-Nasafī, probably by Ilāhdād Jaunpūrī, who died in 923/1517 according to the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyaḥ 364 and the Tajallī i nūr of Nūr al-dīn Zaidī, Vol. II p. 40, but in 932/1525–6 according to Raḥmān 'Alī 25. The date of his death is not mentioned in the Akhbār al-akhyār or the Subḥaḥ al-marjān 43.

Ilāhdād was the pupil both of 'Abd Allāh ibn Ilāhdād Talanbī, who wrote a commentary entitled Badī' al-mīzān on the Mīzān al-manṭiq, and of 'Abd al-Malik 'Ādil Jaunpūrī, who was himself a pupil of Shihāb al-Dīn ibn Shams al-Dīn ibn 'Umar al-Daulatābādī, the well-known qāḍī 'l-quḍāḥ of Jaunpūr in the time of Ibrāhīm Shāh Sharqī. Consequently 'Abd al-Ḥaqq Dihlawī is able to say in his Akhbār al-akhyār that Ilāhdād and it is therefore not surprising that Shihāb al-Dīn Daulatābādī is often referred to in these annotations in such terms as الاستاد (or الامام) شهاب الملة والدين نور الله مضجعه

بيك واسطه شاگرد قاضى شهاب الدين است,

Ilāhdād is said to have been particularly learned in law and to have written commentaries on (1) the Kāfiyaḥ [of Ibn al-Ḥājib], (2) the Hidāyaḥ [of al-Marghīnānī], (3) al-Bazdawī['s work on the principles of jurisprudence] and (4) the Madārik [al-tanzīl of al-Nasafī].

غرائب القرآن ورغائب الفرقان

Gharā'ib al-Qur'ān wa-raghā'ib al-Furqān.

Sūrahs I–CXI beginning.

A slightly defective copy of the commentary of Niẓām al-Naisābūrī (i.e. Niẓām al-Dīn al-Ḥasan ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥusain al-Qummī al-A'raj).

The date of the author's death does not appear to be recorded, but according to his own statement at the end of his commentary on Naṣīr al-Dīn al-Ṭūsī's Taḥrīr al-Mijisṭī (Cureton-Rieu 392) he completed that work in Sha'bān 704/1305, and according to a similar statement he completed his commentary on al-Tadhkirah al-Naṣīrīyah (Cureton-Rieu 396) in Rabī' I 711/1311. His Shamsīyah fī 'l-ḥisāb (see Loth 749) is dedicated to Shams al-Dīn 'Abd al-Laṭīf one of the sons of the celebrated wazīr Rashīd al-Dīn Faḍl Allāh. In the Bughyah al-wu'āh 230 al-Suyūṭī says that no biographical notice of this writer was known to him. Ahlwardt (871) refers to a notice in the Dastūr al-i'lām. There is another, destitute of accurate data, in the Rauḍāt al-jannāt 225.

For further particulars concerning his works see Brockelmann II 211 (where the tafsīr al-Qur'ān [i.e. Gharā'ib al-Qur'ān] and the Mukhtaṣar Mafātīḥ al-ghaib are treated as two different works), I 131 (where there is a confusion with a much earlier Naisābūrī, al-Ḥasan b. Muḥammad b. Ḥabīb), 192, 305, 511.

The Gharā'ib al-Qur'ān is based chiefly on the Mafātīḥ al-ghaib of Fakhr al-Dīn al-Rāzī, but also on the Kashshāf and other works, some of which are specified by the author in a passage at the end of his commentary (Vol. XXX 201* in the Cairo edition), which is quoted by Ḥājjī Khalīfah (IV p. 308[4]), who gives also the subdivisions of the introduction.

For further information concerning the nature of this commentary see especially Loth 94 and Ahlwardt 871.

Ta'wīlāt al-Qur'ān.

The Ṣūfistic commentary of 'Abd al-Razzāq al-Kāshī (or al-Kāshānī), who died according to Ḥājjī Khalīfah IV p. 427[5] in 730/1329–30, but according to Raudāt al-jannāt 353 in 735/1334–5. His commentary on the Manāzil al-sā'irīn of 'Abd Allāh al-Harawī (see Loth 600) is dedicated to Ghiyāth al-Dīn Muḥammad, the son of the celebrated wazīr Rashīd al-Dīn Faḍl Allāh (see Browne, Persian Literature under Tartar Dominion, 51–2, 68–87 etc.). For further information concerning the author see Haft Iqlīm, no. 902, Ency. Isl. I 61, Brockelmann II 204.

According to Ḥājjī Khalīfah II 2358, the Ta'wīlāt of al-Kāshī extended only to Sūrah XXXVIII, but none of the recorded copies seems to stop at this point. Neither the title nor the author's name occurs in the text itself (in this manuscript the words are written at the top of fol. 1*b*) and a printed edition published at Būlāq in 1283 bears the title Tafsīr Ibn 'Arabī. (Presumably the work of which an (incomplete?) edition was published at Cawnpore in 1300 etc. is identical with this: the tafsīr attributed to Ibn 'Arabī which is described in Ahlwardt 808 is quite different.) The author's prefatory statements concerning the scope of his work are summarised in Ahlwardt 931.

تاويلات مولانا عبد الرزاق كاشي رحمه الله

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل مناظم كلامه مظاهر حسن صفاته وطوالع صفاته مطالع نور ذاته ... وبَعْدُ فانى طالما تعهدت تلاوة القران وتدبّرت معانيه بقوة الايمان ... فَرَأَيْتُ ان اعلق بعض ما سنح لى فى الاوقات من اسرار حقائق البطون وانوار شوارق المطلعات دون ما يتعلق بالظواهر والحدود فانه قد عين لها حد محدود الخ

This MS. has a forged exordium) [Ahlwardt 3451 (تفسير آية الكرسى) does not seem to be an extract from the Ta'wīlāt], 971 (Sūrahs CVIII and CXII, c. 1100/1688), Browne, Supplementary Hand-list 257, Ellis-Edwards p. 4, Or. 6351 (1008/1599–1600), [Tornberg 393 (7) is evidently identical with the independent commentary on Sūrah I which is prefixed to the Ta'wīlāt in Ahlwardt 872 but does not form a part of them], and about 16 of the Constantinople catalogues. Presumably the "Ḥaqā'iq al-ta'wīl wa-daqā'iq al-tanzīl" of which Vol. I is preserved at Bānkīpūr (Handlist, no. 280) is another copy.

For a printed edition (Būlāq 1283/1867, with the incorrect title Tafsīr Ibn 'Arabī) see Cairo I 140, Ellis I 872, and for a lithographed edition (Cawnpore, 1300/1883 etc. (complete?) with the same ascription to Ibn 'Arabī) on the margins of the 'Arā'is al-bayān see Ellis II 544.

al-Baḥr al-muḥīṭ.

Sūrahs I–IX 33.

Part of the large commentary of Abū Ḥaiyān al-Gharnāṭī (Athīr al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Yūsuf), who died in 745/1344. For further information concerning this distinguished scholar[1] see his pupil al-Isnawī's Ṭabaqāt al-Shāfi'īyaḥ (Loth 709) fol. 51*b*, Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 121, Brockelmann II 109, Ency. Isl. I 88 etc.

The work opens with a long preface, in which the author states that a long-cherished hope of concentrating on the study of Qur'ānic exegesis was realised in the reign of al-Malik al-Nāṣir, at the end of the year 710 and in the 57th year of his age, when he was (appointed?—something is torn away here) lecturer in this subject in the Qubbah of al-Malik al-Manṣūr. His statements concerning the scope of his work are summarised in the Cairo catalogue p. 130. As he says on fol. 5*b*[11], it is based largely on the huge Kitāb al-taḥrīr wa 'l-taḥbīr li-aqwāl a'immaḥ al-tafsīr (see Ḥ. Kh. II 2498) of Ibn al-Naqīb (Muḥammad ibn Sulaimān al-Muqaddasī, d. 698/1298 according to Ṭabaqāt al-mufassirīn no. 97, but in 668/1269–70 according to al-Fawā'id al-bahīyaḥ 168). The commentaries of al-Zamakhsharī and Ibn 'Aṭīyaḥ, whom he calls the greatest of commentators, have also been used.

الدر المصون فى علوم الكتاب المكنون

al-Durr al-maṣūn fī 'ulūm al-Kitāb al-Maknūn.

Sūrahs XXXVI–CXIV.

A part (described in the colophon as a quarter ربع) of the predominantly grammatical commentary of Ibn al-Samīn al-Ḥalabī (Shihāb al-Dīn Abū 'l-'Abbās Aḥmad ibn Yūsuf) who was a pupil of Abū Ḥaiyān al-Gharnāṭī (see no. 1140) and held various appointments at Cairo, including the Ministry of Waqfs and a lectureship at the Mosque of Ibn Ṭūlūn. He died according to al-Durar al-kāminaḥ (I.O. MS.) in Jumādā II or Sha'bān 756/1355, cf. Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 175, Brockelmann II 111.

This work (which is mainly concerned with grammatical, lexicographical and rhetorical matters) is frequently called I'rāb al-Qur'ān or I'rāb al-Samīn. According to Ḥ. Kh. I p. 354[8] it is based on al-Baḥr al-muḥīt of Abū Ḥaiyān, whose statements, however, the author frequently controverts. A statement of the author, which is quoted on the last page of this manuscript after the colophon, gives the date of completion as the middle of Rajab, 734/1334. In this same statement the author's name is given, professedly in a quotation of his own words, as Ibn al-Samīn not al-Samīn (see below).

According to Ḥ. Kh. the statement of al-Suyūṭī (followed apparently by Brockelmann) that al-Safāqusī's I'rab al-Qur'ān is an abridgment of (Ibn) al-Samīn's is a mistake, since both are directly dependent on Abū Ḥaiyān. This is borne out by Ahlwardt's summary of al-Safāqusī's own statements (Berlin Cat. 881).

تبصير الرحمن وتيسير المنّان بعض ما يشير الى اعجاز القرآن

Tabṣīr al-Raḥmān wa-taisīr al-Mannān ba'ḍ mā yushīr ilā i'jāz al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs I–III 130.

The beginning of the commentary of al-Mahā'imī ('Alī ibn Aḥmad), who died in Jumādā I 835/1432 according to Subḥaḥ al-marjān 40[6], Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyah 317, and Raḥmān 'Alī 147[15].

He belonged to the largely seafaring people called Navāyat (or Navā'it as Ghulām 'Alī Āzād spells the name—من طائفة النوائت كثوابت, Subḥaḥ p. 39 ult.) who claim Arab descent and exist to this day as a separate class on the coast of the Bombay Presidency. He was buried at Mahā'im, the present Māhīm, a small town on the coast of the Thānah district. Among the works ascribed to him by Ghulām 'Alī Āzād, in addition to his tafsīr, are commentaries on the 'Awārif al-ma'ārif of al-Suhrawardī, the Fuṣūṣ al-ḥikam of Ibn al-'Arabī, and the Nuṣūṣ of Ṣadr al-Dīn al-Qūnawī (see Ahlwardt 3016) as well as a treatise entitled Adillaḥ al-tauḥīd.

This commentary is mentioned by Ḥājjī Khalīfah II 2388, where however the author is confounded with another writer, cf. Brockelmann II 113 (where al-Mahā'imī should be substituted for al-Umawî al-Ḥanbalî and 831/1427–8 for 833/1429) and 221 (where the date should be corrected).

As appears from the preface this commentary was composed in 831.

As stated by Loth (112), it is the author's practice to begin his commentary on each sūrah with an explanation, frequently allegorical, of its title (به or سمّيت بها). "Next follows an ever-varying paraphrase of the Basmalah, and it concludes with a pious peroration" [or rather doxology].

تفسير سورة فاتحة الكتاب

Tafsīr Sūraḥ Fātiḥaḥ al-Kitāb.

A commentary on Sūrah I by the celebrated Persian poet and scholar Jāmī (Nūr al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Aḥmad, who died in 898/1492, see Brockelmann II 207, Ethé 1300, Browne, Persian Literature under Tartar Dominion 507–48 etc.).

This copy is the first work contained in the beautifully illuminated and bound manuscript of Jāmī's prose works described in Ethé 1357. A continuation extending as far as Sūrah II 38 is found in some manuscripts.

جامع البيان فى تفسير القرآن

Jāmi' al-bayān fī tafsīr al-Qur'ān.

A concise "mixed" commentary composed at Mecca in the space of two years and three months by Mu'īn [al-Dīn] ibn Ṣafī [al-Dīn].

According to the Cairo Catalogue I 159 (cf. Brockelmann II 203) the author, Mu'īn al-Dīn al-Saiyid Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh al-Ḥasanī al-Ḥusainī al-Ījī al-Ṣafawī al-Shāfi'ī, was born at Īj in 832/1429 and is said to have died in 905/1499–1500. Ḥājjī Khalīfah, who calls the work Jawāmi' al-tibyān (II 4246), says on the alleged authority of the work itself that it was begun on 2 Jumādā II 904 and completed in Ramaḍān 905. This is not in agreement either with the present manuscript or with the lithographed text in both of which there is a colophon stating that the work was completed in 870/1465–6. In the preface the author states further that he was forty years old at the time, a statement which is only approximately correct if he was born in 832.

There is nothing moreover either in this manuscript or in the lithographed text corresponding to Ḥājjī Khalīfah's words but the quotation beginning اعلم انّ ما يحتويه agrees with the manuscript and the lithograph. As is there stated, the work is based on the Ma'ālim al-tanzīl, the Wasīṭ, Ibn Kathīr, al-Nasafī, the Kashshāf with the annotations of al-Ṭībī and al-Taftāzānī and al-Kashf [see no. 1094], and lastly al-Baiḍāwī.

انّ والده شرع فكتب من سورة الانعام نبذًا فترك قال انت مأمور بذلك

Beginning:

رسالة فى ايمان فرعون

Risālaḥ fī īmān Fir'aun.

A discussion of Sūrah x 90 by the same Jalāl al-Dīn al-Dawānī, who argues in support of the view (maintained by Ibn 'Arabī) that Pharaoh's profession of faith immediately before his death entitles him to be regarded as a Believer.

تفسير الجلالين

Tafsīr al-Jalālain.

The well-known commentary begun by al-Maḥallī (Jalāl al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad, who died in 864/1459–60, see Ḥ. Kh. II 3251, Brockelmann II 114), and completed after his death by his pupil al-Suyūṭī (Jalāl al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakr, who died in 911/1505, see Brockelmann II 144).

According to al-Suyūṭī's own statement in the Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 175[18] this commentary is based mainly on the smaller commentary (i.e. al-Talkhīṣ fī 'l-tafsīr) of al-Kawāshī (Aḥmad ibn Yūsuf, who was a pupil of 'Alam al-Dīn 'Alī ibn Muḥammad al-Sakhāwī, and who died in 680/1281, see Bughyaḥ 175, Brockelmann I 416), as well as on the Wajīz (see no. 1081), al-Baiḍāwī (see no. 1109) and Ibn Kathīr (see Brockelmann II 49). Tafsīr al-Qur'ān.

Sūrahs II 9–CXIV.

A commentary resembling that of the Jalālain (see no. 1147), with which in many passages it agrees word for word. The incorrect title تفسير جلالين has in fact been written at the top of fol. 1.

The manuscript has lost some leaves at the beginning and opens in the middle of Sūrah II 9.

The commentary on Sūrah III begins on fol. 34*b* as follows:

الٓمٓ ما يعلم تاويله الا الله اللّٰهُ لا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّوْمُ نَزَّلَ عَلَيكَ ايها النبيّ الْكِتَابَ القران نجما نجما متلبسا بِالْحَقِّ لصدق [sic] فى اخباره مُصَدِّقًا لِّمَا بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ قبله من الكتب الخ

The unvarying formula ما يعلم تاويله الا الله with reference to the cryptic letters at the beginning of certain sūrahs corresponds to the (or به) الله اعلم بمراده بذلك of the Jalālain.

Sūrah IV on fol. 52*a*:

يَا اَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوْا رَبَّكُمْ عذابه فاطيعوه الَّذِىْ خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَاحِدَةٍ آدم وَخَلَقَ مِنْهَا من ضلع من اضلاعها اليسري زَوْجَهَا حواء وَبَثَّ مِنْهُمَا نشر من ادم وحواء الخ

Sūrah CVIII on fol. 355:

الاكليل فى استنباط التنزيل

al-Iklīl fī 'stinbāṭ al-tanzīl.

A work by the same al-Suyūṭī on the deductions which have been or may be drawn from various passages in the Qur'ān. These deductions are for the most part legal and theological, and consequently this work, though wider in scope, belongs to the class of those dealing with the Aḥkām al-Qur'ān.

The author introduces his subject by quoting a number of Qur'ānic passages and traditions in support of the thesis that everything in existence is explicitly or implicitly mentioned in the Qur'ān. He then gives an abridged extract from [the Tafsīr of] al-Mursī [Sharaf al-Dīn Abū 'Abd Allāh or Abū 'l-Faḍl Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh, d. 655/1257 according to Ḥ. Kh. II 3399, cf. Brockelmann I 312] in which are mentioned the sciences dependent on the Qur'ān as well as a number of sciences of which the fundamental ideas may be regarded as referred to in the Qur'ān. Having briefly indicated the kind of historical and other information which is to be found in the Qur'ān, he states that he has himself written works, surpassing those of his predecessors, on a number of the Qur'ānic sciences

(كاسباب النزول والمعرب والمبهمات ومواطن النزول وغير ذلك)

As regards the Aḥkām al-Qur'ān, he mentions that works on this subject have been written by al-Qāḍī Ismā'īl [ibn Isḥāq al-Azdī al-Baṣrī, who died in 282/895–6], Bakr ibn al-'Alā', Abū Bakr [Aḥmad ibn 'Alī al-Jaṣṣāṣ] al-Rāzī [who died in 370/981 and whose Aḥkām al-Qur'ān is preserved at Bānkīpūr, Cairo and Constantinople], by al-Kiyā al-Hirāsī ['Alī ibn Muḥammad, who died in 504/1110 and whose Aḥkām al-Qur'ān is preserved at Cairo], Abū Bakr Ibn al-'Arabī [Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh, who died in 543/1148, and whose Aḥkām al-Qur'ān was printed at Cairo in 1331] and by 'Abd al-Mun'im [ibn Muḥammad] Ibn al-Faras [al-Gharnāṭī, who died in 597/1200–1].

He expresses his opinion of his predecessors and states the purpose of his own work in the following passage:

وكل منهم افاد واجاد وجمع فابدع غير انها [sc. كتبهم] محشوة بالحشو والتطويل مشحونة بالاستطراد الى اقوال المخالف والدليل مع ما فاتها من الاستنباطات العلية والاستخراجات الخفية فعزمت على وضع كتاب فى ذلك مهذب المقاصد محرر المسالك اورد فيه كل ما استنبط منه او استدل به عليه من مسئلة فقهية او اصلية او اعتقادية وبعضا مما سوى ذلك مقرونا بتفسير الآية حيث توقف فهم الاستنباط عليه معزوا الى قائله من الصحابة والتابعين مخرجا من كتاب ناقله من الائمة المعتبرين الخ

Nearly the whole of the prefatory matter re-appears with only slight alteration as Chapter LXV (فى العلوم المستنبطة من القرآن) of the author's later work al-Itqān.

The passages dealt with are given in the order in which they occur in the Qur'ān and are introduced by the words قوله تعالى, e.g.,

قوله تعالى الذى جعل لكم الارض فراشا الى قوله فان لم تفعلوا فيه دلالة على الامر باستعمال حجج العقول وابطال التقليد قال محمود بن حمزة الكرمانى فاستدل اكثر المفسرين بالآية على ان شكل الارض بسيط ليس بكروى

The comments on each passage rarely extend beyond brief indications of the legal, theological or other deductions which have been based on it. The authorities for particular deductions are frequently mentioned by name, and there are many extracts from the works of Abū Bakr al-Rāzī, Ibn al-Faras and others.

The beginning of the work (missing from the present manuscript) is:

الحمد لله الذى انزل على عبده الكتب تبيانا لكل شىء

This copy is slightly defective both at beginning and end. The first words are اصول العلم وقال البصرى (Delhi ed. p. 2, l. 13), and the last يا خبير وفى آل عمران يا وهاب (Delhi ed. p. 432, l. 7). There are also a few internal lacunae.

An edition of the work was lithographed on the margin of Mu'īn b. Ṣafī's Jāmi' al-bayān (see no. 1144) at the Fārūqī Press, Delhi, in 1296/1879 (see Ellis II 386–7).

For other manuscripts see 'Alī Pāshā 10, Āṣafīyah I p. 552, 'Āshir Efendī 19, Bānkīpūr Handlist I 204, Rabat 13, Walī al-Dīn 62–3.

(تفسير الحكم و) شؤن المنزلات

(Tafsīr al-ḥikam wa-) Shu'ūn al-munazzalāt.

A commentary on selected passages of the Qur'ān, by an author who is described in the preface merely as the khalīfah of the Shaikh 'Alī al-Muttaqī (خليفة شيخ على المتقى), the space for his name before these words being left blank.

'Alī ibn Ḥusām al-Dīn al-Muttaqī was a celebrated Indian saint and scholar who was born at Burhānpūr in 885, settled eventually at Mecca and died there, according to Raḥmān 'Alī, p. 147[8], in 975/1567, cf. Brockelmann II 384, Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyah 383[12].

According to Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyah 392[16] (cf. 387[5]) 'Alī al-Muttaqī's khalīfah was 'Abd al-Wahhāb (ibn Walī Allāh) al-Muttaqī, who was born in India but who lived the greater part of his life in Mecca, where the well-known 'Abd al-Ḥaqq Dihlawī became his pupil and disciple. He died in 1001/1592–3.

No works of 'Abd al-Wahhāb al-Muttaqī are named in the Akhbār al-akhyār, the Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind, or the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyah. In view of this fact and of the possibility that 'Alī al-Muttaqī may have had more than one khalīfah, it cannot be stated quite definitely that 'Abd al-Wahhāb is the author of this work.

At the beginning of the work it is the author's practice to summarise in short sentences the divisions of the subject matter and to quote after each sentence the relevant Qur'ānic passage. This plan is soon modified, but throughout the work the author is concerned mainly with the chief divisions of the subject matter, with the asbāb al-nuzūl, and with the historical and other allusions. The exegetical material is for the most part derived from the earliest traditionists and commentators.

The manuscript is slightly defective at the end, and breaks off in the middle of the remarks on the last sūrah.

Beginning:

العروة الوثقى

al-'Urwaḥ al-wuthqā.

A commentary by the Shī'ite scholar Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (Muḥammad ibn Ḥusain, who died in 1030/1621, see no. 1120).

According to the Rauḍāt al-jannāt, IV 94[25], this commentary never extended beyond Sūrah 1, and if we may judge from this manuscript, even this part remained unfinished, since it breaks off abruptly before the end of the traditions which were to form the conclusion of the comments on this sūrah (cf. fol. 29*b*[13]:

وليجعل خاتمة تفسير الفاتحة بعض الاحاديث المعتبرة الواردة فى فضلها الخ)

It was composed in the reign of Shāh 'Abbās II, after the author had reached the fiftieth year of his age. Linguistic and grammatical points are discussed as well as the subject matter, and both Shī'ite and Sunnite views are referred to. There are subdivisions into unnumbered fuṣūl.

Beginning :

نور الثقلين

Nūr al-thaqalain.

Sūrahs VII–XVIII.

The second part [al-juz' al-thānī] of the Shī'ite commentary of 'Abd 'Alī ibn Jum'aḥ al-'Arūsī al-Ḥuwaizī, a resident of Shīrāz. The date of his death does not seem to be recorded, but a short notice of him is given by his contemporary al-Ḥurr al-'Āmilī (d. 1099/1687–8) in his Amal al-Āmil (p. 48[10] in the Ṭihrān edition), and there is a longer one in the Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 358.

In addition to this commentary he wrote a commentary on the Lāmīyaḥ al-'Ajam. The Shaikh Ni'maḥ Allāh al-Jazā'irī was one of his pupils.

The date of the completion of this second part is given in the colophon of this manuscript as 1057/1647, while the colophon of Loth 106 states that Part I (or at any rate one autograph manuscript of that part) was completed in 1065/1655.

The extracts of which this commentary consists are introduced by the titles of the books from which they are taken preceded by the preposition فى (فى تفسير العياشى etc., always written in red ink).

فريدة الزمانة فى تفسير آية انا عرضنا الامانة

Farīdaḥ al-zamānaḥ fī tafsīr āyaḥ Innā 'araḍnā 'l-amānaḥ.

A commentary on Sūrah XXXIII 72. The title does not occur in the work itself but is given in the copyist's colophon, where also the name of the author is given as Shāh 'Abd Allāh commonly called Jalabī Ṣāḥib. The date of completion is given in the author's colophon as 1070/1660.

The work is dedicated to the Emperor Aurangzēb. It is divided into two parts, of which the first contains quotations from a number of different works, both Arabic and Persian, while the second (fol. 15*a*–end) is professedly original.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِمَنْ رَوَعَ عَنْ اَمَانَتِهِ اْلاَكْوَانُ ... وبعد فهذا مُلَخ[ص] من بعض تفاسير المعتبرة والطروس المشتهرة فى قوله تعالى اِنَّا عَرَضْنا الْاَمَانَةَ عَلَى السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْاَرْضِ ومعنى المقول عليها بالتاويل والفرض ذيّلته بما سَنَحَ لى فيها ومنح الله علىّ من معانيها الخ

End:

Tafsīr al-Qur'ān.

An autograph copy of a commentary which, as it appears, is little more than an abridgment of the Madārik al-tanzīl of al-Nasafī (see nos. 1130–6) by an author whose name, or possibly whose father's name[1], was Ṣiddīq ibn 'Umar al-Harawī and who is called in an endorsement on fol. 1*a*[2] Abū 'Abd Allāh Māturīdī.

The Madārik al-tanzīl does not seem to be mentioned by name, but passages therefrom are sometimes followed by the words كذا فى الاصل.

The author refers on fol. 14*b* to a commentary of his own on the Wiqāyaḥ.

تفسير سورة الاعراف
Tafsīr Sūraḥ al-A'rāf.

A volume containing two distinct commentaries on Sūrah VII, both of them

[1] A piece of the leaf has been torn away in front of the name صديق.

[2] حاشيه قران شريف از ابى عبد الله ماتريدى consisting to a considerable extent of glosses on al-Baiḍāwī's notes. According to an endorsement on fol. 1*a* the author of the first is "Imām Qurṭubī," and according to a similar endorsement on fol. 91*a* the second is a ḥāshiyah by Maulawī Muḥammad Ṭāhir. It is clear, however, both from the close mutual resemblance of the two works and from the fact that they contain identical passages introduced by the word اقول, that they are both by the same author. That the author, moreover, is Ghulām Naqshband is evident from the fact that on fol. 63*b* the Tafsīr Anwār al-Furqān is referred to as a work of the author's own.

Ghulām Naqshband Lakhnawī, who died in 1126/1714 (see no. 1127), wrote a commentary on a quarter of the Qur'ān entitled Anwār al-Furqān, annotations on this commentary, commentaries on some sūrahs of the Qur'ān, a commentary on al-Qaṣīdaḥ al-Khazrajīyaḥ (referred to on fol. 82*a* of this manuscript) and other works: see Subḥaḥ al-marjān 78, Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyaḥ 435, Raḥman 'Alī 158.

The first of these two commentaries is complete and occupies foll. 1–90, the second is defective and breaks off before the conclusion of the notes on verse 87. The greater part of the material in both is identical. The Qur'ānic passages commented on are introduced by the words قوله تعالى, al-Baiḍāwī's words by قوله. Neither of these commentaries has anything in the shape of a preface prefixed, and the first, in which there occur references to explanations already given in Sūrah 11, is evidently part of a commentary embracing more than this one sūrah.

Beginning of the first commentary:

سورة الاعراف مكية وهى مايتان وخمس ايات شامى بصرى وست حجازى كوفى اختلافها خمس ايات المص كوفى ... ووجه نظم السورتين ان سورة الانعام حجاج مع المشركين وبيان حقيقة التوحيد وبطلان الكفر ووعد المومنين ووعيد الكافرين وسورة الاعراف بيان نجاة المومنين وتحقيق الوعيد والعقوبة على الكافرين سيما الخاتمة والفاتحة اذ نظمهما الوعد والوعيد والانذار والتذكير بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم المص كتاب التنكير للتعظيم اى كتاب كامل قوله خبر مبتدأ محذوف الخ ذكر صاحب الكشاف الاول وههنا وجه ثالث وهو الابتداء وانزل خبره انزل اليك صيغة المضى ولم ينزل كله تنزيل للمنتظر منزلة الموجود الخ

End:

وقيل يصلون تعبير بالجزء الاعظم فما تقرر ان وجوب السجدة فى غير سجدة الصلوة فمختص بالناس

Beginning of the second commentary:

قوله سورة الاعراف مكية الخ وجه المناسبة بين السورتين ان خاتمة الاولى وعد ووعيد وفاتحة الثانية انذار وتذكير وبيان اهلاك القرون الخالية والقرى الماضية قوله خبر مبتدأ محذوف الخ اقول يحتمل ان يكون مبتدأ والتنوين للتعظيم وانزل خبره ثم صيغة المضى ولم نزل [sic] كله تنزيل للمنتظر منزلة الموجود قوله متعلق الخ فيه فصل بالمعطوف او بالشرطية الخ

Foll. 8 and 9 should be transposed. Foll. 24–25*b* are a duplication of foll. 21*b*[18]–23. A leaf is missing between foll. 116 and 117.

التفسيرات الاحمدية فى بيان الآيات الشرعية

al-Tafsīrāt al-Aḥmadīyaḥ fī bayān al-āyāt al-shar'īyaḥ.

A commentary by Shaikh Jīwan (Aḥmad ibn Abī Sa'īd al-Lakhnawī) on those verses of the Qur'ān which form the bases for prescriptions of law, principles of jurisprudence and dogmas of theology. For similar works on the Aḥkām al-Qur'ān see no. 1151.

For biographical notices of the author see Subḥaḥ al-marjān 79, Raḥmān 'Alī 45, Hidāyet Ḥusain in Ency. Isl. sub Djīwan, cf. also Loth 316.

The Emperor Aurangzēb admitted him to his court and received instruction from him. He died at Delhi in 1130/1717–8 and was buried at his native village of Amēṭhī, near Lucknow.

The author states in his preface and also in the colophon that he began to write the work at the age of sixteen in the year 1064 (1653–54) and completed it at the age of twenty-one in the year 1069 (1658–59). He adds in the colophon that he revised it at the age of twenty-seven in the year 1075 (1664–65). According to the colophon the work was begun, completed and revised in the village of Amēṭhī. The author mentions in his preface more than a score of works from which he derived his material. He refers at the end of his preface in laudatory terms to the reigning Emperor Muḥyī 'l-Dīn Muḥammad Aurangzēb 'Ālamgīr.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى انزل على عبده الكتاب وفصّله تفصيلًا ... وبعدُ فانّ انفعَ المطالب حالًا ومالًا ... هو المعارف الدينية الخ

The first verse commented on is II 27, the notes on which begin as follows:

ففى مسئلة ان الاباحة اصل فى الاشياء قوله تع هو الذِىْ خلَقَ لكُمْ مَا فى الاَرْضِ جميْعًا ثم استوَىَ اِلَى السَّمَاءِ فَسَوّيهُنَّ سَبْعَ سَمواتٍ وهُوَ بِكُلِّ شَىْ عَلِيْمٌ هذه بيان نعمة يخاطب بها الكفار او المؤمنون او كلاهما واللام فى لكم للانتفاع والمعنى خلق جميع ما فى الارض لِانتفاعكم فى دنياكم باستنفاعكم بها فى مصالح ابدانكم وفى دينكم بالاستدلال والاعتبار الخ

On the margins are notes of which the majority are derived from the author himself.

For other manuscripts see Āṣafīyah 1 p. 532, nos. 97 and 300, Loth 116 (Sūrahs I–XVI 77).

An edition was printed partly at the Ṭibbī Press and partly at the Ikhwān al-ṣafā' Press, Calcutta, in 1263/1847.

Al-Tafsīrāt al-Aḥmadīyaḥ fī bayān al-āyāt al-sharʿīyaḥ.

Another copy of the same work. It is slightly defective at the end, the last words being

وانحر البدن التي هي خيار اموال العرب وتصدق على المحاويج مخالفة لمن يمنع الماعون او صل صلاة عيد الضّحى وانحر

These words occur in the explanation of Sūrah CVIII (p. 613, l. 15 in the printed text), which is the last passage commented on.

4223.—Foll. 163; $10\frac{9}{10} \times 6\frac{2}{5}$ in.; ll. 15; poor nasta'līq; original text overlined; no rubrications; a few marginal notes and corrections; dated Thursday, 2 Dhū 'l-Qa'dah 1265/1849. [DELHI 22]

حاشية محمد فضل الله على تفسير الفاتحة للسيالكوتى

Ḥāshiyaḥ Muḥammad Faḍl Allāh 'alā Tafsīr al-Fātiḥaḥ lil-Siyālkōṭī.

An interwoven commentary by Muḥammad Faḍl Allāh on the commentary of his maternal uncle, 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Ḥakīm Siyālkōṭī, on Sūrah I.

'Abd Allāh was the son of the well-known author of annotations on the beginning of the Anwār al-tanzīl (see no. 1122) and on other works (see Ellis I 35, 36).

Muḥammad Faḍl Allāh gives some information about himself in his preface and colophon. When he was only five years old, his birthplace Sirhind was attacked by a hostile force and his father was killed. His mother and he then came under the protection of her brother, ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿAbd al-Ḥakīm at Siyālkōṭ.

This supercommentary was completed in Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ 1114/1703, the work having occupied ten months.

مجمع التاويل فى أسرار التنزيل

Majmaʿ al-ta'wīl fī asrār al-tanzīl.

Sūrahs I–XVIII and LXXVIII–CXIV.

An incomplete autograph copy of a commentary by Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad Qāsim ibn Muḥammad Nadhīr al-Quhunduzī al-Dihlawī. Of the five parts into which the commentary was divided only three now remain.

The author, who was a member of the retinue of Bahādur Shāh (b. 1643, acc. 1707, d. 1712), says that the commentary on Sūrahs LXXVIII–CXIV was undertaken first and completed at Peshawar on 27 Ramaḍān 1114 [1703] (colophon fol. 361*a* and note ibid.), that on Sūrahs I–V was begun at Peshawar in Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ 1114 (note on fol. 3*a*), and that on Sūrahs VI–XVIII was begun at Khwurd Kābul on 21 Jumādā II, 1116 [1704] (notes on foll. 159*a* and 159*b*) and finished at Peshawar on 10 Muḥarram 1117 [1705] (notes on fol. 324*a*). He says (note on fol. 361) that he was present at the battle between Muḥammad Aʿẓam Shāh and Bahādur Shāh near Akbarābād [18 Rabīʿ I, 1119/18 June, 1707] and fully expected to die and leave the commentary unfinished, but that on the conclusion of hostilities he devoted himself to the two remaining parts [i.e. Sūrahs XIX–LXXVII] and completed them at Ajmēr in Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ 1120 [1709].

Foll. 1*b*–2*b* contain a rough draft of the beginning of the work which was no doubt intended to be superseded by the revised version given on fol. 3*b* seq. The scope of the commentary is stated as follows in a note on fol. 3*a* (cf. a similar note on the last page):

قد بين فى هذ التفسير التركيب والعلم المعانى
والمذهب الحنفية وبعض المذاهب المختلفة من
الايمة الثلثة اعنى الشافعى والمالك واحمد الحنبل

وبين المذهب الصوفية ايضًا وقد كمل هذا التفسير فى البيان وقد اتي بالاحاديث ايضًا في اكثر المواضع واحتوى فى البيان للبيضاوى والمدارك ولمعالم التنزيل والجلالين وللتفسير الحسينى ولغيرها ايضا والمولف حنفيّ المذهب واحتوي للقراءة ايضًا من السبعة المتوترة بل فى بعض الموضع من العشرة

Beginning:

زهرة روضة النعيم فى تفسير بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم

Zahraḥ raudaḥ al-na'īm fī tafsīr Bism Allāh al-Raḥmān al-Raḥīm.

A Shī'ite commentary on the Basmalaḥ by Muḥammad 'Alī ibn Faḍl 'Alī Khān entitled Faḍl 'Alī Khān, completed at the beginning of Ṣafar 1132/1719.

The author states in his preface that having since his childhood been devoted to the study of the 'ulūm and having come across no commentary on the Basmalaḥ he decided to compose a commentary in which it should be considered from the point of view of twelve different 'ulūm. The work is divided into a muqaddimaḥ, twelve rauḍāt and a khātimaḥ. Each rauḍaḥ is concerned with a particular 'ilm as follows: (1) al-lughaḥ, (2) al-ṣarf, (3) al-naḥw, (4) al-ma'ānī, (5) al-bayān, (6) al-badī', (7) al-ḥikmaḥ al-naẓarīyaḥ, (8) al-kalām, (9) al-manṭiq, (10) al-uṣūl, (11) al-fiqh, (12) al-riyāḍī.

Beginning:

[DELHI Persian 27*a*]

Two short exegetical works by Muḥammad 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Alī al-Zāhidī al-Jīlānī, who is better known as a Persian writer by the takhallus Ḥazīn. He was born at Iṣfahān in 1103/1692, settled in India in 1146/1734 and died at Benares in 1180/1766, see Rieu 372*b*, G.I.P. II 310, Ethé 677, Ency. Isl. II 298, etc.

I. Foll. 1–4*b*[1]. A commentary on Sūrah XXIV 35 composed in 1140 at Mashhad. The title, which does not occur in this copy owing to the omission of the preface, is Shajaraḥ al-Ṭūr fī sharḥ Āyaḥ al-Nūr.

Beginning:

4305.—Foll. 130; 11 × 6$\frac{7}{10}$ in.; ll. 25; inelegant but fairly clear nasta'līq, except Qur'ānic passages and foll. 1–5 and 47–50, which are in naskhī; numerous red and black overlinings; frequent marginal corrections; much worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 21 bis]

Part of an unidentified commentary on the Qur'ān extending from Sūrah XXXVIII 11 to CXIV.

The last leaf is missing and of the colophon only the first few words remain.

The notes on each sūrah usually end with some such words as وختم السورة بهذه الآية من حسن المختم[1] (ولله الحمد على ذلك)

These are as a rule followed immediately by some words indicating the connexion of the sūrah with that which follows, e.g.

ثم ان ربط سورة العلق بسورة التين كونهما فى خلق الانسان

None but very early authorities (the Seven Readers, Abū Ḥanīfah etc.) seem to be mentioned by name in the rare passages in which authorities are mentioned at all.

[1] This word occurs throughout, but is perhaps a mistake for المختتم.

Beginning:

موسى ثم وصف فرعون بقوله ذو الاوتاد ذو الملك الثابت بالاوتاد او ذو الجموع الكثيرة سموا بذلك لان بعضهم يشد بعضا كالوتد يشد البناء وقيل نصب اربع سَوارٍ وكان يمد يدى المعذب ورجليه عليها ويضرب عليها اوتادا ويتركه حتى يموت الخ

Sūrah XLI:

فتح الخبير بما لا بد من حفظه فى علم التفسير

Fatḥ al-Khabīr bi-mā lā budd min ḥifẓih fī 'ilm al-tafsīr.

Concise annotations (in Arabic) on the Qur'ān, consisting for the most part of explanations of the less familiar words occurring therein, together with brief statements concerning the circumstances which led to the revelation of particular sūrahs or passages. The work forms the fifth and last chapter of al-Fauz al-kabīr, a Persian treatise on the principles of Qur'ānic exegesis by Walī Allāh Dihlawī (d. 1176/1762–3, see Ency. Isl. I 971), but, as the author states, it has been given a separate preface [and title] so that it may, if desired, be copied as an independent book. The rest of al-Fauz al-kabīr precedes it in this manuscript.

The author states that the explanations are traditional and are derived for the most part from 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Abbās, mainly through the medium of Ibn Abī Ṭalḥah, but in some cases through al-Ḍaḥḥāk and Nāfi' ibn al-Azraq. Further explanations are derived from al-Bukhārī's Ṣaḥīḥ and other sources. Statements concerning the asbāb al-nuzūl are derived from al-Bukhārī, al-Tirmidhī, and al-Ḥākim [i.e. Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh Ibn al-Baiyi', see Brockelmann I 166].

تفسير آية النور

Tafsīr Ayaḥ al-Nūr.

A commentary on the Āyaḥ al-Nūr (Sūrah XXIV 35) by Muḥammad Rafī' al-Dīn, the second son of the well-known 18th-century traditionist (Shāh) Walī Allāh Dihlawī (see no. 1167).

According to Raḥmān 'Alī he died in 1249/1833–4, but the Ḥadā'iq al-Ḥanafīyah gives the date 1238/1822–3.

His best known work is an Urdu translation of the Qur'ān, for which see Blumhardt's Catalogue of Hindustani Manuscripts in the Library of the India Office, nos. 6–8.

This commentary is divided into a muqaddimaḥ (fol. 124*a*), a maqṣad (fol. 125*a*), a takmilaḥ (fol. 129*a*) and a khātimaḥ (fol. 133*a*).

زبدة الوعظ ولقبش تفسير كريمى است

Zubdaḥ al-wa'ẓ or Tafsīr i Karīmī.

Sūrahs I–II 4.

A commentary consisting of Friday addresses composed by Muḥammad Karīm Allāh Dihlawī, who is doubtless identical with the Maulawī Karīm Allāh Dihlawī ibn Maulawī Luṭf Allāh Fārūqī, of whom a short notice is given in Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind, p. 172. He is there said to have been a pupil of Shāh 'Abd al-'Azīz Dihlawī[1], of Rashīd al-Dīn Khān Dihlawī and of Muḥammad Kāẓim Dihlawī. As a Ṣūfī he was the disciple of Saiyid Āl i Aḥmad Mārahrawī. He died at the age of ninety on the 4th of Shawwāl 1291/1874. Raḥmān 'Alī says that he wrote numerous works but does not give the titles of any. Several are preserved in the Delhi Collection (see the Index to this Catalogue).

This commentary, as the author himself acknowledges (fol. 23*b*), consists almost entirely of extracts from other works[2]. A large proportion are in Persian. Prefixed to the commentary proper is an introduction divided into four uṣūl, each aṣl being sub-divided into a number of 'unwāns. The uṣūl are as follows:

(١) فى بيان شمة من فضائل القران واسامیه ومباحث حدوثه وقدمه والتكلم والسماع Fol. 2*b*.

(٢) فى بيان جامعية القران وكيفية استخراج علوم[sic] الدينية منه Fol. 4*b*.

(٣) فى ذكر الالفاظ التى متداولة بين المفسرين Fol. 8*a*.

(٤) فى فوائد متفرقة Fol. 12*a*.

The 'unwāns into which the fourth aṣl is sub-divided are:

(1) فى بيان جمع القران (2) فى شرف علم التفسير
(3) فى بيان اعجاز القران
(4) فى بيان افضلية بعض السور والاية على بعض الاخر [sic!]
(5) فى شرائط التدبر والتفكر فى الفاظ القران ومعانيه
(6) فى ذكر اشارات العرفاء وحقائق الاولياء

These are followed by a long extract from the Itqān of al-Suyūṭī.

The actual commentary is divided into majālis, of which the first (fol. 24*b*) is headed

[المجلس] الاول بكرة الجمعة سابع عشر من جمادى الاول سنة الف ومائتين وخمس واربعين

The next nine majālis are numbered and (except in the case of no. 2, where the date seems to have been accidentally omitted) assigned to particular Fridays (13th, 21st, and 28th Jumādā II, 6th, 12th, 19th, and 26th Rajab, and 4th Sha'bān). Thenceforward the ordinal numbers and dates (except in the case of no. 11, which is assigned to Sha'bān, without mention of a particular day) are omitted. After fol. 147 even the word المجلس is omitted.

A particular Qur'ānic verse or phrase usually forms the subject of several successive majālis. Some of the majālis are entirely in Persian.

The remarks on Sūrah I begin on fol. 48*a*, those on Sūrah II on fol. 232*a*.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى هدانا طريق التاليف والتفسير... فاعلم ان بعض السامعين الوعظ وبعض المستعلين [sic] ما يقراء سالنى ان اكتب الذى يُبيَّن [?] ويقال ويواعظ عند الناس يوم الجمعة فاعرضت وبينت [?] الشغل وعدم الفرصه فاذا كان الحاج من جانبهما كنت كتبت جميع الوعظ لهما بدون التعمق والتدبر... ولهذا وقع اكثر الغلط فى العبارة فارجو من كرام الناس ان لا تواخذ عليه فالاول شرعت فى عبارة الفارسى فبعضهم قالوا لو بيّن بعبارات الكتب لكان انسب سواء كان بعبارة العربى او بالفارسى فلهذا كنتُ الفت [here follows an illegible word] بعبارة العربى وقد كتب هذا العبد النحيف ايضا بالعربى وترجمت فى الاكثر الفارسية بالعربية فالان قصدى قبل الوعظ ذكر موضوع علم التفسير الخ

End:

فلذا قال الله تعالى اولئك على هدى من ربهم واولئك هم المفلحون اللهم اصلح لنا بالنا بحرمة نبى واصحابه وال نبينا الخ

[1] That he was not the immediate pupil of Shāh 'Abd al-'Azīz but the pupil of a pupil is suggested by the following words which occur on fol. 228*b* of this MS.:

فى تفسير فتح العزيز من تصنيف شاه عبد العزيز استاد الاستاد لمولف هذا

[2] The sources of the extracts are regularly specified.

Colophon:

Zubdaẖ al-wa'ẓ or Tafsīr i Karīmī.

Sūrah II 185–286.

The continuation of the same commentary. The author explains that verses 4–184 of this sūrah are omitted because in the case of that part of the Qur'ān he took his wa'ẓ from the commentary of 'Abd al-'Azīz Dihlawī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى علمنا بيان معانى القران... وبعد فيقول العبد العاصى محمد كريم الله ان علم التفسير ارفع شانًا وبنيانا [?] وافضل العلوم بيانا [?] فقصدت ان اجمع وعظى من كتب التفاسير والحكايات المفيده [?] والنكت [?] اللطيفه بعد اتمام تفسيرى المسمى بكريمى من الفاتحه الى اخر سيپاره الم ذلك الكتاب فبعده شرعت الوعظ من تفسير استاذى مولوى شاه عبد العزيز الشهير بتفسير العزيزى فلما ختمتُ التفسير استاذى الى ركوع وليس البر فبعده ما كان فشرعت فى تحرير من ركوع ويسالونك عن الاهلة فاتممت بعون الله الى اخر البقرة الخ

غاية النصيحة لاهل الايمان

Ghāyaẖ al-naṣīẖaẖ li-ahl al-īmān.

Annotations on selected passages of the Qur'ān, from Sūrah XXXVI verse 77 to Sūrah CXIV, extracted by the same Muḥammad Karīm Allāh from al-Tafsīr al-kabīr (i.e. Mafātīḥ al-ghaib by al-Rāzī, see Brockelmann I 506) and other works both Arabic and Persian.

In the top left-hand corner of fol. 1*a* are the words:

هذه قطعة من ملتقات [sic] الكتب من تاليف محمد كريم الله

In the middle of the top margin are the following (which are perhaps intended as a continuation of those in the corner):

المسمى غاية النصيحة لاهل الايمان

and at the bottom of the last page of the text is the sentence:

تمت ملتقط الكوامل [sic] من تاليف محمد كريم الله

On two of the fly-leaves there is a table of contents.

Beginning:

Ṣūfistic annotations on Sūrah XII 103–XIII 4.

It is possible that these notes, one or two of which are in Persian, were written and collected by Muḥammad Karīm Allāh Dihlawī (see no. 1170), the author of several theological tracts contained in this volume. They are headed تفسير فى التصوف and are defective at the end.

Annotations on a number of Qur'ānic passages from Sūrah V 18 to Sūrah VII 55, defective at the end and doubtless at the beginning also.

Beginning:

تفسير غريب القرآن

Tafsīr gharīb al-Qur'ān.

A concise dictionary of the less familiar words occurring in the Qur'ān by Ibn 'Uzair al-Sijistānī (Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn 'Uzair al-Uzairī who died in 330/941–2 according to Bughyaḥ al-wu'āḥ 73[4]. Cf. Brockelmann I 119, where the name of the author is given as Abû Bekr M. b. 'Omar b. A. (b. al [sic] 'Uzair), apparently on the sole authority of the Leyden manuscript).

The author, who is said to have spent fifteen years on this work, was a pupil of the more celebrated Abū Bakr ibn al-Anbārī who was himself a pupil of Tha'lab. Whether his name was ابن عزير or ابن عزيز (i.e. Ibn 'Uzaiz, not Ibn 'Azīz, if we may believe the Tāj al-'arūs) has been a subject of dispute for centuries. For further information on this subject see Rieu's Brit. Mus. Suppt. 130.

The work itself contains nothing in the shape of a title apart from the words Tafsīr gharīb al-Qur'ān, which occur at the beginning, and it is frequently referred to simply as Gharīb al-Qur'ān (cf. Nuzhaḥ al-alibbā' 386[6], Fihrist p. 35[5], but in the title-pages or colophons of some manuscripts it is given the title Nuzhaḥ al-qulūb fī tafsīr gharīb al-Qur'ān, while al-Suyūṭī (?) in the preface to his adaptation of the work (Nuzhaḥ al-khāṭir wa-surūr al-nāẓir, see Ahlwardt I 695) calls it Nuzhaḥ al-qulūb wa-farjaḥ al-makrūb, and one of the Paris manuscripts bears the title Nuzhaḥ al-qulūb fī tafsīr kalām 'Allām al-ghuyūb. Ḥājjī Khalīfah (IV 8144, but without title IV p. 331) calls it العزيز فى غريب القران [read العزيزى? cf. Leyden IV p. 17]. The title-page of this manuscript bears the words

The words are not given under their roots, but for the most part in the precise form in which they occur in the Qur'ān. Words beginning with the same consonant and succeeding short vowel are grouped together in chapters with headings such as باب التاء المفتوحة, باب التاء المضمومة, and باب التاء المكسورة. Within these chapters they are arranged in the order in which they occur in the Qur'ān. Thus the explanation of طُمِسَتْ, which occurs in Sūrah LXXVII 8, must be sought in the باب الطاء المضمومة after the word طُوبَى, which occurs in Sūrah XIII 28.

Beginning [supplied]:

قال ابو بكر محمد بن عزير السجستانى رحمه الله الحمد لله والصلاة على سيدنا محمد واله الطاهرين هذا تفسير غريب القران الف على حروف المعجم ليقرب تناوله ويسهل حفظه على من اراده وبالله التوفيق الهمزة المفتوحة الم الحرف [sic] الهجاء التى فى اوايل السور تعرف كل سورة بما افتتحت به الخ

الكافية الموسية و الشافية النورية

al-Kāfiyaḥ al-Mūsīyaḥ wa-'l-Shāfiyaḥ al-Nūrīyaḥ

Brief explanations of the words and phrases in the Qur'ān which require elucidation. The author, Qāsim ibn Ḥamzaḥ, states that the work was composed in 1114/1702–3 and that it is based on al-Baiḍāwī and the Shams al-'ulūm. The داعى وقته كليم الدين بن زكى الدين referred to in the preface was presumably an Ismā'īlī dignitary.

The heading

الكافية الموسية هذه لغة من لغات القران فى كل اسم

is written in red ink at the top of the first page and immediately afterwards the work begins as follows:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الحمد لله الذى نزل الفرقان على من ارسله بالهدى ليكون للعالمين بشيرا ونذيرا ... اما بعد فيقول المحتاج الى الله الفقير الحقير قاسم بن حمزة ثبته الله على طاعة داعى وقته كليم الدين بن زكى الدين طول الله عمره [there seems to be an omission here] نكتا من مشكلات المعانى من البيضاوى وشمس العلوم ليحفظها ذوو الالباب والحلوم وسميتها الكافية الموسية والشافية النورية فى سنة اربع عشر والماية بعد الالف من الهجرة [sic] النبى المختار فبعده بسم الله الباء للمصاحبة الخ

اسئلة القرآن واجوبتها

As'ilaḥ al-Qur'ān wa-ajwibathā.

A fragment of a work belonging to the type usually called as'ilaḥ al-Qur'ān or mushkilāt al-Qur'ān, of which the object is to explain away the difficulties, apparent inconsistencies, inaccuracies, etc. to be found in the Qur'ān.

That it is a fragment of the As'ilaḥ al-Qur'ān wa-ajwibathā of Muḥammad ibn Abī Bakr ibn 'Abd al-Qādir al-Rāzī is rendered probable by the facts that (1) the questions are introduced by the words فان قيل and the answers by قلنا[1] (cf. Ahlwardt 706), (2) the author refers on fol. 88*b*[14] to a work of his own entitled Sharḥ gharīb al-Qur'ān (a work by al-Rāzī on this subject is mentioned by Ḥājjī Khalīfah IV 331[8]), (3) he is later than al-Zamakhsharī, whom he mentions on foll. 80*a*, 97*a*, 99*b* and elsewhere.

Muḥammad ibn Abī Bakr al-Rāzī, the author of the Mukhtār al-Ṣiḥāḥ (see Rieu 850), the Raudaḥ al-faṣāḥaḥ (Rosen, Institut, no. 108) and of other works, flourished in the middle of the seventh century A.H., see Rieu 850 and Rosen, loc. cit.

For manuscripts of his As'ilaḥ al-Qur'ān see Ahlwardt 706–8, Browne Suppt. 323, Cairo I 123 (5 copies), Casiri 1356–7, 1414–6, de Slane 623, 624 1, 625, Leyden 1673, Marsigli 71 (2), J.R.A.S. 1892, p. 504, no. 20 (?) and at least 19 of the Constantinople catalogues.

For a printed edition (on the margin of al-'Ukbarī's Tibyān fī i'rāb al-Qurān, Cairo, 1303) see Ellis II 13.

[1] This appears only from the catchwords on foll. 75*b* and 96*b*, the spaces for these and similar words having been always left blank, presumably in order that they might be filled in afterwards in red ink.

حل المشكلات فى ايقاع الوحل للفرق الوهّابيات

Ḥall al-mushkilāt fī īqā' al-waḥal lil-firaq al-Wahhābīyāt.

A similar work on the difficulties or questions which suggest themselves to a student of the Qur'ān composed in the year 1230/1814–15 by Muḥammad Karīm Allāh, who is further particularised in the table of contents prefixed to the volume as Wā'iẓ Dihlawī (see no. 1170).

The difficulties are dealt with in the order in which they occur in the Qur'ān and the last relates to an expression in Sūrah II 232.

The words

حل المشكلات فى ايقاع الوحل للفرق الوهابيات,

which are written in the top left-hand corner of the first page, appear to be the title.

A treatise on the verses or parts of verses of the Qur'ān which are abrogated by others by an author who in this manuscript is called Abū 'Abd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Alī al-Isfarānī [i.e. al-Isfarāyinī] but in no. 1180 Abū 'Abd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Qāhir al-Isfarānī.

Beginning:

The beginning of the first chapter is as follows:

فصل قال قاضى الامام ابو عبد الله بن محمد بن على الاسفرانى لما كان المفسرون سلكوا طريق هذا لعلم [sic] فاوردوا فيها ما ليس منها وخلطوا لاستثناء [sic] بالنسخ والنسخ بالاستثناء الخ

The author goes on to say that he has extracted the material for his work from the commentaries which he has read with his teachers, such for example as the commentaries of Muqātil ibn Sulaimān and al-Kalbī, which he read with Abū Isḥāq ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Alī al-Isfarāyini, and other commentaries read with Ābū Bakr al-Ḥadīṯhī and Abū Bakr ibn Abī Sa'īd etc.

A very brief work on the abrogating and abrogated verses of the Qur'ān by Saiyid 'Alī ibn Shihāb al-Dīn al-Hamadānī, a well-known saint, a member of the Kubrawī order and himself the founder of an order of Ṣūfīs. Having incurred the wrath of Tīmūr he fled from Hamadān and in 781/1379–80 settled in Kashmīr. He died in 786/1385, see Nafaḥāt al-uns p. 515, Raḥmān 'Alī 148, Arnold, The Preaching of Islam, 2nd ed., p. 292, Rieu, Pers. Cat. 447*b*, Ethé 1850 etc.

المقنع فى رسم مصاحف الامصار

al-Muqni' fī rasm maṣāḥif al-amṣār.

A slightly defective copy of the work of al-Dānī (Abū 'Amr 'Uthmān ibn Sa'īd, d. 444/1053, see M. Ben Cheneb in Encyclopaedia of Islām sub al-Dānī, Brockelmann I 407, Ḥājjī Khalīfah VI 12812) on the orthography of the Qur'ān.

For the sections into which it is divided see Ahlwardt 419.

Neither the title nor the author's name occurs in this copy.

عقيلة اتراب القصائد فى اسنى المقاصد

'Aqīlaḥ atrāb al-qaṣā'id fī asnā 'l-maqāṣid.

The well-known metrical treatise of al-Shāṭibī (Abū Muḥammad al-Qāsim ibn Fīrruh al-Ru'ainī) on the orthography of the Qur'ān. Ibn Khallikān, in whose time many of al-Shāṭibī's pupils were still living (cf. Fasc. VI p. 40[19] (no. 548) وادركت من اصحابه جمعا كثيرا بالديار المصرية) says that he was born in 538/1144, that he settled in Egypt in 572 and was appointed by al-Qāḍī al-Fāḍil to a lectureship in his madrasah in Cairo and that he died in (Jumādā II) 590/1194, cf. Subkī IV 297, Brockelmann I 409.

This work is a versification of the Muqni' of al-Dānī (no. 1182).

Beginning:

For a printed edition (in a majmū' of five tracts, Cairo, 1282) see Ellis I 920. Another was published at Kazan in 1908, and another (in a majmū' of six tracts) was lithographed at Cairo in 1328.

For a summary of the work by Silvestre de Sacy see Notices et Extraits VIII pp. 333–362.

There is a lacuna (14 lines اشركتمون to كذاك يرى) between foll. 13 and 14 and another (27 lines وفى ينبّؤ—من ذكا حررا) between foll. 15 and 16. Numerous notes (extracted, according to a note written by the copyist between the lines of the colophon, from the commentary of al-Sakhāwī) are written on the margins and in the wide interlinear spaces.

A commentary on al-Shāṭibī's 'Aqīlaḥ atrāb al-qaṣā'id (see no. 1183) probably by Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn al-Qaffāl al-Shāṭibī, who is mentioned by Ḥājjī Khalīfaḥ among the authors of commentaries on the 'Aqīlaḥ and who is described by him as a pupil of al-Sakhāwī's. That the author of this commentary was a pupil of al-Sakhāwī's and that he was also connected with Spain is clear from the following words which occur at the end of his preface:

فاول ما اذكر روايتى فيها قراتها بالاندلسي [sic] بجزيرة شقر على الفقيه الامام الخطيب ابى عبد الله محمد بن محمد بن وضّاح اللُّخمى [sic] سنة اثنين وعشرين وستمائة وقراتها ايضًا على الشيخ الامام المقرى علم الدين السجاوندى [sic] رحمه الله بدمشق سنة ثمان وعشرين وستمائة كلاهما حدثنى بها عن المص

The third chapter (on the orthography of the Qur'ān) from al-Maḍbūṭ [fī bayān al-qirā'āt al-sab'] by Sharaf al-Dīn 'Uthmān [ibn Muḥammad] al-Ghaznawī. The authors of the Leyden Catalogue cannot be far wrong in placing this writer's floruit in the 8th century, since the first part of the Leyden MS. was written in 825, and in the book itself there are fairly frequent references to شارح القصيدة, by whom presumably 'Alam al-Dīn al-Sakhāwī (d. 643) is meant.

التيسير [فى القراءات السبع]

Al-Taisīr [fī 'l-qirā'āt al-sab'].

The well-known work on the variant readings of the "Seven Readers" of the Qur'ān by al-Dānī (d. 444/1053, see no. 1182).

For the sections into which it is divided see Ahlwardt 579.

Beginning:

الحمد لله المتفرد بالدوام والمتطول بالانعام... اما بعد فانكم سالتمونى الخ

Like the copy described by Rieu this manuscript contains at the end the chapter on the takbīr (ending فاعلم ذلك موفقا لطريق الحق ومنهاج الصواب)

In this copy it is followed by a section beginning (fol. 95*a*):

حرز الامانى و وجه التهانى

Ḥirz al-amānī wa-wajh al-tahānī.

The well-known metrical treatise of al-Shāṭibī (d. 590/1194, see no. 1183) on the views of the "Seven Readers" with regard to the variant readings of the Qur'ān.

The Ḥirz al-amānī, or, as it is commonly called (al-Qaṣīdaḥ) al-Shāṭibīyaḥ, is based, as the author himself states (l. 68), on the Taisīr (of al-Dānī, see no. 1187). For a list of the sections into which it is divided see Ahlwardt 594.

Beginning:

بَدَأْتُ بِبِسْمِ اللهِ فِى النَّظْمِ أَوَّلَا
تَبَارَكَ رَحْمَانًا رَّحِيْمًا وَّمَوْئِلَا

End:

Colophon:

وبر قها [sic] عبد الاله محمد
فيا رب اغفر بها متفضلا
ومن كان تاليها فذو المجد شافع
محمدن المبعوث الى الخلق يوم لا

These are followed by three more lines and then by the words:

ازين كتاب شاطوي نوشته است
فقير حقير عاجز تدبير فقير
دولت نشان فضيلت الرحمن سايهٔ ظل الله بدر جان شيخ محمد عنايت يفعل الله ما يشاء الايمان [?] عرف مطرب ويحكم ما يريد تمام شد كار من نظام شد ازين حافظ عبد السلام است اكر كسى دعوى بكند دروغى باشد

Then follow 27 lines in the same metre and with the same rhyme introduced by the words

قال الشيخ الفاضل ابو الحسن على ال[لسخاوى ?]

and subdivided under the headings

باب المد والقصر, باب هاء الكناية, باب الادغام الكبير, الهمزتان من كلمتين, باب الهمزتان من كلمة, النقل والسكت والوقف على همز, الهمز المفرد, الادغام الصغير

Most probably these verses, like the 13 beginning

قل الحمد لله الذى وحد [sic] علا
ومجده وأسيّل عونه وتوسلا

which are written on a leaf wrongly inserted between foll. 18 and 19, belong in spite of the introductory words to al-Durraḥ al-muḍī'aḥ by al-Jazarī (cf. Ahlwardt 662).

قال الشيخ الفاضل ابو الحسن على ا

Manuscripts are common. See, e.g., Ahlwardt 594–603, Bānkīpūr Handlist I 116–18, Cureton-Rieu 89, 90 I, Ellis-Edwards p. 2 (two copies), Loth 43 I, 44, Rieu 87 I, 88 I, Vollers 70, at least 18 of the Constantinople Catalogues etc.

شرح الشاطبية

Sharḥ al-Shāṭibīyaḥ.

An inaccurate copy, defective both at beginning and end, of a fairly large commentary on al-Shāṭibī's Ḥirz al-amānī (see no. 1190).

It begins with the commentary on verse 138 and breaks off before the conclusion of the comments on the fourth line from the end of the poem.

The author refers on fol. 1*a* to a certain Sirāj al-Millaḥ wa-'l-Dīn, qārī' al-sab'aḥ, as his teacher (استاذى وشيخى).

This commentary is not that of al-Sakhāwī (mentioned on fol. 184*a*) nor that of al-Fāsī (al-La'ālī' al-farīdaḥ, mentioned on foll. 141*b* and 165*b*), nor that of Shu'laḥ (Ahlwardt 604), nor that of Abū Shāmaḥ (Ahlwardt 607), nor that of Ibn al-Qāṣiḥ (printed Cairo, 1341), nor al-Nukat al-mufīdaḥ (Ahlwardt 605).

Beginning:

نشر القراءات العشر

Nashr al-qirā'āt al-'ashr.

A large work on the readings of the "Ten Readers[1]" by Ibn al-Jazarī (Shams al-Dīn Abū 'l-Khair Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad), who died in 833/1429, see al-Shaqā'iq al-Nu'mānīyaḥ I 39, Brockelmann II 201.

According to the author's colophon the work was begun early in Rabī I, 799/1396 at Brusa and completed at Mecca in Dhū 'l-Ḥijjah of the same year. It is usually called al-Nashr fī 'l-qirā'āt al-'ashr, as for example by Ḥājjī Khalīfah VI 13785, but the author in his colophon and in the preface to his own abridgment of it (see Ahlwardt 658) calls it Nashr al-qirā'āt al-'ashr, cf. his words on fol. 16*b*[21] of this manuscript:

فهو فى الحقيقة نشر العشر ومن زعم ان هذا العلم قد مات فقل له قد حيي بالنشر

For a list of the sections into which it is divided see Ahlwardt 657.

The

باب ذكر اسناد هذه القراءات العشر الخ

begins on fol. 16*b*. It deals firstly with the isnāds connecting Ibn al-Jazarī with the authors of a number of books (the Taisīr of al-Dānī etc.) which he has used, and secondly (fol. 26*b*) with the isnāds connecting the authors of these works with the "Ten."

The chapter on the مخارج الحروف begins on fol. 54*a*.

Beginning:

al-Mukarrar fī mā tawātar min al-qirā'āt al-sab' wa-taḥarrar.

A copy, defective at the beginning, of a treatise on the variant readings of the "Seven Readers" of the Qur'ān by al-Nashshār (Sirāj al-Dīn Abū Ḥafṣ 'Umar ibn Qāsim ibn Muḥammad al-Anṣārī al-Miṣrī, cf. Brockelmann II 115), whose precise date does not seem to be recorded but a terminus a quo is provided by the year 800/1397, the date of the completion of al-Jazarī's Nashr al-qirā'āt al-'ashr (see no. 1193 and Ahlwardt 657), which he

An autograph copy, lacking the first leaf, of a work on the text and pronunciation of the Qur'ān according to the tradition of Ḥamzaḥ ibn Ḥabīb al-Kūfī, one of the "Seven Readers," by Muḥammad al-Ḥāfiẓ al-'Umarī. The author states in his preface that he wrote the work for the Mamlūk Sulṭān Abū Sa'īd Muḥammad Jaqmaq (reigned 1438–53 A.D.) and in the colophon he gives the date of writing as 844/1440–1.

Mr A. G. Ellis has kindly supplied the information that in al-Sakhāwī's biographical dictionary, al-Ḍau' al-lāmi' (Vol. IV, fol. 433*a* of Mr Ellis's copy), there is a notice of a person who is presumably identical with the author and who is called Muḥammad (usually known as Ḥāfiẓ) ibn 'Alī ibn Nūr al-Dīn al-Ba'qūbī al-Qāhirī al-Muqri'. Born at Ba'qūbā he studied at Rūdhbār and Tabrīz, came to Cairo in the time of Jaqmaq and eventually became Shaikh of the Sulṭān's Qubbah near al-Marj. According to al-Sakhāwī he

اقرا فى القرات وكان يبالغ فى تعظيم نفسه فيها

He died in al-Muḥarram 896/1490. No works of his are mentioned by al-Sakhāwī.

The opening words of this copy are

وَلَو اجْتَمَعُوا لَا يَأْتُونَ بِآيَةٍ مِنْ مِثْلِه، بَلَغَ مِنَ الْبَلَاغَةِ الى نِهَايَةِ الْإِعْجَاز، ...وَبَعْدُ فَانّى بَيَّنْتُ مَذْهَبَ حَمْزَةَ ابْنِ حَبِيبٍ الزَّيَّاتِ الْكُوفِيِّ رَحِمَهُ اللّٰه فِى الْوَقْفِ عَلَى الْهَمْزَةِ وَاَنْوَاع تَخْفِيفَاتِهَا مِنْ رِوَايَةِ خَلَفٍ وخَلَّادٍ مِنْ طَرِيقِ ٱلتَّيْسِيْرِ وَٱلشَّاطِبِيَّةِ حَتَّى يَسْهُلَ عَلَى الْمُبْتَدئِينَ وَضَمَمْتُ اِلَيْهِ سَائِرَ الْإِخْتِلَافَاتِ وَابْتَدَاْتُ مِنْ بَابِ الْإِسْتِعَاذَةِ عَلَى طَرِيقِ تَرْتِيْبِ ٱلشَّاطِبِيَّةِ ... وَسَمَّيْتُهَا دُرَرَ [sic] المنثُورَات فى قراءة حمزةَ ابن حبيب الزَّيَات رَحمه الله الخ

The last words (from وَسَمَّيْتُهَا to رَحمه الله) are inserted between the lines apparently as an afterthought.

Colophon:

كَتَبَهُ مُؤَلِّفُه بيَدِه الْفَانِئة [sic] الفَقِيرُ الْحَقِيرُ الْمُسْتَغْفِرُ مِنْ ذَنْبِه الْمُفْتَقِرُ الَى رَحْمَةِ رَبِّه الْغَنِى مُحَمَّدٌ الْحَافِظ الْعُمَرِى عَفَا اللّٰهُ تَعَالى عَنْهُ وَعَنْ وَالديه وَلِمَنْ دَعَا لَهُ بِٱلرَّحْمَةِ فِى سَنَةِ اَرْبَعٍ وَاَرْبَعِينَ وَثَمانَمائه

Six leaves are missing between foll. 101 and 102. Fol. 38 will be found between foll. 49 and 51, fol. 39 between foll. 100 and 101, fol. 50 between 100 and 101, foll. 59 and 60 between 99 and 100.

النور الازهر فى الجمع الاكبر

al-Nūr al-azhar fī 'l-jam' al-akbar.

A work enumerating the permutations and combinations obtainable by reading certain passages of the Qur'ān in all the permissible ways.

The author, who does not mention his name, refers in the preface to another work of his entitled الجامع العلمى.

The term الجمع الاكبر is defined on fol. 2*a* as follows:

اعلم ان الجمع الاكبر عبارة عن اعتبار جميع الوجوه الآتيه قياسا صحيحا بضرب بعضها فى البعض سواء كانت متماثلة كالصلات المتوالية والمدات المتتابعة والسكتات المترادفة او مختلفة كالصلة مع المد او مختلطة كالصلات المتعددة والمدّات المتكررة ثم ضرب جميعها فى وجوه الوقف وهى السكون والروم والاشمام ثم ان كان آخر الكلمة الموقوف عليها ساكنا قبل الوقف كهاء السكت ونحوها ففيه وجه واحد وهو السكون المحض الخ

Beginning:

الله مقصود وجوه الجمع الاكبر من الاولياء الكبار... فالحمد لله على ما الهمنا من كشف الاسرار [sic] عن وجوه غوامض الاسرار... وبعد فقد التمس منى بعض الاعزة من حملة كلام رب العزة ان اشرح لهم وجوه الجمع الاكبر وابيّن طريقة الاداء بحيث لا يختلط وجوه بوجه... فاستخرت الله عز وجل وشرعت فيه منتخبا من الجامع العلمي مقتصرا على ذكر الايات التى فيه [sic] وجوه الاكبر خاصة وعلى ذكر القاري الذى هى له دون غيره اكتفاء بما استقصيت فى الجامع ... وسميته النور الازهر الخ

The actual treatment of the subject begins on fol. 3*a* as follows:

اذا تقرر هذا فنقول فى قوله عز اسمه اهدنا الصراط المستقيم صراط الذين انعمت عليهم غير المغضوب

عليهم ولا الضالين ⊙ بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الم ذلك الكتاب لا ريب فيه لقالون مائتان وست وخمسون وجها اقرأ اولا بالصلة موضعين مع القصر فى ولا الضالين والرحيم مع اربعة اوجه فى فيه ثم مع القصر فى ولا الضالين والوسط فى الرحيم معها ٨ ثم مع القصر فى ولا الضالين والطول فى الرحيم معها ١٢ الخ

هدية البررة لتكميل العشرة

Hadīyaḥ al-bararaḥ li-takmīl al-'asharaḥ.

A work on the readings of the Three Readers Abū Ja'far, Ya'qūb and Khalaf by Imām al-Qāri'.

The author states in the preface that this work was written by him to serve as an abridgment of his earlier metrical treatise al-Qaṣīdaḥ al-lāmīyaḥ al-Imāmīyaḥ al-gharrā' fī qirā'aḥ al-thalāthaḥ al-qurrā'.

He takes the version of 'Āṣim as the standard and mentions only those readings of the three which differ from his.

The work is divided into the following sections:

Fol. 83*a*.	باب اسماء القراء الثلاثة ورواتهم
Fol. 83*b*.	باب الاستعاذة والبسملة
Fol. 84*a*.	سورة ام القران
Fol. 84*a*.	باب الادغام الكبير
Fol. 84*b*.	باب هاء الكناية
Fol. 85*a*.	باب المد والقصر
Fol. 85*a*.	باب الهمزتين من كلمة
Fol. 85*b*.	باب الهمزتين من كلمتين
Fol. 85*b*.	باب الهمز المفرد
Fol. 86*a*.	باب نقل الحركة الى الساكن قبل الهمز
Fol. 86*a*.	باب السكت قبل الهمز
Fol. 86*a*.	باب الادغام الصغير
Fol. 86*a*.	باب حروف قربت مخارجها
Fol. 86*b*.	باب الامالة والفتح
Fol. 86*b*.	باب هاء التانيث
Fol. 87*a*.	باب ياءات الاضافة
Fol. 87*b*.	باب ياءات الزوايد
Fol. 88*a*.	باب فرش الحروف

A copy, apparently defective at the beginning, of a work showing in tabular form the ways in which the different Readers, who are indicated by abbreviations, read various passages in the Qur'ān.

The first two words treated on fol. 41*a* are هؤلاء (Sūrah II 29?) and انذرتهم (II 5) after which the sūrahs are taken in order from the first to the 112th, which is the last dealt with.

The following will serve as a specimen:

ءآنذرتهم	ءانذرتهم	ءانّذرتهم
المدّ مع التسهيل	بالتسهيل	بالابدال
ب ح ل ث	د ج غ	ج
ءانذرتهم	ءانذرتهم

عمدة المفيد وعدة المجيد

'Umdaḥ al-mufīd wa-'uddaḥ al-mujīd.

A short metrical treatise on the pronunciation of the Qur'ān by 'Alam al-Dīn al-Sakhāwī (Abū 'l-Ḥasan 'Alī ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Ṣamad) who was a pupil of al-Shāṭibī (see no. 1183) and who died at Damascus in 643/1245, see Ibn Khallikān, no. 467, al-Isnawī (Loth 709), fol. 80*b*, etc.

The title as given above is from Ḥājjī Khalīfah IV 8357. In the colophon to this manuscript it is called simply 'Umdaḥ al-mufīd. It is often referred to as (al-Qaṣīdaḥ) al-Nūnīyaḥ.

(6) Foll. 26*b*–30.

منعقد البيان فى مد الآن

Mun'aqid al-bayān fī madd al-ān.

A commentary on a metrical riddle composed at Mecca in 1108 to which the answer is الآن الاستفهامية.

Beginning:

حمدًا لمن اولاه بفضله وافتتح به كتابه ... اما بعد فيقول ... عبد الخالق ... المنوفى ... انى قد نظمت سوالا ملغزا به فى الان الاستفهامية الخ

The riddle begins

بحمد الهى البد[ء] فى السر والجهر

Colophon:

تم كتاب منقد [sic] البيان الخ

(7) Foll. 31–37.

Another work on the pronunciation of الآن, completed at Mecca on 18 Rabī' II, 1107.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى منح من وجه وجهه اليه مخلصا عظيم الاحسان ... اما بعد فيقول ... عبد الخالق ...

المنوفى ... انى لما تصفحت عبارات اهل الاداء الاعيان ● فى تقرير تحرير توجيهات اوجه الازرق فى مد الان ● ووجدتها قد تصادمت تصادمًا عز الى منعه الامكان ● شمرت عن ساق الجد فجعلت لها من التحقيق منعقد البيان الخ

رسالة تتعلق بالتجويد

Risālaḥ tata'allaq bi-'l-tajwīd.

A short work on tajwīd, apparently the same as Ahlwardt 539 (cf. 538 and 540) and van Ronkel 40–44.

The sections open as follows (after the word فَصْلٌ in red ink):

109*b* فى الاظهار, ibid. فى الاخفاء, 110*a* فى الاقلاب, ibid. فى الادْغام مع 110*b* اذا لقيت الميم الساكنة باءً, ibid. الغنّة فى لادغام [sic] فى الادغام بلا غنة, 111*a* فى تفخيم الراء 111*b*, فى ادغام المتقاربين, ibid. مثلين والّامّ [sic] ترقّق فى الجميع الخ, ibid. وترقيقها وتفخم, ibid. فى حروف الفلقة [sic] هاء الضمير, 112*b* فى المدّ حروف لاستعلاء [sic], 113*a*

A short anonymous work on tajwīd divided into the same sections as no. 1204 with which it is practically identical.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين اما بعد فهذه الرسالة يتعلق بالتجويد فصل فى الاظهار اعلم الخ

End:

وحرف اللين والواو الساكنة المفتوح ما قبلها والياء الساكنة المفتوح ما قبلها مثل خوف وبيت والموت وشيء فى الوقف واعلم ان هذه الرساله القواعد التى ذكرناها فى هذه الرسالة متفق عليها بين القراء ثم تمت

انيس الاصحاب وتوضيح الاحزاب

Anīs al-aṣḥāb wa-tauḍīḥ al-aḥzāb.

A defective copy of a metrical list of the 120 aḥzāb in the Qur'ān by Imām al-Qāri' (see no. 1198). The aḥzāb are indicated by their opening words.

Beginning:

فِيْ صَدْرِ نَظْمِى بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ قَدْ صدرا

وَالْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ جَرَى

4332.—Foll. 380; $7 \times 4\frac{9}{10}$ in.; ll. 7; good naskhī, rather incorrectly vocalised for the most part in red, presumably by the hand which inserted the Persian translation, fol. 1 supplied in a poor nasta'līq hand; headings of chapters, the words قوله تعالى etc. in red; on fol. 2*a* there is an ornate gold ruled border, which has been partly cut away; some marginal corrections and variants; slightly worm-eaten and much water-stained; 16th century. [DELHI 333]

الدر النظيم فى فضائل القرآن العظيم

al-Durr al-naẓīm fī faḍā'il al-Qur'ān al-'aẓīm.

A work on the magical virtues of the Qur'ān and the use of various passages in it as charms, based mainly on Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad al-Ghassānī al-Wādiyāshī's al-Barq al-lāmi' wa'l-ghaith al-hāmi' (Ḥ. Kh. II 1782), and a work by al-Ghazālī on the virtues (khawāṣṣ) of the Qur'ānic verses and of the cryptic letters at the beginning of certain sūrahs.

According to Ḥājjī Khalīfah III 4902 the author of al-Durr al-naẓīm is Ibn al-Khashshāb al-Yamanī (Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn 'Ubaid Allāh (ibn?) Suhail al-Jauzī, cf. Brockelmann I 414), who was no doubt, as Ahlwardt says, "wol um 650/1252 am Leben," since on fol. 140*a* of this manuscript he says that he heard Muḥibb al-Dīn al-Ṭabarī (who was born in 610/1213–4 according to al-Subkī, but in 615/1218–9 according to the Tadhkirah al-Ḥuffāẓ, and who died, according to the latter, in 694/1295, cf. Brockelmann I 361) make a certain statement.

It is said by Ḥājji Khalīfah that an epitome of Ibn al-Khashshāb's work, about half the size of the original, was made by al-Yāfi'ī ('Afīf al-Dīn 'Abd Allāh ibn As'ad, who was born, according to al-Durar al-kāminah, two or three years before 700/1300–1 and who died in 768/1367[1] according to the same authority and al-Isnawī, Ṭabaqāt (Loth 709) fol. 155*a*[3]), and in the copyists' colophons of some manuscripts bearing the title al-Durr al-naẓīm, as for example in the colophon of no. 1210 below, al-Yāfi'ī is said to be the author. The same ascription is to be found in the editions ((1) 1880? cf. Ellis I 11,

[1] Other dates are given by other authorities. Cf. Brockelmann II 176.

(2) 1315 cf. Brockelmann II 177) published in Cairo.

In the absence of more detailed information concerning the distinguishing features of al-Yāfi'ī's epitome it must remain doubtful whether a particular copy bearing the title al-Durr al-naẓīm is the epitome or the original. It may however be said that there seems to be nothing either in this manuscript or in no. 1210 which would suggest that they are copies of an epitome.

For the sections into which the work is divided see Ahlwardt 452.

The text is in this copy accompanied by an interlinear Persian translation.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اَطْلَع من افاق كتابه العزيز نيّرتُا [sic] اوضاح الغُرر ... وبعد فان اللّه سبحانه جعل كتابه العزيز الاذواء [sic, in later hand, the older writing] شفآءً ... فَرَاَيْتُ اَنْ اَجْمَعَ فِى هَذَا الكِتَابِ بَيْنَ كِتَابِ الْبَرْقِ اللَّامِعِ وَالْغَيْثِ الْهَامِعِ تاليف الْقَاضِى اَبِى بَكْرِ [sic] الْغَسَّانِى وَبَيْنَ كِتَابٍ فيه خَوَاصُّ آيَاتٍ مِنَ الْقُرْآنِ وَفَوَاتِحُ [sic] مِنَ السُّوَرِ لِلْاِمَامِ اَبِى حَامِدٍ حُجَّةِ الْاِسْلَامِ الْغَزَالِيِّ وَسَمَّيْتُهُ بالدر النظيم فِى فَضَائِلِ الْقُرْآنِ الْعَظِيمِ وَالآيَاتِ والذِكْرِ الحكيم الخ [having been effaced]

End:

Colophon:

تم الكِتابُ المُسَمَّى بِالدُّرِّ النَّظِيمِ فِى فَضَائِلِ الْقُرْآنِ الْعَظِيمِ وَالْكِتَابِ الْقَدِيمِ

For other manuscripts (of the original or the epitome) see Ahlwardt 452–5, Bānkīpūr Handlist 289, Būhār 11, Cairo II 193 (2 copies), Casiri 1329 I, Cataloghi p. 430, de Slane 643, Gotha 545, 121 (extract), Leyden 2195 (8 pages only), and at least 9 of the Constantinople catalogues.

For editions see Cairo I 193 (1282/1865–6), Ellis II 140 (Cairo 1880?), Brockelmann II 177 (Cairo 1315).

There are small lacunae after foll. 2 (corresponding to fol. $2a^9$–$5a$ ult. of no. 1210), 12 (= ibid. $11a^1$–$11b^3$) and 16 (= ibid. $13b^5$–$14a^5$).

[1] It will be observed that this conclusion is quite different from that given by Ahlwardt.

4333.—Foll. 215; 8½×6 in.; ll. 11; clear, partly vocalised, naskhī; rubrications; some marginal corrections; worm-eaten and slightly water-stained; more than half of fol. 151 torn away and several other leaves considerably damaged; seal of Muḥammad 'Ādil-Shāh on fol. 1*a*; Bijapur Library, 13 Rabī' I, 1045; dated Wednesday 22 Sha'bān 1032/1623. 3793 a.—Foll. 1–36; 8⅔ × 6 in.; ll. 22–3; clear, but inelegant, unvocalised naskhī; rubrications; margins water-stained; copyist, Ibrāhīm al-Dalajūtī; dated Wednesday, 17th Sha'bān 1144/1732. [Purchased 13 July 1909]

al-Ikhtiṣāṣ min al-fawā'id al-Qur'ānīyaḥ wa-'l-khawāṣṣ.

A work by al-Shādhilī (Abū 'l-Ḥasan 'Alī ibn 'Abd Allāh, died in 654/1256 acc. to Nafaḥāt al-uns, p. 663[10], in 654 or 656/1258 according to Safīnaḥ al-auliyā' 180[16], cf. Brockelmann I 449) on the potency of the words حسبنا الله ونعم الوكيل (Sūrah III 167) as a charm and on the various methods of using them for different purposes both by themselves and in conjunction with other charms.

The work is divided into the following five chapters:

Fol. 2*a*. الباب الاول من خواص هذه الاية الشريفة

الباب الثانى فى جملة من خواص خواق [sic] بوارق

Fol. 5*a*. هذه الاية

الباب الثالث فى كيفية التريض بهذه الاية الشريفة

Fol. 8*a*.

Fol. 12*a*. الباب الرابع فى بعض خواص هذه الاية

الباب الخامس فى نبذة من خواص خوارق بوارق خواص

هذه الاية الشريفة فى المسار والمضار وما تحت

Fol. 13*a* ult. كل عدد من الاسرار

It contains a number of diagrams of magic squares.

Beginning:

قال شيخنا واستاذنا الشيخ الامام العالم... سيدي ابي [sic] الحسن الشاذلي فى كتابه الاختصاص من الفوايد القرانية والخواص بعد حمد الله سبحانه وتعالى والصلاة والسلام على رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم وشرف وكرم القايل صلى الله عليه وسلم اذا وقعتم فى الامر العظيم فقولوا حسبنا الله ونعم الوكيل قد روي عبد الله بن بريرة الخ

The following words, which occur on fol. 32*a*, are evidently the end of the work:

وساير ما جمعته فى هذا المسلك اخذته من اسفار الانبيا وتلقيته عن انفاس الاوليا ووضعته من صحف الاصفيا وسجلته من سجلات الاوصيا واستخرجته من كنوز الفضلا وحللته من رموز الحكماء واخترعته من ابكار الافكار والتقطته من اسرار الابرار واعلم ان لكل قوم نقال ولكل فن رجال وهيهات ان ذوي الزنبور يغنى عن نغم الطنبور وتلك الامثال نضربها للناس وما يعقلها الا العالمون وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد وعلى اله وصحبه وسلم تسليما كثيرا دايما الى يوم الدين امين

These words are followed, in the next line, by a section on al-Shādhilī beginning:

وكان سيدي قدس الله سره كثير الشان

His full name is given as follows:

تقى الدين ابو الحسن على بن عبد الله بن عبد الجبار بن تميم بن هرمز بن حاتم بن قصى بن يوسف بن يوشع بن ورد بن بطال بن احمد بن محمد بن عيسى بن محمد بن الحسن بن على بن ابى طالب القارى الشاذلى وقوله الشاذلى بكسر الذال المعجمه وهو نسبة لبلد بالقرب من تونس

Here follow some anecdotes.

The Ḥizb al-baḥr is given on fol. 314*a*[19]. This is followed by some more charms (spaces for diagrams have been left blank on foll. 35*b* and 36*a*) and lastly by the دعاء السيدة نفيسة (begins اللهمّ انىّ اسيلك يا كافى كل مخيف).

In this appendix to al-Shādhilī's work al-Yāfi'ī is quoted more than once.

Colophon:

تمت هذه النسخة الشريفة بحمد الله وعونه وحسن توفيقه فى اليوم المبارك يوم الاربعا سابع عشر شعبان من شهور سنة ١١٤٠ الف ومايه واربع واربعين على يد الفقير ابراهيم الدلجوتى عفى عنه امين

K. INDEXES.

4334.—Foll. 226; $10\frac{3}{5} \times 6\frac{9}{10}$ in.; ll. 15; clear nasta'līq in two different hands, the second (from fol. 137 to end) more cursive than the first; rubrications; worm-eaten; copyist of foll. 137–226, Abū Muḥammad al-Dihlāwī; 18th century. [DELHI 83]

الجداول النورانية فى استخراج الآيات القرآنية

al-Jadāwil al-nūrānīyaḥ fī 'stikhrāj al-āyāt al-Qur'ānīyaḥ.

An index to the verses of the Qur'ān composed by Nāṣir ibn Ḥusain al-Ḥasanī al-Ḥusainī al-Najafī and dedicated to the Emperor Aurangzēb (reigned A.H. 1069/1659–1119/1707).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى افاض جداول برّه واحسانه ووفقنا للاهتداء بآيات ملكوته وسلطانه ... اما بعد فيقول العبد الخ

The arrangement of the index will be clear from the following specimen:

الاية	السورة	الركوع
اذ اوى الفتية الى الكهف	الكهف	الثالث عشر

الجزء	ربع الجزء
الخامس عشر	اواسط الثالث

The author states in his preface that he compiled also an index to the ends of the verses, but this is not included in this manuscript.

For another copy see Nūr i 'Uthmānīyah 482.

4335.—Foll. 178; $9\frac{1}{5} \times 6\frac{1}{10}$ in.; ll. 13; fairly clear Indian nasta'līq; rubrications; considerably worm-eaten and water-stained in parts; 18th century. [DELHI 81]

تيسير البيان فى تخريج آيات القرآن

Taisīr al-bayān fī takhrīj āyāt al-Qur'ān.

An index to the verses of the Qur'ān compiled by Aḥmad, called Khān Dāwud.

The index is divided into two parts, the first (foll. 9–91) relating to the beginnings of the verses, the second (foll. 92–end) to their ends. Prefixed to it is a list of the opening words of the rukū'āt. The references in the index are to the ajzā' and rukū'āt, which are indicated by means of the abjad notation, e.g.

باب الالف مع الالف التاء ءاتخذ كج الذال اءذا كنا عظاما ل ج that is to say, the verse beginning with أَأَتَّخِذُ (Sūrah XXXVI 22) occurs in juz' XX (ك), rukū' 3 (ج) and that beginning with أَئِذَا كُنَّا عِظَامًا (Sūrah LXXIX 11) in juz' XXX (ل), rukū' 3 (ج).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى انزل القرآن حجه باهرة ... وبعد فيقول المفتقر الى الصمد المعبود احمد المعروف بخان داود لما رايت الآىَ الموردة للاشهاد والامثال فى كتب المصنفين اكثر من ان تحصى والافتقار الى استظهار معانيها واستفسار مضموناتها من التفاسير اشد واقوى وانه موقوف على معرفة مواضعها من القرآن بخصوصها الخ

4336.—Foll. 278; $11\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{7}{10}$ in.; ll. 23; clear, but unbeautiful, nasta'līq; slightly worm-eaten; dated, 16 Jumādā II, 1242 [1827]. [DELHI 1]

الاتقان فى علوم القرآن

Al-Itqān fī 'ulūm al-Qur'ān.

The well-known introduction to Qur'ānic studies by al-Suyūṭī ('Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakr Jalāl al-Dīn, d. 911/1505).

Beginning:

يقول الفقير الى الله تعالى عبد الرحمن بن ابى بكر السيوطى الشافعى عفا الله عنه الحمد لله الذى انزل على عبده الكتاب تبصرة لاولى الالباب الخ

On the last few pages there are gaps which suggest that the MS. from which this MS. was copied had been damaged at the end.

23 leaves (corresponding to pp. 104, 4*a* f.–185[17] in the Bibliotheca Indica edition) are missing between those now numbered 32 and 33.

Foll. 241–2 have been inserted to supply an omission (corresponding to pp. 844[9]–8[13] in the Bibl. Ind. ed.) made by the copyist at fol. 243[16].

4337.—Foll. 395; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{5}$ in.; ll. 22; clear naskhī; rubrications; many pages much discoloured and more or less damaged by being separated after being stuck together; worm-eaten; late 18th century. [DELHI 2]

Al-Itqān fī 'ulūm al-Qur'ān.

An incorrectly written copy of the same work.

The first two leaves are devoted to a table of contents.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام العالم العلامة الحبر البحر الفهامة المحقق المدقق الحجة الحافظ المجتهد شيخ الاسلام والمسلمين .. الحمد لله الذى انزل على عبده الكتاب الخ

1216

4338.—Foll. 49*a*–61*a*; $8\frac{7}{10} \times 5\frac{2}{5}$ in.; ll. 25; clear, but inelegant, naskhī; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1870]

القسم الالهى بالاسم الربانى

al-Qasam al-ilāhī bi 'l-ism al-rabbānī.

A discussion by the celebrated Ibn 'Arabī (Muḥammad ibn 'Alī, who died in 638/1240, see Encyclopaedia of Islām sub Ibn (al-) 'Arabī, Brockelmann I 441) of the significance of God's swearing by himself (in the form وَرَبِّكَ etc.) in five passages of the Qur'ān, viz. Sūrahs IV 68, XV 92, XIX 69, LI 23, LXX 40.

The work is divided into five chapters (for the headings of which see Ahlwardt 2954) corresponding to these five passages. These chapters are preceded by some remarks in unnumbered fuṣūl on the names of God, and are followed (fol. 60*b*) by five short fuṣūl in euphuistic rhymed prose corresponding to the five chapters and apparently intended to sum up their Ṣūfistic significance.

The title occurs on fol. 49*b*[6].

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام العالم الصدر الكامل ... محيي الدين ... ابو عبد الله محمد بن على بن محمد ابن العربى ... الحمد لله رب العالمين والعاقبة ... اما بعد فان الله جل اسمه اقسم فى كتابه العزيز على امور كثيرة فى مواضع شتى بانواع من المخلوقات الخ

End:

لارتباط الموجودات بالحق تم الكتاب بحمد الله ومنه

For another copy see Ahlwardt 2954.

1217

4339.—Foll. 72–88; $8\frac{1}{5} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 11; clear large naskhī; rubrications; slightly water-stained; early 19th century. [DELHI 348]

A work ascribed to al-Suyuṭī ('Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakr, died 911/1505) on the meaning of the tradition that the Qur'ān was revealed in seven aḥruf

(نزل القران على سبعة احرف),

a tradition which, the author says, has been explained in forty different ways.

Beginning:

قال العلامة السيوطى [sic] ورد حديث نزل القران على سبعة احرُف من رواية جمع من الصحابة ابيّ بن كعب الخ

End:

ويعرق حتى يتحدر منه مثل الجمان والله اعلم بالصواب واليه المرجع الخ

Foll. 57; $11\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; inelegant but legible nasta'līq; worm-eaten; margins repaired; marginal notes as far as fol. 35*b*, extracted from the commentary of Ṣadr al-Dīn al-Qōnawī (d. 729/1329); 18th century. [DELHI 1747]

التعرّف لمذهب اهل التصوّف

al-Ta'arruf li-madhhab ahl al-taṣauwuf.

A fairly good copy of the celebrated Ṣūfī treatise of Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq al-Kalābādhī. Of this author little is known, and various dates are given for his death. Ḥ. Kh. in his notice of the present work (II 3083) assigns his death to the year 380/990, and this is the date generally accepted: Ahlwardt, however, gives the date 390/1000, without quoting his authority. On the front fly-leaf of the present copy the following note has been added by the copyist:

كتاب التعرف للامام المام [sic] قطب الاولياء العظام الشيخ العالم...ابو بكر محمد بن ابي [sic] اسحق...الكلاباذى البخارى قدس سره العزيز وله تصانيف آخر ككتاب معانى الاخبار وغيره مات سنة ثمانين وثلثمائة وقيل اربع او خمس وثمانين وثلثمائة ومرقده ببخارى [sic] مشهور ومعروف يزار ويبرك

Another note in the same hand reads:

قال الشيخ شهاب الملة والدين السهروردى...لولا التعرف لما عرفنا التصوف with which may be compared Ḥ. Kh.'s words (loc. cit.):

وقالوا فيه لولا التعرف لما عرف التصوف

Beginning:

الحمد لله المحتجب بكبريائه عن درك العيون المتعزز بجلاله وجبروته عن لواحق الظنون الخ

In this copy the usual chapter-headings have been omitted. The marginal notes, extracted from the commentary of al-Qōnawī and in the copyist's own hand, are fairly copious to fol. 32*a*; foll. 22, 23, 29, 31, and 35 are occupied entirely with notes, while additional leaves with notes are inserted between foll. 6 and 7, and 7 and 8. There are a few marginal and interlinear Persian glosses in a later hand. The date given in the colophon is not the date of this copy, but of its original.

End:

قال جنيد الرحمة تنزل على الفقير في ثلثة مواضع عند الاكل فانه لا ياكل الا عند الحاجة وعند الكلام فانه لا يتكلم الا للضرورة وعند السماع فانه لا يسمع الا عن وجد

Colophon:

'Abd al-Ḥaqq al-Dihlawī, from whose autograph this copy was made, was born in 958/1551, entered the Qādirī order in 985/1577, and went to the Hejaz in 996/1588, where he remained for some years: he died at Delhi in 1052/1642. (See Rieu, Catalogue of the Persian Manuscripts in the British Museum 14.)

Copies of this work are comparatively common. See Ahlwardt 3027 (extracts from al-Qōnawī's commentary compiled by 'Alī ibn Aḥmad al-Manūfī, d. 880/1457), Flügel 1888 (with commentary of al-Qōnawī), Nicoll-Pusey 253 (with commentary of Shihāb al-Dīn al-Suhrawardī), etc. For a short extract (containing part of the preface only) see Loth 657[6]. The text of al-Kalābādhī was printed at Cairo in 1933–4, and a translation, by A. J. Arberry, at Cambridge in 1935.

الرسالة القشيرية

al-Risālaḥ al-Qushairīyaḥ.

A very old copy of the well-known textbook of Ṣūfism by Abū 'l-Qāsim 'Abd al-Karīm ibn Hawāzin al-Qushairī, who died in 465/1074 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab III 319). This copy is unfortunately imperfect, the first 11 folios being missing, while extensive damage and the loss of many folios throughout the volume have been repaired by a very late hand. The work is fully described in many places (cf. Ahlwardt III 8–9): but in view of the remarkable antiquity of this copy a detailed analysis is given. Fol. 12*a* (the first in this copy) is much damaged and effaced, but begins towards the end of the section on Abū Sulaimān al-Ṭā'ī (printed on p. 16 of the Cairo edition of 1284/1867). In this account the Arabic foliation is given.

In the author's colophon the copyist has substituted for the date of the completion of the work (i.e. 438/1046) the date of his copy: this error is corrected in the margin.

End:

فهذه وصيتنا الى المريدين نسّل [sic] الله الكريم لهم التوفيق وان لا يجعلها وبالا علينا وقد نجز لنا املاء هذه الرسالة فى السادس والعشرين ربيع ثانى سنة ست وثمانين وخمس ماية هجرة النبى صلى الله عليه وسلم نسل الله ان لا يجعلها حجة علينا ووبالا...والحمد لله وحده الخ

منازل السائرين

Manāzil al-sā'irīn.

A late and carelessly written copy of the well-known manual of the Ṣūfī discipline written by Abū Ismā'īl 'Abd Allāh Ibn Muḥammad al-Anṣārī al-Harawī (d. 481/1088, see Shadharāt al-dhahab III 365, Encyclopaedia of Islām I 358).

Beginning:

الحمد اله الواحد الاحد...اوبَعْدُ فانَّ جَمَاعَةً من الرَّاغبين في الوقوف على منازل السائرين الى الحق عز اسمه من الفقراء من اهل هراة والغرباء طال على مسالتهم اياى زمانا ان ابين لهم الخ

The colophon states that this copy was written at Delhi in the month Dhū 'l-Ḥijjah (no year given) by Jalāl al-Dīn al-Mashra'ī al-Jabartī al-Qādirī. There follow the following brief extracts:

1. Fol. 95*a*. A summary of the contents of منازل السائرين in Arabic.
2. Foll. 95*b*–96*b*. A note on al-Anṣārī in Persian.
3. Foll. 97–100. Extracts from الرسالة القدسية of Zain al-Dīn 'Alī al-Khawāfī (perhaps to be identified with رسالة الوصايا القدسية of Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad Zain al-Dīn al-Khawāfī, who died 838/1435: see Brockelmann II 206).
4. Fol. 101. Extracts from various Arabic works.

For other copies see Ahlwardt 2826–7, Bankipore 831–2, Cureton-Rieu 763, Loth 599, etc.

For commentaries by al-Qāshānī and others see Brockelmann I 433, Ritter in Der Islam XXIX 90–3. The text was printed at Cairo in 1327/1909, and the commentary of al-Qāshānī was printed at Cairo in 1315/1897 and lithographed at Teheran in the same year.

شرح منازل السائرين

Sharḥ Manāzil al-sā'irīn.

A fairly accurate copy, slightly defective at beginning and end, of a commentary on منازل السائرين. In this copy the text of al-Anṣārī is written for the most part in red ink, and the work is as usual divided into 100 chapters. Apparently one leaf is missing at the beginning and one at the end.

Beginning:

رذى بال (?) من كل ناطق فلا جرم قال الشيخ رضى الله عنه فى اول كتابه هذا الحمدُ للّٰه الله هو اسم الذات العلية الشريفة لا باعتبار صفة فيها عند الاكثر الخ

The commentary is about as full as that of 'Abd al-Razzāq al-Qāshānī (see Loth 600), but is not the same, nor is it identical with that of 'Afīf al-Dīn al-Tilimsānī (see Ahlwardt 2828). Owing to the deficiencies in this copy it is not possible to identify this commentary with any of those noted in Ritter's list (see No. 1222). Our commentator quotes freely from his own verses in illustration, as at fol. 58*b* and fol. 91*b*.

End:

قوله ونعتُ مَن ينعته لاحِدٌ اى مشرك وسبب كونه مشركا انه اسند الي نزاهة الحق ما لا يليق به اسناده فان حضرة ازليته تابي نطق الحدث والله من ورائهم محيط ثم شرح بعض مقاصد الشيخ ابي اسمعيل عبد الله ابن [sic]

Foll. 101–112; 11¼×6¾ in.; ll. 21; fairly clear nasta'līq; slightly worm-eaten; dated at Shāhjahānābād, 26 Jumādā I 1153/1740. [DELHI 719]

بداية الهداية

Bidāyaḥ al-hidāyaḥ.

A well-known work on the duties of a Muslim by Abū Ḥāmid Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad al-Ghazālī, who died in 505/1111 (see Nafaḥāt al-uns 422; Encyclopaedia of Islām II 146–9).

Beginning:

الحمد لله حق حمده...اعلم ايّها الحريص على اقتباس العلم الخ

End:

ثم يفوقك به الملك العظيم المقيم والنعيم الدايم فى جوار رب العالمين فصلى الله على سيدنا الخ

For other copies see Ahlwardt 3263–4, Bankipore 850 (with commentary by al-Fākihī, d. 982/1574), etc. For editions see Sarkīs 1411: another was published at the Karīmī Press, Bombay, in 1326/1908. ربع العادات من كتاب احياء علوم الدين

Rub' al-'ādāt min kitāb Iḥyā' 'ulūm al-dīn

A late copy of the second ربع of the well-known compendium of Ṣūfī theology and ethics, احياء علوم الدين, by the same Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī. This copy contains all ten "books" of this ربع as follows:

Fol. 1*b*	كتاب الاكل وادابه
Fol. 16*b*	كتاب النكاح
Fol. 47*b*	كتاب اداب الكسب والمعاش
Fol. 71*b*	كتاب الحلال والحرام
Fol. 124*b*	كتاب الصحبة والاخوة والمعاشرة
Fol. 175*b*	كتاب العزلة
Fol. 197*a*	كتاب اداب السفر
Fol. 218*a*	كتاب اداب السماع
Fol. 254*a*	كتاب الامر بالمعروف والنهى عن المنكر
Fol. 303*a*	كتاب اطلاق [sic] النبوة واداب المعيشه

The last section is not complete, some folios having been lost at the end.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى احسن تدبير الكاينات فخلق الارض والسموات الخ

End:

Rub' al-'ādāt.

An elegant copy of the third "book" of the same ربع.

1229

Foll. 62; $8\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; elegant naskhī, fully vocalised throughout; rubrications; illuminated 'unwān on fol. 1*b*; margins ruled in gilt and black; some marginal notes; terribly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1750]

Rub' al-'ādāt.

A copy of the ninth "book" of the same ربع, by the same hand as the preceding number.

1230

Foll. 99; 11 × 7 in.; ll. 25; clear nasta'līq; worm-eaten; lacuna after fol. 10; 18th century. [DELHI 1767]

Rub' al-'ādāt.

A copy of "books" 3–6 of the second ربع (ending on fol. 81*b*), followed by "books" 3–4 of the first ربع, viz. كتاب اسرار الطهارة and كتاب اسرار الصلوة, the latter being incomplete.

1231

Foll. 125; $7\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 12; clear naskhī; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1798]

ربع المهلكات

Rub' al-muhlikāt.

An incomplete copy, lacking probably one folio at the beginning, of the first "book", viz. كتاب شرح عجائب القلب of the third ربع (ending on fol. 102*b*), followed by the fourth chapter of the second ربع, lacking some folios at the end, of احياء علوم الدين.

Beginning:

وفخره فى الاخرة عدته وذخره وانّما استعد للمعرفة الخ

End:

ثمانين من اربعة آمْداد شعير وعناق وهو من اولاد المعز دون العتود

1232

Foll. 279; 8 × 5 in.; ll. 14; large, clear naskhī; rubrications; some folios damaged, especially towards the end; copyist, Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad ibn Farīdūn; 18th century. [DELHI 1768]

Rub' al-muhlikāt.

A copy of "books" 8–10 of the third ربع, as follows:

Fol. 1*b*	كتاب ذم الرياء وحب الجاه [sic]
Fol. 122*a*	كتاب ذم الكبر والعجب
Fol. 202*b*	كتاب ذم الغرور

1233

Foll. 279; $8 \times 4\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 15; large, clear naskhī; rubrications; some margins damaged; 18th century. [DELHI 1765]

ربع المنجيات

Rub' al-munjiyāt.

A clear copy of "books" 3–5 of the fourth ربع of al-Ghazālī's احياء علوم الدين, as follows:

Fol. 1*b*	كتاب الرجاء والخوف
Fol. 86*b*	كتاب الفقر والزهد
Fol. 179*b*	كتاب التوحيد والتوكل

1234

Foll. 89; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 15; elegant naskhī, fully vocalised throughout; rubrications; marginal notes; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1766]

An elegant copy of the third "book" of the fourth ربع.

Foll. 51; 9 × 5⅝ in.; ll. 18; neat naskhī; rubrications; considerably worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 1770]

الإملاء على كشف الإحياء

al-Imlā' 'alā kashf al-Iḥyā'.

A fairly accurate copy of al-Ghazālī's notes in amplification of certain questions discussed by him in his well-known احياء علوم الدين فى. The title is given thus (fol. 1*a*):

كتاب الاملا علي كشف الاحيا تاليف الشيخ... الغزالي الطوسي رحمه الله تعالي

The following passage is added:

الاجوبة من كشف بعض ما وقع في الاملاء الملقب بالاحيا وذكر الشيخ...القونوي في شرحه على التعرف ان اسم هذا الكتاب الاملا علي الاحيا ولفظه وجعل الامام الغزالي في كتاب الاملا علي الاحيا المكاشفة اتم من المشاهدة وكنا نقل منه في الوجد انتهى ولم يذكر الامام السبكي في طبقاته الكبري حيث عدد كتبه اسم هذا الكتاب الذي ذكره القونوي وانما ذكر الاجوبة فلعله يسمي بالاسمين وذكر الشيخ...اليافعي...في تاريخه لما عدد كتب... الغزالي...من جملتها هذا الكتاب فقال وجزء في الرد علي المنكرين في الفاظ بعض الاحيا انتهي

Foll. 30; 9¼ × 5¼ in.; ll. 21; elegant, partly vocalised nasta'līq; marginal and interlinear notes; worm-eaten and water-stained; lacunae after fol. 17 and fol. 20; 17th century. [DELHI 1853]

منهاج العابدين

Minhāj al-'ābidīn.

A very defective copy of the same Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī's compendious account of Ṣūfism. This copy is inaccurately numbered foll. 1–111 in Arabic numerals, and foll. 20–101 are lost.

Beginning:

قَالَ الشيخُ...الغزّالي...هذا الكتاب وهو آخِرُ كتابٍ صنّفه ولم يشمله الّا خواصُ اصْحابه الحمد للّهِ الملك الحكيم الجواد الكريم الخ

The author's title (منهاج العابدين الى الجنّة) occurs on fol. 5*a*. The book (see Ahlwardt III 181) is divided into seven عقبة, of which this copy contains:

العقبة الاولى العلم وهي عقبةُ العِلم فاقُول وباللّه التوفيق يا طالبَ الخلاص الخ Fol. 5*a*

العقبة الثانية وهي عقبةُ التوبةِ ثُم عليك يا طالبَ العبادة بالتوبة الخ Fol. 9*a*

العقبة الثالثة وهي عقبةُ العوايق ثم عليك يا طالب العبادة...بدفع العوايق الخ Fol. 13*b*

العقبة السابعة وهي عقبة الحمد والشكرِ ثم عليك يا اخي الخ Fol. 18*b*

End:

فهذا ما اردنا ان نذكره فى شرح كيفية سلوكِ الآخرة وقد وفّينا المقصود وصلى الله على خير مولود الخ

A seal dated 1112/1700–1 on fol. 1*a*.

مشكاة الانوار

Mishkāḥ al-anwār.

A Ṣūfī treatise expounding the doctrine of the Divine Light, by the same Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, based on Qur'ānic authorities.

Beginning:

الحمد لله فائض الانوارِ وفاتح الابصارِ...اما بعد فقد سَألْتَنِي ايُّها الاخُ الكريم...ان ابُثَّ اليك اسرار الانوار الالهيّة الحقيقيّة الخ

The work is divided into three فصول,[1] as follows:

الفصل الاول فى بيان ان النور الحقّ هو الله تعالى وان اسمَ النورِ لغيره مجازٌ محضٌ لا حقيقة الخ Fol. 2*b*

الفصل الثانى في بيان مثال المشكوة والمصباح والزجاجة والشجرة الخ Fol. 16*b*

الفصل الثالث في معنى قوله عليه السلام ان لله سبعين حجابا الخ Fol. 28*b*

End:

Foll. 46; $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 13; clear naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled in red; some Persian marginal and interlinear notes; worm-eaten; copyist, Faiyāḍ al-Dīn ibn Muḥammad Shākir; dated 15 Jumādā I 1107/1693. [DELHI 1854]

Mishkāḥ al-anwār.

Another copy of the same work.

This copy, like the preceding, is divided into three فصول: the first on fol. 2*b*, the second on fol. 22*b*, the third on fol. 37*b*.

1239

Foll. 49; $6\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 11; well-written naskhī; rubrications; badly worm-eaten; lacuna after fol. 1; copyist, Muslim ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh al-Riḍwī; dated 15 Shauwāl 1212/1798. [DELHI 1755]

سرّ العالمين

Sirr al-'ālamain.

A late but accurate copy of an ethical treatise on the qualities and principles of rulership, by the same Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الاوّل في ربوبيّته والقديم في ازليّته... احمده علي نعمه واستعين به علي دفع نقمه الخ

A leaf has been lost after fol. 1, containing the passage in which the author's name and the title of the work are given (see Ahlwardt v 110). The treatise is divided into the following sections:

Fol. 2*a* باب الترتيب في قعود الملك

فصل وهو المقالة الثالثة ويستحب للملك سهرُ اوّل
Fol. 4*a* اللّيْل الخ

Fol. 5*a* باب فى ترتيب الخلافة

فصل وهو المقالة الخامسة اذا اردت ترتيب ملك فى
Fol. 9*b* الملك الخ

Fol. 12*a* فصل وهو المقالة السادسة فى ترتيب الوُلاة

فصل فى ترتيب حاشية الدولة وهو المقالة السابعة
Fol. 14*b*

فصل وهو المقالة الثامنة فى ترتيب الحجّاب والورزاء
Fol. 18*b* والكتاب

فصل وهو المقالة التاسعة فى ترتيب الخبّار والطبّاخ
Fol. 19*b* والقصّاب

فصل وهو المقالة العاشرة اعلم ايها الملك اذا اردت
Fol. 22*a* معاندة الملك الخ

فصل وهو المقالة الحادية عشر افتقد آلات سفرك

فصل وهو المقالة الثانية عشر ذكر صفات منامك ايها
Fol. 26*a* الملك اذا كنت فى سفر

فصل وهو المقالة الثالثة عشر فى حيل اليمين
Fol. 27*b*

As in the Berlin copy, the divisions here cease, although the work was planned to be divided into 30 مقالات (see Ahlwardt loc. cit.).

End:

Sirr al-ʿālamain.

An incomplete copy of the same work. This copy lacks the first three فصول, and begins abruptly in the middle of the fourth chapter (=fol. 5*b* of the preceding copy).

Beginning:

عَذابًا اليمًا وقد دعاهم ابو بكر بعد رسول الله صلى
الله عليه وآله الى الطاعة فاجابُوه الخ

End as in preceding copy.

1241

Foll. 120*b*–155*a*[7]; 8⅛ × 6 in.; ll. 15; inelegant but clear naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 16th century. [DELHI 378*h*]

التجريد فى كلمة التوحيد

al-Tajrīd fī kalimaḥ al-tauḥīd.

A treatise on the mystical significance of the confession of faith, لا اله الا الله, and its function in promoting union with God, by Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ghazālī, brother of the famous Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, who died in 520/1126 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab IV 60).

Beginning:

Foll. 91; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4$ in.; ll. 14; clear, partly vocalised naskhī; rubrications; Persian marginal and interlinear notes; copyist, 'Izzat Allāh Bēg;[1] 19th century. [DELHI 1835]

فتوح الغيب

Futūḥ al-ghaib.

Rules of asceticism, compiled by 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlī (or al-Jīlānī, d. 561/1166, see Nafaḥāt al-uns 586), and edited by his son Sharaf al-Dīn 'Īsā. The work is described in the following terms by a later nasta'līq hand on the front fly-leaf (fol. 1*a*):

هذا كتاب فتوح الغيب لسيدنا...عبد القادر الجيلانى...وجامعه ولده...شرف الدين...كاتبه ومالكه عزت الله بيك

Beginning:

قال والدى الامام الاوحد...عبد القادر بن ابى صالح...الجيلى...اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ رَبِّ الْعٰالَمِينَ اَوَّلًا وَاٰخِرًا...اما بعد فان نِعَم الله على العباد كثيرة متواترة فى اناء الليل واطراف النهار الخ

The work consists of a collection of (unnumbered) advices, each being introduced by the phrase وقال رضى الله عنه وارضاه. For a full account see Ahlwardt III 16 f.

End:

فكان يقول استعنت بلا اله الا الله سبحانه وتعالى الحى الذى لا يموت ولا يحى [يخشى corr.] الفوت سبحان من تعزز بالقدرة وقهر العباد بالموت لا اله الا الله محمد رسول الله ثم خرج روحه الكريم رضوان الله عليه وعلى من تبعه تمت [sic] الكتاب بعون الملك الوهاب

This copy contains 76 of the 78 chapters enumerated by Ahlwardt; chapters 77 and 78 have been added as a supplement (foll. 92–95), and this supplement ends:

وهٰذه اٰفة العابدين وعطب النساك وهلاك الزاهدين الا من اعانه الله تعالى على حفظ لسانه وقلبه برحمته

After chapter 76, in the text itself, there follows an account of the death of al-Jīlī, and of the advices which he gave on his death-bed. This account is called in some copies تكملة: it may be noted that it is identical with the account of al-Jīlī's death which is appended to the collection of his sermons entitled الفتح الربانى (see Ahlwardt 3402), as well as to the appendix to another collection entitled جلاء الخاطر (see Loth 619–21).

Copies of this work are common: see Ahlwardt 2837–9, Bankipore 852–3, Cairo VII 37, 181, Dozy 2154, Loth 616, Rampur 243–4, etc. It was printed at Constantinople in 1281/1864, and lithographed at Lucknow (with a Persian commentary by 'Abd al-Ḥaqq al-Dihlawī) in 1881: it was also printed at Cairo in 1887 on the margin of the Bahjaḥ al-asrār of 'Alī ibn Yūsuf al-Lakhmī.

Foll. 1–37; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 20; cursive nasta'līq; rubrications; worm-eaten and water-stained; copyist, 'Abd al-'Azīz; dated Calcutta, 27 Jumādā II 1250/1834. [DELHI 1836*a*]

Futūḥ al-ghaib.

Another copy of the same work. This copy contains the 78 chapters (here unnumbered and introduced by the same phrase as in the preceding copy), and the تكملة (fol. 37*a*).

End:

قهر العباد بالموت والفناء لا اله الا الله محمد رسول الله واخبرنى ولدى موسى انه قال لسانه على الصحة...ثم خفى صوته ولسانه ملصق بسقف حلقه

[1] This person is perhaps to be identified with the Mīr 'Izzat Allāh who wrote a journal of his travels from Attak to Bukhārā in 1227–8/1812–13: see Ethé, Catalogue of Persian MSS. in the...India Office 2728–9, and the bibliography there quoted.

ازالة الريب فى اختصار فتوح الغيب

Izālaḥ al-raib fī 'khtiṣār Futūḥ al-ghaib.

A unique copy of an anonymous abstract, consisting of quotations from the well-known فتوح الغيب of 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlī.

كتاب ستين مجالس

Kitāb sittīn majālis.

A collection of sermons delivered by the same 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlānī in the years 545 and 546, and edited by one of his disciples (see Loth 169). The sermons are styled مجالس in this copy (compare Loth 620) and numbered 1–60: hence the title of the work, given thus in the colophon:

تمت [sic] كتاب ستين مجالس للامام الاكرم غوث [sic] الاعظم رضى الله عنه وارضاه عَنَّا بحرمته الخ

Loth identifies this work with the جلاء الخاطر (see Ḥ. Kh. II 4136), though the details given by Ḥ. Kh. do not exactly correspond with this recension (see Loth's remarks on p. 169).

Beginning:

نَسَبُ سيد اولياء اللّٰه عزَّ وجَلَّ الشيخ ابى محمد مُحْى الملّة والشَّريعة والطريقة والحقيقة والدين السيد عبد القادر وهو ابو محمد عبد القادر رضى الله عنه الخ

[1] The following abbreviations are used: for the days of the week, A–G (Sunday–Saturday); for مدرسة (the "School"), M; for رباط (the "Monastery"), R; for Shauwāl, Sh.; for Dhū 'l-Qa'daḥ, DQ.; for Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ, DH.; for Jumādā II, J2; for Rajab, Ra.; for Sha'bān, Sh'; for Ramaḍān, Rm.

55. Fol. 94*a* (M) 24 F Rm. 545.
56. Fol. 95*a* (M) 1 F Sh. 545.
57. Fol. 95*b* ( ) 9 F Ra. 546.
58. Fol. 98*a* ( ) 13 C Sh. 546.
59. Fol. 100*b* (M) 20 Sh. 546.
60. Fol. 107*a* (M) 30 F Sh. 546.

The above details show that al-Jīlānī made a practice of giving these sermons on Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays: those on Tuesdays and Fridays in the School (مدرسة), those on Sundays in the Monastery (رباط). There are but two exceptions: majlis 37 is noted as taking place on a Friday in the Monastery, and majlis 47 is dated for a Monday in the School. Another far more important fact, however, emerges from an analysis of this list. In the year 545, 3 Sh. was a Tuesday, not a Sunday; 2 DQ. was a Tuesday, not a Sunday; 12 DH. was a Sunday, not a Friday; 7 J 2 was a Sunday, not a Friday; 2 Ra. was a Thursday, not a Tuesday; 1 Sh' was a Thursday, not a Tuesday; 3 Rm. was a Sunday, not a Friday; 1 Sh. was a Sunday, not a Friday: and in the year 546, 9 Ra. was a Monday, not a Friday; 13 Sh. was a Wednesday, not a Tuesday; 30 Sh. was a Friday, as recorded. Now 3 Sh. 546 was a Sunday; 2 DQ. 546 was a Sunday; 12 DH. 546 was a Friday; 7 J 2 546 was a Friday; 2 Ra. 543 was a Tuesday; 1 Sh' 546 was a Tuesday; 3 Rm. 546 was a Friday; 1 Sh. 546 was a Friday; 9 Ra. 545 was a Friday; 13 Sh. 545 was a Tuesday. Either, therefore, these dates are wholly fictitious, or, as seems more probable, there is a mistake in the years assigned to them. Now the dates given by Ḥ. Kh. for the first and the last chapters of جلاء الخاطر are Friday 9 Rajab (no year given) and 24 Ramaḍān 546 respectively. The former date, which, as we have seen, must belong to the year 545, actually is assigned to majlis 57 in our manuscript; the latter date is assigned to majlis 55: but neither is the former the earliest, nor the latter the latest date recorded, according to our reconstruction. We may therefore conclude that the recension now before us is both different from and ampler than that of Ḥ. Kh.

Foll. 92–171; 11§ × 7 in.; ll. 21; legible nasta'līq; rubrications; a few Persian marginal notes; copyist, Muḥammad Karīm Allāh; 19th century. [DELHI 1733*b*]

Kitāb sittīn majālis.

Another copy of the same work.

The title is given on the front fly-leaf (fol. 92*a*):

The date here given for the commencement of the copying (1133/1721) is not the date of this copy, however; for this copy, with the supplement (see No. 1250), was completed (fol. 190*a*) in the year 1245/1829.

Beginning and end are as in the preceding copy. The مجالس are numbered and dated similarly.

Foll. 38; 8 × 5¾ in.; ll. 14–16; clear nasta'līq; rubrications; somewhat worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1793]

A copy of a collection of sermons and advices by the Ṣūfī 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlī (or al-Jīlānī), evidently compiled by one of his pupils. At the conclusion of the sermons there is an account of the death of al-Jīlī, and his death-bed advices. This collection is the same as that usually appended to جلاء الخاطر of the same author.

Beginning:

آداب المريدين

Ādāb al-murīdīn.

A late copy of the summary of Ṣūfī doctrines by Abū 'l-Najīb 'Abd al-Qāhir ibn 'Abd Allāh al-Suhrawardī, who died in 563/1168 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab IV 208; Encyclopaedia of Islām IV 507*b*). This work is divided into many (unnumbered) فصول: for a full description see Ahlwardt III 121. This copy bears no title.

شرح الحجب والاستار فى مقامات اهل الانوار والاسرار

Sharḥ al-ḥujub wa'l-astār fī maqāmāt ahl al-anwār wa'l-asrār.

A clear, well-written copy of a valuable Ṣūfī work by Abū Muḥammad Rūzbihān ibn Nuṣair al-Baqlī. He was the author of many Ṣūfī books, his most famous surviving work being the well-known commentary on the Qur'ān entitled عرائس البيان (see No. 1106, Brockelmann I 414). He was a follower of Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Khafīf (d. 331), to whom he refers (foll. 18*b*, 30*b*) as شيخنا وسيدنا, and died in 606/1209 (see Safīnaḥ al-auliyā', I.O. MS. 660, fol. 112*b*).

The present work is a meditation on the well-known Tradition of the Prophet:

ليغان على قلبى وانى لاستغفر الله فى كل يوم سبعين مرة (fol. 2*b*)

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذي تقدّس بجلاله عن نسبة الحدثان...اما بعد فانّي انتهبت ليلة من الليالى فجلست لاجمع خاطري فى مقام الحضور وراقبتُ عالم الغيب...فلما صفى سِرّي وجرى ما جرى من احكامِ المواجيد ومكاشفات الغيوب وسماع الخطاب نَادانى حَبيبى صَنِّف كتابا فى معان [sic] الحجب التى بينى وبين عبادي في مسير المقامات الخ

In a series of unnumbered فصول the author enumerates the various "veils" which intervene between the mystic and God, and describes the "stations" and "states" through which he passes during his mystical journey, seventy in all (fol. 10*b*). He then discusses the condition of اغانة of which the Prophet complained (in the Tradition), explaining that it is a spiritual sickness which comes to every initiate, especially those of the highest rank. He quotes the interpretations of this state attributed to al-Junaid (fol. 15*a*), Abū Sa'īd al-Kharrāz (fol. 15*b*) and many others, and then gives his own explanation (fol. 18*b*–end).

End:

شاهدت هلال الوحدانية وغيّبنى عن وصوله غيرة الازلية فبقيت بين الفصل والوصل وليس لى مهرب ولا ملجأ ابكي منه عليه شعر

يا هلال السماك طرف كليل
فاذا بداء اضاء طرفيه

كنت ابكى منه فلما [sic]
ان تولي بكيت منه عليه

Colophon of author:

تمَّتْ حامدا ومصليا رسمت هذا الكتاب المسمى بشرح الحجب والاستار فى مقامات اهل الانوار والاسرار من سر جريح وقلب قريح وختمه بما ورد من واردات الامتحان فى جناب الرحمن ارجو اليه ان ياخذ بيدى فى مهالك الفقدان بلطايف الوجدان فانه تعالى غياث كل مستغيث وامان كل خايف وماوى كل عارف

Foll. 122–152; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; neat and clear nasta'līq; worm-eaten, especially towards the end; foll. 122 and 127 have about two lines torn away at the bottom; water-stained; 16th century. [DELHI 310*d*]

A fragment, foliated in arabic numerals 116–22 and 131–54, of a work on Ṣūfī discipline. This copy lacks both beginning and end, and eight leaves have been lost after fol. 128. The author mentions two works of his own, منظوم العرفان فى خلق الانسان (fol. 128*b*) and مشرب الارواح (fol. 150*b*). Among the Ṣūfīs mentioned are Ibn Masrūq (fol. 130*a*), Ibn Najīd (fol. 131*a*), Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Khafīf, who is called شيخنا وسيدنا (fol. 133*b*: died in 331, see Rieu, Pers. Cat. 205), 'Abd al-Raḥīm al-Iṣṭakhrī (fol. 142*b*), Abū Najīb al-Suhrawardī (fol. 145*b*: died in 562/1167). Of the last-named the author relates a personal anecdote; Suhrawardī was the instructor of Baqlī (see Nafaḥāt al-uns 288), so that it seems highly probable that Baqlī is the author of the present work. The work, or at least this part of it, is not divided into chapters or sections.

Beginning:

الحديث والفقه واصوله وما سوى ذلك من علوم [ال]
النجوم والاكسير والعروض والشعر وغيره فهو حجاب
بين العبد والرب تعالى حاصة محالات واغلوطات
الدهرية افناهم الله الخ

End:

الذى عرو [.....] له عجيبة من المشتاقين فان
نات على ذلك فهو من او[...] الراجين

Two leaves follow (foll. 153–4), numbered consecutively in arabic numerals 155–6, but written on different paper and by a different nasta'līq hand. It seems most probable that these leaves are a fragment of another work, also on Ṣūfism.

Beginning:

...]فا لربه عز وجل واعمى الناس معرفه حاله

End:

وابصر الناس بالدواء الخ
ومن يطلع عليه الشمس بشعاعها كيف لا يرى
جميع طرق الحق والسالك يرى بنور الحق والمجذوب
بالحق وهذا المصطفى صلوات الله عليه وآله وسلم
وختم الكتاب باسمه الشريف الميمون المبارك رحم
الله مصنفه ومولفه فى نظره الدقيق والمعرفة بجميع
المقامات سقى الله شراب الزلفى من الحوض الاسنى
والحمد لله الخ

There is a reference on fol. 154*b* to Shaikh al-'Irāq Akmal al-Dīn, who is described as a contemporary of the author.

خالصة الحقائق

Khāliṣaḥ al-ḥaqā'iq.

A compendium of Ṣūfī ethics, by Abū 'l-Qāsim Maḥmūd ibn Aḥmad al-Fāriyābī (d. 607/1210, see Ḥ. Kh. III 120). This work, which was completed in 597/1200, is in 50 chapters, which are fully enumerated by Ahlwardt (VII 660–1), and is based on 74 books by various authors, detailed by al-Fāriyābī in an appendix to the present work (see Loth 171). The work is in this copy called خلاصة الحقائق, both on the front fly-leaf and in the body of the text (cf. Loth 170 n. 1).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى براء [sic] كل حي ثم دعاه...
يقول العبد المذنب ابو القاسم محمود بن احمد بن
ابي الحسين الفاريابى ... هذا الكتاب ... سميته

رسالة الى الهائم الخائف من لومة اللائم

Risālaḥ ilā 'l-hā'im al-khā'if min laumaḥ al-lā'im.

A homiletic work on the ten virtuous practices of the soul. The author of this work according to Ḥ. Kh. (III 457) is Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad Najm al-Dīn al-Kubrā (cf. VII 745 where the additional names Naṣr al-Dīn al-Ṭūsī are added by one MS.); the colophon to the present copy names as its author 'Alī al-Ḥusainī al-Hamadhānī, i.e. 'Alī ibn Shihāb al-Dīn al-Ḥusainī al-Hamadhānī. This work is, however, identical with رسالة الخائف الهائم من لومة اللائم described by Ahlwardt (III 123) and attributed by him to Aḥmad ibn 'Umar ibn Muḥammad al-Kubrā al-Khajūqī (see Brockelmann I 440), and it is certain that this is the correct ascription, and that Ḥ. Kh. is in error in giving the author's names. Al-Khajūqī was the author of several works on Ṣūfism, and died in 618/1221 (Ḥ. Kh. II 381; Encyclopaedia of Islām III 823).

Beginning:

الحمد الله [sic] الذى تواضع كل شىء لعظمته...
اما بعد فهده رسالة الى الهايم [...]ف من لومة اللايم الطالب الهارب بقالبه لا يزال يقوى الله فى قلبه بسبب ما يسمع من كلام الله تعالى الخ

The author enumerates the ten virtuous practices which secure salvation. He illustrates his homily with frequent references to the Qur'ān and the Traditions. There is a reference on fol. 7*b* to Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥusain al-Sulamī.

End:

رزقكم الله بصيرة نافذة وايانا برحمته وجوده انه الجواد الكريم الروف الرحيم والحمد لله رب العالمين وصلوته على سيدنا محمد وآله اجمعين والسلام على من اتبع الهدى

رسالة فى الطرق

Risālaḥ fī 'l-ṭuruq.

An incomplete copy of a treatise on the requisites of the Ṣūfī life, by the same Aḥmad ibn 'Umar Najm al-Dīn al-Kubrā. The title اصول العشرة is given in this copy.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام الاجل قدوه المحققين السيخ نجم الدين الكبرا قدس الله سره اسهم الطريق الى الله بع بعدد انفاس الخلايق وطريقنا الذى نشرع فى شرحه اقرب الطرق الى الله تع الخ

End:

عوارف المعارف

'Awārif al-ma'ārif.

A defective copy of the well-known encyclopaedia of Ṣūfī theology, by Shihāb al-Dīn Abū Ḥafṣ 'Umar ibn 'Abd Allāh al-Suhrawardī, who died in 632/1234 (see Nafaḥāt al-uns 544–6; Encyclopaedia of Islām III 506). The original of which this is a copy was in the hand of Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad al-Khawāfī,[1] whose colophon runs (fol. 379*b*–380*a*):

وقد فرغ العبد...ابو بكر بن محمد بن محمد المدعو بزين الخوافى[2] [sic]...من كتابته [sic] بعون الله وتاييده...فى ربيع الاخر سنه خمس وعشرين [sic]

A note dated 4 Jumādā I 1166/1753 attests collation.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ العظيم شَانُه الْقَوِي سُلْطَانُهُ الظَّاهِرِ احْسَانُهُ الْبَاهِرِ حُجَّتُهُ وَبُرْهَانُهُ الخ

For a full description of the work see Ahlwardt III 20–1.

End:

فيحبُّهُ اهلُ السمآء ويُوْضَعُ له القبول في الارضِ وبالله العصمة والتوفيق والحمد لله وحده وصلوته على سيدنا محمد واله الطيبين الطّاهرين

Five verses by al-Khawāfī follow, preceding his colophon.

For other copies see Ahlwardt 2845–7, Bankipore 860–2, Loth 625–7, etc. The work was printed at Cairo in 1289/1872 on the margin of al-Ghazālī's احياء علوم الدين.

Foll. 390; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 22; inelegant but clear nasta'līq; rubrications; some marginal notes; terribly worm-eaten; margins damaged and repaired; 17th century. [DELHI 1868]

شرح عوارف المعارف

Sharḥ 'Awārif al-ma'ārif.

A detailed commentary on the preceding work, by 'Abd al-Quddūs ibn Ismā'īl al-Ghaznawī, a celebrated Indian Ṣūfī, who died in 945/1538–9 (see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 130). The author informs us (fol. 1*b*) that this commentary was written in the year 923/1517 at the request of certain of his friends, particularly Aḥmad al-Multānī. For Persian works by this same author see Edwards, Catalogue of Persian Books...22, Ethé, Catalogue of Persian MSS. in the India Office 1042, 1076.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذي جعل معارف الهدى عوارف العارفين...اما بعد فان الفقير...عبد القدوس بن اسماعيل بن صفىّ بن نصير الحنفى الغزنوى ثم الاودهىّ...شرع...فى التاليف [sic] المعارف فى شرح العوارف الخ

The commentary proper begins:

مَ الحمد لله العظيم شانه شَ قُلْتُ وبالله التوفيق اللام للاستغراق الخ

This copy is not complete, some folios having been lost at the end. The commentary is continuous with the text; the 62nd chapter (فى شرح كلمات) begins on fol. 363*a*, and this is the last heading in this copy.

[1] A well-known Ṣūfī, author of الوصايا القدسية and other works, who died in 838/1435 (see Ahlwardt III 91, 189; Brockelmann II 206). This colophon must therefore refer to the year 825/1422.

[2] For this incorrect form cf. Ahlwardt III 189. His name was Zain al-Dīn.

End:.

مَ يقوي علي التجريد مع الله شَ اي وَصل في التجريد مقام المعية وطُوى له الجهاتُ وَظهر له حمال قوله تعالي وَهُوَ مَعَكُمْ اينما كُنْتُمْ والتجريد ينفي

No other copy appears to be recorded.

1259

Foll. 38; $7\frac{1}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 15; small, clear naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled in gold; slightly worm-eaten and water-stained; borders repaired; 16th century. [DELHI 1796]

ارشاد المريدين

Irshād al-murīdīn.

A short treatise on Ṣūfism and the Ṣūfī discipline. The author's name and the title of the work do not appear in this copy, although a later hand in cursive nasta'līq has added on the front fly-leaf the inscription [sic] رساله فى اداب سلوك. It seems certain (see Bankipore Catalogue XIII 54) that this is a work of Shihāb al-Dīn al-Suhrawardī, though it is not mentioned by Brockelmann: it is obviously not to be identified with the work of the same title mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. (I 252) as written by Ibn al-Jauzī. The work is divided into 47 (unnumbered) chapters, which are fully enumerated in the Bankipore Catalogue. A comparison of these chapter-headings with those of the Risālaḥ of al-Qushairī (see No. 1219) makes it highly probable that the present work is little more than a compendium based on, but not extracted from, that work. On fol. 22*a* al-Qushairī's definition of the walī (Risālaḥ ed. Cairo 1284/1867 p. 153) is somewhat inaccurately quoted; on fol. 25*a* the definition of adab by Abū Naṣr al-Sarrāj (see Kitāb al-Luma' ed. Nicholson p. 142 l. 19–p. 143 l. 14) is cited, but in the garbled and abbreviated form given by al-Qushairī (p. 168).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى هدانا لهذا وما كنا لنهتدى لولا ان هدينا [sic] الله...اما بعد فقد التمس منى زمرة اصدقائى وجماعة اخلائى ان اجمع لهم محتصرا فى بيان مذهب ارباب السلوك فانهم فى الاخرة هم الملوك فاجبتهم الى ذلك الخ

Fol. 85*a* عبد الله بن عبد الرحمن بن عبد الدهر

An analysis of the foregoing list, and of the sayings attributed to each individual named, makes it clear that Ibn [al-]'Arabī is using a literary device to give expression to his own meditations. It will be observed that with every name, the "father" or "grandfather" is styled by some compound of عبد, this compounded word being one or other of the names of God; while the other "person" in the "genealogy" is given, in the great majority of cases, the name of one of the Prophets: and the sayings attributed to each individual form a meditation on the name of God mentioned in the "genealogy".

End:

فكل واحد منهما وقت لصاحبه والحمد لله رب العالمين وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد وعلى اله وصحبه اجمعين

The original of this copy was evidently either illegible or damaged in parts, for on foll. 78*b*–80*b* spaces have been left by our copyist in his script, and it was probably intended to supply the deficiencies later from another copy.

On the front fly-leaf is an extract from an unnamed work of 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlānī by a later hand, and another hand has added at the top margin of fol. 16 a quotation from الفتوحات المكية of Ibn [al-] 'Arabī.

ايّام الشأن

Aiyām al-sha'n.

A treatise on the special functions of the seven days of the week, by the same Ibn [al-]'Arabī. On fol. 19*a* the following title is given:

كتاب الشان انشا [sic] الشيخ...بن العربى الخ

This is, however, incorrect.

Beginning:

الحمد الله [sic] العلى الشان العظيم السلطان الذى كل يوم هو فى شان...اما بعد فهذا كتاب سَمَّيْتُهُ كتاب ايام الشان وهو ما يحدث فى اصغر يوم الخ

On fol. 27*a* the author mentions his كتاب الجداول والدوائر, and on fol. 28*a* his كتاب الهياكل.

الامر المحكم المربوط فيما يلزم اهل طريق الله من الشروط

al-Amr al-muḥkam al-marbūṭ fīmā yalzam ahl ṭarīq Allāh min al-shurūṭ.

A treatise by the same Ibn [al-]'Arabī prescribing rules of conduct for the guidance of Ṣūfīs. After a preface describing his general intentions (the title of the book is given by the author on fol. 165*a*), Ibn [al-] 'Arabī proceeds to enumerate rules (1) for the shaikh (foll. 166*b*–175*a*), (2) the murīd or neophyte (foll. 175*a*–183*b*), and (3) for all Ṣūfīs (fol. 183*b*–end).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى هدانا لهذا وما كنا لنهتدى لولا انه هدانا الله لمّا قال الله تع لنبيه صلعم وانذر عشيرتك الاقربين الخ

End:

واعنى هنا بالحق فى سير المنازل ما يترك من الله عليهم من اللطايف فى حال فنايهم عن نفوسهم وغيبتهم عنهم والله تع ينفعنا بالعلم ويجعلنا من اهله انه بعباده روف رحيم وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه وسلم

A note at the foot of fol. 163*a* wrongly ascribing this work to Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh is corrected in the margin, the name of Ibn al-'Arabī being substituted.

عنقاء مغرب فى معرفة ختم الاولياء وشمس المغرب

ʻAnqāʼ mughrib fī maʻrifaḥ khatm al-awliyāʼ wa-shams al-maghrib.

A treatise on the relation between man the microcosm and the macrocosm, by the same Ibn [al-]ʻArabī. This work, which has been fully described by Ahlwardt (III 43), was composed in the year 595/1199, and is written in that mixture of verse and rhymed prose which is typical of the author.

Beginning:

قالَ الْعَبدُ الفقيرُ الى اللّهِ تعالى محمد بن عليّ بن محمّد العربى الطّائيّ الحاتمي ختم اللهُ له بالحُسْنَى الوِعَاءُ المختومُ على السرِّ المكتوم شعر حمِدتُ اِلاهي والمقام عظيمُ الخ

After 34 verses in the Ṭawīl metre, the author continues (fol. 2*b*):

اَمّا بعد حَمد اللّه الّذي تقدَّمَ وَالصَّلوةُ الّتي خُتِمَ بِهَا الْحَمْدُ وتَتَمِمُ [sic] الخ

In the preface (fol. 2*b*) the author explains that the present work is designed to serve as a supplement to his التدبيرات الالهيّة (see No. 1312), and to clear up various points omitted in that book. In this copy the divisions (see Berlin 2894) are not clearly marked. There are many marginal notes, chiefly glosses from the Ṣiḥāḥ of al-Jauharī.

End:

وعند انقضائهي وجود اوليائهي [sic] عند فنآء العدد الوتر المذكور فى الشّعْر ◇ وصلى الله الخ

اسرار الخلوة

Asrār al-khalwaḥ.

Rules for the guidance of the Ṣūfī during retreat on the way to God, by the same Ibn [al-]ʻArabī. This work is thrice mentioned by Ḥ. Kh., as follows: الانوار فيما يفتح على صاحب الخلوة من الاسرار (I 484), رسالة الانوار (III 371), كتاب الانوار (V 55). The present copy bears no title, and none is indicated by the author: a marginal note in a later hand conjectures—incorrectly—that this work is the كنه ما لا بدّ منه of Ibn [al-]ʻArabī (see No. 1294). For the title given above see Bankipore Catalogue XIII 70 and the following number.

Beginning:

الحمدُ[1] لِواهب العقل ومبدِعِه وناصبِ النقل ومُشرِعِه...اجبت سوالك ايها الوليّ الكريم الخ

End:

فلمثل هذا فليعمل العاملون وفى مثل هذا فليتنافس المتنافسون والحمد لله رب العالمين وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد الخ

Two Arabic verses follow.

[1] For this omission of لله cf. Ḥ. Kh. V 55.

This work is not the same as the كتاب الخلوة (see Ahlwardt 2916–17, Loth 657², Cureton-Rieu 886[26]), as is supposed by the Catalogue of the Bankipore collection (vol. XIII 70).

شرح اسرار الخلوة

Sharḥ asrār al-khalwaḥ.

The commentary of 'Abd al-Karīm al-Jīlī (see No. 1358) on the اسرار الخلوة, the principles of religious retreat, ascribed to Ibn [al-]'Arabī. Authorship of this work is attested by the colophon, which runs:

تم شرح هذه الرسالة الشريفة المسماة باسرار الخلوة لشيخ شيوخ الاسلام والمسلمين محي الدين ابن العربي رضي الله عنه ومصنف هٰذا الشرح الشيخ العارف الاجل الشيخ عبد الكريم الجيلي صاحب الكتاب الانسان الكامل في معرفة الاواخر والاوايل جزاهما الله تعالى عنا خير الجزاء امين

The original text is written in red ink, and the commentary in black.

Beginning:

الحمد هو اظهار الكمال من مرتبتى الجمع والفرق خالص لله المطلق عن جميع القيود واهب العقل من حيث ذاته ان كان عبارة عن قائم بنفسه والا فمن حيث صفاته ومبدعه اى مخترعه ... اجبت سوالك ايها المولى الكريم والصفى الصافى الود الحميم وهو قريب الرجل المهتم لامره فى كيفية السلوك الى رب العزة تعالى والسلوك عبارة عن الانتقال بجسم من منزل عبادة الى منزل عبادة الخ

Fol. 239*a*

فاول ما أُبيّنه واكشفه لك وفقك الله ايها المولى الكريم والصفى الحميم كيفية السلوك اليه اي الى الله تعالى وقد لوحنا بشيء من ذلك ثم كيفية الوصول اليه والوقوف بين يديه وهما صفتان من صفات الجلال والاكرام والوقوف بينهما عبارةٌ عن الكمال وهى البرزخية الكبرى والجلوس فى بساط مشاهدته وهى سياحة القلب للواصل الراجع الخ

The author then proceeds to enumerate the rules for attaining true خلوة, and the spiritual delights and successive revelations experienced in that state. On fol. 260 ff. he develops the theory that the audible revelations which the mystic enjoys during the highest condition of ecstasy are not direct revelations from God, as some ignorant ones have supposed, but proceed from a prophetic source which varies with the individual mystic, the highest source of all being Muḥammad.

End:

فلا يزال العالم بكسر اللام متعطشًا فى كل مشاهدة تحصل له الى مشاهدة هى فوقها دائما ابدًا ولرغبته فى حصول ما تعطش له والرهب من فواته وعدم الوصول اليه يتعلق به دائما بدا ولمثل هذا فليعمل العاملون وفى هذا فليتنافس المتنافسون والحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة والسلام على محمد واله الطيبين

Sharḥ asrār al-khalwaḥ.

Another copy of the same work.

Beginning and end as in preceding copy.

Colophon (fol. 63*a*):

تم شرح هذه هذه [sic] الرسالة الشريفة المساة باسرار الخلوة للشيخ الاكبر...ابن العربي رضه والشارح هو الشيخ العارف الشيخ عبد الكريم الجيلى صاحب الكتاب [sic] الانسان الكامل

On fol. 63*b* there is a quotation in the same hand from الفتوحات المكية of Ibn [al-] 'Arabī (فصل فى الاعادة).

On fol. 64*a* there is a quotation from an unidentified book in a nasta'līq hand.

Fol. 65 is blank.

الفناء فى المشاهدة

al-Fanā' fī 'l-mushāhadaḥ.

A somewhat inaccurate copy of Ibn [al-] 'Arabī's treatise on the knowledge of God's being attained through ecstasy. The title in a later, cursive hand is given on fol. 10*a*, and differs slightly from that generally recorded: الفناء والمشاهدة.

Beginning:

فى الازل

Fī 'l-azal.

A discussion by Ibn [al-]'Arabī on the true meaning of the term ازل as applied to God, containing an exposure of the errors of others who have attempted to define it. Both title and author's name are lacking in this copy.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الدايم الذي لم يزل عاطف الابد المعقول على الازل...اما بعد فان الناس قد اجرى الله تعالى على السنتهم لفظة الازل ويبغتون [sic] بها الرب سبحانه فيقولون الازلى وكان هذا فى الازل الخ

فيما لا يعوّل عليه وفيما يعول عليه

Fīmā lā yu'auwal 'alaih wa-fīmā yu'auwal 'alaih.

A short treatise, attributed in both exordium and colophon to Ibn [al-]'Arabī, concerning what the Ṣūfī may and what he may not rely upon in his mystical experience. The author enumerates various conditions through which the mystic may pass, and after describing them concludes each paragraph with the phrase لا يعول عليه.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ العارف العالم الراسخ الوارث الكامل المحقق محي الدين ابو عبد الله محمد بن على بن محمد ابن العربى الطائى الحاتمى رضى الله تعالى عنه وارضاه الحمد لله رب العالمين والعاقبة للمتقين وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد واله اجمعين الوجد الحاصل عن التواجد لا يعوّل عليه والوجود الذي يكون من مثل هذا الوجد لا يعوّل عليه الخ

فصوص الحكم فى خصوص الكلم

Fuṣūṣ al-ḥikam fī khuṣūṣ al-kalam.

The elaborate and exceedingly obscure theosophical work by the same Ibn [al-] 'Arabī, the ideas of which were further elaborated and amplified in his الفتوحات المكية. According to the author's own statement (fol. 2*a*) the contents of this work were revealed to him by the Prophet at Damascus in a dream in 627/1230; but, as the Bankipore Catalogue points out, a reference in the body of the work to الفتوحات المكية, which is known to have been composed at Mecca in 629/1232, proves that the present work was actually written down at a later date than that.

Beginning:

قال سيدنا...المعروف بابن العربى...الحمد لله منزل الحكم على قلوب الكَلِم...اما بعد فانى رايت رسولَ الله صلى الله على اله وسلم فى مبشرة أُريتها فى العشر الاخير من الحرم سنة سبع وعشرين وخمسماية [sic] بمحروسة دمشق الخ

The work is divided into 27 فصوص, each فص being characterised by a حكمة qualified by an aspect of the divine nature as revealed through a كلمة related to one of the Prophets, thus:

Fol. 3*a* فص حكمة الهية فى كلمة ادمية

Fol. 12*b* فص حكمة نفثية فى كلمة شيثية

. . . . . .

Fol. 160*a* فص حكمة فردية فى كلمة محمدية

Fukūk al-Fuṣūṣ.

The commentary of Ṣadr al-Dīn al-Qōnawī (d. 672/1273, see No. 1321) on the فصوص الحكم of Ibn [al-]'Arabī. This commentary, which was composed at the request of various persons, confines itself to explaining the gist of each فص, and does not comment on the text itself, as do other commentaries of the same work.

شرح فصوص الحكم

Sharḥ Fuṣūṣ al-ḥikam.

A very full commentary on فصوص الحكم of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, by Mu'aiyid ibn Maḥmūd ibn Ṣā'id al-Janadī, who died about 700/1300 (see Ḥ. Kh. IV 427).

Beginning:

حمدُ الحمدِ أَحَقُّ محامد الحق...اما بعد فان كتاب فصوص الحكم في خصوص الكلم من منشيات هذا الكامل الخاتم الخ

The author explains (fol. 4*a*) that it was his master Ṣadr al-Dīn al-Qōnawī who inspired him with the idea of writing this commentary. After a brief introduction (تمهيد fol. 6*a*), the commentary proper begins on fol. 7*b*:

قال الشيخ رضى الله عنه الحمد لله مُنزِل الحِكَم...قال العبد فى خطبة الكتاب ستُّ عشر كلمة الخ

This copy does not contain the قصيدة in 142 verses which is noted in the Bankipore and Berlin copies.

مطلع خصوص الكلم فى معانى نصوص الحكم

Maṭla' khuṣūṣ al-kalam fī ma'ānī nuṣūṣ al-Ḥikam.

A commentary on the same work, by Dāwūd ibn Maḥmūd al-Qaiṣarī, who died in 751/1350 (see Brockelmann II 231). This commentary is preceded by a lengthy مقدمة, and this is in fact all that is contained in the present copy, the commentary proper being missing. This مقدمة, which is divided into 12 فصول, is a detailed analysis of the mystical theology of the Ṣūfīs, especially of Ibn [al-]'Arabī. This copy is further incomplete, in that one folio is missing at the commencement.

Beginning:

فسبحان الذى تجلي بذاته لذاته...وبعد فلما وفقنى الله تعالى وكشف على انوار اسراره الخ

The title of the work occurs on fol. 5*a*. The مقدمة is divided as follows:

الفصل الاول فى الوجود وانه هو الحق Fol. 7*b*

الفصل الثانى فى اسمائه وصفاته تعالى Fol. 27*b*

الفصل الثالث فى الاعيان الثابتة والتنبيه على المظاهر الاسمائية Fol. 40*a*

الفصل الرابع فى الجوهر والعرض على طريقة اهل الله Fol. 51*b*

الفصل الخامس فى بيان العوالم الكلية والحضرات الالهية Fol. 63*a*

الفصل السادس فيما يتعلق بالعالم المثالى Fol. 69*a*

الفصل السابع فى مراتب الكشف وانواعها اجمالا Fol. 78*b*

الفصل الثامن فى ان العالم هو صورة الحقيقة Fol. 88*a*

الفصل التاسع فى بيان خلافة الحقيقة المحمدية وانها قطب الاقطاب Fol. 92*a*

الفصل العاشر فى بيان الروح الاعظم ومراتبه واسمائه فى العالم الانسانى Fol. 98*b*

جوامع الكلم فى كشف فصوص الحكم

Jawāmi' al-kalam fī kashf Fuṣūṣ al-ḥikam.

A commentary on Ibn [al-]'Arabī's فصوص الحكم by 'Alī Asghar al-Qanūjī (b. 1051/1641, see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 141–2, where this commentary is mentioned), composed in the year 1138/1726 (see fol. 1*b*).

This commentary is far from ample, and is little more than notes indicating the general lines of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's doctrines.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الظاهر بانوار تجلياته الوجودية في مواطن الاكوان...وبعد فبينا انا ذات ليلة كانت عينيّ مسرح سرح الـ[...] والليل...وذلك كان في العشرة الاخيرة من الصفر سنة ثمان وثلثين ومايه والف من الهجرة اذ أُريت جماعة من قلوب قدسية...وبين يديهم كتاب فصوص الحكم...وما تركت نفسي ان تشتغل بما سواه...فجاء بحمد الله ما يُبَصِّر الطالبين ويذكر الاصل اليقين وسميته بجوامع الكلم في كشف فصوص الحكم الخ

The commentary proper begins on fol. 2*b*:

الحمد لله اطلق الحمد اوّلاً غير مقيد باسم وصفة واضافة لطريق الاختصاص الى رسم الذات الاحدية الخ

The division of the work into فصوص is preserved, the commentator prefixing to each فص a short summary of its contents and theosophical purport.

End:

فافهم والله يقول الحق بلسان العبد وهو يهدى السبيل

Colophon:

Foll. 234; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 18 and 17; two nasta'līq hands, the first (to fol. 102) neat and regular but on old crumbling paper, the second legible and somewhat more recent; many leaves fragmentary, especially at the beginning, restoration being impossible; first half badly worm-eaten; collated; 17th and 18th century. [DELHI 1773]

انفاس الخواص

Anfās al-khawāṣṣ.

A commentary on an abridgement of فصوص الحكم made by the commentator himself, Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī (d. 1058/1648, see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 175, Bankipore Catalogue XIII 69). The commentary is divided into 80 (according to the Bankipore Catalogue 81) sections called انفاس.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى لا حمد لما سواه وليس الختار الا اياه الخ

The fragmentary condition of the first few leaves precludes the possibility of reproducing the passage in which the author names his book; the title is, however, given in the same hand on the front fly-leaf, while a much later hand has added the author's name. The 1st نفس is on fol. 5*a*, the 2nd on fol. 8*a*, the 3rd on fol. 12*a* (?), the 79th on fol. 222*a*, and the 80th on fol. 223*b*.

النصف الأوّل من الفتوحات المكّيّة

al-Niṣf al-auwal min al-Futūḥāt al-Makkīyaḥ.

A fine copy of the first 248 chapters of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's encyclopaedia of theosophical doctrine, الفتوحات المكية. As the author himself states, the greater part of this work was revealed to him during his circumambulation of the Ka'baḥ at Mecca, and it was completed in 629/1231. For a lengthy analysis of the contents of this book see Ahlwardt III 26–8.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اوجد الأشياء عن عدم وعدمه الخ

After a preface explaining the circumstances of the composition of the work, the author enumerates the 559 chapters into which it is divided. The title is given by the author on fol. 5*a* as follows:

رسالة الفتوحات المكية فى معرفة الاسرار المالكية والملكيّة

End:

الباب فى معرفة الشرب الذوق بين مقام الشرب والرىّ مثل القضيّة بين النشر والطىّ ان الحقوق التى للحق قآئمة عليك فاحذر اذا ما كنت فى الغى

al-Futūḥāt al-Makkīyaḥ.

A somewhat careless copy of chapters 297–360 of the same work, comprising the greater part of the fourth فصل.

A seal dated 1114/1702–3 on fol. 1*a*.

1284

Foll. 388; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; clear naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten and water-stained; bottom margins mended throughout, sometimes obliterating the last line of the text; 18th century. [DELHI 1826]

al-Futūḥāt al-Makkīyaḥ.

A late copy of chapters 294–360 of the same work, comprising the greater part of the fourth فصل.

1285

Foll. 390; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; clear naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten and water-stained; bottom margins mended throughout; 18th century. [DELHI 1827]

al-Futūḥāt al-Makkīyaḥ.

A late copy, by the same hand as the preceding number, of chapters 361–461 of the same work, comprising the last fifth of the fourth فصل and the whole of the fifth فصل.

1286

Foll. 108–112; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 23–30; ugly naskhī; margins damaged and mended; 18th century. [DELHI 63*h*]

Five leaves containing the headings and short extracts from chapters 421, 558, 428, 427, 425, 426, 429, 431, 432, 434–6, 441–3 of the same work. The manuscript is incomplete, breaking off with the words ان المعارف.

الاعلام باشارات اهل الالهام al-I'lām bi-ishārāt ahl al-ilhām.

A collection of sayings on various religious and mystical subjects, attributed for the most part to unnamed authors and compiled by Ibn [al-]'Arabī. The work is divided into the following sections:

باب فى الروايت [sic]	Fol. 36*b*[11]
باب فى السماع	Fol. 36*b*[25]
باب فى الكلام	Fol. 37*a*[20]
باب فى التوحيد	Fol. 37*b*[15]

الإسراء الى مقام الأسراء

al-Isrā' ilā maqām al-asrā'.

An imperfect copy of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's mystical interpretation of Muḥammad's "night-journey" (see Qur'ān xvii 1). This معراج had already been made a theme for meditation and personal experimentation by the Ṣūfīs, notably by Abū Yazīd al-Biṣṭāmī; and it is this theme that Ibn [al-]'Arabī develops and systematises in the present treatise.

Beginning:

قال العبد المقترف المعترف...ابو عبد الله محمد بن على العربى...الحمد لله الذى سلخ نهاره من ليله المظلم...فانى قصدت معاشر الصوفية اهل المعارج القلبية والمقامات الروحانية...فى هذا الكتاب ...المترجم بكتاب الاسراء الى مقام الاسرى [sic] اختصار ترتيب الرحلة من العالم الكونى الى المقام الالهى الخ

The work is written in rhymed prose and verse, and is divided into the following sections:

Fol. 86*b*	باب سفر القلب
Fol. 87*b*	باب عين اليقين
Fol. 88*a*	باب صفة الروح الكلى

الجلال والجمال

al-Jalāl wa'l-jamāl.

A short treatise by Ibn [al-]'Arabī expounding his theosophic doctrine of the perfection (كمال), majesty (جلال) and beauty (جمال) of God. The title is given at the foot of fol. 15*a*:

كتاب الجلال والجمال من كلام الشيخ...محى الدين ابي عبد الله محمد بن على بن محمد بن العربى الحاتمى الطائى قدس الله روحه

This is evidence that the present treatise is indeed from the pen of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, and not, as Ahlwardt speculates (III 78), perhaps of al-Qōnawī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله العظيم جلاله لظهور جماله القريب فى دنوه...اما بعد فان الجلال واكمال [sic] مما اعتنى بهما المحققون العالمون بالله من اهل التصوف الخ

On fol. 17*b* this heading is given: [sic] اشارات الحلال. On fol. 18*a* the author refers to his own كتاب العين, while at the foot of that page and on fol. 18*b* he quotes from his own poetry.

End:

فهذا بعض ما فى الجلاله [sic] من الجلاله [sic] وقد [...] الحرص الذى اعطاه الوقت والحمد الله [sic] تم كتاب الجلاله [sic] لحمد [sic] الله ومنه وعونه والحمد الله [sic] وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه وسلم

There is possibly a lacuna after fol. 18.

رسالة كنه ما لا بدّ منه

Risālaḥ Kunh mā lā budd minh.

A copy of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's treatise on what things the Ṣūfī must do and believe. The treatise is divided into a number of sections, each of which is introduced with the words ومما لا بدّ منه.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والعاقبة للمتقين وصلى الله على سيّدنا محمدٍ وآلهِ وسلّم سالت ايّها المريدُ عن كنه ما لا بُدَّ منه فاجَبْتُك فى هذه الاوراق على ما سالتَ والله ولي التوفيق اعلم وفقنا الله تعالى وايّاك فيما يرضيه اَلّا القرب من الله لا يُعلم الا بتعريفه اِيّانا بذلك الخ

ومما لا بُدّ منه حسن الظن بالناس اجمعين الخ Fol. 2*b*[3]

ومما لا بُدّ منه الصّمتُ الّا عن ذكر الله وتلاوة القران الخ Fol. 2*b*[6]

ماهية القلب

Māhīyaḥ al-qalb.

A treatise by Ibn [al-]'Arabī on the human heart and the means of perfecting and spiritualising it.

Beginning:

الحمد لله القديم العظيم الكريم الرحيم خالق الارواح وفالق الاصباح ومسخر الرياح ومصور الاشباح الذى اوجد العالم ودبر فاحكم وقدر فحكم فعافى واسقم احمده مع كل حامد بعدد كل متحرك وجامد على الدوام والاوابد ثم اصلى على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه وسلم رايتك اصلحك الله تعالى متطلعًا نحو الاحاطة بماهية القلب على نهج الاستفادة ورايت كثيرا من العلماء المشهورين بالفهم واليقين فى الفضل اجابوا لما سُئلوا عنه باجوبة اقرب الى تقدير الاشكال فيه من رفعه عنه ولم احمل ما وجدته منهم على نقص فيهم وان كان الكمال المحض لمستحقه تعالى ولكن ناولت هذا على عدم اهلية السائل المستحق فى مقابلته المنع الصريح او الدفع بجواب الخ

The work is divided into thirty-nine حلل, enumerated by the author in his exordium, and subsequently marked in the text as فصول:

فصل اعلم . . ان صفة القلب عبارة عن مسمى مختلف الخ Fol. 266*b*

فصل ان تجد الاكثر قد صار معك لم يسمع الخ Fol. 272*a*

. . . . . .

فصل ان من الانبياء . . . من يتصل به الوحى فى عالم النوم الخ Fol. 280*b*

فصل واعلم ان الانسان الكامل فى صفاته عبارة عن ثلاثة عوالم الخ Fol. 281*b*

End:

وهذا هو علم الطريقة جعلنا الله تعالى واياك ممن انعم عليه بجواذب الالطاف فطهر ذاته من رذايل الاخلاق وقبايح الاوصاف وفقنا لمعاملته ومعاما[..] بالعدل والانصاف وعرفنا اهل ولايته وخواص حضرته كما عرف رجال الاعراف فنفع بكتابنا هذا ما اتصل به من خلقه واعانه على فهم مضمونه ومطاوى اسراره والقيام بواجب حقه وبصّره الحق بنور اليقين وجعل من المتقين السابقين والصديقين والشهداء والصالحين برحمته علينا وعلى كافة المسلمين والحمد لله على نعمايُه والشكر على آلايُه وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد وآله وصحبه وسلم امين

Loth conjectures (p. 179) that this work is identical with رسالة القلب, noted by Ḥ. Kh. (III 6279) as having been addressed to Fakhr al-Dīn al-Rāzī (d. 606/1209). He then concludes that there is a lacuna in the manuscript before him. This conclusion is proved by the present copy to be false; while such details as Ḥ. Kh. gives make it hazardous to conjecture such an identity.

مقام القربة

Maqām al-qurbaḥ.

A short treatise by Ibn [al-]'Arabī (whose name is, however, not mentioned in this copy) on the nature of the mystical station of nearness to God, and the manner of its attainment. The title of the work is given at the foot of fol. 30*a*:

يتلوه كتاب القربه [sic] ان شا الله تعالى

It is identical with the work described by Ahlwardt (III 51) as كتاب مقام القربة, and this is the title given by Ḥ. Kh.

Beginning:

المعرفة
al-Ma'rifaḥ.

A somewhat discursive work consisting of a series of discussions called مسائل on theological and mystical matters. The colophon attributes this work to Ibn [al-]'Arabī:

انتهى ذلك بعون الله تعا وقوته سنه ١١٦٤ هذه رسالة المعرفة للشيخ الكامل...محي الملة والدين العربى قدس سره العزيز بيد فقير سيد عزيز الله الرضوى البخارى فى يوم الاربعاء خامس شهر شعبان المعظم فى شاه جهاناباد

From internal evidence it does not appear possible either to confirm or to reject the copyist's statement.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى حجبنا به عنه غير ان نعرف له كنه بدا نورا فاستتر عن الابصار بنوره وظهر فاحتجب عن البصاير بظهوره فاندرج النور فى النور وتبطن الظهور فى الظهور فلا يقع بصر الا عليه ولا يخرج خارج الا منه ولا ينتهى قاصد الا اليه فيا اولى الالباب اين الغيبة والحجاب ومن كانت عينه حجابا عليه فلا محجوب ولا حجاب مسئلة فى معنى قوله سبحان الله اعلم ان هذا الذكر يفتح للذاكر به ان الله تعالى وراء كل تنزيه الخ

The author first treats of questions relating to توحيد, and then passes on to more strictly mystical matters. Sayings of Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī are frequently quoted and discussed.

End:

مسئلة سئل الامام على كرم الله وجهه واعاد علينا من بركاته هل عرفت الله بمحمد ام عرفت محمد [sic] بالله فقال لو عرفت الله بمحمد لما عبد [sic] الله ولكان محمد اوثق من الله فى نفسى ولو عرفت محمدا بالله لما احتجب الى وسول الله ولكن الله عز وجل عرفنى نفسه كما شاء بلا كيف وبعث محمدا صلعم بتبليغ احكام القران وبيان مفصلات الاسلام والايمان واثبات الحجة وتقويم الناس على منهج الاخلاص فصدّقته بما جاء به من عنده

مواقع النجوم
Mawāqi' al-nujūm.

This work on Ṣūfī discipline was composed by Ibn [al-]'Arabī, as he himself explains (foll. 161 a–b), in the year 595/1199 for Abū Muḥammad 'Abd Allāh Badr ibn 'Abd Allāh al-Ḥabashī al-Ḥarrānī, on the occasion of his migration from Murcia to Almeria. A full account of its contents is given by Flügel (III 346–8) and Ahlwardt (III 50–1).

Beginning:

الحمد لله وحده والصلوة والسلام على سيدنا محمد نبيه قال العبد الفقير...الحمد لله الحى القيوم المقسم بمواقع النجوم...اما بعد فيا ذا لعقل السليم وللمتصف باوصاف الكمال والتمنى فانى وضعت هذه الرسالة الموسومة بمواقع النجوم ومطالع اهلة الاسرار والعلوم لكل مسترشد فهيم الخ

الميم والواو والنون

al-mīm wa'l-wāw wa'l-nūn.

A short treatise by Ibn [al-]'Arabī (whose name is not given in this copy) on the theosophical significance of the three letters mīm, wāw and nūn. The title is given at the foot of fol. 41*b*:

يتلوه كتاب الميم والوا [sic] والنون انشا [sic] الله تعالى

Beginning:

الحمد لله فاتح الغيوب وشارح الصدور وعاطف الاعجاز على الصدور...اما بعد فهذا منزل شريف يعطيك من المعارف الالٰهيّة الوجود الوجودية الخ

This is an imperfect copy of the treatise entitled (according to Ahlwardt III 70):

كتاب الحروف الثلاثة التى انعطفت اواخرها على اوايلها

After fol. 42 there is a lacuna; fol. 43 is misplaced, and should follow fol. 47; fol. 48 should precede fol. 44.

نسبة الخرقة

Nisbaḥ al-khirqaḥ.

This treatise, which has no title in the present copy, was written by Ibn [al-] 'Arabī for his pupil Aḥmad ibn 'Alī al-Ashbīlī (fol. 4*a*), and gives the pedigree of the Ṣūfī saints from whom the author derived the خرقة or mystic robe. For a full account of this work see Loth 177–8.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام العارف المحقق الكامل...بن العربى...الحمد لله الذى خلع على عباده اهل العناية اسماءه الحسنى...امّا بعد فاقول...الحمد لله الذى هدانا لهذا وما كُنّا لنهتدى لولا ان هدانا الله الخ

الرسالة البرزخية

al-Risālaḥ al-barzakhīyaḥ.

A short description, ascribed in the colophon to Ibn [al-]'Arabī, of the دار البرزخ or "intermediate world", the world in which departed spirits await the day of resurrection, on which they will be finally translated to دار الاخرة. The author fortifies his theories with quotations from the Qur'ān.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اخترع الاعيان وابدع الاكوان واوجد البرازخ بحقيقة الانسان والصلوة والسلام على سيد العدنان محمد واله وصحبه المشيدين لمراتب العرفان القايمين باحكام الاسلام والايمان والاحسان والتابعين له باحسان وسلم تسليمًا كثيرا وبعد فهذه نبذة تشتمل على بعض احكام دار البرزخ هو عالم مستقل بين عالم الدنيا وعالم الآخرة وهو مستقر الارواح من حين وجدت المخلوقات الى حين انقراض الارض والسموات الخ

End:

فالحق سبحانه وتعالى كشف حجاب الجسم ثم حجاب النفس ثم حجاب الروح عن اسرارهم واشهدهم حضرة ذاته واسمآئه وصفاته فهم فى كل نفس من الانفاس وكل وقت من الاوقات مشاهدين [sic] لا يغفلون عنه بشئ وذلك كله [...]يايته وهدايته ونسأل الله ان يمنّ علينا بما منّ به على عباده الاخيار المقربين الابرار وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد النبى المختار وعلى اله وصحبه بعدد ساعات الليل والنهار ما دام الفلك الدوار وسلم تسليمًا كثيرا كثيرا وحشرنا تحت لوائه فى شفاعته يوم يعطى هنالك ملكًا كبيرا امين الاكبر

رسالة الغوثية

Risālaḥ al-Ghauthīyaḥ.

A collection of revelations purporting to have been divinely vouchsafed to الغوث الاعظم, i.e. Ibn [al-]'Arabī (see Loth 177). By many authorities this work is ascribed to 'Abd al-Qādir al-Jīlānī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله كاشف الغمة والصلوة والسلام على نبيه محمد خير البرية وعلى آله واصحابه اجمعين اما بعد فقد قال الغوث الاعظم المتوحش [sic] عن غير الله والمستانس بالله تعالى قال الله يا غوث الاعظم فقلت لبيك يا رب الغوث قال كل طور بين الناسوت والملكوت فهى شريعة الخ

The treatise continues in the form of a dialogue between the author and God.

End:

الحواشى المعلقة على الغوثية
al-Hawāshī 'l-mu'allaqaḥ 'alā 'l-Ghauthīyaḥ.

An incomplete copy, lacking probably one folio at the beginning, of an anonymous commentary on Ibn [al-]'Arabī's رسالة الغوثية. This commentary is different from that described by Loth (p. 177), and consists rather of notes on points taken from the text of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, for the text is not given in full.

Beginning:

قيل الذكر الانساني الناسوتي لا اله الا الله والذكر العلي الملكوتي الله الله الخ

The following is the first passage annotated in this copy:

قوله ما ظهرت الخ فانه موصوفٌ بصفاتي من السمع والبصر والعلم والكلام والحيوة والارادة الخ

The words here explained occur very early in the treatise. The present annotator refers to other commentators, but not by name (see fol. 18*b* قال بعض الشارحين; fol. 20*a* قال بعض الشراح), and quotes Persian verses.

End:

قوله وكمال المعراج ما زاغ البصر وما طغى قوله تعالى ان الى ربك المنتهى...معراج اخص الخواص الى الذات المُتَجلّي فى الذرات بعدم التقيد الى تعين مخصُوصٍ وهذا هو الْمَعنيُّ من قوله تعالى ما زاغ البصر وما طغى والمعراج الحاصل للمصلين فى الصلوة لايح عن هذه المعارج الثلثة تمت الحواشى المعلقة علي الغوثية الخ

An anonymous commentary, lacking a title, on al-Shajaraḥ al-Nu'mānīyaḥ of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, predictions for forthcoming events in Egypt (cf. Ahlwardt III 552).

Beginning:

الحمد لله واهب الاسرار لاهل الاستبصار وصلاته وسلامه على نبيه المختار وعلى اله وصحبه وسلم الاخبار صلاة وسلامًا يدومان الى يوم القرار اما بعد فانى ذاكر فى هذه الرسالة بعض اسرار تلمحتها فى دائرة الشجرة النعمانية التى القها قطب دائرة التحقيق الشيخ الاكبر محي الدين بن عربي... سماها شجرة لما يحدث من التشاجر فى مصر المخصوصة بها الخ

شفاء العليل

Shifā' al-'alīl.

Ibn [al-]'Arabī's account of the Ṣūfī genealogy of 'Abd al-Qādir ibn Abī Ṣāliḥ al-Jīlī (d. 561/1166, see No. 1242).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى هدانا لهذا...والصلوة والسلام على اكرم الرسل...وبعد اقول وانا محمد بن على بن محمد العربى الحاتمى من ذرية عبد الله بن حاتم الطائى هذه رسالة سمّيتها شفاء العليل باشتغال كلمة التهليل فى طريق الشيخ الاجل الاكمل ابو الوقت الشيخ عبد القادر بن ابى صالح بن عبد الله الجيلى وابيّن فيها اوّلا نسبة لبس الخرقة الشريفة من هذا الطريق المنيف الشريف وطرق اخر لكن اقدم هذه السلسلة الشريفة على ساير السلاسل التى وصلت الىّ لانها هى التى اولا جاهدت فيها وانزلت بها علىّ انوار الخ

The author traces the lineage back through the famous Ṣūfīs of the third–sixth centuries to 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib, the Prophet Muḥammad, and Gabriel. On fol. 28*b* the following passage occurs:

وليس من شروط لباس هذه الخرقة والصحبة ان لا يلبسها الا عن واحد هذا لم يشرط احد بل ثبت عن بعضهم انه قال من اراد ان يرى...وانظر فى رسالة القشيرى عند ذكر من ذكر منهم وما يذكر رجلا الا ويقول صحب فلانا وفلانا ولبس الخرقة...ولم يقل بذلك احد من الناس

The identical words form the concluding paragraphs of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's نسبة الخرقة (see No. 1300). Then follow rules for the neophyte (مريد) concerning the place and occasion to be chosen for performing devotions, and specimens of prayers with rules for their enunciation, and their use in leading up to ecstasy.

End:

تذكرة الخواص وعقيدة اهل الاختصاص
Tadhkiraḥ al-khawāṣṣ wa-'aqīdaḥ ahl al-ikhtiṣāṣ.

A slightly imperfect but good copy of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's harmony of Ṣūfism with orthodox Islām.

Beginning:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم ابتدى وبنوره اهتدى ولا حول و(لا) قوة الا بالله العلى العظيم قل الحمد لله على ما الهم وان علمنا ما لم نكن نعلم وكان فضل الله علينا عظيما وصلى الله على السيد الاكرم المُعْطَى جوامع الكلم بالموقف الاعظم وسلم تسليما اما بعد فقد سالنى من تعز علىّ مسالتُه وتنجح لدىّ طلبتُه ان اقيد له معتقدى وما ادين الله به من التوحيد والتفريد وتجريد التفريد الخ

فصل ونومن بان الجنة والنار مخلوقتان قد خلقتا وهما وما فيهما باقيتان الخ Fol. 129*b*

Fol. 72 is an interpolation, and consists of a quotation from al-Futūḥāt al-Makkīyaḥ of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, ch. 358; fol. 89 is likewise an interpolation, beginning:

قال شيخنا وامامنا امام المحققين ومقتدى المدققين الخواجة پارسا فى كتابه المسمى بالتحقيقات ما نصه انچه در مصحف نوشته است الخ

End:

وعند التناهى يقصر المتطاول ولنقبض الان عنان القلم بعد السلام الاتم الاعم الاخص على ممد الهمم من خزاين الجود والكرم بالقيل الاقوم محمد وصحبه وسلم

Then follows a poem, after which we read:

والحمد لله وحده وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه وسلم تسليما كثيرا وحسبنا الله ونعم الوكيل ولا حول ولا قوة الا بالله العلى العظيم

Tadhkiraḥ al-khawāṣṣ wa-'aqīdaḥ ahl al-ikhtiṣāṣ.

Another copy of the same work.

This is a late copy, and the correct order of the folios has been disturbed by the sewing. After fol. 15 there is clearly a lacuna, and it is probable that foll. 29–149 should be inserted there. The work begins as in the preceding copy, but only a few of the headings have been preserved:

فصل تذكر فيه اصول قواعد الايمان (= fol. 90*b*) Fol. 37*a*

فصل النكتة الموخرة والدرة المدخرة (= fol. 95*a*) Fol. 49*b*

فصل فمن ذلك نكتة تمام الانباء (= fol. 105*a*) Fol. 75*b*

التجلّيات الالهية

al-Tajallīyāt al-Ilāhīyaḥ.

An incomplete copy of Ibn [al-]'Arabī's book of Divine revelations. Neither title nor author is mentioned in this copy.

Beginning:

عقلة المستوفز

'Uqlaḥ al-mustaufiz.

A treatise on the order of created things by Ibn [al-]'Arabī, in rhymed prose and verse.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الواهب الذى افتتح وجود السوى فى الارواح المهيمة المخلوقة بل المبتدعة من فيض السجات وعيّن منهم العنصر الاعظم بالمقام الذى لا يقبل الحركات الخ

The work is divided into a number of chapters:

For other copies see Ahlwardt 2923–4, Bankipore 889, Cairo VII 15, 380, Cureton-Rieu 886[24]. Ahlwardt asserts that this is not identical with [sic] عقلة المستوفر mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. IV 8215. His assertion, however, is erroneous, being based on the fact that Berlin 2923 omits the word الواهب in the exordium. Ḥ. Kh. gives the beginning thus: الحمد لله الوهاب, and الوهاب is almost certainly a slip for الواهب.

الياء وهو كتاب الهو
al-Yā' wa-huwa kitāb al-huwa.

A fanciful disquisition by Ibn [al-]'Arabī (not named in this copy) on the esoteric interpretation of the letter yā' and other letters of the Arabic alphabet, with special reference to the mystical significance of the pronouns huwa and ana.

Beginning:

الحمد الله [sic] حمد الضمایر المخصوص بالسرایر
الموثر فى الظواهر والصّلوة والسّلام على محمد الداعى
من مقام البصایر وعلى اله الا والاخر [sic] فهذا
كتاب اليا وهو كتاب الهوا [sic] كتبنا یة [sic]
الى اهل الاشارات والحقایق الخ

On fol. 64*b* the author quotes his [sic] كتاب الالف والقاف وهو كتاب اليا (? = Ahlwardt 2971). On fol. 66*a* we read من مناجات الهو يا هو لما غيبنتا الخ; and on fol. 66*b* ومن مناجات الانا تاديبت [sic] يا انا الخ

The author explains the nature and origin of the work on fol. 66*a*:

فحقق نظرك فى هذا الكتاب فانه يلوح لك من ورائه اسرار رفيعه [sic] كثيره [sic] سترها اهل طريقنا غيرة منهم على الكشف وما لوحنا بهذا القدر منها الا عن غلبة

By غلبة the Ṣūfīs mean an overwhelming inward force which compels action with or without personal consent.

End:

فما لك لا يفهم وقل رب ردنى [sic] علما ومن مناجات الان [sic] ما ابى [sic] قد تحقق بك منى [sic] فلا صبر لى عنى الى فانه لا ان لى الانانك وانى لى ليس ابي [sic] فان الان لك ولى بك

A fragment of a Ṣūfī work, evidently by Ibn [al-]'Arabī. Begins:

لا شرقية ولا غربية كذلك شجرة التوحيد لا سماوية ولا ارضية ولا عرشية ولا كرشية [sic] ولا فوقية ولا تحتية ولا علوية ولا سفلية انفصلت عن الخلق وطارت فى طلب الحق الخ

The work is divided into فصول, unnamed, as follows:

فصل ان شمس التوحيد من فلك التفريد على ارض قلبك اضمحلت رسوم نفسك الخ Fol. 1*a*10

فصل اعلم ان هذه الشجرة لا اله الا الله شجرة السعادة ان غرستها فى منبت التصديق الخ Fol. 1*b*3

فصل من استظل بظل [sic] هذه الشجرة فقد ظفر ومن لا فقد خسر الخ Fol. 1*b*18

فصل لا اله الا الله هي الكلمة العَالية الشريفة الخ Fol. 1*b*21

فصل هذا كلمة نتيجها معرفة الوحدانية وثمرها الاقرار بالفردانية الخ Fol. 2*a*4

فصل عبدي خلقت الاشياء كلها من اجلك وخلقتك من اجلى الخ Fol. 2*a*12

فصل عبدي انا الذى افعل مَا شاء [sic] واحكم ما اريد الخ Fol. 2*a*20

فصل عبدي ليس في الوجود الا انا فلا تشتغل الا بي الخ Fol. 2*b*4

فصل مريد الدنيا كثير ومريد الآخرة كثير ومريد الحق عزيز خطير الخ Fol. 2*b*16

فصل فلا بد لك من بذل نفسك ومحو وجودك الخ Fol. 4*a*8

فصل يا هذا ما دمت مقبلا على غيرنا وملتفتا الى سوايا [sic] الخ Fol. 4*a*15

فصل فان اشرق نور هذه الكلمة على جزء من اجزائك الخ Fol. 4*b*12

فصل العالم الفضلى كلمة نور والعالم العدلي كلمة ظلمة الخ Fol. 5*b*6

فصل اعلم انا نسألك له ثلثة منازل الخ Fol. 6*a*1

فصل اعلم ان الاولياء لهم اربعة مقامات الخ Fol. 6*a*20

فصل كاشف القلوب يقول لا اله الا الله الخ Fol. 7*a*11

فصل بالله يا اخى هل لك فى هذه السمآء نجم الخ Fol. 7*b*15

فصل عالم النفس وعالم البشرية وعالم الطبع الخ Fol. 7*b*20

فصل اعلم ان هذه التعدد والتنوع والتغير فى احوالك يرجع [sic] اليك الخ Fol. 8*a*14

فصل فاذا وصلت الى عالم الفناء اتصل بك تصرف الحق الخ Fol. 8*b*[21]

فصل فاذا وصلت الى عالم الروح برز لك نعت القدم الخ Fol. 9*a*[6]

فصل ليس له كل فيقال بعض الخ Fol. 9*a*[13]

فصل فاذا وصلت الى عالم السرّ كوشفت باسرار الغيب الخ Fol. 9*a*[16]

فصل التوحيد هو البداية والنهاية الخ Fol. 9*b*[8]

From these details it will be seen that the work consists for the main part of pseudo-Divine revelations. It is possible that this may be a copy of the Shajaraḥ al-kawn of Ibn [al-]'Arabī (cf. Cairo VII 14, 529; printed Būlāq 1292).

Ends:

لطائف الاعلام فى اشارات اهل الالهام

Laṭā'if al-a'lām fī ishārāt ahl al-ilhām.

A somewhat careless and very mutilated copy of the dictionary of Ṣūfī technical terms ascribed alternatively to Ibn [al-] 'Arabī (Dozy I 86), Ṣadr al-Dīn al-Qōnawī (Ahlwardt III 258) and Jamāl al-Dīn al-Qāshānī (Loth 181). Ḥ. Kh. mentions two works with almost identical titles (V 315): of these, the former, which has الافهام for الالهام, is evidently to be identified with the present work, but of this no author is named; the latter, which has the exact title of the present work, is ascribed to al-Kāshānī (i.e. al-Qāshānī), but no extract from it is given, so that it is impossible to identify it. Brockelmann is mistaken in treating the work under separate authors (I 450, II 204), as all known copies are seemingly identical in contents. The present copy bears no indication of authorship.

Beginning:

الحمد لله وسلام على عباده الذين اصطفى... وبعد فانى لما رايت كثير [sic] من علماء الرسوم ربما استقصى عليهم فهم ما يتضمنه كتبنا وكتب غيرنا...وسميته بكتاب اللطايف [sic] الاعلام فى اشارات اهل الالهام الخ

A list of terms to be explained follows (foll. 2*a*–5*b*); then the dictionary proper begins on fol. 6*a* with باب الالف.

End:

مشرع الخصوص الى معانى النصوص

Mashra' al-khuṣūṣ ilā ma'ānī 'l-Nuṣūṣ.

A detailed commentary on the preceding work by 'Alī ibn Aḥmad ibn 'Alī ibn Aḥmad al-Mahā'imī, who died in 835/1431 (see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 147; Bankipore Handlist XIII 53). This commentary (see fol. 104*a*) was completed in 815/1412.

Beginning:

سبحانك اللهم وبحمدك يا من وجوده نور سموات الاسماء والصفات...وبعد فيقول...على بن احمد بن على بن احمد...لما كان كتاب النصوص... مشرقا بشمس هذا العلم...ولم ار له شرحا...فالجانى [sic] الامر الازلى والتوفيق الالهى ان اعلق به شرحًا ...القبه مشرع الخصوص الى معاني النصوص الخ

The commentator in a long introduction discusses the doctrine of توحيد, illustrating his discourse with quotations from the following works: شرح اسماء الله of Fakhr al-Dīn al-Rāzī (fol. 4*a*), عوارف المعارف of Shihāb al-Dīn al-Suhrawardī (fol. 5*a*), الرسالة of al-Qushairī (fol. 5*b*), تفسير الحقائق of al-Sulamī (fol. 7*a*), قوت القلوب of Abū Ṭālib al-Makkī (fol. 8*b*), منازل السائرين of al-Harawī (fol. 9*b*), التعرف of al-Kalābādhī (fol. 10*a*), شرح الصحائف of al-Samarqandī (fol. 10*b*), and انوار التنزيل of al-Baiḍawī (fol. 10*b*). The commentary proper begins on fol. 17*a*:

الحمد لله الحمد تعظيم الذات بما فيها من محاسن الصفات الخ

The commentator concludes with a وصية (fol. 203*b*).

End:

وذكره سيما عند وقوع الشبه فان فى ذلك غاية الانتفاع نفعنا الله واياكم بهدا الكتاب وجعلنا واياكم من اولى الالباب وطلاب اليقين والصواب واهل المعرفة وفضل الخطاب وجعلنا ولكم [sic] اليه زلفى وحسن ماب

A collection of advices on matters pertaining to the mystical life, attributed to Abū 'l-Ḥasan 'Alī ibn 'Abd Allāh al-Shādhilī, the founder of the Shādhilī order, who died in 656/1258 (see No. 1211; Shadharāt al-dhahab V 278; Encyclopaedia of Islām IV 246–7). This work appears to be a compilation by one of his disciples.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام...ابو الحسن على الشاذلى رضى الله عنه اعلم ايها السالك انك اذا اردتَ ان يكون لك نصيب مما لاولياّ الله تع فعليك برفض الناس جُملةً الا مَن يدلك على الله تعالى الخ

This section concludes (fol. 160*a*):

والى ذلك الاشارة بقوله جل وعلا فيما يَحكي عنه جبريل عليه السلام لرسول الله صلعم الاخلاصُ سِرٌّ من سرّى استودعتُه مَن احببتُ من عبادى

Ten short passages follow (foll. 160*a*[11]–162*b*[3]), each being introduced by the phrase وقال رضى الله عنه: and these are followed by three more short extracts, the first two being prayers attributed to al-Shādhilī, and the third (وعما نقل عنه) another advice.

End:

وترفع بها قدرى انك على كل شىء قدير وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد وعلى اله وصحبه وسلم امين

No other copy has been traced.

Foll. 1–11; $9\frac{3}{4} \times 7$ in.; ll. 25; small, clear naskhī; slightly worm-eaten and water-stained; fol. 1 somewhat damaged; fol. 2 should be placed after fol. 11; rubrications; 17th century. [DELHI 1871*a*]

الحكم العطائية

al-Ḥikam al-'Aṭā'īyaḥ.

Aphorisms of the well-known Ṣūfī Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh al-Iskandarī, who died in 709/1309 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab III 19).

Beginning:

قال الشيخ...بن عطاء [sic] الشاذلي رضي الله عنه من علامة الاعتماد علي العمل نقصان الرجاء عند وجود الزلل ارادتك للتجريد مع اقامة الله اياك الخ

Each passage is introduced with the words وقال رضي الله عنه.

End (fol. 10*b*):

يا من تجلي بكمال بهايه فتحققت عظمته الاسرار كيف تخفي وانت الظاهر ام كيف تغيب وانت الرقيب الحاضر والله الموفق للصواب والحمد لله رب العالمين

There follows a زيادة which begins:

قال الشيخ وجدت فى بعض النسخ المعتمدة زيادة على ما هو مشهور من الحكم للشيخ...بن عطّا الله وهذه الزياده لم يشرحها الشيخ بن عباد وموضعها بين قوله وان يجعلنا من اهل الفهم عنه ولا يجعلنا من الغافلين الخ

The section ends (fol. 2*b*):

وجعلنا ممن نصره وهداه ولسبيل المرسلين اراه والي كنفه آواه...وصلي الله علي سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه اجمعين تمت الزياده والحمد لله وحده

Another short section follows, which begins:

وقال رضي الله عنه فى بعض مناجاته بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم اللهم اجبر مصيبتنا فيك بك الخ and ends:

وحقق امنا ورجانا فيك وصلى الله علي سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه وسلم تسليما كثيرا دايما ابدا الي يوم الدين يا رب العالمين امين امين امين

تثبيت معالى الهمم بتبيين معانى الحكم

Tathbīt ma'ālī 'l-himam bi-tabyīn ma'ānī 'l-Ḥikam.

A commentary on الحكم العطائية of Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh al-Iskandarī. On the front fly-leaf the following note in a later hand occurs:

تثبيت معالى الهمم تبيين [sic] معانى الحكم للامام العلّامة النحوى اللغوى الصوفى محمد بن الصايغ عبد الرحمن الخ

If this ascription is correct—and it receives no confirmation from the text itself—the author of the present work is Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Ṣā'igh Shams al-Dīn al-Naḥawī, who was born about 708/1308, wrote several well-known grammatical works and commentaries (including a commentary on القصيدة المضرية of al-Būṣīrī, see Brockelmann I 267), and died in Sha'bān 776/1375 (Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 248).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فتح البصيرة لفهم معاني الحكم وعلم الانسان ما لم يعلم... وبعد فان كتاب الحكم تاليف... احمد... بن عطاء الله الاسكندراني من اجل ما صنف فى تحقيق مقام التوحيد... وهذا شرح لالفاظه ومعانيه... وسميته تثبيت معالي الهمم بتبيين معاني الحكم

The commentary begins:

من علامة الاعتماد ان الاستناد والاتكال على العمل الصالح الذى ياتى العبد نقصان الرجاء منه عند وجود الزلل فاذا نقص رجاوه علم ان عمله معلول الخ

The commentary is a very full one, and the author does not appear to quote from any of the numerous other commentaries on this work: this is therefore some support for the ascription of the commentary to Muḥammad ibn al-Ṣā'igh, for it would be the earliest of the commentaries preserved (see Brockelmann II 118). This copy is not quite complete, and the text of Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh breaks off at a point which occurs on fol. 10*b* of No. 1333.

End:

يا من استوى برحمانيته فصار العرش غيبا فى عرشية ذاته اشار بهذا الي معني قوله تعالي الرحمن علي العرش استوى ويقيم من هذا الاستواء القهر والغلبة... فلا جرم لما كان الحق تعالي مستويا برحمانيته علي عرشه الذى العوالم كلها فى طلبه فلا ظهور اذا للعرش ولا للعوالم وانما الظهور [التام]

No other copy appears to be noted.

Foll. 12–164; $9\frac{7}{8} \times 7$ in.; ll. 25; small, clear naskhī; rubrications; the text written in red; some marginal notes; slightly worm-eaten; copyist, Khiḍr ibn 'Umar ibn Salmān al-Ḥimyarī; dated 30 Rajab 955/1548. [DELHI 1871*b*]

شرح الحكم العطائية

Sharḥ al-Ḥikam al-'Aṭā'īyaḥ.

The commentary of Muḥammad ibn Ibrāhīm ibn 'Abbād al-Nafzī[1] (d. 796/1394, see Brockelmann II 118) on the preceding work.

[1] In this and the following copy he is called al-Niffarī.

Beginning:

قال العبد الفقير الي الله تعالي . . . محمد ابن [sic] ابرهيم بن عَبّاد النِّفَّرِى [sic] . . . الحمد لله المتفرد بالعظمة والجلال . . . اما بعد فانا لما راينا كتاب الحكم المنسوب الى الشيخ . . . بن عطا الله الاسكندرى . . . اخذنا في وضع تنبيهٍ يكون كالشرح لبعض معانيه الظاهره الخ

On the front fly-leaf (fol. 12*a*) a later nasta'līq hand has added a short account of Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh, and of this work and the various commentaries written thereon. The commentary is full and detailed.

كيف تخفي واتت الظاهر ام كيف تغيب وانت الرقيبُ الحاضر والله الموفق وبه اسْتعين هذا كله بين لا اشكال فيه وقد تقدم معناه غير مَا مرة من كلام المولف رحمه الله تعالى وقد نجز بحمد الله ما اردناه الخ Fol. 164*a*

End:

ونحن نستغفر الله . . . ونرغب اليه . . . واخرجنا على يديه من الظلمات الي النور سيدنا ومولانا محمّد . . . وصلى الله عليه وعلى اله الطيّبين الطاهرين واصحابه . . . وسلام علي المرسلين والحمد لله رب العالمين

Colophon:

وكان الفراغ من نسخه سلخ شهر رجب الفرد من شهور سنة خمس وخمسين وتسعماية والحمد لله وحده الخ

The copyist has added his name in the margin of fol. 164*b*.

For other copies see Ahlwardt 8691–2, Bankipore 901–2, Loth 696[1], etc.

This commentary was printed at Būlāq in 1285/1868 and at Cairo in 1306/1888–9.

Foll. 21–156; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 20; beautiful naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; some folios missing at the end; last folio torn; 17th century. [DELHI 1855*b*]

تبويب شرح الحكم المسمّى بالتنبيه

Tabwīb Sharḥ al-Ḥikam al-musammā bi-'l-Tanbīh.

An imperfect copy, lacking about the last third of the whole work, of a reconstruction of al-Nafzī's commentary on الحكم العطائية of Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh (see No. 1336). The author of this work is 'Alī ibn Ḥusām al-Dīn al-Hindī called al-Muttaqī, who died in 975/1567 (Buhar Catalogue II 46) or 977/1569 (Ahlwardt VII 609) and is otherwise known as the author of an eschatological work entitled تلخيص البيان في علامات مهدى آخر الزمان (see Ahlwardt II 659). The purpose of the present work is to systematise the commentary of al-Nafzī so as to make it a convenient text-book for beginners on the principles of the Ṣūfī discipline. The same author afterwards reconstructed Zarrūq's commentary on the same work, dividing it into the same number of chapters with the same headings (see Berlin 8696).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الملهم بالصواب . . . اما بعد فيقول . . . على بن حسام الدين الهندى . . . هذا تبويب شرح الحكم المسمى بالتنبيه للشيخ . . . ابن عباد قدس الله سره من غير ان ازيد فى كلام الشارح . . . ولا انقص منه الا لفظًا او عبارة يسيرة ذكرها . . . لربط الحكمة اللاحقة بالحكمة السابقة فاترك ذلك لعدم الحاجة اليها وهو نادر جدًّا ثم اذكر ديباجة الشارح . . . بعينها حتى لا اكون تاركا من كتابه شيئا وهى هذه

The author then proceeds to quote the entire preface of al-Nafzī, concluding with the words (=fol. 13*b* of No. 1336):

وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد وآله وصحبه الطيبين الطاهرين وتابعيهم باحسان الى يوم الدين وسلم عليهم كثيرا آمين انتهى ديباجة الشارح . . . ثم نشرع الآن فى تبويب الكتاب الخ

After giving a list of the 30 chapters into which he divides the work, he proceeds:

Fol. 23*a*	باب العلم
Fol. 31*b*	باب التوبة
Fol. 33*b*	باب الاخلاص
Fol. 45*b*	باب حكم تختص بالصلاة
Fol. 50*b*	باب فى العزلة والخمول
Fol. 56*b*	باب فى رعاية الوقت واغتنامه
Fol. 59*b*	باب الذكر
Fol. 61*a*	باب الفكر
Fol. 61*b*	باب الزهد وفضيلته
Fol. 68*a*	باب الفقر والفاقة
Fol. 75*a*	باب رياضة النفس والتحذير عن دسائسها
Fol. 90*a*	باب الاعتدال بين الخوف والرجاء
Fol. 95*b*	باب اداب الدعاء
Fol. 103*b*	باب التسليم لامر الله تعالى وترك الاختيار
Fol. 110*a*	باب الصبر على البلايا والشدائد
Fol. 117*a*	باب ذكر خفايا الطافه تعالى ومننه على العباد
Fol. 126*b*	باب الصحبة
Fol. 129*a*	باب الطمع
Fol. 133*a*	باب التواضع
Fol. 135*b*	باب الاستدراج
Fol. 143*a*	باب الورد والوارد
Fol. 148*a*	باب تفاوت مراتب السالكين مبتديا ومنتهيًا

The titles of the remaining chapters, which have been lost in this copy, are as follows:

باب القبض والبسط؛ باب الانوار ورتبها؛ باب قرب العبد من الله تخلقا وتعلقا؛ باب قرب الله تعالى من المخلوقات وظهوره من الاشياء تعريفا ودلالةً؛ باب فى بعض خصائص العارف؛ باب التفرس والاستدلال بالشيء على الشيء؛ باب الوعظ وشرائط تاثيره فى القلوب؛ باب الشكر؛ خاتمة فى مناجاة المولف رضى الله عنه مع ربه

End:

وهنا حصل لهم التحقق بمقام الفنا والمحو وهذا هو انتهاء سفرهم [....] والترقى فان نزلوا الى سماء الحقوق او ارض الحظوظ فبالاذن والتمكين والر [....]

The work is preceded by an index, compiled alphabetically, of the passages of الحكم العطائية as they occur throughout the book (foll. 18–20).

No other copy appears to be recorded.

Not in Ḥ. Kh.

Foll. 1–17; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 19; cursive nasta'līq; rubrications; some marginal notes; water-stained; first folio torn; 17th century. [DELHI 1855*a*]

An abstract account of the foregoing work, compiled for use with that copy, for references are given in arabic numerals to its original pagination. There is no clue to the authorship of this abstract.

Beginning:

باب[٣] العلم هذا الباب كله فى بيان اداب التعليم والتعلم وبيان احوال العلماء الخ

End:

بيان[١٦٢] فضايل كلام المصنف وتاثيره فى قلوب ممارسيه ومزيد التفات شيخه رضى الله عنهما شيخ[١٦٢] المصنف ابو العباس المرسي وشيخه ابو الحسن الشاذلي رضى الله تعالي عنهم انواع[١٧٠] الفرح بالنعم وما يحمد منها وما يذم

1339

Foll. 157–255; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 19; three hands, the first an ugly nasta'līq, the second an ugly naskhī, the third an elegant nasta'līq; worm-eaten and water-stained; margins torn and repaired; occasional marginal notes, plentiful towards the end; 18th century. [DELHI 63*m*]

A fragment, lacking both beginning and end, of a commentary on الحكم العطائية. Owing to the deficiencies of this copy it is not possible to identify it with any known commentary on the work: it is certainly not that of Ibn al-Ṣā'igh (see No. 1335), Ibn 'Abbād (see Loth 696[1]), or Ibn Zarrūq (see Ahlwardt 8693).

Beginning:

ان نقبل عن سواله (?) مع كماله الذى لا اكمل منه وهو يامر بذلك وقوله اعبد الله ليس هذا لفظ الحديث الخ

The text of الحكم is not clearly marked, and the first passage discussed in this copy appears to be (fol. 1*b*):

ما نفع القلب شيء مثل عزلة يدخل بها ميدان فكره قلت القنع حصول القانع الخ

This passage occurs near the commencement of the work (fol. 1*b* of No. 1333). The pagination after fol. 239 is uncertain, some leaves having been bound in upside-down and in disorder.

End:

. وافهم منا قولهم خصنا بحرا وقف الانبياء بساحله وانه اعراف بالتّقصير لا مطيا وله على انبياء الله وانكان [sic] فى التعبر فروشه فبعد الوقوع يسوغ التاويل

1340

Foll. 219–294; $9\frac{7}{8} \times 7$ in.; ll. 25; small, clear naskhī as far as fol. 287; the remainder in a later naskhī on thinner paper; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten and water-stained; 17th century (foll. 288–294, 18th century). [DELHI 1871*d*]

التنوير فى اسقاط التدبير

al-Tanwīr fī isqāṭ al-tadbīr.

A celebrated work by the same Ibn 'Aṭā' Allāh. The author, who was a violent opponent of Ibn Taimīyah, in this work sets forth the doctrine of absolute surrender to God, especially stressing the divine control of all human actions.

Beginning:

[DELHI 1857*d*]

A discussion of the dilemma, in what respect God can be said to be near to man when he prays, seeing that He is exalted above all creatures. The author of this treatise, as appears from the exordium, is the celebrated theologian Abū 'l-'Abbās Aḥmad ibn 'Abd al-Ḥalīm ibn 'Abd al-Salām ibn Taimīyaḥ, who died in 728/1328 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 80–5, Encyc. of Isl. II 421–3). On fol. 20*a* the following title is given:

مسئلة فى قرب العبد الى الرب وقرب الرب الى العبد وهى من الفوايد

This is, however, no more than the copyist's description of the work, and the true title must be supplied from the author's exordium.

Beginning:

الحمدُ للّهِ نَستعينُهُ وَنَستغفرُهُ ونَستهديه . . . قال الشيخ الامامُ ابو العَباس احمد بن عبد الحليم بن عبد السلم بن تيميه رضي الله عنه فَصْل في الجمع بَينَ عُلو الرب وبَينَ قربه من دَاعيهِ وعَابدهِ فنقول قد وَصف اللّه نفسَهُ في كتابه وعلي لسَانِ نبيهِ بالعلوّ والاستوآء علي العرش الخ

The author quotes passages from the Qur'ān illustrating on the one hand God's exaltation, and on the other His nearness to men. He reviews the doctrines of various sects and schools concerning the matter, and then proceeds (fol. 22*b*) to state his own interpretation.

فصل من تمام الكلام في القُرب وَالرب تعالي لا
Fol. 29*a* يُشغلهُ سَمع عَن سَمع الخ

End:

وَان أُخبر باكثر من ذَلك عَجز عَنهُ لم يحمل مَا لا يطيق وَان كان يحصل لهُ بذلك فتنه لم يُحدثْ بحديث يكون لهُ فتنه فهذا اصلٌ عظيمٌ في تعليم الناسِ ومخاطبَتهم وَالخطاب العام بالنصُوص الذى اشتركُوا في سَماعهَا كالقران وَالحديث المشهُور وَهم مُختلفون في مَعرِفه مَعْنَي ذلِكَ [sic]

شرح الرسالة الكميليّة

Sharḥ al-Risālaḥ al-Kumailīyaḥ.

The commentary of Jamāl al-Dīn 'Abd al-Razzāq al-Kāshī (or al-Qāshānī: d. 730/1330, see Ḥ. Kh. IV 427 and remarks in Bankipore Handlist XIII 63) on an answer alleged to have been given by 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib to Kumail ibn Ziyād on the question: "What is reality (الحقيقة)?" and afterwards written up by the latter.

The title of this work is given in the colophon as شرح الكميلية العلوية; it is identical with رسالة فى بيان الحقيقة مع شرحها described by Ahlwardt (III 260).

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العلمين والصلوة والسلام علي [sic] محمد وآله الطاهرين اما بعد فهذه شرح رسالة كميل بن زياد لامير المومنين علي بن ابي طالب كرم الله وجهه املاه الشيخ عبد الرزاق الكاشى عليه الرحمة والرضوان سال كميل ما لحقيقة [sic] فقال كرم الله وجهه ما لك والحقيقة . . . قال الشارح الحقيقة هنا هي الشيء الثابت الواجب بذاته الخ

The commentator proceeds to analyse the answer in detail.

End:

اطف السراج فقد طلع الصبح اى دع البيان العلمي واترك الحد العقلي واطف نور العقل الذى هو بالنسبة الي الحق كالسراج بالنسبة الي الشمس فقد طلع عليك تباشير نور الحق واوائله التي هي بالنسبة اليه كنسبة نور الصبح الى نور الشمس وقت الاستواء عند الايلاج لا يحتاج الي السراج والله اعلم بحقائق اسراره وصلى الله علي المطهر الاتم محمد وآله وصحبه اجمعين تم شرح الكميليّة العَلَوّية للكاشي قدس سره

العروة لأهل الخلوة والجلوة ٧

al-ʿUrwaḥ li-ahl al-khalwaḥ wa 'l-jalwaḥ.

A manual for the use of Ṣūfīs expounding the doctrine of the Divine Unity and other cardinal beliefs of Islam, and setting forth the true nature of Ṣūfism as an orthodox religion and a right discipline. The author of this rare work is Abū 'l-Makārim Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Simnānī, who died in 740/1339 (Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 125).[1] According to the author's own statement (fol. 1*b*) this work was begun in the mosque of Ṣūfīyābād towards the end of Ramaḍān 720/1320, and was completed (fol. 115*a*) on 23 Muḥarram 721/1321 (cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 197–8). This was the first copy of the work, in the author's own hand; but at the request of Abū 'l-Barakāt Taqī al-Dīn ʿAlī al-Dūsī al-Simnānī the author made another copy (fol. 115*b*), which was completed on 1 Jumādā I 722/1322. It is curious that Ḥ. Kh. in his account of the work should state that it was written in Persian (loc. cit.).

Beginning:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم وبه نستعين وعليه نتوكل وبحمده الواجب على موجود لنعمة الوجود... نرجو ان يجعلنا من الصادقين... وبعد فقد سنح لخاطرى بغتةً يوم الاحد بعد صلوة الصبح الثانى من اعتكافى فى مسجد صوفياباد خداداد العشر الآخر من شهر الله المبارك رمضان سنة عشرين وسبعمائة ان أبوّب بالترتيب... بعض القدسيات الواردة على قلبى... واسمّيه العُروة لاهل الخلوة والجلوة الخ

The work is divided into six chapters, the last containing an account of the author's life and the circumstances of his "conversion" to Ṣūfism.

الباب الاول فى اثبات وجوب وجود الموجد الواجب وجوده ازلاً وابدًا ووحدانيته ونزاهته وذاته وصفاته الخ Fol. 5*b*

الباب الثانى فى التوفيق بين الاقوال المختلفة الواقعة بين الخلق فى الالهيات الخ Fol. 15*b*

الباب الثالث فى تقسيم الاشياء من حيث الحصر وكيفية ظهور الممكنات الخ Fol. 55*a*

الباب الرابع فى تنزيه الحق الواجب وجوده عن جميع ما يختص به الامكان وبطلان الاتحاد والحلول والتناسخ الخ Fol. 71*a*

الباب الخامس فى حقيقة النبوة والولاية وان النبوة افضل من الولاية الخ Fol. 76*b*

مختصر فى علم الاخلاق

Mukhtaṣar fī 'ilm al-akhlāq.

A short tract on ethical philosophy, by the famous theologian and philosopher 'Aḍad al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Aḥmad al-Ījī (d. 756/1355, see H. Kh. I 204, or 754/1353, see Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 174). The present work is known under several titles. In the colophon to this copy it is styled اخلاق عضدى, H. Kh. (loc. cit.) calls it اخلاق عضد الدين, while Ahlwardt (V 10) gives the title الرسالة الشاهية فى علم الاخلاق. The title here given is that which occurs in the exordium of the work itself.

Beginning:

الحمد لله على نواله والصلوة على محمد وآله
اما بعد فهذا مختصر فى علم الاخلاق رتبته على
اربع مقالات الخ

It may be observed that the opening phrase in this copy differs from that of the Berlin manuscript, but is identical with that with which the same author's العقائد العضدية (see Rieu, Supplement to...Arab. MSS. in British Museum 760) opens. H. Kh. in his account of the work does not quote the opening phrase.

Al-Ījī divides his book into four مقالات as follows:

المقالة الاولى فى النظرى منه الخلق ملكه [sic]
Fol. 9*a* يصدر عنها الافعال النفسانية الخ
Fol. 9*a* المقالة الثانية فى حفظ الاخلاق واكتسابها
المقالة الثالثة فى سياسة المنزل والنظر فى امور اربعة
Fol. 9*b* الخ
Fol. 9*b* المقالة الرابعة فى تدبير المدن

End:

واظهار الفرح لفرحهم والغم لغمهم بحيث لا يخرج
الى حد النفاق والحمد لله رب العالمين الخ

شرح اخلاق عضد الدين

Sharḥ Akhlāq 'Aḍad al-Dīn.

A commentary on al-Ījī's tract on ethical philosophy in the foregoing number. No title or indication of authorship is given in this copy, but it is certain that it must be identified with the commentary mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. (I 204) and attributed by him to Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Yūsuf al-Kirmānī, a pupil of al-Ījī, who died in 786/1384 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 294), who is chiefly known for his commentary on the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī (see Brockelmann I 158).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى كرم الانسان وزينه بالفضايل... وبعد فان لكل شىء كمالا وحصوله بحصول صفاته الخاصة...وكمال الانسان بالقوتين العلمية والعملية وقد وجدت كثيرا من الكتب المصنفة فيها اعنى الحكمة العملية...ولم ار فيها مثل ما صنفه المولى الاعظم...عضد الحق والدين...واردت ان اثبت له فوايد...واكتب عليه زوايد...واتفق الفراغ والاتمام مع تمام الايجاز فى الكلام فى بلدة كرمان... فتوسلت به الى عالى حضرت فلان...قال الحمد لله اقول هذا المختصر مشتمل على الحكمة العملية الخ

The commentator proceeds to explain and expand upon the text of al-Ījī, introducing each quotation with the word قال and each comment with اقول, a feature noted by Ḥ. Kh. (loc. cit.).

End:

واظهار الفرح لفرحهم والغم لغمهم بحيث لا يخرج الى حد النفاق والحمد لله رب العالمين الخ

جامع الاسرار ومنبع الانوار

Jāmi' al-asrār wa-manba' al-anwār.

A text-book of Ṣūfī doctrine, showing its essential agreement with orthodox Shī'ite theology, by Ḥaidar ibn 'Alī al-'Ubaidī al-Āmilī. This copy does not bear either title or name of author, except for a notice on the front fly-leaf by a later hand: its opening, however, agrees with that quoted by I'jāz Ḥusain (p. 151). Of this author little appears to be known, except that he was a contemporary of Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan al-Ḥillī (see Buhar Catalogue II 242; d. 771/1369): it may therefore perhaps be conjectured that he is to be identified with Ḥaidar ibn 'Alī al-Shīrāzī (d. 785/1383) mentioned by Ibn al-'Imād (Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 287), who lived at Damascus, but afterwards removed to India, where he died by drowning. He is mentioned in the Persian biographical dictionary entitled مجمع الاولياء (see Ethé 270–3) on foll. 333*b*–335*a* (cf. I.O. MS. 1647) as the last in the chain of Ṣūfīs claiming spiritual descent from Abū Yazīd al-Bīsṭāmī, and in this account the present work is mentioned, together with others by the same author (cf. Buhar Catalogue, loc. cit.).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى كشف عن جماله المطلق حجاب الجلال المسمى بالكثرة...اما بعد فانى لما فرغت من رسالة منتخب التاويل المشتملة على كتب الله الافاقية...ورسايل آخر مثل رسالة الامانة ورسالة التنزيه وغير ذلك التمس منّى جماعة من اخوانى... ان اكتب لهم كتابا مشتملا على مُعظم اسرار الله تعالى واسرار انبائه واوليايه عليهم السلام سيما على اسرار التوحيد الخ

In this exordium the author enumerates the various subjects with which he proposes to deal, and adds his personal claim to authority in this matter (fol. 2*b*):

لانى من عنفوان الشباب بل من ايام الطفوليّة الى يومنا هذا الذى هو ايام الكهولة بعناية الله تعالى وحسن توفيقه كنتُ فى تحصيل عقايد اجدادى الطاهرين الخ

This passage is faithfully reproduced in مجمع الاولياء (fol. 334*a*). The work was originally divided by the author into a number of chapters, but of these only a few headings have been preserved in this copy, though spaces have been left throughout, doubtless with the intention of supplying these details later.

Foll. 31–326; 9¼ × 5½ in.; ll. 21; clear naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled in red; colophon (not of this copy) dated 775/1373–4; 18th century. [DELHI 21*b*]

Jāmi' al-asrār wa-manba' al-anwār.

Another copy of the same work.

The colophon, which obviously does not relate to the present copy, but to its original, proves that the work was written at any rate before 775/1373–4.

Colophon:

فرغ من نَسْخِه المعترف بالذنوب...على بن كيسو بن على كاكا الصفر ختم الله بالخير والظفر سنة خمسين [sic] وسبعين وسبعمائة حامدا لله تعالى ومصلّيا على نبيّه الخ

On the margins are many notes by a scholar who describes himself at the end of many of them as الكامل الملتانى.

الرسالة المكية

al-Risālaḥ al-Makkīyaḥ.

A manual of Ṣūfism ascribed in the Cairo Catalogue (VII 12) to 'Afīf al-Dīn 'Abd Allāh ibn As'ad al-Yāfi'ī (d. 768/1367), but attributed in a note on fol. 256*a* of this copy to Quṭb al-Dīn Dimashqī. The latter attribution receives some support from the fact that Ḥ. Kh. (III 445) mentions a work of this name under the authorship of Quṭb al-Dīn 'Abd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn Aiman al-Iṣfahīdī: and the Bankipore Catalogue has accepted this ascription, and shows that the author belongs to the 8/14th century (XIII 177), since he mentions that the Shaikh of his Shaikh was 'Abd al-Raḥmān Kasraqī (d. 700/1300). The author relates in his preface that this book was written at Mecca, and then revised and enlarged at Damascus. For the ابواب and فصول into which the work is divided see the Bankipore Catalogue.

Beginning:

الرسالة القدسية فى اسرار النقطة الحسيّة

al-Risālaḥ al-Qudsīyaḥ fī asrār al-nuqṭaḥ al-ḥissīyaḥ.

A dissertation on the esoteric significances of the diacritical points, by 'Alī ibn Shihāb al-Dīn al-Ḥusainī al-Hamadhānī (d. 786/1385, see Ḥ. Kh. III 427, Brockelmann II 221). In this copy the title of the work is given in the colophon as اسرار النقطة: the fuller title (see Loth 195) occurs at the end of the work itself.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى ظهر بما شاء لمن شاء...اما بعد لما شاع بين اهل العلم ان ارفع العلوم واشرفها علم التوحيد...ولما كان معرفة اسرار الحروف مرتبطا باصول هذا العلم الشريف وحقايق اسرار النقطة [sic] احدى المدارات التى تدور عليها دقايق علم التوحيد اردت ان اعلق بعض ما ورد على من اسرارها الخ

الرسالة القدوسية الامية

al-Risālaḥ al-Qaddūsīyaḥ al-Ummīyaḥ.

A short treatise lacking name of author, but presumably by the same ʿAlī ibn Shilāb al-Dīn al-Hamadhānī. This work reviews the system of creation from the theosophical standpoint, and states man's position in it as the microcosm, in exegesis of the Tradition: انا من الله والمؤمنون منى.

Beginning:

سُبحَانَ اللّه القدُوسُ وَبِحَمدِه والصَّلوةُ على مُحمَّد وَآلِه من بَعدِه اما بعد فقالَ النَّبىُ العَربىُّ الاُمّىُ انَا مِنَ اللّه والمُومِنُونَ مِنّى فالاِنسَانُ نُسخَة مُتتحيَة من اُمِّ الكِتَابِ الخ

The author quotes from Persian poetry, and treats of لاهوت and ملكوت. The title is given on fol. 74*b*:

ثم اختم الرسالة القدوسية الامية المنية بالاعاجيب الوجودية الجلية فتيقن ان جميع الموجودات الخ

End:

A short tract bearing neither title nor name of author, but occurring in a collection of short works in Persian and Arabic by ʿAlī ibn Shihāb al-Dīn al-Hamadhānī, and so probably to be ascribed to him. The tract treats of the Ṣūfī station of repentance (توبة).

Beginning:

الحَمدُ لِلّه وَسَلامُ عَلى عِبَادِه الَّذِينَ اصطَفَى اما بعد فاعلم ايها الطالبُ...ان قُلوبَ اكثَر الخَلقِ اِنَّما حجبَت عَن استِفَاضَةِ انوار التَّجلِيَّات الاَلَهِيَّة وَاستَفَادة اسرَارِ النفحات الرَّبانِيَّة بِمَا فِيهَا مِنَ الظُّلمةِ والصَّدَاء الحاصِلَة مِنَ التَّعلقَات الشهواتيَّة الخ

The author distinguishes between توبة, which is a returning from sin, and انابة, which is a higher state, being a returning to God.

End:

Foll. 33; $7\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 17 and 33; clear naskhī, medium to fol. 18*b*, small thereafter; rubrications; collated; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1789]

هادى القلوب الى لقاء المحبوب

Hādī 'l-qulūb ilā laqā' al-Maḥbūb.

A Ṣūfī work setting forth certain spiritual considerations which may serve to lessen the fear of death. The author of this rare work is (as stated on fol. 1*a*) Abū 'Abd Allāh Nāṣir al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn al-Mailaq al-Shādhilī, or, more correctly, Nāṣir al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Dā'im bint al-Mailaq al-Shādhilī, a poet and preacher of note, who died in 797/1395 (see Shadharāt al-dhahab VI 351).

Beginning:

الحمدُ للّهِ مقدّرِ الموت على العباد...اما بعد فان النفوسَ مفطورةٌ عاي كراهةِ المُؤلماتِ...ولما كانَ الموتُ اعظمَ مصائبِ الدنيا وكانت النفوس تَكِلُّ عن حملِ أعبَاء ذِكره...أَحْبَبْتُ أن اداوِي نفسى وغيرها من هذا الدآء العُضال...وذكرتُ فى هذا التعليق كلياتٍ منبهةٍ...وَسَمَّيْتُهُ حادي القلوب الي لقآء المحبوب الخ

The author reviews the various considerations which cause men to fear death, and produces arguments to dispel those fears. He concludes with a prayer.

End:

ربنا اغفر لنا وللاخواننا [sic] الذين سبقونا بالايمان ولا تجعل فى قلوبنا غلاء الذين امنوا ربنا انك روف رحيم وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد...والحمد لله رب العالمين

عين العلم

'Ain al-'ilm.

A manual of ascetism. Concerning the authorship and nature of this work there is considerable confusion. Ḥ. Kh. mentions the work twice: under the name given above, by which it is generally known (IV 283), and under the title مناهج العارفين, which is the title given by Ahlwardt (III 112), but which appears to derive no support from the text. In his first notice, Ḥ. Kh., quoting from the commentary on the work written by 'Alī ibn Sulṭān Muḥammad al-Qāri' (see No. 1357), expresses the two conflicting views, that its author was an Indian, and that it is the work of a scholar of Balkh; he then adds that some authorities confirm that Muḥammad ibn 'Uthmān al-Balkhī was the author. In his second notice, Ḥ. Kh. attributes the work to 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-Madā'inī. The latter view is adopted by Ahlwardt, who failed to observe Ḥ. Kh.'s first notice: and he is followed by Brockelmann. [It should be noted that the مناهج العارفين of Sulamī (Ahlwardt 2821) is a totally different work.] On the fly-leaf of this copy Muḥammad ibn 'Uthmān al-Balkhī is named as the author: he is known for his philological work الوافى فى النحو and for a commentary entitled المنهل الصافى on al-Damāmīnī's كتاب القوافى; and Loth (269) shows that he must have been writing at least as early as 800/1397–8. Concerning the nature of the work, Stewart (139) first conjectured that it was an abridgement of al-Ghazālī's احياء علوم الدين, on the authority of a note in the India Office copy of the work (see Loth 190): it will be seen that this note is a quotation from al-Qāri''s commentary; and on that ground the Bankipore Catalogue supports this view. Loth (ibid.) and Ahlwardt (for other reasons) reject this hypothesis. Al-Qāri''s statement is (No. 1357, fol. 1*a*):

[1] Possibly to be identified with the secretary of the Emperor Aurangzēb, author of احكام عالم, who died in 1139/1726 (see Beale 179; Rieu, Catalogue of Pers. MSS. in Brit. Mus. 401*b*).

وهو فى الحقيقة مختصر احياء العلوم لحجة الاسلام

The contents of this work tend to show, however, that it is an original composition: and al-Qāri' probably means no more than that it uses al-Ghazālī as a first authority.

شرح عين العلم

Sharḥ 'Ain al-'ilm.

A detailed commentary on the preceding work. The author of this commentary is 'Alī ibn Sulṭān Muḥammad al-Qāri' al-Ḥarawī, the well-known polygraph, who died in 1014/1605[1] (see Khulāsaḥ al-āthār III 185). This commentary was written in Rajab 1014, shortly before the death of the author (see Bankipore Handlist XIII 27).

Beginning:

الاسفار

al-Asfār.

The doctrine of eternal movement is developed by 'Abd al-Karīm al-Jīlī (whose name does not occur in this copy; d. between 808/1406 and 819/1417, see Nicholson, Studies in Islamic Mysticism 81) into the conception of man's mystical restlessness on his journey from, to, and in God.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الكاين فى العماء الموصوف بالاستواء جلال ذاته بعد فراغه من خلقه ارضه الى خلق سمواته وانزل القران فى ليلة القدر...واسرى سيدنا محمد عبده صلعم ليلا من المسجد الحرام الى المسجد الاقصى الى قاب قوسين او ادنى...ورفع ادريس عليه السلام من عالم الاكوان الى ان انزله المكان العُلى...اما بعد فان الاسفار ثلاثة لا رابع لها اثبتها الحق عز وجل هى سفرٌ من عنده وسفرٌ اليه وسفرٌ فيه الخ

This copy, which is defective in places (perhaps owing to an illegible archetype), is not systematically divided into اسفار (see Ahlwardt III 189), although some of these divisions have been preserved and subsequently marked in the margins.

End:

الانسان الكامل

al-Insān al-kāmil.

An incomplete copy of 'Abd al-Karīm al-Jīlī's well-known exposition of the Ṣūfī doctrine of the Perfect Man.

Beginning:

الحَمدُ لمن قام بحمده اسم اللّه...وبعد فانه لما كان كمال الانسان فى العلم باللّه [sic] الخ

Chapter 63 (فى سايرِ الاديان [sic]) begins on fol. 158: it is therefore clear that about 6 folios are missing at the end.

End:

شرح ادلّة التوحيد

Sharḥ Adillaḥ al-tauḥīd.

An autograph copy, lacking perhaps two folios at the beginning, of a commentary on the Adillaḥ al-tauḥīd, a Ṣūfī treatise on the Divine Unity by 'Alī ibn Aḥmad al-Mahā'imī (d. 835/1431, see No. 1328). The commentator, who in this copy, so far as it extends, does not mention his name, states in the colophon that this work was written during his seventy-seventh year: the date, which is partially effaced, is almost certainly 990/1582.

[1] The text as quoted is conjecturally restored.

The colophon reads as follows:

وقد فرغت من شرح المتن...فی ضعف اعضائی وبصری فی سنة سبع وسبعین من عمری وقد استراح قلمی من کتابة شرح زکي شرح ادلة التوحید فی یوم الاثنین وقت الضحی یوم اربع عشر من الشهور المبارکة شعبان عمّت برکاته [..]رحا [....]عین وتسعمائة من هجرة رسولنا ونبیّنا محمد الخ

The incomplete word can only be read تسعین, not سبعین, for it was in 990 only of these alternatives that 14 Sha'bān fell on a Monday.

The Adillaḥ al-tauḥīd is mentioned as a work of Mahā'imī in the Tadhkirah i'ulamā i Hind (147). It appears to be a short, continuous work, without any division into chapters, and arrays the various arguments proving God's unity. The commentary is ample in content, and the commentator several times quotes as an authority "my brother Shaikh Aḥmad".

Beginning:

الم]سماة بادلة التوحید التی هی من مصنفات العالم الکامل [....] علی پَروْ الذی ینسب الیه[1] التفسیر الرحمانی فیها مباحث...قوله بسم الله الرحمن الرحیم الحمد لله الذی شرح توحیده شرح التوحید هو اعتقاد وحدته مطلقا الخ

End:

No other copy appears to be preserved. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

اراءة الدقائق فی شرح مراة الحقائق

Irā'aḥ al-daqā'iq fī sharḥ Mir'āḥ al-ḥaqā'iq.

A commentary on a work entitled مراة الحقائق, which is a mystical-metaphysical treatise on the grades of existence, with the central doctrine of the Perfect Man as incarnate in the "Idea of Muḥammad" (الحقیقة المحمدیة). The author of the original states (fol. 99*a*) that this is a translation of the well-known Persian work entitled جام جهان نمای, by Muḥammad Shīrīn ibn 'Izz al-Dīn al-Maghribī, who died in 809/1406–7 (see Ethé, Pers. Cat. 1080). No indication is given in this copy as to the name of the translator or of the commentator. It seems improbable that this جام جهان نمای is to be identified with the work of the same name mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. (II. 3857) and by him attributed to Mīr Ghiyāth al-Dīn Manṣūr ibn Mīr Ṣadr al-Dīn (d. 945 or 949/1541–3).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذي اري قلوب خواصه وجوه تجلیاته...وبعد فلما کان کتاب مرآة الحقایق کاسمه مظهر الحقایق...اردت ان الحق به شرحا یفید قلوب قاصدیه شرحا فی حل معاقده...مستعینا بالله متوکلا علیه...وسمیته اراءة الدقایق فی شرح مرآة الحقایق الخ

The commentary proper begins:

الحمد ذکر کمالات الذات والافعال والصفات عن ذی العلم بلا حد وهو النهایه لعدم انتهاء کمالاته الي غایة تنقطع عدها والشکر فعل ینبی بتعظیم المنعم الخ

Fol. 98*b* (omitting commentary):

اما بعد فلما کانت الرسالة الفارسیة الملقبة بجام جهان نمای التی إنشاءها بها العالم الربانی...محمد

شيرين بن شيخ [sic] الامام عز الدين المغربى... يستفيد بها كل طالب بعلم التوحيد...سالنى جماعة من اخوان الصدق والصفا ممن ليس بماهر بالفارسية ان اعربها لتبرز لهم من حجب الخفاء...فاجبت ملتمسهم مترجما لما فيها غير متعرض للزيادة عليها ولا مخالفة لها ولقبتها مرآة الحقايق الخ

Fol. 103*b* has been left blank, evidently with the intention of adding a diagram; there is a very roughly drawn diagram on fol. 100*b*.

End:

ويسمي مجهول النعت لانه لا يعتبر فيه نعت ولا اسم ويسمي منقطع الاشارات لان الاشارة يقتضى [sic] التعين ولا تعين فيه ويسمي الغيب المسكوت عنه اذ لا ينطق فيه باسم ولا نعت والله سبحانه وتعالي اعلم

شرح الدرّة الفاخرة

Sharḥ al-Durraḥ al-fākhiraḥ.

A very copious commentary on الدرة الفاخرة, a Ṣūfī treatise on the unity and qualities of God written by the celebrated Persian poet 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Aḥmad al-Jāmī (d. 898/1492). The author of this commentary is one Abū 'l-'Iṣmaḥ Muḥammad Ma'ṣūm ibn Maulānā Bābā al-Samarqandī, who is otherwise known as the author of مجمع العصمة, a Persian commentary on مقدمة الصلوة of Mullā Sharaf al-Dīn Bukhārī (see Ethé 1375, Rieu I 23*a*).

Beginning:

درة الفاخرة الاعتقاد وفريدة النادرة الانقياد...وبعد فيقول...ابو العصمة محمد معصوم بن مولا[نا] بابا السمرقندى ان كتاب درة الفاخرة [sic] لمولانا... عبد الرحمن الجامي...كتاب لم يكتحل عين الزمان بثانيه...اردت ان اشرحه شرحا كشفا لمقاصده... اسميه ان اتممته بالفريدة النادرة فى شرح درة [sic] الفاخرة الخ

The commentary begins on fol. 4*a*:

الحمد الاستغراق للاستغراق احمد...لله ذهب ابو حنيفة والشافعى والغزالى وغيرهم الى انه غير مشتق من شى...الذى تجلي لذاته بذاته عبارة عن علمه الازلي الخ

End:

مجمع البحرين

Majma' al-baḥrain.

A treatise on the identity of the Ṣūfī theosophy with orthodox theology. The name of the author of this work does not appear in this copy, but Ḥ. Kh. in his notice (v 395) attributes it to one Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Naṣr al-Sijzī, concerning whom nothing further appears to be known. A terminus a quo for his floruit is furnished by a reference (fol. 27*a*) to the commentary on Ibn [al-]'Arabī's فصوص الحكم of al-Qaiṣarī, who died in 751/1350. The following descriptive notice precedes the work (fol. 1*b*):

هذه رسالة مسماة بمجمع البحرين بحر الشريعة وبحر الحقيقة مع ان بينهما برزخا لا يبغيان فالشريعة في مرتبة والحقيقة في مرتبة فاعرف كلاهما واجتنب مخالفة كل واحد منهما فانه هو الصراط المستقيم

Beginning:

الحمد لله الموجود الواجب القديم والصلوة على رسوله الموجود الممكن الكريم اعلم ان الوجود بحسب اللغة يطلق على المعنيين الذات والكون الخ

The author proceeds to discuss the meaning of the term وجود, as applied to God and to created things. On fol. 17*a* there is a diagram illustrating the various grades of existence and the relationship they bear with God. On fol. 19*a* an anecdote is related concerning the maternal great-grandfather (ابن اب امي) of the author, one 'Abd al-Ḥaqq Aḥmad, who is perhaps to be identified with the Chishtī Shaikh of that name who died in 837/1434 at the age of 120 (see Ethé, Cat. of Pers. MSS. in the India Office 335). On fol. 21*b* begins a long discussion of the question whether God may be seen in this world, and how His vision is attained. On fol. 22*b* there is a quotation from a work which is incorrectly called همم المعالى and ascribed to al-Ghazālī: this quotation is actually taken from معالي الهمم, a work which is mistakenly ascribed by Ḥ. Kh. to al-Junaid (v 12323).

End:

وهذا هو العرفان الحالى والتوحيد الوجدانى فاعرف ولا تحرم اللهم ارحم لمن انصف وارزق له هذا المشهد بحرمت [sic] نبينا ورسولنا صلى الله عليه وجميع الانبياء صلوات الله عليهم اجمعين ومن اتبعهم وصل على خير خلقه محمد واله اجمعين

رسالة خلق الاعمال

Risālaḥ Khalq al-a'māl.

An incomplete copy, lacking probably one folio at the beginning, of a tract on predestination and freewill by Muḥammad ibn As'ad Jalāl al-Dīn al-Dawānī (see No. 1145), who died (according to Ḥ. Kh. III 544) in 908/1502. This tract (see Ahlwardt II 580 quoting from Ḥ. Kh.) was written in response to a request by Sa'd al-Dīn Muḥammad al-Astarābādī at Qāshān.

Beginning:

ويشاهده من تتبع اقاويل هولاء الاجلة الاعلام وكنت انا ايضا فى مشاغل شاغلة...وانا افيض فى المقصود مستفيضا من ربي الطّول والجود فاقول افعال العباد الخ

The author proceeds to review the theories put forward by the various schools on the question how far men's acts may be said to be voluntary, in view of the fact that they are all created by God.

End:

حاشية الزوراء

Hāshiyaḥ al-Zaurā'.

Notes on a phrase which occurs at the commencement of الرسالة الزوراء of al-Dawānī. The author, who does not name himself, states that he writes this in response to a friend, who has complained that certain people disapprove of this phrase, and he defends the author against the charge of unorthodoxy.

Beginning:

كتب اليَّ بعضُ اصحابي كتابا وشكى عما وقع من بعض الناس من الانكار على عبارة الزوراء فى الخطبة حيث قيل والصلوة منه على المرتبة الجامعة لجميع صفاته فقلت فى جوابه سالتَ يا اخي ايدك الله بروح منه وحسن التوفيق ورَقَّاك من حضيض التقليد الي بقاع التحقيق عمّا ورد فى خطبة الزوراء والصلوة منه على المرتبة الجامعة لجميع صفاته وذكرت انه وقع فى بعض النسخ على مرتبته الجامعة وانه قد اغلطك ما ابداه بعض الدُّهَماء من النكرة فى ذلك والتعبير عليه والتمستَ اَنْ اَذكر ما يدفع ما ابداه فيها فها انا قصدت لاسعاف ما مولك الخ

End:

ولهذا طال لهم فى انكارهم لسانُ الجدالِ وعاد مقالُهم فى الآخر الى اسوء الحال واذ لم يهتدوا به فسيقولون هذا افك قديم والله الهادي الى الصراط المستقيم

رسالة فى ايمان فرعون

Risālaḥ fī īmān Fir'aun.

A tract bearing no title or indication of authorship, but which is identical with the رسالة فى ايمان فرعون لموسى (see Ahlwardt II 460, and cf. id. III 239, where it is styled تحقيق ايمان فرعون) of Muḥammad ibn As'ad al-Dawānī. This tract is based on a Qur'ānic text (Sūrah x 90) and is a defence of Ibn [al-]'Arabī against the charge of unorthodoxy in connection with his doctrine that Pharaoh was a Believer. See No. 1146, where another copy of this work is described; Ḥ. Kh. III 372.

Beginning:

الحمد لله قابل توبة عبده اذا تاب...اما بعد فقد سالنى من اجابته على فرض عين ومنزلته فى اعلى منازل السالكين سلالة السلف الطاهر والجناب الفاخر ذو العزة والدين روح الله تعالى روحه فى العليين اذا كتب على قوله تعالى قال ابنت [sic] انه لا اله الا الذى ابنت [sic] به بنو اسرائيل وانا من المسلمين (Qur. x. 90) فاجبت الى ذلك وكتبت فى عابر الزمان حسب ما ظهر من غير تقليد ثم عن لي اشيأ [sic] من فيهن المولي الحميد فاجبت الزيادة فى الكلام العربي ليظهر به الرد على من قال بتكفير مولى العلما وتاج الاوليا مولانا شيخ محى الدين ابن العربي والطعن فى كلامه وزيادة الكلام الذي لا فايدة فيه فى ملالله [sic] فاقول بالله التوفيق يا اخى الخ

The author proceeds to quote Qur'ānic passages supporting Ibn [al-]'Arabī's thesis, and refuting his critics. The tract ends with prayers for guidance.

End:

اللهم لهذه اسماعنا عن اللغو ونفوسنا عن اللهو وقلوبنا عن الغفلة والسهر الهمنا مهم [sic] منطق الحكمة وعبادة اثار صُنع القدرة واشارة الدالة [sic] والمعرفة يا ارحم الراحمين وصلى الله على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه اجمعين امين

اتمام الدراية شرح النقاية

Itmām al-Dirāyaḥ Sharḥ al-Nuqāyaḥ.

A fragment, evidently comprising the last section (تصوّف) of the commentary of Jalāl al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakr al-Suyūṭī (d. 911/1505) on his encyclopaedia of human knowledge entitled النقاية. For a full account of this work, and the sections therein contained, see Ahlwardt I 27. In the present copy the following note has been added on the front fly-leaf by the collator:

رسالة فى التصوف وشعب الايمان جمعها خاتمة المحدثين الجلال [sic] الدين السيوطى but a note on fol. 13*b* of this manuscript, appended to a quotation from this work in a later hand, states that it is من النقاية وشرح اتمام الدراية. A comparison of this copy with the Berlin MS. 1829 (entitled شعب الايمان and listed as No. 100 in Brockelmann's catalogue of al-Suyūṭī's works, II 149) discloses the fact that the Berlin MS. is in reality a fragment of النقاية, beginning at a passage which occurs on fol. 3*a*, and ending at a passage which occurs on fol. 9*a*, of the present copy.

Beginning:

الحمد لله والصلوة والسلام على عباده الذين اصطفى اما بعد التصرف حده كما قال الغزالى تجريد القلب لله تعالى واحتقار ما سواه ولذلك سمّى به اخذا من الصفا لتصفية القلوب... فراقب الله تعالى فى جميع حالاتك اى اتقه بحيث انك تراه اى تنظر اليه الخ

Fol. 3*a*:

والمؤمن حقا اى الكامل فى ايمانه من كملت فيه شعب الايمان ومن نقصت منه واحدة منها نقص من ايمانه بحسبها الخ

Fol. 9*a*:

وكف الضرر عن الناس قال صلعم لا ضرر ولا ضرار رواه الدارقطنى وغيره واجتناب اللهو قال صلعم لست من دد ولا الدد منى الخ

End:

لانتظام الوجود اذ لو ترك الناس كلهم الكسب لتعطلت المصالح والمعايش وتفاوت المراتب فى الدنيا والاخرة لا راد لقضائه بالدفع ولا معقب لحكمه بالنقض سبحانه وتعالى والحمد لله رب العالمين الخ

For other (complete) copies see Ahlwardt 76–8, Cairo V 105, Dozy 910, etc. The work was lithographed at Bombay in 1309/1891 (under the title اتمام الدراية لقراء النقاية) and at Fez in 1317/1899, and printed at Cairo in 1317/1899 (on the margin of مفتاح العلوم of al-Sakkākī).

الجواهر والدرر (الوسطى)

al-Jawāhir wa'l-durar (al-Wusṭā).

An incomplete copy, lacking seven folios at the beginning, of a rare work by the famous polygraph 'Abd al-Wahhāb ibn Aḥmad al-Anṣārī al-Sha'rānī (or al-Sha'rawī) who died in 973/1565 (see Shadh-arāt al-dhahab VIII 372). In this work he gives an account of the doctrine of his Ṣūfī master 'Alī al-Khauwāṣ (see al-Ṭabaqāt al-kubrā II 175–97), reproducing in the form of question and answer the salient points of his mystical doctrine. In the exordium (which is wanting in this copy) the author states that the book was written at the request of certain friends, and he asserts that he is to be excused for any inaccuracies, explaining that 'Alī al-Khauwāṣ could not write, and that he can only therefore report what he remembers of conversations which he held with him over a period of ten years (see Ḥ. Kh. II 650–1). This work was issued in three recensions (see Brockelmann II 337). The first (الكبرى) was published in 940/1533, while the second (الوسطى), of which this is a copy, was published on 21 Ramaḍān 942/1536 (see Cairo Catalogue II 78 and fol. 159*a* of this manuscript). It is to this second recension that Ḥ. Kh. refers in his notice.

Beginning:

وَالاخِرين هَل العلم عَام لجَميع مَا علمه امته مِن مَنقول ومَعقول فى فقه او نحو او اصُول او غَير ذلك فقَال نعم هُو شامل لجميع ذلك فقلت لهُ فما المرادُ بالاولين والاخِرين فقَال من تقدمه مِن الامم ومَن تاخر من اتباعه الى يَوم القيامَة الخ

Each separate subject is introduced by the name of a jewel (e.g. زمرد fol. 8*a*, بلخش fol. 8*b*, جوهر fol. 9*b*, كبريت احمر fol. 10*a*, ياقوت fol. 11*b*, etc.) followed by the formula سالت شيخنا رضى الله عنه.

End (fol. 159*a*):

اقول قولى هذا واستغفر الله من كل ذنب عملته الى وقتى هذا عدد كل ذرة فى الوجُود والحمد للّه رب العَالمينَ قَال ذلك وكتبه مُؤلفه العبد الفقير الى اللّه تَعَالى عَبد الوهَّاب بن احمد بن عَلى الانصارى ...وذلك فى يَوم الاَحد حَادى عشرين شهر رَمضَان المعَظم قَدره سَنة اثنين وَاربَعين وتسعماية وصَلى اللهُ على سَيدنا محمد الخ

There follow a series of commendatory notices (اجازات) by various persons (cf. Cat. of Arab. MSS. in Brit. Mus. 341).

I. By Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz al-Futūḥī al-Ḥanbalī called Ibn al-Najjār (foll. 159*a*[10]–160*b*).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فتح لقلوب اوليايه فهم مَا اغلق على غيرهم الخ

On fol. 159*b* the writer mentions al-Sha'rānī's present work by name (الجواهر والدرر).

II. By Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad ibn Yūnus al-Ḥanafī called al-Shiblī (fol. 161*a*–b).

Beginning:

الحمد لله [الذى] يجرى ماء العرفان فى لسان من اختصه من الانسان الخ

III. By Nāṣir al-Dīn Nāṣir ibn Ḥasan al-Luqānī (fol. 162*a*–b).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اشرق شموس المعارف الخ

IV. By Muḥyī 'l-Dīn 'Abd al-Qādir ibn Muḥammad al-Shādhilī (fol. 163*a*–b).

Beginning:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم وسلام على عباده الذين اصطفى الخ

On fol. 163*b*[9] begins a short section entitled من شرح الفاظ الصوفية which consists of a compendious dictionary of Ṣūfī technical terms without indication of authorship.

Beginning:

السالك هوَ الذى مَشى على المقامَات بحاله لا يعلمه الخ

End (fol. 164*b*):

التصوف هو الوقوف مَع الاداب الشرعية ظاهرًا وباطنا وصَلى اللهُ على سيدنا محمد وعلى اله وصحبه وسلم

الكبريت الاحمر

al-Kibrīt al-aḥmar.

An elegant copy of the well-known work of the same 'Abd al-Wahhāb al-Sha'rānī (or al-Sha'rawī). This work, of which the full title is الكبريت الاحمر فى بيان علوم الشيخ الاكبر (fol. 2*b*), is, as Ahlwardt has shown (III 105), and as the author himself states (fol. 2*b*), an abstract of the same author's لواقع الانوار, itself an epitome of الفتوحات المكية of Ibn [al-]'Arabī (see No. 1280). The present work was completed (fol. 225*a*) on Sunday 21 Ramaḍān 942/1535.

Beginning:

الحمدُ لِلّه ربّ العالمين والصلاة والتسليم علي سَيدنا محمد وسَايُر الانبيَا وَالمرسَلينَ... هذا كتابٌ نفيسٌ انتخبتُه من كتابي المسمَّى بلواقع الانوار الذي كنت اختصَرته من الفتوحَات المكية... وقَد سَمّيتهُ بالكبريت الاحمر فى بَيان علوم الشيخ [الاكبر] (fol. 4*b*)... فاقول وبالله التوفيق قال الشيخ رحمه الله فى الباب الثاني من الفتوحَات في قولهِ تعالَي الخ

The author proceeds to outline the theosophical system of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, with copious extracts from الفتوحات المكية, referring to each extract by the number of the chapter in which it occurs.

End:

فلا حَول وَلا قوة الا بالله العَلي العظيم اقول قولي هذا وَاستغفر اللهَ تعالي من كل خطا وزلل وقع من جوارحى الظاهرة وَالباطنة الي وَقتي هذا... والحمد لله رب العالمين الخ

Colophon of author:

Foll. 49–68; 6½ × 4 in.; ll. 11; elegant naskhī; rubrications; new margins, ruled in red and black, fitted around old script; worm-eaten; some leaves much discoloured; 16th century. [DELHI Persian 1096*b*]

الحقيقة المحمّدية

al-Ḥaqīqaḥ al-Muḥammadīyaḥ.

A summary of the doctrines of Ṣūfism, showing them to be in harmony with the tenets of orthodox Islam. The name of the author is not mentioned in this copy; but in the commentary on this work (see next number) he is stated to be Wajīh al-Dīn ibn Naṣr Allāh ['Alawī of Gujerat]. In the account of this author, the Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind (249–50) mentions the present work among many others: he is otherwise known as a commentator on الارشاد فى النحو of Shihāb al-Dīn ibn Shams al-Dīn (see Loth 976). He lived under the reign of Maḥmūd Shāh III of Gujerat (A.D. 944–961), and died in 998/1589 (see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 249, Buhar Catalogue p. 188).

The present work is divided into a مقدمة, two مطلب, and a تكملة.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رَبّ العالمين والصّلوة على خير خلقه محمد...وبعد فهذه رسالة فى التصوف مسمّاة بالحقيقة المحمديّة مرتّبة على مقدّمة وملطبين وتكملة الخ

المقدمة فيما يتعلق بالمطالب موضوعه ذات الحق تعالى Fol. 49*b*

المطلب الاول فى كيفية ظهور ذات الحق تعالى Fol. 50*a*

المطلب الثانى فى التوفيق بين مذهبى اهل السنّة والجماعة من المتكلمين والمتصوّفة Fol. 53*b*

التكملة قد رسخ وجود الحق تعالى وتقدس فى عقل كل واحد الّا فى عقل بعض السّفهاء كالقرامطة الخ Fol. 57*a*

End:

الافاضات الاحمدية فى شرح الحقيقة المحمدية

al-Ifāḍāt al-Aḥmadīyaḥ fī sharḥ al-Ḥaqīqaḥ al-Muḥammadīyaḥ.

A commentary on the preceding work, by Muḥammad Dā'im ibn Saiyid Mīrzā ibn Karīm Allāh al-Ḥusainī, concerning whom nothing further appears to be known.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين الرحمن الرحيم ملك [sic] يوم الدين...اما بعد فيقول اقل عبيد الله... محمد دايم [sic] بن سيد مرزا بن كريم الله الحسنى انه لما كانت الرسالة المسماة بالحقيقة المحمدية للشيخ...وجيه الدين بن السيد نصر الله...لا تزال...مستفيضة على اهل الامصار... اردت ان املي لها شرحا...وسميته بالافاضات الاحمدية فى شرح الحقيقة المحمدية الخ

A long preface follows, divided into a number of فصول, in which the author outlines the general principles of Ṣūfism, drawing especially on الفتوحات المكية of Ibn [al-]'Arabī as an authority. The commentary proper begins on fol. 29*b*:

الحمد لله رب العالمين قال قدس سره فى الباب الثامن والخمسين وخمسماية من الفتوحات... والصلوة تضاف الصلوة الى الحق هو الذى يصلى عليكم الخ

End:

اتحاف الزكى شرح التحفة المرسلة الى النبى

Itḥāf al-zakī Sharḥ al-Tuḥfaḥ al-mursalaḥ ilā 'l-Nabī.

An incomplete copy of a commentary on the preceding work. The author of this commentary, who is not named in the present copy, is Ibrāhīm ibn Ḥasan al-Kaurānī (d. 1101/1690, see Ahlwardt II 431).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الاول الذي ليس قبله شئ فمنه بداء التفاصل الخ

The commentary, which is very copious, begins (fol. 2*b*):

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم اى مستعينا او متلبسا باسم الذات الواجب الوجود الجامع لكل كمال بالذات وهو الله المنعوت بالرحمة العامية الخ

End:

نفائس الانفاس فى نسبة الخرقة والالباس

Nafā'is al-anfās fī nisbaḥ al-khirqaḥ wa'l-ilbās.

A treatise setting forth the history and principles of the investiture of the Ṣūfī robe الخرقة. This copy, which is somewhat defective at the commencement, gives no clue to the correct title of the work: but the title given above is written (in a later hand) on the fly-leaf of the manuscript of which this work is a part; and it also occurs on fol. 7*b* of the تقريظات which precede it (see No. 1389). On fol. 7*a*, however, another writer refers to it as فتوحات قدوسية فى لبس الخرقة العيدروسية. The author of this work is 'Abd al-Qādir ibn Shaikh ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn Shaikh ibn 'Abd Allāh al-'Aidarūs al-'Alawī (d. 1038/1628, see Brockelmann II 418–19): he names his father on fol. 36*b*. The work (so far as it is possible to judge) begins with a nūnīyaḥ setting forth the isnād of the khirqaḥ: this passage is badly defaced in the present copy, and the treatise proper begins:

القوم الجماعة ولا واحد له من لفظه[...] وبه هنا الجمهور من الصوفية الذين معتقدهم على الكتاب والسنة الخ

The author thus sets forth in general terms the fundamental orthodoxy of the Ṣūfīs, and outlines the theory of the transmission (تنقّل) of the خرقة. On fol. 26*a* he describes a ceremony at which such an investiture takes place, and then enumerates the various اسانيد quoted by the Ṣūfīs. This leads up to the main purport of the book, which is the tracing of the author's own اسناد.

Fol. 36*a*:

اذا علمت هذا فاعلم ان سيدى الشيخ الوالد مولده سنة تسع عشر وتسعمائة بتريم احدى مدن حضرموت الخ

With these words the author gives an account of his father, his grandfather, and others of his ancestors, tracing back step by step to his spiritual genealogy to Shu'aib ibn al Ḥusain al-Maghribī (fol. 53*b*), through whom the connection is established with al-Ghazālī (fol. 60*a*) and through him to the great mystics, and finally to 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib (fol. 83*a*), Muḥammad, Gabriel, and God (fol. 87*b*). In a خاتمة (fol. 89*a*) the author points out that the actual investiture of the khirqaḥ is only traced back to al-Shiblī and al-Junaid: beyond that point it is necessary to speak of a صحبة, an association, and it is through this association that the genealogy eventually mounts to God.

End:

ورضى نفسك ومداد كلماتك ابدًا وعلينا معهم دوامًا سرمدًا كُلما ذكرك وذكره الذاكرون وغفل عن ذكرك وذكره الغافلون

Two notes in Persian follow.
No other copy appears to be noted.

Foll. 1–17; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 6$ in.; ll. 19; pleasant naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1783*a*]

A series of تقريظات or laudatory notices composed by a variety of persons in honour of نفائس الانفاس of 'Abd al-Qādir al-'Alawī.

I. By ʿAbd al-Malik ibn ʿAbd al-Salām al-Qurashī (foll. 1–4).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فضل امة محمد صلعم على ساير الامم الخ

Foll. 3–4 contain a hāʾīyaḥ in honour of ʿAbd al-Qādir al-ʿAlawī. A note by the author at the end states that this notice was written on Tuesday 26 Dhū 'l-Qaʿdaḥ 1001/1593.

II. By Ḥasan ibn Khalīl al-Qaddīsī (foll. 5–6).

Beginning:

حمدًا لقادرٍ اقدر عَبْدَه عَلى اقاص(?) الاوابد العلميّة الخ

The author dates his notice 10 Ṣafar 1003/1594.

III. By Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥīm al-Ḥaḍramī (foll. $6b^{15}$–$7b$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى رفع قدر الشرف الخ

The author dates his notice Saturday 30 Muḥarram 1003/1594.

IV. By ʿAbd al-Qādir ibn Makhdūm al-Hindī (foll. $7b^{10}$–$8a$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله القادر على توفيق عبده محي الدين الخ

This notice is undated.

V. By Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Qādir al-Ḥabbānī (foll. $8a^{13}$–$10b$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى رفع قدر من انتصب لارشاد العباد الخ

Foll. $9b$–$10a$ contain a tāʾīyaḥ in honour of ʿAbd al-Qādir al-ʿAlawī. The author dates his notice Thursday 12 Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ 1002/1594.

VI. By Jamāl al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Laṭīf al-Jāmī (foll. $10b^{8}$–$12a$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل لباس التقوى خير لباس الخ

The author dates his notice Thursday 26 Ṣafar.

VII. By Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī al-Makkī (foll. $12a^{17}$–$14a$).

Beginning:

اقول من بعد البسملة والصلاة والحمد له الخ

This notice is undated.

VIII. By ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Aḥmad al-ʿAlawī (foll. $14a^{7}$–$15a$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى حلى عباده الابرار بزينة لباس التقوى الخ

The author dates his notice Jumādā II 1001/1593.

IX. By ʿAbd al-Qādir ibn Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Qādir al-Ḥabbānī (foll. $15a^{15}$–$17b$).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى البس صالحي عباده احسن اللباس الخ

The author dates his notice Thursday 12 Dhū 'l-Ḥijjaḥ 1002/1594 (cf. V).

These notices establish the fact that ʿAbd al-Qādir al-ʿAlawī completed his book about the year 1000/1592.

النصيحة العلوية

al-Naṣīḥaḥ al-'Alawīyaḥ.

A general account of the doctrine of the Ṣūfīs, leading into a special study of the Aḥmadī sect and of its founder, Aḥmad al-Badawī (d. 675/1276; cf. al-Ṭabaqāt al-kubrā I 214–20), by 'Alī ibn Burhān al-Dīn Ibrāhīm al-Ḥalabī al-Shāfi'ī (d. 1044/1635, see Brockelmann II 307).

Beginning:

الحمد لله منزل الرحمة...وبعد فيقول...علي بن برهان الدين الحلبي الشافعى الاحمدي لا يخفى ان الدنيا سحابة صوبها المصايب الخ

The full title of the work is given on fol. 2*a*:

وسميتها النصيحة العلوية في بيان حسن طريقة السادة الاحمدية

The first part of the treatise consists of a general account of Ṣūfism, illustrated with sayings of famous Ṣūfīs, and fortified with Traditions. This is followed (fol. 11*a*) by the main theme of the work, namely, an account of the life and sayings of Aḥmad al-Badawī and the tenets of the Aḥmadī Ṣūfīs. This section begins:

واعلموا يا اخوانى ان راس مال الفقر الادب فقد قيل الفقر بلا ادب كطابخ بلا حطب الخ

This section concludes (fol. 46*a*) with a list of the followers of the founder.

End:

ومنهم سيدى سيف مدفون بناحية بيسوس على ساحل النيل هذا ما وقفت عليه من هولاء السادة وليكن هذا اخر ما اردنا ايراده والله سبحانه وتعالى اعلم

On fol. 48*b* some verses, and on fol. 49*b* some sayings are quoted.

Foll. 308; 10 × 5¾ in.; ll. 15; large, fine naskhī, partially vocalised; rubrications; margins ruled in colours; foll. 1, 2 and 7 later supplies; some marginal notes; somewhat water-stained; dated Ramaḍān 1130/1718. [DELHI 1778]

البوارق النورية

al-Bawāriq al-nūrīyaḥ.

A fine copy of a rare mystical work by 'Abd al-Ḥamīd ibn Muḥammad al-Ḥusainī al-Tabrīzī, a Shī'aḥ scholar of the 11th century A.H. (see Bankipore Handlist XIII 158 quoting from Kashf al-ḥujūb). This work is of encyclopaedic scope, being in effect a theosophical interpretation of the universe.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى تجلى عن هويته غيب ذاته الى احديته المطلقة...وبعد فيقول اقل الخليقة...عبد الحميد بن معين الدين محمد الحسينى القتالى الرفاعى التبريزى ان هذه نكات العرفانية...وحقايق تصوفية...وقد اوضحت للطالبين جادة الرشاد وفتحت عليهم ابواب الوصول الى ما هو المبدء والمعاد...وسميتُه بالبوارق النورية فى اسرار الحقايق الخ

The book is divided into 8 sections called بوارق, and each بارقة is divided into a number of sub-sections called لوامع, as follows:

البارقة الاولى فى بيان الوجود وتنزلاته وتحقيق عالم اللاهوت وفوايد شتّى Fol. 3*a*

اللمعة الاولى فى بيان الوجود Fol. 3*a*

اللمعة الثانية فى بيان التوحيد ومرتبه Fol. 47*b*

اللمعة الثالثة فى بيان المعرفة والشريعة والطريقة والحقيقة Fol. 52*a*

اللمعة الثانية فى بيان الاطوار السبعة وما يظهر فيها وتعبيراتها Fol. 297*a*

اللمعة الثالثة فى بيان التجليات Fol. 303*b*

The author illustrates his doctrines, which are those of the school of Ibn [al-] 'Arabī, with quotations from the Qur'ān, and from ancient (Greek) and modern philosophers and theosophists. The so-called "Theology" of Aristotle is frequently cited, as also Ibn [al-]'Arabī's الفتوحات المكية and فصوص الحكم (with various commentaries), Jalāl al-Dīn Rūmī's المثنوى المعنوى, and numerous other well-known works. A terminus a quo is provided by a reference on fol. 306*b* to Dāmād (d. 1040/1630, see Rieu, Catalogue of Persian MSS. in the Brit. Mus. II 835).

End:

عقائد الخواص

'Aqā'id al-khawāṣṣ.

A treatise on dogmatic theology according to the Ṣūfīs. The author's name is nowhere mentioned in this copy, but in another copy (No. 1393) the work is ascribed to Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī, a well-known Indian Ṣūfī scholar who died in 1058/1648 (see Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind 175, No. 1279). From the colophon it appears that this work was dictated in a period beginning 21 Jumādā II 1047/1637 and ending 5 Dhū 'l-Qa'daḥ of the same year: this statement would therefore lend support to the ascription of the work to Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī. Moreover, the general style of the book, and the frequent quotations from the فصوص الحكم of Ibn [al-] 'Arabī, tend to confirm his authorship. In the list of his works given in the Tadhkirah (supra), the following titles appear: مناظرة اخص الخواص, سر الخواص, عبادة الخواص, طرق الخواص, عبادة اخص الخواص. Another of his works preserved in this collection (No. 1279) is entitled نفائس الخواص. It seems certain therefore that this work is of the pen of Muḥibb Allāh. The author has given his book the alternative title of دقائق العرفاء, in view of its division into twenty-one chapters called دقائق. These are as follows:

(١) فى اثبات الواجب	Fol. 2*b*
(٢) فى صفاته تعالى	Fol. 7*b*
(٣) فى تحقيق التكليف وتحقيق الثواب والعقاب مع كون المطيع عين المطاع	Fol. 12*b*
(٤) فى الامر والنهى	Fol. 17*b*
(٥) فى رويته تعالى	Fol. 25*b*
(٦) فى افعال العباد	Fol. 29*b*
(٧) فى الاجل	Fol. 39*a*
(٨) فى الرزق	Fol. 44*b*
(٩) فى عموم ارادته تعالى	Fol. 48*a*
(١٠) فى النبوة	Fol. 55*b*
(١١) فى عصمة الانبياء	Fol. 70*b*
(١٢) فى انه اليه يرجع الامر كله	Fol. 80*a*
(١٣) فى الملائكة	Fol. 89*b*

مغالط العامة

Maghāliṭ al-'āmmaḥ.

A work of encyclopaedic scope exposing the various errors into which men have fallen in matters connected with religion and Ṣūfism. The author of this work is not named in the present copy, but in the list of the works of Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī given in the Tadhkirah i 'ulamā i Hind (175) a مغاليط عامه is mentioned, and doubtless that is to be identified with this book. This copy is not complete, for of the 164 chapters (مغالط) enumerated in the author's preface only 97 are contained in these pages. The name of the work occurs on fol. 3*a*, and is explained as follows:

وسميت الكتاب مغالط العامة والمراد بالعامة من لم يبلغ درجة الحقيقة التامة

The author quotes Ibn [al-]'Arabī, especially his الفتوحات المكية, to support his arguments.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى هو الرحمن الذى علّم اهله القرآن...اعلم ان الحق تعالى لما خلق الخلق وفصل الآيات تفصيلا لم يشهد من يشهد جمال الخلق والآيات شهودًا جميلا الخ

After a long exordium, the author enumerates the chapters into which his book is divided, and then begins with a lengthy preface setting forth the general principles of Ṣūfī theology, in a series of 15 تمهيد (foll. 16–56). This is followed by the work proper.

ترجمة الكتاب

Tarjamaḥ al-kitāb.

A comprehensive work setting forth the general theological and mystical system of the Ṣūfīs. The name of the author does not occur in this copy, but on the fly-leaf of the author's own commentary (see No. 1397) it is attributed to Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī, and internal evidence confirms this ascription. The author gives his work the alternative title of المراتب الاربعة (fol. 1*b* of the commentary), in view of its division into four sections called مراتب. He acknowledges that the فصوص الحكم of Ibn [al-]'Arabī is the principal source of his inspiration.

Beginning:

الحمدُ لِلّهِ الّذِي أَنْزَل على عبده الكتاب فهَدَى الصراطَ المستقيم...وبعد فانه كان لي وقت فجاء رجل من اقصى المدينة ومعه فصوص الحكم بين يدىّ ساجدًا قائمًا تحت الكرسي ملتمسًا لقرأته عَلَىّ...وقد بُشِّرَ به وبتسميته بترجمة الكتاب الخ

Each مرتبة is divided into a number of فصول. The first treats of dogmatic theology, the second of religious law, the third of the Ṣūfī discipline, the fourth of the Ṣūfī experience. The work is preceded by a complete index.

المرتبة الاولى فى الكلام وفيها فصول ١٣ Fol. 146a

حاشية ترجمة الكتاب

Ḥāshiyaḥ Tarjamaḥ al-kitāb.

A commentary on the fourth section (مرتبة) of the preceding work, by the author himself. This commentary is ascribed on the front fly-leaf to Muḥibb Allāh Ilāhābādī, and it is possible that this is an autograph copy. The author explains that since writing the ترجمة الكتاب he had read الفتوحات المكية of Ibn [al-]'Arabī, and so he decided to expand the fourth section of that book with references to that and the well-known Ṣūfī works. This commentary was begun on Wednesday 25 Rabī' 1054/1644 and completed on Tuesday 4 Rajab of the same year.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الخالق المختار والصلوة والسّلام على نبيه ورسوله المختار وعلى آله الابرار واصحابه الاخيار وبعد فانى بعد بعد [sic] ما الفت هذا الكتاب اعنى ترجمة الكتاب المدعوة بالمراتب الاربعة بعده سنين ظفرت بالفتوحات المكية وظفرت بفصوص الحكم من قبل فاردت ان اويّد بعض ما فى المرتبة الرابعة من المعارف بما وجدته فى الكتابين وباقوال بعض اكابر اهل الله مما وجدته الخ

The commentary begins:

قوله ولما فرغت من المراتب الثلث التى هى كالمقدمة للمقصد الاقصى لما عرفت فى هذا الفصل اى فصل الصدق من فصول المرتبة الثالثة من ان هذا الكشف لا يكون بدون التقوى والصدق قوله المرتبة الرابعة فى الحقيقة والتكرار فى هذه المرتبة كالتكرار فى القران الخ

The author does not comment on every word of his original, but only on selected phrases.

The division into تنبيهات is preserved, but without these divisions being distinctly marked or numbered.

End:

واذكر اقوال الاولياء لتائيدات اقوال الكتاب ولا ان اذكر اقواله قدس سره لتائيد كل قول من اقوال الكتاب ولكن مخالفه فى البين وان كنت انت تجدها ايها الغافل الساهل الزاهل ثم وقع اختتام

بحر الحقائق

Baḥr al-ḥaqā'iq.

A work on the general principles of Ṣūfī theosophy, discussing such matters as the secret meanings of the letters, the "greatest name of God", and the experience of union with God. A note on fol. 30*a* ascribes this work to 'Abd Allāh called Khwājah Khwurd, who was a disciple of Shaikh Ḥusām al-Dīn Aḥmad, and was born (see next number) in 1010/1601–2. The author mentions his Shaikh by name on fol. 97*a*, and refers on fol. 90*b* to another of his own books entitled صلح الكل. The work is not divided into chapters, but subjects follow each other without interruption.

Beginning:

هذا ما حصل لى بلا فكر والحمد لله على افاضته اعلم ان الفكر نفسه وما يحصل بالفكر كله من الله فما لم يحصل بالفكر فى مرتبه الفكر لحصوله بدون توسط الفكر كالفكر واول ما يجب عليكم اخوانى التصديق بوجود الله سبحانه وطريقة الاستدلال كما هو المشهور بين اصحاب الكلام والحكمة الخ

On fol. 74*a* the author states that he began this work on Monday 23 Jumādā II 1053/1643. On fol. 80*b* the following note occurs:

وصلت الى هذا الموضع من الكتاب فى غرة رمضان من السنة المذكوره فنويت الصوم مع انى كنت مريضا ببعض الامراض الصفراوية والسوداوية ووجدت لذة قوية فى الصوم الخ

End:

الفوائح

al-Fawā'iḥ.

A collection of aphorisms and statements on a variety of mystical subjects. A note on fol. 30*a* of this manuscript ascribes this work, and the بحر الحقائق which follows it (see No. 1398) to 'Abd Allāh called Khwājah Khwurd, concerning whom nothing further appears to be known.

Beginning:

الحمد لمن عرفنا ذاته بذاته والصلوة على اكمل مظاهر اسمايه وصفاته اما بعد فهذه رساله مسماة بالفوايح لما فاحت معارفها من حدايق القدس على مشام قلوب اصحاب الانس الخ

The work is divided into numerous sections called فوائح, each section being separately marked thus:

فايحه القلب حقيقه جامعه لجميع الحقايق وهى كانها ظلال الخ Fol. 31*b*

On fol. 56*a* the author begins an account of his spiritual genealogy. He first mentions Shaikh Muḥammad Bāqī,[1] who he states was born in 972/1564–5 and died at the age of 40, at which time the author himself was a boy of 2. This enables us to fix the birth-date of Khwājah Khwurd as 1010/1601–2. He then names his Shaikh, Ḥusām al-Dīn Aḥmad, whose death he assigns to the year 1043/1633–4. On fol. 58*a* a new section begins:

[1] Cf. Ethé 1891, Rieu 1058*b*.

والان نذكر فى عده فوايح بعض آداب هذه الطريقة الشريفه وكلماتهم مع ما يتعلق بتوضيحها

The author quotes many sayings of famous Ṣūfīs on various topics (which he specifies from fol 67*b* onwards by name—التوبة, الزهد, التوكل, etc.), explaining them when necessary.

End:

فالغالب ان يقع فى الالحاد نعوذ بالله من ذلك وليكن هذا ختم الرساله وصلى الله على خير خلقه محمد واله واصحابه وكل اتباعه اجمعين اللهم افتح علىّ ما فتحت على اوليايك المقربين انك خير الفاتحين وصلّ على محمد واله اجمعين

خلاصة الروائح فى شرح الفوائح

Khulāṣaḥ al-rawā'iḥ fī sharḥ al-Fawā'iḥ.

A commentary on the preceding work, by Muḥammad 'Alī ibn Mu'izz al-Dīn Aḥmad al-Wāsiṭī, concerning whom nothing more appears to be known.

Beginning:

له الحمد والشكر وهو الحمد والحامد والمحمود والشكر والشاكر والمشكور...فيقول المفتقر الى ربه الغنى المغنى محمد على ابن [sic] سيد معز الدين احمد...لما كان تاليف وحيد الزمان...المشهور بخواجا خورد...المسمى بفوايح [sic] اول التاليفات رحبت التدقيقات والتحقيقات...شرعت فى شرح مشكلاته الخ

In a lengthy preface (fol. 1–13*a*) the commentator sets forth in a series of chapters called فائدة the general principles of Ṣūfism. The commentary itself begins (fol. 13*b*):

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم فتح الكتاب بسم الله... الحمد لمن عرفنا ذاته بذاته هو اظهار كمال الحمد الخ

The commentary ends (fol. 74*a*):

وصلى الله على خير خلقه محمد واله وصحنه اجمعين والحمد لله على اكمل النعمه وهو اتمام الكتاب بحسن المعارف والحقايق بتوفيقه تعالى الخ

In a postscript the commentator records other Ṣūfī sayings, and gives brief definitions of Ṣūfī technical terms.

End:

ينابيع الحكم

Yanābī' al-ḥikam.

A mystical miscellany, being a collection of thoughts on various matters written down by Sa'īd al-Dīn Abū 'l-Mahdī. Concerning this author nothing further appears to be known: this work is however partly autobiographical, and the author tells us that he wrote this book at Delhi. He mentions (fol. 83*a*) as his Shaikh Bahā' al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥusain al-'Āmulī (d. 1030/1621, see Brockelmann II 414–15), to whose work الكشكول he particularly refers. He quotes (fol. 76*a*) from the سلالة العصر, whose author ('Alī Khān ibn Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad Ma'sūm, d. 1104/1692, see Brockelmann II 421) he describes as a contemporary of his own. It is therefore possible to fix as Abū 'l-Mahdī's floruit the year 1070/1660. This copy is incomplete at the end.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ مُنَوِّرِ الْاَنْوَارِ فِي الْجِهَاتِ...وَبَعْدُ فَيَقُولُ اَلْعَبْدُ اَلْمُتَمَسِّكُ بِحَبْلِ اَللّٰهِ...أَبُو اَلْمَهْدِى سَعِيدُ اَلْمِلَّةِ وَاَلدِّينِ...اِنِّي لَمَّا فَرَغْتُ مِن اعْتِكَافِي وَاعْتِزَالِي اَلثَّالِثِ لِتَصْفِيَةِ اَلرُّوحِ الخ

The title is given on fol. 3*a*. The following main divisions occur (it is probable that others should fall after fol. 88, but these the copyist has omitted):

Fol. 4*b*	تقدمة	Fol. 17*b*	القول فى حقيقة النبوّة
Fol. 22*b*	واقول فى سبب معاودة نشر العلم
Fol. 29*b*	تقدمة الثانية	Fol. 31*a*	لامعة

Fol. 49*b*	ساطعة	Fol. 51*b*	ساطعة

Fol. 59*a*	لائحة	Fol. 73*a*	ساطعة
Fol. 88*b*	الينبوع الثانى

The author mentions another work of his (fol. 50*a*) entitled سفينة الانوار. Foll. 81*b*–88*b* contain a long notice, and quotations from the works, of Ṣadr al-Dīn Muḥammad al-Shīrāzī (d. 903/1497, see Brockelmann II 204): a list of his books is given on foll. 85*b*–86*a*.

تحليل معضلات ابن العربى

Taḥlīl mu'ḍilāt Ibn al-'Arabī.

An excellent copy of a work explaining difficulties which occur in the writings of Ibn [al-]'Arabī (especially فصوص الحكم) and defending that famous theosophist against the strictures of the orthodox theologians. The author of this work (see fol. 1*a*) is Amr Allāh ibn Munīr Allāh al-Bahārī, who informs us (fol. 2*a*) that he had written another work entitled اشعّة ربّانية فى تزويق وحدة الوجود: the present book is dedicated (fol. 2*b*) to Khāndaurān Bahādur Ṣamṣām al-Daulaḥ, who was Amīr al-umarā' at the court of the Moghul emperor Muḥammad Shāh, and was killed in the year 1151/1738 (see Rieu, Catalogue of Persian MSS. in the Brit. Mus. 277*b*, 941*a*). The present work was therefore clearly written in the early part of the 12/18th century.

Beginning:

الحمد لمن حُمِدَ بكل ما حُمِدَ وحَمِدَ بكل ما حَمِدَ...اما بعد فيقول...امر الله بن منير الله محمدى الطيارى بطنا پهلوارويّ البهاريّ وطنا انى كنت...قد شغفنى حُبًّا فى تصفح صحف اهل العرفان لتحليل المُعضِلات التكفيرية التى اوردها العلماء الرسمية على الشيخ الاكبر والخاتم الاصغر حتى ظفرتُ فى بعض اسفارنا على بعض اسفارهم فى هذا الباب...ولما فرغت عن تاليف رسالةٍ اشعَّةٍ رَبَّانية فى تزويق وحدة الوجود أمِرتُ بتحليل تلك المُعضلات...جاءت [sic] عجالة...سميتها بتحليل معضلات ابن العربى الخ

The author explains that the obscurities with which Ibn [al-]'Arabī is charged are of two kinds: those connected with the doctrine of Divine Unity (وحدة الوجود), and those not connected therewith. He proceeds to analyse passages from فصوص الحكم according to these two classes. His procedure is, first to quote the relevant passage; then to state the difficulty (الاعضال); and finally to resolve it (التحليل). This section ends with a خاتمة, beginning on fol. 153*a*: this خاتمة is divided into three فصول:

الفصل الاول فى فضائل الشيخ الاكبر والخاتم الاصغر Fol. 153*b*

الفصل الثانى فى ذكر سلسلة الشيخ الاكبر... والباس الخرقة Fol. 158*a*

الفصل الثالث فى ذكر عقايد الشيخ الاكبر Fol. 162*a*

The book concludes (fol. 164*a*) with a وصية to the reader.

End:

ولما قبلت هذه الوصية وعملت بموجبها اذكر هذا الفقير العاصى الخائف عن يوم يوخذ فيه بالاقدام والنواصى بالثناء الجميل...وادخله فى اودعيته الصالحة والله الوكيل عليك...والله يقول الحق وهو يهدى السبيل الحمد لله الخ

الرسالة فى طريق السادات النقشبندية

al-Risālaḥ fī ṭarīq al-sādāt al-Naqshbandīyaḥ.

A summary of the tenets of the Naqshbandī order of Ṣūfīs, written by Tāj al-Dīn ibn Zakarīyā al-'Abshamī (d. 1050/1640). For an account of this author and a full description of this work see Bankipore Catalogue XIII 154–6. This copy has no title.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوات والسلام على سيدنا محمد واله وصحبه اجمعين ان معتقد السادات النقشبندية قدس الله تعالى اسرارهم وهو [sic] معتقد اهل السنة والجماعة...وهذه الطريقة العلية النقشبندية اخذها هذا الفقير الحقير الكامل فى النقصان والفاخر [sic] فى معرفة الرحمن تاج الدين الخ

There follows a نسبة of the Ṣūfī succession back to al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī. The work is then divided as follows:

الطريق الاول فيه (?) الوصول الى الله تعالى على طريق السادات النقشبندية Fol. 285*b*

طريق الثانية [sic] للسادات النقشبندية فى سبب الوصول وحصول المعرفة Fol. 286*b*

الطريق الثالث [...] وقع ا[.....] الذكر والاستغال تفرقة او وسوسة او فيض Fol. 288*a* الرسالة الاحدية

al-Risālaḥ al-Aḥadīyaḥ.

An exposition of the principle of Divine Unity, and how it may be realised through self-knowledge, in accordance with the well-known Tradition من عرف نفسه فقد عرف ربه.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى لم يكن قبل وحدانيته قبل الا والقبل هو ولم يكن بعد وحدانيته بعد الا والبَعد هو كان ولا قبل معه ولا بعد معه ولا فوق ولا تحت ولا قرب ولا بعد ولا كيف ولا اين ولا حين ولا اوان ولا وقت ولا زمان الخ

The work is ascribed in the colophon to الشيخ الاكبر, i.e. Ibn [al-]'Arabī, and this ascription is accepted by Krafft and Pertsch, followed by Brockelmann: but the exordium quoted is identical with that cited by Ḥ. Kh. as the opening of الرسالة الاحدية of البلبانى (III 362). It is curious to note, however, that a treatise bearing the same name by البكرى, also cited by Ḥ. Kh., begins in a very similar way: الحمد لله الذى ليس لاحديّته قبل الا والقبل هو الخ. The theme is, however, a commonplace. If the author of the present work is al-Bulbānī, and not Ibn [al-]'Arabī, it is uncertain whether he is to be identified with the Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad al-Bulbānī mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. as having written a commentary on the فصيح فى اللغة (IV 445), whose obiit is unfortunately lacking in Flügel's edition, or with the Muḥammad ibn al-Balbānī who is the author of العقيدة فى التوحيد (Ahlwardt 2051), and who died c. 1064/1653. The work itself affords no clue to authorship, and no persons are mentioned: some verses are quoted, among them the following (on foll. 33*b*–34*a*):

عرفت الرب بالرب بلا شك ولا ريب
فذاتى ذاته حقًا بلا نقص ولا ذيب
ولا طريان بينهما فنفسى مظهر الغيب
ومنذ عرفت نفسى بلا مزج ولا شوب

The work concludes with a number of مسائل illustrating the doctrine of توحيد.

End:

وان الاشياء من ايّ وجه عينه ومن ايّ وجه غيره يعلم كيفية ظهور الروح فى البدن وانه من ايّ وجه عينه ومن اى وجه غيره فافهم

This 'Abd Allāh Multānī is probably to be identified with the author of the well-known Persian work دليل الاحسان (see Edwards, Catalogue of Persian Books 42). This copy extends only as far as fol. 34*a* of the preceding copy, omitting the مسائل which there follow.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِي لَمْ يَكُنْ قَبْلَ وَحْدَانِيَّتِهِ قَبْلٌ إِلَّا وَالْقَبْلُ هُوَ الخ

Another copy of the same work.
To this copy a preface is added ascribing the work to 'Umar al-Nasafī, the famous theologian (d. 537/1142). This ascription is obviously false.

Beginning:

من عرف الله كل لسانه

Man 'araf Allāh kall lisānuh.

A mystical meditation on the apparently contradictory Traditions: من عرف الله كل لسانه ومن عرف الله طال لسانه. The author is Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad al-Fārūqī, a Ṣūfī of the Chishtī order, who flourished about 1000/1591 (Ahlwardt III 132: 1100/1688 according to Brockelmann II 420[1]). He develops his argument out of an answer given by Shaikh Naṣr al-Dīn Maḥmūd of Oudh, to one enquiring about these conflicting Traditions.

Risālaḥ fī bayān al-jihād al-akbar.

A short tract on self-discipline and self-mortification, by the same Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad called Ḥasan Muḥammad. In this work the author elaborates the doctrine of جهاد as applied to the spiritual life, as exemplified in the Tradition, that the Prophet, being asked, ما الجهاد الاكبر, replied, هو مخالفة النفس.

تنبيه العقول

Tanbīh al-'uqūl.

A tract written at Medina in the year 1093/1682 (see fol. 36*a*) by Ibrāhīm ibn Ḥasan al-Kūrānī al-Shahrazūrī (d. 1101/1690, see al-Murādī I 5, Brockelmann II 385) defending Ibn [al-]'Arabī and his followers against the charges of anthropomorphism and incarnation.

Beginning:

الحمد لله النور الهادى المبين...اما بعد فقد صح عن النبى صلعم انه قال الايمان بضع وسبعون شعبة افضلها قول لا اله الا الله وادناها اماطة الاذى عن الطريق وقد وقع من طايفة من المتكلمين والفقهاء الانكار على الشيخ...بن العربي...وعلى محققى اتباعه كالشيخ صدر الدين...القونوى والشيخ شرف الدين اسمعيل بن سودكين النورى وغيرهما ممن هو على مشربهم من القول...بانهم قايلون بالتجسيم او الاتحاد او العينية او الحلول وهم براء من ذلك كله الخ

The author then proceeds to answer each charge in detail with quotations from the works of Ibn [al-]'Arabī and his school, emphasising before everything the importance of understanding fully the true significance of the technical terms employed by them. The work is divided into the following sections:

شرح تبصرة

Sharḥ Tabṣiraḥ.

A commentary on the preceding work. This commentary is written by the author himself, 'Abd al-Rasūl ibn Muḥammad Khān al-Bījāpūrī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذي هدانا لهذا وما كنا لنهتدي لولا ان هدانا الله والصلوة على حبيبه محمد واله واصحابه الذين اراؤ [sic] طرق الله وبعد فاعلموا اخوانى...ان العلم افضل الوسيلة الى الله...وان رسالتى المترجمة بتبصرة مشتملة على اكثرها بالعبارة والدلالة والاشارة والرمز وقد اكتفيت بهذا البيان الا انه تعالى قد الهمني بان اشرحها شرحا الخ

The commentary proper begins:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الباء باب الخزانة والسين سر الرسالة...لك الحمد اتى بالجد اداءً لما وجب عليه الخ

End:

وهذا هو معاد النفس المطمئنة المذكور بالعبارة الممكنة...وصل على حبيبك محمد بعد وما احاط به علمك وجري به قلمك وعلي آله واصحابه واهل بيته واتباعه وسلم برحمتك يا ارحم الراحمين

No other copy appears to be recorded. Fol. 229 is blank.

Foll. 59*b*–61*b*; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 26; cursive but legible nasta'līq; worm-eaten and water-stained; margins repaired; 15th century. [DELHI Persian 1475*f*]

A Ṣūfī tract, lacking both title and author's name, expounding the doctrine of استدراج, that is, that God sometimes accords special marks of His favour to notorious sinners, in order thereby to lead them gradually to destruction. It has not been possible to identify this tract with any known work.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذي اصطفى اولياءه لمعرفته وخصهم واختارهم لقربه وَقرَّبهم لموانسته فصاروا اهل المعرفة بتعريفه واهل الصحبة بتخصيصه واهل القربة بتقريبه واهل الموانسة بفضله وامتنانه واحسانه ونشهد ان لا

الاحوال تجريد النفس عن الميل الى الشهوات الدنيا ودواعى الهوى وفى النهاية تجريد النفس عن [sic] روية تاثير الكائنات ونسبة الافعال عن المخلوقات وتجريدها عن الالهيات النفسانية والملكات الردية الشيطانية

Foll. 17; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 11; large, clear and elegant naskhī; fully vocalised throughout; 18th century. [DELHI 1873]

مرآة العارفين

Mir'āḥ al-'ārifīn.

An anonymous work, purporting apparently to be written by either al-Ḥasan or al-Ḥusain, according to the following statement on fol. 9*b*:

فَفِكْرُكَ يَا وَلَدِى فِيكَ يَكْفِيكَ فَلَيْسَ شَيْءٌ خَارِجًا مِنْكَ كَمَا قَالَ اَبِى اَمِيرِ [sic] الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلِيّ ابْنُ اَبِيطَالِبِ [sic] كَرَمَ اللَّهُ وَجْهَهُ دَاءُكَ فِيكَ وَمَا تَشْعُرُ الخ

A book with this title is mentioned but not described by Ḥ. Kh. (v 483) and there attributed to Ibn [al-]'Arabī.

The work is a fanciful disquisition on the Sūraḥ al-Fātiḥaḥ, and begins:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِى اَخْرَجَ مِنَ ٱلنُّونِ مَا اَدْرَجَ فِي الْقَلَمِ وَاَبْرَزَ اِلَى الْوُجُودِ [sic] بِالْجُودِ مَا اَكْنَزَ فِي الْعَدَمِ الخ

On foll. 2*b*–3*a* we read:

أَمَّا بَعْدُ فَانِّي اَجَبْتُ سُوَالَكَ اَيُّهَا الْوَلَدُ الصَّالِحُ لَمَّا قَمَرَ
سَاَلْتَنِى اَنْ اَثْبَتَ وَاَرْلَكَ [sic] فِي هَذَا | الْمُخْتَصِرِ شَيْئًا مِمَّا قَدَّرَ اللَّهُ لِى فِى تَحْقِيقِ فَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ الَّتِى هِىَ اُمُّ الْكِتَابِ بِلِسَانِ اَهْلِ اللَّهِ وَخَاصَّتِهِ وَسَمَّيْتُهُ بِمِرْاٰةِ الْعَارِفِينَ فِي مُلْتَمِسِ زين العابدينَ الخ

The author then proceeds to develop the idea that the Fātiḥaḥ contains the whole

اله الا الله وحده لا شريك له وان محمد عبده ورسوله . . . اعلم ان الله تعالي ربما يزين اعداه بلباس اوليايه واصفيائه حتى انهم يغترون الخ

The author warns the neophyte against too readily accepting God's favours as a sign of his own state of grace.

End:

والله الموفق والمعين الهى لا تجعلنى من بابك مطرودا ولا عن طاعتك مهجورا برحمتك يا ارحم الراحمين

Three verses in Arabic and a short passage in Persian follow.

1418

Foll. 1–5; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ cm.; ll. 17; large, clear naskhī; slightly worm-eaten; early 19th century. [DELHI Persian 1157*a*]

A short dictionary, or perhaps an extract from a larger work, defining various well-known Ṣūfī technical terms. This copy bears neither title nor indication of authorship, and it has not been possible to identify it with any known work.

Beginning:

فى البداية الصبر فى الله اى فى تجليات صفاته واتصاف بها [sic] وفى النهاية الصبر بالله فى مقام البقاء بعد الفناء الرضا عن الله تعالى فى البداية كل ما قضى وقدر وهو نتيجة رضى الله تعالى عن العبد فى قوله رضى الله عنهم ورضوا عنه وفى الاحوال الرضا بالله ربا وبالاسلام دينا وبمحمد صلى الله عليه وسلم نبيا ورسوله وفى النهاية القيام بالحق فى صفاته وذاته فلا يرضى الا برضاء الله الخ

The author thus systematically treats of the various grades of each mystical state, without observing alphabetical or any other (apparent) order.

End:

التجريد فى البداية وهو تجريد عن المخالفات واللذات الطبيعه [sic] والزخارفات الدنيوية وفى meaning of the Qur'ān. On fol. 6*b* he expounds the doctrine of al-Insān al-kāmil according to the theosophical interpretation of the school of Ibn [al-]'Arabī. On fol. 13*a* he returns to the esoteric interpretation of the Fātiḥaḥ, and with this the treatise ends:

Foll. 197–215; $9\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 27–35; cursive naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 19th century. [DELHI 1952*w*] al-'Aqā'id al-Sunnīyaḥ.

العقائد السنّية

An exposé of the orthodox tenets of the Sunnīs and the "sober" Ṣūfīs, with a refutation of the heresies of the extremists. The author is 'Uthmān ibn 'Īsā al-Ṣiddīqī al-Ḥanafī, concerning whom nothing more appears to be known.

Beginning:

بحمد الله على ما علمنا قواعد العقائد الدينية... فيقول المفتقر الى الله الغنى عثمان بن عيسى الصديقي الحنفى...هذه عقائد المحدثين والفقهاء المدققين وقدماء كبار المشايخ الصوفية المحققين وقواعد المتكلمين من اهل السنة والجماعة وسميتها بالعقايد السنية ورتبتها على سبعة عشر فصلا الخ

The author then enumerates the 17 sections into which the book is divided, and which occur as follows:

الفصل الاول [فى الايمان بالله تعالى وصفاته وتنزيهه] Fol. 197*a*

الفصل الثانى فى حدوث العالم [وتفضيل بعض العباد علي البعض...وبيان ان معتقدات الصوفية هى معتقدات الفقهاء والمحدثين وبيان وجه الخطأ فى الاقتداء بما يصدر عن الصوفية من الكلام عند غلبة السكر ورد مذهب المتصوفة الوجودية... ومعنى التوحيد وكون العلم اشرف من الحال] Fol. 198*a*

الفصل الثالث [فى الصحابة المبشرة بدخول الجنة] Fol. 202*a*

الفصل الرابع [فى تفسير الايمان وما يتعلق به] Fol. 202*a*

الفصل الخامس [فى كرامات الاولياء واصابة العين وما يناسبه] Fol. 202*b*

الفصل السادس [فى الامر بالمعروف وما يتعلق به] Fol. 203*a*

الفصل السابع [فيما يفعل عند الموت الخ] Fol. 203*b*

الفصل الثامن [فى نفخ الصور والبحث والحساب الخ] Fol. 205*a*

الفصل التاسع [فى خلود الكافرين فى النار] Fol. 205*b*

الفصل العاشر [فى روية الله تعالى] Fol. 206*a*

الفصل الحادى عشر [فى كون اسماء الله تعالى توقيفه الخ] Fol. 206*b*

الفصل الثانى عشر [فى عدم جواز مخالفة الاجماع] Fol. 207*b*

الفصل الثالث عشر [فى وجود نصب الامام...وحكم اهل البغى والقضاة] Fol. 207*b*

الفصل الرابع عشر [فى كلمات الكفر] Fol. 209*a*

الفصل الخامس عشر [فى الكبائر] Fol. 211*b*

الفصل السادس عشر [فى التوبة] Fol. 213*b*

الفصل السابع عشر [فى مدة بقاء الدنيا] Fol. 215*a*

Among the authorities quoted are al-Qasṭallānī (fol. 197*b*), al-Suhrawardī (fol. 198*a*), al-Ghazālī (ib.), al-Baghawī (ib.), al-Taftazānī (fol. 198*b*), Muḥammad ibn Ṭāhir al-Hindī (fol. 199*a*), al-'Aidarūs (fol. 199*b*), al-Qushairī (fol. 200*a*), al-Suyūṭī (ib.), Abū 'l-Najīb (ib.), 'Alī ibn Ḥusām al-Dīn al-Muttaqī (fol. 201*b*), al-Dawānī (fol. 202*a*), etc.

End:

والاحاديث الدالة على ان مدة الدنيا سبعة آلاف سنة كثيرة منها ما روى عن انس بن مالك رضه قال رسول الله صلعم من قضى حاجة اخيه المسلم في الله كتب الله له عمر الدنيا سبعة الاف سنة صيام نهارها وقيام ليلة

كتاب الهمّة

Kitāb al-himmaḥ.

An ethical work elaborating the duties of men in authority to their subjects, and of subjects to their rulers. There is no indication to the identity of the author, and the only authorities quoted appear to be Traditions of the Prophet and the Companions, frequently on the isnād of Ja'far ibn Muḥammad al-Ṣādiq. The book does not appear to be mentioned in any of the catalogues.

Beginning:

شرح البزدوى

Sharḥ al-Pazdawī.

A commentary upon the Uṣūl of al-Pazdawī by an author whose name is not given.

Beginning (as here extant):

افتتح كتابه اولا بالسمه تيمنا واقتداء بقول النبى صلى الله عليه وسلم كل امر دى بال لم يبد اسم الله الخ

The commentary proceeds by way of objection and answer introduced by فان قلت and by اجيب or قلنا respectively. Forty-nine chapter-headings are marked, beginning with باب معرفة احكام الخصوص (fol. 77*a*), and ending with باب فى السكر (fol. 497*a*).

End:

الاباحة مطلقة ولا يصير كطعام نفسه فى الاباحة حتى وجب عليه الضمان بالتناول ولو صير كان ماحورا بخلاف طعام نفسه'

No other copy appears to be recorded. Ḥ. Kh.?

1428

3812*a*. Foll. 1–6, 57, 58, 7–38; $8 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 25–30; naskhī, for the most part unpointed; rubrications; stained by damp and earlier leaves injured; date 583/1187; copyist, Abū 'Alī al-Ḥasan b. Isḥāq. [Purchased 30 March 1910]

A short treatise on the Uṣūl, called on the title-page التمهيد فى اصول الفقه and attributed to the Imām Muḥammad b. Idrīs al-Shāfi'ī (d. 204/820; cf. Goldziher, Zahiriten, pp. 20–26 and Muhammedanische Studien II 83; Brockelmann I 178 etc.). Neither title nor author's name appears in the text and no work of the given title is to be found in Ḥ. Kh. It is not the risālaḥ commonly attributed to the Imām al-Shāfi'ī.

Beginning:

...يستحقه و صلواته على محمد خاتم النبيين و سد المرسلس...سالنى اخوانى ان اصنف له [sic] مختصرا فى اصول الفقه الخ

The work contains the following, amongst other, bābs:

Fol. 1*b*	بيان العلم والظن

Fol. 6*a*	فى ان الامر يدل الخ
Fol. 6*b*	من لا بد حل فى الامر الخ

End:

وهذا خطأ لانه ليس فى تجويز ذلك احالة ولا فساد فوجب ان يكون جائزًا

No other copy appears to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1429

Foll. 58*a*–147*b*, end defective; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 17; rubrications; clear naskhī, sometimes vocalised; marginal comments; worm-eaten; 14th century. [DELHI 450*b*]

An incomplete work on the Uṣūl, with a critical examination of them and the deduction of furū' or practical applications. The author is called "al-Shaikh al-Imām al-Ajall Burhān al-Ā'immaḥ Sirāj al-Ummaḥ". This may, therefore, be the Kitāb al-Uṣūl of 'Umar b.'Abd al-'Azīz b.'Umar ibn Māzah, Burhān al-Ā'immaḥ, Abū Muḥammad, known as al-Ḥusām al-Shahīd, who died in 536/1141 (Ibn Quṭlūbughā, no. 139; Ḥ. Kh. 1 339; Brockelmann 1 374).

Beginning:

الحمد لله مستحق الحمد حتى لا انقطاع ومستوجب الشكر ناقصى ما يستطاع...قال الشيخ الامام الاجل برهان الائمه سراج الامه...اعلم ان المناظره فى احكام الشريعه لتبيين الحق ورفع الشبه مندوب اليها نحوى التوارث من السلف الخ

Foll. 72—one folio lacking after fol. 19; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 10; cursive inelegant naskhī with an insertion (foll. 21–40) in good nasta'līq; rubrications; numerous marginal notes; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 403]

كتاب الاصول

Kitāb al-Uṣūl

(Generally known as Uṣūl al-Shāshī.)

A treatise on Ḥanafī jurisprudence, called in the (Persian) colophon Kitāb-i Shāshī, by an author who cannot be identified with certainty. Possibly he was the Shāshī Abū Bakr Muḥammad b. Aḥmad b. Ḥusayn b. 'Umar, surnamed Fakhr al-Islām and known as al-Mustaẓhirī. He was a teacher at the Niẓāmiyaḥ Madrasaḥ at Baghdād, where he died in 507/1114, Abū Naṣr b. al-Ṣabbāgh, author of the Shāmil, having been one of his predecessors in office (Ibn Khallikān, tr. de Slane II 625). This Ibn al-Ṣabbāgh is mentioned on fol. 57*b* of the manuscript. The work is usually, however, attributed to al-Qaffāl al-Shāshī.

Ḥ. Kh. v 81 calls the work Kitāb al-Khamsīn because it was finished in the author's fiftieth year. See further Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1501, where the authorship of the work is discussed at some length.

Beginning:

الحمد الله [sic] الذى اعلى منزلة المؤمنين بكريم خطابه... والسلام على ابيحنيفة [sic] واحبابه اما بعد فان اصول الفقه اربعة الخ

The work is divided into 4 baḥth as follows:

(1) فى كتاب الله	Fol. 1*b*
(2) فى سنّة رسول الله	Fol. 50*a*
(3) فى الاجماع	Fol. 54*a*
(4) فى القياس	Fol. 57*a*

End:

فقال محمد رح ما بال السمك لا خمس فيه قال انه يتولد من الماء فلا خمس فيه كالماء'

Foll. 75; $10\frac{7}{8} \times 6$ in.; ll. 11; cursive naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; worm-eaten; date [1]240/1824–5. [DELHI 404]

Uṣūl al-Shāshī.

Another copy of the Kitāb al-Uṣūl (see 1439).

The four rukns begin on foll. 1*b*, 50*b*, 54*a* and 58*a* respectively.

1441

Foll. 191; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; careless and inelegant naskhī; rubrications; original text overlined in red; numerous interlinear and marginal comments; 18th century. [DELHI 445]

فصول الحواشى لاصول الشاشى

Fuṣūl al-ḥawāshī li-uṣūl al-Shāshī.

A commentary [by ? Ilāh-Dād, d. 923/1517 or 932/1525; cf. Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1494, p. 1] on the treatise on jurisprudence known as the Uṣūl al-Shāshī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله على سوابغ نعمائه المتواترة في كل زمان وسوابغ الايه المتقاطرة في كل آن... فان اهم المطالب الدينية واعظم المعالم اليقينة علم الفقه... وان الكتب المص' فى اصول هذا الفن اكثرها تداولا واقربها تناولا الكتاب المعروف باصول الشاشى الخ

The main themes (baḥth) occur as follows:

فى كتاب الله	Fol. 5*a*
فى سنّه رسول الله	Fol. 139*a*
فى الاجماع	Fol. 150*b*
فى القياس	Fol. 161*b*

End:

كشف الاسرار فی شرح المنار

Kashf al-asrār fī sharḥ al-Manār.

A treatise on Uṣūl by Abū 'l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh b. Aḥmad b. Maḥmūd al-Nasafī (d. 710/1310; cf. no. 1447 supra), who declares in the preface that, after composing for the scholars of Bukhārā and elsewhere a compendium of the works on Uṣūl by Fakhr al-Islām (al-Pazdawī) and Shams al-A'immaḥ al-Sarakhsī, he now elucidated some of the profundities of the Uṣūl al-fiqh of Fakhr al-Islām. The work resolves itself into a commentary on his own treatise, the Manār al-anwār, as is indicated on fol. 3*a* and in the colophon.

Beginning:

احمد الله ذا الحجّة الباهره والعزّة القاهره علی نعمه العظام ومننه الجسام الخ

The main chapters occur as follows:

Fol. 3*b*	باب امّا الکتاب
Fol. 84 (76)a	باب بیان اقسام السنّة
Fol. 115 (107)a	باب الاجماع
Fol. 118 (110)a	باب القیاس

End:

دائر الوصول الی علم الاصول

Dā'ir al-wuṣūl ilā 'ilm al-uṣūl.

A commentary on a work on jurisprudence, compiled by the author of Madār al-fuḥūl fī sharḥ manār al-uṣūl, i.e. Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Mubārak Shāh al-Harawī (? 10/16th century; cf. Bankipore XIX (i), p. 15), who bore the title of Mu'īn (Ḥ. Kh. VI 125). He explains that this earlier work, though brief, contained many profundities, which he elucidates here. The Madār is itself a commentary on the Manār al-anwār of al-Nasafī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى سقي لاصول المستنبطين من كوثر غرائب الفهوم ماءً الخ

The main divisions of the treatise begin as follows:

Fol. 2*b*	امّا الكتاب
Fol. 55*a*	بيان اقسام السنة
[? Ijmā'	not marked]
Fol. 72*a*	القياس

End:

Foll. 60 (two pages blank); $7 \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 16 then 11; naskhī in a variety of hands; rubrications; 18th century. [DELHI 439*a*]

A commentary, in the form of objection and answer, on Abū 'Abd Allāh al-Harawī's Dā'ir al-wuṣūl ilā 'ilm al-uṣūl. The author's name does not appear, but from the fact that he mentions (fol. 3*b ad fin.*) the Nūr al-anwār of Aḥmad ibn Sa'īd al-Makkī al-Ṣāliḥī, known as Shaikh Jīwan (Brockelmann II 196, 14; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 19), who died in 1130/1718, it is probable that he was an Indian scholar of the 12th century of the Hijraḥ.

Beginning:

اعلم انه لا بد لمن شرع فى العلم من معرفة ثلثة اشياء الاول تعريفه والثانى موضوعه والثالث غرضه الخ

End:

وهو قول ان الاداء يختلف باختلاف صيغة الوقف وهذا المعني غير موجود فى الشرط'

No other copies appear to have been recorded.

Foll. 182; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5$ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq; text distinguished from commentary by black lines over; 18th century. [DELHI 434]

Glosses—occasionally in Persian—by an unnamed author on the work Dā'ir al-wuṣūl ilā 'ilm al-uṣūl, by Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Mubārak Shāh al-Harawī.

Beginning:

نحمدك اللهم على ما اعطينا النعم السوابغ والحكم البوالغ وعلمنا بالاصول...وبعد فان اشرف العلوم بعد التوحيد واهمها ما يكون اساسا لقيام اساس الدين الخ

The chief divisions occur as follows:

Fol. 12*b*	فى الكتاب
Fol. 102*a*	فى بيان اقسام السنّة
Fol. 127*b*	فى الاجماع
Fol. 131*b*	فى القياس

End [abrupt, not coinciding with that of the original work]:

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.?

1456

Foll. 153; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 23; nasta'līq, partially vocalised (first two folios in a different hand from the rest); illuminated 'unwān; rubrications; some interlinear and marginal comments; original text overlined; early 19th century. [DELHI 480]

نور الانوار فى شرح المنار

Nūr al-anwār fī sharḥ al-Manār.

A commentary on Abū 'l-Barakāt al-Nasafī's treatise on Ḥanafī Uṣūl—the Manār al-anwār—by Shaikh Jīwan Aḥmad ibn Abī Sa'īd al-Lakhnawī (d. 1130/1717; cf. Brockelmann II 196; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 19), who completed the work at Medinaḥ in 1105/1694 in his 58th year.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل اصول الفقه مبنى الشرايع والاحكام الخ

The divisions of the original text are retained, occurring as follows:

Fol. 3*b*	اما الكتاب
Fol. 81*a*	باب بيان اقسام السنة
Fol. 103*a*	باب الاجماع
Fol. 105*b*	باب القياس

End:

اللهم ادخلنى فى زمرة الشهداء واسلكنى فى عدّة السعداء يوم لا ينفع مال ولا بنون ولا ينجى باس ولا حصون'

This is followed by the author's colophon.

For other copies see Loth 316; Āṣafīyaḥ, pp. 102 f.; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1511.

Printed Calcutta 1818, Lucknow 1266/1850, Cawnpore 1882, etc.

Foll. 191 (fol. 89 is misnumbered 90 in the original Arabic numeration and the consequent error is continued to the end); $8\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq, with parts in Persian naskhī in various hands; passages of original text overlined; some marginal comments; worm-eaten; date 1216/1801–2. [DELHI 481]

Nūr al-anwār fī sharḥ al-Manār.

Another copy of the commentary by Shaikh Jīwan.

(The author's colophon gives his age at the time of composition as 85, erroneously.)

1458

Foll. 94 preceded by a table of contents of 6 foll.; $11\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; Persian naskhī; original text overlined; frequent marginal comments; 19th century. [DELHI 482]

Nūr al-anwār fī sharḥ al-Manār.

Another copy of the commentary by Shaikh Jīwan.

1459

Foll. 154; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 18; coarse Persian naskhī; original text overlined; slightly damaged by damp; 19th century. [DELHI 483]

Nūr al-anwār fī sharḥ al-Manār.

Another copy of the commentary by Shaikh Jīwan.

1460

Foll. 361; $10\frac{3}{10} \times 6\frac{9}{10}$ in.; ll. 35 and 25 in the two parts respectively; naskhī in three different hands; points frequently absent but some vocalisation; few rubrications; worm-eaten; second part dated 737/1336–7. [DELHI 406]

بيان معانى البديع

Bayān ma'ānī 'l-Badī'.

A commentary by Shams al-Dīn Maḥmūd ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-Iṣfahānī al-Shāfi'ī (d. 749/1348; cf. Durar al-kāminaḥ IV, p. 327 f.; Brockelmann II 110) on the Kitāb al-Badī' or Badī' al-niẓām which is a work dealing with both Ḥanafī and Shāfi'ī Uṣūl and using both the Uṣūl of Pazdawī and the Aḥkām of Āmidī (cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 38; Ibn Quṭlūbughā, no. 10) by Muẓaffar al-Dīn Aḥmad b. 'Alī known as Ibn al-Sā'ātī al-Baghdādī (d. 694/1295).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى خلق الخَلقَ ودعاهم الى دار السلام وهدى اهل السعادة منهم بمقتضَى مشيّته للايمان والاسلام الخ

The Badī' itself begins:

الخيرُ دام[?] بك اللهم يا واجب الوجود والفيض شِعارُك . . .

(According to Ḥ. Kh. II 37 it should be الخير ذاتك الخ.)

The work is unprovided with chapter-headings but the sections of the Badī' are introduced by قوله.

End:

والترجيح انما يحقق باعتبار المعانى الموثره ولا يحقق فيها الاختصار والتطويل والله اعلم بالصواب الخ

The colophon reads:

قوبلت هذه بنسخةٍ قوبلت ونقلت وقرئت على المصنّف ومن نسخته بخطه الخ

No other copies appear to be noted. Ḥ. Kh. II 38.

1461

Foll. 335, the first being missing; margins repaired and original pagination and some catch-words removed; present size $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 11; good naskhī; margins ruled; rubrications; some folios worm-eaten; date 983/1575. [DELHI 419]

كتاب التحرير

Kitāb al-Taḥrīr.

A work on the technical terminology of the Uṣūl of both the Ḥanafī and Shāfi'ī madhhabs and the jurisprudential principles of both, by Kamāl al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Humām al-Dīn 'Abd al-Wāḥid al-Iskandarī al-Sīwāsī, commonly known as Ibn Humām (d. 861/1457; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā, p. 75; Flügel, Classen, p. 338). It is based, and is largely a commentary, upon the Kitāb al-Badī' of Ibn al-Sā'ātī al-Baghdādī (see no. 1460 and cf. Brockelmann II 225).

Beginning (after the title and author's name):

الحمدُ لله الذى انشأ هذا العالم البديع بلا مثال . . . وبعد فانّى بعد اَنْ صرفت طايفةً من العمر للنظر فى طريقيِ الحنفيّة والشافعيه فى الاصول خطر لى ان اكتب كتابًا مفصحًا عن الاصطلاحين الخ

The work is in four parts consisting of a muqaddamaḥ and 3 maqālaḥs as follows:

Fol. 4*b*	مقدّمة
Fol. 13*a*	(1) مقالة فى المبادى اللغويّة
Fol. 134*a*	(2) مقالة فى احوال الموضوع
Fol. 318*b*	(3) مقالة فى الاجتهاد وما يتبعه

The work is preceded (foll. 1 and 2) by a full table of contents, following which comes an account of the author's life, culled from Shadharāt al-Dhahab (VII 298 f.) or from Bughyaḥ al-Wu'āḥ. It contains an account of his works, there being mentioned:

شرح الهداية والمسايرة فى اصول الدين و كراسة فى اعراب سبحان الله وله مختصر فى الفقه سماه زاد الفقير الخ

End:

ولم يدر مثله فى غيرهم[?] الان لانقراض اتباعهم وهو صحيح'

A note at the end of the volume reads:

قال شمس الدين محمّد السخاوى فى تاريخه التبيان فى ترجمة كمال الدين ابن الهمام مصنّف هذا الكتاب فى عدّة تصانيفه ومنها كتاب فى اصول الفقه سمّاه التحرير مشى فيه على طريقة عزيزة المثال و...طريقة الكمال جمع بين اصول الشافعيّة والحنفيّة الخ

For other copies see Loth 331, Berlin 4416. Printed Būlāq 1316–7.

Ḥ. Kh. II 38 (not mentioned by actual title).

The work itself is followed by an incomplete appendix to it by the author, on four leaves much worm-eaten. It begins:

قال...ابن الهمام الحنفى...الحمد لله اللهم صلى على سيد [الناس ?] محمد...وبعد فقد دخلت الخ

1462

Foll. (originally) over 202, of which 2–21, 52–101 and one or more at the end are now lacking; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; small naskhī in two different hands; rubrications; parts worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 460]

لبّ الاصول

Lubb al-uṣūl.

A compendium of Ḥanafī Uṣūl based on the Ḥanafī portion only of the Taḥrīr fī uṣūl al-dīn of Kamāl al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Abd al-Wāḥid b. al-Humām (or Humām al-Dīn) al-Sīwāsī (cf. preceding and Brockelmann II 226) and compiled by Zain al-Dīn b. Muḥammad b. Ibrahīm b. Nujaim al-Miṣrī (d. 970/1562–3). Ḥ. Kh. VI 123 confuses the work with a compendium afterwards called Sharḥ al-Manār, by the same author, which was based upon the Manār al-Anwār of Abū 'l-Barakāt al-Nasafī (see Berlin 4390).

Beginning:

[يقول العبد الفقير الى الله تعالى زين ابن محمد ابن ابرهيم ابن نجيم غفر الله له ذنوبه وستر عيوبه] الحمد لله على ما به فرح قلبى تفريحًا الخ

The work is not broken up into chapters but consists of a series of questions (headed مسئلة) with their appropriate answers (headed جواب). Occasionally the heading تنبيه occurs.

End (as here extant):

وشرط النقل ان يبقى معه المنقول كما كان قبل النقل وانما يبدل الاضافه والجوهر يسعل من حسن الى حين فسقى الجوهر فى نفسه على الحقيقة الكائنه قبل...

التوضيح فى حلّ غوامض التنقيح

al-Taudīḥ fī ḥall ghawāmiḍ al-Tanqīḥ.

A commentary, composed in 721/1321 by Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ al-Thānī, 'Ubaid Allāh ibn Mas'ūd ibn Tāj al-Sharī'aḥ (d. 747/1346; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 315; Brockelmann II 214; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 20), on his own work Tanqīḥ al-Uṣūl, which is itself based on the Uṣūl of Pazdawī.

Beginning:

حامدا لله تع اولًا وثانيا ولعنان الثناء اليه...وبعد فان العبد المتوسل الى الله تعالى باقوى الذريعة عبيد الله ابن مسعود بن تاج الشريعة...يقول لما وفقنى الله تع بتاليف تنقيح الاصول اردت ان اشرح مشكلاته الخ

The four rukns occur as follows:

(1) فى الكتاب	Fol. 12*b*
(2) فى السنه	Fol. 94*a*
(3) فى الاجماع	Fol. 113*b*
(4) فى القياس	Fol. 121*a*

End:

التلويح الى كشف حقائق التنقيح

al-Talwīḥ ilā kashf ḥaqā'iq al-Tanqīḥ.

A commentary on both the Taudīḥ and Tanqīḥ of 'Ubaid Allāh ibn Mas'ūd by Sa'd al-Dīn Mas'ūd ibn 'Umar al-Taftāzānī. The date of his death is in dispute, Shadharāt al-Dhahab (Cairo 1351, VI 319) placing it as early as 791/1389 and Ḥabīb al-Siyar (III, iii, 87) as late as 797/1394–5; cf. Storey, Catalogue of Arabic Manuscripts II, p. 25 and Bankipore XIX (i), p. 23. The work was completed in 758/1357.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى احكم بكتابه اصول الشريعة الغراء ورفع بخطابه فروع الحنيفية السمحة البيضاء الخ

The chapters on the four main subjects, Kitāb, Sunnaḥ, Ijmā' and Qiyās, begin on foll. 20*b*, 170*a*, 194*a* and 200*b* respectively.

End:

Another copy of the work by al-Taftāzānī.

1469

Foll. 335; 9 × 5¾ in.; margins repaired; ll. 17; somewhat crowded nasta'līq; rubrications; some marginal notes; last folio missing; 17th century (fol. 1*a* bears the date 1192 added by a purchaser). [DELHI 416]

al-Talwīḥ ilā kashf ḥaqā'iq al-Tanqīḥ.

Another copy of the work by al-Taftāzānī.

1470

Foll. 363; 10⅝ × 6⅞ in.; ll. 21; neat sloping naskhī with some vocalisation; a few marginal notes; date 1090/1679. [DELHI 412]

al-Talwīḥ ilā kashf ḥaqā'iq al-Tanqīḥ.

Another copy of the work by al-Taftāzānī.

The colophon reads:

فرغ من تحرير هذا الكتاب تلويح [sic] حافظ محمد يوسف فى التاريخ اثنا وعشرين من شهر شعبان المعظم فى سنة احدى وثلثون كان من جلوس العلى حضرت ظل سبحان باعث امن وامان صاحب السرير السلطنت [sic] محى الدّين محمّد اورنك زيب عالم كر [sic] بادساه غازى موافق ۱۰۹۰ هجري' [i.e. 1679]

The actual year of Aurangzīb's reign would have been the 21st and not the 31st.

Foll. 325; 11¼ × 7 in.; ll. 26; good nasta'līq; rubrications; marginal notes; date 1101/1690. [DELHI 413]

al-Talwīḥ ilā kashf ḥaqā'iq al-Tanqīḥ.

Another copy of the work by al-Taftāzānī.

1472

Foll. 268; 12 × 6½ in.; written in three different styles of nasta'līq, foll. 1–3 (ll. 44) small and crowded, foll. 4–155 (ll. 23) good and careful and foll. 156–268 (ll. 25) coarse and ugly; defective at the end; 18th century (seal on fol. 1*a* bears the date 1132/1720). [DELHI 414]

al-Talwīḥ ilā kashf ḥaqā'iq al-Tanqīḥ.

Another copy of the work by al-Taftāzānī.

1473

Foll. 226–250; 9½ × 6 in.; ll. 23; careful naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 15th century. [DELHI 408*b*]

Glosses by an author unnamed (the title-page bears the name مولانا راده—a Maulānā-zādah 'Uthmān al-Khiṭā'ī (fl. c. 850/1446) is mentioned in the index of the Berlin Catalogue by Ahlwardt) on the Talwīḥ of Sa'd al-Dīn al-Taftāzānī.

Beginning:

لك اللّهمّ الحمد والمنه وعلى رسولك واصحابه
الصلوة والتحية قوله احكم بكتابه اصول الشريعة الغراء
يحتمل التمثيل تصويرًا الخ

No main divisions are marked, but the passages of the original are introduced by قوله.

End:

وهو المراد بكونهما الذروة تعطف المرجع على
الدروة للتفسير

Colophon:

هذه كلمه نما بنظم [?]...الفرايد من مولانا
عبيد الله ابن مسعود

No other copies appear to be noted.
Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1474

Foll. 301; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; rubrications; neat naskhī, points sometimes omitted; some folios —between 110 and 120—missing, others worm-eaten; 17th century (on the first page is the note of a loan made in 1155/1742). [DELHI 424]

الحاشية على التلويح

al-Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā 'l-Talwīḥ.

A supercommentary (incomplete) on the Talwīḥ (see no. 1467); by Ḥasan Chelebī ibn Muḥammad Shāh al-Fanārī (d. 886/1481; cf. Flügel, Classen, p. 346; Brockelmann II 229) who dedicated it to Prince Bāyazīd ibn Muḥammad Khān, afterwards Sultan of Turkey (886/1481–918/1512).

Beginning:

الحمد لله على شمول نعمه الحسام وحصول
الفقه فى الدين من اصول فخر الاسلام الخ

No main divisions are marked but the sections of the original text are introduced by قوله in red.

End:

الامساع من الاخذ لمابر حمع الى اعراز الدين
لان اذا كانت نافعه بدليلها والامساع عما هو المحرم
شرعًا شرعا [sic] اعز الدين قوله [sic]

For other copies see Loth 325; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1522; Berlin 4392; Cairo II, p. 45.
Ḥ. Kh. II 445.

Foll. 432—the first missing; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 23; small regular naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; date 1083/1672. [DELHI 425]

al-Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā 'l-Talwīḥ.

Another copy of the work by Ḥasan al-Fanārī.

1476

Foll. 112; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 6$ in.; ll. 21; rubrications; nasta'līq; numerous marginal comments in the first part; 18th century. [DELHI 432]

Glosses on the Talwīḥ of al-Taftāzānī (which is mentioned on fol. 4*a*), by an author unnamed. A note on the title-page, however, reads سبح الاسلام بر تلوبح and this is probably correct, since the beginning of the work agrees with that quoted for no. 1523 of the Bankipore Catalogue XIX (i). Shaikh al-Islām was the title given to Saif al-Dīn al-Harawī, known as Ḥafīd al-Taftāzānī (i.e. the grandson of the original al-Taftāzānī), who is to be taken as the author of the present work (cf. the colophon of the Bankipore manuscript as quoted loc. cit.). The date of his death is stated by Ḥ. Kh. (II 406 and frequently) to be 906/1500—see Brockelmann II 218—whereas Ḥabīb al-Siyar (III iii, p. 343) gives it as 916/1510. Manuscripts of the work are infrequent.

Beginning:

احكم بكتابه اصول الشريعة هذه العبارة الوثيقة
تحتمل وجوها انيقة احدها الخ

The main divisions of the work are not marked, but the separate quotations from the Talwīḥ are introduced by قوله in red.

End:

قوله ويصير عطف الخ هذا على تقدير ان يعطف على البدن والا فيجوز عطفه على الطعام اعنى المبدل منه حفط[?] اقو[ل] تمت تمام

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1523; Rāmpūr, no. 30.

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1477

Foll. 112, beginning defective; 10 × 7⅜ in.; ll. 29; well-written naskhī; rubrications and occasional ornament of blue dots; first folio and colophon missing; 14th century. [DELHI 448]

شرح منهاج البيضاوى

Sharḥ Minhāj al-Baiḍāwī.

A commentary by Shams al-Dīn al-Iṣfāhānī (d. 749/1348; cf. Brit. Mus. Suppl. 186; Brockelmann II 110; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1562 and X, p. 32), whose name is given by Ḥ. Kh. (VI 218) as Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad b. Maḥmūd, on Baiḍāwī's treatise on Uṣūl Minhāj al-wuṣūl ilā 'ilm al-uṣūl.

Beginning (in the absence of the first leaf the manuscript begins abruptly):

قوله اصول الفقه معرفه دلايل الفقه اجمالا وكيفيّه الاستفاده منها وحال المستفيد الخ

In its division the work corresponds to Baiḍāwī's Minhāj, having a muqaddamaḥ and 7 kitābs (see Ḥ. Kh. VI 214 and cf. the Berlin Catalogue, no. 4381) which are as follows:

Fol. 1 Muqaddamaḥ

Fol. 18*b* Kitāb 1 (فى الكتاب)

Fol. 69*a* Kitāb 2 (here called Bāb al-Thānī فى الاخبار)

Fol. 76*a* Kitāb 3 (not indicated except by a break in the text. Beginning: وهو اتفاق اهل الحل والعقد)

Fol. 82*b* Kitāb 4 (not indicated except by a break in the text. Beginning: وهو اثبات مثل حكم معلوم)

Fol. 99*a* Kitāb 5 (فى دلايل اختلف فيها)

Fol. 102*b* Kitāb 6 (فى العادل والراجح)

Fol. 107*a* Kitāb 7 (فى الاجتهاد والافتاء)

Passages of the original text quoted are introduced by قوله in red.

End:

فوجب عرف الدم الي المعليد فى الاصول ولكن هذا اخر الكلام في المشرح وليختم بحمد الله الخ

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1562 and Paris 799. [? Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 98.]

Ḥ. Kh. VI 218.

Foll. 270, lacuna after fol. 60; 9½ × 5½ in.; ll. 27; margins ruled; rubrications; naskhī; worm-eaten; date 784/1382. [DELHI 449]

شرح مختصر الاصول

Sharḥ Mukhtaṣar al-Uṣūl.

A commentary by 'Aḍud al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān b. Aḥmad al-Ījī (d. 756/1355; cf. Flügel, Classen, p. 332; Brockelmann II 208; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 48; Būhār II, p. 112); on the Mukhtaṣar al-Muntahā of Ibn Ḥājib al-Mālikī. The work was completed in 734/1334.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى برأ الانام وعمهم بالاكرام الخ

The passages of text and commentary are introduced by قال and اقول respectively.

End:

امور لا تكاد تنحصر فى القدر الذى ذكره ارشاد لذلك، ارشدنا الله.... وزادنا من فضله انه المستعان واليه التكلان،

For other copies see Loth 299–301; British Museum 1605; Būhār II, no. 136; Rāmpūr 82–83; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 96; Bankipore XIX (i), nos. 1545–7; Berlin 4375; Paris 801; etc.

Ḥ. Kh. VI 171.

Foll. 280, end defective—according to a note on the last existing folio there were originally 320, or more, folios in the work; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5$ in.; ll. 17; calligraphic nasta'līq; margins ruled mainly in gold, remainder in red; the 'unwān and end are missing and the whole is badly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 447]

Sharḥ Mukhtaṣar al-Uṣūl.

Another copy of the commentary by 'Aḍud al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-Ījī on the Mukhtaṣar al-Muntahā of Ibn Ḥājib al-Mālikī.

1480

Foll. 136 (some missing); $7\frac{9}{10} \times 5$ in.; ll. 19; first two pages have ruled margins; naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; in places worm-eaten; date 1005/1596–7. [DELHI 426]

حاشية على شرح المختصر العضدى

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

Glosses by Saiyid Sharīf al-Jurjānī (d. 816/1413; cf. Ḥabīb al-Siyar III iii 89; Brockelmann II 216 f.) on 'Aḍūd al-Dīn al-Ījī's commentary on the Mukhtaṣar al-Muntahā of Ibn Ḥājib al-Mālikī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله أَرْدَفَ التسميةَ بالتحميد فى مفسح الكلام اقتداء لما ورد فى الاخبار الخ

End:

ولك ان تحض غير الشرط الشرعى بما عدا الاسباب مع ان لا يلزم اهمال حالها لانها قد علمت' [هنا]

The colophon is:

قد انتهت هذه القطعة الاخيرة من الحواشى القديمة على شرح المختصر العضدى من تصنيفات سيد الشريف العلامة اسكنه الله الخ

This appears to imply an "early" and, presumably therefore, also a later series of glosses.

For other manuscripts see Loth 305–7; Brit. Mus. Hand-list, p. 27; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 52. Lithographed [? India] 1319/1901 (cf. Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 92).

Ḥ. Kh. VI 172.

[The last two folios of the manuscript are occupied by a fragment of a similar work added by a different hand from the rest.]

1481

Foll. 49–90 (original numeration 99–148); $8\frac{3}{4} \times 5$ in.; ll. 19; small cramped naskhī; rubrications; some marginal and interlinear comments; worm-eaten in parts; date 1069/1658–9. [DELHI 470*b*]

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

Another copy, defective at the beginning, of the supercommentary—the "early" work—by Saiyid Sharīf al-Jurjānī on the Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

1482

Foll. 167 (the first and several more being missing, while others are misplaced); $9\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 13 in the first part and 22 in the second; nasta'līq in a variety of hands; numerous marginalia; rubrications; date 1075/1664–5. [DELHI 427*a*]

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

Another copy of the work by al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī.

The colophon reads:

قد اتفق اتمام الحاشية للسيد السيد [sic] على الشرح العضدية [sic] واتمام هذه الرسالة فى سنة الف وسبعين وخمسة الخ

1483

Foll. 124—various lacunae; $9\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; early folios in a hurried nasta'līq—ll. 17, followed by small neat naskhī—ll. 23; numerous marginal notes; 18th century. [DELHI 428]

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

Another copy of the work by al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī.

1484

Foll. 147; $9\frac{7}{8} \times 5$ in.; ll. 25; small naskhī frequently unpointed, degenerating into shikastah in places; rubrications; frequent marginal and interlinear comments; date 1033/1624. [DELHI 429]

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

Another copy of the work by al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī.

The colophon reads:

قد وقع الفراغ من تسويد هذه النسخة المسمى [sic] الحاشية ال... على شرح مختصر العضدى المنسوب الى عضد الدولة (!)

1485

Foll. 100; $10\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 23; careful naskhī; occasional notes in margins; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 433]

al-Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-'Aḍudī.

Another copy of the Glosses by al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī on the Sharḥ al-Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.

1486

Foll. 285; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; naskhī, points often omitted; rubrications; some marginal comments; a number of folios worm-eaten; 17th century (a seal on the last folio bears the date 1124). [DELHI 444]

An anonymous commentary on a treatise dealing with Uṣūl. The commentary is arranged after the order of the Mabṣūṭ of Abū Sahl Sarakhsī, for which see Ḥ. Kh. v 363 and Loth 204.

(A note in Persian on the last folio reads شرح مختصر در علم اصول while a pencilled note in Arabic on the fly-leaf hazards the guess, which is erroneous, that the work is a commentary upon the Mukhtaṣar al-'Aḍudī.)

Beginning:

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين والصلوه على رسوله... باب الامر قدّم السح رحمه الله باب الامر والنهى على سائر الابواب اعتناء بسأنهما الخ

The following bābs are comprised in the work:

Fol. 40*a*	النهى	Fol. 1*b*	الامر
Fol. 68*a*			وجوه النظر صنعةً ولغةً
Fol. 133*b*			الحجج الشرعية
Fol. 174*b*	الاجماع	Fol. 147*a*	البيان
Fol. 269*b*	حروف المعانى	Fol. 182*a*	القياس

End:

انما سطل بالقيام عى المحلس اذا حعلا محارا عى اذا ومنى فلا فلم صاد حعلهما عى ان اولى من حعلهما محارا عنها اولى من حعلهما محارا عى غيرها' والله اعلم'

1487

Foll. 240; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 23; sprawling but legible naskhī; last ten folios on different paper and in a different hand from the rest; rubrications; marginal comments; 17th century. [DELHI 479]

حواش على النبذة الالفيّة

Ḥawāshin 'alā al-Nubdhaḥ al-Alfīyaḥ.

(The title-page calls it الفوايد [sic] تعاوة السنيّة فى شرح الالفية الشهير بالبرماوية)

A commentary on Jamāl al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Abd al-Dā'im al-Birmāwī's Urjūzaḥ, or versified treatise, dealing with Shāfi'ī Uṣūl (see Ḥ. Kh. vi 294). The original was completed in 818/1416 and the author himself wrote a rhymed commentary on it called الفوائد السنية فى شرح الالفية, on the basis of which the present commentator, Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn 'Abd Allāh wrote his work. The text of the Urjūzaḥ is written in red to distinguish it from the commentary.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة والسلام على رسول الله محمد افضل الانبياء الخ

No divisions are marked.

End:

ومن كان قليل الدين كثير الشاهل [sic] اخذ بالاثقل والعزيمة ليلا يزاد اما [sic] به فيخرج الى الاباحة'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1488

Incomplete (foll. 60–70, 77, 131–149 only); $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 27; margins ruled; rubrications; marginal notes; irregular naskhī; 16th century. [DELHI 402]

Fragments of a work containing arguments on Uṣūl. The first complete section begins:

قال الندب والوجوب يستلزم التبليغ والاباحة منتفيه بقوله لعد كان وهو ضعف اقول الخ

The various paragraphs are introduced by قال and اقول in red.

The last section begins:

قال المجمل والمبين المجمل المجموع وفى الاصطلاح ما لم يضح دلالته وقيل اللفظ الذى لا يفهم منه عند الاطلاق شيء فلا نطّرد للمجمل الخ

1489

Foll. 217; $10 \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 10; well-written nasta'līq; rubrications; some marginal and interlinear comments; worm-eaten in parts; early 19th century. [DELHI 461]

المسلّم

al-Musallam.

A treatise by Muḥibb Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Shakūr al-Bihārī (d. 1119/1708; cf. Tadhkira-i 'Ulamā-i Hind, p. 175; Brockelmann II 420; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1530) on the Uṣūl of both the Ḥanafī and the Shāfi'ī madhhabs. In his preface the author states that the date of composition (1109/1697–8) is represented by the chronogram مسلم الثبوت, a title by which the work is commonly known. He further says that he has divided his work into muqaddamaḥ, maqālāt, uṣūl (maqāṣid) and khātimaḥ, which occur as follows:

Fol. 2*a*	مقدّمة
Fol. 3*b*	مقالة (1) فى المبادى الكلامية
Fol. 5*b*	مقالة (2) فى الاحكام
Fol. 30*b*	مقالة (3) فى المبادى اللغوية
Fol. 107*b*	اصل (1) الكتاب
Fol. 126*b*	اصل (2) السنة
Fol. 156*b*	اصل (3) الاجماع
Fol. 166*a*	اصل (4) القياس
Fol. 175*b*	مقصد (1) فى شروطها
Fol. 183*a*	مقصد (2) فى مسالكها
Fol. 205*b*	خاتمة (unmarked) [?]

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى نزل الآيات وارسل البينات فطلع الدين وطبع اليقين... اما بعد فيقول الشكور الصبور محبّ الله بن عبد الشكور الخ

End:

وعليه ابتنى ابن الصلاح منع تقليد غير الاربعة لان ذلك لم يدر فى غيرهم وفيه ما فيه'

1491

Foll. 208; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 14; coarse Indian (? Persian) naskhī; rubrications; comments in margins, between lines and on inserted leaves; date 1169/1756. [DELHI 463]

al-Musallam.

Another copy of the work by Muḥibb Allāh.

[Fol. 209 contains devotional verses in Arabic.]

1492

Foll. 244; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 11; legible Indian naskhī; rubrications; marginal and interlinear comments; date 1182/1768–9. [DELHI 464*a*]

al-Musallam.

Another copy of the work by Muḥibb Allāh. The colophon calls it Musallam al-'Ulūm.

1493

Foll. 46; $11 \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 12; nasta'līq; rubrications; some marginal and interlinear comments; early 19th century. [DELHI 465]

al-Musallam.

An incomplete copy of the work by Muḥibb Allāh.

1494

Foll. 202, end defective; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 23; cursive naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten in parts; 18th century. [DELHI 420]

فواتح الرحموت [شرح المسلّم]

Fawātiḥ al-Raḥamūt.

This is the first part of a commentary by 'Abd al-'Alī ibn Niẓām al-Dīn Muḥammad al-Anṣārī on the Musallam al-Thubūt of Muḥibb Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Shakūr, which deals with the Uṣūl of both the Ḥanafī and Shāfi'ī systems. The author, an Indian scholar of the 13th A.H. (for whose life see Bankipore x, p. 51), states that the work contains a muqaddamaḥ, three maqālāt (فى المبادى الكلامية والاحكاميّة واللغويّه), uṣūl (فى المقاصد) and a khātimaḥ (فى الاجتهاد ونحوه).

In the present manuscript the maqālāt begin on foll. 10*b*, 15*a* and 105*b* respectively, but part of the last one is lacking, as also are the uṣūl and the khātimaḥ.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى خلق الانسان بعد ان لم يكن شيئا مذكورا الخ

End (as here extant):

الكلام ههنا فى ارادة هذه الافواد بخلاف اذا صرح بالمصدر فانه...

For other manuscripts see Bankipore XIX (i), nos. 1534–5; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 100. Printed Lucknow 1878.

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1495

Foll. 141; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; shikastah; original text overlined; occasional notes in the margins; 19th century. [DELHI 442]

A commentary, by an author whose name does not appear—although the title-page suggests one Ilāh-ābādī, on the Musallam, a treatise on Uṣūl by Muḥibb Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Shakūr.

Beginning:

الحمد لله تعالى عنه قالوا هذه الجمله يحتمل ان تكون انشائية لان المقام مقام انشاء الحمد ويحتمل ان يكون خبر [sic] لله الخ

End:

فان الرجال قوّامون على النساء قائمون بحوائجهنّ ومصالحهنّ فهم اصل وهنّ من التوابع فذكرهن تبعا ليس محلا للشكوه اقول...

No other copies appear to have been recorded.

1496

Foll. 1–142; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 22; well-written nasta'līq; rubrications; date 1221/1806. [DELHI 473*a*]

Sharḥ al-Musallam

A commentary on the Musallam al-Thubūt, by Maulānā Muḥammad Ḥasan—thus the colophon.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة والسلام على سيد الانبياء والمرسلين محمد وآله واصحابه اجمعين قال الا [sic] الكتاب مرتب على مقدمة الخ

The divisions of the original are not marked but passages from it and the commentary are distinguished by قال and اقول respectively.

End:

واما ان يكون كليات وهى اما ان تكون متصادة او متخالفة فقط والتحاطف يشتمل النوعى والصنفي ولا تم إنها غير مساسبة'

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1497

Foll. 144–259; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; nasta'līq; numerous overlinings in red; marginal comments; date 1219. [DELHI 473*b*]

A supercommentary on the Musallam al-Thubūt, by an author unnamed.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على نبيّه وآله اجمعين الحمد لله قال المص' فى الحاشية قالوا هذه الجملة يحتمل ان يكون [sic] انشائية الخ

The divisions of the original text are not indicated.

End:

ولا اخفاء فى اظهرية ما ذكره المصّ لان اتساع الوقت بالظن وانكان [sic] حقا لكنه خفى'

Foll. 134; $10\frac{5}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 17; somewhat ornate naskhī changed towards the end into nasta'līq; rubrications; marginal and interlinear comments; some diagrams; margins ruled; worm-eaten and badly repaired; 18th century. [DELHI 477]

مخ الاصول

Mukhkh al-Uṣūl.

An exposition of the Uṣūl, with extensive reference to their practical application, made—at the suggestion of his teacher Muḥammad Jān Ṣiddīq—by Badr al-Hāshimī al-Qurashī.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الّذِىْ رفع اعلام علم الاصول فى الدهور والازمان وعزّ الدليل المتين يحكم بها فى معان الحديث والقران وخلق الانسان الخ

The author does not follow the ordinary arrangement of treatises on Uṣūl but devotes the main part of his work to a long discussion on methods of deduction, drawing examples from Euclid—with appropriate diagrams—and algebra (foll. 53*b* ff.) and from Aristotle (foll. 70 ff.). He also includes an essay on arithmetic (مخ فى علم الحساب foll. 91*b* ff.) and lastly a chapter on the division of inheritance (مخ فى علم الفرايض foll. 110*b*–123*b*).

End:

قال على وابن مسعود يرث بعضهم من بعض الا مما ورث كل واحد منهم من صاحبه'

The last part of the work (foll. 123*b*–end) consists of a Persian translation of the chapter on فرائض.

No other copies appear to be recorded.

Foll. 92–99 followed by 1–21, end defective; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 14; nīm-shikastah; rubrications; badly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 717*a*]

A fragment of a history of the origin and line of transmission of Ḥanafī law, beginning with the early prophets and ending with Abū Ḥanīfaḥ. Title and author's name are both lacking. Amongst the authors quoted are Abū Ḥanīfaḥ, Shahristānī, Dhahabī and Aḥmad b. Sulaimān b. Kamāl-Pāshā (the quotation from whom, fol. 15*b*, is in Turkish). On fol. 15*a ad fin.* there is a curse upon Yazīd.

Beginning:

اول الانبياء آدم عليه السلام انزل الله تحريم الميتة والدم ولحم الخنزير وحروف المعجم الخ

Amongst the headings provided are the following:

Fol. 1*a*	ايسع النبى
Fol. 1*a*	يونس وزكريا
Fol. 1*a*	محمد رسول الله
Fol. 8*b*	ابو بكر الصديق

حاشية على معالم الدين
Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Ma'ālim al-dīn.

A commentary upon Ḥasan b. Zain al-Dīn's Ma'ālim al-dīn, by Muḥammad Ṣāliḥ b. Aḥmad al-Māzandarānī.

The title-page calls it فوائد (i.e. "observations") on a ḥashiyaḥ to the work.

Beginning:

نحمدك اللهم يا من خلقنا ولم نك شيا [sic] مذكورا' ونشكرك يا من رزقنا بمشاهدة جلالة نظره وسرورا امّا بعد...بعض اخلاى [sic] حين راى اما [sic] علقته على معالم الدين...سالنى ان احرر لهم فوايده الخ

The division of the Ma'ālim al-dīn into a muqaddamaḥ and four qisms is not kept, passages (introduced by قوله) being chosen arbitrarily for comment.

End:

كتاب أحكام الاوقاف

Kitāb Aḥkām al-auqāf.

(Also called Aḥkām al-waqf.)

A work on the laws governing mortmain and property devoted to pious objects, by Hilāl b. Yaḥyā b. Muslim al-Baṣrī (d. 245/859; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbugha 246; Brockelmann I 173). Neither title nor author's name appears in the text.

Beginning:[1]

ما روى فى صدقه رسول الله عليه [sic] و سلم قال حدثنا ابو بكر بن عمر قال...قال قبل محيزبق على راس اثنين وثلاثين شهرا من مهاجر الخ

The work comprises 78 bābs, which are set out in a prefixed list of contents. In each chapter the principle involved is first stated as a ḥadīth and is followed by the author's own comments and additions introduced by قلت.

End:

ولم يحج الرجل ولم يغز حتى ارتد الدافع عن الاسلام ان ذلك مردود لا يجوز للرجل ان يفعله'

شرح ادب القاضى

Sharḥ Adab al-qāḍī.

A commentary, incomplete, upon Aḥmad b. 'Umar al-Khaṣṣāf's Adab al-qāḍī, a

[1] Leiden IV, p. 105 (no. 1776) begins:

قال ابو حنيفة رضه اذا قال الرجل ارضى هذه صدقة و سمّى موضعا وحدودها الخ manual (Ḥanafī) of decisions upon difficult questions of law for the use of qāḍīs (cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 220; Brockelmann I 173). The date of the manuscript itself (c. 550/1155) and the references in the work (foll. 148*a*, etc.) to Shams al-A'immaḥ al-Sarakhsī (d. 483/1090) provide limits of date and make it probable that the present commentary is the work of Burhān al-A'immaḥ 'Umar b. 'Abd al-'Azīz Ibn Māzah, known as al-Ḥusām al-Shahīd (d. 536/1141; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 139; Brockelmann I 374). Of the 120 bābs in the original work the present manuscript contains the end of 24, 25–112 (complete) and the beginning of 113.

Beginning (of Bāb 25):

باب من قال تقبل البينه بعد اليمين ذكر عن شريح قال اليمين الفاجرة احق ان ترد من البينة العادلة الخ

The bābs are divided into a number of faṣls each containing several mas'alaḥs.

End (of Bāb 112):

وكان ذلك محمولا على انه لم يكن هناك احد رضع الولد ويقوم بمصالحه وهذا القادر لا يمنع الاقامه لانه كان يعذب'

4101. Foll. 322, the order after 113 being 115, 114, 117, 116, 118; $7\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; cursive, unpointed naskhī; rubrications; some marginal comments; worm-eaten in parts; date Shauwāl 579/1184 (foll. 119, 120 a much later addition). [Purchased 3 April 1925]

A tractate upon Ḥanafī furū', the questions dealt with being derived from old works of law and from current practice. Title and author's name are both lacking. The title القتاوى الصغرى on the title-page, which implies that the treatise is that of the same name by Ḥusām al-Dīn 'Umar b. 'Abd al-'Azīz Ibn Māzah al-Bukhārī (Ḥ. Kh. IV 359), is erroneous, for the manuscript appears to be an autograph, whereas Ibn Māzah died in 536/1141. The work opens with a section on the duties of the muftī and continues in the rest of the book with discussion upon intricate points of the law, arranged under the headings of a work of furū'.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوه على رسوله محمد واله اجمعين حمدا تقربنا الى مرضاه الله...ذكرت فى هذا الكتاب من المسائل الى الخ

The work comprises the following kitābs (each with its bābs and faṣls):

(1) الصلوه	Fol. 2*a*	(2) الصوم	Fol. 142*b*
(3) الزكوه	Fol. 176*a*	(4) الحج	Fol. 200*b*
(5) النكاح	Fol. 228*a*	(6) النفقات	Fol. 300*a*

(The order of these kitābs in the early part of the Berlin MS (4814) of the Fatāwī al-ṣughrā is 1, 3, 2, 4 and 5, while 6 is the kitāb al-ṭalāq. The beginning corresponds to that given by Ḥ. Kh.)

End:

وادا قبل يامره بالنفقه ويكون الحكم ما هو الحكم فى الوديعه عند صغير او زمن انعتق اعتقه مولاه ويجب على المعتِق نفقه المعتَق بحال ما'

Colophon:

وقع الفراغ من كتابته بيده [=بيده] بعد صلوه الظهر فى اليوم الثالث والعشرين من شوال من شهور سنه تسع وسبعين وخمسمائه'

Foll. 83, end defective; $10\frac{7}{8} \times 7$ in.; ll. 15; nasta'līq; rubrications; scattered marginal and interlinear comments; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 704]

جامع المضمرات والمشكلات

Jāmi' al-muḍmarāt wa'l-mushkilāt.

(Also called simply al-Muḍmarāt.)

The latter part, containing the kitābs from nikāḥ to farā'iḍ, of a commentary upon Qudūrī's Mukhtaṣar, by Yūsuf b. 'Umar b. Yūsuf al-Ṣūfī al-Kādūrī (d. c. 800/1397; cf. Brockelmann I 175, where he is called "Qādūrī", and Suppl. p. 296, no. 9), who is called "Al-Kādhūrī" in Rāmpūr, p. 183, no. 127, and was known as the "grandson of Shaikh 'Umar al-Bazzāz".

Beginning (of first complete kitāb):

كتاب النكاح م النكاح يذكر ويراد به العقد
ويراد به الوطى الحلال لانه للوطى الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله and the kitābs of the work, set out in a prefixed table, follow those of the original.

المبسوط

al-Mabsūṭ.

Part of a work on Ḥanafī furū' by Shams al-A'immaḥ Abū Bakr Muḥammad b. Abī Sahl (Aḥmad) al-Sarakhsī (d. 483/1090; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 157; Flügel, Classen, pp. 275 and 303; Brockelmann I 373; other dates are also given; see, for references, Brit. Mus. Suppl. p. 183*a*). The work was originally composed as a commentary on Abū 'l-Faḍl Muḥammad al-Marwazī's Kāfī —thus Ḥ. Kh. (v 22), who also declares that the author completed the work whilst imprisoned at Ūzjand (v 363). The present manuscript contains the end of part iv of the work (foll. 1–60), parts v–vii (foll. 61–203) and a portion of the remainder.

حاشية على الهداية

Ḥashiyaḥ 'alā al-Hidāyaḥ.

Glosses on the Hidāyaḥ. According to the colophon the work is by Ḥamīd al-Dīn al-Ḍarīr, seeming to indicate Ḥamīd al-Dīn 'Alī ibn Muḥammad al-Ḍarīr al-Bukhārī who died in 666/1268 (Ibn Quṭlūbughā, no. 136) or the following year (Ḥ. Kh. VI 481) and was one of the earliest commentators of the Hidāyaḥ. His work, according to Ḥ. Kh., was in two parts and called al-Fawā'id, but of this the present work contains no indication.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والعاقبة للمتقين والصلوة على محمد واله السابقين الطاهرين اجمعين'

Then follow without any other preface the kitābs of a work of furū', the passages of the Hidāyaḥ being introduced throughout by قوله.

End:

واقوى الحالتين صغر الورثة واقوى الوصيين وصى الاب والجد واصعف الحالتين كبر الورثة'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Ḥ. Kh. VI 481 (?).

1550

Foll. 464, defective at both ends; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 19; sprawling naskhī; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; injured by damp; 17th century. [DELHI 634]

[فتح القدير]

[Fatḥ al-qadīr.]

Part of a commentary upon the Hidāyaḥ. Title and author's name are both lacking, but the label on the cover and a note on fol. 1 declare it to be the Fatḥ al-qadīr, and this would appear to be correct. The author is Kamāl al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Abd al-Wāḥid al-Sīwāsī (d. 861/1457; cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 374; Ibn Quṭlūbughā, p. 75; Brockelmann I 377, no. 10 and II 225).

Beginning (as here extant):

ان يتعين لما يقع به المواحبة بها الا ترى ان اللحم مشتق من الالتحام الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله, the first (fol. 4*a*) being:

اتموا اعلم ان حمل الصيام على نفس الامساك متعذر غاية ما يمكن الخ

The work begins with the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ and contains also the following kitābs, each with several bābs:

Fol. 329*a* [باب] الزكوة	Fol. 109*b* الصلوة
Fol. 382*b* فروض الحج	Fol. 355*b* الصوم
	Fol. 464*b* النكاح

End (last complete section):

كتاب النكاح النكاح فى اللغة الضم يقال انكحها القري [?]...ثم..الوطى لوجود الضم فيه الخ

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (i), nos. 1643–9; Rāmpūr 421–5; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1096; As. Soc. Bengal (1904), p. 17; Paris 850; Cairo III, p. 94. Lithographed with the Hidāyaḥ, Lucknow 1875.

Ḥ. Kh. IV 374.

Foll. 147, end defective; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; nasta'līq; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 635]

[Fatḥ al-qadīr.]

The first part of the kitāb al-buyū' from a commentary on a work upon furū', which, according to a statement on the fly-leaf, is Ibn al-Humām's Fatḥ al-qadīr, for which see no. 1550. This identification appears to be correct. The plan of the work is that general statements are followed as a rule by practical instances headed فرع or من الفروع.

Beginning:

كتاب البيوع عرف ان مشروعات الشارع منقسمة الى حقوق الله تعالى خالصة وحقوق العباد الخ

Passages of the original text, the Hidāyaḥ, are introduced by قوله.

The bābs comprised in this portion of the work are as follows:

Fol. 36*a* خيار الروية	Fol. 21*b* خيار الشرط
Fol. 60*b* البيع الفاسد	Fol. 42*a* خيار العيب
Fol. 92*b* المرابحة الخ	Fol. 89*b* الاقالة
Fol. 116*a* الحقوق	Fol. 103*a* الربا
Fol. 117*a* الاستحقاق
(Fol. 120*a* فصل فى بيع الفضولى

End (as here extant):

وذكر فخر الاسلام وغيره ان قولهما قياسٌ وقول ابى يوسف هو...

1552

Foll. 546, end defective; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; clear but rather ornamental naskhī; first folio in nasta'līq; passages of original text overlined; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 513]

جامع الرموز

Jāmi' al-rumūz.

A commentary (mamzūj) on the Mukhtaṣar al-Wiqāyaḥ of 'Ubaid Allāh ibn Mas'ūd ibn Tāj al-Sharī'aḥ (referred to in the preface of the present work as ذو التنقيح والتوضيح). The author is Shams al-Dīn al-Khurāsānī al-Quhistānī, who completed his work after $2\frac{1}{2}$ years' labour in 941/1534–5 and whose death-date is variously given as 962 or 950 (cf. Ḥ. Kh. VI 374; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 157; Brockelmann I 377).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فضلنا بتعليم اصول مبسوط الجامع الكبير من الاحكام الخ

Few chapter-headings are given.

End (as here extant):

والثانية خيانة سرقة وعن الحسن لا يقدر الوصى ان يقدر ولو كان...

For other copies see Loth 237; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1672; Rāmpūr, p. 181; Būhār II 158; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1080. Printed (ed. W. Nassau Lees) Calcutta 1858, Constantinople 1289, Kazan 1890.

Ḥ. Kh. VI 374.

1553

Foll. 439; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 22; nasta'līq but with numerous folios in naskhī; rubrications; some marginal comments; paper poor and badly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 514]

Jāmi‘ al-rumūz.

Another copy of the work by Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad al-Khurāsānī. In the present manuscript the end and the author's colophon are given, as follows:

وهذا اوان فراغی بحمد الله تعالی علی تواتر نعماء كثيرة عن قبض ما هو العمل لغفران سيات الفقيرة [?] يوم التروية لسنة احدى واربعين وتسع مايۃ من الهجرة النبوية على صاحبها افضل السلام والتحية الخ

1554

Foll. 221, ends defective; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; coarse (Indian) naskhī; rubrications; passages of original text in red; worm-eaten; earlier folios damaged; 18th century. [DELHI 765]

[شرح الهداية]

[Sharḥ al-Hidāyaḥ.]

A commentary upon part of al-Farghānī's Hidāyaḥ, covering the kitābs from bai‘ to adab al-qāḍī. Title and author's name are both lacking.

Beginning (of kitāb al-bai‘):

البيع ينعقد يحصل او يلزم بالايجاب هو عبارة عما يتقدم من احد العاقدين الخ

End (as here extant):

فهذه ايضا عما فيه من الماجة اليه عن ابن عمر رضى الله عنهما انه كان اذا سافر استصحب رجلا سمى الادب فقيل له فى ذلك...

Ḥ. Kh. (?).

1555

Foll. 152 (new number 137 is also numbered 138); $10 \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 20; naskhī; rubrications; some folios damaged by insects; 18th century. [DELHI 528]

A fragmentary ḥāshiyaḥ dealing with a portion of the kitāb al-ṭalāq of a work on furū‘, probably the Hidāyaḥ. The author's name does not appear.

Beginning (of the first complete paragraph):

قوله اولى ان يصلح عوضا لغير المتقوم وهو البضع حال الخروج بخلافه حاله الدخول فانه متقوم وعن هذا جاز تزويج الاب ابنه الصغير الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله. The chapter-headings marked are the following:

باب الظهار Fol. 11*b*	باب اللعان Fol. 23*b*
باب العنين وغيره Fol. 33*a*
باب العدة Fol. 36*b*	باب ثبوت الشب Fol. 55*b*
باب النفقة Fol. 67*a*	كتاب العتاق Fol. 88*b*
باب العبد يعتق بعضه Fol. 100*b*
باب عتق احد العبدين Fol. 114*a*
باب الحلف بالعتق Fol. 124*b*
باب العتق على جعل Fol. 128*a*
باب التدبير Fol. 134*b*

End (i.e. the last complete paragraph):

قوله ويرث الابن من كل منهما ميراث ابن كامل لانه له بميراثه كله حيث ادعى انه ابنه الخ

1556

Foll. 286 in two parts, 1–179, 180–286—Arabic foliation 38–234, 236–442; $11\frac{5}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 26; naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled; second part has an indifferently coloured ‘unwān; 17th century. [DELHI 529]

Portion of a commentary, lacking beginning and end, on the first two parts of a work on furū‘, probably the Hidāyaḥ. The author's name does not appear. This is not the same work as is contained in no. 1555.

Beginning (of the first complete section):

قوله فلا معنى لاشتراط غيره كاستعمال القُسط والشث ونحوه على ما شرط الشافعى مع زعما منه ان الترتيب الخ

Passages of the original text are introduced by قوله, objections by the formula

فان قلت and the answers by اجيب, while many chapters are ended with والله اعلم. The following are the kitābs comprised in the book:

الطهارة	Fol. 1 (defective at beginning)
الصلوة Fol. 36*b*	الحج Fol. 140*b*
النكاح Fol. 181*b*	الحدود Fol. 277*b*

End:

قوله ومن ابى امراة اى امراه احسه اذ لو فعل هذا باخته او بزوجته بنكاح صحيح او فاسد لا يحد الخ

1557

Foll. 327—lacks beginning as far as original fol. 62 except fol. 55; $11\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; written in a variety of hands, naskhī and nasta'līq; rubrications almost entirely lacking; date 1180/1766–7. [DELHI 530]

Part of a commentary on a work on furū', probably the Hidāyaḥ, not identical with that contained in no. 1555. The author's name does not appear.

Beginning (as here extant):

فلانه صلى الله عليه وسلم وآله واصحابه اجمعين سمى الرطب تمرا جا من احدى رطبا فقال او كل تمر خير هكذا او بيع التمر بمثله جائز الخ

The following chapter-headings appear:

Fol. 74*a*	باب الاختلاف فى الشهادة
Fol. 77*a*	باب الشهادة على الشهادة
Fol. 79*a*	كتاب الرجوع من الشهادة

End:

ويوبده ان الرجل اذا لم يكن معه الا ثوب نجس يتعيش...يجوز بالتحرى حالة الاشتباه اولى' والله اعلم بالصواب'

1558

Foll. 424, beginning and end defective; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 35; small regular naskhī; rubrications; passages of original text overlined; much damaged by insects and damp; 16th century. [DELHI 615]

A commentary—title and author's name both lacking—upon a work on furū', apparently the Hidāyaḥ, as indicated by the title-page and the order of the contents. The comments are frequently of a trivial nature.

Beginning (of the first complete section, fol. 9*a*):

باب ما يجوز للمكاتب ان يفعل...لما بين احكام الكتبة بنوعها شرع فى بيان ما يجوز للمكاتب ان يفعله وما لا يجوز الخ

The following kitābs are comprised in the work:

الولايه [?] Fol. 27*b*	الاكراه Fol. 36*b*
الحجر Fol. 45*b*	الماذون Fol. 58*a*
الشفعة Fol. 75*b*	القسمة Fol. 107*b*
المزارعة Fol. 126*b*	المساقاة Fol. 136*a*
الذبايح Fol. 139*b*	الاضحية Fol. 162*b*
الكراهية Fol. 178*a*	الصيد Fol. 266*a*
الرهن Fol. 281*a*	الجنايات Fol. 312*a*
الديات Fol. 333*a*

The last kitāb is on وصايا but lacks the heading.

End (last complete section extant, fol. 419*a*):

فى بيان احكام الخنثى اى هذا فصل فى بيان احكام الخنثى قال الاكمل...الفصل انما يذكر لقطع شى [sic] من شى الخ

No other copies appear to be recorded. Ḥ. Kh. ?

1559

Foll. 4; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 13; inelegant nasta'līq; rubrications; some interlinear comments; injured by insects and damp; 19th century. [DELHI 587]

وقاية الرواية فى مسائل الهداية

Wiqāyaḥ al-riwāyaḥ fī masā'il al-Hidāyaḥ.

A fragment, comprising the earlier chapters without the introduction, of the epitome compiled by Burhān al-Sharī'aḥ, Maḥmūd b. Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ al-Auwal 'Ubaid Allāh al-Maḥbūbī from the Hidāyaḥ, a well-known treatise of Ḥanafī furū' by Burhān al-Dīn. The author's exact date is unknown but he was a scholar of the 7th century of the Hijraḥ (cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā, p. 115, n. 378; Berlin Catalogue 4546).

Beginning (as here extant):

قال الله تعالى يا ايها الذين امنوا اذا قمتم الى الصلواة [sic] فاغسلوا وجوحكم [sic] الآيه ففرض الوضوء غسل الوجه من الشعر الى الاذن واسفل الذقن الخ

Chapter-headings are provided as follows:

Fol. 2*b* باب المسح على الخفين

Fol. 3*a* باب الحيض

Fol. 3*b* باب الانجاس

Fol. 4*b* كتاب الصلوة

شرح الوقاية

Sharḥ al-Wiqāyaḥ.

A commentary by Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ al-Thānī, 'Ubaid Allāh b. Mas'ūd b. Tāj al-Sharī'aḥ (d. 747/1346; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 315; Brockelmann II 214; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 20), on the Wiqāyaḥ al-Riwāyaḥ of his grandfather Maḥmūd b. Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ. From close association with its author's own title, the commentary was sometimes called after him Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ (Ḥ. Kh. VI 460). The work is additional to the Nuqāyaḥ, the author's epitome of the Wiqāyaḥ.

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ وَالصَّلٰوةُ عَلَى رَسُوْلِهِ خَيْرِ خَلْقِهِ مُحَمَّدٍ وآله اَجْمَعِينَ يَقُولُ الْعَبْدُ الْمُتَوَسِّلُ الي اللّٰهِ الخ

A table of contents is provided at the beginning of the manuscript.

End:

واسواق المسلمين لا تخلو عن المسروق والمغصوب والمحرّم ومع ذلك يباح التناول اعتمادا على الغالب'

كتاب الاصلاح والايضاح

Kitāb al-Iṣlāḥ wa'l-īḍāḥ.

A manual of Ḥanafī fiqh of which Ḥ. Kh. (I, p. 329 f.) had a high opinion and of which he speaks at considerable length. It is a corrected version (الاصلاح) and at the same time an elucidation (الايضاح) of Burhān al-Dīn ibn Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ's Wiqāyaḥ, which is itself a commentary upon the well-known handbook of fiqh the Hidāyaḥ. The author is Shams al-Dīn Aḥmad ibn Sulaimān, known as Ibn Kamāl-Pāshā or Kamāl-Pāshā-zādah (d. 940/1533; cf. Shaqā'iq al-nu'mānīyaḥ, margins of Ibn Khallikān, Cairo 1310, I, p. 422; Brockelmann II 449), who composed it in four months in 928/1522.

Beginning:

احمده على الهداية والوقاية فى البداية والنهاية واشكره على ما انعم به من التوفيق والعناية الخ

The kitābs (each with several bābs) comprised in the work are those customary in manuals of fiqh.

End:

وانما قال فى الاختيار لانه يحل اكل الميتة فى الاضطرار... الايضاح بعون الله الملك الفتاح الخ

تعليق الفاضل فى مسئلة الطهر المتخلّل

Ta'līq al-Fāḍil fī mas'alaḥ al-ṭahr al-mutakhallil.

A supercommentary on the section dealing with ritual purity and ablution in Ṣadr al-Sharī'aḥ's commentary on the Wiqāyaḥ. The author is Muḥammad 'Abd al-Ḥalīm (Firangīmaḥallī) b. Muḥammad Amīn Allāh al-Anṣārī al-Lakhnawī (d. 1285/1868; cf. Tadhkira-i 'Ulamā-i Hind, p. 112), who completed the work in 1261/1845.

Beginning:

نحمدك يا من هدانا الصراط المستقيم ونصلى على محمد الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله.

End:

والمامول من الله المنان ان يوفقنى للاتمام ويجنبنى عن الاهمام انه هو الموفق والمعين

For another copy see Rāmpūr, p. 180, no. 111.

1598

Foll. 664—lacking one or more folios at beginning and end, some folios misplaced, 664 following 634, then 659–663, then 639 etc.; 9 × 6⅜ in.; ll. 17; Persian naskhī; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; a few folios worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 537]

خزانة المفتين

Khizānaḥ al-muftīn.

Portion of a work upon Ḥanafī furū', by Ḥusain ibn Muḥammad Sam'ānī, who completed it in 740/1339. He was also the author of al-Shāfī fī sharḥ al-Wāfī.

Beginning (as here extant):

Fol. 66	الفرائض

1601

Foll. 79, defective at the end; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq; rubrications; words and phrases overlined; some damage by insects; occasional comments in margins; 18th century. [DELHI 543]

دستور القضاة

Dustūr al-quḍāḥ.

A treatise on Ḥanafī furū', with illustrations from actual cases, by Ṣadr ibn Rashīd ibn Ṣadr al-Tabrīzī, who was known as Qāḍī Khwājah 'Iṣmaḥ Allāh. It was completed (cf. author's colophon, no. 1602) in 772/1370–1.

Beginning:

الحمدُ للّهِ الذى اعاننى على جمع هذهِ المسائلِ والصلوةُ على رسولهِ محمّد الذى خصّص به الوسائل الخ

The work comprises 22 bābs, which are set out in the preface and reproduced in Loth 1045, VII.

End (i.e. last complete section):

من الكافى واختلفوا فى ان عين الربح الخارج من الدبر نجسة او طاهرة الا انها يننجس [sic] بمرورها على النجاسة الخ

For other copies see Loth 1045, VII; Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1721; Rāmpūr 196. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1602

Foll. 70; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 18; naskhī, in a variety of hands; rubrications; numerous marginal and interlinear comments; 18th century; copyist, Muḥammad Aṣghar al-Bālgrāmī al-Rasūlābādī. [DELHI 544]

Dustūr al-quḍāḥ.

Another, complete, copy of 'Ismaḥ Allāh's work. The end and the author's colophon, which are lacking in Delhi 543, are as follows:

End:

وان كان بعض الماء يلاقى العذرة وبعضه لا يلاقيها فالماء طاهر ما لم يتغير لونه وريحه'

Colophon:

تم تاليف هذه الروايات فى سنه ستولبات [sic] ابتداءه فى غرة من ربيع الاول وانهاؤه فى السلخ

من سعبان سنه اثنين وسبعين وسبعماية قال العبد . . . محمد بن احمد التبريزى الملقب بعماد عصمة الله تعالى . . . هذه روايات متضمنة للواقعات جمعها الولد الاعز . . . صدر الملة والدين محمد بن محمود التبريزى عرف بقاضى خواجه الخ

1603

Foll. 1–132—between foll. 16 and 19 are inserted two leaves, the present 18 and 19, which are out of place and are numbered in Arabic 172, 173, while other folios are lacking at the end; $11\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 23; somewhat crowded and incorrect naskhī; rubrications; some marginal notes; 18th century. [DELHI 540*a*]

خزانة الروايات

Khizānaḥ al-riwāyāt.

A treatise on Ḥanafī furū' with numerous quotations from earlier works on the same subject, some in Persian. There are also some prefatory chapters on the general principles of fiqh. The author's name does not appear, but he is, according to Ḥ. Kh. III 135, al-Qāḍī Chakan al-Ḥanafī al-Hindī (d. 920/1514; cf. Būhār II, no. 156; Brockelmann II 221).

Beginning:

الحَمْدُ لِلهِ الّذِي خلق الانسانَ وعَلَّمَه البيانَ ورَفعَ مَدارج العالمين منهم الى اعلا درجات الجنان الخ

The earlier chapters are:

Fol. 2*a*	كتاب العلم
Fol. 4*a*	باب فى العلم المحمود والمدموم
Fol. 5*b*	باب فى اداب المفتى
Fol. 6*b*	فصل فى كيفية الافتا الخ

after which come the ordinary chapters of a work on furū' from the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ (fol. 11*b*) onwards, followed by some others of a special nature, of which the chief are:

Fol. 126*b*	كتاب الاستحسان والكراهيه
Fol. 129*b*	كتاب اداب كتابة القران
Fol. 131*b*	كتاب فى السلام والمصافحة

End (i.e. last extant and complete section):

فى المصافحة والمعانقة ويصافح بعد السلام من لقى من الاخوان فانها من تمام التحية ويزيد فى المحبة ولا ينزع يده من يد صاحبه حتى يكون هذا الذى [ينزع] ولا يصافحه من وراء الثياب فانه من الجفاء'

Ḥ. Kh. 135.

1604

Foll. 6*b*–463 (fol. 6*a* duplicates 12*a*); $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; naskhī (Indian), frequently unpointed; rubrications; words and phrases overlined; margins ruled; some marginal comments; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 541]

Khizānaḥ al-riwāyāt.

Another copy, complete, of the work by al-Qāḍī Chakan al-Hindī (see no. 1603).

Beginning, etc. are as in no. 1603.

End:

قال ابى اقر هما بابا نا رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم ينظر فناء البيت فان النظافة من الايمان'

1605

Foll. 21*b*–164; $11\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq; rubrications; date 1243/1827–8. [DELHI 484]

كتاب الاشباه والنظائر الفقهيّة على مذهب الحنفيّة

Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir al-fiqhīyaḥ 'alā madhhab al-Ḥanafīyaḥ.

A compendium of Ḥanafī fiqh with an introduction in which the seven main rules defining religious and legal aspects of laws and legal decisions are set out. The author is Zain al-'Ābidīn, known as Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī (d. 970/1563; cf. Ḥ. Kh. I, p. 309; Brockelmann II 310), who says in his colophon that he completed the work in six months of the year 969[1]/1562 and gives (fol. 22*b*) a list of the sources from which he drew his materials. In the present copy there is a preface (foll. 18*b*–21*b*)—apparently by the author himself although the colophon to the commentary (see no. 1608) attributes it to Aḥmad b. Muḥammad al-Ḥamawī—which acts as a précis and table of contents and is itself preceded by three other incomplete tables of contents.

Beginning:

الحمد لله على ما انعم وصلى على سيدنا محمد وسلم وبعد فان الفقه اشرف العلوم الخ

The author divides his work as follows into seven fanns (cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 309 f.):

(1) القواعد الكليه	Fol. 22*b*
(2) الضوابط	Fol. 73*b*
(3) الجمع والفرق	Fol. 120*a*
(4) الالغاز	Fol. 152*a*
(5) الحيل	Fol. 155*a*
(6) الفروق	Fol. 159*a*

[The introduction calls it فى الاشباه والنظاير and Ḥ. Kh. فى الاحكام]

(7) فى الحكايات والمرسلات	Fol. 160*b*

End:

وقال قطعك الله كما قطعت كتبى فابتلى بالاتراك حتى جعلوا على راس شجرتين فمقطع نصفين رحمه الله' قال المؤلف هذا آخر ما اوردناه من كتاب الاشباه والنظاير..والحمد لله تع' على التمام وعلى سيدنا محمد الخ

For other copies see Loth 272; Brit. Mus. 223; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1070; Bankipore XIX (ii), nos. 1754–5; Būhār II, no. 161. Printed Calcutta 1826, Constantinople 1873.

Ḥ. Kh. I 309.

[1] The colophon in this MS actually says 999, but see Berlin 4618, Brit. Mus. 223, Būhār II, no. 161.

1606

Foll. 250, defective at the beginning; $9\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; fairly clear naskhī, the later folios in a later hand; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 485]

Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir.

Another copy of the work by Zain al-'Ābidīn. The added preface is defective at the beginning, but the original work begins at fol. 9*b*.

1607

Foll. 181; $13\frac{1}{8} \times 9$ in.; ll. 15; large nasta'līq; rubrications; worm-eaten in parts; 18th century. [DELHI 486]

Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir.

A defective copy of the work by Zain al-'Ābidīn, containing only the first fann and the majority of the second.

1608

Foll. 515—the original Arabic numeration is correct, except that 394 should be 393, etc.; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 22; small clear naskhī; rubrications; infrequent marginal comments; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 531]

حاشية على كتاب الاشباه والنظائر

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir.

A commentary by Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ḥamawī (d. 1090/1679; cf. Brockelmann II 310; or 1098/1687 according to the sources given in Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 44, which also calls the present work غمز عيون البصائر) on Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī's Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir. The present copy lacks the preface which occurs in no. 1609 and other manuscripts of the work.

Beginning:

قوله الحمد لله اختار صيغة انشاء معنى ولا محذور فى عدم محموديته فى الازل بما انشاه العباد من المحامد الخ

The main divisions of the work are as follows:

Fol. 23 (I) فنّ

Fol. 144*b* (II) فنّ

(Containing the ordinary kitābs of a work of furū'.)

Fol. 390*b* (III) فنّ

(Containing numerous aḥkām and additional chapters on personal and civil law.)

End:

قالى شيخى واستادى متع الله المسلمين بطول حياته وهنا تم الكلام وقطعت صحارى الطرءس بمطاوا...الاقلام وحصل ما كنت ارجوه واتمناه وذلك من فضل الخ

Prefaced to the manuscript is a fihrist of the Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir, made by the same author (Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ḥamawī) as the colophon implies.

For other copies of the work see Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1756, Cairo III 85. Printed Cairo 1290; also (under the title غمز عيون البصائر, with the Kitāb al-Ashbāh) ? Constantinople, n.d.

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1609

Foll. 293, end defective; $11\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 27; naskhī; rubrications; marginal comments on most folios; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 532]

Ḥashiyaḥ 'alā Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir.

The first part of another copy of Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ḥamawī's commentary on the Kitāb al-Ashbāh wa'l-naẓā'ir, containing the first fann and part of the second. Although defective at the end, it contains the preface lacking in no. 1608.

Beginning:

لك الحمد يا من تنزهت ذاته عن الاشتباه والنظاير وتانهت الخ

The first passage of the Ashbāh occurs on fol. 2*b*.

Prefaced to the work is the fihrist of the Ashbāh.

1610

Foll. 127, in great disorder, end defective and lacunae numerous (the order should be 1, 48–66, 31–47, 78–115, 118–19, 116–17, 120–7, 2–10, 68–77, 21–30, 11–20, ? 67; $11\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; naskhī; rubrications; 14th century. [DELHI 672]

الكافى شرح الوافى

al-Kāfī sharḥ al-Wāfī.

A commentary by Ḥāfiẓ al-Dīn Abū 'l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh b. Aḥmad al-Nasafī (d. 710/1310; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 86, Ḥ. Kh. VI 418 f., Brockelmann II 196) on his own treatise of Ḥanafī furū' entitled al-Wāfī and arranged after the manner of the Hidāyaḥ.

Beginning:

الحمد لمن جلت نعمه ودقّت حكمه...قال...لما فرغت من المختصر المسمّى بالوافى اردت ان اشرحها ارسمه بالكافى الخ

The present manuscript contains portions of the following kitābs:

Fol. 1 الطهارة	Fol. 31–66 الصلوة
Fol. 78–91 الزكوة	Fol. 92– الصوم
Fol. 112– الحج

End (last extant bāb, fol. 18*b*):

باب الهدى وهو من الابل والبقر والغنم لان الهدى ما يهدى الى مكه الخ

For other copies see Loth 250–4 (these would appear to contain both Wāfī and Kāfī, but in 250 the beginning of the Kāfī only is quoted); Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1100; Berlin 4574; Cairo III, p. 101.

Ḥ. Kh. VI 418.

1611

Foll. 138; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 15; large clear naskhī; rubrications; copious marginal and interlinear comments in earlier folios; 18th century.

[DELHI 656]

كنز الدقائق

Kanz al-daqā'iq.

A well-known compendious compilation of discussions upon points of Ḥanafī furū', by Abū 'l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh b. Aḥmad al-Nasafī (d. 710/1310; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 86; Ḥ. Kh. v 249; Brockelmann II 196). The work is based mainly upon the author's own treatise al-Wāfī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اعز العلم فى الاعصار واعلى حزبه والانصار الخ

The work contains the kitābs usual in a treatise on furū'.

معدن الحقائق

Ma'din al-ḥaqā'iq.

A commentary on Nasafī's Kanz al-daqā'iq by Muḥammad b. Ḥājī b. Muḥammad al-Samarqandī, author of al-Fatāwī 'l-Kāfūrīyaḥ (fl. 8th/14th century).

Beginning:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِىْ جعل سرائر العلما معارف كنوز الحقايق وصيّر ضمايرهم خزاين الخ

The kitābs of the book are those of the original text and are set out in a table prefixed.

End (as here extant, kitāb al-farā'iḍ):

من اصل المسله فيما ضربته فى اصل المسلة اى فى الذى سميته المضروب صورته رجل مات وترك امراتين وخمس جدات الخ

For other copies see Rāmpūr, p. 251, nos. 557–8; As. Soc. Bengal (Ashraf Ali), p. 19. ? Ḥ. Kh. v 631 (معدن الكنز).

1627

Foll. 202—the Arabic foliation has two leaves numbered 71; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 13; coarse and carelessly written nasta'līq; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 525]

A ḥashiyaḥ by Muḥammad Karīm Allāh (? b. Luṭf Allāh Fārūqī al-Dihlawī, d. 1291/1874; cf. Tadhkira'i 'Ulamā'i Hind, p. 172) to al-Zaila'ī's commentary, Tabyīn al-ḥaqā'iq, on the Kanz al-daqā'iq (the passages of which are written in a bolder hand than the rest).

Beginning:

بعد الحمد والصلوة يقول عبد من عباد الله محمد كريم الله اتعظت من تبئين الحقايق المشهور بلزيلعى [sic] على شرح كنز الدقايق للشح الامام حجه العصر فحر الدين الزيلعى على مواضع ممعرقه ونعرض تعلم الطلباء الخ

The chapters of the original text, of which a list is prefaced to the manuscript, are followed and marked, from the bāb al-wuḍu' to the kitāb al-farā'iḍ.

End:

ولكن ياخذ من ثلث الكل وهو سهمان من سته وتروح النصف بلثه وقد استوفاه ياخذ بدله قص السدس وهو سهم للسهم'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1628

Foll. 508 (in two parts, 1–231, 232–508); $10\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$ in.; well-written naskhī, with additions in a more cursive hand; text of original written in red; rubrications; some damage from insects; date 1021/1612; copyist, Aḥmad b. Muḥammad b. Aḥmad b. Shaikh Mūsā, who transcribed the work from a copy taken directly from the author's own and dated 895/1490. [DELHI 612]

رمز الحقائق

Ramz al-ḥaqā'iq.

A commentary (mamzūj) by Abū Muḥammad Maḥmūd b. Aḥmad b. Mūsā al-'Ainī (d. 855/1451; cf. Brockelmann II 52 and references there cited; ibid. II 197) on Nasafī's well-known treatise on Ḥanafī furū', the Kanz al-daqā'iq. The work was completed in 818/1416 at Cairo.

Beginning:

ان اجد ما يستهل به اللسان بالبيان واسد ما يسمد به الاركان من الجنات حمد مبدع الخ

The contents, those of an ordinary work on furū', are described in a list prefixed to the volume.

End:

لان المصلح لما ترك بشئ اعطوه جعل مستوفيا نصيبه وخرج من البين فيبقى الباقى مقسوما على سهامهم

Author's colophon:

...قد نجز تحريره...مع تخلل الحوادث والنكبات وعروض ما يركب القلب والقالب من الهموم والحسرات من شين بهتان ودين انسان وهم الاولاد والنسوان وحسد الاحدان...والشكوى الى الله وعليه التكلان والحمد لله اولا واخرا...والصلوة على من بعث من بنى عدنان...وعلى آله...الفضل والاحسان

1629

Foll. 120, defective at the end; 8 × 5½ in.; ll. 21; cursive naskhī; passages of original text written in red; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 613]

Ramz al-ḥaqā'iq.

Another copy, breaking off at the beginning of the kitāb al-nikāḥ, of al-'Ainī's commentary.

1630

Foll. 135, end defective; 13¼ × 8¾ in.; ll. 19; large cursive naskhī; rubrications; copious marginal and interlinear comments; some injury from damp and insects; 18th century (fly-leaf bears the date 1255/1839). [DELHI 614]

Ramz al-ḥaqā'iq.

Another portion, containing the kitābs from بيوع to هبة, of al-'Ainī's commentary.

1631

Foll. 3–564, defective at the end and preceded by a table of contents, foll. 1–3; 11¾ × 7¾ in.; ll. 31; closely-written but legible naskhī in two different hands; 17th century. [DELHI 497]

البحر الرائق فى شرح كنز الدقائق

al-Baḥr al-rā'iq fī sharḥ Kanz al-daqā'iq.

A copious commentary by Zain al-Dīn ibn Ibrahīm, known as Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī (d. 970/1563; cf. Brockelmann II 197, 310 and for references, Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 5), on Abū 'l-Barakāt al-Nasafī's Kanz al-daqā'iq fī 'l-furū'. The author gives a list of the sources for his material on fol. 1*b*, among them the Tabyīn al-ḥaqā'iq of al-Zaila'ī for which see nos. 1624–6. According to Ḥ. Kh. (V 250) Ibn Nujaim in others of his works claims to have brought his commentary down to the bāb al-da'wā of the original, but the copies in current use go only to the bāb al-ijāraḥ al-fāsidaḥ. The present copy breaks off at the bāb al-ajdād of the kitāb al-ṭalāq.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى دبر الانام بتدبيره القوي وقدر الاحكام بتقديره الخفى الخ

The work comprises the kitābs and other sections usual in books of furū', and a list of them is set out in the table of contents prefaced to the volume.

End (as here extant):

واعتدت ان لم تجد محرما بلا خلاف وكذا ان وجدت عند ابى حنيفة ومثله فى المحيط' [يتلوه بان ثبوت النسب]

1632

Foll. 403; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 8$ in.; ll. 29; small closely-written naskhī; rubrications; many leaves worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 498]

al-Baḥr al-rā'iq.

A part of the same work by Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī, extending from the beginning to the bāb al-ḥajj 'an al-ghair.

1633

Foll. 476; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; naskhī; rubrications; stained by damp or age; date 1083/1672–3. [DELHI 499]

al-Baḥr al-rā'iq.

Part of the work by Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī extending from the kitāb al-bai' to the bāb al-ijāraḥ al-fāsidaḥ, which was the last written by the author; cf. the colophon:

هذا اخر ما تيسر للمولف تاليفه تغمده الله الخ

1634

Foll. 68, defective at the end; $10\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 27; closely-written naskhī; rubrications; 17th century. [DELHI 500]

al-Baḥr al-rā'iq.

A portion of the first book, the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ, of the work by Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī.

1635

Foll. 363—two folios missing at the beginning and one or more at the end; $11\frac{1}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten in parts; 18th century. [DELHI 501]

al-Baḥr al-rā'iq.

Another copy of the work by Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī.

1636

Foll. 52–58; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; cursive (Indian) naskhī; 19th century. [DELHI 709*d*]

[al-Baḥr al-rā'iq.]

A short tract on the law of Bai', derived chiefly from the Baḥr al-rā'iq of Ibn Nujaim al-Miṣrī. The author of the present work is unnamed.

Beginning:

فصل فى شرائط البيع وما يتعلق بها واعلم ان شرائط البيع على اربع انواع الخ

End:

واعلم ان كل ما ذكر من قوله العاشر ان يكون مملوكا فى نفسه الى هنا ما خوذ من البحر الرائق الا قليلا فانه من غيره والله تعالى اعلم'

1637

Foll. 266; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 29; naskhī—passages of original text in red; rubrications; margins ruled; scattered marginal comments; date (?) 1085/1674. [DELHI 738]

النهر الفائق بشرح كنز الدقائق

al-Nahr al-fā'iq bi-sharḥ Kanz al-daqā'iq.

The first quarter of a commentary on Nasafī's Kanz al-daqā'iq, by an author unnamed in the text but who is stated in a note on fol. 1*a* to be Sirāj al-Dīn 'Umar b. Nujaim. According to Ḥ. Kh. V 253, the work was never completed owing to the author's imprisonment. The present portion was first written out in 989/1581.

Beginning:

احمدك يا من اظهر ما شا لمن شا من كنوز هدايته الخ

The present manuscript contains the kitābs from ṭahāraḥ to ḥajj, which are set out with their bābs in a table of contents prefixed to the text.

End:

ليس له ذلك ويردها قلنا تعارض حق الله وحق العبد فقدم حق العبد رعاية لحاجته' والله الموفق'

For another copy see As. Soc. Bengal (Ashraf Ali), p. 20.
Ḥ. Kh. v, p. 253.

1638

Foll. 417; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6$ in.; ll. 23; cursive naskhī, the original text in red; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 739]

al-Nahr al-fā'iq.

Another copy of the first part of 'Umar b. Nujaim's commentary on the Kanz al-daqā'iq. The present copy is larger than the preceding one by the kitāb al-nikāḥ.

End:

ومثل هذا الاقرار بالنسب فيمن لها نسب معروف والله الموفق الخ

Foll. 274 (beginning and end defective, lacuna after fol. 1); $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 23; regular naskhī, points frequently lacking; rubrications; text of original written in red ink, the commentary in black; numerous marginal comments; every folio damaged so that one or more lines at the bottom are illegible; 18th century. [DELHI 592]

A commentary on Nasafī's Kanz al-daqā'iq. Title and author's name are both lacking, but the work is not تبيين الحقائق (for which see Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1695), nor البحر الرائق, which did not go beyond the باب الاجارة الفاسدة (see no. 1633), nor 'Ainī's رمز الحقائق (printed Būlāq 1285/1868 and lithographed in India 1287/1870).

Beginning (as here extant):

والنسبة فى مثل هذه المواضع تقع صفة للمتقدم غفر الله له ولوالديه واحسن اليهما واليه قدم نفسه فى الغفران الخ

The chapters follow those of the original to the end (i.e. كتاب الوصايا, fol. 256*a*).

End (last complete section here extant):

فاجعل كان لم يكن واقسم على سهام من البقى واقسم ما بقى من التركة على سهام ما بقى من الورثة الخ

Ḥ. Kh.?

1640

Foll. 208 (lacuna between 201 and 202); $9\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 19; naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled; greatly damaged by insects; date 1154/1741. [DELHI 642]

الفتاوى السراجيّة

al-Fatāwī al-Sirājīyaḥ.

A collection of legal decisions according to the Ḥanafī code, by an author whose name is not mentioned in the work but who is probably Sirāj al-Dīn 'Alī b. 'Uthmān al-Aushī al-Farghānī, who lived towards the end of the 6th/12th century (cf. Brockelmann I 429). In his preface the author says it is an abbreviation of a longer treatise of the same nature composed earlier. The fly-leaf erroneously states that the present manuscript contains the first part only of the work. It was completed in 569/1173.

Beginning:

قال العبد الضعيف تولّاه الله بعصمته وخص اسلافه برحمته هذا ما اختصرته من كتاب سبق منى جمعه وتصنيفه ونظمه وتاليفه فى نفايس اجناس الواقعات الخ

The work comprises the usual kitābs (each with many bābs) of a work on furū'. They are described in a number of folios much damaged, prefaced to the volume.

End:

وانسدنى القاضى الامام الى زيد الدبوسى رحمه الله عليه شعر جهدت لتاصيل الدمايل فى الورى فرفقنى ربى مماطاش عن سهمى فاجيبت ما قد مات عن سنن الهدى لمستنبطى الاحكام بالراي والفهم تمت الكتاب الخ

For other copies see Būhār II, no. 168; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1054; Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1674.

Printed on margins of Fatāwī-i Qāḍikhān, Lucknow 1293–5/1876–8, and separately 1310/1892–3.

Ḥ. Kh. IV 358.

1641

Foll. 195; 10 × 5½ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq; rubrications; worm-eaten and injured by damp; 18th century. [DELHI 641]

al-Fatāwī al-Sirājīyaḥ.

Another copy, uncompleted, of the same work containing the kitābs from ṭahāraḥ to farā'iḍ. The fly-leaf bears the title فتاوى سراجى.

1642

Foll. 290; 9 × 5⅛ in.; ll. 17; large coarse naskhī with some additions in a smaller hand; rubrications; 17th century. [DELHI 643]

al-Fatāwī al-Sirājīyaḥ.

Another copy of the same work, prefaced by a list of contents. This is a complete copy.

1643

Foll. 499; 12¾ × 8½ in.; ll. 29; naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled; slightly worm-eaten; 19th century. [DELHI 625]

فتاوى قاضيخان

Fatāwī-i Qāḍīkhān.

A well-known collection of legal opinions according to the Ḥanafī code compiled by Fakhr al-Dīn Abū 'l-Maḥāsin Ḥasan b. Manṣūr al-Ūzjandī al-Farghānī, commonly known as Qāḍīkhān (d. 592/1196; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 16 and 56, Brockelmann I 376, and Ḥ. Kh. IV 364). In some copies there is a statement, lacking in the present one, that the author began the dictation of the work in 578. The present manuscript contains numerous errors of transcription.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على رسوله محمد وآله اجمعين حمدا يقربنا الى مرضات الله الخ

The work comprises the ordinary divisions of a treatise on furū', from the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ to the kitāb al-ḥajr. A table of contents is prefixed to the volume.

End:

[sic] لا يجوز وقفه وان اذن له القاضى فيما اقبنا بصحة الحجر على الحر البالغ كما هو مذهب ابييوسف ومحمد رحمهما الله والله اعلم الخ

For other copies see Loth 210 (for the first half only); Brit. Mus. 1604; Bankipore XIX (i), nos. 1623–6; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1056; Berlin 4813 (fourth part only). Printed Calcutta, 4 vols., 1835; Lucknow 1293–5/1876–8.

The second part of the same work, containing the kitābs from buyū' to ḥajr.

1646

Foll. 7–469 (lacuna at 455*b*); 12⅝ × 8 in.; ll. 25; naskhī; rubrications; end folios injured by damp; date 1180/1766–7.

Fatāwī-i Qāḍīkhān.

Another copy of the latter part of the work, containing the kitābs from ijārāt to ḥajr. The text is preceded by a table of contents to the whole work.

1647

Foll. 67, end defective; 7¼ × 5⅛ in.; ll. 15; naskhī; rubrications; some marginal comments; 19th century. [DELHI 629]

Fatāwī-i Qāḍikhān.

The first part of the same work, containing the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ and the earlier part of the kitāb al-ṣalāḥ.

1648

Foll. 277 (in two parts, 1–93, 94–277), end defective; 11 × 9¼ in.; naskhī in a Persian hand in the first part and in a more cursive, ill-written, hand in the second; rubrications (in the first part only); some marginal comments; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 630]

Fatāwī-i Qāḍikhān.

The latter half of the same work, containing the kitābs from buyū' to shirkaḥ.

1649

Foll. 494 (Arabic numeration faulty after 346); 8⅛ × 5½ in.; ll. 24; naskhī in a variety of hands; rubrications; some injury from damp and insects; 18th century. [DELHI 640]

فصول الاستروشنى
Fuṣūl al-Ustrūshanī.

A handbook of decisions on disputed questions of furū' having a practical bearing, by the Ḥanafī legist Muḥammad b. Maḥmūd al-Ustrūshanī (d. 632/1234; cf. Brockelmann I 380, no. 35; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 164 f.). According to Ḥ. Kh. IV 433, the work was completed in 625/1228 after 32 years and 7 months of labour.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى مهد دين الاسلام واحكم اساسه ببيان القضا والاحكام الخ

The work comprises 30 faṣls described in 10 folios prefixed to the volume.

End:

فان الله بع' يقول فى قوله الحق وفوق كل ذى علم عليم والحمد لله الخ

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (i), no. 1681, Rāmpūr 446–7.
Ḥ. Kh. IV 432 f.

1650

Foll. 395 (defective at both ends, with sundry lacunae in the body of the text); 10 × 7⅛ in.; ll. 25; naskhī; without rubrications; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 639]

Fuṣūl al-Ustrūshanī.

Another copy of the work of al-Ustrūshanī.

1651

Foll. 279; 9¾ × 5½ in.; ll. 23; cursive naskhī; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; date 985/1577. [DELHI 645]

قنية المنية لتتميم الغنية
Qunyaḥ al-munyaḥ li-tatmīm al-Ghunyaḥ.

A selection of fatāwā on Ḥanafī furū', taken from the Ghunyaḥ al-fuqahā of Fakhr al-Dīn Badī' b. Abī Manṣūr al-'Arabī (Ḥ. Kh. IV 572 calls him "al-'Irāqī") and enlarged with additions from other sources by Abū 'l-Rajā Mukhtār b. Maḥmūd Najm al-Dīn al-Zāhidī (d. 658/1260; cf. Ḥ. Kh. loc. cit., Ibn Quṭlūbughā 223, Brockelmann I 382). Ḥ. Kh. quotes an opinion to the effect that the work is notorious among the learned for the "weakness" of its traditions because the author was a Mu'tazilī. The compiler of the table of contents which prefaces the present manuscript appends a list of Mu'tazilī writings which the author has used in the course of the work.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اوضح معالم العلوم واعلى منارها
ونشر فى ملكوت السموات والارض اضواءها وانوارها الخ

The work comprises the ordinary kitābs of a treatise on furū'. They are set out in the prefixed table of contents.

End:

ولو قال حكمت على وكيل المدعى عليه لا نصح
من محضر من الوكيل'

For other copies see Brit. Mus. 199 and Suppl. 281; Cairo III 99; Munich 288–9.
Ḥ. Kh. IV 572.

1652

Foll. 624, end defective; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 23; regular naskhī; rubrications; some damage from insects; 18th century. [DELHI 636]

فصول الاحكام فى اصول الاحكام

Fuṣūl al-iḥkām fī uṣūl al-aḥkām.

The work is sometimes known, erroneously, as Fuṣūl al-'Imādī. It is a Ḥanafī text-book dealing with the processes of the law and the application of the furū' in civil actions and the author is Abū 'l-Fatḥ Zain al-Dīn 'Abd al-Raḥīm b. Abi Bakr al-Farghānī, who completed it in 651/1252 and died at some time after 670/1271 (cf. Brockelmann I 382). According to Ḥ. Kh. IV 440, the authorship was disputed, some ascribing the work to Jamāl al-Dīn b. 'Imād al-Dīn al-Ḥanafī.

Beginning:

وباسمه يبداء كل كتاب ويختم وينشر كل خطاب
وينظم الخ

The work comprises 40 faṣls, which are described in the preface (foll. 2–10).

End (as here extant):

الميزاب اذا كان منصوبا الى دار الغير فاختلفا
فقال صاحب الميزاب لى حق اجزاء الماء الخ

For other copies see Brit. Mus. 1606; Bankipore XIX (i), nos. 1685–8; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1098; Berlin 4888 (where the contents are fully described); Cairo III 97. With the Fuṣūl of al-Ustrūshanī the work was the basis of the Jāmi' al-Fuṣūlain by Maḥmūd b. Isrā'īl (called Ibn Qāḍi Samāwunaḥ), which was printed at Būlāq, 2 vols., 1300–1/1883–4.
Ḥ. Kh. IV 440.

Foll. 339 (Arabic numeration faulty after 52); $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 28; regular naskhī, with one small section in a different hand from the rest; rubrications; margins ruled; scattered marginal comments; date 1135/1723; copyist, Ḥāfiẓ Pīr Muḥammad b. Shaikh Khalāṣ Muḥammad of Haranpūr, pargānah ? Nandanpūr. [DELHI 637]

Fuṣūl al-iḥkām fī uṣūl al-aḥkām.

Another copy of the work by Abū 'l-Fatḥ Zain al-Dīn al-Farghānī. The colophon entitles it الفصول العمادية فى علم الفقه.

1654

Foll. 136; $9\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 11; large and ornamental but incorrect nasta'līq; rubrications; margins ruled; tawdry 'unwān, injured by damp; later folios red and black in alternate lines; 18th century. [DELHI 691]

منية المصلّى وغنية المبتدى

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī wa-ghunyaḥ al-mubtadī.

A short treatise on ceremonial lustration and worship. The author's name does not appear, but he has been identified as Sadīd al-Dīn al-Kāshgharī. His date is unknown but he is judged, from the works he quotes, to have lived in the 7th century Hijrī (cf. Ḥ. Kh. VI 227; Brockelmann I 432; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 170).

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين . . . اعلموا وفقكم الله تعالى وايانا ان انواع العلوم الخ

The following sections are comprised in the work:

Fol 4*a*	كتاب الصلوة
Fol. 17*a*	فصل فى التيمم
Fol. 26*a*	فصل فى المياه
Fol. 30*a*	فصل فى الحياض
Fol. 35*a*	باب المسح على الخفين
Fol. 38*b*	كتاب الصلوة
Fol. 48*b*	فصل فى النجاسة
Fol. 56*b*	فصل فى الاسار
Fol. 94*b*	فصل فى ضعف الصلوة
Fol. 105*a*	فيما يكره فعله الخ
Fol. 111*b*	فى السنن [sic] الصلوة
Fol. 123*b*	فى السجدة [sic] السهو

End:

ولو قرأ حماله الحطب بالتاء تفسد ولو قرأ من الجنه والناس بنصب الجيم لا تفسد'

Ḥ. Kh. VI 227.

1655

Foll. 12–157; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 7; well-written naskhī with interlinear Persian translation in nasta'līq; rubrications; 17th century. [DELHI 692*b*]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy, good and correct, of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn. It is shorter than the previous one by a few lines.

1656

Foll. 86; $9\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 13; nasta'līq; rubrications; copious marginal and inset comments; 18th century. [DELHI 693]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn. A short additional chapter, headed باب السجدات, is attached at the end.

1657

Foll. 132; $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 11; naskhī, foll. 2 and 3 in a different hand; rubrications; margins ruled; scattered marginal comments; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 694]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn.

1658

Foll. 86; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 13; naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled; worm-eaten; many folios badly repaired; 18th century. [DELHI 695]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn.

1659

Foll. 3–83; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 13; nasta'līq; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 696*a*]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn.

1660

Foll. 16–125; $8\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 12; naskhī, with some vocalisation added, apparently by a young student; rubrications; scattered marginal and interlinear comments; 19th century. [DELHI 697*c*]

Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

Another copy of the work by Sadīd al-Dīn. The fly-leaf states erroneously that this is the first part only.

1661

شرح منية المصلّى

Sharḥ Munyaḥ al-muṣallī.

(Also called Ghunyaḥ al-muṣallī.)

A commentary (mamzūj)—according to a note on the fly-leaf the first part only—by Ibrahīm b. Muḥammad b. Ibrahīm al-Ḥalabī (the text of the present manuscript reads الچلبى), who died in 956/1549 (cf. Brockelmann I 432), on al-Kāshgharī's Munyaḥ al-muṣallī, a treatise on ritual purification and on worship. This is, the author states in his preface, a work additional to his longer commentary, المنجلى.

Beginning:

الفتاوى الكافوريّة

al-Fatāwī 'l-Kāfūriyaḥ.

A compilation of legal opinions from a number of Ḥanafī text-books, e.g. Hidāyaḥ, Sirājiyaḥ, Kubrā, Ṣughrā, Jāmi' al-Kabīr, Jāmi' al-Ṣaghir al-Ūzjandī, etc., each of which is represented in the text by an initial or other letter. The author is Muḥammad b. Ḥājī b. Muḥammad b. Ḥasan al-Samarqandī, who dedicated the work to Khwājah Kāfūr, governor of Ẓafarābād in the reign of Fīrūz Shāh (? Taghlaq—752/1351—799/1397).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى صرفنا فاهمّنا الى معرفة الشرايع والاحكام والصلوة على رسوله الخ

The work comprises the ordinary kitābs of a treatise on furū'—each with numerous short faṣls—but in an order differing a little from the usual one.

End:

نصف الخارج فى المضروب يحصل نصف المضروب وهو ثلثة ثم اقسم سهام البنات'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1671

Foll. 296, end defective and lacunae after 8, 14 and 18; foll. 22 and 19–21 in that order should follow 52; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 6$ in.; ll. 15; large sprawling naskhī with numerous additions in a later hand; frequent marginal comments; principal portion worm-eaten; 13th century (a note on the fly-leaf states the manuscript is an autograph). [DELHI 649]

الفتاوى الظهيريّة

al-Fatāwī al-Ẓahīriyaḥ.

The first part of a work dealing with cases of Ḥanafī furū', by the Qāḍī Muḥammad b. Aḥmad, Ẓahīr al-Dīn al-Bukhārī, muḥtasib at Bukhārā (d. 619/1222; cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 362 and a note on the fly-leaf of the present manuscript quoted below, and also Brockelmann I 379 and Bankipore XIX (i), p. 163).

Beginning:

الحمد لله المتفرد بالعلاء المتوحد بالبقاء الدافع ضرار البلاء الخ

The contents of the present copy are the kitābs of the earlier part of a work on furū', from ṭahāraḥ to ṭalāq. They are fully described in foll. 297–300 appended to the text.

End (last complete section):

ولو كان الحبل من زوج لا ضمان على العاصب فيه على كل حال فان ماتت عنده من ذلك فلو ان المولى هو الذى احبلها الخ

[A note on the fly-leaf contains the following particulars about the author:

هو القاضى الامام محمد بن احمد بن عمر القاضى ظهير الدين البخارى المحتسب ببخارا صاحب الفتاوى

والفوايد الظهيرية المقبولتان المعمولتان المتداولتان بين ايدى العلماء تلميذ استاذ الاجل السمح الامام ظهير الدين ابو المحاسن بن على المرغينانى . . . اليه رياسة العلم [?] بعد الستمانه [ومات رحمه الله عنه تسع عشر وستمائة']

خلاصة الكيدانى

Khulāṣaḥ al-Kaidānī.

This is the work which has usually been called مطالب المصلّى (cf. Berlin 3524; Brockelmann II 198). A work with the same beginning appears in Ḥ. Kh. VI 83 f. as مقدّمة الصلوة. It is a short treatise on the classes of acts recognised by the shar', with special reference to the ritual of worship. Neither title nor author's name appears but traditionally the work is ascribed to Luṭf Allāh al-Nasafī, known as al-Fāḍil al-Kaidānī (d. 983/1575), although others ascribe it to Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad b. Ḥamzaḥ al-Fanārī (d. 833/1429; cf. Ḥ. Kh. and Brockelmann, loc. cit.).

Beginning:

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين والصّلوة على رسوله محمد . . . اعلم بان العبد مبتلى [sic] بين ان يطيعَ اللهُ [sic] فيَثَابُ [sic] وبَيْنَ ان يعصيَهُ فيَعَاقب [sic] الخ

The following bābs are comprised in the work:

(1) فى الفرائض Fol. 5*a*

(2) فى الواجبات Fol. 5*a*

(3)] فى السنن [(missing)

(4)] فى المستحبات [(missing)

(5) فى المحرّمات Fol. 6*a*

(6) فى الملروهات Fol. 6*b*

(7) فى المباحات Fol. 8*a*

(8) فى المفسدات Fol. 8*b*

End:

وترك فرض من الفرايض بلا عذر ولو طرأ فواته بدون اختياره وتعمّد الحدث'

Khulāṣaḥ al-Kaidānī.

Another copy of the same work.

1676

Foll. 32, defective at the end (the present fol. 26 is misplaced and should come last); $9\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 18; Persian naskhī, partially vocalised; rubrications; some parts worm-eaten, the last folio (26) imperfect; 19th century. [DELHI 596]

شرح الكيدانى

Sharḥ al-Kaidānī.

This would appear to be a commentary by an author unnamed (if Gotha 936 is another copy of the work, he is there said to be Ibn Kamāl-Pāshā, d. 940/1533; cf. Brockelmann II 449) on Luṭf Allāh al-Kaidānī's Khulāṣaḥ.

The preface is in Persian and begins:

معنى التسمية بالفارسيه على التحقيق بنام خداى
بى همتا آغاز ميكنم الخ

Beginning (of the text):

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين فتح كتابه بعد التيمن
بالتسمية بحمد الله سبحانه وتعالى اداىّ [sic] لحق
شئ مما يجب عليه الخ

Text and commentary are marked by م and ش respectively.

The following chapters are comprised in the work:

[Fol. 2*a*	Author's preface]
Fol. 5*b*	باب (1) فى بيان الفرائض
Fol. 10*a*	باب (2) فى الواجبات
Fol. 14*a*	باب (3) فى بيان السنن
Fol. 17*b*	باب (4) فى المستحبات
Fol. 22*a*	باب (5) فى المحرمات
Fol. 23*a*	باب (6) فى المكروهات
Fol. 30*a*	باب (7) فى المباهات [sic]
Fol. 31*b*	باب (8) فى المفسداة [sic]

These correspond to the contents of the Maṭālib al-muṣallī (cf. Berlin 3524).

End (as here extant fol. 26):

فان المتاخرون اخذو [sic] هذا وعليه الفتوى من
نوادر البر. . .

Sharḥ Maṭālib al-muṣallī.

Another copy, complete, of the anonymous commentary on Kaidānī's Khulāṣaḥ.

Beginning as in previous entry.

End:

وتعمد الحدث حتى لو لم يتعمد بالحدث لا تفسد
به الصلوة كمن يصلّى فسبعة حدث جاز ان ينصرف
للتوضى ويتوضأ ويبنى عليه تقية صلوته' والله اعلم'

شرح الكيدانى

Sharḥ al-Kaidānī.

A commentary (mamzūj) on the work known as Khulāṣaḥ al-Kaidānī or Khulāṣaḥ al-Ṣalāḥ. Neither title nor author's name appears. The author mentions in his preface that he had already written a briefer commentary called جامع للفوائد الاسلامى on the work of Kaidānī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اي حب [sic] التنفيرُ على كل طائفة من كلِّ قوم لِيَتَفَقَّهُو [sic] فى الدين الخ

The chapters contained in the commentary are those of the original text.

End:

قرأة القران بالالحان حرامٌ واستماعها معصية وتحسينها كفر صدق يا رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم

(Is this the commentary of Shaikh Ibrahīm, Rāmpūr, p. 207, no. 265, or the anonymous commentary no. 266?)

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1681

Foll. 485, end defective; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 30; cursive naskhī, frequently unpointed; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; 14th century. [DELHI 725]

فتاوى القاعدى

Fatāwī 'l-Qā'idī.

A compilation of theoretical fiqh and of actual cases in illustration, made by Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad b. 'Alī b. Abī 'l-Qāsim al-Qā'idī al-Khujandī. The work was intended to form a work of reference for muftīs. Many of the fatwās quoted in the text are those formulated by Tāj al-Dīn Abū Bakr b. Aḥmad al-Akhsīkatī al-Khujandī. Some of the quotations are in Persian.

Beginning:

الحمد لله حقّ حمده على منته التى لا يحيط بها الحد الخ

The work comprises the kitābs of an ordinary work on furū', the later ones set out in a table on fol. 1*a*.

End (last extant section):

قال رزى خردد ببيع وتوكيل اول نهار حو موها ددد امد فسح كرد الخ

For another copy see Rāmpūr II, p. 228, no. 407.

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1682

Foll. 23, ends defective; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 29; naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 14th century. [DELHI 778]

Part of a manual on furū'. Title and author's name are both lacking, and a note on the cover explains that although this work is said in "the index" to deal with farā'iḍ it is actually concerned with fiqh. Each kitāb in the book is introduced by a short statement of the aṣl (legal principle) involved.

Beginning (of the first complete bāb, fol. 2*a*):

باب الرجل يامر الرجل يشترى العبد فيجد به العيب الخ

The following kitābs are comprised in this section of the work:

الحوالة Fol. 2*b*	الكفالة Fol. 4*b*
الاجارات Fol. 6*b*	المضاربة Fol. 8*a*
الصرف Fol. 10*a*	الجنايات Fol. 13*b*
السير Fol. 22*b*

End (last kitāb):

الاصل ان استيلا الكفار على اموالنا بعد الاحراز يقطع حقيقة الملك دون الحق الخ

1683

3681. Foll. 112; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 21; small cramped naskhī; rubrications; numerous marginal and interlinear comments; stained by damp; 15th century. [Purchased 11 February 1903]

A commentary upon part of a treatise on Ḥanafī furū'. Neither title nor author's name appears. (A note in the colophon reads: ...در ما ملك [sic] لااس (كتاب شرح [i.e. ? شرح الياس].

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى انار برافته منار الاسلام هداية الى طريق الرشاد واضاء بحكمته معالم الاحكام الخ

The work contains the kitābs (each with several faṣls) on:

Fol. 1*b*	الطهاره	Fol. 13*a* [sic]	الصلوت
Fol. 43*a*	الزكوة	Fol. 50*a*	الصوم
Fol. 54*b*	الحج	Fol. 63*b*	النكاح
Fol. 71*b*	الرضاع	Fol. 72*a*	الطلاق
Fol. 94*a*	العتاق	Fol. 99*a*	الولاية
Fol. 99*b*	المكاتبة	Fol. 101*a*	الايمان

End:

لا قضا اى ولا يصح قضا لانه نوى تخصيص العام وهو خلاف الظاهر'

A printed copy of the Sharḥ Ilyās is recorded in Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1088.

Not noted [i.e. شرح الياس] in Ḥ. Kh.

1684

Foll. 4–132; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 17; naskhī with occasional passages (Persian) in nasta'līq; significant words overlined; occasional marginal notes; date 1213/1798–9. [DELHI 489*a*]

الامينيّة [sic]

al-Amīnīyaḥ [sic].

(Ḥ. Kh. 1 439 calls it الامنية al-Amnīyaḥ.)

A hand-book of Ḥanafī fiqh (furū') by Muḥammad Amīn ibn 'Ubaid-Allāh al-Mu'minābādī who studied at Bukhārā and composed his work for the benefit of its inhabitants, whence parts of it are in Persian.

Beginning:

يا دائما للفضل علينا بتوفيق محامدك ويا باسطا لايدينا للتمنى ثمائك اهدنا هداية كافية على وجه الكفاية اختم على الخير امورنا من البداية الى النهاية الخ

There are numerous quotations from the Hidāyaḥ, the Wiqāyaḥ and similar works and contains the ordinary chapter-headings (sometimes labelled faṣl and sometimes kitāb) of works dealing with furū'.

End:

ولو قال المريض تيمار فرزندان من بعد از من بر تو او قال انت وكيلى فى تركتى او سلمت الاولاد اليك بعد موتى فذلك ايصاء وفى قاضى الامام ظهير الدين لو قال فرزندان مرا ضائع كما قال لا يصير وصيا' الحمد لله الذى وفقنى بكتابة هذا الكتاب'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

Ḥ. Kh. 1 439.

1685

Foll. 4–184, ends defective; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 10; good naskhī, partially vocalised; rubrications; occasional interlinear and marginal comments; slightly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 493]

Part of a work dealing with furū'. It is called on the fly-leaf كتاب انوار البروق by the Imām Mālik [sic], but this is not the work of that title by Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad b. Idrīs al-Qarafī al-Mālikī (for whom see Ḥ. Kh. 1, p. 469; Brockelmann 1 385).

Beginning (the first bāb here extant):

باب فى الاكفآء قريشٌ بعضهم اكفاءٌ بِبَعْضٍ والعرب بعضهم اكفاءٌ ببعض قال رسول الله عم قريش بعضهم اكفآء ببعض والعرب بعضهم اكفاء ببعض قبيلة بقبيلة الخ

The following kitābs are marked (original foliation):

Fol. 93	العتاق	Fol. 101*b*	الايمان
Fol. 110*b*	الحدود	Fol. 120*a*	السرقة
Fol. 124*b*	السير	Fol. 136*b*	البيوع

تنوير الابصار وجامع البحار

Tanwīr al-abṣār wa-jāmi‘ al-biḥār.

A concise manual of Ḥanafī furū‘ by Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn ‘Abd Allāh ibn Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad al-Timurtāshī (d. 1004/1596; cf. Khulāṣaḥ al-athar IV 18–20; Brockelmann II 311). The title-page says erroneously that the present volume contains the first part only of the work. It was compiled in 995/1587 (cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 453).

Beginning:

حمدا لمن احكم احكام الشرع الشريف واعلا مناره
واعز من قادر باعيايه [sic] واغلا مقداره الخ

The work contains the usual chapters of works on fiqh; a table of contents is prefixed beginning with the كتاب الطهارة and ending with the كتاب الفرائض.

End:

وتترك كل دين كسهام وارث ومن صالح من
الورثة والغرما على شيء منها طرح ثم قسم الباقى
على سهام من بقى منهم

For other copies see Loth 273–4, which also contain the commentary Minaḥ al-Ghaffār; Brit. Mus. 221, and Hand-list, p. 29; Manchester 181; As. Soc. Bengal (Ashraf Ali), p. 13; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1078; Berlin 4620–1.

Foll. 627; $7\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 15–20; naskhī, at first large and clear, then in a smaller hand; rubrications; some marginal comments; worm-eaten; 18th century (last folio bears the date 1188/1774). [DELHI 542]

الدر المختار فى شرح تنوير الابصار

al-Durr al-mukhtār fī sharḥ Tanwīr al-abṣār.

A commentary on Timurtāshī's Tanwīr al-abṣār, by Muḥammad ‘Alā al-Dīn ibn ‘Alī al-Ḥaskafī al-Ḥanafī al-‘Abbāsī. The work is an abbreviation of Khazā'in al-asrār, a larger commentary on the same text by the author, who tells us in his colophon that he was Imām in the Umayyad Mosque and then Muftī at Damascus and that he completed the work in 1071/1660. He died in 1088/1677; cf. Brockelmann II 311 and Bankipore XIX (i), p. 17.

Beginning:

حمدا لك يا من شرحت صدورنا بانواع الهداية
سابقا ونورت بصائرنا بتنوير الابصار الخ

The chapter-headings are those of the original, for which see no. 1687.

End:

وان كان كل الناس ردوه عن حد فتقبلنى مع
ماتن واستاد وتحشرنا جميعا مع المصطفى احمد
واخواننا السدى لنا الخير دايما ووالدنا داع لنا طالب
الرشد وهذا ما علقه المص' رحمه الله تعالى واصوله

Foll. 227; $13\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$ in.; naskhī; rubrications; numerous passages overlined in red; scattered marginal comments; 18th century. [DELHI 518]

الفتاوى الحمّادية

al-Fatāwī al-Ḥammādīyaḥ.

A manual of Ḥanafī furū‘ compiled by Abū 'l Fatḥ Rukn ibn Ḥusām (al-Dīn) al-Muftī al-Nāgūrī (? 9th century of the Hijraḥ) and his son Dāwud at the instance of the qāḍī Ḥammād al-Dīn Aḥmad, son of the Qāḍī al-qudāḥ Akram (of Nahrwālā in Gujerat). The numerous sources used are set out in the preface of the book.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى نوّر قلوب الموحّدين بنور التوحيد والايمان وشرح صدور العلماء لقبول الاس[للامرو] الاحسان الخ

The work contains the ordinary kitābs common in works on furū', beginning with the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ and ending with the kitāb al-farā'iḍ.

End:

من حاشية القدورى من الاعيان والغلات والاخياف وكذا باختين وكذا باخ واخت ومنه من اى جهة كانا وبالوالد والولد ايضا'

[The wording is corrected in the margin to وبالاختين والاخ والاخت من اى جهة كانا.]

Another copy of the work by Abū 'l-Fatḥ Rukn al-Nāgūrī and his son Dāwud. The fly-leaves of the manuscript contain a table of contents and numerous legal notes and comments in a variety of hands.

1692

Foll. 599—Arabic foliation after fol. 360 is faulty, fol. 598 badly damaged; 8⅜ × 5½ in.; ll. 17; nasta'līq, points frequently omitted; illuminated 'unwān; rubrications; margins ruled; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 515]

نور العين فى اصلاح جامع الفصولين

Nūr al-'ain fī iṣlāḥ Jāmi' al-fuṣūlain.

A collection of Ḥanafī fatwās by Muḥammad ibn (Aḥmad) Nishānjī-zāda (محمد الشهير ابوه بنشانجى زاده) who died in 1031/1622 (cf. Brockelmann II 225, who calls him Md. Nishānjī-zāda). The work is based on Badr al-Dīn Maḥmūd ibn Isma'īl's practical manual for qāḍīs, known as Jāmi' al-fuṣūlain, which, the author says, he arranged, emended and supplemented (cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 563). There are numerous quotations from other authors in the book and the compiler introduces his own comments with the formula يقول الحقير.

Beginning:

الحمد الله [sic] على توالى عوالى نواله والصلوة والسلام على خير خلقه محمد الخ

The work contains 40 faṣls (each with its own subsections), which are set out in the author's introduction. They are as follows:

كتاب الحيل

Kitāb al-Ḥiyal.

Part of a text-book dealing with legal fictions and devices for satisfying the law, by "Al-Shaikh al-Imām", no other clue to the author's identity being given. It would appear to be an abbreviated version—the preface says فى روايت ابى سليمان—of the work with the same title by Abū Bakr Aḥmad b. 'Umar (or 'Amr) known as "Al-Khaṣṣāf al-Ḥanafī", which is mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. III 120 and has the same beginning as the present work. The work quoted in Berlin 4973 (2) begins differently, but appears to have the same contents.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام سلمه الله وابقاه بدا محمد رحمه الله كتاب الحيل فى روايت [sic] ابى سليمان الخ

The work—unprovided with rubrications—deals with the following topics:

Fol. 1*a* Ḥiyal in divorce and the general legality of ḥiyal.

Fol. 11*b* الحيل فى اجارة الدور

Fol. 18*a* الحيل فى اجارة الارض

Fol. 30*a* الحيل فى الصلح

Fol. 43*a* الحيل فى الصلح فى الجنايات

Fol. 45*b* الصلح فى حق رهن الخ

Fol. 54*a* الوصى والوصيه

End (as here extant):

فهو من المسايل المتفرقه على ما يسميه الحاكم الخليل وهو نفيه كتاب الحيل قال ارايت الوصي اذا جاء

Majma' al-Barakāt.

The first half of the work by Abū 'l-Barakāt, containing most of the preface with the dedication to Aurangzīb and the statement that the original title of the work was عجايب البركات. The present volume contains the kitābs from ṭahāraḥ to waqf.

1703

Foll. 339, end defective; 10 × 5 in.; the number of lines varies according to the style of the writing from 19 to 34; naskhī in a variety of hands; numerous marginal comments; much damaged by use; mainly 17th century. [DELHI 648]

حسب المفتى

Ḥasb al-muftī.

A collection of Ḥanafī fatāwā, by Amīr Abū 'l-Ma'ālī b. (? الدر) Khwājah Maulānā 'l-Bukhārī, known as Qāḍī Abū 'l-Ma'ālī (d. after 969/1561–2; cf. Tadhkira-i 'Ulamā-i Hind, p. 6). The work is dedicated to the Khāqān Abū 'l-Ghāzī 'Ubaid Allāh, the Shaibānid prince who reigned from 940/1533 to 946/1539, and was composed in various places, including Medina and Mecca. In his preface the author relates that while he was in the Masjid al-Ḥarām at Mecca a voice from the sky (هاتف) bade him in Persian call his book by its present title. Certain parts of the work are in Persian.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل العلم الى [sic] الدرجات العظمى وصير الفقه حلاصه الخ

The ordinary kitābs of a treatise on furū' are comprised in the work.

End (last complete kitāb, fol. 332):

كتاب الوصايا وذكر فى محتار الفتاوى ثم اعلم بان الوصيه والو صايه اسمان فى المصدر الخ

For other copies see Rāmpūr, no. 147; Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1752; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1048; Cairo III, p. 41.

ملتقى الابحر

Multaqā al-abḥur.

A well-known compendious treatise on Ḥanafī furū', by Burhān al-Dīn Ibrahīm b. Muḥammad al-Ḥalabī (d. 956/1549; cf. Brockelmann II 432; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 172). A Turkish translation formed the basis of the old Ottoman Code, the Mejelleh. The main sources used by the author, namely Qudūrī, the Mukhtār, the Kanz and the Wiqāyaḥ, are mentioned by him in the preface.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى وفّقنا للتفقّه فى الدين الذى هو حبل المتين

The kitābs contained in the work are those usual in such treatises and are set out in a list of contents prefaced to the text.

End:

ثم زدْتُ مسائل كثيرة من الهداية ومن مجمع البَحرين ولم ازد شيئا من غيرهما حتى يسهل على من اثبت عليه صحة شيء مما ليس فى الكتب الاربعة والله حسبى ونعم الوكيل الخ

مختار الفتاوى

Mukhtār al-fatāwī.

A compilation of Ḥanafī furū' intended for use as a basis for legal decisions and derived from a number of well-known works mentioned in the preface by the author, Muḥammad b. Aḥmad al-Ṭāhirī al-Sākinī.

A note on the fly-leaf declares this to be the first volume of the work, but its contents, which are set out and described in 5 folios prefaced to the text, are those usual in a complete treatise on furū'.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى غرقت فى بحار عظمته اوهام العلماء وتحيرت فى مهامته سرمدية افهام العقلاء الخ

End:

فان لم يكن له مال غير العبدين ولم يجر الورثة جازت محاباتهما بقدر الثلث بينهما ثلاثا بصرب'

No other copies appear to be noted. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1713

Foll. 141 (defective at the beginning, the extant Arabic numeration being from 146 to 286); $12 \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; nasta'līq and naskhī in a variety of hands; rubrications; 18th century. [DELHI 638]

The latter part of a work on furū' dealing with decisions on various legal points. Title and author's name are both lacking, but to the colophon an extraneous hand has added the title فتاوى فصول عمادى, which would appear to be spurious.

Beginning (of the first complete kitāb, fol. 1*a*):

كتاب القسمة اربع فصول الاول فيما يقسم وما لا يقسم' لا يقسم حمامٌ وحايطٌ ودكان صغير لانه لو قسم لا يبقى [sic] لكل فايدة الخ

In addition the work comprises the ordinary kitābs of a treatise on furū', from shuf'aḥ to farā'iḍ.

End:

ثم اضرب خمسه ثمانين اربعة التى صربت الانثى [sic] عشر فيها يصير خمسة ثلثين هذا هو الذى بعطيه محمد رحمة [sic] الله سبحان ربك رب الغرة عما . . . يصفون والسلام الخ

? Ḥ. Kh.

1714

Foll. 181—lacuna between foll. 1 and 3, end defective; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.; small cursive naskhī in more than one style; no rubrics supplied; badly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 521]

A ḥāshiyaḥ on the Bidāyaḥ min al-Kifāyaḥ (by Nūr al-Dīn Aḥmad al-Bukhārī, for whom see Brockelmann 1 375) by an author whose name does not appear.

Beginning:

قوله الحمد لله اثر تعظيم الشارع الحكيم فى ابتداء احكامه لانه شارع فى بيان احكامه الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله, but no chapter-headings appear.

End (i.e. the last complete paragraph):

اما قياس انقطاع الدم اذا جاوز المعهودة على انقطاع النصيب الخ

Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1715

Foll. 539, defective at the beginning; $11\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; clear naskhī; rubrications; copious marginal notes; written at the printing-press Būlāq 1254/1838. [DELHI 527]

حواش على الدر المختار

Ḥawāshⁱⁿ ʻalā al-Durr al-mukhtār.

Glosses on part of ʻAlā al-Dīn al-Ḥaṣkafi's Durr al-mukhtār, by an author whose name does not appear but who was, probably, Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ṭaḥṭāwī who died either in 1231/1815 or two years later (cf. Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 50). The present manuscript contains volume III only of the work.

Beginning (the first complete paragraph now extant):

فكانا كبسيط ومركب انما لم يكن البيع مركبا حقيقة لان الازالة امر اعتبارى لا يتحقق منها تركيب الخ

The following kitābs are comprised in this copy:

No other copy appears to be recorded.

E. FURŪ' (SHĀFI'I)

1766

Foll. 213, lacunae between foll. 11–12 and 106–107, and defective at the end; $8 \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 33; small cramped naskhī with points frequently omitted, partially vocalised; title-page in a hand different from the rest; rubrications; many folios damaged by damp and insects; 17th century. [DELHI 502]

كتاب الوسيط فى المذهب

Kitāb al-Wasīṭ fī 'l-madhhab.

A manual of Shāfi'ī fiqh by Abū Ḥāmid Ḥujjaḥ al-Islām Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad al-Ghazālī (d. 505/1111; cf. Brockelmann I 424; Encyc. Islam, s.v.). It contains the ordinary chapters of a work on fiqh (furū'), together with many additional ones for the use of qāḍīs, and also discussions upon many practical illustrations. According to Ḥ. Kh. (VI 437), who calls it Wasīṭ fī 'l-furū', it was one of the five works in commonest use amongst the Shāfi'īs. It was derived from a previous work of Ghazālī's—al-Basīṭ fī 'l-furū'—but was provided with much additional matter.

Beginning:

امّا بعد حمد الله الذى هى فاتحة كل كتاب وخاتمة كل خطاب والصلوة على رسوله الخ

The chief kitābs marked are as follows:

Fol. 32*b*	ك' الحج	Fol. 1*b*	ك' الطهارة
Fol. 79*a*	ك' التفليس	Fol. 43*a*	ك' البيع
Fol. 157*a*	ك' الجنايات	Fol. 133*a*	ك' الطلاق
Fol. 193*a*	ك' الضحايا	Fol. 165*a*	ك' الديات

The last kitāb, the ك' الشهادة (fol. 213*b*), is defective at the end.

End (as here extant):

فان السعر كلام حسنه حسن وقبحه قبح وقد اسند عبد رسول الله صلى الله عليه ولم يذكرها وان اطنب:...

1767

Foll. 321 (present fol. 184 should come between 176 and 177); $10\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 22; scholarly naskhī, occasionally lacking points; rubrications; a few marginal notes; some folios damaged by damp, etc.; date 766/1364–5; copyist, Abū Bakr b. Muḥammad Dāwud al-Lārī. [DELHI 588]

شرح الحاوى

Sharḥ al-Ḥawī (al-ṣaghīr).

The third and fourth parts of a commentary by 'Alā' al-Dīn 'Alī b. Ismā'īl al-Qūnawī (d. 729/1328–9; cf. Ḥ. Kh. III 6; Brockelmann II 86; Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 106) on Najm al-Dīn al-Qazwīnī's treatise on furū' (al-Ḥāwī al-ṣaghīr fī 'l-furū'), for which see Ḥ. Kh. III 5 ff.

Beginning:

خصّ النبى صلى الله عليه وسلم الى آخره الكتاب [و]السنة واجمع المِلل متطابقة على جواز النكاح الخ

Passages of the Ḥāwī are introduced by قوله, but the chapters are not distinguished from each other except by the heading باب. The colophon of the ربع النكاح (the ?3rd ربع) occurs on fol. 138*b* and states that it is to be followed by باب الجنايات.

End:

فاذا ماتا فالولاء بين العصبتين بالسوية وان كان احدهما موسرا فقط ثبتت الاستلاد فى نصب المعسر قطعا والنزاع فى نصب الموسر'

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (ii), nos. 1859–61; Rāmpūr 263; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1156; Berlin 4512; Cairo III, p. 236.

1768

Foll. 1–166; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; rubrications; some marginal comments; date 907/1501–2. [DELHI 507*a*]

تيسير الفتاوى فى تحرير الحاوى

Taisīr al-fatāwī fī taḥrir al-Ḥāwī.

A commentary by Sharaf al-Dīn Hibaḥ Allāh ibn 'Abd al-Raḥīm al-Bārizī al-Ḥamawī al-Shāfi'ī (d. 738/1337; cf. Shadharāt al-dhahab, Cairo 1350, VI 119; Brockelmann I 394) on the Ḥāwī al-ṣaghīr of Najm al-Dīn 'Abd al-Ghaffār al-Qazwīnī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله المقدّس عن الاضداد والانداد المنزه عن الصحابة والوالد والاولاد الخ

The numerous bābs into which the work is divided are those of the ordinary treatises on furū'. Here, text and commentary are not differentiated by any external signs (see Ḥ. Kh. III 8).

End:

ثبت الاستيلاد فى كل نصف لمالكه والولاء بين عصبيتهما بالسوية'

For other copies see (?) Yeni Jāmi' Kutub-khanaḥ Daftarī (Stambul 1300), no. 437; Cairo III 212.

1769

Foll. 299; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 7$ in.; ll. 29; small neat naskhī—points occasionally omitted; rubrications; illuminated 'unwān; margins ruled; worm-eaten in parts; date 886/1481 (? 816/1413). [DELHI 487]

ايضاح الفتاوى فى النكت المتعلّقة بالحاوى

Īḍāḥ al-fatāwī fī 'l-nukat al-muta'allaqaḥ bi 'l-Ḥāwī.

A commentary, by an author unnamed, on the first two parts ('ibādāt and bai') of Najm al-Dīn 'Abd al-Ghaffār al-Qazwīnī's treatise on Shāfi'ī jurisprudence, the Ḥāwī al-ṣaghir (for which see Ḥ. Kh. III 5; Brockelmann I 394).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فقّه فى الدين من اختاره من الانام وارشد من ارتضاه لمعرفة ما شرع من الاحكام الخ

The text is introduced by some particulars of the life of Najm al-Dīn culled from Dhahabī (d. 748/1348), Subkī (d. 771/1370), Isnawī (d. 772/1371) and others unspecified. The ordinary main headings of a work on furū' are given (kitāb al-bai' on fol. 136*b*) and the quoted passages of the original are marked by قوله—often omitted.

End:

وقال فى شرحه المسلم لا يجوز لانها غير واجبة انتهى' والله سبحانه اعلم

Colophon:

وقد تم الجلد الاول من ايضاح الفتاوى فى النكت المتعلقة بالحاوى...على يدى اضعف مخلوق الله الغنى مقصود بن هبة الله بن منصور بن محمد الحسى الخ

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1770

Foll. 311 (lacuna after foll. 1 and 14, defective at the end); $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 20; naskhī in more than one style, partially vocalised; rubrications; original text overlined red; some marginal and interlinear comments; many folios damaged by insects, etc.; 18th century. [DELHI 589]

بيان الفتاوى

Bayān al-fatāwī.

A commentary on Najm al-Dīn al-Qazwīnī's Ḥāwī al-ṣaghīr fī 'l-fiqh, by 'Uthmān b. 'Alī al-Kūh-i Kīlūnī (الكوه كيلونى).

Beginning:

الحمد لِلّه الذى شرع بالاحكام شريعةً الى مشارع الاسلام والدين وفرّعها على أُصُولِ الخ

The chapters are not provided with headings, but the beginning of each is marked by باب.

End (last bāb here extant):

باب الايلاء حلف الزوج على الامتناع عن وطى ممكن اى الايلاء حلف الزوج المكلف على امتناعه من وطيه...

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1771

3860*c*. Foll. 95–102, end defective; $6\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 15; inelegant naskhī; rubrications; 14th century.

[ضوابط الفصول]

[Ḍawābiṭ al-fuṣūl.]

Part of a compilation of responsa to questions upon Shāfi'ī furū', apparently by Muḥyī al-Dīn [Yaḥyā b. Sharaf] al-Nawawī (d. 676/1277; cf. Ḥ. Kh. 1 508), but there is no reference to author or title in the text. A note on the title-page reads:

وما وجدت من ضوابط الفصول للنواوى ...[sic]
بخط شيخى...الشيخ شمس الدين الكفيرى الخ

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين...اما بعد فهذه قواعد
وطوابط [sic] واصول مهمات مقاصد مطلوبات يحتاج
اليها طالبوا [sic] المذهب الخ

The work deals with the following masā'il:

Fol. 96*a*	مذهب اهل الحق الايمان بالقدر الخ
Fol. 96*b*	عقود المعاملات الخ
Fol. 97*a*	اذا انعقد البيع
Fol. 97*a*	مما يقوم الوطى فيه الخ
Fol. 97*b*	فى ضبط حمل من المقدرات الشرعيه
Fol. 98*b*	فى بيان اقسام الرخصة الخ
Fol. 99*a*	قال اصحابنا رخص السفر ثمان الخ
Fol. 100*b*	لا يزال حكم اليقين بالشك الخ

This is followed by a section from the

Fol. 101*a*	كتاب مهمات الفقه (باب المساجد)

and by a final section:

[ومما وجد بخط النواوي] قال اخبرنا شيخنا الحافظ
ابو ابو [sic] البقا اجارة قال ابو اليمن الخ

No other copy appears to be recorded. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

1772

Foll. 209 (some lacking at the end); $8\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 21; small naskhī; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 599]

شرح ايضاح المناسك الكبرى

Sharḥ Īḍāḥ al-manāsik al-kubrā.

An anonymous commentary on Muḥyī al-Dīn al-Nawawī's Īḍāḥ fī 'l-manāsik (for which see Ḥ. Kh. 1 508), on the rites of the ḥajj. The title-page ascribes the work to Shihāb al-Dīn (Aḥmad) Ibn Ḥajar al-Haitamī (d. 973/1565), but no work of this title by him is given by Ḥ. Kh. (Cf. further Brockelmann II 387 ff. and Berlin 4045, neither of which mentions the work. In Berlin 4052 there is a work by him on the same subject, viz. الجوهر المنظم فى زيارة القبر المكرّم and this may be the origin of the ascription.)

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى عظم شعائر بيته الحرام بما اوجبه
على الكفاية من احيا معالمه بالزيارة فى كل عام الخ

The following chapters are contained in the book:

[Fol. 1*b*	not indicated by title فى اداب السفر]
Fol. 70*b*	الباب الثانى فى الاحرام
Fol. 110*a*	الباب الثالث فى دخول مكة
Fol. 179*b*	الباب الرابع فى العمرة
Fol. 182*a*	الباب الخامس [قوله مكة افضل الارض]
Fol. 196*a*	الباب السادس [قوله اعلم الخ]
Fol. 206*b*	الباب السابع [هذا الباب يحتاج الخ]

These headings correspond in general with those of the Īḍāḥ fī manāsik al-ḥajj by al-Nawawī as given in Berlin 4045.

End (as here extant):

فلا يقال المقصود فى البابين واحد وانما وجب

الانوار لاعمال الابرار

al-Anwār li-a'māl al-abrār.

A work on Shāfi'ī furū', by Jamāl al-Dīn Yūsuf b. Ibrahīm al-Ardabīlī (d. 776/1374, according to others 799/1396; cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 484; Brockelmann II 199; Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 109).

Beginning (of first extant, third original kitāb):

كتاب الحيض [ا]قلّ سن تحيض المراة فيه تسع سنين الخ

There would appear to have been 73 kitābs, each with rukns and faṣls, in the complete work, a list of them being given in Loth 286. The last two in addition to the first two are here lacking.

End (i.e. last extant kitāb, fol. 391*a*):

كتاب التدبير وله اركان الاول المحل وهو معلوم ولو دبّر المكاتبَ او كاتب المدبر صح الخ

For other copies see Loth 286; Brit. Mus. Suppl. 317; Berlin 4598; Bankipore XIX (ii), nos. 1864–5. Printed Cairo 1310/1892–3.

Ḥ. Kh. I 484.

3860*a*. Foll. 1–87, end defective; $6\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 17; fair naskhī; rubrications; copious comments on some folios; first folio damaged; 14th century.

The first part of a brief manual of Shāfi'ī law for beginners, by Abū 'Abd Allāh Muḥammad b. Jamāl al-Dīn al-Shāfi'ī, known as "al-Tinkizī". It is based chiefly upon the Ghayaḥ al-ikhtiṣar of Abū Shujā' Aḥmad b. Ḥasan al-Iṣfahānī (d. shortly after 500/1106; cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 296; Brockelmann I 392; Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 91) and the Mukhtaṣar of Muḥyī al-Dīn al-Nawawī (d. 676/1277; cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 508).

Beginning:

[قال سيدنا وشيخنا الشيخ ...ناصر...الدين سمس الدين ابى [sic] عبد الله محمد بن المر حوم حمال الدين الشافعى الشهير بالتنكزى...] الحمد لله العليم الحكيم الذى علمنا بفضله ومنه مالم... نعلم واخرجنا بطوله وشريف ولا يته الخ

The work comprises a preliminary bāb with the following faṣls:

(1) فى فضل العلم	Fol. 3*b*
(2) فى فضل المتعلم وادبه	Fol. 9*b*
(3) فى فضل العالم	Fol. 17*b*
خاتمة	Fol. 20*a*

The section on the law proper (here only the kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ) begins on fol. 46*a*.

The Ghāyaḥ and Mukhtaṣar are referred to as غ and ن respectively, the comments being introduced by قلت or شرح.

End (as here extant):

فلم اجد شيا فعلت طب حيا وميتا قال وسطعب منه ريح طيبه لم نجد مثلها قط ثم بساق حديث بن الربير...

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

(Foll. 88–94 form part of another, unidentified, work on furū'.)

1775

3812*b*. Foll. 40–56 and 59–74; $8 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 22–30; naskhī, for the most part unpointed; rubrications; inner edges of some folios injured; date 582/1186; copyist, Abū 'Alī al-Ḥasan b. Isḥāq.

مشكل المهذّب

Mushkil al-Muhadhdhab.

A compilation by Abū Zakariyā Yaḥyā b. Abī 'l-Khair Sālim al-'Imrānī (d. 558/1163; cf. Shadharāt al-dhahab IV 185 ad fin.; Subkī, Ṭabaqāt (Cairo 1324) IV 324), explaining in a series of questions and answers the difficulties occurring in Abū Isḥāq al-Shirāzī's Muhadhdhab fī 'l-furū' or Muhadhdhab fī 'l-madhhab (for which see Ḥ. Kh. VI 274; Brockelmann I 387). Neither title nor author's name appears in the text.

Beginning:

سالنى بعض من يعزُّ علىَّ سواله وبعظُم عندى قدره وحالهُ ان اجمعَ له من المهذب بعض ما نكسر عنه السوال الخ

The questions are introduced by a phrase such as مسئله قال الشيخ ابو اسحق and a quotation from the original text but the replies begin without any introduction.

End:

فى سقوط نسب المعزنه من الله ومنهما انصا لانه فرع لاالله [sic] فمنى سنسب الاصل سنسب فرعه'

No other copies appear to be noted. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

1776

3812*c*. Foll. 75–96; 8 × 6½ in.; ll. 27–29; naskhī, mainly unpointed; rubrications; some folios damaged; date 582/1186; copyist, al-Ḥasan Abū Isḥāq.

احترازات المهذّب

Iḥtirāzāt al-Muhadhdhab.

A brief commentary on the Muhadhdhab of Abū Isḥāq al-Shīrāzī (see previous entry for references) by Ibn Abī 'l-Haitham 'Ubaid Allāh b. Yaḥyā al-Ṣan'ī (d. 550/1155; cf. Ḥ. Kh. VI 275), who is incorrectly called on the title-page Abū Muḥammad 'Abd Allāh b. Yaḥyā الصعنى.

Beginning:

حمدت الله مسدنما وسكرت نعمنه حصوصا وعموما الخ

Special points of difficulty from each bāb (introduced by قوله) are chosen and explained.

End:

ان فطرنه لا نحب عليه والمونة نابعه للفطره فادا لم نحب الفطره لم نحب النفقه'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Ḥ. Kh. VI 275.

1777

Foll. 192*b*–194; 8¾ × 5⅛ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; rubrications; 16th century. [DELHI 507*d*]

مسائل المطارحات

Masā'il al-muṭāraḥāt.

A series of questions, each introduced by مسئلة, and the answers to them, each introduced by جواب, relating to points of uncertainty or dispute in the ritual of worship. The heading ascribes the authorship to Ibn al-Qaṭṭān.

Beginning:

اعلم ان التحاسد على العلم داعية التعلم ومطارحة الاقران فى المسائل ذريعة الى الدراسة الخ

No divisions are marked; also the work appears to be incomplete.

End (as here extant):

لا شىء عليه لاحتمال ان يكون السجدة المتروكة من السنّه فصير شاكا فى وجوب اعادة الفرائض بعد اعادتها'

No other copies appear to be noted. Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1778

Foll. 116, defective at beginning and end, lacuna between foll. 5 and 6; 7⅝ × 4 in.; ll. 28; small naskhī; rubrications; occasional ornamental stops in red ink; stained by damp and worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 516]

A manual of furū', in which each bāb begins with a general statement of the authority for, or the principle of, the law and then proceeds to discuss practical applications. Neither title nor author's name appears.

Beginning (of the first complete bāb):

باب البيع فى المكيل مما يزيد بين الكيلين' الاصل فيه ما روى عن النبى صلى الله عليه وسلم انه نهى عن بيع الطعام حتى يجرى فيه الصاعان صاع البايع وصاع المشترى الخ

Others of the numerous chapters of the work are as follows:

Fol. 2*b* باب من الغصب فى الضمان للقيمة'
Fol. 3*b* باب اختلاف المبيع والثمن فى البيع'
Fol. 10*a* كتاب النكاح
باب من النكاح فيما ينتقص من الصداق وما يزيد' Fol. 13*b*
Fol. 18*b* باب من النكاح بين العبد والامة والخيار لها'
Fol. 21*a* كتاب الدعاوى والبينات

كتاب المنظومة فى الخلافيّات

Kitāb al-Manẓūmaḥ fī 'l-khilāfīyāt.

A metrical treatise, put into rajaz couplets (2669 in number) to facilitate memorising, on the points of difference between the Ḥanafī and the other schools of law, by Najm al-Dīn Abū Ḥafṣ 'Umar b. Muḥammad al-Nasafī (d. 537/1142; cf. Ibn Quṭlūbughā 140; Brockelmann I 427; Bankipore XIX (i), p. 107). The work was completed in 504/1110.

Beginning:

بِسمِ الإِلَه [sic] ربّ كلّ عَبْد والْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَلِي الحمد الخ

The work contains the ordinary kitābs of a book on furū', but the majority are very brief.

End:

H. Kh. VI 195.

1780

Foll. 240, lacuna after fol. 45; $13\frac{3}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; well-written naskhī; rubrications; occasional marginal comments; slightly damaged; 17th century. [DELHI 674]

A treatise on the points of agreement between the four madhhabs (those of Abū Ḥanīfaḥ, Mālik, Shāfi'ī and Ibn Ḥanbal; cf. fol. 11*a*) and those of difference (ikhtilāf), preceded by a muqaddamaḥ containing an interpretation of the ḥadīth من يرد الله به خيرًا يفقّهه, a list of the 99 names of God, a series of legal definitions and an account of the general principles of the fiqh. Title and author's name are both lacking.

Beginning:

وما توفيقى الا بالله عليه توكلت وهو رب العرش العظيم الخ

The work comprises the kitābs of the earlier part of an ordinary work on furū' as follows:

Fol. 23*b*	الصلوة	Fol. 11*b*	الطهارات
Fol. 63*b*	الصيام	Fol. 50*b*	الزكوة
Fol. 91*a*	البيوع	Fol. 73*a*	الحج
Fol. 174*b*	الجنايات	Fol. 148*b*	النكاح

Each of these is divided into a number of bābs and bayāns. Every section begins with an account of the respects in which the madhhabs agree upon the subject treated in it (each introduced by واجمعوا على), following which comes an account of the points on which the madhhabs differ (each introduced by واختلفوا).

End:

والمفهوم من هذا ان السلامة من مواطن الاختلاف بين الامة التمسك بما اجتمع عليه ومن روى طايفة او اصابة اراد بعض الامة'

No other copies appear to be recorded. ? Ḥ. Kh.

حاشية على شرائع الاسلام

Ḥāshiyaḥ ʻalā Sharāʼiʻ al-Islām.

A commentary on a well-known work of Shīʻaḥ furūʻ, viz. Najm al-Dīn al-Muḥaqqiq al-Ḥillī's Sharāʼiʻ al-Islām. According to Iʻjāz Ḥusain (no. 890) and Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1180, the commentary is the work of ʻAlī ibn Muḥammad ibn Ḥasan ibn Zain al-Dīn al-ʻĀmilī (d. 1103/1691–2; cf. Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 44). The fly-leaf, however, ascribes the work to Shaikh ʻAli (ibn) ʻAbd al-ʻĀlī (al-Karakī; d. 940/1533), an ascription which is apparently supported by other evidence (cf. Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 134 f.) but cannot be sustained. See next entry.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على سيدنا محمد وآله الطبين [sic] الطاهرين وبعد الخ

The passages of the Sharāʼiʻ are introduced by قوله.

End:

لان الشى قد يكون معاملة وبملاحظة شى اخر يكون عباده قوله

For another copy see Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1904; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1180.

مختلف الشيعة فى احكام الشريعة

Mukhtalif al-Shīʻaḥ fī aḥkām al-sharīʻaḥ.

A treatise in seven parts containing arguments and decisions on questions of furūʻ. Each case is decided by the opinions of the author, Abū 'l-Manṣūr Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. ʻAlī Ibn al-Muṭahhar "al-ʻAllāmaḥ al-Ḥillī" (d. 726/1325; cf. Iʻjāz Ḥusain, no. 2799; Browne IV, p. 356; Brockelmann II 164).

Beginning:

الحمد لله محق الحق ومظهره وقامع الباطل ومدمّره الخ

The work comprises the contents of a manual of Shī'aḥ furū' set out in kitābs, each divided into bābs and again into faṣls, and with the various questions which are to be discussed introduced by مسئله.

End:

نقول ان كان للسحر حقيقة يصح باعتبارها التاثير وجب القود والا فلا' وليكن هذا آخر ما اردنا اثباته فى هذا الكتاب مقتصرين عليه الخ

For other copies see Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1182. Lithographed Persia 1324/1906.

3822. Foll. 259; 16×9 in.; ll. 31; clear regular naskhī; rubrications; finely illuminated 'unwāns on foll. 1*b*, 54*b*, 94 (especially good, with margins decorated), 169 and 205; capitals in gold or red; margins ruled in blue, red and gold; some folios damaged by insects; 15th century (seals bearing the legend لطف وقف الله and the date 805/1402–3 appear on foll. 94*a*, 143*a*, 164*a* and elsewhere). [Purchased 5 February 1913]

تذكرة الفقهاء فى الفقه

Tadhkiraḥ al-fuqahā (fī 'l-fiqh).

Part of a compilation of decisions made according to Qur'ān and Sunnaḥ on questions of Shī'aḥ law, by Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. 'Alī Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī (d. 726/1325; cf. preceding no.). It is said to have been completed in 719/1318 (cf. the colophon of no. 1792 following). The complete work is divided into four main divisions each called a قاعدة, which is subdivided further into numerous sections.

Beginning (of the present portion):

كتاب الزكوة وفيه ابواب الباب الاول فى زكوة المال وفيه مقاصد المقصد الاول فى الشرايط مقدمه الزكوه لغة النمو والطهارة وشرعا الحق الواجب فى المال الخ

The present manuscript comprises the following kitābs:

Fol. 1*b* الزكوة Fol. 54*b* الصوم
These together form the 4th volume of the whole work.

Fol. 94*b*. Comprising vols. 5 and 6 الحج

Fol. 205*b*. Comprising vol. 7 الجهاد

End:

بل يقصدُ الدفاع عن نفسه وعن الاسلام ومتى قبل المرابط شهيدا'

For other copies see Asiatic Society of Bengal, Government Collection 1903–7, nos. 174–6 (? complete); Būhār II, no. 180 (part containing kitābs ṭahāraḥ and ṣalāḥ). Lithographed Persia ? 1880. (See Fulton, Suppl. Catalogue of Arabic Books in the British Museum, col. 420–1.)

Foll. 284 (beginning defective), in two parts, 1–127 and 128*b*–284; 9½×7 in.; ll. 23; small cursive naskhī; rubrications, margins ruled; copious comments on margins of some folios; 18th century (the date in the colophon purports to read خمس وثمانمايه, but that appears to have been altered from خمس وثمانين و...). [Purchased 12 May 1936]

Tadhkiraḥ al-fuqahā.

Another copy of part of the work of Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī. It comprises the fifth juz', made up of the first two maqṣads of the kitāb al-ḥajj, and the sixth juz', made up of the second part of the kitāb al-ḥajj and the whole of the kitāb al-jihād (beginning on fol. 185*b*).

The colophons read:

تم الجزء الخامس من كتاب تذكره الفقها فى سادس شهر رمضان المبارك من سنه ثمان عشرة وسبعمائة بالحله على يد مصنف الكتاب حسن بن يوسف بن مطهر الحلى اهانه [sic] الله على طاعته ويتلوه فى الجزء السادس بعون الله المقصد الثالث فى افعال الحج الخ Fol. 127*b*

...بن المطهر الحلى اعانه الله على طاعته وفرغ
من تصنيفه وكتابته فى ثانى عشر شهر ربيع الاول من

مسائل مهنّا بن سنان

Masā'il Muhannā ibn Sinān.

Replies written by Jamāl al-Dīn Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. 'Alī Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī (d. 726/1325; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 355, etc.; Browne IV 356) to questions on religion and ritual propounded by Muhannā b. Sinān b. 'Abd al-Wahhāb al-Ḥusainī, who came to Baghdād from Medina in order to consult al-Ḥillī. The replies would appear to have been first written in 719/1319 (cf. fol. 269*b*) and edited in 803/1401 (cf. the colophon).

Beginning:

والحمد للّٰه ربّ العالمین وصلوته علی خاتم النبیین وسید الاولین والآخرین وعلی آله الطاهرین وسادة الخلایق الخ

The questions and answers are introduced by ما یقول and جواب respectively.

The three parts into which the work is divided end respectively on foll. 268*a*, 274*a* and 278*b*.

End:

لو کان فیها لغیره اقل جزء منها کانت باسرها حراما فیکون التحلیل مبیحًا للجمیع هذا ونحوه صورة المنام'

Colophon:

تم القسم الثالث وهو تتمة المسایل فی الخامس من شهر رمضان سنة ثلاث وثمانمایة هجریة'

No other copies appear to be noted.

1798

Foll. 511; $11\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; well-written naskhī; rubrications—many of the earlier ones omitted; numerous marginal and interlinear comments on the earlier folios; 19th century. [DELHI 654]

قواعد الاحکام فی معرفة الحلال والحرام

Qawā'id al-aḥkām fī ma'rifaḥ al-ḥalāl wa'l-ḥarām.

A work on Shī'aḥ furū', by Jamāl al-Dīn Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. 'Alī Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī ("al-'Allāmaḥ al-Ḥillī") (d. 726/1325; cf. no. 1790 supra), who in it set down decisions covering the whole range of the law, for the benefit of his son Muḥammad.

[1] Cf. E. Edwards in A Volume of Oriental Studies presented to E. G. Browne, no. 65, p. 146.

Beginning:

الحمد لله على سوابغ النعمآء وترادف الآلاء
المتفضل بارسال الانبياء الخ

Most of the kitābs usual in a work on furū' are to be found here, from ṭahāraḥ to jināyāt, each with numerous subdivisions.

End:

واصلح ما تجده من الخلل والنقصان والخطا
والنسيان هذه وصيتى اليك والله خليفتى عليك
والسلم عليك الخ

For other copies see Brit. Mus. Suppl. 333 and Handlist, p. 23; Berlin 4789 (with anonymous commentary); Leiden IV 162. The kitāb al-matājir of the work was printed separately with a commentary, Cairo 1323/1905.

I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 2292.

1799

Foll. 373, defective at end, lacunae between 41 and 42 and between 43 and 44, 244 is wrongly inserted and numbered; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 20; naskhī, in a variety of hands; rubrications; numerous marginal and interlinear comments in earlier folios; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 655]

Qawa'id al-aḥkām fī ma'rifaḥ al-ḥalāl wa'l-ḥarām.

Another copy of the work by al-'Allāmaḥ al-Ḥillī. It lacks the end part of the kitāb al-jināyāt.

1800

3823. Foll. 2*b*–439; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 18; nasta'līq, with points frequently omitted; rubrications; many folios injured by damp and insects; date 1071/1660–1 (the last folio in a different hand and dated 1204/1789–90).

[Purchased 5 February 1913]

Qawā'id al-aḥkām fī ma'rifaḥ al-ḥalāl wa'l-ḥarām.

Another copy, ending with the kitāb al-ḥudūd, of the work by al-'Allāmaḥ al-Ḥillī.

(Fol. 2*a* contains the beginning of a work entitled جامع الفوايد فى شرح خطبة القواعد of unknown authorship.)

1801

Foll. 492 (in two parts; 1–186, 187–end, which is defective); $13\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.; well-written naskhī, although points are sometimes omitted, in two hands; margins ruled; occasional marginal comments; much worm-eaten and binding entirely destroyed; date of first part (fol. 186*a*) 988/1580, second part not much later. [DELHI 496]

ايضاح الفوائد فى شرح مشكلات القواعد

Īḍāḥ al-fawā'id fī sharḥ mushkilāt al-Qawā'id.

A voluminous commentary by Fakhr al-Dīn Muḥammad ibn Ḥasan ibn Yūsuf Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī (d. 771/1370; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 349) on his father's treatise dealing with Shī'aḥ furū', the Qawā'id al-aḥkām fī masā'il al-ḥalāl wa'l-ḥarām. The work was begun, and the first part completed, in 724/1324, but the whole was not completed until after his father's death in 726. (I'jāz Ḥusain, loc. cit., calls the work Īḍāḥ al-Qawā'id.)

Beginning:

الحمد لله ذى العزة والبقآء والقدرة والعلآء والمجد
والكبرياء والسلطان القاهر والعز الباهر الخ

The passages of the text are introduced by قال دام ظله in the first part and قال قدس الله سره in the second, and the passages of the commentary by اقول. The following kitābs, each with a number of faṣls, are marked:

Fol. 1*b*	الطهارة	Fol. 10*a*	الصلوة
Fol. 25*a*	الزكوة	Fol. 35*a*	الصوم
Fol. 43*b*	الحج	Fol. 55*b*	الجهاد
	المتاجر	Fol. 62*a*
Fol. 81*a*	الدين	Fol. 98*b*	الامانات
	الوقوف والعطايا	Fol. 140*b*
Fol. 187*a*	النكاح	Fol. 276*b*	العتق
	الفراق	Fol. 298*b*
	الايمان وتوابعها	Fol. 345*b*
	الصيد والذبايح	Fol. 370*a*
Fol. 383*a*	الفرايض	Fol. 442*b*	الحدود

The end is defective and the last extant section begins:

باب لو قتل الذمى مسلمًا والاقرب وجوب الكفارة عليه الخ

No other copies appear to be recorded. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 349.

1802

Foll. 396—original foll. 239 and 242 missing; $14 \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 27; nasta'līq in two different hands; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century (seal on fol. 1*a* bears the date 1218/1803). [DELHI 517]

جامع المقاصد [فى شرح القواعد]

Jāmi' al-maqāṣid [fī sharḥ al-Qawā'id].

The first two parts (foll. 4–174, 175–396) of a commentary on Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. al-Muṭahhar al-Ḥillī's Qawā'id al-aḥkām, by 'Alī b. 'Abd al-'Ālī al-Karakī (d. 940/1533; see references in Bankipore XIX (ii), p. 139—I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 764, gives the date as 945/1538). The title جامع الفوائد written in pencil on the fly-leaf is incorrect.

Beginning:

الحمد لله العلى الكبير الحكيم الخبير العليم القدير الذى خلق بقدرته وميّز ذوى العقول بمعرفته الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله and the following kitābs are marked:

Fol. 4*b* ك' الطهارة	Fol. 67*a* ك' الصلوة
Fol. 135*a* ك' الصوم	Fol. 138*b* ك' الحج
Fol. 175*b* ك' المتاجر

End:

واما ان نقى دعواه عن نفسه فقط ولم يتعرض لنفى اصل الملك فانه يستحق الشفعة لحصول المقتضى بثبوتها والله اعلم بالصواب' يتلوه كتاب المقصد الثالث فى احياء الموات'

For other copies see Bankipore XIX (ii), nos. 1912–14. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 764.

1803

Foll. 289 (fol. 106 is misnumbered); $9\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 26; small naskhī; rubrications; rare marginal notes; later folios damaged by insects and damp; date 993/1585 (given on fol. 170*a*). [DELHI 600*a*]

جامع المقاصد [?]

[?] Jāmi' al-maqāṣid.

Two parts (foll. 2–170*a*, 174*a*–290) of a commentary—apparently the جامع المقاصد by 'Alī b. 'Abd al-'Ālī al-Karakī (cf. no. 1802)—on Ḥasan b. Yūsuf al-Ḥillī's قواعد الاحكام فى مسائل الحلال والحرام, which a note on the fly-leaf attributes to "Shaikh 'Alī".

Beginning:

المقصد الثالث فى احياء الموات قال فى التحرير الموات هو ما لا ينتفع به لعطالته اما لانقطاع الماّ عنه او لاستيلاّء الماّ عليه الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله. The following chapters are comprised in the work:

Fol. 12*b*	كتاب الاجارة وتوابعها
Fol. 52*b*	المقصد الثانى فى المزارعة
Fol. 58*b*	المقصد الثالث فى المساقاة
Fol. 67*b*	المقصد الرابع فى الشركه
Fol. 76*b*	المقصد الخامس فى القراض
Fol. 100*a*	المقصد السادس فى الوكالة
Fol. 138*a*	كتاب الوقوف والعطايا
Fol. 160*a*	الفصل الثانى فى الصدقة
Fol. 160*b*	الفصل الثالث فى الهبة

The second part, beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة والسلّم على سيد الانبيآ واشرف المر سلين الخ commences on fol. 174*a*.

Fol. 174*a*	المقصد الثالث فى الاقرار
Fol. 209*b*	المقصد الرابع فى الوصايا

In addition, the second maṭlab or faṣl of each section is headed فى الاحكام.

End:

شرح الموجز

Sharḥ al-Mūjiz.

A commentary by an author unnamed—perhaps Mufliḥ b. Ḥusain al-Ṣammīrī (الصمّيرى), who was a contemporary of 'Alī b. 'Abd al-'Ālī al-Karakī (d. 944/1537–8; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 2000)—upon the textbook of cases decided on points of Shī'aḥ furū' الموجز الحاوى لتحرير الفتاوى, by Aḥmad b. Muḥammad ibn Fahad al-Ḥillī (d. 841/1437–8), for whom see I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 3212.

Beginning:

الحمّد [sic] لله الّذى انزل على عبده الكتاب وجعل شفيعًا لامته المرحومة يوم الحساب الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله and those of the commentary frequently by اقول.

End:

وباقى فروع المسايل موكول الى كتب الفقهة المبسوطة فمن اراد الاطلاع على تفصيلها [sic] وتنفيحها فليرجع اليها والحمد لله الخ

No other copies appear to be recorded. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 2000.

1810

Foll. 361 (some blank); $9\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 20; small, partly vocalised naskhī, the first 7 foll. in a Persian hand; rubrications (omitted after fol. 327); Qur'ānic passages overlined in red; marginal comments; date 984/1576. [DELHI 478]

معارج المسئول ومدارج المأمول

Ma'ārij al-mas'ūl wa-madārij al-ma'mūl.

(The title-page calls it معارج السيول.)

The first volume of a work on Shī'aḥ fiqh, preceded by a muqaddamaḥ on Uṣūl. The name of the author is not given, but he states that he was asked by Miqdād b. 'Abd Allāh al-Suyūrī (? al-Najafī; c. 800/1397, for whom see Brockelmann II 199) to compile from his own Qur'ānic commentary a manual of law based on the 500 or so of verses having a direct juristic significance. He calls this commentary عيون التفسير and a work of this name is attributed to Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Sīwāsī, who died at some time after 880/1475 (see Brockelmann II 228 and the reference there to Shaqā'iq al-Nu'mānīyaḥ) and who, from internal indications, may have been the author of the present work. He likens himself in the preface to Ḥarīrī who followed in the footsteps of al-Badī' al-Hamadānī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى ادار رَحٰى نظام العالم بهبوب رياح حِكَمَ احكام الشريعة المصطفوية الخ

The author says the work is divided into a muqaddamaḥ, kitābs and a khātimaḥ. The following occur in the present manuscript:

Fol. 2*a*	مقدّمة
Fol. 6*b*	كتاب الطهارة
Fol. 38*a*	كتاب الصلوة
Fol. 121*b*	كتاب الزكوة
Fol. 151*a*	كتاب الخمس
Fol. 158*b*	كتاب الصوم
Fol. 175*b*	كتاب الحج
Fol. 227*b*	كتاب الجهاد
Fol. 283*a*	كتاب البيع
Fol. 304*a*	كتاب الصلح
Fol. 307*b*	كتاب الوكالة
Fol. 311*a*	كتاب الاجارة
Fol. 316*a*	كتاب الشركة
Fol. 318*a*	كتاب المضاربة
Fol. 321*b*	كتاب الوديعة

End:

وعنه لما قضى الله الخلق كتب كتابا فهو عنده فوق العرش ان رحمتى سبقت غضبى قوله تع' لَيْسَ البَر اَن تَولُوا وُجُوهَكُمْ قَبْلَ المَشْرِقِ والمَغْرِبْ وقد مر تفسيرها تم الجلد الاول من الكتاب بتوفيق الكريم الوهاب'

Foll. 114, defective at end; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 595]

شرح الجعفرية

Sharḥ al-Ja'farīyaḥ.

A commentary by Abū Ṭālib Astarābādī on 'Alī b. 'Abd al-'Ālī al-Karakī's treatise on the Shī'aḥ laws of worship, al-Ja'farīyaḥ (for which see I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 779).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فضلنا على سايرالامم باعدل لاديان واوضح لنا شرائع الاسلام الخ

The following chapter-headings are provided:

Fol. 2*a*	مقدّمة
Fol. 12*a*	باب فى الطهارة
Fol. 32*a*	باب فى مبحث التيمم
Fol. 68*a*	باب فى بيان باقى مقدمات الصلوة
Fol. 74*a*	[الفصل الثالث] ستر العورة

(الرسالة) الاثناعشرية فى تحريم ذبائح اهل الكتاب

(al-Risālaḥ) al-Ithnā-'asharīyaḥ fī taḥrīm dhabā'iḥ ahl al-kitāb.

(Sometimes called al-Dhabḥīyaḥ.)

A tractate arguing that ritual slaughter of animals, by Jews and Christians, does not make them lawful for eating by Imāmī Shī'ites. The work is one of the twelve "Ithnā-'asharīyaḥ" tractates written by Muḥammad Bahā' al-Dīn b. Ḥusain al-'Āmilī (cf. no. 1814).

Beginning (of first complete section):

فاقول لا خلاف بين علمآء الاسلام فى تحريم ذبايح من عدا اليهود والنّصارى والمجوس الخ

The work comprises the following faṣls:

اجتمع جمهور الامامية على تحريم ذبايح اهل الكتاب Fol. 4*a*

احتج الحنفية والشافعية والمالكية على اباحة ذبايح اليهود الخ Fol. 6*a*

والجواب عمّا يحتجوا به الخ Fol. 9*a*

End:

وبه يحصل الجمع بين الرّاويات المتخالفة فى هذا الباب من دون حاجة الى حمل شئ منها على التقية'

No other copies appear to be noted.

I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 14 (for the Ithnā-'asharīyaḥ tractates in general, the present one not being mentioned).

1830

Foll. 10*a*–11*b*; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; 18th century. [DELHI 719*b*]

A short tractate on the theme that circumspection and knowledge are required for the interpretation of the law, particularly as revealed in the Qur'ān. Neither title nor author's name is mentioned, but it would appear that the latter is Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (for whom see no. 1814).

Beginning:

اختلف فى ان الاصل فى الاشياء الاباحة والتحريم او يجب التوقف والاحتياط الخ

End:

وجوب التوقف والاحتياط مخصوص بالافعال الوجودية التى يحتمل التحريم لا بما يحتمل الوجود بل الاحتياط هناك مندوب'

1831

Foll. 495–497; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; 18th century. [DELHI 719*zz*]

Two essays: (i) on the dimensions of the measure known as the kurr and (ii) on the amount of water required for ritual ablution. The author's name does not appear, but the brief colophons imply that these are extracts from the Rauḍaḥ al-muttaqīn of Muḥammad Taqī b. Maqṣūd 'Alī al-Majlisī (d. 1070/1659–60; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 1599 and Browne IV, p. 409).

(i) Beginning:

اعلم انّه اختلف اقوال العلماء فى كمّيّة الكرّ باختلاف الرّوايات الخ

End:

فانه كلما كان الماء اكثر كان ابعد من قبول النجاسة'

(ii) Beginning:

باب مقدار الماء للوضوء والغسل قال ابو الحسن بن جعفر للغسل صاع من ماء الخ

End:

وانما ذكرنا المقادير هنا لنخيل عليها فى مواضعها انشاء اللّه تعالى'

1832

Foll. 498–499; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; 18th century. [DELHI 719*aaa*]

باب معرفة زوال الشمس

Bāb Ma'rifaḥ zawāl al-shams.

A chapter, seemingly extracted from the Rauḍaḥ al-muttaqīn of Muḥammad Taqī b. Maqṣūd al-Majlisī (d. 1070/1659–60; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 1599; Browne IV, p. 409), on the point in the heavens at which the sun begins to decline after mid-day at various seasons of the year in specified places in Persia, 'Irāq 'Arabī and Syria.

Beginning:

روى عبد الله بن سنان فى الصحيح عن ابى عبد الله ع' انّه قال تزول الشمس الخ

End:

دايرة القبلة اوسع من اعتبار هذه الدقايق فيها كما ننبه عليه انشاء الله تعالى'

I'jāz Ḥusain (for Rauḍaḥ al-muttaqīn), no. 1599.

1833

Foll. 413 (in two parts, 1–203, 204–413); $10\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; small naskhī; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; slightly worm-eaten; 19th century. [DELHI 736]

مفاتيح الشرائع

Mafātīḥ al-sharā'i'.

A Shī'aḥ treatise on the various branches of the fiqh, tracing the individual laws to their origin in the Qur'ān and ḥadīth. It was composed in 1042/1632–3 by Muḥammad b. Murtaḍā, known as Muḥsin Kāshānī (d. 1090/1680 or soon after; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 3024; Browne IV, p. 432), as a commentary upon his own epitome of furū', Mu'taṣam al-Shī'aḥ fī aḥkām al-sharī'aḥ.

كتاب الوافى

Kitāb al-wāfī.

The third and fourth parts of a treatise on Shī'aḥ furū', tracing the authority for the individual laws in the Qur'ān and ḥadīth as quoted in the "Four Books" of the Shī'aḥ (for which see Browne IV 359), here represented by the initials كا, يب, يه and ش respectively. The author is Muḥammad b. Murtaḍā, known as Muḥsin Kāshānī (d. 1090/1680 or soon after; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 3228 and Browne IV 432).

Beginning (of present portion):

الحمد لله والصلوة والسلام على رسول الله... كتاب الطهارة والتزيّن وهو من اجزآء كتاب الوافى الخ

The work comprises the following kitābs:

Fol. 1*b*	Ṭahāraḥ (part IV)
Fol. 75	Ṣalāḥ (part V)

Each is divided into numerous bābs.

End:

الا هذه الآية الا الى الله تصير الامور كا اخر ابواب القران وفضايله وبتمامها' تم كتاب الصلوة الخ

No other copies appear to be noted.

الرسالة فى شكّيات الصلوة

al-Risālaḥ fī shakkiyāt al-ṣalāḥ.

(Or simply R. fī 'l-shakkiyāt.)

A short treatise dealing with the matters which give rise to error and doubt in the ritual of worship, by Muḥammad b. Murtaḍā, known as Muḥsin Kāshānī (d. 1090/1680 or soon afterwards; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 3228 and Browne IV 432).

Beginning:

الحمد لله على جزيل نواله والصلوة على محمد وآله وبعد لما كان الشك والسهو والنسيان الخ

The work comprises five ضوابط as follows:

(1) من زاد ركعة الخ — Fol. 363*b*

(2) من شك فى شئ الخ — Fol. 363*b*

(3) من شك فى عدد الثنائية الخ — Fol. 363*b*

(4) من تكلم سهوًا الخ — Fol. 363*b*

(5) لا شك للمامومين مع حفظ الامام الخ — Fol. 364*a*

End:

فانه يزجر الشيطان ويطرده انشاء الله تعالى والحمد لله الخ

Foll. 32; 10½ × 6¾ in.; ll. 17; good clear naskhī; rubrications; 19th century; copyist, Amīr Mirzā. [DELHI 534*a*]

Supplementary comments (Ḥawāsh[in]) by 'Alī ibn Muḥammad ibn Ḥasan ibn Zain al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (d. 1103/1691–2; cf. Raudāt al-jannāt, p. 411) upon the Sharḥ al-Lum'aḥ written by himself. The author in his preface says that while he was engaged on the latter work (for which see Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1921), he came upon a number of exegetical notes reporting discussions held by his grandfather with a certain Khalīfaḥ Sulṭān, who criticised various defects and inaccuracies in his grandfather's commentary on the Lum'aḥ. These notes, says the author, he incorporated in his Sharḥ, but they covered only the second volume of the Lum'aḥ and the latter part of the first. The present notes are intended to remedy this defect. The passages of the Lum'aḥ are introduced by قوله and are overlined red.

Beginning:

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين والصلوة على اشرف خلقه محمّد وآله الطاهرين وبعد الخ

The chapter-headings marked are numerous and cover the subjects usual in works on furū'.

End:

انتهى ما رايته من الايجاب المذكورة من جوابها فينظر الناظر فيها بعين البصيرة وليتناولها بيد غير قصيرة ولينظر الى ما قيل لا الى من قال والمعصوم من عصمه الله الخ

No other copy seems to be noted.
Not noted in I'jāz Ḥusain.

1837

Foll. 445; 10⅞ × 6⅞ in.; ll. 17; naskhī; rubrications; passages of original text overlined red; some marginal comments; 19th century; copyist, Amīr Mīrzā. [DELHI 677]

[?] حاشية على شرح اللمعة

[?] Ḥashiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Lum'aḥ.

Part of a supercommentary, composed from materials left by his father, by 'Alī b. Muḥammad b. Ḥasan (Ibn Zain al-Dīn al-Shaḥīd al-Thānī) in 1075/1664 upon a manual of Shī'aḥ fiqh. The work appears to be the حاشية شرح اللمعة referred to in no. 1836. This, according to the author, did not deal with first part of the original text. The present work begins with the kitāb al-jihād.

Beginning:

كتاب الجهاد قوله لدعائهم الخ اى لطلب الاسلام منهم وارادته الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله. The numerous kitābs of the work, ending with al-diyāt, are those of an ordinary treatise upon furū'.

End:

قوله وهو مشكل على اطلاقه التعرض فى هذه او نحوه للاشكال من حيث ضعف الرّواية فلا يتوهم خلاف ذلك' هذه صورة خطه ادام الله تائيده'

Author's colophon:

انتهى ما اسهله اللّه تع' من هذا التعليق مع تشويش الفكر...بقلم مؤلفه الفقير...على بن محمّد بن الحسن بن مصنفه...

No other copies appear to be noted.
Not noted in I'jāz Ḥusain.

1838

Foll. 132, beginning defective; $11\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 21; nasta'līq; rubrications; some folios damaged by insects; script frequently difficult of decipherment through the transparency of the paper; date 1256/1840. [DELHI 533]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Shaikh Ja'far fī Sharḥ al-lum'aḥ.]

(The title on the fly-leaf is inaccurate.)

Part of a supercommentary by Shaikh Ja'far, a 12th/18th-century qāḍī of Iṣfahān, on Zain al-Dīn ibn 'Alī al-Shahīd al-Thānī's Sharḥ al-lum'aḥ.

Beginning (as here extant):

...التى لا تدل على ازيد من تعلق الظرف بالعامل فاذن معنى التلبس يفهم من العامل المحذوف الخ

The following chapter-headings are indicated:

Fol. 57*a* كتاب الزكوة	Fol. 67*b* كتاب الصوم
Fol. 75*a* كتاب الحج	Fol. 98*b* كتاب الوقف

End:

وتعلق حد الماسك يفيد عدم كونه ملكا لاحد وتعلق حق الملك يفيد جميع آثاره فلا يد من جعل الملك مشروطا باحد الامرين والكلام بعد موضع نظر'

Foll. 34–455; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; small clear naskhī; rubrications; occasional comments in the margins; 19th century; copyist, Amīr Mirzā. [DELHI 534*b*]

الزهرات الذويّة [sic] فى الروضة البهيّة

al-Zahrāt al-dhawīyaḥ fī al-Rauḍaḥ al-bahīyaḥ.

The first volume of a supplement (ta'līq), composed in 1074/1663, by 'Alī ibn Muḥammad ibn Ḥasan ibn Zain al-Dīn al-'Āmilī (d. 1103/1691–2; cf. Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 411), to a commentary by his grandfather on Zain al-Dīn al-'Āmilī's work Rauḍaḥ al-bahīyaḥ. 'Alī was also the author of a commentary called الزاهرات الرويّة on the work of his great-grandfather Zain al-Dīn, for which commentary see Bankipore XIX (ii), no. 1921.

Beginning:

الحمد للّه الذى نور روضة الدين البهيّة الزاهرة واوضح مسالك الشرايع السنيّة الباهرة والصلوة على سيدنا الخ

The following kitābs are comprised in the work:

Fol. 64*a* الطهارة	Fol. 199*a* الصلوة
Fol. 338*a* الزكوة	Fol. 373*a* الخمس
Fol. 382*b* الصوم	Fol. 404*b* الحج

End:

تفصيل وسائل الشيعة الى تحصيل مسائل الشريعة

Tafṣīl wasā'il al-Shī'aḥ ilā taḥṣīl masā'il al-sharī'aḥ.

The first part of a compilation of Shī'aḥ furū' and the sources—including the ḥadīths in the "Four Books" and elsewhere—from which they derive, by Muḥammad b. Ḥasan al-Ḥurr al-'Āmilī (al-Mashaghrī; d. 1099/1688; cf. Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 543; Khulāsaḥ al-athar III 432, where the date is given as 1079, in error; Brockelmann II 412). The work was completed in 1082/1671. In the preface the author quotes the names of over seventy works to which he has referred.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى فطر العقول على معرفته ووهبها العلم بوجوب وجوده الخ

The present portion of the work comprises only the muqaddamaḥ and the kitāb al-ṣalāḥ divided into a large number of bābs arranged in groups.

End:

[Risālaḥ fī Bayān al-khalal al-wāqi' fī 'l-ṣalāḥ.]

A tractate on the flaws and points of doubt which render worship ineffectual. Title and author's name are both lacking.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الّذى فطر السّموات والارض فاستوتا ولو كان فيهما آلهة الا الله الخ

The work is divided into two qisms (each with numerous subdivisions) as follows:

فى السّهو	Fol. 486*b*
فى الشك	Fol. 489*b*

End:

العفو عما طغى به القلم وزلت به القدم انّه ولى القدرة ومقيل العثرة' والحمد للّه الخ

No other copies appear to be noted.
Not noted in I'jāz Ḥusain.

1847

Foll. 143*a*–155; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 27; small neat naskhī; passages of original text overlined; some injury from damp and insects; 18th century. [DELHI 604*b*]

Part of a commentary upon a work on Shī'aḥ furū'. Neither title nor author's name appears.

Beginning:

كتاب العِشرة: العشرة بالكسر الصحبه والخلطه من المعاشرة وهى المصاحبه والمخالطة قوله عليكم بالصلوه فى المساجد جماعة وفرادى والمراد بالصّلوه الفريضة الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله.

End:

الوجيز الرائق

al-Wajīz al-rā'iq.

A tractate dealing with the more obscure and doubtful points in the ritual of lustration and worship, by Ḥusain b. Dildār 'Alī (al-Naṣīrābādī; d. 1271/1854; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, Introduction, p. 5; Būhār II, p. 254). The present copy is uncompleted and, according to I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 3379, the author left his work so.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الّذى انزل من السّمآء طهُورًا وشرع لعباده صنوفا من الطاعات الخ

The work was planned to comprise a number of maqṣads, each with a muqaddamaḥ and several bābs, etc. Of these only the following occur here:

Fol. 2*a* مقصد I فى الطهارة

Fol. 2*b* باب (1) فى احكام المياه الخ

Fol. 52*a* باب (2) فى الطهارة الشرعية

End:

Foll. 160; $10\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; rubrications; 19th century. [DELHI 610]

The kitāb al-ṭahāraḥ of an anonymous work on Shī'aḥ furū'. A note on the fly-leaf states it is part of the شرح الكبير, which is the title of a commentary by Saiyid 'Alī al-Ṭabāṭabā'ī on the Mukhtaṣar al-nāfi', itself a commentary on the Sharā'i' al-Islām. The present work, however, appears to be an independent composition of comparatively recent date.

Beginning:

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين وصلّى الله على سيدنا ونبيّنا محمد واله الطاهرين' كتاب الطهارة الخ

Four arkān are comprised in the work, as follows:

(1) فى المياه — Fol. 1*b*

(2) غسل الحيض — Fol. 56*b*

(3) فى الطهارة — Fol. 119*b*

(4) فى احكامه — Fol. 129*a*

End:

واوجبها جماعة كما عن الصدوق والاسكافى والطوسى...والمحقق الشيخ على عملا بظاهر الموثق ولا باس به والحمد لله' تمت حق حمده والصلوة على من لا نبى بعد الخ

كفّ الرعاع عن محرّمات اللهو والسماع

Kaff al-ra'ā' 'an muḥarramāt al-lahw wa'l-samā'.

A polemic against games and music, by Aḥmad b. Muḥammad, Shihāb al-Dīn ibn Ḥajar al-Haitamī al-Shāfi'ī (d. 973/1565; cf. Brit. Mus. Suppl. p. 117*b*; Brockelmann II 387). The work was suggested (and begun) in 958/1551 as a reply to the فرح الاسماع of the Egyptian al-Tūnisī al-Mālikī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى حظر مواطن اللهو على عباده وخلص من ريبه وشبهه الخ

As planned, the work was to consist of a muqaddamaḥ, two bābs and a khātimaḥ, of which only the khātimaḥ is here indicated.

Fol. 34*a* فى ذم المعارف والمزامير والاوتار الخ

السيف الماسح

al-Saif al-māsiḥ.

A Shī'aḥ polemical treatise in which the author, Muḥammad ibn Dildār 'Alī (d. after 1228/1813; cf. I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 2107 and Introduction, p. 4) attacks the position assumed by 'Abd al-'Azīz (tutor to one of the Mogul emperors of Delhi) in his Fatḥ al-'azīz in opposition to the great Shī'aḥ leader Bahā' al-Dīn al-'Āmilī. The work deals with the ritual (and symbolical) washing of feet and wiping of foot-gear.

Beginning:

الحمد للّهِ الّذى شرّفنا بمسح أيدِى الإفحام على وُجُوْهِ المَرَدَةِ اللِيام' ووَفّقَنَا لِغَسْلِ شُكوكِ عبدة الاصنام الخ

Passages from the text of the Fatḥ al-'azīz are introduced by قوله. The work is not divided into chapters.

End:

العجب كل العجب ان لا يكون القول بخطائهم افتراء والقول بعصمتهم افتراء وناهيك فى جوابه قوله تع' لعنه الله على الكاذبين'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

عُمدة الحُكّام

'Umdaḥ al-ḥukkām.

Three faṣls of a work, presumably for the use of judges, dealing with legal oaths. The author's name is lacking, but he may perhaps be identified with Najm al-Dīn Ibrahīm b. 'Alī al-Ṭarsūsī (d. 758/1357; cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 258) who wrote a work of the same name. The present work appears not to form part of the 'Umdaḥ al-ḥukkām written on the same subject by Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad al-Timurtāshī (d. 1004/1595) which is fully described in Berlin 4802, the sources quoted being mainly older.

Beginning:

الفصل . . . فيما يجرى فيه الاستحلاف وما لا يجرى فيه . . . ادعت امراة على رجل النكاح الخ

The following faṣls are also comprised here:

Fol. 6*a* (3) فى النكول والاباء عن اليمين

Fol. 9*b* (2) فى بركة السر والعلانية واهلية المزكى

Fol. 12*b* (3) فى كيفية الجرح

End:

الفقه الاكبر

al-Fiqh al-akbar.

A brief exposition of the principles of Islamic belief and practice, attributed to Abū Ḥanīfaḥ Nu'mān b. Thābit al-Kūfī, founder of the Ḥanafī madhhab (d. 150/767 or 153/770; cf. Ibn Khallikān, Cairo 1310, II 163; Brockelmann I 169 and Suppl.). This version of the creed does not correspond exactly with any given by A. J. Wensinck, The Muslim Creed, Cambridge 1932, but is closest to the Fiqh Akbar I (Chapter VI).

Beginning:

الحمد لله ربّ العالمين والصلوة على رسوله . . . هذا الكتاب الفقه الاكبر مما صنفه امام المسلمين سراج الايمة ابو حنيفة الخ

The various points discussed, introduced by قال or قوله or مسئلة, are as follows:

Fol. 7*b* لا يكفّر احد بذنب الخ
Fol. 8*a* واعلم ان ما اصابك لم يكن ليخطئك الخ
Fol. 9*a* ينبغى ان لا يشك فى ايمانه الخ
Fol. 9*b* ينبغى ان لا يخالف الجماعة
Fol. 9*b* اعلم ان الصلوة جائزة الخ
Fol. 10*a* ينبغى ان تشهدوا للعشرة من اصحاب الخ
Fol. 10*b* ينبغى ان يعلم ان الذى كتب فى المصاحف هو القران
Fol. 11*a* ينبغى ان تعلم ان التوفيق مع الفعل الخ
Fol. 11*a* اعلم ان الايمان على الجارحتين الخ
Fol. 11*b* فى تفسير قوله تع' الخ

End:

فنفذ قضاءه والتغير للمقتضى عليه لا للقضاء'

مختصر الحكمة النبويّة

Mukhtaṣar al-ḥikmaḥ al-nabawīyaḥ.

A commentary, by an anonymous author, on the 'aqīdaḥ known as al-Fiqh al-akbar attributed to Abū Ḥanīfaḥ. The author states that his work is an epitome of an earlier one entitled al-Ḥikmaḥ al-nabawīyaḥ. The text—apart from the commentary—corresponds to the Fiqh Akbar II in The Muslim Creed, by A. J. Wensinck, Cambridge, 1932, pp. 188 ff. According to Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1324, the author of the commentary is a certain Ḥakīm Isḥāq (d. 1099/1688).

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على محمد سيد المرسلين...اما بعد فلما رايت مسائل الكتاب الكلامية التى منها يتعلم الناس العقايد الدينية الخ

End (as here extant):

فكيف يجوز ان يقال لمن يجتنب المعاصى قبل النبوت [sic] والمعاصى وبعض المباحات بعدها بانه ارتكب كبيرة او صغيره...

التمهيد فى بيان التوحيد

al-Tamhīd fī bayān al-tauḥīd.

A treatise on the principles of Sunnī kalām, together with polemical replies to the opposing arguments of the philosophers, the Mu'tazilaḥ and others, by Muḥammad Abū Shukūr al-Sālimī, who flourished in the 5/11th century, as may be gathered from internal evidence (cf. Loth 384; Brockelmann I 419). There is some uncertainty about his father's name and his nisbaḥ. In the present MS (fol. 23*b*) he is called 'Abd al-Rashīd al-(?)Kashshī; Loth 384 (following Ḥ. Kh. v 153) calls him 'Abd al-Saiyid Kashshī (or Kissī), while in Ashraf Ali (As. Soc. Bengal), p. 24, he is called 'Abd Allāh.

Beginning:

الحمد لله ذى المن والاحسان والعظمة والكبرياء والجود والعطا والبهجة والبهاء الخ

A list of contents is provided in two foll. prefixed to the work, which is divided into eleven bābs (only the last being numbered here) each with numerous sections headed القول فى.

End:

فان هذا تحويل وانتقال والتحويل والانتقال حدث وما يقبل الحدث فهو محدث ومخلوق'

المعارف العقلّية ولباب الحكمة الالهّية

al-Ma'ārif al-'aqlīyaḥ wa-lubāb al-ḥikmaḥ al-ilāhīyaḥ.

A treatise dealing with various aspects of that special quality—namely, speech and the power to give utterance to thought verbally or in writing—wherein man differs from the rest of creation. The author is Abū Ḥāmid Muḥammad b. Muḥammad al-Ghazzālī (d. 505/1111; cf. Ibn Khallikān, Cairo 1310, 1 463; Brockelmann 1 419 and Suppl.). A special point is made in the preface of the difference between نطق (the power to give utterance to thought) and كلام (speech); the description in Ḥ. Kh. v 609 and Brockelmann (loc. cit.) should be altered accordingly.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى عقل العقل بمشيته عن الاشارة الي بداية ابنيته وحجب الحسّ عن ملاحظة بعد حمي من حضرته الخ

The work comprises the following parts:

Fol. 33*a*	الباب الاوّل فى النطق وما يتعلق به
Fol. 35*b*	الباب الثانى فى الكلام والمتكلم
Fol. 37*a*	الباب الثالث فى القول
Fol. 38*b*	الباب الرابع فى الكتابة
Fol. 40*a*	الباب الخامس فى الغرض المطلوب

Each of these is divided into two or more faṣls.

End:

اعيذك بالله وآمرك بتقوى الله فأعرف وألزم وانعم واكرم واحسن فان الله [?] مع الذين اتقوا والذين هم محسنون والسلام عليك ورحمة الله وبركاته ولنختم هذه الرسالة بهذه الوصيّة ان سا الله تعالى

المضنون الصغير

al-Maḍnūn al-ṣaghīr.

(Also called al-Ajwibaḥ al-Ghazzāliyaḥ fī 'l-masā'il al-ukhrawīyaḥ.)

Dialogues on the nature of the soul, the Resurrection and the Last Judgment, the life after death and similar topics, attributed to Abū Ḥāmid Muḥammad b. Muḥammad al-Ghazzālī (d. 505/1111; cf. Ibn Khallikān, Cairo 1310, 1 463; Brockelmann 1 419 and Suppl.). Another and larger work on the same subjects attributed to the author is the Maḍnūn bihi 'alā ghayr ahlihi, by which title the present work also is sometimes designated.

Beginning:

اطباق الذهب

Aṭbāq al-dhahab.

A collection of homilies and religious aphorisms after the model of Zamakhsharī's Aṭwāq al-dhahab, by Sharaf al-Dīn 'Abd al-Mu'min b. Hibaḥ Allāh al-Iṣfahārī, known as Shufurwah—incorrectly given sometimes as Shaqrūh (fl. c. 600/1203; cf. Brockelmann I 292 and Suppl.). The work is dedicated to Aḥmad b. Maḥmūd al-Naḥwī.

Beginning:

اللهم انا نحمدك على ما اسبلت من جلابيب كرمك وسبلت من شابيب تكرمك الخ

The preface states that the work, like that of Zamakhsharī, contains 100 maqālāt.

End:

يربح فى مضربه حجا مبرورا وينقلب الى اهلِهِ مسرورًا'

كتاب المعارف فى شرح الصحائف

Kitāb al-Ma'ārif fī sharḥ al-Ṣaḥā'if.

A commentary on his own treatise of Sunnī dogmatic theology, the Ṣaḥā'if al-ilāhīyaḥ, by Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad b. Ashraf al-Ḥusainī al-Samarqandī (fl. in the 7/13th century; cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 207, where it is stated that he died about the year 600/1203, and Brockelmann I 468, where he is said to have been alive about 690/1291; see also the Suppl. ad loc.). The author's name does not appear in the text.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى ليس لوجوده بداية ولا لجوده نهاية الخ

According to the commentary, the original text comprised two maqṣads, subdivided into ṣaḥīfaḥs and faṣls. Quotations from the original, given in very abbreviated form, are introduced by قال and the comments by اقول.

End:

وافادة الحراره وهذه فى خلاصة سبيل السلوك وزبدة اصول الطريق

حاشية الخيالى على شرح عقائد النسفى

Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī 'alā sharḥ 'Aqā'id al-Nasafī.

Glosses to Taftāzānī's commentary upon the 'Aqā'id of Nasafī, by Aḥmad b. Mūsā al-Khayālī (d. 862/1458 or later; cf. Loth 390: Ḥ. Kh. IV 220, Brockelmann I 427[1] give date as 860/1456, Rāmpūr, p. 292 as 870/1465–6, Shadharāt al-dhahab VII 344 as 886/1481). The work is known for its terseness and has itself been the subject of numerous commentaries. It was dedicated to Maḥmūd Pāshā, vizier of the Ottoman Sulṭān Muḥammad II (855/1451–886/1481).

Beginning:

اما بعد الحمد لمستاهله والصلوة على سيد رسله واله وصحابه موضحى سُبُله ايّها السارى ليلًا الخ

The passages of Taftāzānī's work are introduced by قوله.

End:

يظهر ان هذا التوهمه ايضا يفسد بعصلهم فقط وان الفصل بيد الله يوتيه من يشاء والله ذو الفصل العظيم

[حاشية السيالكوتى على حاشية الخيالى]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Annotations by 'Abd al-Ḥakīm b. Shams al-Dīn Siyālkūṭī to Khayālī's glosses on the commentary by Sa'd al-Dīn Taftāzānī upon the 'Aqā'id of Nasafī. The author is said to have died in 1067/1657 (cf. Tadhkirah-i 'ulamā-i Hind, p. 111; Ḥ. Kh. IV 225 gives the date as after 1060/1650; see Brockelmann I 427, II 417).

Beginning:

الحمد لله على نعمايه والصلوة على سيد الانبياء وعلى اله واصحابه واحبايه النحرير فى الصحاح النحرير العالم الخ

The passages of Khayālī's work are introduced by قوله (after the middle of the work in the present copy).

End:

الى عامه البشر اعنى اتقياء المومنين فبهم الدليل على عمومه' وهذا نهاية ما اردت ايراده مسعانا بملك الوهاب وعليه التكلان فى كل باب الحمد لله الخ

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Another copy of the same work.

Beginning:

الحمد لله على نعمايه الخ

1930

Foll. 169, beginning defective, lacunae after 21, 52 and 56; $8 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 19; cursive but legible naskhī; injured by damp and insects; date 1089/1678. [DELHI 807]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Another copy, imperfect, of the glosses by 'Abd al-Ḥakīm Siyālkūṭī, apparently of the version beginning:

الحمد لله على نعمائه الخ

1931

Foll. 1–68, uncompleted; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; inelegant cursive nasta'līq; 19th century. [DELHI 942*a*]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Another copy of the same annotations.

1932

Foll. 100—the original pagination points to over 122 of which 1–7, 12–26 and 33 are now lacking; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 34; small cramped naskhī; rubrications; 18th century. [DELHI 431]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Part of the same annotations. The flyleaf calls the work a ḥāshiyaḥ by Mullā 'Abd al-Ḥakīm on the Talwīḥ, but a note on the last folio to the effect that it contains annotations by Sālikūṭī to the glosses by Khayālī on the 'Aqā'id of Taftāzānī (for which read "Nasafī") is to be preferred.

Beginning (of the first complete section):

قوله ففى هذا القرينة ترق آه تفريع على ما سبق يعنى اذا كان المراد بالقواعد الكتاب والسنة الخ

1933

Foll. 286; $11\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 15; careless nasta'līq; date, 1237/1821–2 (16th year of the reign of Akbar Shāh II). [DELHI 805]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Siyālkūṭī 'alā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.]

Another version of 'Abd al-Ḥakīm Siyālkūṭī's annotations to Khayālī's glosses (see previous entries). The work is dedicated to Sulṭān Shāhjahān.

Beginning:

يا من تقدس ذاته عن احاطه الافكار وبه نزهت صفاته عن ادراك الانظار الخ

End:

لا يخفى عليك ان المنع الذى ذكره نسخه فى عامه الملك بالنسر الى عامه البشر اعنى ايضا المومنين فمم [sic] الدليل على عمومه، هذا نهايه ما اردت ايراده الخ

For other copies see Loth 397–8; Manchester 80; Bankipore x 510.
Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1934

Foll. 124; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; cursive naskhī with most diacritic points missing; copious comments on margins and inset leaves; first fol. damaged in binding; 18th century. [DELHI 808]

Baḥr al-afkār.

Glosses on Khayālī's supercommentary to Taftāzānī's commentary on the 'Aqā'id of Nasafī, by Ḥasan b. Ḥusain b. Muḥammad. According to Ḥ. Kh. IV 223, the author was a mudarris at Miṣr and composed the work for Ayās Pāshā. Sulaimān I's grand vizier of that name died in 946/1539 (cf. Zambaur, p. 162; Brockelmann Suppl. I 759). (A note on fol. 1*a* erroneously calls the work Ḥāshiyaḥ Chelebī.)

Beginning:

الحمد لمختار دل على ايجاب ذاته قدم الصفات والسكر الخ

The passages of Khayālī's text are introduced by قوله.

End:

نعلم ان الدلايل المذكوره لا تبعد القطع والتعين واللايق فى امثال ذلك المقام التوفيق وعدم الاجتراء بترجيح احد الطرفين فان الفضل بيد الله يوتيه من يشاء والله ذو الفضل العظيم،

Annotations to 'Abd al-Ḥakīm b. Shams al-Dīn Siyālkūṭī's glosses on the 'Aqā'id of Nasafī, by 'Abd Allāh [? "Bā labīb"].

Beginning:

باسمك اللهم ربى ابتداء وبنور قدسك فى امورى اهتدى الخ

The passages quoted from al-Siyālkūṭī are introduced by قوله.

End (as here extant):

وهى المسماة عندهم بالعناية الازلية وفيه ما اشرنا اليه بقوله والقول بان...

No other copy appears to be recorded.
Not in Ḥ. Kh.

1936

Foll. 25–40, end defective; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 6$ in.; ll. 21; nīm-shikastah; 18th century. [DELHI 815*b*]

Annotations to Muḥammad b. Sharaf al-Dīn Muḥammad Mullā-zādah's Ḥāshiyaḥ upon the 'Aqā'id of Nasafī, by Ḥabīb Allāh Shīrāzī (b. Muḥammad Khān (?); cf. Rāmpūr, p. 307), known as Mīrzā Jān (Bāghinauī) Shīrāzī (d. 994/1586; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 202; Rauḍāt al-jannāt, pp. 205–6; Brockelmann II 414).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل حمده عن مصاقع فصحاء نوع الانسان ودل بافصاح اعلى البلاغة فى اياته الخ

The passages of the Ḥāshiyaḥ Mullā-zādah are introduced by قوله and the annotations by اقول.

End (as here extant):

اولين فى كلام الشرح على تقدير جعل المعطوف عليه هو...ما يشعر بتقدير الضمير فى المعطوف...

No other copies appear to be recorded.
Not in Ḥ. Kh.

1937

Foll. 74; $7\frac{5}{8} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; cursive and unpointed naskhī; worm-eaten; date, 1067/1657; copyist, Murtaḍā b. ʿAbd al-Ḥalīm. [DELHI 809]

حاشية احمد جند على شرح العقائد

Ḥāshiyaḥ Aḥmad Jand ʿalā sharḥ al-ʿAqā'id.

Glosses attributed to Aḥmad Jand (or Jandī, who may be the Sharaf al-Dīn Aḥmad b. ʿUmar Jandī[1] mentioned by Ḥ. Kh. VI 305) on Taftāzānī's commentary on the ʿAqā'id of Nasafī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله اردف التسمية بالتحميد لان القول لا يتم ولا يعتد به شرعا ما لم تبدأ بها الخ

End:

وبالحملة حذف الضمير اولى بكلها تم كلامه ولعل هذا اشاره الى ترجيح وجه الثانى

For another copy see Loth 399 (1). Not noted in Ḥ. Kh.

1938

Foll. 101; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 6$ in.; ll. 17; careless Indian naskhī; 19th century. [DELHI 861]

حواشٍ على حاشية الخيالى

Ḥawāsh[in] ʿalā Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Khayālī.

A collection of annotations from various sources upon Khayālī's glosses on the ʿAqā'id of Nasafī. The author's name does not appear in the text, but a note at the head indicates that the sources were Qarah Kamāl, Qul Aḥmad (for whom see Ḥ. Kh. IV 222 f.) and others, including, apparently, Muḥammad Karīm Allāh. The characteristics of Qarah Kamāl's glosses, as noted by Ḥ. Kh., are not apparent here.

[1] Aḥmad b. ʿAbd Allāh, known as Ibn al-Jandī (d. 793/1391), is mentioned in Durar al-kāminaḥ I 190.

Beginning:

هذه حواشى [sic] متعدده على الخيالى قوله بالتسميه فان قيل ان الابتداء بالتسمية ليس ابتداء اسم الله الخ

The passages of Khayālī's text are introduced by قوله.

End:

الا ان يكون من التتمه سابق او فايده وعمد السامعى بحب الصمان بالليل اقلا

No other copy appears to be recorded.

1939

Foll. 58, ends defective; $7\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 25; cursive naskhī, largely unpointed; scattered marginal comments; 18th century. [DELHI 810]

Glosses on a work of kalām. A note at the top of the first page extant reads حاسه سرح عقايد ملا سعد الدين, stating that the work contains glosses on Sa'd al-Dīn Taftāzānī's commentary on the ʿAqā'id of Nasafī. There appears to be no reason for doubting this identification. Neither title nor author's name appears in the present text.

Beginning (as here extant):

قوله الا انه مركب حواب عما يقال انه لو كان صفه للحكم نصح ان يشتق منه صفة الخ

End (as here extant):

قال صاحب المواقف انه لا حجة على ثبوت امر سوى الاضافة التى بها يصير العالم عالمًا والمعلوم معلوما...

1940

Foll. 465, ends defective, numerous lacunae marked by blank foll.; $9\frac{7}{8} \times 5$ in.; ll. 25 and 27; small neat naskhī in two different hands; rubrications; worm-eaten; 15th century. [DELHI 898]

شرح المقاصد

Sharḥ al-Maqāṣid.

A commentary by Sa'd al-Dīn Mas'ūd b. 'Umar al-Taftāzānī (d. 791/1389 or 792/1390; cf. no. 1909 supra for references) on his own treatise on kalām, مقاصد الطالبين فى علم الكلام. The work was completed at Samarqand in 784/1382.

Beginning (of first complete section):

قال ولا نزاع فى اشتراكه اقول لفظ العلم يقال فى الاصطلاح على معان الخ

The work comprises six maqṣads (each with numerous subdivisions), of which the following only are marked in the present copy:

Fol. 312*a* المقصد الخامس فى الالٰهيات

Fol. 392*a* المقصد السادس فى السمعيات

The passages of the text and commentary are introduced by قال and اقول respectively.

End (last complete section here extant, fol. 464*b*):

قال خاتمة اقول مما يلحق بباب الامامة بحث خروج المهدى ونزول عيسى الخ

For other copies see Loth 461; Brit. Mus. Hand-list, p. 9; Bankipore x 560; Rāmpūr, p. 311; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1314. Printed Constantinople 1277/1860–1, 1305/1888.

Fol. 52*b* المبحث الخامس يريد انه مبعوث الى الثقلين الخ

Fol. 54*a* المبحث السادس فى عصمه الانبياء الخ

Fol. 58*a* خاتمه فى شروط النبوة

Most quotations from the original text are introduced by قوله.

End:

ولا مجال والمشتكي الى عالم الغيب والشهادة الكبير المتعال'

1942

Foll. 2–42, beginning defective (fol. 1 appears to be part of another work); $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 19; Indian naskhī; rubrications; copyist, Luṭf Allāh; date, 27 Ṣafar, 1184/1770. [DELHI 1739]

دقائق الاخبار

Daqā'iq al-akhbār.

An essay depicting the Resurrection, from the Qur'ān and ḥadīth, by an author unnamed who has been assumed to be Ḥamzaḥ b. Yūsuf b. Khalīfaḥ (fl. c. 800/1397; cf. Berlin 2778).

Beginning (fol. 2*a*):

...هاربةً وقد تناثرت عليهم النجوم وكسفت الشمس وخسفت القمر الخ

The work comprises a series of unnumbered abwāb.

End:

ثم يصير طعامهم وشرابهم ريحًا كريح المسك والكافور ونظيره فى الدنيا الولد فى بطن الام لا

يبول ولا يعوظ [sic]' اللهم ارزقنا منه بحرمت [sic] النبي... الحمد لله الخ

1943

Foll. 176; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; cursive and inelegant nasta'līq; 18th century. [DELHI 901]

شرح مواقف الايجى

Sharḥ Mawāqif al-Ījī.

A commentary (mamzūj) on the first two Mawāqif of al-Ījī, by an author unnamed in the text but known to be 'Alī b. Muḥammad al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī (d. 816/1413; cf. Ḥabīb al-siyar III, iii, 89; Brockelmann II 216; Bankipore V (ii), p. 86 f.). A note on the fly-leaf wrongly attributes the work to Muḥammad Karīm Allāh. It was dedicated to Jalāl al-Dīn Iskandar—whose name is coupled with that of Ghiyāth al-Dīn Muḥammad, grandson of Tīmūr—and completed at Samarqand in 807/1405 (cf. colophon of no. 1944).

Beginning:

سبحان من تقدست سبحات جماله عن سمت الحدوث والزوال الخ

End:

على اصل ما سد اعرصا عن تواصلها والله الموفق' الموقف الثالث والاعراض وفيه مقدمه ومراصد خمسة والمقدمه...

For other copies see Loth 438–45; Rāmpūr, p. 312; Bankipore X 535–6; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1314; Paris 2393–5, 6370; Berlin 1801–2; Leyden 1548–50. Printed Constantinople 1239/1824 and 1839, etc.; Lucknow 1294/1877; Cairo 1261/1845. The last two Mawāqif were edited by Th. Soerensen under the title of Statio Vta et VIta et Appendix libri Mevakif, etc., Leipzig, 1848.

Ḥ. Kh. VI 236.

1944

Foll. 495, beginning defective, some foll. misplaced after 28 and 40; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 25; small, cursive but clear naskhī except in the first part, which is written in a small cramped and untidy hand; rubrications; copious marginal comments; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 902]

Sharḥ Mawāqif al-Ījī.

Another copy, complete except for the first fol., of al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī's commentary on the Mawāqif. Each mauqaf of the six is divided into marṣads, each marṣad being subdivided into maqṣads. (A full list of the divisions is given in Berlin 1801.)

The mawāqif after the first occur here as follows:

Fol. 52*b*	(II) فى الامور العامه
Fol. 134*a*	(III) فى الاعراض
Fol. 265*a*	(IV) فى الجواهر
Fol. 358*a*	(V) فى الالهيّات
Fol. 420*a*	(VI) فى السمعيات

Colophon:

وقد وقع الفراغ من تاليفه يوم السبت اوائل سوال سنه سبع وثمانماية بمحروسة سمرقند حسنها الله ونعم الوكيل نعم المولى ونعم النصر وصلى الله الخ

1945

Foll. 88–184; $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 16; cursive naskhī; copious marginal comments on earlier foll.; 17th century. [DELHI 937*b*]

Sharḥ Mawāqif al-Ījī.

A copy of the same commentary on the first only of the mawāqif.

1946

Foll. 155–160; $7\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; small cramped nīm-shikastah; quotations from original text overlined; 18th century. [DELHI 951*c*]

تحقيق فى اثبات الواجب لذاته

Taḥqīq fī iṯhbāt al-wājib li-ḏhātihi.

Comments on the fourth maslak of al-Ījī's Mawāqif—that which deals with the nature of God. The author is Muḥammad b. Ḥusain, known as Fakhr al-Dīn al-Hasanī, who composed the work at Sabzawār in 953/1546 and states that his aim is to correct certain errors to be found in al-Ījī.

Beginning:

يا واجب الوجود ويا مفيض الخير والجود نور قلوبنا بشوارق عرفانك الخ

End:

لا يخفى على العطى فنفطن ولنختم الكلام مستغنيا بالملك العلام فى الابتداء والاختتام مصليا على النبى عليه السلام الخ

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

1947

Foll. 59–115; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 24; nīm-shikastah; scattered marginal comments; 18th century. [DELHI 941 b]

حاشية على شرح المواقف

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā sharḥ al-Mawāqif.

Glosses by Ḥabīb Allāh, known as Mīrzā Jān Shīrāzī (d. 994/1586; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 202; Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 205 f.; Brockelmann II 414), on parts of al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī's commentary on the Mawāqif of al-Ījī.

Beginning:

قوله فعلى هذا اه اما الاولان فلان الظا المتبادر من قولهم ما لا يختص بقسم ان يكون مختصا بالمقسم الخ

Passages from the commentary (generally in an abbreviated form) are introduced by قوله.

End:

عدم المانع علة وموقوفا عليه للمعلول وجعله داخلا فى الشرط نجعله اعم نحقيقة الحال والمقام واليه المرجع والمآب'

For other copies see Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1302. Ḥ. Kh. VI 241.

1948

Foll. 187; $9 \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 11; clear nasta'līq; rubrications; marginal or interlinear comments on most foll.; 18th century. [DELHI 827]

حاشية مير زاهد على المواقف

Ḥāshiyaḥ Mīr Zāhid 'alā al-Mawāqif.

Annotations to glosses on a work of kalām. A note on fol. 1*a* says it is a ḥāshiyaḥ upon the امور العامة, i.e. the second mauqaf, of al-Ījī's Mawāqif. The names of the authors of the annotations, glosses, etc. do not appear.

Beginning:

قال الس' رح اي الشاملة للمجرد والحادى ومقابلاتها اقول نحتمل ان يكون مقابلاتها معطوفه على قوله الشامله الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قال المص' رح', those of the commentary by قال الس' رح' and those of the glosses by قوله قدس سره, the annotator's own remarks being introduced by اقول.

The first passage headed قال المصنف (fol. 4*a*) is as follows:

ولما صح انقسامه الى الواجب والممكن وانقسام الممكن الى اقسامه حتى تثبت الاشتراك الخ

End:

ولو كان كذلك يلزم ان لا يمكن للعقل الحكم على زيادة غير متناه معدوم على غير متناه آخر معدوم مجرد وجودهما فى العقل فيلزم ان لا يقدر العقل على تعقلهما...

Colophon:

هذا ما تيسر لى فى الامكان [?] المتعلقه لمباحث الامور العامه الخ

رسالة فى تعريف علم الكلام

Risālaḥ fī ta'rīf 'ilm al-kalām.

A treatise dealing with definitions in kalām, suggested by reading al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī's commentary on the Mawāqif of al-Ījī. The author's name does not appear in the text, but a note on fol. 121*a* indicates that he is Muḥammad b. As'ad Jalāl al-Dīn al-Dauwānī (d. 907/1501; cf. Ḥabīb al-siyar III, iv, 111; Brockelmann II 217). The work was completed in 904/1498.

Beginning:

يا من وقف فى حواشى مواقف جلالة عقول الاجلة الاعلام الخ

The following sections are marked:

Fol. 123*a* البحث الثانى انه نبّه بصفة الاقتدار الخ

Fol. 126*b* البحث الثالث انه اختار الخ

البحث الرابع ان المتبادر من الباء فى قوله الخ Fol. 131*a*

End:

مبداءها فان الامى متهيو [sic] للكتابة لكنه ليس قادرا عليها'

No other copy appears to be recorded (but cf. Brockelmann Suppl. II, p. 348 (43)). Ḥ. Kh. VI 240.

1968

Foll. 124*a*–126*a*; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 27; nasta'līq; worm-eaten; date, 10 Rabī' II, 1134/1722. [DELHI 895*c*]

[فوائد فى الكلام]

[Fawā'id fī 'l-kalām.]

Observations on points of theological doctrine—mainly in connection with al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī's commentary on the Mawāqif of al-Ījī—by Ḥabīb Allāh, known as Mīrzā Jān Shīrāzī (d. 994/1586; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 202; Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 205 f.; Brockelmann II 414). The author, whose name appears in the colophon only, composed the work in the governor's fortress at Balkh and dedicated it to the Mongol commander Qul Bābā Guniltāsh.

Beginning:

نحمدك يا من فضّل مداد العلماء على دماء الشهداء...وها انا اشرع فى المقصود فاقول قال فى

المواقف وشرحه الشايع اى من تعريفات العلم وهو المختار من تعريفاته الخ

End:

لكنه خلاف ما اشتهر منه قدس سره وممن تبعه كثيرا فتبدر'

[الحاشيّة الجلاليّة]

[al-Ḥāshiyaḥ al-Jalālīyaḥ.]

A ḥāshiyaḥ on a work dealing with kalām. The title, which appears in the colophon only, seems to indicate that Jalāl al-Dīn al-Dauwānī (d. 907/1501) is the author. (The original work is probably Baiḍāwī's Ṭawāliʻ al-anwār; cf. Brockelmann, Suppl. I, p. 742.)

Beginning:

قال شيخنا وسيدنا سيد المحققين قدس سره وقد دل بلا فى التعريف والتخصيص على اختصاص الجنس الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله, those of the intermediate commentator by قال الش'.

End:

ويكون العلم الخارج من التقسيم بعينه العلم المعرف اوّلا . . . ولا يلزم شى في الاقسام'

[? For other copies see Rāmpūr, p. 436.]

1995

Foll. 128, ends defective; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 12 and 17; careful naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 14th century. [DELHI 962]

[كتاب المناهج]

[Kitāb al-Manāhij.]

Part of a treatise on kalām with some argument against heretical doctrines. Title and author's name are both lacking, but a note at the end says that the work is the كتاب المناهج فى علم الكلام. It may be one of the two works by al-ʻAllāmaḥ al-Ḥillī mentioned by Iʻjāz Ḥusain 3142–3.

Beginning (as here extant):

. . . المنتجبين وسلم تسليما اما بعد فان الله تعالى لما خصنا بمعرفته والهمنا رشده وتوفيقه فى توحيده الخ

The work comprises a large number of sections, the earlier ones being:

واول منهج من تلك المناهج منهج علم النظر الخ — Fol. 3*b*

المنهج الثانى فى بيان شرائط النظر — Fol. 4*b*

المنهج الثالث فى حد العلم واقسامه — Fol. 7*a*

المنهج الرابع فى اصطلاح المتكلمين — Fol. 10*a*

المنهج الخامس فى حدث العالم — Fol. 11*a*

المنهج السادس فى الردّ على الطبابعين — Fol. 15*a*

المنهج السابع فى الردّ على المنجمين — Fol. 18*a*

المنهج الثامن فى الردّ على الثنوية — Fol. 19*b*

المنهج التاسع فى اقسام الموجودات — Fol. 20*b*

المنهج العاشر فى بيان استحالة حوادث لا اوّل لها — Fol. 22*b*

المنهج الحادى عشر فى اثبات قدم البارى الخ — Fol. 23*b*

End (as here extant):

وقال الاستاد ابو اسحق كل واحد من العشرة وساير اهل العلم من الصحابة ومن يتعمم على السداد والاستفاضة لم يفسق احد بشى فيما صاروا اليه بالتاويل والاجتهاد...

No other copy is recorded of a work with the title given above.

الرسالة القديمة فى اثبات الواجب

al-Risālaḥ al-qadīmaḥ fī iṯhbāt al-wājib.

A treatise on the necessary existence of God, by Jalāl al-Dīn Muḥammad b. As'ad al-Dauwānī al-Ṣiddīqī (d. 907/1501; cf. Ḥabīb al-siyar III, iv, 111; Rieu, Persian Catalogue II, 442*b*; Brockelmann II, 217. According, however, to Shadharāt al-dhahab VIII, 160, he died in 928/1522). He declares that he wrote it in two of the shorter days of summer. This is the first of two treatises the author wrote on the subject and it is known therefore as القديمة, while the second is called الرسالة الجديدة. The note on fol. 63*a* that this is the treatise المشتهرة بالاجد is therefore erroneous.

Beginning:

سبحانك سبحانك ما اعظم شانك واظهر برهانك انت الشاهد فى العين الخ

The work is divided into maqṣads (subdivided into ṭarīqs) corresponding to the two maslaks which the subject comprises:

(1) يتوقف على ابطال الدور الخ Fol. 64*b*

(2) يدل على اثبات الواجب Fol. 75*a*

End:

لكن هداية ربه يحق الحق بفضله وبطل الباطل بعدله بيده الحسنى والمه الرجعى والصلوه على سده وآله'

1997

Foll. 1–96, end defective (? lacuna after fol. 87); $6\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; cursive ta'līq, with few diacritic points; rubrications; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 1842*a*]

كشف الحقائق المحمّديّة

Kashf al-Ḥaqā'iq al-Muḥammadīyaḥ.

A commentary (mamzūj) on Ṣadr al-Dīn in Muḥammad al-Shīrāzī's treatise on the nature of God (al-Ḥaqā'iq al-Muḥammadīyaḥ, for which see Ḥ. Kh. III 78), by Ghiyāth al-Dīn Manṣūr [b. Muḥammad] al-Ḥusainī al-Shīrāzī (d. 949/1542; cf. Brockelmann II 414 and Suppl. II, p. 307, in which latter place it is implied the original work is itself a commentary on Dauwānī's Risālaḥ fī iṯhbāt al-wājib al-qadīmaḥ).

Beginning:

نسالك كشف الحقايق والاطلاع على بدايع الاسرار والدقايق ارنا لنيل النجاة والشفا الخ

According to the commentary the original work comprised twelve faṣls and a khātimaḥ. Of these only the first five faṣls are contained here. After fol. 87 a number of maṭlabs are marked. The extant faṣls are:

الفصل الاول فى انيته تعالى Fol. 9*b*

الفصل الثانى فى توحيده تعالى Fol. 23*b*

الفصل الثالث فى ان واجب الوجود لا يقبل القسمة الى اجزائه اصلا Fol. 44*b*

الفصل الرابع فى ان واجب الوجود هل يجوز له صفة زايدة ام لا Fol. 55*a*

الفصل الخامس فى علمه تع' Fol. 56*a*

End (as here extant):

مذكور فى كتب الامام الرازى وغيره من المتاخرين ذلك الامر ينهى الي لشخص [sic] لا يكون له باهية كلية والا لم يحصل الجزئى الحمع فان ضم الكلى الى الكلي لا يفيد الجزئية...

Glosses, attributed to Qāḍī-zādah Karhardarī (? Garharūdī; cf. Brockelmann, Suppl. II, p. 307) upon Dauwānī's Risālaḥ al-qadīmaḥ fī ithbāt al-wājib.

Beginning:

قوله اذ كل ممكن فله علة اه قيل اعلم ان المقدمه المذكورة انما تتم لو ثبت انه لا يجوز ان يكون وجود ممكن الخ

Passages of the text of Dauwānī are introduced by قوله.

End:

فيكون ترجيح احد الوجودين على الآخر ترجيحا من غير مرجح واما تساوى الوجود والعدم فليس مقصوده بل عدم التساوى ينفعه فافهم'

[رسالة التوحيد المختار]

[Risālaḥ al-Tawḥīd al-mukhtār (sic)].

A tract on the rivalry between Hell and Paradise. Neither title nor author's name appears in the work, but a note on the fly-leaf declares it to be that above-named, by Ibrahīm b. al-Ḥasan al-Kūrānī (d. 1101/1690; cf. for references Brockelmann II 385 and Suppl.).

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين و صلى الله على سيدنا محمد نبى الرحمة وشفيع الامة الخ

End:

وان دفع الاخراج من حيث لا يشعر عند الانزواء ذلك تقدير العزيز الحكيم رب الارض والسماء وبالله التوفيق الخ

No other copies appear to be noted. [A Ṣūfī work المسلك المختار by the above author is noted in Rāmpūr, p. 365, no. 305.]

2015

Foll. 20, 21; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 23; closely written naskhī; worm-eaten; 19th century. [DELHI 710*c*]

[رسالة الصعود الى صحة القول لوحدة الوجود]

[Risālāḥ al-Su'ūd ilā ṣiḥḥaḥ al-qaul li-waḥdaḥ al-wujūd.][1]

A refutation of the suggestion made to the author in 1078/1667–8, by a Ṣūfī from a distant Eastern island (? Java), that Muḥammad possessed the qualities of divinity attributed by the Christians to Jesus. Neither title nor author's name appears in the work itself, but a note on the fly-leaf declares the work to have the title mentioned above and that the author was Ibrahīm b. Ḥasan al-Kūrānī (cf. no. 2014 supra). This appears to be correct.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الاصل الصمد الذى لم يلد ولم يولد الخ

End:

وعد الله لا مخلف الله وعده الله جواد كريم سبحان ربك رب العزة عما يصفون والسلام على المرسلين والحمد الخ

Author's colophon:

قال المولف تم تسويده يوم الخميس ١٤ جمادى الاخرة سنه ١٠٧٨ ...

No other copies appear to be noted.

[1] Another work by the author with a similar title is recorded in Brit. Museum Suppl. 245 (III), Brockelmann, Suppl. II, pp. 520–1.

2016

Foll. 25, 26; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 23; naskhī; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 710*e*]

[جلاء النظر فى بقاء التنزيه]

[Jalā' al-naẓar fī baqā' al-tanzīh.]

On the question whether God will reveal himself at the Resurrection. The fly-leaf states that the tract has the above title and that the author is Ibrahīm b. Ḥasan al-Kūrānī al-Madanī (d. 1101/1690; cf. no. 2014 supra).

Beginning:

الحمد لله السبوح القدوس فى براية معيته فليس كمثله الخ

End:

الجواب ان مقتضى الحال ثقه الكسوف وبالله التوفيق ذى الملك والملكوت' هذا ما تيسر ابرازه بحسب الوقت الخ

2020

Foll. 168, ends defective; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; very small but well-written naskhī; parts worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 1191]

A ḥāshiyaḥ upon a work of kalām seemingly by 'Abd Allāh b. 'Umar al-Baiḍāwī. The name of the author of the ḥāshiyaḥ does not appear. He dedicated his work to Muḥammad Mu'aẓẓam Shāh 'Ālam [? Jalāl al-Dīn, 1173/1759–1221/1806].

Beginning (as here extant):

برهان المدققين القاضى ناصر الدين عبد الله البيضاوى احسن الله جزاه ورضى الله عنه وارضاه قد اعتنى لحل دقايقه الخ

The passages of the commentary are introduced by قوله, and of the hāshiyaḥ frequently by ح. The earlier quotations from the commentary are ليكون...نذيرا...باقصر سورة...مصاقع الخطباء...

End (as here extant):

حاصله انه جعل الاحياء بين بمنزله احياء واحد فعبر عنه بلفظ واحد لا ان المراد اثنين والتعبير عنهما بلفظ واحد حتى يرد انه لا يصح...

Foll. 140; $9\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 19; coarse nasta'līq; rubrications; copious marginal comments; 19th century. [DELHI 966]

منهج الرشاد لنجاة المعاد

Manhaj al-rashād li-najāḥ al-ma'ād.

An edifying compilation containing chapters on theology, religious history, morality, eschatology and connected subjects, by Muḥammad Shujā' b. Mu'izz al-Dīn al-Isḥāqī al-Ūshī al-Baghdādī, who was born at Lakhnau and was later an inhabitant of Shāhpūr. The work was completed in 1181/1768.

Beginning:

سبحان من دل ذاته بذاته على ذاته وتنزه عن مجانسة الخ

The following main divisions are contained in the work:

Fol. 5*a*	المقالة الاولى فى مسائل المبداء الخ
Fol. 88*b*	المقالة الثانية فى احوال المعاد
Fol. 104*b*	المقالة الثالثة فى النكت واللطايف

The last chapter contains a number of anecdotes in Persian.

End:

Foll. 106*b* (middle)–156, fol. 131 blank; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 15; cursive naskhī in two different hands; rubrications; scattered marginal and interlinear comments; 19th century. [DELHI 1175*h*]

A treatise on theology, being the first part of a work which was intended to contain another part on natural philosophy. The author, whose name does not appear, declares that he was induced by friends to supplement a previous work on Logic (called Risālaḥ al-'Ain) by the present one. The work referred to may be 'Ain al-naẓar fī 'l-manṭiq, in which case the author would be Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad b. Ashraf al-Ḥusainī (fl. 7/13th century; cf. Ḥ. Kh. I 207; Brockelmann I 468). The present work, however, though resembling the Kitāb al-Ṣaḥā'if in content neither begins as Ḥ. Kh. IV 98 indicates nor is divided in the same way.

Beginning:

سبحانك اللهم يا واجب الوجود ويا مفيض الخير والجود الخ

The present portion of the work comprises the following maqālāt each divided into a number of sections headed baḥth.

Fol. 107*b*	[المقالة] الاولى فى الامور العامة
Fol. 123*a*	المقالة الثانية فى العلل والمعلولات
Fol. 128*a*	المقالة الثالثة فى احكام الجوهر والاعراض
Fol. 150*b*	المقالة الرابعة فى اثبات واجب الوجود الخ
Fol. 153*b*	المقالة الخامسة فى احكام النفس الناطقة

End:

ويحتمل ان نجد بها تلك البيات الى لتعلق [sic] ببدن آخر حيوانى ولا يمكن الجزم بشىء من هذه الامور ولكن هذا اخر ما نورده فى العلم الالٰهى و نتلوه [sic] القسم الثانى من الحكمة وهو الطبيعيات' والحمد لله على الاتمام والصلوة على سيد البركات الخ

Foll. 26, ends defective; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; cursive naskhī; rubrications; margins ruled; scattered marginal comments; passages of original text overlined; 18th century. [DELHI 900]

A commentary on a work of kalām. Titles and names of authors are lacking, although a note on the fly-leaf suggests (without justification) that this is a portion of a commentary on the Mawāqif.

Beginning (as here extant):

...قدمين مع اسناد احدهما الى الآخر ويمتنع استناده اى متناع استناده الى الفاعل المختار انفاقا منهما ايضا الخ

Amongst the headings of sections are the following:

Fol. 6*b*	المقصد السادس فى ابحاث الحدوث
Fol. 11*a*	المقصد الرابع فى الوحدة والكثرة
Fol. 13*a*	المقصد الثانى قد اختلف فى وجودهما الخ
Fol. 13*b*	المقصد الثالث فى الوحدة والكثره الخ
Fol. 16*a*	المقصد الرابع مراتب الاعداد الخ
Fol. 17*a*	المقصد الخامس فى اقسام الواحد
Fol. 19*a*	المقصد السادس الوحود الخ
Fol. 19*a*	المقصد السابع الاثنان هما الغيران الخ
Fol. 22*a*	المقصد الثامن الاثنان لا يتحدان الخ
Fol. 23*a*	المقصد التاسع الاثنان عند اهل الحق الخ

End (as here extant):

بان كل مشركين فى الحدوث مماثلان اى فى الحدوث وعلته اى وعلى ما ذكر من اطلاق المتماثلين...

(The margins contain a Ṣūfī tractate in Persian.)

2024

Foll. 1–387, end defective, lacunae after foll. 1, 239 and 386; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6$ in.; ll. 23; inelegant naskhī followed by a more regular hand; quotations from the original text in red; 18th century, with the first fol. added later. [DELHI 903]

شرح جوهرة التوحيد

Sharḥ Jauharaḥ al-tauḥīd.

A commentary (mamzūj) on the versified tractate on Mālikī kalām known as Jauharaḥ al-kalām or Jauharaḥ al-tauḥīd. Notes on the title-page and fol. 1*a* ascribe the original work, without due justification, to the Imām Ghazzalī. The name of the author of the present commentary is not mentioned.

Beginning:

ان اولى ما تنافست فيه الصدر والسطور وتباسمت به من اناص السر ونفور الزهور حمد لله الخ

End (as here extant):

وهو باطل بل الحق فى العادة المفيدة لذلك انه... امتناع خلق الله الخارق على يد الكاذب...

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not noted in H. Kh.

[رسالة فى تحقيق معنى الوجود]

[Risālaḥ fī taḥqīq ma'nā al-wujūd.]

A treatise on the nature of the existence of God and the duty of the believer, by Muḥammad Shamsā al-Jīlānī.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعلنا بتصحيح اعتقاداتنا فى اصول الديانات وفروعها من اهل الشفاء والنجاة الخ

End (as here extant):

المحقق الدوانى فى الرسالة التى الفها فى افعال العباد بقوله بل الوجه فى دفع الشبهة ان الممكنات لما لم تكن فى انفسها موجودة فانما وجودها مستفادة...

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not in Ḥ. Kh.

Foll. 100—lacking the beginning and end and some foll. from the middle; $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5$ in.; ll. 23; angular nasta'līq; 18th century. [DELHI 430]

Part of an unidentified supercommentary on a work of kalām (cf. the reference, fol. 22*a*, to the ḥawāshin composed by the Saiyid, i.e. al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī, for the Mawāqif of 'Aḍud al-Dīn al-Ījī). There is a note on the first leaf which says that the work is a ḥāshiyaḥ on the Talwīḥ, by Maulawī Bāb Allāh, but that identification is erroneous, for the Talwīḥ is a treatise on Uṣūl.

The first complete section begins:

اقول يمكن ان يجاب آه قيل ان لا قضا على القبيح الخ

No divisions are marked.

End (as here extant):

وليس المراد انه اعط [sic] الجزيه من حيث انه جاء به النبى [..?] والاتيان بها من هذه المشية يستلزم الاستقاد بالنبوة الخ

كتاب مجمع البحرين فى توفيق كلام الفريقين

Kitāb Majma' al-baḥrain fī taufīq kalām al-farīqain.

A tractate endeavouring to reconcile two views on the ontology of God—those namely of Abū 'l-Ḥasan al-Ash'arī, who held that being was the essence of quiddity in God, and of Ghazzālī and others, who held that God's quiddity in itself constituted the reality of His existence. The author is Mīr Māh al-Ḥusainī al-Madanī.

Beginning:

الحمد لمن هو الحامد والمحمود بنفسه لا غير ولا سواه اذ لا موثّق فى الوجود الا الله الخ

End:

وعلى سايرِ الانبياء والمرسلين وعلى اهل طاعتك اجمعين من اهل السموات واهل الارضين الى قيام الساعة يوم الدين يا رحمن الدنيا والاخرة ورضى الله عنها بالله الخ

A commentary on a work of kalām. Titles and authors' names are lacking in the present copy, which is defective.

Beginning (of first complete paragraph):

اصل واجب الوجود قادر عالم بتفاصيل القبايح وترك الواجبات ومستغنٍ عن فعل القبايح الخ

After an introduction the commentator begins (fol. 5*a*):

قال قدس الله سره بعد ذكر الخطبه وهى موضوعه على اربعه فصول الخ

The work is divided as follows:

Fol. 25*a*	الفصل الاول فى التوحيد
Fol. 41*b*	الفصل الثانى فى العدل
Fol. 52*a*	الفصل الثالث فى النبوه والامامه
Fol. 61*b*	الفصل الرابع فى المعاد

These parts are subdivided into aṣls and other sections, the passages of text and commentary being introduced by قال and اقول respectively.

End (of text, fol. 70*a*):

وشاهد هذا الحكم فى بنيته يجب عليه ان يعرف الحالق فى خلقه...

End of commentary:

[رسالة فى الشرك]

[Risālaḥ fī 'l-Shirk.]

A tractate on the sin of polytheism (heresy), by an author whose name does not appear.

Beginning:

الحمد لله والصلوة على نبيه محمد وآله و صحبه اجمعين فصل اما الشرك فهو نوعان اكبر واصغر والاكبر لا يغفر الله الخ

End:

وان هلك بهما فسبيل من هلك ولا شيء على الهالكين'

2038

Foll. 11*a*–15*a*; $7\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; inelegant but legible naskhī; 14th century. [DELHI 1857*b*]

A discussion of the question whether he who performs virtuous acts for their own sake or for the pleasure he derives therefrom, and not for the sake of God, shall receive blame or reward for his conduct. The tractate appears to form part of a larger work, of which neither the name nor the author's name appears.

Beginning:

فَصْل فيما اذا كان في العَبد محبه لما هو خير و حق ومحمود نفسه فهو يفعله لما فيه من المحبّه له لا للّه الخ

End:

فيكون من اهل الصالح في الاخره والشقى من لم يتبع الدين ويعمل العمل الذى جآت به الشريعه فهذا هَذا والله اعلم

2039

Foll. 15*b*–19; $7\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; inelegant naskhī; 14th century. [DELHI 1857*c*]

An essay dealing with inspiration and describing the grades of prophets and other men of genius according as their inspiration was "pure" or was mixed with "reason" or the perception of the senses. There is added a question on the pre-existence of the world. The author's name does not appear. The essay itself seems to be addressed to a prince, who is, however, unnamed.

Beginning:

الي المولي السيّد السلطان الملك المويّد ايّده الله بتكميل القوتين النظريّة والعلميّه حتى يبلغه اعلى مراتب السَعَادَة الخ

End:

والله تعالى يجمع له خير الدنيا والاخِرة والسلام عليكم ورحمه الله وبركاته وعلى سآير من يحيط به العِنايه الكريمه

2040

Foll. 1*b*–7*a*; $8\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$ in.; ll. 19; nasta'līq; rubrications; scattered marginal comments; slightly worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 685*a*]

A tract, in the form of a series of questions and answers, purporting to be—according to a gloss in the margin of fol. 1*b*—by Abū 'l-'Ālim al-(?) Ṣughār and Abū Ḥanīfaḥ respectively, although one question is addressed to Abū 'l-Qāsim al-Ḥakīm al-Samarqandī. Islamic (Ḥanafī) doctrine is the subject of most. Title and author's name are both lacking.

Beginning:

قال الشيخ الامام العالم الزاهد الصغار رضى الله تعالى عنه اعلم ان الايمان بالله تع وبرسوله...على المكلف واجب الخ

Amongst other subjects dealt with are the following:

الروافض	Fol. 1*a*
عمن قال الله عالم بذاته	Fol. 2*a*

كشف الشبهات [من التوحيد]

Kashf al-shubuhāt [min al-Tauḥīd.]

An exposé of Wahhābī doctrines on the unity of God and other principles by Muḥammad b. 'Abd al-Wahhāb (d. 1206/1791; cf. Brockelmann II 390 and Suppl.; Bankipore x, p. 83). This appears to be an abstract only of the work, for the British Museum MS by the same author on the same subject (Brit. Mus. 1262 (2)) is a much larger work in four books. For another, and apparently different, abstract, cf. the following no.

Beginning:

الحمد لله والصلوة...قال الشيخ رحمة [sic] الله اعلم رحمك الله ان التوحيد هو افراد الله الخ

End:

والجهل او البعض للدين او محبة الشرك وانما سببه ان فى ذلك حظًّا من حظوط الدنيا وآثر على الدين والله اعلم الخ

كتاب التوحيد

Kitāb al-tauḥīd.

A treatise on the unity of God. The author is not mentioned in the work, but he is Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Wahhāb al-Najdī (d. 1206/1791; cf. Brockelmann II 390 and Suppl.; Bankipore x, p. 83), founder of the Wahhābī sect.

Beginning:

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم الذى هو حق الله على العبيد وقول الله تعالى ما خلقتُ الجن والانس الا ليعبدون وقول الله تعالى لقد بعثنا فى كل امه رسولا الخ

End:

وانه كان ينبغى ان يكون كذا وكذا فتقل [?] ومستكثر وفبتس [sic] نفسك هل انت ناح فان ينج تنج من ذى عظيمة'

A summary statement of the Wahhābī creed (abbreviation of the Kitāb al-Tauḥīd), prefaced by a brief historical introduction, by 'Abd Allāh b. Muḥammad b. 'Abd al-Wahhāb, who wrote it in (?) 1221/1806.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوٰة والسلام على نبينا محمد الامين...وبعد فانا معاشر غَزْو الموحدين لما من الله علينا وله الحمد بدخول مكة المشرَّفة نصف النهار يوم السبت ثامن شهر المحرم الحرام سنه ١٢١٨ الخ

The actual text of the 'aqīdaḥ begins on fol. 5*a* as follows:

اعلم رحمك الله ان الحنيفة ملة ابراهيم ان يعبد الله مخلصا وبذالك امر الله جميع الناس وخلقهم له الخ

End:

ولا نستعين ونستنصر ونتوكل فى جميع امورنا الا على الله تعالى فهو حسبنا ونعم الوكيل نعم المولى ونعم النصير'

Author's colophon:

اكمال الدين واتمام النعمة

Ikmāl al-dīn wa-itmām al-ni'maḥ.

(Also called كتاب الغيبة; see the colophon, fol. 149*b*.)

A work dealing with the reasons for the long occultation (غيبة) of al-Qā'im Ṣāḥib al-Zamān, i.e. the twelfth Imām (cf. Browne IV 394), by Abū Jā'far Muḥammad b. 'Alī b. Ḥusain b. Mūsā Ibn Bābūyah al-Qummī (cf. no. 2054). The author states the work was undertaken in consequence of the misbelief which he found prevalent at Nīshāpūr and after a vision in which he had beheld the Imām himself.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الواحد الاحد الفرد الصّمد الحى القادر
العليم العّلى [sic] العظيم الخ

The work comprises a number of bābs containing arguments, illustrations and traditions which prove the necessity both for the existence of the Imām and for his occultation, together with replies to Zaidīs and others who have pretensions of their own. Some of the headings of the work are as follows:

Fol. 58*b* باب غيبة ادريس
Fol. 89*b* العلّة التى من اجلها يحتاج الى الامام الخ
Fol. 94*a* اتّصال الوصيّة من لدن آدم الخ
نصّ الله على القائم وانه الثانى عشر من الائمّة
Fol. 110*b*
Fol. 128*b* خبر النبى...من وقوع الغيبة بالقائم الخ
Fol. 139*b* ذكر النصّ على القائم فى اللوح
Fol. 210*b* علة الغيبة
Fol. 231*a* حديث الدجال

End:

وقال عزّ وجلّ كبر مقتا عند الله وعند الّذين
امنوا كذلك يطبع الله على كلّ قلب متكبّر جبّار'

املاء الكلام فی تنزيه الانبياء والآئمة [عليهم السلام]

Imlāʼ al-kalām fī tanzīh al-anbiyāʼ wa ʼl-āʼimmaḥ [ʻalaihim al-salām].

A Shīʻaḥ theological treatise dealing with the question whether prophets and Imāms are capable of being tainted by sin like other mortals. The views of various bodies of Muslim opinion are quoted as well as those of the Shī'aḥ and the argument proceeds by means of question and answer illustrated by quotations from such poets as Kuthaiyir, Khansā', Makhzūmī, al-Akhṭal and others.

The author is 'Alam al-Hudā Saiyid al-Murtaḍā 'Alī b. Ḥusain b. Mūsā (d. 436/1044; cf. Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 384; I'jāz Ḥusain, no. 714; Qiṣaṣ al-'ulamā', no. 98).

Beginning:

الحمد لله كما هو اهله ومستحقه وصلى الله على خيرته من خلقه الخ

Question and answer are introduced by مسئلة and الجواب respectively.

End:

وقد اوردنا منه الكثير فى كتابنا فى الأمامة ولعلّنا ان نستقصى الكلام فيه ونأتى على العلّة لم يوردة فى كتاب الأمامه فى موضع يفرده له ان احّر الله تعالى فى المدّة ويفضل بالتأييد والمعونة فهو المسئول والمامول لكل فضل وخير قربًا من ثوابه وباعدا من عقابه'

شرح تجريد العقائد

Sharḥ Tajrīd al-'aqā'id.

A commentary on Naṣīr al-Dīn Ṭūsī's manual of (Shī'aḥ) theology, the Tajrīd al-'aqā'id, by Badral-Dīn Muḥammad b. As'ad al-Yamanī al-Tustarī (d. soon after 730/1330; cf. Durar al-kāminaḥ III 383 f.; Brockelmann I 432). The original work is here designated تجريد الاعتقاد.

Beginning:

للهِ مبدع المجردات وصانع الكماليات واهب العقل والحيوة هـ... اهل الحق الى سبيل النجاة الخ

The commentary follows the order of the original with regard to the six maqāṣid which it comprises and which occur as follows:

Fol. 114*a*	(1) فى الامور العامه
Fol. 142*b*	(2) [فى الجواهر والاعراض]
Fol. 187*b*	(3) [فى اثبات الصانع]
Fol. 199*a*	(4) [فى النبوة]
Fol. 202*a*	(5) فى الامامة
Fol. 213*b*	(6) فى المعاد

The passages of the original text are as a rule quoted without introduction, although occasionally the word قوله is prefixed.

End (last complete section here extant):

الامر بالمعروف هو المنع من فعل المعاصى او القول الدال عليه او كرهه الخ

No other copy appears to be recorded. Not in Ḥ. Kh. or I'jāz Ḥusain.

2070

Foll. 234, with 56–89 misplaced; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ll. 22–24; naskhī in more than one hand (foll. 1–40 a late addition in nīm-shikastah); scattered marginal comments; date (of last portion), 1107/1695–6. [DELHI 789]

حاشية على شرح التجريد

Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Sharḥ al-Tajrīd.

(Also called Ḥāshiyaḥ 'alā Tasdīd al-qawā'id; a note on fol. 41*a* calls it Umm al-ḥawāshī.)

Glosses on Shams al-Dīn Maḥmūd al-Iṣfahānī's commentary on the Tajrīd al-qawā'id of Naṣīr al-Dīn Ṭūsī, by 'Alī b. Muḥammad al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī (d. 816/1413; cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 195; Ḥabīb al-siyar III, iii, 89; Brockelmann II 216). The work deals with the philosophical bases of theology and was at one time in popular use as an independent treatise on the subject.

Beginning:

اما بعد حمد واجب الوجود على نعمائه خص بالذكر من صفاته العلى ما هو اخص به تعالى اعنى الوجوب الذاتى لانطوائه على سايرها الخ

The passages of the original text are as a rule introduced by قوله.

End:

احتاجت الى ان يتاثر المتاثر بقبول تلك الصفة فتكون هناك متاثرية اخرى وهكذا ويلزم التاثر' الحمد لله على وصول الكلام الى هذا المقام وبه الاستعانه الخ

الحاشية القديمة الجلالية

al-Ḥāshiyaḥ al-qadīmaḥ al-Jalālīyaḥ.

Glosses to Qūshjī's commentary on the Tajrīd of Naṣīr al-Dīn Ṭūsī, by Jalāl al-Dīn Muḥammad b. As'ad al-Dauwānī (d. 907/1501; cf. Ḥabīb al-siyar III, iv, 111; Rieu, Persian Catalogue II 442*b*; Brockelmann II 217. According to Shadharāt al-dhahab VIII 160, however, he died in 928). It is the first of three ḥāshiyaḥs which he wrote on the work (cf. Ḥ. Kh. II 200 f.).

Beginning:

قوله فى الحاشية قيل لم يرد به معيّنا الخ اقول مراده بالزيادة فى الجملة الزيادة بوجه مّا وذلك ليس معنى الخ

The passages of Qūshjī's text and the glosses are introduced by قوله and اقول respectively.

End:

اعنى افناء المتحلل لرطب وابقاء اليابس ثم استدل عليه بنمط آخر واطال الكلام فيه'

For other copies see Loth 417–20; Brit. Mus. Suppl. 184; As. Soc. Bengal (Ashraf Ali), p. 25; Rāmpūr, p. 293; Āṣafīyaḥ, p. 1300; Bankipore x 603–4; Berlin 1757–9.

الحاشية الجديدة الجلاليّة

al-Ḥāshiyaḥ al-jadīdaḥ al-Jalālīyaḥ.

(Also called Sharḥ al-jadīd li'l-Tajrīd.)
The second of the three ḥāshiyaḥs written by Muḥammad b. As'ad al-Dauwānī (cf. no. 2074 supra) on Qūshjī's commentary on the Tajrīd. The present one was written in reply to an attempt by his rival Mīr Ṣadr al-Dīn Muḥammad Shīrāzī to compose a better ḥāshiyaḥ than Dauwānī's first.

Beginning:

ولا حول ولا قوة الا بالله العلى العظيم اهدنا الصراط المستقيم...وبعد وانا قد كتبنا فى سالف الزمان حواشى الجديد للتجريد الخ

The passages quoted from Mīr Ṣadr al-Dīn's work are introduced by قوله and the criticisms by اقول, not always inserted in the present copy.

End:

اراد انّه لا يكون واحدا من جنس الى هنا وصل الحواشى فلنختم بها والحمد لله اولا وآخرا الخ

[حاشية خواجة كمال الدين]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ Khawājaḥ Kamāl al-Dīn.]

Annotations ascribed to Khawājaḥ Kamāl al-Dīn Ḥusain Lāhūrī to Dauwānī's Qadīmaḥ on the "new" commentary (i.e. Qūshjī's) on the Tajrīd. A note on fol. 1*a* reads:

الجزء الاول من حاشية خواجه كمال الدين حسين لاهورى على حاشية القديم [sic] للعلامة الدوانى على الشرح الجديد للتجريد فى علم الكلام'

Beginning:

فى الحاشية اعنى من اتصف من محبوبه بزيادة الكرم فى الجمله اراد بالزيادة فى الجمله بالرياده على ما بعض ما عداه الذى هو المضاف اليه الخ

End:

يندفع به ما ذهب اليه الش' وهى كلامه ههنا عليه والله اعلم' فلا حلل فى كلام العابل قدس سره الشريف وفيه تامل ذكر وجهه فى التعليقة'

[حاشية شمس الدين الخضرى]

[Ḥāshiyaḥ Shams al-Dīn al-Khiḍrī.]

Glosses by Shams al-Dīn Muḥammad b. Aḥmad al-Khiḍrī to the Ilāhiyāt (the third portion) in Qūshjī's commentary on the Tajrīd. The date of the author's death is unknown, but he completed one of his works in 932/1525–6 (cf. Loth 747, where he is called الحَفرى. So also in Ḥ. Kh. II 269. The statement in the latter that he was a pupil of Sa'd al-Dīn, i.e. Taftāzānī, who died in 791/1389, is incompatible with the preceding).

Beginning:

[الحمد] لله رب العالمين والصلوه والسلام على سيد المرسلين واله الطاهرين فيقول الفقير الى الله الغنى محمد بى احمد الحصرى هذه تعليقات اتفقت منى على شرح الآهيات التجريد الخ

End:

فلا يكون واجب الوجود الاّ الف واذا كان بسبب ما صار الف كان واجب الوجود لغيره'

Foll. 177, ends defective; $9\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 25; small naskhī, points frequently omitted; worm-eaten; 17th century. [DELHI 848]

A ḥāshiyaḥ on a work of kalām, probably that by Nūr Allāh b. Sharīf al-Ḥusainī al-Shūshtarī (d. 1019/1610; cf. no. 2085 supra) on Qūshjī's commentary on the Tajrīd—the maqṣad dealing with al-ma'ād, eschatology, (see the references to الامور العامه, fol. 3*b*, مقصد الثانى معرفة احوال الجوهر and quotation of Persian words and phrases, fol. 94*b*).

Beginning (as here extant):

المتكلمين والحكما كذلك الاخر بالمعنى المذكور منحصر فيه من حيث انه عامه لاتحاد كل موجَد اذ هو يفعل لذاته لا لعرض كما بين فى موضعه فهو الاول والاخر من حيث انه الفاعل والعاده جمعا واراد بالمعاد معاد الانسان الخ

There are frequent phrases such as قلت فى الحواشى referring to other work by the author. Spaces are left for a word (? قوله) introducing passages of the text to be annotated, which are themselves given in abbreviated form. A typical passage (fol. 4*a*, line 18) reads:

قلنا قد حور السند المحقق قدس سره والشارح بعض الاحتمالات التى يكون بناء عليها العدم المطلق عارضا لهما كما فصلناه فى الحواشى الخ

End (as here extant):

علي اصطلاح الخاص الذى لم نسمه اذ لولم اريد بالعروض ما يشمل الصفات الاعتبارية التى نحكم..

No other copies seem to be recorded.

رسالة ابى حازم

Risālaḥ Abī Ḥāzim.

A tractate on the creed of Islam in the form of a dialogue between Abū Ḥāzim (c. 95/713) and a member of the Prophet's family whom he encounters. At the end it appears that the man is no other than 'Alī b. Ḥusain, grandson of the caliph 'Alī, although in another version he is represented as Khiḍr.

Beginning:

قال حدثنا مُحَمدَ بنَ [sic] عَبْد الْمَلِكَ [sic] عن عَاصِمِ بْنَ [sic] ابىْ حازم قال بَيْنَما انَا سَايِرٌ على سَاحِلَ [sic] البحر إذْ لقينى رَجُلٌ مِنْ اَهْلِ بَيْتِ رَسُول آللّٰهِ الخ

The words of Abū Ḥāzim and his interlocutor are introduced by قلت and قال respectively.

End:

قلت يَا مَوْلَاى مَنْ انْت الذى منَ اللّٰهَ [sic] عَلَيّ بِك قَالَ انَا عَلِيٌّ بنَ الحسيْن عَلَيْهُمَا [sic] الْسَلام والحَمْد للّٰهِ وَحْدَه‘

A brief anonymous manual on the Shī'aḥ theological doctrines.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة...اعلم ان هذا الكتاب تشتمل [sic] على مسائل تتعلق بعلم الاصول من الايمان الخ

According to the preface, the work was planned to comprise a muqaddamaḥ and eight bābs, of which the following only are marked here:

Fol. 1*b*	Muqaddamaḥ فى الايمان
Fol. 1*b*	Bāb (1) فى التوحيد
Fol. 10*a*	Bāb (5) فى الوعد والوعيد
Fol. 10*b*	Bāb (6) فى الالام الخ
Fol. 11*b*	Bāb (7) فى احوال المكلفين بعد الموت

End:

يكونوا خالصين من المشقة وذلك محال فثبت انهم غير مكلفين بل منعمين مكرمين'

Foll. 376–427; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī, original text in red; 18th century. [DELHI 719*ss*]

A commentary on a treatise in the form of a philosophic parable enumerating the metaphysical, ethical and religious "forces" or "troops" (i.e. characteristics) which are comprised in "reason" ('aql) and which are requisite for the overthrow of the opposing "forces" of "folly" (jahl). Title and author's name are lacking.

Beginning:

عدة من اصحابنا عن احمد بن محمد عن على بن حديد ضعّفه الشيخ فى كتاب الحديث وقال لا يعول على ما ينفرد بنقله الخ

The original text continues:

عن سماعه بن مهران قال كنت عند ابى عبد الله...وعنده جماعة من مواليه فجرى ذكر العقل والجهل الخ

'Aql is then described as having been granted seventy-five جند ("troops"), which are enumerated, each with its ضدّ; e.g. الخير with its opposite الشرّ, الايمان with its opposite الكفر, etc.

End:

وفيه تنبيه على انه لا بد لطالب الخير من الالتجاء اليه سبحانه وطلب التوفيق منه اذ بيده الخير وهو على كل شى قدير ولا حول ولا قوه الا بالله العظيم'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2132

Foll. 1–17*a*; $7\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; nīm-shikastah; spaces left for rubrications; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 944*a*]

الضوء الاظهر لاشاعة اشعّة النور الازهر

al-Ḍau' al-aẓhar li-ishā'aḥ ashi"aḥ al-nūr al-azhar.

A commentary (mamzūj) on a work entitled نور الازهر فى كشف سر القضاء والقدر which deals with the subject of pre-destination. The names of the authors are lacking.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى ارضى بقضائه من ارتضاه من اصفيائه اذ اطلعه على ما كمل به من نظام ارضه الخ

The divisions comprised in the commentary are those of the original text, as follows:

Fol. 4*a* مقدمة فى تعريف القضا والقدر

[الفصل الاول] فى بيان دفع الحكم عمن قدر عليه

Fol. 10*a* الخ

Fol. 14*a* [الفصل الثانى] فى تقرير الاعمال والجزاء

Fol. 15*b* الفصل الثالث فى بيان تاثير الاعمال الخ

End:

وهو عذاب عقلى اشد من الجسمى وفانا الله من جميع ذلك لعظيم منه وكريم فضله انه ارحم الراحمين'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

Not in Ḥ. Kh. or I'jāz Ḥusain.

The work is followed by a supplement (foll. 17–20) on the same subject in seven faṣls.

2133

Foll. 284–332 (foll. 326–7 blank), defective at both ends; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; carelessly-written nasta'līq; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 617*b*]

A fragment of a Shī'aḥ work containing tales and legends of the Prophet, 'Alī and the Aṣḥāb. Neither title nor author's name appears.

Beginning:

...جوابه فنظر يمينا وشمالا وقال اين قرة عينى وابن عمى ابو الحسن على ابن ابى طالب عل' فاجابه بالتلبية وقال لبيك يا رسول الله الخ

End:

قال اجتمع اصحاب النبى عل' ليلة فى العام الذى فتح فيه مكة وقالوا يا رسول الله من شان الانبياء انهم اذا استقام امرهم ان يوصوا الى وصى...

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2134

Foll. 349*b*–357*a*; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.; ll. 21; naskhī; rubrications; slightly worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 719*mm*]

A compilation of forty brief sūraḥs which purport to be discourses addressed by God to Mūsā b. 'Imrān and translated into Arabic by 'Alī b. Abī Ṭālib. Neither title nor author's name appears.

Beginning:

هذه فايده جميله وموعظة بليغة كلم الله تعالى بها موسى بن عمران بلا ترجمان الخ

The forty sūraḥs are numbered and the majority begin with يا ابن آدم الخ.

End:

وكان اشد الناس عذابا يوم القيمة زدناهم عذابا فوق العذاب بما كانوا يعملون'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2135

Foll. 32*b*–37*a*; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4$ in.; ll. 14; cursive Indian naskhī; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 554*d*]

رسالة فى التقيّة

Risālaḥ fī 'l-taqīyaḥ.

An anonymous treatise on the Shī'aḥ doctrine of taqīyaḥ.

Beginning:

الحمد لله كما ينبغى والصلوة على محمد واله

اعلم ان التقية جايزة وربّما وجبت والمراد اظهار موافقة اهل الخلاف فيما يدينون به الخ

End:

وقد تقرر فى الاصول ان النهى فى العبادة يدل على الفساد وهذا دال على المراد فى محل النزاع كاف لمن كان له ملاحظه الانصاف'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

I'jāz Ḥusain records two risalaḥs with this title, no. 1316 by Zain al-'Ābidīn al-'Āmilī (d. 1078/1667–8) and no. 1317 by Aḥmad b. Ibrahīm al-Baḥrānī (d. 1131/1719), but does not quote beginnings.

2136

Foll. 27*b*–32*a*; 6¾ × 4 in.; ll. 14; cursive Indian naskhī; rubrications; worm-eaten; 18th century. [DELHI 554*c*]

رسالة فى التوبة

Risālaḥ fī 'l-taubaḥ.

An anonymous tractate on the doctrine of penitence, from the Shī'aḥ standpoint.

Beginning:

بعد حمد واجب الوجود على نعمائه والصلوة على سيد انبيائه محمد المصطفى وعلى آله واحبّائه فيقول العبد الفقير الداعى الى اللّٰه المجيب الى امتثال ما يامر لسان حالك ايها المخدوم من تاليف ما يسر الله الخ

The work comprises a muqaddamaḥ and a number of faṣls, which are not, however, given special titles.

End:

[شرح مصباح العلوم فى معرفة الحىّ القيّوم]

[Sharḥ Miṣbāḥ al-'ulūm fī ma'rifaḥ al-ḥaiy al-qaiyūm.]

(Also called التعليقة النافعة على الثلاثين المسئلة; cf. Brit. Mus. Suppl. 207.)

A commentary by Ṣārim al-Dīn Ibrahīm b. Yaḥyā al-Suḥūlī (d. 1060/1650; cf. Brit. Mus. Suppl. 385) on the Miṣbāḥ al-'ulūm (also called Thalāthūn al-mas' alaḥ), a work of Zaidī theology by Aḥmad b. Muḥammad al-Raṣṣāṣ (for whom see Berlin 2360–2; Brockelmann 1 403, no. 8 and Suppl.). No name either of author or commentator nor any title appears in the text, but the commentator's name is given in a note on the title-page.

Beginning (without introduction):

اعلم ان الكلام على بسم الله الرّحمن الرحيم يقع فى ثلاثه مواضع الخ

The text of the original begins (fol. 4*a*):

الحمد لله ذى المن والافضال الحكيم فى الافعال الخ

(On fol. 38 there is a polemic against the Imāmī sect of the Shī'aḥ.)

End:

احفظ احسن ما سمعت واكتب احسن ما حفظت وحدث احسن ما كَتب، والحمد لله رب العالمين الخ

تعليق على الثلثين المسئلة

Ta'līq 'alā al-thalāthīn al-mas'alaḥ.

A gloss by an unknown author [? Sharaf al-Dīn] on the Thalāthūn al-mas'alaḥ, a treatise on Zaidī theology composed by Aḥmad b. Muḥammad al-Raṣṣāṣ (cf. Brockelmann, Suppl. 1, p. 700). It purports to contain thirty questions—with their answers—on points of theology. (See further Brit. Mus. Suppl. 130 and no. 2137 supra.)

Beginning:

قال الشيخ العلامه احمد بن الحسن الرصاص اعلم ان الذى يجب على المكلف هو النظر المودي الى معرفه الله تعالى الخ

The text of the Thalāthūn al-mas'alaḥ begins on fol. 3*b* with باب اثبات الصانع وذكر توحيده وعدله ووعده ووعيده اعلم انه قد جمع فى هذا الكتاب اقسام المسايل الثلاثين وهى الخ

End:

فانه حجة الله عليك ووديعته عندك وبرهانه فيك' قال شرف الدين رضى الله عنه وارضاه وفى ذلك كفايه لمن انصف نفسه ولم يُغم التعصب بصيرته والسلام على من اتبع الهدى'

Colophon:

كتاب الألفين الفارق بين الصدق والامين

Kitāb al-Alfain al-fāriq bain al-ṣidq wa 'l-main.

A Shīʿaḥ work purporting to contain one thousand arguments proving that ʿAlī b. Abī Ṭālib was the heir of Muḥammad and the Imām of Islām, and a further thousand refuting the arguments of those who deny his claims. The work was completed at Jurjān in 712/1312 (in the reign of Sulṭān Ghiyāth al-Dīn Muḥammad), by Ḥasan b. Yūsuf b. ʿAlī, Ibn al-Muṭahhar al-ʿAllāmaḥ al-Ḥillī (d. 726/1326; cf. Iʿjāz Ḥusain, no. 276; Rauḍāt al-jannāt, p. 175; Durar al-kāminaḥ, II 71 f., where the date 725 is also mentioned as possible; Brockelmann II 164 and Suppl.; Browne IV 356). The plan of the work, which was undertaken for the author's son [ʿAlī] Muḥammad, was that it should contain a muqaddamaḥ, two maqālaḥs and a khātimaḥ.

Beginning:

الحمد لله مظهر الحق بنصب الادلة الواضحة والبراهين وموضع الايمان الخ

Of the contents planned the present MS (like others) contains only the following:

Fol. 1*b* Muqaddamaḥ

Fol. 18*a* Maqālaḥ 1 فى وجوب عصمة الامام

(This is divided into ten "hundreds".)

End:

بالضرورة ولا شى من غير المعصوم يداع الى ذلك بالامكان فلا شى من الامام بغير معصوم'

(Redactor's) colophon:

فهذا اخر ما وجد من كتاب الالفين والحمد لله وحده وذلك فى غرة رمضان سنه اثنى عشر وسبعمائية وكتب حسن بن المطهر ببلدة جرجان فى صحبة السلطان الاعظم غياث الدين محمد خلد الله ملكه والحمد لله الخ

الصواعق المحرقة

al-Ṣawā'iq al-muḥriqaḥ.

A polemical treatise directed against the Shī'aḥ and maintaining that the first four Caliphs held their office by full legal right, by Shihāb al-Dīn Aḥmad b. Ḥajar al-Haithamī al-Makkī (d. 973/1565 or 974/1566; cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 110 and VII 780; Brockelmann II 387 f.; Bankipore V (i), p. 202 f.). Neither title nor author's name appears in the body of the work, which was begun in Ramaḍān, 950/1543 and completed in Shauwāl of the same year. See further I. Goldziher, Beiträge zur Literaturgeschichte der Šî'a, p. 453 (17).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى اختص عبده محمد صلى الله عليه وسلم باصحاب كالنجوم الخ

The work comprises three muqaddamaḥs and eleven bābs (although only ten are mentioned in the preface).

End:

وكلما غفل عن ذكرك وذكره الغافلون آمين آمين'

ردّ الصواعق المحرقة

Radd al-Ṣawā'iq al-muḥriqaḥ.

An anonymous Shī'aḥ refutation of Ibn al-Ḥajar al-Makkī al-Haithamī al-Shāfi'ī's anti-Shī'aḥ polemic الصواعق المحرقة, which endeavours to prove against the "Rāfiḍīs" that all the first four Caliphs were legitimately entitled to their office (cf. Ḥ. Kh. IV 110 and VII 780; Brockelmann II 386; Loth 101; I. Goldziher, Beiträge zur Literaturgeschichte der Šî'a, p. 453 (17 of separate offprint)).

Beginning:

الحمد لله الّذى جعل احقاق الحق ذريعة لشفاعة النّبىّ الخ

The passages of the Ṣawā'iq and of the refutation are introduced by قال and اقول respectively.

End:

عدم استخلاف قول عمر حين طعن ان استخلف الخ يدل على تساوى الامرين'

النواقض [فى الردّ على الروافض]

al-Nawāqiḍ [fī 'l-radd 'alā al-rawāfiḍ].

A polemic against the Shī'aḥ and their beliefs, by Ashraf Mu'in al-Dīn (known as Mīrzā Makhdūm) b. Saiyid Sharīf of Shīrāz, a descendant of al-Sharīf al-Jurjānī. He was imprisoned in the inquisition against Sunnī 'ulamā which took place in Persia after the murder of Shāh Ismā'īl II, but afterwards escaped into Turkish territory. For a time he was qāḍī of Baghdād and taught at the Mirjānīyaḥ madrasaḥ there. Later he went to Constantinople as qāḍī and ended his life at Mecca either in 988/1580 or, more probably, in 995/1587 (cf. Ḥ. Kh. III 327 and VI 390; Brockelmann II 442 and Suppl.). The work was written for the Sulṭān Murād III.

Beginning:

نحمدك لا اله الا انت وحدك لا شريك لك الخ

The work comprises a muqaddamaḥ, three faṣls, a khātimaḥ and supplementary sections.

End:

ولاصفه الصابن دولته عن الاختلال العدواني والمعلم الذى اعانه من تحصيل التميز الرحمانى والجلوس على السرير السليمانى ويتم بعون الله كتابٌ يطلعك علي علو شان سلطانى لا ارى الله الي الحشر غيره وسلطانه ميسر الآمال والاماني'

كتاب الادلّة على الخلق

Kitāb al-adillaḥ ʻalā ʼl-khalq.

Religious tales and traditions written to prove God's creation of the world and to refute free-thinkers (الدهرية والطبعية "secularists and naturists") who argue its pre-existence. The author's name does not appear, but the orthodox Shīʻaḥ arguments are placed in the mouth of Mufaḍḍal b. ʻUmar, who bases them upon the authority of Jaʻfar al-Ṣādiq, and the contrary ones in the mouth of Ibn Abī ʼl-ʻAujā'.

Beginning:

روى محمد بن سنان قال حدثنا المفضل بن عمر
قال كنت ذات يوم بعد العصر جالسا فى الروضة الخ

The work comprises four majālis as follows:

1. Fol. 140*a*. General arguments for the creation of the world.
2. Fol. 169*b*. Refutation of those who deny God's purpose in creation.
3. Fol. 187*a*. Arguments from natural phenomena.
4. Fol. 210*b*. Various calamities which prove God's intervention in the affairs of the world.

End:

قال المفضل فانصرفت من عند مولاىَ بما لم
ينصرف احدٌ بمثله'

No other copies appear to be recorded. Not in Iʻjāz Ḥusain.

2172

Foll. 224*b*–252*a*; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 3\frac{5}{8}$ in.; ll. 14; small (Persian) naskhī, partially vocalized; scattered marginal comments; worm-eaten; date, 1106/1694–5 ("copied immediately from the text of Maulānā Ṣāliḥ Māzandarānī"). [DELHI 676*f*]

A dialogue, with an introduction, intended to refute those who disbelieve the "Lordship" (ربوبية) of God. The work is probably by the unnamed author of the Kitāb al-Adillaḥ (no. 2171).

Beginning:

قال حدّثنى محرر بن سعيد النحوى بدمشق
قال...كتب المفضل بن عمر الجُعفى الى ابى عبد
الله بن محمد الصادق الخ

End:

قال قد بَلَغْتَ حسبك وهى...كافية لمن عقل'
والحمد لله ربّ العالمين الّذى هدانا من الضلال
وعصمنا عن ان يشبهه بشى من خلقه...وتكبر عن
الشركاء والانداد'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2173

Foll. 118; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.; ll. 17; Indian nastaʻlīq; scattered marginal comments; date, 1249/1833–4. [DELHI 786]

انوار الهداية

Anwār al-hidāyaḥ.

An investigation into the controversy surrounding the estate named Fadak (which, according to the Shīʻaḥ, was bequeathed to Fātimaḥ by her father, the Prophet, and from which she was wrongfully excluded) and the incident of the ink and paper, which, the Shīʻites say, were withheld from the Prophet on his death-bed when he wished to make a will appointing his successor. The author is Muḥammad Anwar b. Nūr al-Dīn al-Akbarābādī, pupil of Muḥammad Akram al-Akbarābādī, and the work was completed in 1192/1778.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على خير البشر
محمد خاتم النبيين والمرسلين الخ

End:

وقال عليه السلام الفكر مراة صافية والاعتبار منذر
ناصح كفى ادبا لنفسك تحبك ما كرهه لغيرك'

السراج الوهّاج

al-Sirāj al-wahhāj

A treatise expounding the doctrines of the Sunnaḥ and impugning those of the Shī'aḥ, by Nūr al-Dīn b. Ismā'īl of Rāmpūr. He wrote it at Lucknow in 1251/1835, being persuaded to do so by the irreligion prevailing in India in his time.

Beginning:

الحمد لله الذى جعل الاسلام والسنة لنا مذهبا واماما والكعبة والركن المقام مستقرا ومقاما الخ

The work comprises a large number of divisions and subdivisions set out in a table of contents prefixed to the text.

End:

وتعاونوا بالبر والتقوى انه خبير بالعباد وعلى ما فى صدورهم من التَودُّدِ والعِنَاد'

End of author's colophon:

و من يُضْلِلْهُ فلا هَادِىَ لَهُ هكذا قال الله لا شَرِيْكَ لَهُ لِنَبِيِّهِ محمدٍ رّسول الله'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2186

Foll. 5–6; $8\frac{5}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.; ll. 17; inelegant Indian nasta'līq; 19th century. [DELHI (Persian) 160*a*]

A reply by the 'ulamā of Mecca to a query from Shāhjahānābād on the point whether the reading of the Dalā'il al-khairāt (by Jazūlī; cf. Brockelmann II 252 (4)) is to be reckoned an act of piety or of heresy. The Dalā'il consists of adulations upon the Prophet and the reading of it was regarded by the Wahhābīs as bid'aḥ, a view rejected by the 'ulamā in this reply.

Beginning:

الحمد لله رب العالمين...اما بعد فماذا قولكم رحمكم الله علماء الدين المبين وفقهاء الشرع المتين فى قراة دلايل الخيرات الخ

End:

وهذا كله من فضل الله وكرمه...ومنه توخد لجواب والله الموفق للصواب الخ

تحفة الاريب فى الردّ على اهل الصليب

Tuḥfaẖ al-arīb fī 'l-radd 'alā ahl al-ṣalīb.

An anti-Christian polemic (also called—Leyden 2033—نخبة الاسرار فى الردّ على النصارى من فرق الكفّار) completed in 823/1420 by 'Abd Allāh b. 'Abd Allāh al-Tarjumān, a native of Majorca and a convert from Christianity to Islām (see Brockelmann II 250 and the references there given), who was in the service of the Ḥafṣid prince of Tunis, Abū 'l-'Abbās Aḥmad II (772/1370–796/1394), and his son and successor Abū Fāris 'Abd al-'Azīz (d. 837/1433).

Beginning:

[يقول العبد الفقير الى رحمة ربه الراجى كريم الصفح عن عظيم دنبه عبد الله بن عبد الله [sic] الترجمان...] الحمد لله الذى خصنا بخير الاديان وجعلنا من امة العرفان الخ

The work comprises firstly three prefatory faṣls, in which the author gives an account of himself and his conversion and attacks the authorship of the Gospels, the divinity of Christ and the position of Christians, and then nine bābs, in which the main subject of the work is treated.

End:

وانا ارجوا [sic] ان اجمع بشارات جميع الانبيا به كتابا مفردا لذالك وحسبى الله ونعم الوكيل ولا حول ولا قوة الخ

For other copies see Brit. Mus. Handlist, p. 13 [there called Tuḥfat al-adīb]; Paris 1464; Leyden IV, p. 259; Berlin 2211; Gotha 860.

Replies by Muḥammad (b. As'ad) Tustarī (d. shortly after 730/1330; cf. Durar al-kāminaḥ III 383 f.; Brockelmann I 432) to four controversial questions in theology propounded by a Jew to Muslim Imāms.

Beginning:

[يقول الفقير الى الله الغنى محمد التُسترى عفى الله عنه] الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة على محمد سيد المرسلين...وبعد فان بعض اليهود نظم ابياتا ضمن مسايل اصولية دينية الخ

The questions begin as follows:

Fol. 60*b* (1) ان الله ىع' قضى بكفر الكافر الخ

(2) امر الكافر بالايمان والامر يدل على الارادة الخ

Fol. 60*b*

Fol. 61*a* (3) قوله ان الله ىع' حكم بضلال الكافر الخ

Fol. 61*a* (4) قوله ان الله ىع' اذا اراد كفر الكافر الخ

End:

فهذا ما سنح لى مع قلة البضاعة والمسئول من كرم ما يطالعه ان يصلح ما يعثر عليه من الخطاء والفساد بعد ان يسلك سبيل الرشاد ويتجنب طريق العناد والله وكيلى عليه وقد قال الله ىع' ما يلفظ من قول الا لديه رقيب عتيد'

No other copies appear to be recorded.

2192

3728*b*. Foll. 44*b*–63; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.; ll. 21; maghribī; rubrications; 19th century.

كنز العبّاد فى شرح الاوراد

Kanz al-'ubbād fī sharḥ al-aurād.

A commentary, in mixed Arabic and Persian, by 'Alī b. Aḥmad al-Ghūrī of خطه كره[1], upon the Persian اوراد, "litanies", of Bahā al-Dīn, who is identified by Ḥ. Kh. (v 254) as the famous Ṣūfī, Shihāb al-Dīn al-Suhrawardī (cf. Brockelmann I 440 f.). The commentary deals with questions of grammar, lexicography, law, etc. A list of contents, apparently detached from another MS, is prefixed.

Beginning:

اعظم المحامد للّه العظيم واكرم الصلوة على رسوله الكريم الخ

The passages of the original text are introduced by قوله.

End:

فرب رجل يصلى فى بيته ويكون صلوته فى اعلى عليين واشرف المقامات فالشان فى الاخلاص [و] احضار القلب والله اعلم الخ

For other copies see Loth 363–4; Rosen 138 (2); Būhār I 109.
Ḥ. Kh. v 254.

[1] Ḥ. Kh., loc. cit., says it is the tribal district of Karah. A note in the margin of the MS says the place is one of the dependant villages of جوبقه in India.
