PREFACE.

In preparing the present volume of the New Edinburgh Almanac, the Publishers have made increased exertions to add to its value, and to ensure at once accuracy and ease of reference. A vigilant superintendence has been exercised in every stage of the work; and the correctness of the Lists has been subjected to the severest tests.

The Abstracts of the Statutes affecting Scotland, and of the Acts of the General Assembly of the session of 1839, have been drawn up with the same care which was so generally appreciated in former years. Among many others will be found, the Sequestration Act, —a statute of such length and importance that its compression within the space assigned was a task of great difficulty,—and those which respect Prison Discipline, the Court of Session, Rogue Money, the Penny Post, and the Copyright in Manufactures. The Parliamentary Documents, of which the usual Abstracts are inserted, have been selected with an anxious regard to such as were most likely to be useful and interesting to the public; while their contents have been condensed with the greatest accuracy, and reduced to the most convenient form. Besides the Annual Accounts of the Debt, Revenue, Expenditure, Commerce, and Navigation of the United Kingdom, they include Abridgments of the Reports of the Royal Commission for Religious Instruction in Scotland, and of the Committee of the General Assembly on the Management of the Poor, with notices, amongst others, of the papers respecting Crime, Court of Session, Banks, Scottish Commissions, Public Works, Hand-loom Weavers, Steam Navigation, and Steam-vessel Accidents. The Publishers beg leave to direct attention to the description of Scottish Railways and Canals, founded on the latest intelligence; also to an Abstract of the new Regulations at the Post-office, which has been prepared in such a manner as to be easily understood by the public at large, and corrected under official inspection.

In a word, this Almanac may be briefly described as exhibiting a complete and authentic view of the STATISTICS OF THE MORAL, POLITICAL, AND COMMERCIAL STATE OF SCOTLAND.

To the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Public Officers, who have honoured them with communications, the Publishers again offer their respectful thanks. They continue to solicit the earliest information relative to any changes in the Lists: and as the types of every page of the volume are kept standing, alterations or additions can be readily made.

It is with regret that the Proprietors feel themselves obliged to complain that, on more than one occasion, elaborate articles prepared for this work, at great labour and expense, have been unwarrantably adopted by other publications. So long as such appropriation was confined to trifling cases, they did not deem it to be worthy of notice: but, since similar attempts have lately been made on a larger scale, they have resolved, in justice to themselves, to use the legal means of vindicating their rights.

TWEEDDALE COURT, EDINBURGH,
17th December 1839.

PART FIRST.

The Kalendar,

AND INFORMATION CONNECTED THEREWITH.

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS ON THE KALENDAR.

THOUGH the Astronomical portion of Oliver & Boyd's New Edinburgh Almanac is specially designed for popular use, it may, in the absence of the Nautical Almanac, be found serviceable to the Astronomer and the Navigator.

All the computations are adapted to mean time at Edinburgh, or longitude 0h. 12m. 43 sec. W.; latitude 55° 57′ 20″ N. Mean Time is that which is shown by a well-regulated clock; Apparent Time that indicated by a sundial. The column called Equation of Time shows the difference between mean and apparent time: when it is headed "Clock before Sun," the mean is earlier than the apparent noon; and to obtain apparent time, the equation must be subtracted from the mean time: when the column is headed "Clock after Sun," the mean is later than the apparent noon, and to obtain apparent time, the equation must be added to the mean time. To reduce apparent into mean time, add the equation when the clock is before the sun; subtract it when the clock is after the sun.

The rising and setting of the centre of the sun are calculated for the latitude of Edinburgh, at the level of the sea, allowance being made for parallax and refraction. The phases of the moon, although calculated for Edinburgh, may be easily adapted to any meridian, by adding or subtracting the difference of the longitude in time, according as the place is east or west of Edinburgh. The declination, parallax, semi-diameter, right ascension, and logarithmic distance of the sun, the equation of time, and the places of the principal planets, are computed for the instant of mean noon. The semi-diurnal arcs of the planets are used in ascertaining the times of their rising and setting: thus, to find the approximate time of rising, subtract the arcs from the times of southing; and to find that of setting, add the arcs to the times of southing.

The time and the depth of the high tide at Leith are computed from manuscript tables deduced from FORMULÆ investigated in the second and fifth volumes of the Mécanique Céleste of La Place. The depths, as shown by signal, are 1 foot 6 inches less than those computed. The times, though calculated for Leith, will be found sufficiently correct for the other ports on the Firth of Forth, as well as for Berwick, Dundee, Holy Island, and London Bridge, as the winds frequently cause a wider difference than that which exists between the times at those places and Leith; but when greater accuracy is required, recourse should be had to the table at page 19.

The time of high water at Granton Pier may be assumed the same as at Leith; and the depth of high water at the Victoria Jetty will be obtained by adding six feet six inches to the depths calculated for Leith.

The rising and setting of the moon, corrected for parallax and refraction, are computed for Edinburgh, at the level of the sea.

All the results have been carefully checked by means of differences and by frequent independent calculations, so that it is hoped no error of importance will be found.

NOTE.—When the time is between noon and midnight, it is indicated by the letter a. or A.; and when between midnight and the following noon, by the letter m. or M.

ECLIPSES OF THE SUN AND MOON IN 1840.

February 17. There will be a partial eclipse of the Moon, invisible in Britain.—First contact with dark shadow, 11h. 26·3m. M. Middle of the eclipse, 1h. 49·4m. A. Last contact with dark shadow, 2h. 55·6m. A. Magnitude of the eclipse, 0·362 on the southern limb.

March 4. An annular eclipse of the Sun, visible over the whole of Asia, a small portion of the North of Europe, and a small portion of Africa.—The central and annular eclipse will begin on the earth generally at 2h. 25·4m. M., in longitude 55° 5′ E., and latitude 14° 4′ N. Central and annular eclipse will end generally at 5h. 5·6m. M., in longitude 175° 51′ E., and in latitude 69° 43′ N.

August 13. A partial eclipse of the Moon, invisible in Britain.—First contact with dark shadow, 5h. 45·3m. M. Middle of eclipse, 7h. 10·3m. M. Last contact with dark shadow, 8h. 35·3m. M. Magnitude of eclipse, 0·607 on northern limb.

August 27. A total eclipse of the Sun, visible to the greater part of S. Africa, a small portion of Arabia and of Australia, and over the Indian Ocean.—Central and total eclipse will begin on the earth generally at 5h. 0m. M., in longitude 14° 14′ E., and latitude 11° 41′ S. Central and total eclipse will end generally at 7h. 48·5m. M., in longitude 128° 54′ E., and latitude 63° 58′ S. At the Cape of Good Hope a partial eclipse is visible; it will begin at 5h. 50·3m. M., and end at 7h. 47·9m. M.,—the magnitude being 0·525 on the northern limb.

* In using this Table take from the Kalendar the time of High Water at Leith; add to it the time opposite the place required when the sign + is prefixed; subtract it when the sign — occurs. Thus the time of High Water at Leith in the morning of January 6 is 3h. 5m.; the time in this table opposite Liverpool is — 2h. 58m.; and by subtracting this from the former there is obtained 0h.7m. the time of the morning tide at Liverpool.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—In fresh weather the plough may be set in motion. Turn over stubble-lands intended for green crops or summer fallows. Frost will correct wet ploughing; but this operation should seldom be performed unless the soil is moderately dry. During frost apply composts; manure may be taken to distant fields, and deposited in large heaps or scattered on the surface. Thrash grain, so as to afford ample supplies of straw for littering courts. This and the following month constitute the chief season for converting straw into manure.——Devote attention to live stock, by affording shelter and supplying food at regular hours. Keep fatting cattle dry, and give them stored roots during frost. Cows require succulent roots, or food prepared by steam or hot water, to yield milk copiously. Shelter new-dropt lambs, and give their dams roots, hay, and bruised grain, or linseed cake. Ewes will not produce fat lambs at this season without nutritious food.

Gardener's Kalendar.—When the frost is not severe, trench, manure, and turn up in ridges all vacant ground, and prepare hotbeds. In open and dry weather, sow in mild exposures, for a succession, a few early-frame pease, common beans, short-topped radishes, lettuces, carrots, onions, spinach, and curled parsley, protecting them from the frost by mats or straw; and, in hotbeds, sow cauliflowers, melons, cucumbers, small salading, early cabbages, and kidney-beans. Plant, prune, and train standard and wall fruit-trees, gooseberry, raspberry, and currant bushes. Edge beds, form new flower-gardens, and shelter from frost tender evergreens, tulips, ranunculuses, &c. Pot choice dahlias, placing them in a stove or hotbed. Air and keep dry carnations and stage auriculas. Plant snowdrops, crocuses, gladioluses, irises, &c.

Bank-holidays are marked †. When they fall on a Sunday, they are held on the following day.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Frost being a powerful agent in obtaining mould for covering seeds, plough grass and other lands intended to produce a crop. Whether turnip be folded or carried from the field, plough the land as the crop is removed, and wheat-sowing may follow. Beans and oats may be sown; but it is only rich dry soils which can be seeded so early with prospect of success. In mild weather thorn hedges may be dressed, and new ones planted. Lay up stores of seed-corn, put implements into working trim, and execute many little jobs, that no interruption may be experienced in sowing-time.——Animals about to bring forth merit particular attention,—the supply of milk and strength of offspring being affected by the dam's treatment previous to birth. Keep calves warm, clean, and dry; give hay and sliced roots in addition to liquid food to such as are rearing.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Make ready all the ground intended for early crops; and when the weather is favourable, continue to sow every fortnight pease, beans, onions, spinach, savoys, lettuces, celery, cauliflowers, carrots, parsnips, and radishes, as directed in the kalendar for the preceding month. Cut early kidney-potatoes for seed, and put them into the stove or hotbed in order to start them for planting out. Clean shrubberies, roll walks and lawns, and plant out evergreens and shrubs of all kinds, particularly roses. Put cuttings into rich light soil in well-sheltered borders, and plant stocks of the common wild rose for standards on which to bud the Chinese and other fine varieties. Protect all tender plants from the effects of frost, and air greenhouse and stage auriculas and polyanthus frames. Top-dress all fine auriculas and polyanthuses in pots or boxes. Strike dahlias from roots in hotbeds, and sow balsams, cockscombs, tricolors, amaranths, sensitive and ice plants, as well as other tender annuals. Plant carnation-layers, ranunculuses, anemones, and bulbous roots, and divide the roots of herbaceous plants.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Continue preparations for seedtime. Finish wheat-sowing about the middle of the month. Sow beans, oats, and barley as soon as the weather and soil admit,—reserving cold wet lands till the season advances. The seeds of clover and ryegrass will succeed amongst autumnal-sown wheats, without harrowing or rolling the surface. Particular fields intended for barley or potatoes may receive a second ploughing. Prepare composts and manures for turnip. This is the best time for planting hedges.——In altering the diet of fatting animals, always let the change be to one more nutritious. Part of the fatting cattle may be allowed bruised grain or lintseed cake, which will quickly fit them for the shambles. If scarcity of turnip renders a richer substitute necessary for advanced cattle intended for grass, give a small allowance, and plenty of straw. Ewes will lamb freely on arable farms, and seldom require any kind of food but grass and turnip.

Gardener's Kalendar.—The principal crops of vegetables should be put into the ground this month. Sow asparagus, celery, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, beets, brocoli, spinach, onions, Dutch turnips, carrots, pease and beans, savoys, parsnips, and turnip-rooted radishes. Plant red cabbage, sea-kale, kidney-beans, and cauliflowers from frames; and sow cucumbers and melons in hotbeds. Finish pruning, dress borders and strawberry beds. This is the best time to graft fruit-trees, and the China, perpetual, moss, and rosette roses, on the common brier or blush China rose, and to propagate them by layers. Pot dahlias that have pushed, and also cuttings from the offsets, placing them in a moderate heat. Protect tender plants and blossoms, and sow polyanthus, auricula, and almost every kind of perennial, biennial, and annual seeds.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—This is the most important seed-month, and no favourable opportunity should be lost to sow grain crops. Harrow and roll clover and ryegrass sown amongst wheat, to ensure the seed germinating. Store the residue of the turnip crop, to preserve the bulbs and prevent the exhaustion of soil. Drain lands intended for green crop where previously neglected. Potatoes may be planted in favourable situations. Finish planting thorn hedges.——On store farms, this is the chief lambing season, and the shepherd's utmost attention is necessary. Cease folding turnip, and either feed sheep on stored roots, or restrict them to grass. Fatting lamb-hogs require good pasture, being unable to eat turnip freely, from shedding teeth. When there is a scarcity of keep at the homestead, lean cattle may be allowed to roam over permanent pastures. Seedling grasses will seldom admit of being depastured with cattle.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Sow whatever was omitted last month, and plant out such of the pot-herbs as are ready for that purpose. Continue to sow and plant out rhubarb, artichokes, asparagus, nasturtiums, sea-kale, Dutch turnips, German greens, and small salading. Earth up pease, tie up lettuces, and in very dry weather water seedling beds. Finish the grafting of fruit-trees, and train and clean walks and edgings. Sow annuals, biennials, and perennials. Plant evergreens, and propagate by cuttings jasmine, lavender, sage, rosemary, rue, &c. and all the woody kitchen shrubs. Sow dahlias, carnations, pinks, hollyhocks, Cape, Brompton, and German stocks, China asters, and all kinds of hardy annuals. Destroy the green fly on roses, and preserve the bloom of stage auriculas from sun and rain. Top-dress all flowers in pots by removing withered leaves, and put in fresh earth. Hoe and rake gravel walks, cut box-edgings, and mow grass plots.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Conclude the sowing of grain crops; and, with the advance of the season, use early varieties. From necessity, barley and pease may be sown up to the end of the month; but early-sown spring crops are generally the most valuable. Be diligent in preparing soils for potatoes and turnip; and by judiciously using harrow and roller, endeavour to retain moisture, and produce a fine tilth. Finish potato-planting. Give a second ploughing to summer fallow, and never allow vegetation to make progress at this season on its surface.——Fatting cattle may be continued on well-kept Swedish turnip and potatoes. When there is a sufficiency of grass, and the soil becomes dry, stock pastures with all descriptions of cattle. In cold and wet evenings, shelter milch cows and fat cattle in courts. Wean early calves, and turn late ones out to pasture.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Sow capsicums, cauliflowers, carrots, lettuces, spinach, Knight's marrow-fat pease, cucumbers, red beet for pickling, and a full crop of kidney and French beans. Transplant cabbages, winter-greens, lettuces, cauliflowers, and celery. Hoe and stake pease, water newly planted crops, and propagate aromatic plants by slips or cuttings. Plant out dahlias, if there be no appearance of frost, and protect from wind and rain choice tulips, ranunculuses, and anemones. Propagate herbaceous plants by dividing the roots; wallflowers, sweet-williams, lychnis, and rockets, by slips; and China roses, calceolarias, mimuluses, heliotropiums, &c. by cuttings. Put out into the open border calceolarias, pelargoniums, fuchsias, salvias, the verbena melindris, with other greenhouse plants; also Neapolitan violets, and such other hardy annuals as were sown last month. Sow biennials and perennials, if formerly omitted.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—This is the month for sowing turnip. Put Swedes into the earth between 20th May and 10th June. All other varieties may be sown in course of the month. Drilled crops require attention. Weeds are most easily destroyed when young; and as a general rule, use hand and horse hoes as soon as the crops admit of the operations. Earth up early-planted potatoes. Haymaking commences in early situations. Mow grasses before the plants seed; remove the crop quickly from the ground, and soon afterwards carry it to the stack.——Cattle may be best soiled this month, but the practice is seldom followed, and has little to recommend it beyond making manure. Sheep-shearing becomes general. Fleeces are proportionate to the treatment of animals; and every progression or falling off in condition may be traced in the quantity and quality of wool.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Continue sowing the vegetables directed last month, and plant out brocoli, cabbages, savoys, celery, Knight's marrow-fat pease, cauliflowers in shady borders, leeks, lettuces, cucumbers for pickling, and kidney-beans. Watering is requisite in dry weather both evening and morning; and also the hoeing of potatoes, cabbages, and pease. Thin out onions, leeks, carrots, parsnips, and early turnips. Gather and preserve kitchen-herbs. Shade and air melon-plants, and strike by cuttings double-wallflowers, rockets, scarlet lychnis, and stocks. Transplant annuals, biennials, and perennials, and seedling pinks into a bed. Lift all hyacinths, tulips, and other bulbs that have ceased flowering. Cut off the foliage an inch above the stem, and before putting by lay them in sand a fortnight. Re-pot auriculas and polyanthuses, &c. Mow and roll grass walks and plots once a-fortnight during this and the other summer months.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Conclude haymaking from artificial grasses. Single out turnip, and let hand and horse hoes be in constant requisition, with a view of improving the crops and benefiting succeeding ones. Work fallows thoroughly with plough, harrow, and roller, carefully removing root-weeds by the hand,—atmospheric influence being generally insufficient to accomplish their destruction. Execute draining, and apply lime and lime-composts when such operations are necessary. Hand-weed grain crops.——In warm weather fatting cattle and milch cows are the better of sheds, to shelter them from the sun. Throughout summer examine flocks daily, to preserve them from the attack of flies, and use the common remedies for the prevention and destruction of maggots.

Gardener's Kalendar.—In this month prepare all unoccupied plots of ground for autumn and winter crops. Sow turnips, French beans, lettuces, and black Spanish radishes. Plant out brocoli, cauliflower, savoys, leeks, and winter cabbages, and earth up celery. Lift full-grown winter onions, and prepare mushroom spawn. In fine weather, gather medicinal flowers and sweet herbs when in bloom, dressing them in the shade for winter use. Divest wall-trees, espaliers, and standards, of all superfluous shoots. Continue to water in dry weather, and gather all kinds of seeds as they advance to maturity. Propagate evergreens, roses, and other shrubs, by laying the young wood. Inoculate flowering and other shrubs, bud roses in cloudy weather, and divide the roots of double primroses, polyanthuses, and auriculas. Lay or pipe carnations and pinks, take up anemones and ranunculuses, and put in cuttings of pansies, calceolarias, dahlias Chinese chrysanthemums, geraniums, &c.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Conclude hand and horse hoeing turnip. Apply manure to the fallows, and immediately plough it into the soil, putting the ridges into proper form, and clearing out water-courses, to guard against wet weather. Thrash out the residue of the grain, to extirpate rats and mice before the new crop is stacked. In mountain districts haymaking from natural grasses engages the attention of store-farmers. In low situations corn-harvest will occupy all hands.——Lambs not separated from their dams last month must be weaned and put on the best pastures. On lowly-situated arable farms get in ewes for early lambing. In high districts select and prepare the stock which is to be sent to market in course of autumn.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Sow onions, early cabbages, and parsley, for the succeeding year; and lettuces, spinach, brocoli, and cauliflowers, to stand the winter. Earth celery; hoe and thin turnips; transplant brocoli, savoys, and cauliflowers, and the principal crop of celery into trenches for blanching. Cut those herbs which are adapted for distillation or for winter use. Make mushroom-beds, propagate kitchen-herbs by slips, and take up all onions, garlic, and shallots that are withered in the stem. Continue to bud on fruit-trees, roses, and bushes, so long as the bark rises freely and the weather is cloudy. To obtain new varieties, sow auricula, polyanthus, and anemone seeds, and mignonette to blow in winter; as also the seeds of tulips, hyacinths, irises, and all the other bulbous-rooted flowers. Support and thin dahlias to improve their bloom. Shift tender exotics and hardy green-house plants into fresh pots. Keep the ground clear of weeds; and continue to water plentifully.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—This may be considered the harvest month. Engage plenty of assisting hands for this important season. Guard against shaking winds by reaping before the juices have left the straw; and to avoid sprouting, keep cut crops always standing in an upright position. When the crop is fit for stacking, carry it by day and by night, and cover the stacks as soon as they are built. Prudent farmers provide stores of ropes and thatch before harvest commences. Hand-weed turnip where necessary. Finish fallows; and such as are wet and coldly situated may be sown with wheat.—— On arable farms, weaned lambs and ewes for early lambing may be allowed to depasture stubbles and seedling grass. The breeders, rearers, and feeders of stock will meet at the different markets, and make arrangements for their customary changes of animals.

Gardener's Kalendar.—The operations of this month are not very numerous. Sow vegetable seeds for a spring-crop, and plant brocoli, cauliflowers, savoys, German greens, leeks, lettuces, celery, and perennial aromatic and pot herbs. Hoe winter-spinach and turnips, earth up celery and cardoons, weed cauliflowers and young onions, prick out cabbage-plants, gather ripe seeds, and make mushroom-beds. Plant cuttings of gooseberries, currants, and raspberries, and also strawberries, taking out all the old stools which have twice produced fruit. Continue to divide and transplant biennial and perennial flower-roots; lay almost every kind of shrubs; and put in cuttings of evergreens, China roses, and flowering shrubs. Crocuses, snowdrops, Persian irises, dog's-tooth violets, fritillarias, crown imperials, narcissuses, and most of the other bulbous roots, may now be planted. All the rooted pinks and carnations may be planted out. Sow hardy annuals to stand the winter, and trench up ground in which to plant tulips and hyacinths during October or November.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Harvest being finished, employ the plough in preparing soils for wheat. Commence with the wettest lands, and only defer sowing such as are dry and situated in an early climate. Use the common preventives for smut immediately before scattering the seed, and never sow unless there be sufficient moisture in the soil to effect germination. A good deal of thrashing is commonly requisite for supplies of cash, straw, and seed-wheat. Gather the potato crop, and carefully secure it from frost.——Unless there is abundance of grass, fatting cattle and sheep should be supplied with turnip on the pastures. Towards the middle of the month remove fatting cattle to the courts, and shelter milch cows during night. Keep weakly calves warm, and allow them a portion of nourishing food.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Sow radish, lettuce, and carrot seeds; also early pease and beans in a warm exposure. Plant horse-radishes, lettuces, early cabbages, and other greens neglected last month, in sheltered situations; also cauliflowers, mint, and tarragon in frames, for winter use. Earth up savoys and cabbages as high as the leaves. Take up carrots and parsnips, cut off their tops, and bury them in dry sand. Crop the tops of parsley, to make fresh leaves for winter. Plant all deciduous trees and shrubs. Commence pruning, taking the vertical branches in fruit-trees, and cutting obliquely to prevent rain from lodging; also roses, honeysuckle, and other flowering shrubs. Protect dahlias, young carnations, and layers, from sudden frost; and, about the end of the month, begin to plant hyacinths, tulips, ranunculuses, and anemones. In favourable weather, transplant hardy fibrous-rooted plants, intermixing them in the borders, to keep up a succession in the flowering season.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Conclude potato harvest. Finish wheat-sowing, although this grain may be sown any time on rich dry soils up to the middle of March. At this season, as newly ploughed land receiving rain seldom becomes dry, sow wheat from day to day as the soil is turned over. Store turnip to use in frosty weather; and wheat may be sown where the crop is removed. Form lime-composts for applying in spring and summer. This is the best time for draining soils intended for green crop and fallow. Dress hedges and ditches.——Sheep intended to be fatted should be folded on turnip, and allowed dry fodder. Lamb-hogs will thrive best with an allowance of turnip on pastures. To all flocks apply the salves and lotions in common use. Cattle of all descriptions should receive fodder and shelter during night, and such as are fatting shut out from the pastures.

Gardener's Kalendar.—Although hazardous, early pease and beans may be sown in a warm border; if neglected, most vegetables recommended in the last two months may still be planted, earthed up, &c., taking care to protect them from frost. Force sea-kale, rhubarb, and asparagus. Prune and plant fruit trees and bushes; and finish flowering shrubs and trees. Transplant seedling stocks, and suckers taken from the roots of the pear, codling, plum, and quince trees, to prepare them for budding or grafting different fruits upon; also stocks of the tree-rose, for budding upon them the garden and Chinese varieties. Shelter choice flowers. To make the colours of the tulip distinct, the compost ought to be changed every alternate year; an operation which should be performed this month. Tulip-soil is one-third of fresh, light, turfy loam; one-third of fine sand; and one-third of sandy peat, or leaf-mould. Take up dahlia roots whenever the bloom is stopped by frost, and keep them in sand free from damp.

Farmer's and Grazier's Kalendar.—Continue to plough stubbles. Store turnip in mild weather. A great deal of straw will be requisite; and regulate thrashing, so that there may be enough to last throughout the season. As general winter employment, in mild weather dress ditches and repair fences, drain, and add by every possible means to the stores of compost and putrescent manure. During frosty weather bring forward materials for drains and composts, and remove all heavy commodities which require a firm surface for transport.——Cattle of every description should now be in winter quarters, and receive winter fare. Separate the weak from the strong. Have a constant supply of water to store cattle, and apportion their litter and food so that they may last until the arrival of the grass season. Give fatting cattle at all times as much as they can eat, commencing with globe turnip, and proceeding with food of increasing richness.

Gardener's Kalendar.—In this month little can be done for the kitchen-garden beyond preparing for future operations, by digging, manuring, or trenching vacant ground, and collecting dung, leaves, and turf, to make compost. In mild weather, a few early pease and radishes may be sown in a warm border, and small salads and cucumbers in hotbeds. Cover with fern, straw, litter, or mats, all such plants as are likely to be injured by the frost, either in the open ground or in frames, admitting free supplies of air when the weather is favourable. Plant and prune all kinds of trees and bushes, taking care to stake the trees that are newly planted. In pruning roses, remove the old wood, curtail the young straggling branches, adding good store of decayed manure. Fine auriculas, polyanthuses, and carnations must now be treated with great care.

FAIRS, CATTLE-MARKETS, & TRYSTS IN SCOTLAND.

WHEN the appointed day happens to fall on Saturday, Sunday, or Monday, the fair is generally deferred to the Tuesday following. Fairs which are held according to the Old Style are distinguished by the letters o s placed after the day indicated. In some parts of the country the difference between the Old and New Styles is computed to be eleven, in others twelve days,—the Old being reckoned to be so much later than the New Style. In an action before the Sheriff of Banffshire, on the 10th April 1839, it was determined that the difference was eleven days. By the act 24th Geo. II. c. 23, which established the New Style, it was ordained, "That the meetings of the Court of Session, and terms fixed for the Court of Exchequer, and the holding of all markets, fairs, and marts, which are either fixed to certain nominal days or depending upon the beginning or any certain day of any month, shall not be continued according to the nominal days or the beginning of any month, to be computed according to the new calendar; but that the said Courts, and all markets, fairs, and marts, shall be holden according to the same natural days, according to which the same should have been kept in case this act had not been made,—that is to say, eleven days later than the same would have happened, according to the nominal days of the said new supputation of time; by which the commencement of each month, and the nominal days thereof, are anticipated or brought forward by the space of eleven days." It was remarked by the Sheriff, that "the practice observed by the Court of Session has been in exact conformity to this view. By the section of the statute referred to, the sittings of that Court and the holding of markets are in precisely the same situation. Previous to 1752, the Court of Session sat on the 1st day of November, and rose on the last day of February. In 1752, in terms of the statute, it commenced and ended its sittings eleven days later, that is, it sat on the 12th of November 1752, and rose on the 11th of March 1753. And the same practice has been followed ever since, down to the present time, since 1800 equally as in the preceding century. Even, therefore, if there had been any doubt (the Sheriff saw room for none) as to the true import of the enactment, there could," he said, "be no hesitation in following this practical interpretation of it, adopted and acted upon by the Supreme Court."

PART SECOND.

Information in Commerce, Agriculture, Law, Chronology, and Statistics.

SECTION I.—MEASURES AND WEIGHTS, WITH OTHER USEFUL TABLES.

IMPERIAL STANDARD MEASURES.

I.—MEASURE OF LENGTH.

Inches.
12.	1	Foot.
36.	3	.....	1	Yard.
198.	16½	.....	5½	.....	1	Pole or Perch.
7920.	660	.....	220	.....	40	.....	1	Furlong.
63,360.	5280	.....	1760	.....	320	.....	8	.....	1	Mile.

The hand = 4 inches; the English ell = 45 inches; the pace = 5 feet; and the fathom = 6 feet. The geographical degree = 20 nautical leagues, or 69·121 miles. In land measure, the chain of 100 links = 66 feet.

II.—MEASURE OF SURFACE.

Sq. Inches.
144.	1	Sq. Foot.
1296.	9	.....	1	Sq. Yard.
39,204.	272¼	.....	30¼	.....	1	Sq. Pole.
1,568,160.	10,890	.....	1210	.....	40	.....	1	Rood.
6,272,640.	43,560	.....	4840	.....	160	.....	4	.....	1	Acre.

And 640 acres make 1 square mile.

III.—MEASURES OF CAPACITY.

I.—GENERAL MEASURE OF SOLIDITY.

1728 cubic inches = 1 cubic foot
27 cubic feet = 1 cubic yard

The ton measurement = 8 barrel bulk, or 40 cubic feet.

II.—MEASURE FOR LIQUIDS, CORN, AND DRY GOODS.

Cubic Inches.	Wat. lbs. av.
8.665	$\frac{5}{7\,6}$	1	Gill.
34.659	1¼	4	.....	1	Pint.
69.318	2½	8	.....	2	.....	1	Quart.
277.274	10	32	.....	8	.....	4	.....	1	Gal.
554.548	20	64	.....	16	.....	8	.....	2	.....	1	Peck.
2218.19	80	256	.....	64	.....	32	.....	8	.....	4	.....	1 Bush.
17745.5	640	2048	.....	512	.....	256	.....	64	.....	32	.....	8 ..... 1 Quarter.

The peck, bushel, and quarter, are used for dry goods only. There are besides, the coom = 4 bushels; the wey or load = 5 quarters; and the last = 2 loads or 10 quarters.

The heaped measures were abolished in 1835.

IV.—MEASURES OF WEIGHT.

I.—AVOIRDUPOIS OR COMMERCIAL WEIGHT.

Troy Grains
27.34375	1	Dram.
437.5	16	.....	1	Ounce.
7000.	256	.....	16	.....	1	Lb.
98000.	3584	.....	224	.....	14	...	1	Stone.
196000	7168	.....	448	.....	28	...	2	.....	1	Qr.
784000	28672	.....	1792	.....	112	...	8	.....	4	...	1	Cwt.
15680000	573440	.....	35840	.....	2240	...	160	.....	80	...	20	...	1 Ton.

FLOUR WEIGHT.—1 peck = 14 pounds; 1 boll = 140 pounds; 1 sack = 280 pounds, or 2½ cwt.; 1 barrel = 190 lbs.

II.—TROY WEIGHT.

Grains.
24.....	1	Pennyweight.
480.....	20	.....	1	Ounce.
5760....	240	.....	12	..... 1 Pound.

This weight is used in weighing gold, silver, platina, &c. The fineness of gold is expressed in carats and grains, the pound or other weight being divided into 24 carats, and the carat into 4 grains. Thus the carat pound is the 24th part of the troy pound, or 10 dwts., and the carat grain the 96th part, or 60 troy grains. The standard fineness of gold coin is 22 carats; that is, the pound or other weight should contain 22 parts of pure gold and 2 of alloy. The mint-price of gold is £3, 17s. 10½d. per ounce; and hence the full weight of a sovereign is 5 dwts. 3.274 troy grains; but the sovereign of 5 dwts. 2¾ grains is a legal tender, and the half sovereign in proportion. Wrought gold has two legal standards; one is 22 carats, the same as the coin, and the other 18 carats. The latter, which was instituted in 1798, is used chiefly for watch-cases and rings.

The fineness of silver is expressed in ounces and pennyweights; the standard fineness is 11 oz. 2 dwts. of pure metal and 18 dwts. of alloy, making together 1 pound troy. Prior to the recoinage in 1816, a pound of standard silver was minted into 62 shillings, and was thus issued at 5s. 2d. per oz.; but although the market price of standard silver bullion has for many years varied little from 5s. per ounce, the new coin is minted at 5s. 6d. per oz., as 66 shillings are coined from a pound of bullion. The act of 1816, however, declares "that silver coins shall be a legal tender for 40s. only at one time," and "that gold coins shall be in future the sole standard measure of value and legal tender for payment, without any limitation of amount."

Wrought silver has two legal standards; one is the same as that of the coin, and the other 8 dwts. better, or 11 oz. 10 dwts. The latter, which is called new sterling, is seldom used.

Diamond Weight.—Diamonds are weighed by carats, 151½ of which make one ounce troy; this carat is therefore equal only to 3⅙ troy grains.

Pearl Weight.—The troy ounce contains 600 pearl grains, and hence one pearl grain is 4-5ths of a troy grain.

Apothecaries' Weight.—20 troy grains make 1 scruple, 3 scruples make 1 dram, and 8 drams make 1 ounce. The ounce and pound are the same as in troy weight. This weight is used in medical prescriptions only.

TABLES FOR CONVERTING OLD MEASURES INTO IMPERIAL.

EQUALISATION TABLE.

Scottish Measures of Length.—5920 feet = 1920 ells = 320 falls = 8 furlongs = 1 mile = 5929.568 imp. feet, or 10 Scots miles = 11¼ imp. miles nearly.—Chain of 100 links = 74.120 imp. feet.

Scottish Measure of Surface.—5760 ells = 160 falls = 4 roods = 1 acre = 54937.15 imp. sq. ft., or 23 Scots acres = 29 imp. acres nearly.

Scottish Measures of Weight.—Troyes or Dutch weight, 4096 drops = 256 oz. = 16 lbs. = 1 stone = 17.391885 lbs. avoird. Tron weight (variable). In Edinburgh, 1 pound = 1.374667 lbs. avoird.

Scottish Liquid Measure.—128 gills = 32 mutchkins = 16 chopins = 8 pints = 1 gallon = 3.00651 or about 3 imp. galls.

Irish Measures.—11 Ir. miles = 14 imp. miles.—30¼ Ir. acres = 49 imp. acres.

English Wine Measure.—32 gills = 8 pints = 4 quarts = 1 gallon; 252 galls. = 6 tierces = 4 hhds. = 3 puncheons = 2 pipes or butts = 1 tun.

1 wine gall. = .83311 imp. gall. or 6 wine galls. = 5 imp. galls. nearly.

English Ale Measure.—8 pints = 4 quarts = 1 gallon; 216 galls. = 24 firkins = 6 barrels = 4 hhds. = 3 puncheons = 2 butts = 1 tun.

1 ale gallon = 1.01704 imp. galls., or 59 ale galls. = 60 imp. galls. nearly.

Linlithgow Dry Measure.—1024 lippies=256 pecks=64 firl.=16 bolls=1 chalder, =for wheat, 7.986048, and for barley, 11.650240 imp. quarters. Hence 2 wheat bolls = 1 imp. quarter, and 11 barley bolls = 8 imp. quarters nearly.

English or Winchester Dry Measure.—64 pts. = 32 qts.=16 pottles = 8 galls. = 4 pks. = 1 bushel; 80 bushels = 20 cooms = 10 quarters = 2 loads = 1 last; 1 Winchester bushel = 7.75558 imp. galls., and hence 32 Win. bushels or quarters = 31 imp. bush or quarters nearly.

Fahrenheit's Scale is used generally in this country; Reaumur's Scale in most parts of Germany and Italy; and the Centigrade Scale in France and many other parts of Europe. To convert degrees of Reaumur into those of Fahrenheit, multiply by 2·25, and add 32: and to convert Centigrade degrees into those of Fahrenheit, multiply by 1·8, and add 32.

SECTION II.—FIARS-PRICES OF SCOTLAND.

STATE OF THE FIARS-PRICES

OF THE SEVERAL COUNTIES OF SCOTLAND FOR CROPS AND YEARS 1832 TO 1838 INCLUSIVE.

The Fiars are the average prices, yearly ascertained by the Sheriff, with the help of a jury, of the several kinds of grain of the growth of his county, in the preceding crop. Their origin is obscure: it has been referred to the year 1627, when, it is said, they were for the first time ascertained in the county of Haddington; but they appear to have been struck in other counties in the end of the previous century. The forms of procedure are regulated by the Acts of Sederunt, 21st December 1723, and 28th February 1728.

The Tables have been prepared from authentic documents in the Teind Office by an Accountant of experience, and their accuracy may be relied on. The average is that of the whole period of Seven Years; but in a few cases, distinguished by an asterisk, that of Six Years only. Where blanks of less than six years occur, no average is stated, the Fiars not having been regularly struck.

The Grain is computed by the Imperial Quarter—the Meal by the Boll of 140 Imperial Pounds.

GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES, PER ACT 10TH GEO. IV. CAP. 24.

This act empowers the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt to grant Annuities on lives and for terms of years certain; but no person can be appointed the nominee for any life annuity who shall be under the age of 15 years, nor can any annuity certain be purchased for less than 10 years. These annuities are payable half-yearly and are transferable; but life annuities cannot be transferred in parts or shares. No sum less than L.100 of stock (or money equal to L.100 of 3 per cents.) can be transferred or paid in the first instance; but additions may be made to any annuity already purchased, by transferring not less than L.20 of 3 per cents., or other stock or money equivalent thereto. Upon the death of any nominee, a sum equal to one-fourth of the annuity depending upon the life of such nominee, over and above all arrears, will be payable to those entitled thereto, or their executors, &c. provided the same shall be claimed within two years after such decease. Annuities are also granted on joint lives, and for deferred terms, &c. The following Tables have been deduced from the Commissioners' Tables for single lives and terms of years certain.

TABLE I.—LIFE ANNUITIES, which L.100 (Money) will purchase when the 3 per cents., ex dividend, are at the following prices:—

45,000	..	50,000	675	0	1010	0

Increasing progressively to £1,000,000.

The inventory-duty is paid, in the first place, on the whole succession without deduction of debts; but the act 55th Geo. III. c. 184, § 51, provides for a return being given on proof of the debts being paid, so as to confine the duty to the net balance. This repayment must be claimed within three years; but the time will be prolonged on cause shown. If there be any omission in the inventory, an additional one must be lodged.

Legacies, Annuities, Residues, &c.

To	Duty per cent.
Children or their descendants, or lineal ancestors of the deceased	£1	0	0
Brother or sister, or their descendants	3	0	0
Uncle or aunt, or their descendants	5	0	0
Granduncle or aunt, or their descendants	6	0	0
All other relations or strangers	10	0	0

The husband or wife of the deceased is not chargeable with duty.

This duty is payable for every legacy out of the personal or moveable estate, or out of or charged upon the real or heritable estate of the deceased, or out of any monies to arise by the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of the deceased's real or heritable estate, or any part thereof: Also for the clear residue (after deducting debts, funeral-expenses, legacies, and other charges first payable thereout) of the personal or moveable estate, whether the title to such residue shall accrue by virtue of any testamentary disposition, or upon a partial or total intestacy: And also for the clear residue of the monies to arise from the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of any real or heritable estate, directed to be sold, mortgaged, or otherwise disposed of by any will or testamentary instrument.

Annuities are valued for legacy duty by the Northampton Table, 4 per cent.

Duty is not exigible on legacies or residues under £20; but if a legatee take two or more legacies under any testament, which shall together be of the amount of £20, each shall be charged with duty, though each or either may be separately under that amount.

N.B.—Printed forms and regulations regarding all the succession-duties will be obtained gratis, on application at any stamp-office.

EXCHANGE OF SPOILED STAMPS.

The Commissioners of Stamps are authorized, by Act 53d Geo. III. cap. 108, to cancel and to give new stamps in lieu of such signed stamps (except policies of insurance, and bills and notes presented, delivered, or issued), as shall be found to have been void in law from the beginning, or such other stamps, as owing to any error therein, —to the death of any person whose signature shall be necessary thereto, —to the refusal or want of signature of some material party,—or to any of the other causes described in said act, shall be incomplete and insufficient for the purpose intended. All such stamps (whether signed or unsigned), if belonging to parties resident in Edinburgh, or within ten miles thereof, must be brought for exchange within six months after the same shall have been spoiled. If the parties reside elsewhere in Scotland, signed stamps must also be presented within six months after having been spoiled; but if unsigned twelve months are allowed.

Parties in Edinburgh must make affidavit as to the reasons of presentment at the head-office; but if resident in the country, the affidavit may be made on unstamped paper before any Justice of Peace. The office of the Solicitor of Stamps is open for the examination of claims every Tuesday and Thursday, from twelve until two. On the claim being passed, a certificate is given, stating that application must be made for the new stamps after Thursday se'ennight, and within six weeks, otherwise the claim will be forfeited. The stamps given in exchange will be the same as those spoiled, unless application be made for stamps of a different description when the claim is lodged.

CANALS.

1. The CALEDONIAN CANAL.—This great national work extends from Inverness, on the north-east, to Corpach, near Fort-William, on the south-west, intersecting Scotland from sea to sea. Its entire length is 60½ miles, of which 37½ pass through Lochs Ness, Oich, and Lochy, and there are 23 miles of cutting. The canal is 120 feet wide at the top, 50 at the bottom, and the present depth of water is 15 feet, which, by a further deepening of the summit-level, can be increased to 20 feet; with 28 locks, admitting the passage of ships of 1000 tons burden, or 32 gun frigates. Within a mile of the sea-basin at Corpach there are 8 connected locks, called Neptune's Staircase, each 180 feet in length, and 40 feet in breadth. The bridges are of cast-iron, and swing horizontally. The summit-level is in Loch Oich, which is about 95 feet above ordinary high-water at Inverness. Acts for the construction of the canal were passed in 1803 and 1804 (43d Geo. III. cap. 102, 44th Geo. III. cap. 62), the navigation was opened in 1822, and the total expenditure to the 1st of May 1839 was £1,023,628, 19s. 6d. The present rate of tonnage-duty levied on sailing-vessels or steam-boats is one farthing per ton per mile. [For an account of projected improvements on this Canal, see Abstract of Parliamentary Paper, p. 288.]

2. The FORTH and CLYDE, generally called the GREAT CANAL, though commenced in 1768 (8th Geo. III. cap. 73), was not finally completed till 1790. Its whole length, from Grangemouth, near the mouth of the Carron, to Bowling Bay, on the Clyde, is 35 miles, and including the branch to Port-Dundas, in the vicinity of Glasgow, 37½ miles. The highest point is 156 feet above the level of the sea. Its medium width at the surface is 56 feet, at the bottom 27 feet, and the depth of water 9 feet. In all there are 39 locks, each 74 feet long between the flood-gates, and 20 broad. The canal is supplied with water by 8 reservoirs covering 721 acres. There are 7 swift iron boats on the canal for the conveyance of passengers, which travel at the rate of 10 miles an hour. The capital stock of the company in 1820 was £519,840; the income in 1836, £63,743, 16s. 7d.

3. The EDINBURGH and GLASGOW UNION CANAL was projected in 1817 (57th Geo. III. cap. 56; 7th Geo. IV. cap. 45), begun in 1818, and finished in 1822, at an expense of nearly £400,000. It commences at Port-Hopetoun Basin, near Edinburgh, and joins the Forth and Clyde Canal at Port-Downie, near Falkirk, being 31½ miles in length. In its course it is carried by extensive aqueducts over the Water of Leith, the Almond, and the Avon, and passes through Prospecthill Tunnel, cut out of the solid rock for 696 yards; preserving one level to within a mile of its junction with the Forth and Clyde Canal, where it falls at once, by a series of 11 locks, 110 feet. Its width at the surface is 40 feet, at the bottom 20, and the depth of water is 5 feet.

4. The CRINAN CANAL in Argyllshire was begun in 1793 (33d Geo. III. cap. 104; 45th Geo. III. cap. 85), and opened in 1801. The sum expended upon it amounted to upwards of £180,000. It is about 9 miles in length, and the summit-level is 62 feet above the tideway. There are 15 locks, each 96 feet long, 24 broad, and 12 deep, admitting ships of 160 tons burden. By means of this canal a direct communication is formed between Loch Fyne and the Western Ocean, so as to avoid the difficult and circuitous navigation round the Mull of Cantire. The number of passengers conveyed by steam-boats along the canal in 1835 was 11,344; in 1836, 17,862; in 1837, 21,406; in 1838, 11,506.

5. The MONKLAND CANAL was begun in 1770 (10th Geo. III. cap. 105), and since 1792 has undergone various improvements. Its length, from Woodhall, about two miles south-east of Airdrie, to the basin at Glasgow, is 12 miles, and it communicates, by a lateral cut, with the Forth and Clyde Canal at Port-Dundas. By means of 4 double locks at Blackhill, near Glasgow, and 2 single locks, of 11½ feet each, near Airdrie, the canal is raised 113 feet above that of the Forth and Clyde, and 273 above the level of the sea. It is 35 feet wide at the surface, 26 at the bottom, and has 6 feet water. Light iron passage boats have been established, which, during the year 1838, conveyed upwards of 60,000 passengers between Glasgow and Airdrie. An act was passed in 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 125) for making a branch from the Monkland Canal to the north side of Duke Street, Glasgow.

6. The GLASGOW, PAISLEY, and ARDROSSAN CANAL. Its whole length, as projected in 1806 (46th Geo. III. cap. 75), is 32¾ miles. The part hitherto executed commences at Port-Eglinton, near Glasgow, passes by Paisley, and terminates at Johnstone, a distance of 11 miles. It is 28 feet broad at top, 14 at bottom, and 4½ feet deep. The navigation was opened in 1811, and light iron boats were established in 1831 for the conveyance of passengers, 5 of which are in daily use. There are also 6 boats employed daily in carrying luggage and goods between Glasgow, Paisley, and Johnstone, and 7 or 8 in the transport of coals and other minerals. An act was obtained in 1827 (7th and 8th Geo. IV. cap. 87) to complete the line to Ardrossan, a distance of 22½ miles, by a railway, with a capital of £95,600. About one-third of this railway (from Ardrossan to Kilwinning) is made, upon which there is a considerable traffic.

7. The ABERDEENSHIRE CANAL was begun in 1796 (36th Geo. III. cap. 68), and completed in 1807, at a cost of nearly £44,000. It commences in the tideway of the harbour at Aberdeen, and, proceeding in a line nearly parallel to the course of the Don, terminates at Port-Elphinstone, near the burgh of Inverury. The entire length is 18¼ miles. The surface-width is 23 feet, and depth 3¾ feet; it has 17 locks, and its highest level is 168 feet above low-water mark.

RAILWAYS.

1. The first public railway in Scotland was that formed between KILMARNOCK and TROON, a distance of 9½ miles, to connect the port of Troon on the coast, near Ayr, and the collieries in the neighbourhood, with the town of Kilmarnock and the north-eastern part of Ayrshire. The act for the formation of this railway, or rather tram-road, was passed in the year 1808 (48th Geo. III. cap. 46). An act was obtained in 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 105) to enable the Company to raise a farther sum of money, to alter and amend the line, &c.

2. The MONKLAND and KIRKINTULLOCH RAILWAY connects the rich coal-district in the parishes of Old and New Monkland, within 10 miles of the city of Glasgow, with the Forth and Clyde Canal near the town of Kirkintulloch. The act was obtained in 1824 (5th Geo. IV. cap. 49); the original capital was £32,000, which was increased £20,000, by an act in 1833 (3d and 4th Wm. IV. cap. 114), and by an act passed in 1839, the capital stock of the Company was increased to £124,000, for the purpose of relaying the line with heavy rails, and otherwise providing for the increasing traffic. The undertaking is now in full operation, and has a large trade in coals and ironstone.

3. The BALLOCHNEY RAILWAY COMPANY was incorporated in 1826 (7th Geo. IV. cap. 48), in order to form a railway from the termination of the Monkland and Kirkintulloch Railway, in the parish of New Monkland, about 4 miles eastward into the interior; where it separates into two branches, —the one embracing the coal and ironstone mines, situated to the south, and the other those to the north of Airdrie Hill. The capital of this company was originally £18,000; but power was acquired in the session of 1835 (5th and 6th Wm. IV. cap. 97) to increase it to £28,000; and by an act passed 1st July 1839, the capital was increased to £70,000, for the purpose of extending the railway, and providing for the increasing traffic thereon. By means of this railway the rich deposits of coal and ironstone of the parish of New Monkland are transported to the extensive and rapidly increasing ironworks on the side of the Monkland and Kirkintulloch Railway, and it is yearly extending its connexions with the circumjacent mineral fields.

4. The GARNKIRK and GLASGOW RAILWAY COMPANY obtained their first act in 1826 (7th Geo. IV. cap. 103), which was altered and amended in 1827, 1830, and 1838 (7th and 8th Geo. IV. cap. 88; 11th Geo. IV. cap. 125; and 1st & 2d Vict. cap. 60.) The railway was begun in 1827, and opened in 1831. Starting from the north-east part of the city of Glasgow and passing through the estate of Garnkirk, this railway reaches that of Monkland and Kirkintulloch, nearly in a direct line from the western termination of the Ballochney line, so as to transport coals, &c. direct to Glasgow. This railway is 8¾ miles in length, and has cost from £80,000 to £90,000, exclusive of the depots, buildings, and machinery. It was the first railway executed in Scotland with double lines of rails throughout, and calculated for general trade with locomotive engines, a number of which ply regularly on it, with separate trains for passengers and goods, and the trade in both, between Glasgow and Airdrie, as well as the neighbouring places, is very considerable.

5. The WISHAW and COLTNESS RAILWAY, for which an act was passed in 1829, (10th Geo. IV. cap. 107), will extend from the termination, in the parish of Old Monkland, of the Monkland and Kirkintulloch Railway, southward to the estates of Wishaw, Coltness, and Allanton, which are supposed to contain the largest and finest beds of coal in Scotland; but although about 4 miles of the north end has been completed, and for some years in operation, it has not yet reached these estates. The capital is £60,000, and there is power to borrow £20,000 more. An act was passed in 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 100) to prolong the term of the company's powers to complete the undertaking; and contracts were some time ago entered into for this purpose. By an act passed in 1839, the capital stock of the company was increased to £120,000, for the purpose of completing the line, and otherwise providing for the rapidly increasing trade.

6. The SLAMANNAN RAILWAY, for the construction of which an act was obtained in 1835 (5th and 6th Wm. IV. cap. 55), will extend from the eastern termination of the Ballochney Railway to the Union Canal, not far from Linlithgow, a distance of about 12½ miles. The main object of the undertaking is to traverse a country understood to be full of minerals, and to transport the produce eastward and westward. The capital is £86,000, which, by an act passed in 1839, was increased to £140,000. In the session of 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 94) the company obtained power to form a branch to the town of Bathgate, in the vicinity of which there lie very rich mines of limestone. The formation of the main line is in a state of great forwardness; and will be completed early in 1840, with particular advantage to Edinburgh, by the introduction of a large supply of excellent coal.

7. The DUNDEE and NEWTYLE RAILWAY was begun in 1826 (7th Geo. IV. cap. 101; 11th Geo. IV. and 1st Wm. IV. cap. 60; 6th and 7th Wm. IV. cap. 102) and opened in 1832. It is 10½ miles in length, and cost upwards of £90,000. Passing through a hilly country, there are three inclined planes on the line, wrought by fixed steam-engines; it is carried through a tunnel 340 yards in length. Its summit level is about 500 feet. The number of passengers along the line before the railway was opened was estimated at 4000 a-year. The number by the railway for the year ending 30th April 1839, was 68,169, and the traffic in goods for the same period, 47,930 tons. Until 1834, when locomotive engines were introduced, the carriages were drawn by horses. Branches are now open to Coupar-Angus and Glammis, in pursuance of acts passed in 1835 (5th and 6th Wm. IV. cap. 84 and 92).

8. The EDINBURGH and DALKEITH RAILWAY was constructed under the sanction of acts passed in 1826, 1829, and 1834 (7th Geo. IV. cap. 98; 10th Geo. IV. cap. 122; 4th and 5th Wm. IV. cap. 71). It extends from Edinburgh to the South Esk, near Dalkeith and Newbattle, a distance of 8¾ miles, with branches to Leith and Fisherrow, in all nearly 15 miles. About 100,000 tons of goods and 300,000 passengers are annually conveyed on it. It has been open seven years, and has paid the proprietors five per cent. per annum, on a capital of £150,000. The Duke of Buccleuch has constructed a branch to the town of Dalkeith at his own expense, chiefly with the view of connecting with Edinburgh his extensive coalfields on the south side of the Esk.

9. The POLLOC and GOVAN RAILWAY.—The formation of this Railway was authorized by two acts of Parliament, passed in the years 1830 and 1831 (11th Geo. IV. cap. 62; and 1st and 2d Wm. IV. cap. 58). It connects the mineral fields on the south-east of Glasgow with that city; and possesses the advantage of terminating at the harbour on the level of the quay. The portion of this railway authorized by the second act (which terminates at Rutherglen) will be completed in 1840. The capital stock of the company is £46,000.

10. The EDINBURGH, LEITH, and NEWHAVEN RAILWAY.—An act was obtained in 1836 for making this railway (6th and 7th Wm. IV. cap. 131). It will commence at the east end of Princes Street Gardens, and proceed by a tunnel under St Andrew Street, &c. to the foot of Scotland Street, and thence to Trinity Pier, in nearly a straight line. The whole length of the railway to Trinity will be 13,000 feet, or about 2½ miles; that of the tunnel about 2800 feet. More than one-third part of this line has been contracted for, and operations are proceeding on several portions of the line. It was originally intended to make a branch to the Harbour and Docks of Leith; but by an act passed in 1839 this branch is abandoned. The capital is £100,000.

11. The PAISLEY and RENFREW RAILWAY.—This railway was executed for the purpose of forming a direct communication between Paisley and the river Clyde, at Renfrew Ferry. It is 3¼ miles long, with a rise of about sixteen feet upon the whole distance. The act for its formation was obtained in 1835 (5th and 6th Wm. IV. cap. 85). It was opened in May 1837, and is now in full operation. The capital is £23,000.

12. The ARBROATH and FORFAR RAILWAY.—This railway has been made for the purpose of forming a direct communication between the town of Forfar, situated in the central part of Strathmore, and the seaport of Arbroath; it also connects with the Dundee and Arbroath Railway. The act of Parliament was obtained in May 1836 (6th Wm. IV. cap. 34); five miles of the line were opened for traffic on 3d September 1838; and the whole line was opened on the 3d of January 1839. The length is 15¼ miles, with a rise upon the whole distance of about 220 feet. The estimated expense of the railway, exclusive of carriages, engines, &c. is £70,000. The number of passengers who have travelled on this railway, from its opening on the 3d of January to the 12th of October 1839, is 80,662. The traffic in goods, for the same period, amounts to 28,552 tons.

13. The DUNDEE and ARBROATH RAILWAY.—An act of Parliament was obtained in 1836 (6th Wm. IV. cap. 32) for the formation of this railway. The capital of the company is £99,844. The line is 16¾ miles long, and is nearly level throughout. It was opened between Arbroath and Craigie on 6th October 1838, and to the Rood Yards of Dundee on the 3d June 1839; and will be entirely completed to Trade's Lane, at the harbour of Dundee, early in 1840. From the 8th October 1838 to the 8th October 1839, 161,261 passengers have travelled by this railway.

14. The GLASGOW, PAISLEY, and GREENOCK RAILWAY.—The act for the formation of this railway was passed in 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 116). Commencing from the south end of Glasgow Bridge, it will proceed to Paisley, and running nearly parallel to the Clyde, with a branch to Port-Glasgow, the line, which is 22½ miles in length, will terminate at Greenock near the harbour. The estimated expense is £393,000.

15. The GLASGOW, PAISLEY, KILMARNOCK, and AYR RAILWAY.—The line from Glasgow to Paisley is intended to be common to and to be executed at the joint expense of the Glasgow and Greenock and the Glasgow and Ayr Railway Companies. Near Dalry it will separate into two branches,—one running direct to Kilmarnock, and the other passing by Kilwinning, where it joins the Ardrossan Railway,—Irvine, where it communicates with the town and harbour, —Troon, joining the Kilmarnock and Troon Railway, and terminating on the quay at Ayr. An act was obtained for this railway in 1837 (7th and 8th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. cap. 117). The works were begun in May 1838, and that portion of the line between Ayr and Irvine was opened in August 1839, and the remainder of the line between Glasgow and Irvine will be completed in 1840. The line from Glasgow to Ayr extends 40 miles, and the Kilmarnock branch, the works on which are not yet begun, about 11 miles. The estimated expense is £625,000.

16. The EDINBURGH and GLASGOW RAILWAY.—The act of Parliament (1st & 2d Vict. cap. 58) for making this railway received the royal assent on the 4th of July 1838. It will commence at the Haymarket of Edinburgh, pass by Winchburgh, Linlithgow, and Falkirk, and terminate in George Square, Glasgow. Its length will be about 46 miles. With the exception of the inclined plane on approaching the city of Glasgow, the steepest gradient is 1 in 880. The capital stock of the company is £900,000. The works on the great viaduct in the Almond valley were begun in October 1838, and the railway is expected to be completed in 1841.

PENNY POST.

Letters for the PENNY-POST DELIVERY must be not more than four ounces in weight.

The Penny-Post letters are now delivered along with the General Post, the box closing at the General Post-Office for the 1st delivery at 7 A.M.; 2d, 11-45 A.M.; 3d, 3-30 P.M.; and 4th, 5-45 P.M.; and at the Receiving-Houses at 9-45 P.M. of the previous day for the 1st; 8 A.M. for the 2d; 1-30 P.M. for the 3d; and 4-30 P.M for the 4th.

N.B.—No Letter-bags are collected from the different Receiving-houses throughout the city from 9-45 on Saturday evening till 6 on Monday morning.

Leith Bags are made up and despatched at 6-30 A.M., 12 noon, 3-14 and 6 P.M.; and from Leith to Edinburgh at 11-10 A.M., and at 4-45, 8-15, and 10-30 P.M.

MONEY ORDER OFFICE.—For security of sums not exceeding Five Pounds, sent by post, orders on sheets are given at this office (payable at sight) on the Post-offices in England, Ireland, and Scotland: Fees, for £2 or under, 6d.; £2 to £5, 1s. 6d. This office is open every lawful day from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M.

MONEY, RINGS, LOCKETS, &c.—When these are sent from Edinburgh, they should be delivered at the General Post-Office to the clerk at the window; and, when sent from the country, into the hands of the Postmaster; but this office does not insure the party from loss.

BANK-NOTES AND DRAFTS.—Persons sending bank-notes or drafts by post, are advised to cut them in two, and wait till the receipt of the one half is acknowledged before the other is sent.

PAID LETTER OFFICE.—This office is open on week-days from 6-45 A.M. to 9-45 P.M. and on Sundays from 6-45 to 9 A.M., from 1 to 2, and from 4-30 to 8 P.M.

In terms of the act 2d and 3d Vict. c. 52 (an abridgment of which will be found at p. 126), temporary arrangements were made by Treasury Minute, dated Nov. 22, to continue in force from the 5th December, until arrangements should be completed for a uniform Penny Postage. The following are the interim regulations:—

All British postages, whether the letters pass between places within the kingdom, or go abroad to foreign countries, the colonies, &c., are to be charged according to the weight, and not according to the number of sheets of which they consist. A single or double postage will depend on whether the letter does not exceed or does exceed ½ an ounce in weight, and not on whether it be a single or double letter.

Beyond 16 ounces packages are not conveyed by the Post-office, except under the privileges of official franking, bankers' parcels, &c.

When letters exceed one ounce the postage must be paid beforehand, otherwise they will be charged with double the rate of postage they would otherwise be liable to.

All letters which passing through the General Post-office, likewise have to pass through a penny or twopenny Post-office, are exempted from the 1d. or 2d. rate, except in the case of franks, which are still liable.

Letters passing from one part of the United Kingdom (including the Isle of Man & the Channel Islands) to another.

All single rates which exceeded 4d. are reduced to that sum; those under 4d. remaining as they were.

The rates are as follows:—

			PAID.		UNPAID.
			s.	d.	s.	d.
Not exceeding ½ oz.			0	4	0	4
Do.		1	0	8	0	8
Exceeding 1 ounce	and not exceeding	2	1	4	2	8

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL LETTERS.

1*st*, Foreign Letters, including Colonial Letters passing through France, and exclusive of Letters by Private Vessels.—On these there is no alteration, except that they are charged according to the weight, and not the number of sheets, as above described, a letter not exceeding half an ounce being charged a single postage, &c. It has to be remembered, however, that the British scale of weights and prices will not affect any foreign postage that the letter may incur;—thus, every letter passing through France is charged a double French postage if it exceed a quarter of an ounce in weight, and a postage for every quarter of an ounce. The rule that when letters exceed an ounce in weight the postage must be paid beforehand, otherwise it is doubled, does not extend to letters addressed to France.

2d, Packet Letters to and from the Colonies and not passing through France.—In the case of letters passing between the United Kingdom and the Colonies (the Cape of Good Hope, Ceylon, the Mauritius, and the East Indies excepted), the single postage is 1s., the amount rising with increase of weight above ½ an ounce, as above described. Letters, however, to or from Gibraltar, Malta, and the Ionian Islands, must be marked "via Falmouth," otherwise they will be forwarded through France, and treated as foreign letters. The charge of 2s. 6d. on East India packet letters continues. On colonial packet letters there is no inland postage, so that the same rate is charged whether they are posted at the port of departure or at an inland Post-office.

3d, Private Ship Letters.—In the case of letters between the United Kingdom and places beyond seas, not within the East India Company's charter, when posted at the port of departure, or delivered at the port of arrival, the single postage is 8d. Where the letter is posted or delivered through an inland post-office, the addition of the usual inland charge of 4d. makes it 1s. Letters to and from the East Indies are subject to a sea postage of 2d. outwards, and 4d. inwards, when they do not exceed 3 ounces in weight. When they exceed that weight, the sea postage is 1s. per ounce. If an India letter going outwards be not posted at the port of departure, or coming inwards be not delivered at the port of arrival, an inland postage must be paid according to weight, as above, viz.: a single postage of 4d. on half an ounce, &c.

The following is a specific enumeration of the rates of postage payable for letters to foreign parts posted at Edinburgh, with the periods of departure, &c. It has to be observed, that single postages only are given, and the rules above mentioned as to weight must be kept in view as applying.

N.B. The postage must be paid when the letter is put into the Post-office, except in the cases marked *, in which such payment is optional.

Every Saturday.—All Portugal, 2s. 9d. Mediterranean Packet, once a-fortnight.—*Gibraltar, *Corfu, *Malta, 1s.; Mediterranean, 2s. 6d.; East Indies (by Egypt), 2s. 6d.; Syria, 3s. 5d. Brazil Packet, 1st Tuesday of every month.—Madeira, Azores, and Canary Islands, 2s. 10d.; Rio de Janeiro, Bahia, Pernambuco, Maranham, Buenos Ayres, Chili, and Peru, 3s. 9d. American Packet, 1st Wednesday of every month.—United States and Newfoundland, 1s.; *Bermuda, *Quebec, *Halifax, *Antigua, *British North America, *New Brunswick, and *Nova Scotia, 1s. Leeward Island and Jamaica Packet, 1st and 15th of every month.—*Antigua, *Bahamas, *Barbadoes, *Dominica, *Grenada, *Jamaica, *Montserrat, *Nevis, *St Christopher's, *St Lucia, *St Vincent, *Tobago, Tortola, *Trinidad, *Berbice, Demerara, and Essequibo, 1s.; St Domingo, or Hayti, 3s. 4d.; La Guayra (1st of every month), 3s. 4d. Mexican Packet, 15th of every month.—Cuba, 3s. 4d.; Havannah, Honduras, and Caraccas, 3s. 3d.; Mexico and Carthagena, 3s. 4d.; Guadaloupe, Martinique, St Croix, St Martin's, and St Thomas, 2s. 5d.

PRIVATE SHIP LETTERS (sent as opportunities occur).—The Cape of Good Hope, Ceylon, the Mauritius, the East Indies, and Van Diemen's Land, 6d.; Swan River, Batavia, South America (except when sent by the Brazil, Buenos Ayres, and Leeward Island packets), China, Sierra Leone, Cape Coast Castle, Goree, Senegal, St Helena, Island of Bourbon, Malacca, and all other places to which there is no regular packet conveyance (including those parts of the West Indies not enumerated above), 1s.——N.B. In conformity with the regulation mentioned above, if the letter is posted at the port whence the ship sails, 4d. is deducted.

The returns of the packets are thus calculated:—To and from Jamaica, 12 weeks; America, 9 weeks; Leeward Islands, 12 weeks; Malta, 53 days; Brazil, 20 weeks; Mexico, 18 weeks.

From August to January, inclusive, the packet touches at Pernambuco and Bahia on her outward voyage to Rio Janeiro; the other six months on her homeward passage.

FRANKS.—(For a notice of persons entitled to send and receive letters, &c. free of postage, see pp. 91 and 92 of the New Edinburgh Almanac for 1838.)

SOLDIERS and SEAMEN can send and receive single letters on payment of one penny when put into the office.

NEWSPAPERS.—Stamped newspapers passing through the General Post-office go free, though they should at the same time pass through a Penny or Two-penny Post; but those which pass from place to place in a post-town are chargeable with 1d. Papers sent by private ships between places within the United Kingdom are liable to a rate of 1d., and those forwarded by packet-boats to the colonies go free of postage; but if by private ships, they are liable to a charge of 1d. each when put into the office.

Printed votes or proceedings in Parliament may be sent by packet to any British colony on payment of 1½d. per ounce, and so in proportion, at the time they are put into the office. Votes, proceedings, and papers printed by order of the Legislative Assembly of any colony, and brought to this country by the above conveyance, are charged 1½d. per ounce, and so in proportion, on delivery.

Pamphlets, reviews, and other periodical publications, posted at Falmouth, may be sent to the colonies, by packet, at a rate of 1s. each, if not exceeding 6 oz.; and 3d. for every oz. additional.

Bankers' parcels, if above 6 ounces in weight, delivered at the General Post-office, London, containing re-issuable cash-notes only, issued by country bankers under license, and payable at their agents' in London (and which must have been paid by them), for conveyance to the place, being within Great Britain, where the notes were issued, are liable to one-fourth of the postage for a packet of that size.

Unstamped printed publications may be sent at such a rate or annual sum as the Postmaster-general (with the consent of the Lords of the Treasury) shall agree upon with the editor, proprietor, or publisher.

Newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, periodicals, &c. must be sent uncovered, or in covers open at the sides, and must contain no enclosure, or communication, or mark, other than the name and address; and the Postmaster-general's regulations as to the time and manner of putting them in the office must be obeyed. Privileged foreign newspapers must be in the language of the country whence they are forwarded. By Act 1st Vict. c. 36, § 5, any person accessory to enclosing an unprivileged document with a newspaper, or writing or marking on it, is subject to a penalty of treble the postage of a letter of the same weight, or (unless in the case of mere markings) he may be prosecuted by the Postmaster-general as for a misdemeanor.

SECTION VI.—LAW AND LEGISLATION.

[For a Digest of the Statutes regulating the Election of Members of the House of Commons, and of Magistrates and Town-councils in Burghs, see pp. 113 and 115 of the New Edinburgh Almanac for 1838. A more condensed abridgment will be found at p. 130 of the Almanac for 1839.]

STATUTES AFFECTING SCOTLAND,

PASSED IN THE LAST SESSION OF PARLIAMENT (2D AND 3D VICTORIA), WITH ABSTRACTS OF THE PRINCIPAL ENACTMENTS.*

PRINTERS' NAMES AND DESIGNATIONS.

CAP. 12. An Act to amend an Act of the 39th year of George III. for the more effectual Suppression of Societies established for Seditious or Treasonable Purposes, and for preventing Treasonable and Seditious Practices, and to put an end to certain proceedings now pending under the said Act. June 4.

(1.) So much of 39th Geo. III. c. 79, as imposes on the omission by a printer to print his name and place on the papers printed by him, a penalty of £20 for each copy, repealed. (2.) The penalty reduced to £5, and the printing on the first or last leaf sufficient. (4.) Prosecutions can only be raisd by the Lord-Advocate. (5.) Any person prosecuted for breach of 39th Geo. III., at the time of the passing of this act, may apply to the court before which the action proceeds, or, if the action be before a justice of the peace, to any justice within the jurisdiction, —to stop proceedings, the applicant paying costs. Where the action has been instituted after 16th April 1839. it may be terminated without payment of costs.

FABRICS' COPYRIGHT.

CAP. 13. An Act for extending the Copyright of Designs for Calico Printing to Designs for Printing other Woven Fabrics. June 4.

The copyright in calicoes. &c. for three months, created by 27th Geo. III. c. 38, and 34th Geo. III. c. 23, extended to "Fabrics composed of wool, silk, or hair," and "to mixed fabrics composed of any two or more of the following materials, viz. linen, cotton, wool, silk, or hair."

COPYRIGHT IN DESIGNS AND MOULDS.

CAP. 17. An Act to secure to Proprietors of Designs for Articles of Manufacture, the Copyright of such Designs for a limited time. June 14.

(1.) Proprietors, of designs for the following purposes, not published before 1st July 1839, are to enjoy a copyright of one year from the date of registration, viz. for patterns or prints of tissues or textile fabrics—lace, linens, and cottons excepted; for modellings, castings, chasings, or engravings on articles of manufacture not textile, and for the shape or configuration of any article of manufacture, linens and cottons excepted. The proprietor of a design for the modelling, casting, or embossing on metal, is to enjoy a copyright of three years from the date of registration. Each article protected by the act must exhibit the name of the registered proprietor, the number of the design in the register, and the date of registration. The author of every design is considered the proprietor, unless he have been hired to execute it. Designs may be wholly or partially sold. (2.) The title of a purchaser may be entered on the register. (3.) Any one using the design without leave in writing from the proprietor, forfeits a sum not less than £5,

* The abstracts have been made on the principle of abridging very considerably such provisions as regulate the conduct of officials, who may be presumed to look for information to the Acts themselves; while those laws which affect the public in general have been abstracted with much anxiety to give a distinct though brief view of their application. The chapters affecting the colonies, the revenue and diplomatic matters, as well as the Mutiny and other annual Acts, though they may be said to apply to the inhabitants of Scotland as much as to the other citizens of the empire, are, for obvious reasons, omitted. The several very important statutes applicable solely to Scotland,—among which the Sequestration and Prison Discipline Acts hold a prominent position—have, notwithstanding every effort to abridge them, occupied so much of the space devoted to this department, that little remained for legislative measures in which this part of the country is but partially interested. The numbers within parentheses refer to the sections of the Acts. Where sections are passed over, they do not apply to Scotland, or are not considered of so much general importance as to render their abridgment necessary.

or more than £30. (4.) The penalty may be recovered in the Court of Session, or before two justices, the action being brought within six months after the offence. (5.) Provision made for a register of designs. (6.) Three copies must be sent to the registrar. One to be returned with a certificate, another to be filed, and a third to belong to the P. C. Committee of Trade. (7.) The certificate of registration is evidence of the design, date of registration, &c. (8.) The Treasury are empowered to fix registration fees. (9.) Any official demanding more than the legal fees, forfeits £50, and is liable to suspension or dismissal. (10.) Communications with the registrar pass free of post.

PAPER DUTIES' CONSOLIDATION.

CAP. 23. An Act to consolidate and amend the Laws for Collecting and Securing the Duties of Excise on Paper made in the United Kingdom. July 19.

This act contains a multitude of minute technical arrangements, on which, as the original will doubtless be in the hands of all persons interested, it is not thought expedient to bestow space here.

BRICK DUTIES.

CAP. 24. An Act to repeal the Duties and Drawbacks of Excise on Bricks, and to grant other Duties and Drawbacks in lieu thereof, and to consolidate and amend the Laws for collecting and paying the said Duties and Drawbacks. July 19.

The duties and corresponding drawbacks are—for bricks made in Britain, or imported from Ireland,—not exceeding 150 cubic inches, 5s. 10d.; exceeding that bulk, 10s.—per thousand.

GLASS DUTIES.

CAP. 25. An Act to remove Doubts as to the charging certain of the Duties of Excise on Glass. July 19.

No glass is to be deemed broad or spread glass, and so to have the privilege of the low duties, unless it be blown in cones and spread on sand.

ASSESSED TAXES & GAME CERTIFICATES.

CAP. 35. An Act to continue for one year Compositions for Assessed Taxes, and to alter the period for the Expiration of Game Certificates, and for granting Licenses to deal in Game. July 29.

(1.) The compositions under 4th and 5th Wm. IV. c. 54, which would expire on 5th April 1840, to continue in force till 5th April 1841. (2.) Persons wishing to terminate their compositions on 5th April 1840, to give notice on or before 10th October 1839. (3.) The period of the expiry of game certificates to be 5th July instead of 5th April, and future certificates to be available from one 5th July to another. (4.) Justices may hold special sessions to grant licenses to game dealers, not only in July, but from time to time after that month, as they may deem fit, their licenses continuing till 1st July following.

SUPREME COURTS.

CAP. 36. An Act to regulate the Duties to be performed by the Judges of the Supreme Courts of Scotland, and to increase the Salaries of certain of the said Judges. July 29.

(1.) Judges of the Court of Session rendered liable to perform the duties of the Justiciary and Exchequer Courts. (2.) The Court of Justiciary to consist of the same component members as at present, but the crown may by special commission appoint any other Lords of Session to act in circuits, and in causes certified from the circuits in which they have so acted. (3.) After the present Lord-Justice-Clerk and Principal Clerk of Justiciary cease to hold their offices, the appointment of the Principal and Depute, and of the Circuit Clerks of Justiciary, is to be in the crown, and those appointed are to perform the duties in person. (4.) The judicial business of the Exchequer is to be performed by those Lords of Session who are not Justiciary Judges, in rotation, two acting together, one of whom is to have authority in absence of the other. (5.) The two judges doing duty in exchequer for the time, may, in writing, require the opinion of the other judges liable to serve in rotation, on difficult points. (6.) The crown may at any time accept of the resignation of a judge, in respect to his duties in the Court of Justiciary, provided he be forthwith appointed to perform some of the other duties to which the judges are liable. (7.) The duties of the Bill-Chamber, during vacation and recess, are to be performed by the six judges who are not justiciary judges, according to rotation, to be fixed by act of sederunt, "with power to all the judges of the Court of Session, in case of indisposition, or of absence of any of the said six judges, to act for him." (8.) The Judges of the Inner-House, and the Lord Ordinary on Teinds, are to constitute the Commission of Teinds, five being a quorum. In cases of difficulty they may take the opinion of the whole court. (9.) The summer session is to commence on the first lawful day (Monday excepted) after the 19th May, and to terminate on the 20th July, or the Saturday immediately preceding, should that day fall on Sunday or Monday. The winter session of the Inner-House to be as at present. That of the Outer-House is to commence on the first lawful day (Monday excepted) after 31st October, and to terminate on the 20th March, or the Saturday immediately preceding, should that day fall on a Sunday or Monday. At the jury trials before and after the sessions, the Lords Ordinary must assist, and those who are Justiciary Judges must officiate at the criminal trials on the same occasions. (10.) The court is empowered, if the state of business render it necessary, to extend any session of the whole court, or of part of it, by Act of Sederunt, the extension not to exceed the usual period of the sittings of the court previous to the passing of this act, by more than two months in any year. Sederunt days are to be reckoned from and regulated by the meeting of the Inner-House, and not by the sittings of the Lords Ordinary. (11.) The queen in council may, in a similar manner, extend the sittings. (12.) The salary of the Lord President to be £4800, that of the Justice-Clerk to be £4500, and that of the other judges to be £3000. No retiring allowance or increase of salary is to be received by any judge, unless under deduction of any retiring allowance or salary he may receive for any judicial office, the deduction only proceeding to the extent of preventing any judge from having a larger salary than he received at the passing of the act. (13.) The Court may frame Acts of Sederunt for carrying the act into effect, and regulations for allowing summonses to be called at the box-days in the autumn vacation, and for making defences returnable at the second box-day, or at the meeting of the Court.

USURY.

CAP. 37. An Act to amend and extend until 1st January 1842, the provisions of an Act of the first year of Her present Majesty, for exempting certain Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes from the operation of the Laws relating to Usury. July 29.

(1.) The act 7th Wm. IV. and 1 Vict. c. 80 (see Almanac for 1838, p. 130), which exempts bills not having twelve months to run from the usury laws, and which was to expire on 1st January 1840, enlarged so as to embrace "any contract for the loan or forbearance of money above the sum of £10," provided it be not on heritable security. (2.) No higher interest than 5 per cent. to be exigible except by special agreement. (3.) The act not to affect the laws regarding pawnbrokers. (4.) The act to continue in force till 1st January 1842.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

CAP. 38. An Act to amend the Jurisdiction for the Trial of Election Petitions. August 17.

None of the provisions of this act are to be enforced in Scotland, except § 88, enabling a party entitled to costs to recover them in the Court of Session, and § 91, rendering a Sheriff who fails to make a due return liable to double damages and costs.

SEQUESTRATION.

CAP. 41. An Act for regulating the Sequestration of the Estates of Bankrupts in Scotland. August 17.

(1.) Sequestrations depending when the act commences, to be concluded in terms of 54th Geo. III. c. 137, which is to continue in force in all matters as to which it is not superseded by this act. (2.) Act to commence at the end of the session [on 28th August 1839.] (3.) Interpretation clause. (4.) Sequestration may be awarded of the property of "any deceased debtor who at the time of his death resided, or had a dwelling house, or carried on business in Scotland, and was at that time owner of heritable or moveable estates in Scotland;" but not until expiry of 6 months after death, unless he had granted a mandate, or was bankrupt, or had remained in sanctuary 60 days, within the 12 months preceding his death, "or unless his successors shall concur in the petition, or renounce the succession." (5.) The description of persons liable is as follows:—Any debtor "who is, or has been, a merchant, trader, manufacturer, banker, broker, warehouseman, wharfinger, underwriter, artificer, packer, builder, carpenter, shipwright, innkeeper, hotel-keeper, stable-keeper, coach-contractor, cattle-dealer, grain-dealer, coal-dealer, fish-dealer, lime-burner, dyer, printer, bleacher, fuller, calenderer, and generally any debtor who seeks or has sought his living, or a material part thereof, for himself, or in partnership with another, or as agent or factor for others, by using the trade of merchandise, by way of bargain, exchange, barter, commission or consignment, or by buying and selling, or by buying and letting for hire, or by the workmanship or manufacture of goods or commodities." The debtor (unless he consent) must be bankrupt, must have carried on business in Scotland, and must, within a year, have resided, or had a dwelling-house, or place of business there. No one can be sequestrated as "a holder of stock in any of the public or national funds, or of India stock, or as a partner in any company incorporated or established by act of Parliament, or by charter, or as a landholder or farmer, unless such landholder or farmer be bonâ fide a dealer in cattle not the produce of, nor grazed, nor worked on his farm, or unless he be a dealer in grain not the produce thereof." (6.) A company may be sequestrated, provided (unless the company consent) one of the partners has been made bankrupt, and the company have carried on business in Scotland, and a partner have had a dwelling-house or the company a place of business there within a year and day. (7.) A debtor within the above definition may be sequestrated though he be not bankrupt, if he have been in the sanctuary for 60 days, either continuously or not, within the space of twelve months. (8.) The creditors who may petition or concur, are, one of £50, two of £70, or three or more of £150. The debts must not be contingent. If without consent, the petition must be presented within 4 months, after the bankruptcy, or the expiry of the 60 days in sanctuary. (9.) To entitle a creditor within the U. Kingdom to petition or concur, or to vote, or to draw a dividend, he must produce, either with the petition or at a meeting, or to the trustee, an oath of verity, before a sheriff, magistrate, or justice, stating what others (if any) are liable for the debt, and any security over the estate of the bankrupt or of others, and that he has no other obligants, &c. Where he holds no other person but the bankrupt bound, and no security, he must depone to that effect. Where the creditor is a body corporate, an oath by the manager or other officer is sufficient, and in case of a company, an oath by a partner. (10.) A creditor abroad must make his affidavit before a magistrate where he resides (certified to be so by a notary, or a British minister or consul), or an agent may take an oath of credulity. If the creditor be under age, an oath of credulity suffices. (11.) The oath must be accompanied by accounts and vouchers. If these be not produced before dividend, the creditor must state on oath the reason, when he may have a dividend set apart until he have reasonable time for their production. The interim-factor or trustee marks and enters the productions, and if required, must return the grounds of debt. (12.) Application for sequestration is made by petition to the Lord Ordinary, signed by the petitioner or his counsel. If without consent, it must be presented within 4 months, after the bankruptcy, or expiration of the 60 days in sanctuary. The creditor produces with the petition his oath, accounts, and vouchers. In the case of a deceased debtor, the creditor must specify the place where he resided or carried on business at the time of his death, and whether he was then owner of estates in Scotland. Where the petition is during the life of the debtor, but without consent of the debtor, the creditor swears that he believes him to be within one or other of the descriptions of persons liable, specifying which, or that he believes him to have been in sanctuary. (13.) If the debtor himself petition, the Ordinary awards sequestration, appointing one meeting not sooner than 8 or later than 14 days, to elect an interim-factor, and another not sooner than 4 or later than 6 weeks, for the election of trustee. Remit is made to the Sheriff, and personal protection granted till the second meeting. (14.) In the case of a deceased debtor, warrant is granted to cite his successor on inducie of 21 days, and if he do not appear, a second warning of 21 days is published in the Gazette. On awarding of sequestration, a successor making up titles is directed to transfer his rights to the trustee. Diligence may be obtained to prove the liability to sequestration, and a judicial factor may be appointed. No creditor can proceed with diligence, or be confirmed executor creditor, after the first order. (15.) Where there is no consent, the debtor must be cited at not less than 6 or more than 21 days, or if he be out of Scotland, at not less than 30 or more than 40 days. Diligence may be obtained to recover evidence of the bankruptcy, &c. and if the debtor do not appear, or appearing do not produce evidence that the debts on which proceedings have been raised are paid, sequestration is awarded. (16.) A company may be cited at the place of business if a partner or clerk be there, or at the dwelling-house of a partner, or if none such can be found, edictally. (17.) On application, and after hearing parties, the Lord Ordinary may grant protection or liberation. If the first application be refused, a second may be made with consent of the trustee and commissioners. (18.) A certified copy of the warrant protects the debtor from imprisonment for civil debt (except on a meditatio fugæ warrant) in all parts of the kingdom. (19.) The bill-chamber clerks are to be clerks to sequestrations, and to keep a register. (20.) The abbreviate must be presented for registration within the second day after the first deliverance, from the date of which the registration has the effect of an inhibition, and of a citation in an adjudication. The petitioner must also insert a notice in the Edinburgh Gazette within 4 days, and in the London Gazette, within 8 days after the awarding. It is not necessary to insert any other notice in the London Gazette. (21.) The awarding is not liable to review, but it may be recalled on petition within 40 days. A successor edictally cited may petition at any time before advertisement of the first dividend. (22.) Nine-tenths of the creditors, in number and value, may at any time apply for recall, notice being given by advertisement in the Gazette, to parties to appear within 14 days. (23.) If one creditor who is a party cease to act, another may be sisted. If the debtor die after presentation of the petition, proceedings are not to be stopped. (24.) The date of the first deliverance is held to be that of the sequestration. (25.) The awarding is to render the debtor bankrupt. Conveyances requiring infeftment are to be held of the date of recording the sasine, and those requiring intimation or delivery, are held of the date of the act so requisite for completion. (26.) Petitioning, concurring, or claiming, is to interrupt prescription, and to bar the statute of limitations of England or Ireland. (27.) The process is held to depend in the Bill-chamber, the orders and productions being transmitted to the sheriff, who "shall have as full power and jurisdiction as hitherto possessed by the Court of Session (subject to review) in all questions in the sequestration, except in those cases where the power is otherwise specially conferred, and the sheriff-clerk and messengers-at-arms and officers of the sheriff-court, shall have power to act in their respective offices under this act," the sheriff-clerk keeping a register of sequestrations. (28.) Deliverances of courts and extracts of them, are to be evidence in all parts of the British dominions. (29.) No person by claiming, &c. as a creditor, becomes personally liable to the agent, who has recourse on the estate, or on the interim-factor or trustee employing him, "in so far as the same may be competent to him." (30.) Mandatories may vote for creditors. (31.) No one acquiring a debt after the sequestration (except by succession or marriage) can vote for the interim-factor, trustee, or commissioners. (32.) A creditor may accumulate interest up to the date of the sequestration, but not beyond it. A claimant on a future debt must deduct interest up to the term of payment. A creditor for a debt subject by the usage of trade to a discount of more than legal interest, must deduct accordingly. (33.) A creditor holding a security, or who has sold the subject of one, must deduct its value or price, and vote for the balance only. (34.) A creditor having a security as to which the bankrupt has a right of relief, must deduct the value of the right of relief. (35.) A company creditor voting on the partnership estate, is not bound to deduct what he may be entitled to draw from the partners, but if he claim on the estate of a partner, he must deduct the claim against the company and against the other partners, so far as they are liable to relieve the first partner. (36.) The trustee and commissioners, within two months after a creditor has voted on an oath, in which he has deducted a security, as also the majority of the creditors (the creditor with the security not being counted) at the meeting where he has voted, may require him to assign his security, on payment of the value he has set on it, and 20 per cent. additional. He may correct his value at any time before being called on to assign. (37.) A creditor holding a security, before he can draw a dividend, must deduct the security, of which the trustee and commissioners may demand an assignation at the price he has set on it. (38.) The trustee on a partner's estate, before ranking company creditors, must value and deduct the company estate. (39.) A contingent creditor cannot vote, unless the trustee,—or, if the trustee be not elected, the sheriff,—value his debt. If the contingency take place before the valuation, the creditor may vote to the full extent. The judgment of the trustee or sheriff is subject to review. When the sheriff is applied to, notice must be given to the interim-factor, or, if he be not elected, to the petitioning or concurring creditor. (40.) A similar procedure is adopted in valuing an annuity, "regard being had to the original price given for the said annuity." (41.) A cautioner for such annuity, after the sequestration, is only liable for the value so fixed and arrears, and for the annuity so long as he fails to pay the value. (42.) An obligant bound with the bankrupt is not relieved by the creditor acting in the sequestration, but he may require an assignation to the debt on paying it, and so enter a claim. (43.) The oaths are not to supersede legal evidence in judicial discussions. (44.) Questions at meetings are to be determined by simple majorities, unless otherwise provided for. Where creditors are to be counted in number, none whose debts are under £20 are to be reckoned. (45.) The meetings fixed as per § 13, may be adjourned to any time within the limits there stated. The sheriff-clerk transmits to the meeting for the election of interim-factor the certified copy of the petition and deliverances. If two or more creditors give notice, the sheriff or his ordinary substitute (or in case of necessary absence, a substitute for the occasion) must attend. The sheriff-clerk must attend, and mark the oaths and productions with his initials, and write the minutes. The clerk retains the oaths (being liable to exhibit them on demand) till the election is determined, when he delivers them to the interim-factor or trustee. If no sheriff is present, the creditors elect a preses, and if no sheriff-clerk be present, a clerk, both proceeding as above. In either case those who have been entered in the minutes as qualified, proceed to elect an interim-factor or trustee, as the case may be, or two or more trustees to act in succession, in case of removal, &c. Separate interests in the case of partnership, &c. are to be provided for in the election. The bankrupt, persons conjunct and confident with him, persons holding an interest opposed to that of the creditors at large, and persons out of Scotland, are disqualified for interim-factor or trustee. (46.) If the sheriff or his ordinary substitute be present, and there be no competition or objections, he declares the result. If there be objections, they must be stated at the meeting, when the sheriff may either forthwith decide on them, or reserve them. If necessary he may take note of objections and answers, and within 4 days after the meeting decide, on hearing parties. (47.) Where the preses is a sheriff only appointed for the occasion, or a chairman elected, whether there be objection or not, he must forthwith report to the sheriff; the oaths, meanwhile, if the sheriff-clerk or his depute be present, remaining in his possession, or, if he be not present, being transmitted to him. The sheriff then proceeds as above. His decision declaring the election of an interim-factor is final. (48.) The creditors at these meetings fix a sum for which the interim-factor or trustee is to find security, and decide on the caution offered. The sheriff-clerk provides the bond. (49.) On the bond for the interim-factor being lodged, the sheriff confirms his election without appeal. If there have been no appeal as to the election of a trustee, or on an appeal being disposed of, the trustee is in the same manner finally confirmed. The interim-factor or trustee receives a warrant from the sheriff-clerk, of which he must immediately transmit a copy to the Bill-chamber. A copy, certified by a Bill-chamber clerk, is evidence of title in all parts of the British dominions. (50.) The sheriff-clerk acts as interim-factor if none be elected. Before the election, the sheriff may, on cause shown, direct charge to be taken of the repositories, &c. (51.) The interim-factor is to take the steps necessary for preserving the estate, take possession of the vouchers, &c., and make inventory, transmitting a copy to the Bill-chamber clerks. He is to lodge money in bank, as per § 61. The petitioning creditor is to be refunded by him, or (if he do not recover funds sufficient) by the trustee. (52.) The bankrupt must prepare and transmit to the factor a state and rental, and give him and the trustee all information necessary to enable them to act. If he fail to do so, or to grant any requisite deed, the sheriff may subject him to incarceration and forfeiture of the benefits of the act. (53.) At the second meeting, the factor exhibits the sederunt-book, vouchers, &c., and if the meeting be satisfied, they assign his remuneration, subject to review by the Sheriff. He is not entitled to retain any of the property, on the ground of non-payment. (54.) Against the Sheriff's declaration of a trustee an appeal may be taken during session to the Inner-House, or during vacation to the Lord Ordinary, on notice in writing to the sheriff-clerk within two days after the decision. A competitor appealing must lodge a bond of caution, approved of at the meeting. The court may decide in favour of a competitor, or if necessary order a new election. The whole expenses in a competition must be paid by the unsuccessful party. (55.) An appeal does not stop proceedings in the sequestration, the interim-factor continuing to act till a trustee is confirmed, and then resigning all documents, &c. into his hands. (56.) After the trustee is elected, three creditors or mandatories are chosen as commissioners. The sheriff declares their election. The same disqualifications apply as in the case of a trustee. A mandatory ceases to be commissioner on intimation of withdrawal of the mandate. A vacancy is filled by a meeting called by the trustee. (57.) The commissioners have to "superintend the proceedings of the trustee, concur with him in submissions and transactions, give their advice and assistance relative to the management of the estate, examine the acts and intromissions of the trustee, audit his accounts, decide as to paying or postponing payment of a dividend, fix his remuneration, and may assemble at any time to ascertain the situation of the bankrupt estate; and any one of them may make such report as he may think proper to a general meeting of the creditors." (58.) At the election of the trustee, or the meeting after the examination (see § 65), an offer of composition may be made, and a majority in number and value may resolve that the personal protection should be renewed. (59.) At either of these meetings, or one called for the purpose, four-fifths in value may authorize an allowance to the bankrupt, down to the period for the second dividend, not exceeding £3, 3s. per week. (60.) An abbreviate must be recorded within 21 days after the trustee is confirmed. (61.) The trustee must manage and recover the estate, and convert it into money, according to the directions of the creditors, and if none such are given, with the advice of the commissioners. He, as well as the interim-factor, must lodge all money in such bank as four-fifths in number and value may appoint; and failing such appointment, in the Bank of Scotland, the Royal Bank, the Bank of the British Linen Company, the Commercial Bank, or the National Bank,—provided it be not in a bank of which he is an acting partner or officer. The bank must annually accumulate the interest with the principal. (62.) The factor or trustee keeping more than £50 in his hands beyond 10 days, is liable to £20 per cent. interest on the excess; and unless the money be kept from innocent causes, he is dismissable on petition to the Lord Ordinary by any creditor. (63.) The trustee must keep a sederunt-book, and accounts, transmitting copies of the latter to the Bill-chamber before each dividend. The sederunt-book and accounts must be patent to the creditors, but confidential documents need not be entered. (64.) The factor and trustee are amenable to the Lord Ordinary and sheriff, being entitled to expenses if they be unduly complained of. (65.) On the application of the trustee, within 8 days after his confirmation, the sheriff issues a warrant to the bankrupt to attend at a specified time, not less than 14 or more than 21 days from the date of the warrant. On the warrant being granted, the trustee advertises in the Gazette his election, the place and time of the examination, and a time not less than 14 or more than 21 days thereafter, for a meeting. (66.) The Sheriff may grant warrant to apprehend the bankrupt, and bring him from prison or sanctuary, the warrant acting as a personal protection. Such warrants are effectual in all parts of Scotland. If necessary, the Sheriff may grant a commission to take the examination. He may, on the trustee's application, direct as many examinations as he thinks fit, and they may be on oath. (67.) If the bankrupt be in England or Ireland, warrant, under the seal of the Court of Session, will be authority for apprehending him, &c. (68.) On the trustee's application, the sheriff may direct examination of the bankrupt's wife and family, clerks, servants, law-agents, and others, and grant warrant accordingly. Unless the individual be one of the family, or a clerk or servant, warrant to apprehend cannot be granted until expiry of eight days after warrant to attend. (69.) They must answer all lawful questions, and produce documents. Persons other than the bankrupt are entitled to remuneration as witnesses. (70). These provisions may be enforced by incarceration, the individual being entitled to petition the Lord Ordinary for recall of the warrant of incarceration. (71.) If a latent partner do not disclose himself before the examination, he forfeits the benefit of the Act, unless he satisfy the Lord Ordinary that the omission proceeded from mistake or ignorance, and take measures to remedy the consequences. (72.) Before the close of the examinations the bankrupt may alter or add to his state, and when they are finished he takes the oath. (73.) Within 14 days after the examition the trustee prepares his report, to be produced to the meeting held as per § 65. The meeting may receive an offer of composition, and give directions for the recovery and disposal of the estate. The creditors determine whether heritable property is to be disposed of by judicial or voluntary public sale. (74.) The trustee, or any commissioner, may at any time call a meeting, and the trustee must do so when required by one-fourth in value of the creditors. (75.) When the Act directs a meeting, it is to be held on 14 days' notice by advertisement in the Gazette, unless there be any special provision. (76.) Notifications are not to be sent to creditors who direct that none be sent, or to creditors under £20, unless at their special desire. (77.) A majority, in number and value, at a meeting for the purpose, may remove the trustee or accept of his resignation. One-fourth in value may obtain his removal on cause shown before the Lord Ordinary. On death or removal, or a trustee remaining three months furth of Scotland, a commissioner or creditor may apply to the sheriff to direct a new trustee to be elected, or the trust to be devolved on the next in succession. (78.) The moveable estate vests in the trustee, as if he had got actual delivery. (79.) The heritable estate vests as if the trustee had obtained an adjudication not subject to reversion, and as if a poinding of the ground had been executed, saving other legal rights. (80.) Property in other parts of the British dominions vests in the trustee, and where, by the law of the place a conveyance requires registration, the confirmation is to be registered. (81.) Property acquired by the bankrupt before his discharge vests in the trustee, and is recovered by him through petition to the Lord Ordinary. A bankrupt not intimating such acquisition forfeits the benefit of the Act. (82.) The sequestration has the effect of an adjudication, and supersedes any other within year and day before it. (83.) It is equivalent also to an arrestment and forthcoming, and to a completed poinding, superseding all those executed within 60 days before it. An arrester or poinder, however, deprived of his diligence, has a preference for the costs. (84.) When the sequestration is within 7 months after the debtor's decease, it strikes at diligences and preferences within 60 days before the decease, and confirmations as executor-creditor. (85.) All acts by the bankrupt relative to the estate after sequestration are null; but if one have purchased moveables from him, or paid a debt to him, in ignorance of his position, or if the holder of a bill, with recourse on others, have obtained payment from him and given up the bill, the transaction is good. (86.) A subject improperly included in the sequestration will be struck out on application to the Lord Ordinary. (87.) The trustee may make up titles and grant conveyances as effectually as the bankrupt could have done. (88.) Where, in the case of a deceased debtor, a successor has made up titles, the trustee may recover the estate on petition to the Lord Ordinary. A recorded abbreviate of the petition and deliverance has the effect of an inhibition. (89.) If the creditors have resolved to bring the estate to sale, before a creditor, with a power to sell, has commenced proceedings, as also if his proceedings have been unduly delayed, he is foreclosed from interfering with the sale. (90.) If the estate be sold by auction, the trustee, with consent of the commissioners, gives a title, discharging it of all securities not preferable. (91.) If a creditor, with power to sell, concur with the trustee in a sale, the trustee gives the title in his own name, the purchase-money (so far as not paid to those legally entitled, at the delivery of the conveyance), being consigned in the bank in which the money of the estate is deposited. (92.) Such an heritable creditor may himself sell, and the trustee may concur to fortify the title. The creditor may, by petition to the Lord Ordinary or sheriff, be compelled to account for any reversion. (93.) If it be determined to proceed by judicial sale, every heritable creditor in possession must be cited on induciæ of 15 days, and it is unnecessary to call other parties. (94.) No expenses are payable out of such part of the price as may be necessary to discharge the preferable securities, and no heritable creditor is liable to expenses, except those of a sale to which he has consented. (95.) No poinding of the ground which has not been executed 60 days, and no decree of mails and duties on which a charge has not been given 60 days before the sequestration,—is available, in competition; but a preferable real creditor may execute a poinding of the ground, or obtain decree of mails and duties,—available for the current term's interest, and one year's arrears. (96.) The landlord's hypothec is not to be affected. (97.) The Lord Ordinary or Sheriff may direct that for any period of 3 months, letters addressed to the bankrupt may be opened by the interim-factor or trustee in presence of the Sheriff, the bankrupt having written notice to attend. (98.) The trustee, with consent of the commissioners, may compound disputed questions, or refer them to arbitration. (99.) Creditors may purchase property sold, but the interim-factor, trustee, and commissioners, may not. (100.) The estate when realized is to be divided among the creditors. (101.) The first dividend is payable at the expiry of 8 months, the others at intervals of 4 months. (102.) A creditor, to share in a dividend, must produce his claim 2 months before it is payable. A creditor not claiming in time to share in any dividend, has a preference for what he might have received over the sum set apart for the next one. (103.) The trustee prepares his first state after expiry of 6 months, and within 14 days after expiry of the 6 months the commissioners meet to audit and tax his state and accounts, and declare a dividend. (104.) If a dividend is to be paid, the trustee makes up within the 14 days a list of creditors with the corresponding dividends, and a list of the rejected claims. When he rejects he must note the reason. (105.) Immediately on expiry of the 14 days, the trustee must advertise the dividend in the Gazette, and send notices both of admitted and rejected claims. Creditors discontented may appeal within 30 days after the Gazette notice, to the Lord Ordinary or the sheriff. (106.) Before the expiry of the 8 months, the trustee makes up a scheme patent to all concerned. (107.) Dividends for claims under appeal, and for contingent debts, are to be lodged in bank. (108.) On expiration of 10 months from the date of the sequestration, like preliminaries are to be adopted for a second dividend. (109.) Second dividend to be paid as per § 101. (110.) Like procedure as to other dividends. (111.) The commissioners may postpone a dividend till the period for the next following one, notice being given in the Gazette, the trustee's state made up, and his accounts audited. An abstract of the state must be circulated among the creditors. (112.) On the expiry of 12 months the remaining property may be sold by auction, with the sanction of three-fourths of the creditors in value, at a meeting advertised in the Gazette, and intimated to the creditors by post 14 days previously. A month's notice of the sale must be given in the Gazette, and in such other papers as the creditors may appoint. (113.) An offer of composition may be made at the second meeting, and may be entertained by a majority in numbers, and nine-tenths in value. It may be decided on at the meeting after the examinations, notice by the Gazette and circulars being given. (114.) If a majority in number and nine-tenths in value agree to accept, the bond of caution is executed by the bankrupt and cautioner, and transmitted for approval to the Lord Ordinary or sheriff, who may hear objections. (115.) At the meeting after the examinations, or one called for the purpose, an offer may be made and entertained by a majority in numbers and four-fifths in value. The meeting for deciding must be held 21 days thereafter on 14 days' notice. A majority and four-fifths, as above, decide. (116.) On a composition being approved of, the bankrupt makes a declaration, or (if required by the trustee or a creditor) an oath that he has made a fair surrender, and has entered on no collusive transaction, &c. A discharge is then pronounced by the Lord Ordinary or sheriff, reserving claims on the composition. A discharge by the sheriff must be transmitted to the Lord Ordinary for confirmation. (117.) Before the composition is approved of, the trustee's accounts must be audited, and his remuneration and expenses paid or provided for. (118.) The sequestration is to proceed notwithstanding an offer of composition. (119.) The bankrupt and cautioner are barred from objecting to debts which the former has given in his state or admitted, and from objecting to any security unless it be objected to in the offer of composition, and notice given to the creditor. (120.) No creditor who has not claimed before the approval of the composition, has a claim on the trustee beyond two years after the approval. (121.) If an offer is rejected, or has become ineffectual, no second offer can be entertained, unless the amount and terms of payment be subscribed by the cautioner, and nine-tenths in number and value give a written assent. On these preliminaries the trustee calls a meeting, and the offer may be presented for judicial approval, if a majority in number and nine-tenths in value of those present accept, and if nine-tenths in value of all the creditors assent. (122.) The bankrupt may petition for discharge, at any time after the meeting following the examinations, if every creditor concur, and on the expiry of 8 months if a majority in number and four-fifths in value concur. Intimation is given in the Gazette, and 21 days allowed for opposing. (123.) When the bankrupt is found entitled to his discharge, he makes declaration or oath as per § 116, and the discharge if pronounced by the sheriff is confirmed. (124.) All preferences or collusive agreements for procuring discharge are null. A creditor connected with any such, forfeits his dividend, and is liable to a penalty, of double the preference or other consideration, on petition to the Lord Ordinary or sheriff by any creditor. Sums so recovered are divided among the creditors, and if the sequestration be closed, a creditor may raise a multiplepoinding. (125.) The bankrupt if cognizant of any such proceeding forfeits the benefit of the Act, and if discharge be granted it may be annulled. (126.) If a majority of the creditors at a meeting after the examination suspect fraud, they may direct a meeting to be called on 14 days' notice, at which the trustee may be authorized to prosecute the bankrupt. (127.) Appeals may be made against the resolutions of meetings, within 14 days, or against the decisions of the trustee within 30 days, to the Lord Ordinary or the sheriff. (128.) Unless where there is special provision otherwise, decisions of sheriffs are reviewable by the Inner House within 21 days, the Lord Ordinary giving judgment during vacation. (129.) The Lord Ordinary's judgments are reviewable in common form. (130.) The sheriff may regulate interim possession during dependence of appeals, &c. (131.) The sequestration is not interrupted by an appeal to the House of Lords. (132.) Practitioners before the Court of Session may act as agents in sequestrations before sheriffs, being entitled only to Sheriff Court fees. (133.) Each trustee must, on 31st October yearly, deliver a return of all sequestrations in which he is trustee, to the sheriff-clerk, by whom they are transmitted to the Bill-chamber, to be filed and made patent to all concerned. (134.) After a final division the trustee may call a meeting, on 21 days' notice in the Gazette and intimation by letter to the creditors, to sanction his discharge. He may then apply to the Lord Ordinary or the sheriff, who will hear objections. If the discharge be pronounced by the sheriff, it has to be confirmed by the Lord Ordinary. (135.) The trustee before discharge must transmit his sederunt-book to the Bill-chamber clerks, who will intimate to him a bank in which he is to deposit unclaimed dividends. A register of unclaimed dividends is to be kept in the Bill-chamber, and any creditor entitled to any such dividend will be authorized to receive it (without interest), on application to the Lord Ordinary. (136.) If there be any surplus it is to be paid to the bankrupt. (137.) Any person guilty of falsehood, on oath or affirmation under the Act, may be prosecuted by the Lord Advocate, or by the trustee authorized by a majority in value. The offender forfeits all claim on the estate. (138.) Documents may be either printed or written, and citations or services may be made without witnesses. (139.) New table of office-fees appointed. (140.) The bill-chamber clerks are not to receive farther fees than at the rate of 6d. per page of 150 words, for copies of interlocutors or other papers ordered. (141 and 142.) Compensation to be made to officers of Court and others in the usual terms. (143.) The Bill-chamber clerks to file the Edinburgh Gazette, which may be consulted for a fee of 6d. (144.) Table of charges appointed for advertisements in the Gazettes under this or the old Sequestration Act, and under the Cessio Act. (145.) Deeds and documents connected with sequestrations exempt from stamp-duty, and sales by auction exempt from duty when the excise regulations are followed. (146.) Acts of Sederunt may be passed for facilitating procedure under the Act, and fixing tables of fees for agents.

PRISON DISCIPLINE.

CAP. 42. An Act to improve Prisons and Prison Discipline in Scotland. August 17.

(1.) A General Board of Directors is established for carrying into effect the purposes of the Act, to consist of the Lord Justice-General, the Lord Justice-Clerk, the Lord Advocate, the Solicitor General, the Dean of Faculty for the time being; together with 14 other persons (5 of whom hold or have held the office of Sheriff-depute) appointed under the sign manual. The Board is to be styled, "The General Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland." It is to sit from time to time as may seem expedient. The crown may remove any member, and supply the vacancy. (2.) No Director is to receive emolument, or to be personally liable for any thing done by him bonâ fide in execution of the Act. Necessary expenses are to be paid out of the funds raised, and an account of them laid before Parliament. (3.) The crown may appoint a secretary with a salary recommended by the Board, and approved of by the Treasury. He is to find security, and be removable by the crown on the recommendation of the Board. The name of the secretary and his salary must be intimated to Parliament within 6 weeks, after the appointment, or after Parliament begins to sit if it have been made between sittings. (4.) Provision for enabling the Board to hold property, and to sue and be sued. (5.) The Board is to hold 2 general meetings in each year, the one upon the 2d Wednesday of January, and the other upon the 2d Wednesday of September, 5 to be a quorum, and the Board to have power to adjourn. Special meetings may be called by the secretary upon requisition by any 2 members. (6.) The General Board may name Committees to transact the business in whole or in part, and to report. (7.) The Board are to make "Rules for the management, good order and discipline of prisons and prisoners, and for the mode in which contracts shall be entered into and plans made for building, altering or repairing prisons, and supplying them with food and other articles of consumption, and for regulating the dietary of prisoners, and generally for carrying into effect the purposes of this Act;" subject to inspection of a Secretary of State, who may alter and add. (8.) The Board must keep a record, containing minutes of their meetings, and of meetings of committees, with accounts of receipt and expenditure. On or before 15th February annually, they must transmit to a Secretary of State a report of proceedings previous to 31st December preceding, containing the regulations for the management and discipline of prisons, with any alterations or additions by the Secretary of State, a statement of the prisons built or altered, with explanations of the designs, and an abstract of the receipts and expenditure, classifying the separate articles, and showing the source of the receipts and the purposes of the expenditure. A copy must be laid before both Houses within 14 days after 15th February, or (if Parliament be not assembled) after the next meeting. (9.) With exception of the general prison at Perth, which is to be under the General Board, each prison is to be under the management of a County Board, as after provided. (10.) The General Board is to authorize the commissioners of supply of counties, and the magistrates of burghs, liable to contribute not less than £30 of assessment, to appoint County Boards, consisting of such numbers of persons as may seem expedient, to be divided between the landward and burgh portions, as nearly as may be according to the proportions of their respective assessments. (11.) The commissioners in the year 1840, and thereafter at their annual meetings on the 30th April, are to appoint the members of the County Boards according to the number authorized, and the magistrates of burghs are to appoint their respective proportions at annual meetings in the month of April. Each such County Board is to remain in office one year, and the members may be re-elected. The Sheriff of each county (or in his absence his substitute acting at the head or returning burgh), is by virtue of his office to be a member. (12.) Each County Board to hold its first meeting at a place fixed by the sheriff on the 3d Wednesday of May annually, notice being given in 2 newspapers. A chairman and convener is to be elected, having a casting vote. Each County Board is, from time to time, to hold meetings within the county, and under the direction of the General Board to fix rules of procedure. Each board may appoint committees, with powers defined in the minutes of appointment. Three make a quorum. (13.) Members are to derive no emolument, and not to be responsible for proceedings in terms of the Act. No sheriff is to be disqualified as a judge by reason of his being a member. (14.) Members of the General Board may attend County Boards, giving opinions but not votes. Each County Board must furnish to the General Board such information as to its proceedings as may from time to time be required. (15.) The County Boards are (subject to the directions of the General Board) to have the management of the local prisons, and to direct "the building, altering, and repairing the said prisons, the providing of food, and all other articles of consumption used therein, the furnishing instruction and employment to the prisoners, and the appointment of keepers, chaplains, medical officers, clerks, and teachers, and all other persons proper to be employed, and the suspension of the persons so appointed until the cause of suspension shall be judged of and decided by the General Board; and such County Boards shall be charged with the well-ordering and discipline of their several prisons; and shall (subject always, however, to the approval of the said General Board) fix the salaries to be paid to the keepers and other persons employed in such prisons, and to the clerk of the County Board: Provided always, that the chaplains to be so appointed to the general prison and prisons aforesaid, shall be ministers or licentiates of the Established Church," &c. (16.) Failing County Boards, by non-appointment or otherwise, the General Board is to act. (17.) Disputes between the General and any County Board (except as to additional assessment for buildings) are to be referred to a Secretary of State. (18.) On 1st July 1840, all obligations on magistrates and others, as to prisons, are to cease. The funds raised in terms of the Act are not to be liable for the escape of any prisoner, reserving action against the gaoler for neglect. These provisions are not to affect existing engagements, or obligations on the crown relative to prisons or prisoners. (19.) From the above date all prison fees are abolished. (20.) From the same date all existing local prisons and prison funds are to be vested in the County Boards. (21.) Where prisons forming parts of buildings are disposed of, the proprietors of the other parts are entitled to pre-emption. Small prisons may be discontinued, and portions of prisons may be given up to extend the accommodation of court-houses gratis, with consent of the General Board. (22.) The administration of the General Board commences on the 1st July, and thenceforward they may, by a writing published in the Edinburgh Gazette and otherwise, as they may think proper, intimate from time to time "the names and situations of all prisons," and the description of prisoners to be received in them. They may authorize County Boards to discontinue and dispose of, take down, rebuild, alter, or erect prisons, with similar intimation. The General Board have to appoint keepers, chaplains, medical officers, teachers, and other persons required for the general prison at Perth, and to assign remuneration; and they may remove such officers, whether in the general or local prisons, authorizing compensation, where just, to persons in office at the passing of the Act. The General Board, through themselves or the County Boards, regulate the treatment and diet of civil and criminal prisoners, "and of separating and setting them to work, and taking all due means to train them in good and industrious habits." The Boards are not authorized to set to work any civil or untried criminal prisoners without their own consent; but civil prisoners submitting to the rules of the prison, as to work, are to be entitled to the usual diet. (23.) The Queen in Council may direct public buildings at Perth to be granted to the General Board. (24.) The property which is to be vested in the County Board, as the prison of Dundee, limited. (25.) An addition to be made to the assessment of the county of Forfar, to pay the interest of the debt incurred in building the Dundee prison, and provide a sinking fund at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum on the principal. (26.) The General Board are to enlarge and complete the central prison at Perth, adapting it to the custody of criminals sentenced for not less than 6 months' imprisonment. Provision must also be made for local prisons in such situations as the General Board may think suitable, including one at every circuit town, and every town in which the Sheriff holds criminal courts. The prisons are to be so constructed as to give facilities for training the prisoners in good and industrious habits, by effecting their separation from vicious society, affording them instruction, and employing them in labour. (27.) When the general prison is declared by the Board to be ready to receive prisoners, all prisoners, whose period has more than 6 months to run, may be directed to be confined in it, and when a court sentences a person to imprisonment for 1 year or upwards, there is to be a special order for imprisonment in the general prison. When the sentence is for less than a year, and more than 6 months, it is optional to commit to the general prison; but it is incompetent to send prisoners for less than 6 months to the general prison. These provisions are not to infringe on "the power of the Court of Justiciary to sentence any prisoner to continement and detention in a particular gaol." (28.) Separate confinement under the provisions of the Act is not to be deemed solitary confinement within the meaning of any law forbidding solitary confinement beyond a limited time: but no cell is to be used for separate confinement which is not of such a size, and lighted, warmed, ventilated, and fitted up in such manner as may be required by a due regard to health, and furnished with the means of communicating with an officer of the prison. Every prisoner separately confined must have the means of taking air and exercise as directed by the surgeon, and must be furnished with employment, unless the General Board withhold it,—which they may do for a period not exceeding a month at a time. All prisoners are to be furnished with the means of moral and religious instruction, and no books are to be admitted but those chosen by the chaplain for members of the Established Church, and by the Boards for the use of other prisoners; the keeper preserving a catalogue. Any difference of opinion between the chaplain and the Prison Board, as to the books for prisoners belonging to the Establishment, is referable to the presbytery of the bounds. (29.) The law as to aliment of civil prisoners is to remain as at present. (30.) The General Board may contract with managers of asylums for the custody of insane criminal prisoners, reserving recourse against their estates. (31.) The General Board may direct the removal of prisoners from one prison to another in the same county, the removal being entered in the books of the former. The Courts of Session and Justiciary may remove civil and criminal prisoners respectively, from county to county, on application from the General Board. The prisoner and the County Board must receive 14 days' warning, and any communication from the prisoner must be laid before the Court. Where the removal is occasioned by want of accommodation, the county from which the prisoner is moved pays to that to which he is moved double the expense of conveyance and maintenance. (32.) Where a burgh gaol is discontinued, prisoners are to be committed by Magistrates to the nearest gaol. (33.) Where imprisonment expires on Sunday, the prisoner is not to be released till next day. (33.) The General Board may direct prisoners, when the expiration of sentence approaches, to be taken from the general to the local prison near their residence, or may provide for their travelling expenses. (35.) The expense of fitting up the general prison is to be met thus: £10,000 to be paid out of the consolidated fund, and the remainder, not exceeding £20,000, by the counties and burghs, according to a scale to be framed on a combined estimate of the amount of population and crime in the counties, the assessment not in any one year exceeding £2000. The Board in making the estimate are first to calculate what each county would contribute if the assessment depended on population alone, and then what each would contribute according to crime alone, and the half of the two amounts is the assessment. The General Board must give notice of apportionment to the convener of each county and the chief magistrate of each burgh, on or before the 15th April. (36.) The expense of establishing local prisons is to be defrayed by assessment on the respective counties, not in any one year exceeding in each county what it would be liable to, on the footing of £10,000 being assessed for the year upon all the counties, in the same manner as the above £2000, unless the Commissioners assembled to choose the County Board (or at an adjourned meeting, not later than 30th November), and magistrates of the several burghs, specially consent. If such addition be consented to, it may be spread over any number of years not beyond the continuance of the Act. The General Board may borrow money on the credit of the assessment. (37.) The current expenses connected with the general prison are to be paid by the respective counties in each year, according to the number of prisoners sent from them during the preceding year, and the lengths of their imprisonments. Where there is a deficiency in any one year, it is to be made up by the next assessment, and on occasion of a surplus there is to be a correspondent abatement. The amount necessary to be assessed is certified by the General Board. To meet the expenses of the first year £5000 are to be assessed in the same manner as the above £2000. (38.) The current expenses of county gaols are to be defrayed by the counties by annual assessment, calculated each year on the expenses of the preceding year, deficiencies and surpluses being provided for as per § 37. The County Board is to fix the amount annually in the month of September. When a prisoner is sentenced to confinement in a county which is not the county in which his crime was committed, there is relief for the expense against the county where it was committed. (39.) The assessments on counties are to be divided between the burghs and landward parts, according to their relative population, the General Board giving notice to the conveners and chief magistrates of the apportionment. (40.) The General Board must annually, before 15th February, transmit to a Secretary of State an estimate of the sums required for the current year, which must not be acted upon until a month after it has been laid before Parliament by the Secretary of State. (41.) The landward portions of the assessment are to be assessed by the commissioners, on property in the valuation-books according to the valued rent, on houses and on land not in the books at the annual value, so that,—for every £5 Scots assessed on £100 valued rent, there shall be 1d. sterling on every £1 sterling where annual value is taken. Houses which, by being situated on lands valued in the books, are liable to a higher assessment than if the houses were valued in terms of the Act, are not liable to the separate assessment on houses. The commissioners must transmit the sums free of expenses of collection (which they are to provide for in the assessment), through an incorporated bank to the County Board which transmits its proper proportion to the General Board. (42.) On one month's advertisement through 2 local newspapers, by the Clerk of Supply, acting at the requisition of 7 Commissioners, landward parts of counties may, instead of the above plan, be assessed according to the real annual value of the lands, teinds, fishings, mills, mines, minerals, lime-works, brick-works, iron-works, factories and manufacturing establishments, coal-works, quarries, canals, railways, houses, buildings and pertinents, or may be assessed according to any other manner in use in the county for any public purpose. Any valuation which it is requisite to make must be made by sworn valuators, at intervals of not less than 3 years. (43.) Where a canal or railway passes through more than one county, the proportion of its annual value for each must be in proportion to the distance it passes through. (44.) Special provisions for assessment in Orkney and Zetland, and Ross and Cromarty. (45.) The assessment in landward districts may be levied either on the proprietor or the tenant, a tenant who pays being entitled to deduct the amount from his rent. The assessment on houses, when of very small amount, may be postponed, to the effect of collecting 2 or more years' assessment at one time. (46.) The assessment apportioned on burghs is, together with a sum to meet the expense of collection, &c. to be levied by the magistrates, with the same powers of recovery which they possess as to any police or other assessment with which they may think fit to collect it. They are to remit to the County Board, as per § 41. (47.) Where there is no police or other assessment, or it appears to the magistrates inexpedient to levy the assessment along with any other, it may be made on the annual value of property in such manner as the magistrates may think just, sworn valuators being appointed, and the money remitted as above. (48.) The "annual value" of the various kinds of property is to be taken to be "the rent at which, one year with another, the same might in their actual state be reasonably expected to let from year to year, under deduction of the probable annual average cost of the repairs, insurance, and other expenses," and of public burdens. No mine is to be assessed, unless it has been worked during some part of the year preceding the day on which the assessment is to be levied. (49.) Where there is a surplus of the common good and revenues of a burgh, it may be applied in payment of the assessment. (50.) The assessment within burghs is payable by the tenant, who will be entitled to deduct one-half from his rent. The terms of payment are to be fixed by the magistrates, who may direct one-half to be levied directly upon proprietors. Where the rent is under £5, the magistrates may remit, on account of poverty, the whole or any part. (51.) Tenants building on their lands are to be assessed as the proprietors of the houses built by them. (52.) For local prisons for the custody of prisoners after conviction only, the commissioners of 2 or more counties, and the magistrates of the burghs within them, at the meetings to elect County Boards, may form a union upon such terms as they may agree upon, and as may be confirmed by the General Board. In the towns of Coupar-Angus and Galashiels, prisoners may be admitted before conviction into any prison maintained at the mutual expense of the adjoining counties within which these towns are situated. (53.) The commissioners for the issue of exchequer bills in aid of public works, may make advances to the General or County Boards, on the security of the property and assessments at their disposal. (54.) The securities for such advances are not to be affected by informalities. (55.) All sums payable to or on account of any of the Boards must, without delay, be paid into one of the incorporated banks, and the account kept can only be operated on by the drafts of not less than 3 of the directors. Any secretary, or person intrusted with the receipt of money, retaining any sum exceeding £50 beyond the time necessary for paying it into bank, becomes liable in a penalty at the rate of £5 for every £100 for each day during which it is unnecessarily retained. (56.) The Secretaries of State, or persons appointed by them, Lord Lieutenants of the several counties, Privy Councillors, Judges of the Court of Session, and members of the General Board,—and also Sheriffs, Conveners, Justices of the Peace, Magistrates of Burghs, Members of the County Prison Boards, and "Committees of not more than 3 of the Councillors of Burghs to be appointed by such Commissioners and Magistrates respectively," all within their several counties and burghs,—and also persons to whom the Board may grant permission,—are authorized to visit and inspect the state and condition of the prisons, and discipline of prisoners, and report their observations to the General Board. Such persons are entitled to copies of the annual Reports, if they desire them. (57.) The boundaries of burghs for the purposes of the Act, are those fixed in terms of the Reform Act, 2d & 3d Wm. IV. c. 65. In any burgh, however, in which the jurisdiction of the magistrates does not extend over the whole boundaries, part of the portion so excluded may likewise be excluded for the purposes of this Act, to such extent as may be mutually agreed on by the magistrates and commissioners, or, in case of disagreement, determined by the Sheriff. If the boundaries of any burgh be not determined in terms of the Reform Act, they are to be determined by agreement between the magistrates and commissioners, and failing such agreement, by the Sheriff. Where a burgh is situated partly in one county and partly in another, the boundaries are to be determined by the commissioners of the two counties and the magistrates of the two divisions, or in case of disagreement, by the Sheriff of that county in which the greater part is situated. Notice of all such agreements must be sent to the General Board before 13th November 1840. Where a burgh is divided into two or more municipalities, the magistrates for the purposes of this Act, are to be the magistrates of that division which contains the greatest population. (58.) Provision made for heirs of entail, corporations, and other limited proprietors disposing of property for the purposes of the Act. (59.) Sums below £20 may, in such cases, be paid over to the sellers. Larger sums are to be at the direction of the court, for disposal in terms of the destination of the property disposed of. (60.) All disputes between commissioners or magistrates and parties assessed, or otherwise, if it be not expedient to bring them before the Sheriff's Small Debt Court, are to be summarily decided by the Sheriff, whose decision is final, except in the case of a canal or railway passing through more than one county, the proprietors of which may appeal to the Court of Session. (61.) If Commissioners, Magistrates, and others refuse to put the Act in force, or any interruption take place, the Board may apply for redress, during Session to the Court of Session, and during vacation to the Ordinary on the Bills. (62.) The whole powers for collecting "the land and assessed taxes, or either of them, and other public taxes," are to be applicable to the assessments under the Act; "and the Sheriffs, Magistrates, Justices of the Peace, and other Judges, may grant the like warrants for recovery of all such assessments in the same form, and under the same penalties, as is provided in regard to such land and assessed taxes, and other public taxes." The assessments, in the case of bankruptcy or insolvency, are to be preferable to all private debts. (63.) Interpretation clause. (64.) All Acts inconsistent with this Act to be held as repealed on 1st July 1840. (65.) The Act is to continue till the expiry of 10 years from 1st Jan. 1841, and thence to the end of the then next Session of Parliament.

PENSIONS' ASSIGNMENT.

CAP. 51. An Act to regulate the Payment and Assignment in certain cases of Pensions granted for service in her Majesty's Army, Navy, Royal Marines, and Ordnance. August 17.

(1.) 6th Geo. IV. c. 27, as to assignments of such pensions in Scotland, repealed. (2.) Provision that when persons having such pensions, or their wives or families, are admitted to workhouses, the immediately ensuing payment of the pension may be received by the guardians or managers, —the surplus (if any) being paid to the pensioner. (3.) When a pensioner applies to the heritors or kirk-session for temporary relief, it is lawful but not compulsory on them, to grant it, and to require him to assign his next quarter's pension to the effect that the relief may be refunded. If any pecuniary dispute arise in the matter, it is to be finally settled by a Justice of Peace. (4.) Where a pensioner leaves his family chargeable on a parish, two or more Justices, on complaint of the heritors and kirk-session, may direct, in the case of a wife or one child, one-half of his pension; in the case of a wife and child, or of two or more children, two-thirds of it,—to be paid to the parish. Where a wife is shown to be notoriously profligate, or to have cohabited with another man, the Justices may refuse the order. (5.) In the case of a pensioner being insane, if a Justice of Peace certify the same, the pension may be paid to the heritors or kirk-session, or to the relative having charge of the insane person. (6.) The provisions of 11th Geo. IV. c. 20, for paying over the pensions of insane mariners, &c. in the navy to their relatives, extended to the case of the civil servants in the navy. (7.) If there should be a double assignment in any case, preference is to be given to the prior one. (8.) The pensions of persons assigning them otherwise than in terms of the Act may be forfeited. Any person accessory to the receiving of such assignment is liable to fine and imprisonment. (9.) Any one forging or uttering an assignment, or other document connected with the payment of a pension, is liable to transportation at the discretion of the Court.

POSTAGE DUTIES.

CAP. 52. An Act for the further Regulation of the Duties on Postage, until the 5th October 1840. August 17.

(1.) The Treasury may at any time alter and reduce rates of postage, and adjust them to a scale of weights, deciding whether the postage is to be paid on the posting or receipt of letters. Warrants making alterations must be published in the London Gazette 10 days before they come into operation. (3.) The Treasury may suspend or modify the franking privilege. (4.) The Treasury may wholly or in part suspend the operation of any penny post, and subject them to the rules of the general post. (5.) The Treasury may provide that letters on stamped paper or in stamped covers shall pass free, the stamp indicating the rate of postage. (10.) The penalties and gratuities applied by 7th Wm. IV. and 1st Vict. c. 36, to masters of vessels bound for Ceylon, &c. (see Almanac for 1838, p. 123), in respect to the conveyance of letters are to apply to the masters of all vessels outward bound. (11.) The Treasury may regulate remuneration for masters conveying letters coastwise, or between the United Kingdom and the Channel Islands, or between the colonies. (12.) The word "letter" is to include "newspapers, and any other packet, paper, article, or thing transmitted by the post." Newspapers not losing their present privilege.

SOAP-DUTIES.

CAP. 63. An Act to remove Doubts as to charging the Duty of Excise on Hard Soap until 11*th October* 1840. August 24. (See above, explanation to cap. 23.)

ROGUE MONEY.

CAP. 65. An Act to amend the Mode of assessing the Rogue Money in Scotland, and to extend the purposes of such Assessment. August 24.

(1.) The Commissioners of Supply of any county may (at a meeting due notice of which has been given in the local papers, by the clerk of supply, one month previously, on the requisition of 10 Commissioners) make an assessment for a constabulary force, to be levied and collected as part of the Rogue Money. (2.) The Commissioners may determine on assessing and collecting the Rogue Money and additional assessment in the same manner as the prison-discipline assessment for the landward parts of counties. (See above, p. 124.) (3.) Royal burghs, those having police acts, and those which have taken the benefit of the general police act (3d and 4th Wm. IV. c. 46), are not to be assessed. (4.) Counties may unite for the purposes of the Act, on such terms as their respective Commissioners may agree on. (5.) The Commissioners must annually, at Whitsunday, publish an account of their receipt and expenditure under the Act,—a copy being furnished to each Commissioner who applies for it, and one being transmitted to the Queen's Remembrancer. (6.) If the method of the Prisons' Act be adopted, the assessment is to be levied according to its terms. The powers for the recovery of the land and assessed taxes are to be applicable to this assessment. (7.) Disputes, though not adapted for settlement in the Sheriff's small debt court, may be finally settled by the Sheriff on summary petition.

STAGE-CARRIAGE DUTIES.

CAP. 66. An Act to reduce certain of the Duties now payable on Stage-Carriages. August 24.

Duties of 2d and 3d Wm. IV. reduced. Carriages licensed to carry not more than 6 passengers to pay 1d. per mile; those licensed to carry more than 6, and not more than 10, 1½d. per mile. For each additional 3 passengers, ½d per mile. The proprietor of every carriage on which a wrong statement as to the number it is licensed for is marked, forfeits £5.

PATENTS' EXTENSION.

CAP. 67. An Act to amend an Act of the 5th and 6th Years of the Reign of Wm. IV., intituled an Act to amend the Law touching Letters Patent for Inventions. August 24.

In applying, in terms of 5th & 6th Wm. IV. c. 83, for extension of a patent for 7 years, it is not necessary that proceedings should have been completed before expiry of the original 14 years, if the delay be not attributable to the patentee himself. The petition must be presented, however, 6 months before expiry of the 14 years.

65. An Act for further improving and maintaining the Harbour of the Burgh of Regality of Fraserburgh, in the County of Aberdeen.

70. An Act to enable the Monkland and Kirkintulloch Railway Company to raise a further sum of money; and to amend the Acts relating to the said undertaking.

82. An Act for extending and enlarging an Act passed in the 7th Wm. IV., for making and maintaining a Turnpike Road from Annisland Toll-bar in the County of Lanark; and for making and maintaining another branch road, to be called Saint George's Road, in connexion with the said road.

A LIST OF THE ACTS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND CONVENED AT EDINBURGH MAY 16, 1839, WITH AN ABRIDGMENT OF THE LEGISLATIVE PARTS.

I. Commission to Lord Belhaven.

II. Her Majesty's Letter

III. The Assembly's Answer.

IV. Commission to certain Ministers and Ruling Elders for discussing affairs referred to them.

V. Commission to some Ministers and Ruling Elders for the Reformation of the Highlands and Islands of Scotland, and for managing Her Majesty's Royal Bounty.

VI. Act in favour of India Missions.

VII. Act anent the Representation of Presbyteries.

In pursuance of the principle of the Acts of 1694, 1712, and 1835, by which the Representatives of Presbyteries are proportioned in number to the ministerial charges;—in future, Presbyteries with more than 48 charges are to send 9 Ministers and 4 ruling Elders; and those with more than 54 charges, 10 ministers and 5 elders. Where a Principal or Professor of Divinity has a seat in a Presbytery by virtue of his office alone, it is held as a ministerial charge.

VIII. Act anent Re-union with Seceders.—(Approved of by majority of Presbyteries.)

(1.) Congregations of the Associate Synod may be received into the Presbyteries of their respective localities on presentation of a Memorial signed in name of the Session, and if there be Managers, in their name, as also by a preses of a meeting of members. If the Presbytery refuse, an appeal lies to the Assembly. (2.) On the reception of such a congregation into a Presbytery, the Managers, or the Kirk-session and Deacons—if Managers, are to take steps for procuring a constitution, and having a territorial district assigned. (3.) Every Associate Minister, at his admission as member of Presbytery, and every ruling Elder, before taking his seat as a member of Presbytery, Synod, or Assembly, must subscribe the Confession of Faith and Formula. (4.) The Church is to recognise the integrity of the Kirk-sessions and existing congregations of the Synod, and their right to grant sealing ordinances to members of their congregations, though beyond the bounds of the parish allotted, provided such persons were members at the passing of the Act. (5.) No provision is to be required for Associate Ministers joining the Church, different from existing arrangements; but the laws affecting the Church of Scotland must be observed in the case of future intrants. (6.) The licentiates of the Associate Synod are to be received as other probationers within the bounds, and to enjoy the same privileges, on their making application to the Presbytery, and signing the Confession and Formula. (7.) The Students of Divinity of the Associate Synod, at the time of the passing of the Act, are, on producing evidence of having finished their course under the Professor of the Synod, to be taken on trials by the Presbytery of the bounds. Existing students who have not finished their studies, may complete them under that Professor, or in the Universities. (8.) Associate congregations out of Scotland, expressing a desire to be recognised by the Church of Scotland, are to be in the same position with other congregations so situated and connected with that Church.

IX. Act anent the Establishment and Endowment of a Professorship of Biblical Criticism.—(Approved of by majority of Presbyteries.)

Directions that efforts be made for establishing such classes in all the Universities, and when they are established, Students in Divinity are to attend them during two years of their attendance at the Divinity Hall.

X. Act recommending collections for the four Schemes of the General Assembly.

XI. Act on the Conversion of the Jews.

XII. Act anent the Qualification of Representative Elders.—(Approved of by majority of Presbyteries.)

No one to be qualified as a ruling Elder for any Presbytery, Synod, or Assembly, who is not bona fide an acting Elder in the congregation in which he holds office; the qualification to be certified by Kirk-sessions in commissions to Presbyteries and Synods, and a similar certificate to be produced with each commission to the Assembly. The Act not to extend to "Teaching Elders," or Theological Professors.

XIII. Overture and Interim Act, with Regulations for carrying into effect the Act of Assembly, May 29, 1835, on the Calling of Ministers.

This is in the same terms as Interim Act of 1838 (See Almanac 1838, p. 132, and 1839, p. 151). There is a direction that Presbyteries "Report all disputed cases to next Gen. Assembly."

XIV. Injunctions to Synods for visiting Presbytery Books.

XV. Act appointing the diet of next General Assembly.—(On 21st May 1840.)

* In a few instances the returns of the Constituency made to the Publishers by the Clerks include all those at any time placed on the rolls, which have not been purged by the removal of such as have died or become disqualified. This circumstance must affect to some extent the following Table, exhibiting the numbers of the Constituencies in the Counties and Burghs in the month of October in each year since the date of the Act 2d and 3d Wm. IV. cap. 65, "to amend the representation of the people in Scotland."

Year.	Counties.	Burghs.	Total.	Year.	Counties.	Burghs.	Total.
1832	33,115	31,332	64,447	1836	43,350	40,905	84,255
1833	34,976	32,750	67,726	1837	45,083	37,708	82,791
1834	36,823	36,162	72,985	1838	46,480	36,381	82,861
1835	41,658	39,667	81,325	1839	47,209	35,312	82,521

Of the 33,115 county electors in 1832, 3211 were on the roll of freeholders; the difference, 29,904 shows the number of county electors called into existence by the statute. The returns of the voters in burghs in 1833 being in some instances defective, the number stated for that year is below the truth.

SECTION II.—ENGLAND.

ENGLAND AND WALES.

EXTENT.—The length of England and Wales, from Portland Bill, Dorsetshire, in lat. 50° 31′ N., to Berwick-on-Tweed, in lat. 55° 46′ N., is 363 miles; the extreme breadth, from the North Foreland, Kent, in long. 1° 26′ E. to the Land's End, Cornwall, in long. 5° 41′ W. is 320 miles. The area of England is 50,387 square miles, or 32,247,680 acres;* that of Wales, 7425 square miles, or 4,752,000 acres; that of England and Wales, 57,812 square miles, or 36,999,680 acres. Of the 52 counties into which they are divided, England contains 40, Wales, 12. It is estimated that the cultivated acres in England are about 25,632,000; the uncultivated, 3,454,000; the unprofitable, 3,256,400; that in Wales the cultivated acres are 3,117,000; the uncultivated, 530,000; the unprofitable, 1,105,000.

POPULATION.—The progress from 1801 to 1831, as ascertained by decennial census, is exhibited in the following Table:—

	1801.	Inc. p.ct.	1811.	Inc. p.ct.	1821.	Inc. p.ct.	1831.
							Males.	Females.	Total.
England	8,331,434	14	9,538,827	18	11,261,437	16	6,376,627	6,714,378	13,091,005
Wales..	541,546	13	611,788	17	717,438	12	394,563	411,619	806,182
Totals	8,872,980	14	10,150,615	18	11,978,875	16	6,771,190	7,125,997	13,897,187

In 1831 the number of inhabited houses in England and Wales was 2,481,544; houses uninhabited, 119,915; and houses building, 24,759. In the same year the number of families in England and Wales was 2,911,874; of which chiefly employed in agriculture, 834,543; in trade, manufactures, and handicraft, 1,227,614; not comprised in these two classes, 849,717; the number of males 20 years of age was 3,394,690.

* It will be observed that the area assigned to the several counties in the Table at p. 249, amounts to no more than 31,770,615 acres; "no attempt," says the editor of the Population Returns, "to reconcile this apparent discrepancy (of one sixty-seventh part) has been deemed allowable."

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, Founded 1836.

This Institution was erected by letters-patent, of date the 28th Nov. 1836, which confer on it the power of granting degrees in Arts, Law, and Medicine, under regulations to be determined by the University, with the approbation of the Secretary of State. By a second charter, dated 5th Dec. 1837, some of the powers granted in the first were modified, and two new members of Senate were named. The Senate is appointed "for the purpose of ascertaining, by means of examination, the persons who have acquired proficiency in Literature, Science, and Art, and of rewarding them by Academical Degrees, as evidence of their respective attainments, and marks of honour proportioned thereto." The right of nominating the Chancellor and Fellows is reserved in the Crown; the Vice-Chancellor is to be elected annually by the Fellows and Members of the Senate.

PART FOURTH.

Scotland.

EXTENT.

The length of the mainland of Scotland, from the Mull of Galloway, county of Wigtown, in lat. 54° 39′ N. to Dunnet Head, Caithness-shire, in lat. 58° 40′ N. is 278 miles; the breadth, from Buchan-ness, Aberdeenshire, in long. 1° 47′ W. to the most westerly point in Ross-shire, in long. 5° 52′ W. is 150 miles. The area, including the islands, is 32,167 square miles, or 20,586,880 acres; of which it is estimated that 5,485,000 acres are cultivated, 6,062,000 uncultivated, and 9,039,930 unprofitable. The number of counties is thirty-three; the number of parishes in 1831 was 948. The valued rent in 1677 was £3,804,221 scots; the annual value of the lands and houses in 1748 was estimated at £822,857 sterling; in 1815 it was assessed at £6,652,655.

CLIMATE.

The climate of Scotland is in a great measure determined by its position in the northern half of the temperate zone, modified by the waters of the Atlantic. The influence of this immense reservoir of heat and moisture extends throughout the whole land, the distance from sea to sea being nowhere sufficient to destroy its effects. Hence the extremes of heat and cold common to the same latitudes are never felt, the mean annual temperature of the kingdom being about 46½°. At Edinburgh it is 47·8°; winter being 38·6°; spring, 46·4°; summer, 58·2°; and autumn, 48·4°: the mean of the coldest month is 38·3°, of the warmest, 59·4°. At Sumburgh Head, in Shetland, the effect of the sea in mitigating the rigour of the cold in winter and of the summer heat is very perceptible; the mean of the year being 45·5°; of winter, 40°; spring, 43·29°; summer, 50·63°; and of autumn, 47·48°. The change produced by difference of elevation is considerable, the thermometer falling one degree Fahr. for every 70 or 80 yards of ascent. From a series of half-hourly observations made at Leith, it appears that the mean of any two hours of the same name does not vary one degree from the true mean, this being found about 9¼ A. M., and 8½ P. M.

The barometer in Scotland has a considerable range, and its changes are often great and sudden. In the south and middle counties it is about 2·8 inches, whilst in the Orkneys it is said to be three inches.

The quantity of rain that falls at any place is much affected, both by its situation in a level or hilly district, and also by its nearness to the east or west coasts. The average of the whole country is calculated at 31 inches, that of the eastern counties being 26½, and of the western 37. At Edinburgh it is 23½, whilst at Glasgow it is 29·65 inches. The western coast, however, differs from the eastern more in the mode of distribution of the rain throughout the year, than even in its quantity; for, whilst the days of rain or snow in the first are 205, and of fair weather 160; in the second the fair days are 230, and the wet 135.

The prevailing winds in Scotland are from the west and south-west. There is little difference in this respect between the opposite sides of the island. the wind on both blowing about 230 days from westerly points, and 135 from easterly.

III. RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

FOUR Reports of the Royal Commission for inquiring into the Opportunities of Public Religious Worship, and Means of Religious Instruction, and the Pastoral Superintendence afforded to the People of Scotland, were presented to Parliament in the Sessions of 1837 and 1838. An analysis of them will be found in the Almanac for 1838, pp. 295, 296, and the Almanac for 1839, p. 313-316. Five Reports have been presented in the session of 1839.

The Fifth Report is devoted to parishes in the northern counties. Of the 103 parishes which are comprised in it, 5 are in the Synod of Glenelg and Presbytery of Abertarf; 29 are in the Synod of Moray, viz. 7 in the Presbytery of Inverness, 4 in that of Nairn, 3 in that of Forres, 2 in that of Elgin, 3 in that of Aberlour, 5 in that of Abernethy, and 5 in that of Strathbogie; 55 are in the Synod of Aberdeen, viz. 7 in the Presbytery of Fordyce, 6 in that of Turriff, 11 in that of Deer, 2 in that of Ellon, 5 in that of The Garioch, 3 in that of Alford, 3 in that of Kincardine O'Neil, and 18 in that of Aberdeen; 14 are in the Synod of Angus and the Mearns, viz. 3 in the Presbytery of Fordoun, 5 in that of Brechin, and 6 in that of Forfar. The total population of these 103 parishes is about 284,727, of whom about 210,137 belong to the Established Church, about 41,959 belong to other denominations, and about 6520 are not known to belong to any denomination. The total number of sittings in parochial churches is about 86,304; in churches of other denominations about 51,300; in all about 137,604. The deficiency in the opportunity of public religious worship, and in the means of religious instruction or pastoral superintendence, alleged to exist in these parishes, is by the ministers attributed, in 34 parishes, to too great population; in 44 to the territorial extent of the parishes; in 30 to obstructed access; in 24 to the inconvenient division of the parishes; in 4 to ministers having to officiate in more than one church; in 9 to the inconvenient situation of the parish churches; in 31 to the inadequate size of the parish churches; in 23 to the unequal allotment of sittings; in 6 to the condition of the parish churches; in 24 to seat-rents; in 24 to want of endowments.

The only parishes in this Report in regard to which the Commissioners consider it necessary to make any farther statement are those which comprehend the city and suburbs of ABERDEEN, as classed in the census of 1831. This "united district," comprehending 14 parishes (of which 7, one of which is a collegiate charge, are endowed, and 7 without endowment), contained a population of 58,019, according to the census of 1831; of 59,465, according to the parish ministers' census; of 55,160, according to the Dissenters' survey. Of the 59,465 persons returned in the parish ministers' census, 39,649 belonged to the Established Church; 15,606 belonged to other denominations; and 4210 were not known to belong to any denomination. "In the abstract of the Dissenters' survey, which was laid before the Commissioners, there is not such a division of the population into religious denominations as admits of being compared with that made by the parochial clergy." The number of congregations was 38; of which there were of the Established Church 16 (including the seamen's chapel, which was without a permanent preacher, and not exclusively connected with any denomination, though for the last six or seven years a licentiate of the Established Church was employed as preacher, and excluding a chapel in King's College, which is open only during the college session, for the accommodation of the professors and students), and of other denominations 22, viz. Independent, 4; Episcopalian, 3; United Secession, 3; Original Burgher, 1; Apostolic, 1; Unitarian, 1; Wesleyan, 1; Massie's Hall, 1; Glassite, 1; Relief, 1; Roman Catholic 1; Society of Friends, 1; United Christian, 1; Original Seceder, 1; Baptist, 1. The accommodation provided by the churches of the Establishment amounted to 19,566 sittings; of which 17,031 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; and 2535 were set apart for letting, and not let. The number of sittings in places of worship belonging to other denominations was 13,519; of which 7532 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; and 5787 were set apart for letting, and not let. The total number of sittings in places of all denominations was 33,085; of which 24,563 are let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; 8322 are set apart for letting, and not let: in regard to the remaining 200, no information was obtained. It is stated that the average number of persons in attendance during the three consecutive months in which it is highest, appears to be 24,754, and the number in the habit of attending 34,348. "It is obvious, however, that the persons actually in the habit of attending must exceed the latter number."

The Sixth Report is devoted to parishes in the shires of Forfar, Perth, Stirling, and Fife. Of the 99 parishes which are comprised in it, 27 are in the Synod of Angus and the Mearns, viz. 7 in the Presbytery of Meigle, 9 in that of Arbroath, and 11 in that of Dundee; 50 are in the Synod of Perth and Stirling, viz. 14 in the Presbytery of Perth, 6 in that of Dunkeld, 10 in that of Weem, 5 in that of Auchterarder, 8 in that of Dunblane, and 7 in that of Stirling; 22 are in the Synod of Fife, viz. 6 in the Presbytery of Dunfermline, 10 in that of Kirkcaldy, 2 in that of Cupar, and 4 in that of St Andrews. The total population of these 99 parishes is about 306,563; of whom about 180,341 belong to the Established Church; about 72,297 belong to other denominations; and about 10,936 are not known to belong to any denomination. The total number of sittings in parochial churches is about 84,679; in churches of other denominations, about 72,892; in all, about 157,571. The deficiency in the opportunity of Public Religious Worship and in the means of Religious Instruction, or Pastoral Superintendence, alleged to exist in those parishes, is by the ministers attributed in 29 parishes to too great population; in 30 to the territorial extent of the parishes; in 20 to obstructed access; in 24 to the inconvenient division of the parishes; in 5 to ministers having to officiate in more than one church; in 15 to the inconvenient situation of the parish churches; in 39 to the inadequate size of the parish churches; in 12 to the unequal allotment of sittings; in 3 to the condition of the parish churches: in 25 to seat-rents; in 26 to want of endowments.

The only parishes in this Report in regard to which the Commissioners consider it necessary to make any farther statement, are those which comprehend the city and suburbs of DUNDEE, including under that head nine parishes quoad sacra, into which the quoad civilia parish of Dundee has recently been divided. This "united district," comprehending 9 parishes, contained a population of 53,468, according to the parish ministers' census (exhibiting an increase since 1831 of 8113), of whom 30,376 belonged to the Established Church, 15,630 belonged to other denominations; and 7462 were not known to belong to any denomination. "No survey had been taken by the Dissenters in Dundee, as had been done in the towns formerly reported on." The number of congregations was 37; of which there were of the Established Church 10 (including a Gaelic chapel belonging to the Established Church); of other denominations, 27, viz. United Secession, 4; Baptist, 3; Original Seceders, 1; Society of Friends, 1; Berean Paedo-Baptist, 1; Berean Baptist, 1; Ranken's Close Congregation, 1; Original Burgher 1; Congregational Church, 1; Old Scotch Independents, 1; New Jerusalem, 1; Wesleyan Methodist 1; United Methodist, 1; United Christian, 1; Apostolic, 1; Unitarian, 1; Relief, 1; Roman Catholic, 1; Episcopalian, 1; Reformed Presbyterian, 1; Primitive Methodist, 1; Glassite, 1. The accommodation provided by the churches of the Establishment amounted to 10,833 sittings; of which 8751 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; and 597 were set apart for letting, and not let. It is stated that for the three parishes of St Mary's, St Paul's, and Greyfriars, recently erected quoad sacra, there are only two parish churches, in which the ministers of those parishes officiate successively. The number of sittings in places of worship belonging to other denominations was 11,838; of which 8611 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; and 3227 were set apart for letting, and not let. The total number of sittings in places of all denominations was 22,671; of which 17,362 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; 3824 were set apart for letting, and not let; and of the remaining 1485 no information was obtained, owing to reasons explained in the Report. It is stated that the average number of persons in attendance during the three consecutive months in which it is highest, appears to be 19,214; the number in the habit of attending, 22,714. "It is obvious, however, that the persons actually in the habit of attending must very considerably exceed the latter number."

The Seventh Report is devoted to the shires of Linlithgow, Midlothian, Haddington, Peebles, Berwick, Roxburgh, Selkirk, Dumfries, Kirkcudbright, Wigtown, and Ayr. Of the 99 parishes which are comprised in it, 29 are in the Synod of Lothian and Tweeddale, viz. 9 in the Presbytery of Linlithgow, 1 in that of Biggar, 4 in that of Peebles, 10 in that of Dalkeith, and 5 in that of Haddington; 23 are in the Synod of The Merse and Teviotdale, viz. 3 in the Presbytery of Lauder; 2 in that of Dunse, 7 in that of Chirnside, 2 in that of Kelso, 6 in that of Jedburgh, and 3 in that of Selkirk; 15 are in the Synod of Dumfries, viz. 2 in the Presbytery of Langholm, 2 in that of Lochmaben, 5 in that of Annan, 5 in that of Dumfries, and 1 in that of Penpont; 19 are in the Synod of Galloway, viz. 9 in the Presbytery of Kirkcudbright, 3 in that of Wigtown, and 7 in that of Stranraer; and 13 are in the Synod of Glasgow and Ayr, viz. 13 in the Presbytery of Ayr. The total population of these 99 parishes is about 255,874; of whom about 167,363 belong to the Established Church; about 64,066 belong to other denominations; and about 6738 are not known to belong to any denomination. The total number of sittings in parochial churches is about 67,319; in churches of other denominations about 57,812; in all about 125,131. The deficiency in the opportunity of Public Religious Worship, and in the Means of Religious Instruction or Pastoral Superintendence, alleged to exist in these parishes, is by the ministers attributed, in 32 parishes, to too great population; in 34 to the territorial extent of the parishes; in 9 to obstructed access; in 18 to the inconvenient division of the parishes; in 2 to ministers having to officiate in more than one church; in 11 to the inconvenient situation of the parish churches; in 61 to the inadequate size of the parish churches; in 55 to the unequal allotment of sittings; in 17 to the condition of the parish churches; in 3 to seat-rents; in 20 to want of endowments.

The Eighth Report is devoted to the shires of Ayr, Lanark, Renfrew, Dumbarton, Argyll, Orkney and Shetland. Of the 106 parishes which are comprised in it, 65 are in the Synod of Glasgow and Ayr, viz. 5 in the Presbytery of Lanark, 10 in that of Irvine, 15 in that of Hamilton, 16 in that of Paisley, 11 in that of Greenock, and 8 in that of Dumbarton; 18 are in the Synod of Argyll, viz. 7 in the Presbytery of Dunoon, 5 in that of Inverary, and 6 in that of Cantire; 11 are in the Synod of Orkney, viz. 5 in the Presbytery of Cairston, 3 in that of Kirkwall, and 3 in that of the North Isles; and 12 are in the Synod of Shetland, viz. 6 in the Presbytery of Burravoe, and 6 in that of Lerwick. The total population of these 106 parishes is about 376,452; of whom about 192,864 belong to the Established Church; about 94,772 belong to other denominations; and about 16,459 are not known to belong to any denomination. The total number of sittings in parochial churches is about 98,746; in churches of other denominations, about 83,549; in all, about 182,295. The deficiency in the opportunity of Public Religious Worship, and in the Means of Religious Instruction or Pastoral Superintendence, alleged to exist in these parishes, is by the ministers attributed, in 55 parishes, to too great population; in 61 to the territorial extent of the parishes; in 32 to obstructed access; in 17 to the inconvenient division of the parishes; in 27 to ministers having to officiate in more than one church; in 10 to the inconvenient situation of the parish churches; in 60 to the inadequate size of the parish churches; in 19 to the unequal allotment of sittings; in 8 to the condition of the parish churches; in 30 to seat-rents; in 31 to want of endowments.

The only parishes embraced in this Report to which the Commissioners consider it necessary to make any special reference, are those which comprehend the town of PAISLEY and its suburbs, including under that head the whole territory lying within the boundaries of the three quoad civilia town parishes of Paisley, viz. the High, the Laigh, and Middle, and also the whole of the Abbey parish quoad civilia, with the exception of two portions recently erected into the quoad sacra parishes of Johnstone and Levern. This "united district," comprehending 8 parishes, contained, according to the parish ministers' census, a population of 50,514; of whom 23,719 belonged to the Established Church; 21,449 belonged to other denominations; and 5346 were not known to belong to any denomination. According to a survey made under the superintendence of a committee of Dissenters, the population within the Parliamentary Burgh was 47,230; of whom 19,812 belonged to the Established Church; 22,420 belonged to other religious denominations; and 4998 were not known to belong to any denomination. The number of congregations was 28; of which there were of the Established Church 8 (including one collegiate church, and the Gaelic church which had no parochial boundaries, but comprehended the whole Highland population of Paisley and its neighbourhood); of other denominations, 20, viz. United Secession, 5; Relief, 2; Roman Catholic, 1; Old Scotch Independents, 1; Primitive Methodists, 1; Episcopalian, 1; Reformed Presbyterian, 1; Holy Catholic Apostolic Church, 1; Berean Baptists, 1; Scottish Baptists, 1; Unitarians, 1; New Jerusalem, 1; Independents, 1; Original Burgher, 1; United Methodist, 1. The accommodation provided by the churches of the Establishment amounted to 10,840 sittings; of which 5770 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; 3589 were set apart for letting, and not let. The number of sittings in places of worship belonging to other denominations was 13,420; of which 8481 were let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; 3239 were set apart for letting, and not let. The total number of sittings in all places of worship was 24,260; of which 14,251 were ascertained to be let, allocated to persons having right, or specially set apart as free; 6828 to be set apart for letting, and not let; regarding the remaining 3181, the Commissioners were not furnished with specific information. It is stated that the average number of persons in attendance during the three consecutive months in which it is highest, appears to be 18,168; and the total number of persons in the habit of attending, 21,962; "but this last number must be below the real amount."

The Ninth and last Report relates to Revenues and Endowments.—1. Stipends. The greater part of the revenues and endowments of the clergy of the Established Church is derived from the parsonage teinds, the amount and application of which are explained in the Third Report. [See Almanac for 1839, pp. 314, 315.] In so far as the stipends arise from this source, the Commissioners have stated them at the same amount as in that Report, where their value is given on an average of the seven years from 1829 to 1835. Some corrections have been made; and in a very few cases the stipends may have been increased by recent augmentations. Some of the clergy have right to vicarage and fish teinds, the amount of which is stated, so far as it can be ascertained, when they are paid in money or are valued. The stipends of the ministers are in part derived from other sources. In quoad civilia parishes, where the stipend does not amount to £150 per annum, it is made up to that amount by a payment from Exchequer. In parishes where parliamentary churches have been erected, there is a fixed allowance of £120 per annum from Exchequer. In quoad civilia burgh parishes, the stipends are generally paid from the funds of the burgh: in Edinburgh and a few other towns, special funds are levied under act of Parliament. Seat-rents are in some cases, particularly in newly erected quoad sacra parishes, applied wholly or in part to the payment of stipends; and more rarely, the whole or part of the church-door collections is applied in the same manner. In certain cases there are funds mortified for the support of the clergy. In many instances, where the stipend is paid out of seat-rents and collections, it is fluctuating; but in all such cases a certain sum is secured by bond or otherwise, below which the stipend is not to fall.

2. Communion Elements.—In the sums paid from the teinds in name of stipend is included an allowance to each minister for providing communion elements. It has not been found practicable in all cases to separate this from the amount of the stipend. It may be stated generally to vary from £8, 6s. 8d. or £10, in country parishes, to £20 or more in extensive town parishes. "The same want of precise information as to the amount of this allowance, which, in parishes endowed from teinds, prevented us from separating it from the stipend, also prevented us, in the case of parishes not so endowed, from stating it either separately or as included in the stipend. It is therefore to be kept in view, that, in the former class of parishes, the allowance for communion elements is included in the amount of the stipend, and that in the latter it is not so included."

3. Manses and Glebes.—Except in a few peculiar cases, the ministers of quoad civilia parishes having landward districts are entitled to manses and glebes; and in general they are in the enjoyment of these accommodations; but in some instances they receive an allowance in place of one or both of them. In parishes having small stipends, the stipend is augmented from Exchequer to £200 per annum, where the minister is entitled to neither manse nor glebe; and to £180 where he has right to the one but not to the other. Ministers of Government churches are entitled to a house, and half an acre of ground for a garden; and in the greater number of cases, the heritors have supplied them with small glebes.

4. Other Privileges.—In some parishes the ministers have the right of grazing and other similar privileges, and frequently the right of cutting turf and peats, &c.; but these are generally of so little value, that they have seldom made any estimate of them.

5. Seat-Rents.—Except in burghs and populous villages, it has not been the custom to exact seat-rents in parish churches. In quoad civilia country parishes the area of the church belongs to the heritors, at whose expense the edifice is erected and maintained, and is generally divided by them among the tenants and cottagers on their estates: where sittings are let for rent, this is sometimes for the benefit of the heritors, sometimes for that of the poor. In burgh churches seat-rents are usually exacted, and are either employed in payment of the minister's stipend, or put into the common funds of the burgh. In parliamentary churches, it was originally intended that a portion of the sittings should be let, and the rents employed in upholding the church and manse; but the seat-rents are collected with difficulty, and in some instances have been altogether abandoned. In churches which were formerly chapels of ease, or have been built at private expense, it is the custom to apply the seat-rents to the payment of the minister's stipend, the interest and reduction of debt, and other necessary expenses of the congregation.

6. Collections.—The collections made at the doors of parish churches and other places of worship belonging to the Established Church are either Ordinary or Extraordinary. The Ordinary collections in the churches of quoad civilia parishes are applied to the support of the poor, after deducting certain small parochial charges. In the churches of quoad sacra parishes, and other places of worship belonging to the Established Church, they have frequently, with consent of the heritors, been applied like the seat-rents, in whole or in part, to the stipend of the minister, the interest and reduction of debt, and other necessary expenses. The Extraordinary collections, which however are not made in all places of worship, are intended for and applied to special purposes, generally of a charitable or pious nature.

Church Extension.—Return of the number of churches erected by voluntary contributions, recognised as necessary by the General Assembly, and whose ministers have been admitted into church courts by the recent act of Assembly, &c. The number of new parishes, the churches of which were formerly chapels of ease, is 60; of new parishes, the churches of which were not formerly chapels of ease, 51; in all, 111. The total number of seats in both classes is 99,688; of which there are let at all rates 62,874; set apart for letting, but unlet, 25,828; free, 5174. The total annual amount of seat-rents at all rates is £15,745; the annual amount of collections made at church-doors, applied to the support of the poor, £2158; the annual amount of ministers' stipends, £15,336. Of the seats set apart for letting, and let at each rate, there are 1461 not exceeding 1s., 1847

IV. MANAGEMENT OF THE POOR.

ABSTRACT OF REPORT by a Committee of the General Assembly, pursuant to Letter of H. M. Secretary of State, and Appointment of the Assembly in May 1838. (Presented to both Houses 1839.)

The Scottish System of Poor Laws is first described. In this system the m reliance for supplies is placed on voluntary contributions, and chiefly on collections at the churches, which are recognised in various acts, both as an ancient and legal resource for the maintenance of the poor. Power to assess for the impotent poor was granted by the act 1579, c. 74, but down to the middle of the last century, it was never exercised, except as a temporary measure in some years of peculiar scarcity,—as in 1697-1700, or in 1740. "The growth of secession from the Establish d Church, by materially diminishing the number of contributors to the church collections, gave the first encouragement to a compulsory assessment for the poor." More lately, the difficulty of maintaining the poor out of the collections has been further augmented by a rapid increase of population without a corresponding increase of the ecclesiastical establishment. The number of paupers having been thus greatly multiplied, while the ordinary funds for their maintenance have continued unimproved, assessment has been rendered unavoidable in some parishes. But the old system still prevails over the greater part of Scotland; and the people in general being persuaded of its expediency, are anxious to preserve it.

The act of 1579 recognises the right only of the aged or impotent poor to relief; but, by a later act, one-half of the church collections was left to the disposal of the kirk-sessions, for the purpose in part, as has since been held, of affording temporary assistance to such industrious persons as should happen, from sickness, or a casual failure of work, to be in difficulty. The poor are thus divided into two classes:—"Ordinary" poor, of whom a roll is made up, and who are entitled to permanent allowances as a matter of legal right; and "Occasional" poor, who receive temporary assistance only at the discretion of the kirk-session. The circumstances which entitle the impotent poor to relief are, residence, or common "resort," within the parish, during the three years preceding inability, and that if he has removed he has not acquired a legal settlement in any other parish. If he has relations bound in law, and able to maintain him, the parish will be relieved. There never existed, as in England, a power of removal of persons likely to become chargeable on the parish.

The amount of relief, in all cases remarkably moderate, is fixed on the principle, distinctly acknowledged in the statutes, that except in very rare instances of "absolute destitution," the parish aliment "is not to be such as would render the pauper independent of all other resources—that in the general cases poor persons are not so entirely destitute as not to be capable of procuring a part of their sustenance by their own labour, or by the assistance of relatives, or the benevolence of neighbours and others; and that it is only what may be necessary for their support, in addition to these separate means, that the parish ought to supply."

The superintendence and administration of the parochial relief is in each of the country parishes vested in the kirk-session and heritors. In the towns, it belongs to the magistrates; but generally, if not uniformly, they devolve the management on the kirk-sessions.

The First Table framed by the Reporters contains a classified state of all the parochial districts from which returns were received (879 out of 896*), and the following are the principal results:—1. Number of Poor.—This is shown in classes of "occasional poor," and "poor on the permanent roll,"—distinguishing such of the latter as, by reason of lunacy, required special superintendence. The total number on the permanent roll (excluding such lunatics), on the average of the years 1835-6-7, is 57,969; being 2.50 to each 100 of the population; that of occasional poor, 20,348; being .87 to each 100 of the population: that of lunatic paupers, 1112; being about one in every 2000 persons. The whole poor, of all classes, in the average of these three years, is 79,429, in a population of 2,315,926; being 3.42 to each 100 of the population. These, however, are the proportions to the population in 1831. Assuming that the population had increased in 1836 to 2,466,461, the proportion of the average number of poor for the years 1835-6-7 would be 3.22 per cent.

2. Amount of Relief.—In Edinburgh and Paisley, a portion of the poor are inmates of workhouses; in the rest of Scotland, the paupers (other than lunatics) are all out-pensioners. The average of the highest ordinary rates of relief to single paupers on the permanent roll, is £4, 9s. $0\frac{1}{2}$d., of the lowest, £1, 8s. $10\frac{6}{2}$d. per annum. The average annual expense of maintaining an individual in a workhouse is £5, 19s. 4d. The average expense of maintenance in parishes in which there are workhouses is £2, 11s. $2\frac{6}{2}$d. The average rate of relief over all Scotland given to the poor on the permanent roll (exclusive of lunatics) is £1, 18s. $6\frac{6}{2}$d. per pauper, annually; constituting a charge of $11\frac{6}{2}$d. on each individual of the population, per annum.† The average annual rate for support of lunatic paupers under special superintendence, is £10, 12s. 4d. for each pauper. The average annual rate of relief to each of the "occasional poor" is 14s. 8d. The average annual rate of relief to the whole poor, including all the three classes, is £1, 15s. 4½d. per head; constituting an annual charge of 1s. 2 1/12d. on each individual of the population.

* These parochial districts often include several parishes. Thus, the City of Edinburgh, though entered in the returns as one parish with reference to the management of the poor, contains fifteen parishes.

† It will be kept in view that this is the rate over-head, including the members of the family dependent on the pauper who receives the relief; while as to the "occasional" poor, it is the rate over-head merely of the individuals to whom the relief is given, which is stated in the returns.

These are the average rates for the whole of Scotland; but certain districts present considerable variations. In the Border Synod of Merse and Teviotdale, where the influence of the English system is sensibly felt, and where assessments have, for a long period, generally prevailed, the rate of relief is above the average. In this synod the average rate of relief to the poor on the permanent roll (excluding lunatics) is £4, 1s. 3d. per annum; that of lunatics is £19, 3s. 5½d.; that of occasional poor £1, 0s. 2 1/12d.; and that of the total poor £3, 2s. 1 1/12d.; making a charge on each individual of the population of 3s. instead of 1s. 2 1/12d., the average for Scotland. In the northern synods, again, viz. Argyll, Ross, Sutherland and Caithness, Glenelg, Orkney and Shetland, assessments are almost unknown; a considerable proportion of the parishes make, from inability, little or no provision for the poor at all; and the main sources of relief consist of occasional gifts by the landed proprietors, and the distribution of funds collected elsewhere in seasons of extreme distress. Excluding these last, the average rates of relief are:—for each pauper on the permanent roll 9s. 4 8/12d.; for each lunatic pauper £7, 9s. 6d.; for each of the occasional poor 11s. 2 5/12d. (exceeding in amount that to the paupers on the permanent roll!); and for the whole poor 10s. 4 1/12d.; making a charge of 4 1/12d. on each individual of the population, instead of 1s. 2 6/12d., the general average for Scotland. Taking the southern and midland synods apart from these extremes, the averages are nearly the same with the general averages for Scotland.

In many cases a portion of the poor's funds has to be applied towards the instruction of poor children, who, owing to distance or other causes, cannot be educated in the parish schools. The average amount so applied in 1835-6-7 is £2006, 14s. 8d. annually, and the average number of children thereby educated 7809.

3. Funds.—(1.) The church collections appropriated for the relief of the poor consist of the contributions of the congregations of the Established Church, given at the ordinary times of divine service. When collections are made at such periods for special objects, the average amount of the ordinary collections for the poor is in use to be deducted, and the residue only devoted to the special object in view. Of Dissenters' collections "no portion is paid into the poor's funds of the parish, though it is understood that, to a certain extent, allowances are made out of them in several congregations to their poor communicants." In the established churches in parishes quoad spiritualia, the collections are in various ways appropriated according to their constitutions. Of late the usual provision is, that the whole collections shall fall into the funds for the maintenance of the church, until an endowment for the minister be provided, and the expense of the fabric liquidated, after which they shall be disposed of in the same way as the collections in other parish churches: but the legality of receiving collections at the doors of such churches for any other object than the support of the poor is the subject of a suit now in dependence. (2.) Other voluntary contributions are in use to be made, consisting partly of gifts and bequests, but chiefly of the stated rateable contributions by the heritors of particular parishes, termed improperly "a voluntary assessment." Such parishes, though sometimes stated to be in a "transition state," are truly not assessed. (3.) The "session funds" consist of certain customary dues, varying in different parishes, payable either on occasions of funerals, baptisms, or marriages, and also of the produce of property mortified for the relief of the poor. (4.) The only other branch is that arising from assessments. In landward parishes the assessment is divided into halves,—the one-half leviable from the heritors, the other half from the tenants and householders; in burghs the rate is leviable without division from the inhabitants generally. In each class of parishes there is a very great diversity in the mode of assessment; and no average rates can be stated. The number of parishes subjected to assessment during the years 1807-16 were, as shown by a former Report, 192. The number has been since increased to 238; of which there are 125 in the two synods of Merse and Teviotdale, and Lothian and Tweeddale, containing 161 parishes. The others are chiefly in the synods of Glasgow and Ayr, Perth and Stirling, Dumfries, and Angus and Mearns. The only synod in which a decrease has occurred within the same period is Fife, where the assessed parishes have been reduced from 7 to 2.

The following state exhibits the average annual proceeds of the poor's funds for Scotland generally, under the four heads above specified, during the respective periods embraced by the former and the present returns :—

4. Management.—The total number of persons giving their gratuitous services in the active and ordinary management of the poor over all Scotland is 7542; of whom 6035 are members of kirk-sessions, and 1507 chiefly heritors, or other rate-payers. The total number of hired agents is 532, of whom 330 are employed in levying the funds, and 202 in the management of the poor. The expense of management consists exclusively of the salaries of the hired agents, and of the expense of litigation. The whole annual average expense incurred in levying assessments is £4119, 17s.; of managing the poor £2968, 8s. 3d.; together £7088, 5s. 3d. The whole annual average expense of litigation is—as to levying the assessment £573, 9s. 1d.; as to settlement of paupers and claims of relief £347, 6s. 9d.; together £920, 15s. 10d. The total annual average expense of the administration of the poor is £8009, 1s. 1d.; being 2s. 0¼d. per pauper, and at the rate of 1s. $1\frac{2}{12}$d. per £ of the whole annual amount of poor's funds, or one-thirtieth of a penny for each individual of the population.

The Second Table exhibits the general results of the information obtained, separating the 879 parishes from which returns have been received into three classes, namely,—"parishes not assessed," of which there are 517 with a population of 872,626; "parishes voluntarily assessed," of which there are 126 with a population of 305,654; and "parishes legally assessed," of which there are 236 with a population of 1,137,646.

1. Number of Poor.—The average rate per cent. to the population of the occasional poor is, in the non-assessed parishes, .71; in those voluntarily assessed, .81; in those legally assessed, 1.02. The average rate per cent. to the population of the poor on the permanent roll, is, in the non-assessed parishes, 2.79; in those voluntarily assessed, 2.16; in those legally assessed, 2.37. Taking the whole poor, the average rate per cent. to the population is, in the non-assessed parishes, 3.53; in those voluntarily assessed, 3.03; in those legally assessed, 3.44; on the whole country, as formerly stated, 3.42. But when assessments have long and generally prevailed, the proportion is different. Thus, in the Synod of Merse and Teviotdale, where all the parishes have long been assessed, the proportion is 4.83 per cent.; in the midland and southern synods, in which 169 parishes out of 658 are assessed, it is 3.44 per cent.; and in the northern synods, in which 3 are assessed out of 157, it is 3.31 per cent.

2. Rate of Relief.—The returns afford no data as to the adequacy of the relief provided, but simply the amount actually distributed. The average annual allowance to each of the poor occasionally relieved is, in the non-assessed parishes, 13s. $6\frac{5}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, 13s. $0\frac{6}{12}$d.; in those legally assessed, 15s. $7\frac{8}{12}$d. The average annual expense of each lunatic pauper is, over all Scotland, £10, 12s. 4d.; in the non-assessed parishes, £10, 1s. $9\frac{2}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, £12, 6s. $1\frac{5}{12}$d.; and in those legally assessed, £10, 6s. 8d. But this last is kept low mainly by the economic management of the Poor's Hospital of Glasgow, in which there are 123 lunatic paupers. Excluding these, the average in the assessed parishes would be, £12, 10s. 10d. As to the poor on the permanent roll, the average annual allowance to each is, in the non-assessed parishes, £1, 0s. $4\frac{7}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, £1, 19s. $1\frac{3}{12}$d.; in those legally assessed, £2, 14s. $9\frac{8}{12}$d. Taking the whole classes of poor together, the average rate of annual allowance is, in the non-assessed parishes, £1, 0s. $7\frac{1}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, £1, 16s. 9d.; in those legally assessed, £2, 6s. $8\frac{9}{12}$d.; while the average rate of burden on each individual of the population is, in the non-assessed parishes, $8\frac{8}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, 1s. $1\frac{4}{12}$d.; in those legally assessed, 1s. $7\frac{4}{12}$d.

Classing together the parishes not assessed and those voluntarily assessed, which are also, strictly speaking, not assessed, and so dividing the whole into the two great classes of not assessed and assessed, while the amount of population and of poor are nearly equal, a marked contrast is observable between the expense of each class. Thus, in 643 parishes not assessed, with 40,073 paupers, and a population of 1,178,280, the expense of maintenance is only £48,769, 5s. 4d.; while in 236 parishes assessed, with 39,356 paupers, and a population of 1,137,646, the expense is £91,726, 16s.

3. Funds.—Preserving the twofold division of the parishes just explained, the amount of voluntary contributions is shown to be, in the non-assessed (including £24,200, 15s. 4d. of church collections), £39,969, 18s. 6d.; while in the assessed (including £14,099, 14s. 10d. of church collections), it is only £17,307, 1s. 10d.; the population and number of poor in each class being, as already stated, nearly the same. Taking the threefold division of the parishes, the average yearly rate of contributions at the church-doors, for each individual of the population, is, in the non-assessed parishes, $4\frac{11}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, 5d.; and in those legally assessed, $2\frac{11}{12}$d. The rate of other voluntary contributions, including the voluntary assessments in the second class, is, in the non-assessed parishes, $1\frac{9}{12}$d.; in those voluntarily assessed, $7\frac{2}{12}$d.; in those legally assessed, $0\frac{8}{12}$d. The burden of the assessment, in the legally assessed parishes, is 1s. $4\frac{3}{12}$d. to each individual of the population. It must be kept in view that the rate of collections is very greatly affected by the circumstances of the extent of accommodation and the attendance in the churches of the Establishment.

4. Management.—In the 517 non-assessed parishes, the number of hired agents is 66; in the 126 voluntarily assessed, 71; and in the 236 legally assessed, 395. But dividing the parishes into the two classes of non-assessed and assessed, nearly equal in population and poor, we have, in the non-assessed, hired agents, 137, gratuitous agents, 4456; in the assessed, hired agents, 395; gratuitous agents, 3086. Again, the relative expense of management in these two classes of parishes is as follows:—in the non-assessed, management, £581, 2s. 3d.; and litigation, £84, 18s. 8d.; total, £666, 0s. 11d.: in the assessed, management, £6506, 3s.; litigation, £835, 17s. 2d.; total, £7342, 0s. 2d. The rate of the total expense per pauper is, in the non-assessed parishes, $2\frac{7}{12}$d.; in the voluntarily assessed, $8\frac{10}{12}$d.; in the legally assessed, 3s. $8\frac{11}{12}$d.

The Third Table is framed so as to show what influence is produced by the extent of population in a parish upon the state and administration of the poor. With reference to the number of parishes assessed, the following results are shown. Of 71 parishes having a population under 500, 22 are assessed; but of these, 16 are in the Border Synod of Merse and Teviotdale; of 191 above 500, but under 1000 of population, 52 are assessed; of which, 38 are in the two synods of Merse and Teviotdale, and Lothian and Tweeddale; of 312 between 1000 and 2000, 69 are assessed; of which, 38 are in the said two synods; of 234 between 2000 and 5000, 53 are assessed; of which, 17 are in the said two synods; of 52 between 5000 and 10,000, 25 are assessed; of 7 between 10,000 and 25,000, 6 are assessed, and 1 (Dunfermline, p. 17,286) not assessed; there are 8 between 25,000 and 50,000, and 4 above 50,000 of population, all of which are assessed. In regard to the number of poor, and the amount applied to their relief, it appears that, in the parishes under 500 the proportion of poor to the population is higher than in any greater parishes, and the amount applied to their maintenance nearly as high. In the parishes running from 500 to 5000, the proportion of poor, and of the expense of maintenance, is at the lowest. It rises again in those from 5000 to 10,000, reaches its maximum in those between 10,000 and 25,000, and is again reduced in those above 25,000; the expense of maintenance, on the other hand, increasing in these parishes of above 25,000 of population. As to the expense of management, it appears, that in parishes under 500, the rate per pauper is 1s. $6\frac{10}{12}$d.; in parishes between 500 and 1000, 1s. $2\frac{1}{12}$d.; between 1000 and 2000, $9\frac{8}{12}$d.; between 2000 and 5000, $10\frac{9}{12}$d.; between 5000 and 10,000, 1s. $5\frac{4}{12}$d.; between 10,000 and 25,000, 2s. $7\frac{3}{12}$d.; between 25,000 and 50,000, 3s. $6\frac{6}{12}$d.; and above 50,000, 6s. $7\frac{2}{12}$d.; thus showing that the same machinery, so far as not gratuitous, which is required for a parish of 500, is sufficient for a parish of 2000; while, as the population further advances, and the labour of managing becomes greater, it is more and more devolved on hired agents, and in the same degree less provided by the services of gratuitous administrators.

V. CRIME.

Abstract of Tables of Criminal Offenders for the year 1838; reported by her Majesty's Advocate for Scotland, in terms of the statute 1st Wm. IV. cap. 37.

Offences.—Offences against the person, by males 724, by females 63, total 787; offences against property committed with violence, by males 432, by females 145, total 577; offences against property committed without violence, by males 1078, by females 510, total 1588; malicious offences against property, by males 51, by females 6, total 57; forgery and offences against the currency, by males 81, by females 31, total 112; other offences, by males 243, by females 54, total 297; in all 3418 offenders, of whom 2609 were males, and 809 were females.

Ages of Offenders.—Of the 2609 male offenders, there were 58 aged 12 years and under; 368 aged 16 and above 12; 700 aged 21 and above 16; 738 aged 30 and above 21; 407 aged 40 and above 30; 144 aged 50 and above 40; 59 aged 60 and above 50; 18 aged above 60; and 117 whose ages could not be ascertained. —Of the 809 female offenders, there were 16 aged 12 years and under; 66 aged 16 and above 12; 199 aged 21 and above 16; 268 aged 30 years and above 21; 140 aged 40 and above 30; 67 aged 50 and above 40; 29 aged 60 and above 50; 8 aged above 60; and 16 whose ages could not be ascertained.

Education of Offenders.—Of the 2609 male offenders, 353 could neither read nor write; 1529 could read, or read and write imperfectly; 569 could read and write well; 91 had received a superior education; and there were 67 whose education could not be ascertained.—Of the 809 female offenders, 198 could neither read nor write; 541 could read, or read and write imperfectly; 61 could read and write well; 2 had received a superior education; and there were 7 whose education could not be ascertained.

Trials.—Of the 3418 offenders, 356 were discharged by the Lord Advocate and his deputes, 177 were discharged from other causes, and there were tried 2885, namely, by the High Court of Justiciary 309; by the Circuit Court of Justiciary 560; by Sheriffs with a jury 733; by Sheriffs without a jury 646; by Burgh Magistrates 558; by Justices or other court 79. Of the 2885 persons tried, 56 were outlawed, 6 were found insane, 38 were found not guilty, 162 not proven, and there were convicted 2623, including 578 who were convicted under the aggravation of previous convictions, and 54 who were convicted of other offences at the same trial.

Sentences and Punishments.—Of the 2623 persons convicted, 3 received sentence of death, of whom 1 was executed, and the punishment of 2 was commuted into transportation for life; 6 were sentenced to transportation for life, 83 for 14 years, 379 for 7 years, and 15 for other periods; 75 were sentenced to imprisonment (with, in some cases, whipping, fine, &c.) for 2 years or above 1 year, 245 for 1 year or above 6 months, 1607 for 6 months or under; 195 were punished by fine; 3 were discharged on sureties; 12 received no sentence.

In 1834 the number of offences was 2711; in 1836, 2922; in 1837, 3126.

No. 1 being established by Act of Parliament, and Nos. 2, 3, 4, and 5, incorporated by Royal Charter, do not require to lodge lists of partners in pursuance of the Act 7th Geo. IV. cap. 67. The years when Nos. 6—16 were established are not stated in the Return.

SAVINGS BANKS.—On 20th November 1838, the amount of deposits, including interest, in the Savings Banks throughout the United Kingdom, was £21,393,312. The number of individual depositors was 690,138; charitable institutions, 6,568; friendly societies, 6,530; total, 703,236.

HAND-LOOM WEAVERS.—Two reports were laid before the House of Commons (P. P. 159) during the past session, respecting the condition of the hand-loom weavers in Scotland. The report of Mr J. C. Symons on the districts south of the Forth and Clyde, states the number of looms in these districts at 51,060; "families," 28,366; individuals, 113,464. As the 28,366 "families" indicate all the adult male weavers, it follows that 22,694 looms are worked by women and youths. The clear weekly wages of first class weavers varies accord-

* Two banks have been since established in Scotland, namely, the Caledonian Bank at Inverness, having 1100 partners and 7 branches; and the City of Glasgow Bank, having 779 partners.

ing to the fabric from 7s., allowed for pullicates, ginghams, &c., to 16s. 6d., and 18s. for woollens and carpets; and of second class weavers from 4s. 6d. to 11s. More than half the whole number of weavers are employed on the lowest paid fabrics, while not less than two-thirds belong to the second class of wages. The number of working hours, including attendance at the warehouse, &c., average about 70 per week in the cotton districts. The families of hand-loom weavers are commonly occupied in weaving, winding the pirns, or embroidering. The following are fair specimens of the net weekly "collective earnings" of weavers' families:—No. 1, shawl-weaver, wife and four children, £1, 3s., or 3s. 10d. per person; No. 2, book muslin weaver, wife and five children, 16s. 2d., or 2s. 3⅗d. per person; No. 3, gingham weaver, wife and two children, 7s. 11d. or 1s. 11¾d. per person; No. 4, muslin weaver, wife and five children, 7s. 2d., or 1s. 0⅖d. per person. "The first and fourth are extreme cases; in the latter, the woman was evidently dying a slow death from want of food; but Nos. 2 and 3 represent the wages and distribution of labour in the great bulk of the Scottish weavers' families." Comparatively slight variation in point of numbers has been caused by the power-loom, owing chiefly to the fineness of the staple fabrics woven in the Scottish hand-looms. But there is no constancy of employment in any branch; all are liable to periodical stagnation. The depressed condition of the weavers in the cotton districts is attributed to the peculiar accessibility of the weaving trade, and other causes. "There appears no prospect whatever that the weaving trade will improve. The power-loom is applicable to many fabrics which the exceedingly low rate of wages alone enables the hand-loom to retain." Mr Symons farther states "That the older branches of the weavers are a highly educated, moral, and intelligent class, whilst the younger are in all respects inferior. That the education of the children is so deficient, that the next generation will grow up in comparative ignorance."

Dr Harding's report is devoted to the east of Scotland. The number of hand-looms employed in this district on woollen fabrics is estimated at about 2500; on linen fabrics, 26,000; and on cotton fabrics, 5000; total, about 33,500. The average net weekly earnings of men are as follows:—(1.) Woollen, for carpets, 12s. to 15s.; hard tartans, 7s.; shawls and soft tartans, 9s:—(2.) Linen, "harness work," as tablecloths, &c., 8s. 6d.; "heavy work," as canvass, sail-cloth, &c., nearly 10s.; "ordinary or light work," as dowlas, sheetings, &c. 6s. to 7s. 6d.:—(3.) Cotton, 4s. to 8s. 6d. The moral condition of the weavers is represented in more favourable terms than in Mr Symons' report; that of the cotton weavers in particular, though want is "painfully apparent in their cottages," is "in general extremely creditable to them;" but the education of their children naturally suffers from their poverty.

CALEDONIAN CANAL.—An account of the intercourse on the canal, and of the annual revenue and expenditure of the Commissioners, was given in Almanac 1839, p. 320. The state of the canal has since been made the subject of inquiry by a Select Committee of the House of Commons, from whose Report it appears, that the total cost amounts to £1,023,628; composed of payments for land and damages, £48,000; management and law, £43,500; timber and iron work, £205,000; quarries and masonry, £200,000; labour, £494,000; shipping, houses, roads, and incidental expenses, including interest on money borrowed, £33,128. The want of success which has hitherto attended the undertaking is attributed to the frequent interruptions of the navigation by failures of portions of the works, and accidents, occasioned by the canal having been opened (in 1822) when only partially completed—to the want of a sufficient depth of water—and to the absence of steam-tugs on the lochs, where, from the difficulty of beating against a head-wind, vessels "are frequently obliged to remain for days, and even weeks." But "on looking to the return of the number of vessels which have passed through the canal since it was originally opened, a gradual increase may be observed of late years, notwithstanding the difficulties and frequent obstructions in the passage;" and the general tendency of the evidence furnished to the Committee has led them "to believe that a very great increase of traffic would take place were it rendered a matter of certainty that a passage could be effected within five days, and were the tedious and dangerous navigation of the Pentland Firth thus superseded." These and other reasons have induced the Committee, while calling the immediate attention of Parliament to the present insecure condition of the works, to recommend that the canal should be placed in an efficient state of repair, its depth increased, and the assistance of steam-tugs afforded; and that for these purposes, a sum not exceeding £200,000 should be placed at the disposal of the government.

NORTHERN LIGHTHOUSES.—Receipts in year 1837,—duties £41,134; miscellaneous £1016; total £42,150. Payments,—shipping establishment £2396; officers £1981; lighthouses £12,047; interest of (£30,000) government loan £1500; new works £3568; miscellaneous £2933; total £24,625. Balance on hand 31st December 1837 £17,525. The Commissioners state in their Report for 1837 that the May light has been altered from the catoptric to the dioptric system; that the Pladda lighthouses have been completed; and that a light is in the course of being placed on the Skerryvore Rocks.

RAILWAYS.—Return of all monies to be raised under the acts by which Railroad Companies have been incorporated in the United Kingdom, between 1st January 1626 and 1st January 1839. Capital in joint-stock, £41,610,814; power to raise by loan, £16,177,630; total, £57,788,444. The portions of these sums applicable to Scottish railways are,—capital in joint-stock, £2,962,729; power to raise by loan £914,383; total, £3,877,112.

STEAM-VESSEL ACCIDENTS.—The report made by Captain Pringle, R. E., and Mr Josiah Parkes, C.E., pursuant to a remit from the Board of Trade, states, approximatively, the number of accidents which have occurred to steam-vessels at 92; of which 40 were "wrecked, foundered, or in imminent peril;" 23 "explosions of boilers;" 17 "fires from various causes;" 12 "collisions." The ascertained number of lives lost is 634. The greatest ascertained number of lives lost at any one time occurred by the wreck of the "Rothsay Castle," when 119 persons perished. The greatest number at any one time from collision, 62; from explosion, 24; and from fire, 2. The period assigned for inquiry was the ten years to 1839; but 17 accidents are stated which occurred anterior to that period. The Report concludes by recommending the appointment of a public board for the registration, classification, and periodical survey of all steam-vessels; also a licensing system. The "license to express whether it be granted for cargo only; for towing vessels; for the conveyance of passengers; or for these purposes combined; also whether the vessel be intended to ply as a river or seagoing steamer." Various other regulations are suggested, including a "rule of the road," "night signals," and the carrying of "some powerful steam-whistle, bell, or gong," in order to diminish the frequency and danger of collisions.

LIST OF THE PEERAGE OF SCOTLAND,

AS IT STOOD ON THE 1ST MAY 1707; ORDERED TO BE LAID BEFORE THE HOUSE OF LORDS 22D DECEMBER 1707.

[By this document, commonly called The Union Roll, it is understood that the order of precedence among the Peers of Scotland is regulated; and, with certain amendments, it is that called at all elections of their representatives, though it cannot be looked on as a complete list, such as should exclude claims to Peerages not entered in it.

It contained 154 Peers; namely, 10 Dukes, 3 Marquesses, 75 Earls, 17 Viscounts, and 49 Barons; and there have been subsequently enrolled 7 Peers; namely, 1 Duke, 2 Marquesses, and 4 Barons. These are distinguished by the letters ad. and a date (that of their enrolment) placed after their names. The dates of the creations have been prefixed; Peerages which are attainted, extinct, or dormant, are printed in italics; the date of the attainder, extinction, or abeyance, being added; and an asterisk has been placed after the names of those who are likewise Peers of England, Great Britain, or the United Kingdom.]

THE EXISTING BARONETAGE OF SCOTLAND AND NOVA SCOTIA.*

[The dignities and order of KNIGHT-BARONET OF SCOTLAND AND NOVA-SCOTIA, projected by James VI. in 1621, "as a means of expressing his affection towards his ancient kingdome," and of promoting the colonization of Nova Scotia, were instituted by Charles I. on the 28th May 1625. The number of creations in his reign was about 122; in that of Charles II. about 80; of James VII. about 20; of William II. and Mary about 30; of Anne about 30; in all, upwards of 280, of which about 170 are at present existing.

The Badge of the order is a medal bearing the arms of Nova Scotia, encircled by the motto "Fax mentis honestæ gloria," suspended from the neck by an orange-tawny riband.]

[For a List of the Baronetcies of Scotland and Nova Scotia which have merged in Peerages, reference is made to the Almanac for 1838, page 325.]

POST-TOWN, a Portobello.

* In the following Lists, the Parishes, for convenience of reference, have been arranged in alphabetical order, and the Post-towns placed at the bottom of each page; no mark being attached to such as are of the same name with the Parish to which they refer.

† Parishes which are so quoad sacra only, are printed in Italics, and placed under the civil parishes to which they belong. Their ministers, by decision of the General Assembly in 1834, are constituted members of Presbyteries and other Church-courts. Parliamentary Churches are indicated by a P; their ministers, since 1833, have been members of Presbytery.

SECT. IV.—EDUCATIONAL AND LITERARY ESTABLISHMENTS.

UNIVERSITY OF ST ANDREWS.

THIS University was founded in May 1410 by Henry Wardlaw, bishop of the diocese, and confirmed by a Papal Bull, dated in 1411. The College of Saint Salvator was erected by Bishop Kennedy in 1456: that of Saint Leonard in 1512; and that of Saint Mary in 1537. In 1747, the Colleges of Saint Salvator and Saint Leonard were united by parliamentary statute.

The ordinary affairs of the University are administered by the Senatus Academicus, which consists of the Rector, two Principals, the Professors in St Mary's College, and the Professors of Humanity, Greek, Logic, Moral Philosophy, Natural Philosophy, Mathematics, Civil History, Medicine, in the United College. The Chancellor is appointed by the Senatus Academicus. The Rector is chosen annually by the Professors and Students Cives, whose choice is limited to the Professors of Divinity and of Ecclesiastical History, and to the Principal of the United College.

In the United College the session begins in the week previous to the "Bursar Trial" (which takes place on the first Tuesday of November), and closes on the last Friday of April: In St Mary's College, it commences about the end of November, and terminates in the beginning of April. The students of both colleges are required to attend divine worship every Sunday; and the students of St Mary's assemble every morning for prayers in the public hall.

In the United College there are twenty-two foundations for bursaries; their benefit is extended to seventy-five students; their aggregate value is about £900 a-year. There are fourteen of £20 each; four of £15; two of £14; about forty of £10; ten between £10 and £5; and one of £5. Of these bursaries twenty-one are given by general competition; eight bursaries are given by competition at the Madras School; seven are given by the University and the United College; and the rest by private Patrons. Sir Alexander Ramsay, Bart., is the Patron of the thirteen Ramsay bursaries, value £20 each. In St Mary's College there are seven foundations for bursaries; their benefit is extended to seventeen individuals; their aggregate annual value is about £200. There is one of £18; there are two of £15; ten between £15 and £10; three of £10; one of £7. The fees hitherto exacted for the degrees of A.B. and A.M. have been abolished.

UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW.

This University was founded in 1451 by a Papal Bull; and its privileges were subsequently confirmed and extended by royal charters and parliamentary statutes.

The discipline of the University is administered by the Court of the Rector, composed of the Rector (or Vice-Rector) and his Assessors. These are named by the Rector, and have been for many years past the Principal and all the Professors.

The public affairs of the University are conducted by the Senate, which consists of the Rector, the Dean of Faculties, the Principal, and twenty-one Professors. The business of the College, as a subordinate Corporation, including the ordinary discipline over its members, is managed by the College Meeting, commonly called the Faculty, consisting of the Principal and thirteen Professors; viz. those of Divinity, Church History, Oriental Languages, Natural Philosophy, Moral Philosophy, Logic, Greek, Humanity, Civil Law, Anatomy, Medicine, Mathematics, and Astronomy, who, with the Rector and Dean, exercise the College patronage.

The session begins on the 10th of October and ends in the beginning of May. Shortly after its commencement, the students in the Greek, Logic, and Moral and Natural Philosophy classes, are examined publicly on the subject of their studies in the previous year. All the members belonging to the Established Church, whose families do not reside in Glasgow, are required to attend divine worship every Sunday in the chapel.

The number of foundations for Bursaries is 29; their benefits are extended to about 65 students; their average value is £1165, 10s. 4d. a-year. There is one of the annual amount of £50; there are three of £41, 2s. 6d.; ten of £40; three of £25; four of £20; one of about £16; six of £15; three of £13, 6s. 8d.; two of £12; one of £11, 2s. 2d.; thirteen of £10; one of £9, 10s.; two of £9; two of £8, 6s. 8d.; two of £8; five of £6, 13s. 4d.; one of £6, 6s.; three of £5, 10s.; one of £5; and one of £4, 10s. The Principal and Members of the College possess the right of nominating students (educated in the Universities of Scotland, and professing the principles of the Church of England) to ten exhibitions in Balliol College, Oxford, of the yearly value of about £132 each, tenable for ten years, but vacated by marriage, or by the holder receiving certain preferments.

The numbers of students who graduated in 1839 were, in Arts 23; in Medicine 117; in Surgery 19.

WALTONIAN LECTURER.

Structure, Functions, and Diseases of the Eye, W. M'Kenzie, M.D.

UNIVERSITY AND KING'S COLLEGE OF ABERDEEN.

The foundation of this University may be ascribed to William Elphinstone, bishop of Aberdeen. A Papal Bull was issued for its erection on the 10th February 1495; the buildings were founded 2d April 1500; and the course of instruction was commenced in 1505. The first code of statutes for its government was promulgated in that year; the second about 1530. The members appointed by the latter were 42; of whom the chief were, a Doctor in Theology (who held the office of Principal); a Doctor of the Canon Law; a Doctor of the Civil Law; and a Doctor of Medicine.

The affairs of the College are conducted, and its discipline administered, by the Senatus Academicus, which consists of the Principal and Professors. From the decisions of this body, appeal is competent to the Court of the Rector and his four Assessors; and finally to the Chancellor.

The session commences on the last Monday of October, and terminates at the end of 22 weeks. The average age at which the students enter the College is fourteen. In all the classes there are regular examinations, and themes are prescribed; the students every morning assemble for prayers in the public school; divine worship is celebrated twice every Sunday in the chapel; and there is a lecture on Practical Religion in the public school. The fees on the complete course of instruction in the Faculty of Arts do not exceed £20.

The number of foundations for Bursaries is thirty-two; their benefits are extended to one hundred and thirty-four students; their aggregate value amounts to £1771 a-year. There is one of the annual value of £50; one of £40; one of £27: there are four of £25; four of £22, 10s.; six of £20; thirty-three between £20 and £15; ten of £15; nineteen between £15 and £10; sixteen of £10; fourteen between £10 and £5; fifteen of £5; and ten under £5. Of these exhibitions about eighty are open to public competition.

The number of persons who graduated in Arts in 1634 was 16; in 1781, 22; in 1824, 32; in 1836, 34; in 1838, 35; in 1839, 27.

MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY OF ABERDEEN.

This University was founded by George, fifth Earl Marischal, by a charter dated 2d April 1593, and, in the same month, it received the sanction of the General Assemby, and in July was ratified by Parliament. The members appointed by the deed of foundation were, a Principal teaching classes, three Regents or Professors (to whom a fourth was soon afterwards added), six Bursars, and an Œconomus or manager of the public table; besides the higher officers of Chancellor, Rector, and Dean of Faculty, for regulating and controlling the property, discipline, and studies of the Seminary. By subsequent endowments the number of professorships has been increased to thirteen.

The session in the curriculum of Arts commences with an open competition for Bursaries on the last Monday of October, and ends on the first Friday of April. The average age at which students enter the College is fourteen. Previously to being enrolled as members of a class, those who intend to qualify for a degree must undergo an entrance-examination; daily examinations take place in all the classes; and towards the end of the Session each class is submitted to a public examination in the common hall. Candidates for the degree of A.M. are examined on all the branches of the curriculum, including the Evidences of Christianity, instructions in which are given to students of the third and fourth years. A weekly lecture on Practical Religion has been endowed since 1825. The fees for the complete course of four years' instruction in the Faculty of Arts do not exceed £23.

The Divinity Session extends from Christmas to the first Friday of April; the Session for Scots Law, from the first Monday of November to the first Friday of April; the Medical Session, from the first Monday of November to the third Friday of April; and courses of Botany and Conveyancing are given in summer.

The number of foundations for Bursaries is forty-five; the number of Bursaries 115; and their aggregate value about £1160 annually. There are two of the yearly value of £30; four of £26, 5s.; eight of £25; two between £20 and £15; two of £15; fourteen between £15 and £10; twenty-three of £10; forty between £10 and £5; twelve of £5; and eight under £5. About sixty-seven of these are open to public competition; of the rest the patronage is vested in societies and private individuals; the two of £30 are awarded by comparative trial for excellence in Mathematics to students who have studied that science for two sessions.

The number of graduates in arts in 1838 was 22; in 1839, 18.

SECT. III.—EDUCATIONAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

HIGH SCHOOL OF EDINBURGH.

A Grammar School, of Royal institution, existed in Edinburgh as early at least as 1519. But being on a limited scale, it was found inadequate for its purpose; and in 1578, by the enlightened zeal of the Clergy and Town Council, the HIGH SCHOOL was established on a more extended plan, bearing the name of Schola Regia Edinensis. The course of study has been extended and improved from time to time, so as to meet the intellectual demands of the country. Although essentially a classical seminary, it furnishes instruction in the various branches of a liberal education. The curriculum of study (which occupies six or seven years, the average age of entry being about nine) embraces the Latin, Greek, and French languages; English Grammar and Composition, History, Geography, and the Elements of General Knowledge; Writing, Arithmetic, and Mathematics.

An annual public examination takes place on the first Friday of August, in the presence of the Magistrates and Town Council, who are the patrons of the school, of the Clergy of the city, the Professors of the University, and other learned individuals. Prizes, consisting of gold and silver medals, and books, are then awarded for general scholarship and particular merits. The holidays extend from the examination to the 1st of October, when the school reassembles, and when the Rudiment or junior Latin class is formed for the year.

The educational establishment consists of a Rector and four Classical Masters; a teacher of French; a teacher of Arithmetic and Mathematics, and a teacher of Writing, with assistants. The quarterly fees are, in the Rector's class, £1; including Greek, £1, 5s.; in the four junior classes, £1; French, 10s. 6d.; Arithmetic, 7s. 6d.; Mathematics, 10s. 6d.; Writing, 7s. 6d.; attendance on the last four branches being optional.

The High School originally stood in the Old Town, on part of the ground called Kirk of Field, anciently belonging to the monastery of Black Friars. It was rebuilt on nearly the same spot in 1777. The situation having become inconvenient, from the great extension of the city northwards, a new structure was founded in 1825, on the south slope of the Calton Hill, to which the establishment was removed in 1829. This splendid edifice, erected at a cost of £30,000, was designed by Thomas Hamilton, Esq., architect. The main building, 270 feet in length, has a magnificent hexastyle Doric portico in the centre, which is united to the wings by two corridors, the entablatures of which are supported by twelve columns, also of the Doric order. There is ample accommodation for conducting the various branches of study according to the most approved methods of instruction. The playground is spacious, extending to nearly two acres, and commands a picturesque view of the ancient city and surrounding country.

Rector, A. R. Carson, LL.D., F.A.S. Scot. and F. R. S. E.
Masters, Samuel Lindsay, A.M., Benjamin Mackay, A. M., Wm. Pyper, A. M., James Boyd, LL.D.
Teacher of Writing, William Cooper
Teacher of Arithmetic and Mathematics, William Moffat
Teacher of French, Victor de Fivas
Janitor, John Gladow

EDINBURGH ACADEMY.

The Edinburgh Academy, which was established in 1824, is under the superintendence of a Board of fifteen Directors, three of whom are elected annually from the body of subscribers, and is conducted by a rector and four masters for the Latin and Greek classes, besides teachers for the English and French languages, and for Writing, Arithmetic, and Mathematics. Each class is taught in the classical department by the same master exclusively for the first four years. At the commencement of the fifth it comes under the tuition of the rector, assisted by the same master, and continues under them during the sixth and seventh years. The other branches, with the exception of French, are begun with the youngest class, and are continued without interruption during the whole course. The complete course extends to seven years, and combines a thorough classical education with systematic instruction in French, Writing, ancient and modern History, Geography, and the various branches of Mathematics. At the public annual examination of the pupils in the last week of July, prizes are awarded for eminence in the various departments of knowledge, and also for the best essays on literary and classical subjects, previously proposed for competition. The English department is conducted by an Englishman, and the French master is a native of France. Pupils are admitted at any period of the session. The Academy meets, after a vacation of two months, on the 1st of October. The school-fees amount to an average of ten guineas for the course of seven years,—those of the first or junior class being £7, and those of the seventh, £11, 10s. The academy is situate to the N.E. of the Royal Circus. It is a handsome building, after a design by Mr Burn, and cost the subscribers upwards of £14,000.

SECTION V.—BENEVOLENT AND CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

GEORGE HERIOT'S HOSPITAL.

George Heriot, the founder of this magnificent Hospital, was born at Edinburgh in the year 1563. He followed the trade of his father; and in 1597 was appointed goldsmith to the queen of James VI. He shortly afterwards was named jeweller and goldsmith to his majesty; and accompanied the king when, on the death of Elizabeth, the court was removed to London. He died there Feb. 12, 1624, having, by a will dated in the previous year, bequeathed the residue of his property (amounting to £23,625) to the erection of an hospital "for the mainetenance, releife, bringing upp, and education of poore fatherlesse boyes, freemen's sonnes of the towne of Edinburgh."

The plan of the edifice was furnished, it is said, by Inigo Jones: the foundation-stone was laid July 1, 1628; but the building was not opened for the reception of boys till April 11, 1659. The expense of the erection is believed to have exceeded £30,000.

The management of the Institution is vested in the Magistrates and Town-council, and the Clergy of the city, in all fifty-one in number.

One hundred and eighty boys are now maintained in the Hospital. When admitted they must have attained the age of seven, and be under that of ten years; and they quit the establishment about the age of fourteen. They are instructed within the walls of the institution in the English, French, Latin, and Greek languages, in writing, arithmetic, book-keeping, geography, mathematics, drawing, and sacred music,—their education being carefully adapted to their several capacities and prospects. Those who manifest talents and a desire for the learned professions, are sent to the University with an allowance for four years of £30 a-year from the revenues of the Hospital: ten bursaries of £20 a-year are likewise bestowed on deserving students in the College. On leaving the Hospital the boys are liberally provided with clothes; such of them as become apprentices receive £10 annually for five years, besides a sum of £5 at the expiry of their indentures as a reward for good behaviour.

The annual revenue of the Hospital, which in 1776 was £1966, in 1837 amounted to £14,335; the expenditure during the same period was £11,235, leaving a surplus of £3099, applicable for the support of schools.

By the Act 6th and 7th William IV. cap. 25, the Governors are empowered to found and erect, from the surplus revenues, one or more schools within the city, to be called "George Heriot's Hospital Schools," for the education, 1*stly*, Of the poor children of deceased Burgesses and Freemen; 2*dly*, Of the children of Burgesses and Freemen who are unable to provide for their support; and, 3*dly*, Of the children of poor citizens and inhabitants of Edinburgh. One seminary is already erected, and it is understood that six more will be completed in 1840. There are 250 children in this school. No fees whatever are payable. There is likewise a Sabbath evening class. The salary of the teacher is £150 for the maximum average quarterly attendance of 250 scholars, and proportionally less for smaller numbers. The salary of the sewing mistress is £30 a-year, and both are wholly payable from the funds of the Hospital.

GEORGE WATSON'S HOSPITAL.

George Watson, the founder of this Institution, was born at Edinburgh about the year 1650: he served an apprenticeship to a merchant in the city, and after a short residence in Holland, entered into the service of Sir James Dick, a wealthy trader in Edinburgh. This employment he quitted in 1695, on being appointed accountant to the Bank of Scotland. He died in April 1723, bequeathing the sum of £12,000 for the endowment of an hospital for the maintenance and instruction of the male children and grandchildren of decayed merchants in Edinburgh.

The edifice was founded in the year 1738, and opened in June 1741. About 80 boys are now maintained in it. When admitted they must be of the age of seven, and under that of ten years. They are instructed in the English, Latin, Greek, and French languages, in writing, drawing, book-keeping, arithmetic, mathematics, singing, and dancing. On quitting the establishment each boy is presented with £7, for the purpose of providing himself with clothes; he receives for five years £10 annually, and on attaining the age of twenty-five, a farther sum of £50. "Such as are found to have an extraordinary genius for letters" are allowed for their support at the University £20 a-year for four years, and £17 a-year during the two succeeding years.

The management of the Institution is vested in the Master, Treasurer, and twelve Assistants of the Merchant Company, five members of the Town-council, and in the Ministers of the Old and Greenside Churches.

The revenue of the Hospital, which in 1779 was about £1700 a-year, amounted in the year 1836 to £4670. During the same period the expenditure (including meliorations) was £4095; leaving a surplus of £575.

JOHN WATSON'S INSTITUTION.

In the year 1759, John Watson, writer to the signet, bequeathed the residue of his estate to certain Trustees, by them to be applied "to such pious and charitable uses within the City of Edinburgh as they shall think proper." By a deed, dated in 1764, they destined the revenue of the property to "the pious and charitable purpose of preventing child-murder" by the erection of a Foundling Hospital: and assigned the management of the charity to the Principal Keeper, Deputy-keeper, and Commissioners, of the Writers to the Signet. From the doubts which were entertained of the expediency of such an institution, no measures were adopted for its erection; and in the year 1822 an Act of Parliament was obtained, empowering the Trustees to establish and endow "an hospital for the maintenance and education therein of destitute children, and bringing them up to be useful members of society; and also for assisting in their outset in life such of them as may be thought to deserve and require such aid."

The edifice, which was designed by Mr William Burn, was founded in 1825, and completed in 1828. About 120 children are maintained in it: when admitted, they must have completed the fifth year of their age, and be under the age of eight. They are not retained after the age of fourteen. They are instructed in reading, writing, arithmetic, &c.

The establishment is under the management of fifteen directors, the Keeper and Deputy-keeper of the Signet, the Treasurer of the Institution, and twelve Commissioners of the Writers to the Signet. The fund which in 1781 amounted to less than £5000, has been accumulated by the care and attention of the Keepers and Commissioners, and now, including the grounds and buildings, exceeds £132,800.

THE MAIDEN HOSPITAL,

FOUNDED BY THE COMPANY OF MERCHANTS OF EDINBURGH AND MARY ERSKINE.

This Institution was founded in 1695, by the Company of Merchants and Mary Erskine, widow of James Hair, druggist in Edinburgh. The Governors were incorporated by an act of Parliament in 1707.

The management of this Institution is vested in five members of the Town-council, the Master and three Assistants of the Merchant Company, three of the Clergymen of the city and suburbs, the Earls of Mar, and nine persons elected by the Merchant Company,—in all, twenty-three in number.

The original edifice of the Institution was situated in Bristo Street; but having become insufficient for its object, the foundation-stone of the present building was laid in 1816; and the erection, which was designed by Mr Burn, was completed in 1818, at the cost of £12,250.

Ninety-six girls are maintained in the Hospital. Those eligible for admission are, "the children or grandchildren, daughters of such who are or were of the order and calling of merchants-burgesses of Edinburgh, or ministers thereof and suburbs, or have been governors of, or benefactors to, the Hospital." They must, at the date of their admission, be of the age of seven, and under that of eleven: they are not retained when above the age of seventeen. They are instructed in reading the English and French languages, in writing, arithmetic, geography, history, music and drawing, and in dancing and needlework. On leaving the Institution, the girls receive £9. 6s. 8d. each.

The yearly revenue, which in 1799 was about £1350, in 1836 amounted to £4815; the expenditure (including meliorations) was £4369; leaving a surplus of £446.

THE MAIDEN HOSPITAL,

FOUNDED BY THE CRAFTSMEN OF EDINBURGH AND MARY ERSKINE.

This Institution was founded in 1704, by the Freemen of the Incorporations of Craftsmen, and by Mary Erskine, widow of James Hair, druggist. The governors were incorporated by a parliamentary statute in 1707.

The management is vested in the Deacons of the Incorporations, two Trades-Councillors, two persons of the name of Erskine, the President of the Society of Barbers, and nine persons elected by the other Governors,—in all, twenty-eight. Forty-eight girls are maintained in the Institution. The individuals eligible for admission are, "the children or grandchildren of the craftsmen, which failing, any others presented by the incorporations,"—the girls being children belonging to one of the Incorporations of the city of Edinburgh and Society of Barbers. They are required, when admitted, to be of the age of seven, and under that of eleven years: they are not retained when above the age of seventeen. They are instructed in the English language and grammar, in French and music, in writing, arithmetic, geography, history, sewing, and laundrywork. On leaving the Hospital, each girl receives £5, 11s. and a Bible.

THE ORPHAN HOSPITAL.

This Institution was projected in 1727 by Andrew Gairdner, merchant in Edinburgh; and in 1733 a house was hired, and thirty children received into it. In 1735 an edifice was erected near the Trinity College Church; but by the increase of the city this situation being rendered unhealthy, the present building was founded on the 17th June 1831, and finished in October 1833, from the designs of Mr Thomas Hamilton, at a cost of nearly £16,000.

Eighty boys and girls are maintained in the Institution, the benefits of which are not confined to any district of Scotland. When admitted they must be of the age of seven, and not above ten years: they are instructed in reading, writing, arithmetic, and geography.

CAUVIN'S HOSPITAL.

This Institution was founded by Louis Cauvin, some time Teacher of the French language in Edinburgh, and afterwards farmer at Duddingston, who died in 1825, bequeathing the greater part of his estate to the erection and endowment of "an Hospital for the relief, maintenance, and education of the sons of respectable but poor teachers; the sons of poor but honest farmers; whom failing, the sons of respectable master-printers or booksellers, and the sons of respectable servants in the agricultural line." This settlement was explained and modified, and the governors incorporated by a parliamentary statute in 1827.

The management is vested in certain individuals nominated by the founder, and in the Provost of the City, the Principal and Professor of Humanity in the University, the Rector of the High School, the Ministers of Duddingston, Liberton, and Newton, the Proprietor of the Estate of Niddry, and the Factor of the Marquess of Abercorn.

The edifice, which is situated at Duddingston, was opened in 1833. Twenty boys are maintained in it. They are required, when admitted, to be of the age of six, and not more than eight years; and are retained for six years. They are instructed in the ordinary branches of education, and also in Latin, Greek, French, and Mathematics.

Governors, Archibald Nisbet of Carphin, James Ferguson, Geo. Knight, David Scott, Andrew Scott, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, Principal of the University of Edinburgh, Minister of Duddingston, Minister of Liberton, Minister of Newton, Rector of the High School of Edinburgh, Proprietor of the Lands of Niddry, Factor of the Marquess of Abercorn, and James Pillans, Professor of Humanity in the University of Edinburgh

TRINITY HOSPITAL.

Forty persons are maintained within the Hospital; and about 90 living without the walls receive pensions of £6 a-year. The benefits of the endowment are destined to "burgesses, their wives or children not married, nor under the age of fifty years." The right of presenting individuals for admission is possessed by many public bodies and private families: this privilege is, in some instances, free from the restrictions above mentioned; in others it is confined to persons of particular names.

JAMES GILLESPIE'S HOSPITAL AND FREE SCHOOL.

This Institution was founded by James Gillespie of Spylaw, merchant and tobacconist in Edinburgh, who, by his will dated in the year 1796, destined the greater part of his property to the endowment of a charitable school, and of an hospital for the aliment and maintenance of old men and women.

The management is vested in the Master, Treasurer, and Twelve Assistants of the Merchant Company, five members of the Town-council, and the two ministers of the Tolbooth church (now the Minister of the Tolbooth and the Minister of St Stephen's), who were incorporated by royal charter in 1801.

The edifice, which was designed by Mr Burn, was founded in 1801 and opened in 1802. Fourteen males and eighteen females are maintained in it, who are comfortably lodged and fed. To provide themselves with apparel, the males are allowed £2, 18s., the females, £1, 11s., annually. Family-worship is performed twice a-day, and a discourse is delivered every Sunday by the chaplain. The persons entitled to admission are, the servants of the founder, or persons of his name above the age of 55; persons belonging to Edinburgh and its suburbs above the same age; failing these, persons from Leith, Newhaven, and other parts of Mid-Lothian; whom failing, lastly, persons from any part of Scotland at the age of 55.

The Free-school was founded in 1801, and opened in 1803. One hundred and fifty boys are instructed in reading the English tongue, in writing, and arithmetic. None are admitted under the age of six, nor above that of twelve: they are entitled to remain in the seminary for three years.

DONALDSON'S HOSPITAL.

James Donaldson, printer, who died in Edinburgh in 1830, bequeathed the greater part of his estate, which exceeded £210,000, to the endowment and erection of an Hospital for the maintenance of two hundred poor boys and girls.

A piece of ground at the west end of the town has been feued for the erection of the hospital. The building which will be in the Elizabethan style, from an admirable design by W. H. Playfair, Esq., will be begun in the spring of 1840.

FETTES' ENDOWMENT.

Sir William Fettes, Bart., of Comely Bank, born in 1750, died May 27, 1836, leaving the greater part of his large fortune to form an endowment for the maintenance, education, and outfit of young people whose parents have fallen into adverse circumstances.—The management of the charity is vested in trustees.

CHALMERS' HOSPITAL.

George Chalmers, plumber in Edinburgh, who died March 10, 1836, bequeathed the greater part of his fortune, estimated to exceed £30,000, for the erection and endowment of an Hospital "for the Sick and Hurt."

The management of the charity is vested in the Dean and Faculty of Advocates.

SOCIETY FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS BLIND.—INSTITUTED IN 1793.

Asylums, Male No. 58, Female No. 38 Nicolson Street.

This Institution was opened for the reception of the Industrious Blind of Scotland on the 23d September 1793. The necessary funds were raised through the exertions of the late Rev. Dr David Johnston of North Leith, and several other charitable gentlemen of Edinburgh. The Asylum continues to depend principally for its support on the annual bounty of the citizens. The number of inmates varies from 80 to 90; nearly one-third of the male members are married, whose families also are maintained by means of the charity. In addition to instruction in their several trades, the Blind are carefully taught the principles of the Christian religion, besides several other branches of useful education.

WILLIAM SIMPSON'S ASYLUM, PLEAN, NEAR FALKIRK.

This Institution was endowed by the late Colonel Simpson of Plean, who bequeathed his estate of Plean and other funds, for the purpose "of erecting, on part of the said estate, an Asylum for the reception, residence, and entertainment of indigent or reduced men of advanced age, who may be destitute of the means of subsistence, and incapable of procuring those means by industry; recommending in preference persons who may have served in the Navy or Army; but without limiting the Trustees to that description of persons, and leaving the claims of applicants for the benefits of this Institution entirely to the judgment and decision of the Trustees or Trustee acting for the time."

Twenty-two old men are at present comfortably maintained in this Asylum, and more will soon be admitted.

Trustees, Sir Thomas Livingstone of Westquarter, Baronet, John Burn Murdoch of Coldoch, William Archibald Cadell of Banton, James John Cadell of Grange, Wm. Dallas, W.S.

New Works in Natural History AND POPULAR ELEMENTARY SCIENCE,

PUBLISHED BY SCOTT, WEBSTER, & GEARY, LONDON, AND SOLD BY OLIVER & BOYD, EDINBURGH.

MANUALS of NATURAL HISTORY. For the Use of those commencing the Study.

By WILLIAM MACGILLIVRAY, A.M., F.R.S.E., &c. &c.

TO BE PUBLISHED QUARTERLY.

THE importance of Natural History as an interesting and useful branch of education having now been fully established, and an increasing desire having been expressed that elementary instruction in its more popular branches,—as in Geology, Mineralogy, Botany, and Ornithology,—should form a part of the educational course at our principal academies and other seminaries of learning, the author has been induced to undertake to prepare a Series of Manuals more adapted for the purposes of instruction than any which are at present known to him. They will be written in easily intelligible language, so as to afford a distinct idea of the most important facts, and of the theories elicited from them; and calculated to convey as much knowledge of the different subjects as will suffice for general education, and qualify those desirous of extending their information for the study of more extended treatises. They will be illustrated by numerous Engravings, and adapted for the use of classes, by having appended to each chapter a recapitulatory series of questions, together with a glossary of terms.

I.

On the 1st of January 1840 will be published,

In fc. 8vo, containing about 230 closely-printed pages, and numerous Wood-cuts,

A MANUAL OF GEOLOGY.

II.

On the 1st of April will be published,

In foolscap 8vo, illustrated with Wood-cuts and 214 Engraved Figures,

A MANUAL of BOTANY; comprising Vegetable Anatomy and Physiology, an Explanation of the Linnæan and Natural Systems of Classification, and a Glossary of Terms.

III.

On the 1st of July will be published,

In foolscap 8vo, uniform with the above,

A MANUAL of BRITISH PLANTS; comprising Descriptions of the whole of the Plants of Great Britain and Ireland.

IV.

On the 1st of October will be published,

In foolscap 8vo, uniform with the above,

A MANUAL of ORNITHOLOGY; comprising a general Description of the Anatomical and Physiological Structure of Birds, and of the System of Classification, with a Glossary of Terms.

V.

On the 1st of January 1841 will be published,

In foolscap 8vo, uniform with the above,

A MANUAL of BRITISH BIRDS; including Notices of those which are to be met with on the European Continent.

British Ornithology.

Lately published, illustrated by numerous Wood-cuts and Engravings, and handsomely printed in 8vo, the first and second Volumes, price 16s. each,

A HISTORY of BRITISH BIRDS, Indigenous and Migratory; including their Organization, Habits, and Relations. By WM. MACGILLIVRAY, A. M., F. R. S. E., &c. &c., and Conservator of the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh.

VOL. I. contains the Introduction, embracing remarks on Classification and Nomenclature, and on the Structure of Birds; also descriptions of the Gallinaceous Birds, as Pheasants, Partridges, Grouse, and Ptarmigans; Pigeons, Finches, Sparrows, Linnets, Crows, Magpies, Starlings, &c.

VOL. II. contains detailed descriptions of the British Song Birds, properly so called, including the Dipper, Oriole, Thrushes, Larks, Pipits, Wagtails, Stonechats, Redstarts, Nightingale, Warblers, Titmice, and other genera.

VOL. III. will be published in June, and will contain a detailed description of the BIRDS OF PREY, and the remainder of the Land Birds.

VOL. IV. and V. will contain the WADING and SWIMMING BIRDS, which will complete the Work.

"From the practical knowledge which I have acquired of the Birds of Europe, and more especially of those which inhabit Great Britain, either as constant residents or otherwise, I look on Mr Macgillivray's History of British Birds, Indigenous and Migratory, as the best work on British Ornithological science with which I am acquainted."—John J. Audubon, Feb. 10, 1838.

"This work unites the accuracy of scientific arrangement and anatomical illustration, with a freshness and felicity of description that mark the keen enthusiastic observer."—Quarterly Journal of Agriculture.

"A delightful and original work."—Penny Magazine.

Botany.

SIR J. E. SMITH'S INTRODUCTION to PHYSIOLOGICAL and SYSTEMATIC BOTANY. A New Edition. Edited by W. MACGILLIVRAY, A.M., F.R.S.E., &c. In 12mo, with numerous Figures. Price 9s.

His exposition of the Linnæan system is confessed to be a masterpiece, and the explanations of the various organs with reference to descriptive Botany are sufficiently minute for ordinary purposes; and the editor has added a chapter explanatory of the Natural System of arranging Plants.

WITHERING'S SYSTEMATIC ARRANGEMENT of BRITISH PLANTS. Condensed and brought down to the present period. With an Introduction to the Study of Botany. By WILLIAM MACGILLIVRAY, A.M., F.R.S.E., &c. The Fourth Edition, in 12mo; with 155 Figures and one coloured Plate. Price, bound in cloth, 10s. 6d.

This work comprises descriptions of the Phanerogamous Plants of Great Britain and Ireland, so full as to enable the young botanist to determine every species that might come in his way, without the assistance of others. The Cryptogamic Plants, with the exception of the Ferns, have been omitted as too difficult for the student, until he has rendered the more attractive species familiar.

THE ELEMENTS of PHYSICS. By THOMAS WEBSTER, M.A., of Trinity College, Cambridge; Fellow of the Cambridge Philosophical Society; and Secretary to the Institution of Civil Engineers. This Work contains, I. Introductory Observations.—II. Properties of Bodies.—III. Proportion and Constitution of Solids.—IV. Laws of Equilibrium and Motion.—V. Gravity.—VI. Hydrostatics.—VII. Capillary Theory.—VIII. Acoustics.—IX. Heat.—X. Optics.—XI. Electricity, Galvanism, and Magnetism.—XII. Concluding Observations. Lately published, in one volume 12mo, with numerous Figures. Price 9s.

"This work merits considerable praise for simplicity of style and felicity of illustration; it is easier to read than Arnot's book, and is therefore better suited to those who wish to acquire an elementary knowledge of Physical science."—Athenæum.

DR COMSTOCK'S NATURAL PHILOSOPHY; familiarly Explained, and adapted to the Comprehension of Young Pupils: with appropriate Questions on each page for the Examination of Scholars. With Additions on the Air-Pump, Steam-Engine, &c. By GEORGE LEES, M.A., Lecturer on Natural Philosophy, &c., Edinburgh. With 225 Wood-cuts. Lately published. 18mo. Price, bound in roan, 5s. 6d.

"This is by far the best elementary work on the subject which I have seen: it is clear and concise, and so admirably suited to the younger medical student that I have strongly recommended it to my pupils."—Marshall Hall, M.D. May 1839.

ELEMENTS of PHYSIOLOGY; being an Account of the Animal Economy, especially in Reference to the Constitution of Man. By THOMAS J. AITKIN, M.D., &c. &c. In one volume 12mo, with Wood-cuts. Price 9s. in cloth.

"A plain statement of anatomical and physiological facts, divested of the lumber of technical phraseology."—Dublin Medical Press.

PARKES'S CHEMICAL CATECHISM. With an Appendix, containing Details of important Chemical Manufactures, and numerous Experiments. A New Edition, enlarged, revised, and corrected. by WM. BARKER, M.B., Trinity College, Dublin. 12mo. 7s. 6d.

This work has been greatly improved to adapt it to the present state of the science, and as a first book for chemical students.

MESSRS SCOTT, WEBSTER, & GEARY'S LIST CONTINUED.

MRS PHELPS' FEMALE STUDENT; or, Lectures to Young Ladies on Female Education. For the Use of Mothers, Teachers, and Pupils. 18mo. Price 4s.

"An admirable work, intended to convey general instruction on subjects connected with literature, morals, and religion, by a lady who has distinguished herself as one of the founders of institutions for the educating of young ladies in the higher branches of education."

THE WISDOM and GENIUS of SHAKSPEARE; comprising Moral Philosophy, Delineations of Character, Paintings of Nature and the Passions, with 700 Aphorisms, and Miscellaneous Pieces. With select and original Notes and Scriptural References. By the Rev. THOMAS PRICE, Woolwich. Lately published, in one volume foolscap 8vo. Price 7s. 6d.

"The best attempt ever made to index Shakspeare."—Sunday Times.

"Shakspeare, 'cut out in little stars'—worth its weight in gold."—Tait.

THE PICTORIAL HISTORY of PALESTINE.

By the EDITOR OF THE PICTORIAL BIBLE.

The main object of the present Work is to relate every event of nterest or importance in the political, social, military, physical, and religious history of the country called PALESTINE, from the most remote ages to the times in which we live. It will thus be, in the largest sense,

A HISTORY OF PALESTINE, and not merely of the Hebrew nation; but seeing that it is only its connexion, and the consequences of its connexion, with the history of the Hebrew people, which has rendered this small country of historical importance, it is also intended that the present Volume should be complete as not leaving them, as most histories do, when they were utterly cast forth from their old possessions; but while, on the one hand, the history of the country is still continued, on the other, pursuing the people into all the places of their dispersion.

The Wood Engravings, which will be very numerous, will be executed in the first style of the art. The subjects of these Engravings will be strictly illustrative; being representations of actual scenery, costume, manners, monuments, and objects of natural history—in some instances combined into a picture or group, but never exhibiting any thing merely fanciful.

The Pictorial History of Palestine will form two handsome volumes of the size of the Pictorial Bible, to which work it will form a Supplementary Companion.

London: CHARLES KNIGHT & Co., 22, Ludgate Street.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

A NOVEL and EXPEDITIOUS METHOD, now almost UNIVERSALLY ADOPTED, of LEARNING and TEACHING

THE EUROPEAN LANGUAGES,

SO AS TO BE ABLE TO CONVERSE IN THEM.

"The method Mr Fenwick De Porquet has adopted in the teaching of languages is borne out by the first metaphysical minds, and the first of scholastic authorities, from John Locke or Roger Ascham downwards; and a more important, although less popular personage than either of these in school establishments, viz.—Common Sense. We think it a duty to the public, and to the author of the Fenwickian System, thus to state our opinion of its merits and advantages in the work of instruction."—Educational Magazine, Dec. 1835.

THE COURT and LADY'S MAGAZINE,—OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, and DECEMBER 1839, Vol. XV.—contains the whole of KING EDWARD III. and the COUNTESS of SALISBURY, a New Historical Romance by M. ALEXANDRE DUMAS (the only English Translation); the author having been stimulated to write upon this brilliant period of English and Scottish History (portraying the glorious deeds of Wallace and Bruce) in generous emulation of the late Sir Walter Scott's QUENTIN DURWARD. The tale is illustrated by full-length coloured Portraits of QUEEN PHILIPPA, Wife to EDWARD III.—the FAIR MAID of KENT—her Husband the BLACK PRINCE—and their Son RICHARD II., &c. &c.

Much also of English personal History (with full-length authentic coloured Portraits of British Queens) is in progress.

A LONDON WEEKLY NEWSPAPER,

PUBLISHED ON WEDNESDAY.

THE

COLONIAL GAZETTE,

Price Sixpence.

(Begun in 1838, in connexion with the Colonial Society of London.)

The Day of Publication of The Colonial Gazette has recently been changed from Saturday to Wednesday Afternoon; and the Paper is now conducted by the Editor of the Spectator, with able Assistants and Contributors.

Besides the features it possesses in common with other Newspapers, and the obvious function of making known in England and the Colonies reciprocally whatever it most concerns each to learn of the other,

THE CHIEF OBJECTS OF THIS JOURNAL ARE,

1. To excite in England an interest in Colonial questions commensurate with their importance;
2. To enforce sound principles in Colonization and Colonial Government;
3. To assist Colonial communities and individuals in prosecuting their just demands on the Imperial Government;
4. To bring public opinion in England to bear upon the only irresponsible and the worst-managed branch of the public service—the Colonial Department.

By discriminate selection, painstaking compression, and clear arrangement of the Week's News, The Colonial Gazette is enabled to devote more space to Original Papers on important subjects, and to give more copious Extracts from what is interesting in the Press of our widely-extended Colonies, than any other English Journal.

A Weekly Report of the State of Colonial Markets in London is brought down to the hour of publication on Wednesday.

The Colonial Gazette may be procured on application to any Bookseller or Newsman in Town or Country; or by letter post-paid, to Joseph Clayton, the Publisher, 9, Wellington Street, Strand.

Crescent Academy,

NEAR DOUGLAS, ISLE OF MAN.

MR STEELE begs most respectfully to announce, that as he is at present enlarging his Premises, by the erection of a very large and commodious School-Room, he will, in consequence, be enabled to accommodate a few additional Young Gentlemen as Boarders. Parents and Guardians who may be disposed to place Young Gentlemen under Mr Steele's care, may be assured that every attention will be paid to them, both with regard to their comfort, and to their religious, moral, and intellectual culture.

The Isle of Man is famed for the healthiness of its climate, and Douglas is well known as an excellent Watering-place. Mr Steele's house being situated on the Bay, the Boys have it thus in their power to enjoy the benefits of Sea-Bathing with the greatest possible convenience and safety. References of the highest respectability can be given.

The Branches of Education taught by Mr Steele and his Assistants are,—Latin, Greek, French, and English on the intellectual plan adopted by Mr Wood of Edinburgh; Elements of Composition; History; Geography, with the Use of the Globes; Astronomy; Arithmetic, including Mental Calculation; Mathematics, Theoretical and Practical; Algebra; Elementary Science; Religious Instruction; Lessons on Objects; Writing; and Book-keeping.

TERMS:—For Day Pupils, two Guineas per Quarter; for Boarders under eight years of age, twenty-five Guineas per Annum; for those between eight and fourteen years, thirty Guineas; and for those above fourteen years, thirty-five Guineas. These Terms include Board and all the Branches of Education enumerated above.

The Midsummer Vacation continues Six Weeks, from the end of June to the middle of August. The Quarter-days are, 3d November, 22d January, 12th April, and the 28th June,—the first Quarter commencing on the 15th August.

 A Quarter's Notice is requested before the removal of a Pupil.

On the 1st of January 1840 will be published (to be completed in Four Parts), Part First, price 6s., of AN ABRIDGMENT of MALTE BRUN'S and BALBI'S SYSTEMS of GEOGRAPHY, compiled from the original Works, as well as from the French Abridgment and English Translations of Malte Brun, with a careful comparison of late Authorities, containing numerous Tables of Population and Statistics, together with much important Information of a date subsequent to the publication of the French Editions. To which will be added, a copious Index of the Counties, Towns, and Miscellaneous Information contained in the body of the Work, affording that facility of Reference which forms the chief recommendation of a Gazetteer.

TAIT'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE; price ONE SHILLING, Monthly; or, Twelve Shillings, per Annum.

A volume of Tait's Magazine, although costing only Twelve Shillings, contains as much letterpress, by a number of the ablest writers of the day, as is given by the London Magazines and the Quarterly Reviews for Thirty-six Shillings; or as is contained in TWENTY VOLUMES of NOVELS, as usually published in post 8vo at 10s. 6d. each; or £10, 10s. in all. To say nothing of condensation of matter, and variety of subject, each Number of Tait's Magazine gives, for One Shilling, more reading than is contained in a volume and two-thirds of a volume of a modern Novel at Seventeen Shillings and Sixpence.

"There is no monthly periodical so carefully got up as Tait's."—Sun.

"In a literary point of view, Tait's Magazine is equal, if not superior, to the most distinguished of its contemporaries. While it is one of the best, it is the very cheapest periodical extant."—Liverpool Chronicle.

THE FOLLOWING BOOKS

ARE PUBLISHED BY

BELL & BRADFUTE, AND STIRLING, KENNEY, & CO.

EDINBURGH.

THE FOLLOWING POPULAR SCHOOLBOOKS ARE EDITED BY DR CARSON, RECTOR OF THE HIGH SCHOOL, EDINBURGH.

C. CORNELII TACITI OPERA, AD FIDEM OPTIMORUM EXEMPLARIUM RECENSUIT. One Volume 8vo. Price 7s. 6d. bound in cloth.

The object of Dr CARSON has been to present the Classical Scholar with an edition of Tacitus, that should combine the advantages of typographical accuracy with the utmost purity of text; for this purpose he has availed himself of the researches of modern criticism, particularly of Brotier and Ruperti. The present Edition is also illustrated with excellent Maps of Ancient Britain and Germany.

MAIR'S INTRODUCTION, a New Edition; with copious Observations by Dr CARSON; to which are added, VOCABULARIES of all the Words occurring in the Exercises, and also of the Proper Names. 12mo. Price 3s. bound.

 In this Edition every sentence has been traced to its original author, by which means several important changes are introduced.—See Advertisement by Dr Carson, prefixed to the Book.

KEY to MAIR'S INTRODUCTION. By WILLIAM DUNCAN, E.C.P. Printed so as to bind with Dr CARSON'S Edition of the Introduction. 12mo. Price 3s. 6d. bound.

GRAMMATICAL EXERCISES on the MOODS, TENSES, and SYNTAX of the LATIN LANGUAGE; adapted to the method of RUDDIMAN'S RUDIMENTS. A New Edition, revised and corrected throughout; with Notes, by Dr CARSON. 18mo. Price 1s. 6d. bound.

 The same book, with a Vocabulary, price 2s. bound.

KEY to GRAMMATICAL EXERCISES. By W. DUNCAN, E.C.P. 18mo. Price 2s. 6d. bound.

PUBLII VIRGILII MARONIS OPERA. Cura JOANNIS DYMOCK, LL. D. Nunc primum accedit Index, Anglice, Historicus et Geographicus: to which is prefixed, a Metrical Key. 18mo. Price 3s. 6d. bound.

After the stereotype plates of this Edition were cast, Dr DYMOCK revised the whole with the greatest possible care, and therefore the public may place the utmost confidence in its accuracy.

"The INDEX has been drawn up at the suggestion of several eminent teachers. Many things connected with the writings of Virgil will be found concisely described, which are not to be met with in Lempriere, or any other Classical Dictionary; and from the care bestowed upon it, as well as from its evident utility, cannot fail to prove of advantage to the pupil."

VIRGIL, IN USUM DELPHINI, carefully revised and corrected. By WILLIAM DUNCAN, E. C. P. 8vo. Price 11s. bound.

To this Edition is added a complete Metrical Key, Clavis Metrico Virgiliana; also a Geographical, Historical, and Biographical Index in English; the Index Verborum has undergone a careful and critical revision.

The WORKS of VIRGIL, translated into ENGLISH PROSE as near the original as the different Idioms of the Latin and English Languages will allow; with illustrative Notes, and a copious Index. For the Use of Schools as well as Private Gentlemen. In one vol. 12mo. New Edition. Price 4s. bound.

In preparing the present Edition of DAVIDSON'S TRANSLATION of VIRGIL for the press, the Editor has carefully compared the whole with the original, and also with the early Editions printed under the eye of the TRANSLATOR, by which he has been enabled to correct numerous errors. The Illustrations, Notes, and Index, will be found useful additions, and cannot fail to give a new interest to this popular author.

DYMOCK'S OVID, WITH NOTES, &c.

DECERPTA ex P. OVIDII NASONIS METAMORPHOSEON LIBRIS, ad optimorum exemplarium fidem RECENSITA, Notulis Sermone Anglicano exaratis illustrata, et Indice Nominum Propriorum uberrimo INSTRUCTA. In usum Scholarum. Studio JOANNIS DYMOCK, LL.D. Editio Nova. Price 2s. 6d. bound.

The labours of Dr DYMOCK as a critical Editor are well known and acknowledged. On none of his elementary books did he bestow more time and pains than his Edition of Ovid.

"Mr Dymock's Notes on Ovid form a most valuable addition to ancient lore—they may be held as a complete code of Heathen Mythology, and form indeed a Pantheon, which is beyond question the more unexceptionable, and the more valuable to youth in this important respect, that, whilst it contains every information that regards the history of the immortals of Olympus, no expression or idea tending to indecency is on any occasion admitted. Sufficient praise cannot be given to Mr Dymock for his delicacy in this respect."—Scots Magazine. No. 157, pp. 45, 46.

A COMBINED EDITION of RUDDIMAN'S RUDIMENTS and GRAMMAR; with a Literal Translation of the Rules De Generibus Nominum, and many other important Improvements. By JOHN DYMOCK, LL.D. Price 2s. bound.

"The intention of the Editor was to offer to the public a combined edition of Mr Ruddiman's Rudiments and Latin Grammar, neatly and correctly printed, at a price not very much higher than that usually charged for the former of these excellent elementary treatises. How far the execution corresponds with the design, must be left to the decision of his professional brethren;"—and this has been shown by the numerous editions that have been printed.

M. TULLII CICERONIS ORATIONES SELECTAE, ad optimam Editionem Jo. Casparis Orellii summa cura castigatae. Accesserunt Dialogi de Senectute, et de Amicitia; necnon Somnium Scipionis; ex Recensione Jo. Aug. Ernestii diligenter recognita. Editio Nova, Notulis, in tironum gratiam, Anglice exaratis, illustrata. Edidit JOANNES DAVIDSON, A.M., Auctor Libri, cui titulus est, "A System of Practical Mathematics," &c. 12mo. Price 4s. bound.

C. JULII CÆSARIS de BELLO GALLICO et CIVILI COMMENTARII. Accedunt Libri de Bello Alexandrino, Africano, et Hispaniensi. Editio Nova, Curante GULIELMO DUNCAN, E. C. P. Cui nunc adjicitur Index, Anglice, locuples, a JOANNE CHRISTISON. In one volume 12mo. New Edition. Price 3s. 6d. bound.

C. CRISPI SALLUSTII BELLUM CATILINARIUM et JUGURTHINUM. Ex Recensione, et cum Notis, ADAMI DICKINSON. 18mo. Price 2s. bound.

The Notes are intended to illustrate some of the more difficult passages and peculiarities of Sallust.

NOVELLE MORALI di FRANCESCO SOAVE. Nuova Edizione; diligentemente correta, in cui si sono, accentate tutte le voci; e che contiene un Vocabulario Aggiunto allo fine. 12mo. 4s. bound.

This Edition having undergone a thorough revisal, the Vocabulary enlarged, a list of words which are most likely to puzzle the learner prefixed, and the Stereotype Plates carefully corrected, the Editors dismiss it, in the hope that it will be found on the whole improved.

By the same Author, Seventh Edition,

COMFORT in AFFLICTION; a Series of Meditations. Foolscap 8vo, 3s. 6d. cloth, lettered.

"This is my comfort in mine Affliction: for thy WORD hath quickened me."

——————— on a large type, demy 8vo, 7s. 6d. cloth.

Extracts from the Rev. Hugh White's (of Dublin) Meditations.

"See this subject ('Blessed Results of Affliction') treated with peculiar force of argument, and felicity of expression—strong in scriptural statements of divine truth, and rich in scriptural sources of divine consolation—in a most valuable work, entitled 'COMFORT IN AFFLICTION, by the Rev. James Buchanan, North Leith,'—which I would affectionately recommend to every Christian mourner, who desires to drink deeply of the refreshing streams which the Fountain of all Comfort—the Word of God, supplies; for it is from this sacred source the pious and talented author of this excellent work derives 'Comfort in Affliction,' which his pages so eloquently and attractively sets forth."

INDIA and INDIA MISSIONS: including Sketches of the gigantic System of Hinduism both in Theory and Practice; also, Notices of some of the Principal Agencies employed in conducting the Process of Indian Evangelization, &c. &c. NOTICES OF THE PREVIOUS VOLUME.

"One of the very best gift-books of the season."—Athenæum.

"An admirable companion for the young."—Evangelical Magazine.

"It is our deliberate conviction that the present volume, the Tenth of the Series, is not only calculated to maintain the well-earned reputation of its predecessors, but is decidedly superior to any of them. The engravings, we must add, are really very beautiful specimens of art."—Edinburgh Advertiser.

"The best Annual for Youth, without any exception, that we have ever seen."—Aberdeen Constitutional.

"From its commencement, it has proved itself one of the most instructive books ever put into young hands."—Dundee Courier.

"Rich in stories, and in amusing and instructive matter."—Dublin Statesman.

"The former volume was decidedly superior to its predecessors, and the present is in several respects more elegant than the last. The plates and binding are really beautiful."—Scottish Guardian.

 Several of the previous Volumes of the Series may still be had.

THE PRESBYTERIAN REVIEW.

THE PRESBYTERIAN REVIEW was originally projected for the discussion of Theological subjects, with a due regard to the progress of Literature and Science in general. Its articles have embraced almost all departments of knowledge—endeavouring to do justice in every instance to talent and genius, and to view every subject in the light in which it should be regarded by a Christian mind. In Theology it seeks to make its readers acquainted with the various works which are produced by Christians of different denominations, and to defend the principles of the Church of Scotland. To promote the extension, purity, and efficiency of that Establishment, and to advocate the cause of Scriptural Education and general Philanthropy, have been among its leading objects.

In order more effectually to attain these ends, the Proprietors have made a large abatement in its price, which is now

REDUCED FROM 4s. TO HALF-A-CROWN A NUMBER.

Whether they shall be enabled to continue it at this rate, must depend on the circumstance of the loss which is immediately incurred being made up by an increased circulation; and they therefore respectfully, but earnestly, call for the support of those who approve of its principles, and wish them to be defended and diffused.

NATIONAL WIT AND HUMOUR.—THE SCOTTISH JOE MILLER.

THE LAIRD of LOGAN will, at the urgent request of many of his Friends, be republished early in 1840.

The First Volume of the Laird, under the supervision of the late Mr Carrick, has been out of print for a considerable time; and the impression of the Second Series, which was larger by a fourth than the First, is nearly all sold. The New Issue will combine both Volumes; and, in addition, fresh matter will be given to the extent of a Third Series.

The Public will be enabled to judge, when the Work is before them, whether those previously given are improved in this New Edition. The new matter introduced will, the Editor trusts, show that experience has made him better acquainted with the public taste. This Edition will contain a Sketch of the Life of the late Mr Carrick, by an intimate Literary Associate; also, a brief Memoir of William Motherwell, who was a large Contributor to the First Series of the Laird of Logan, and who, had he survived, was to have edited the Second; a Notice also of the intimate friend of both these gentlemen, Andrew Henderson, the Compiler of the Volume of Scottish Proverbs given under his name.

The Laird, after much argument and solicitation, consented—though he gave a most unmitigated expression of abhorrence against all tailoring and embroidery—to adopt the costume and manners of the day, and will therefore unpack his budget monthly, giving the whole Work to the public in twelve or fourteen Monthly Parts, of eight-and-forty Waverley-sized, but better-packed pages, with an Embellishment in Wood from Original Designs, executed in the first style of the art, "for," as the orateurs du pavé have it, "the small charge of a Sixpence."

Pocket Edition of Mr Campbell's Poems.

In one volume 18mo, 5s. cloth boards, or elegantly bound in morocco, gilt edges, 8s.

THE POETICAL WORKS of THOMAS CAMPBELL. A New and Enlarged Edition. With a Portrait of the Author, engraved by Horsburgh, in the first Style of the Art, after a Painting by Sir THOMAS LAWRENCE.

"This 'new and improved edition' of the writings of the first of the living bards of Great Britain, has the additional merit of being distinguished for its unprecedented cheapness, and thus affords to his admirers the opportunity of acquiring an elegantly-printed copy of his collected works at a less price than they have heretofore been accustomed to pay for the 'Pleasures of Hope' alone. We confidently augur an equally unprecedented sale from this circumstance, no poet of our day being so eminently and deservedly popular with all classes; and would especially recommend it as the most unexceptionable and appropriate gift-book which could be selected—as at once paying a compliment to the presumed taste of the receiver, and indicating the judiciousness of that of the donor."—Greenock Advertiser.

"This is a very handsome edition of the poetry of Campbell, who may now be regarded as an English classic. The volume, which is of a neat pocket size, contains all the poems of the author, including his more lengthened and elaborate efforts, the Pleasures of Hope, Theodric, and Gertrude of Wyoming."—Edinburgh Evening Post.

"It is in a most attractive and portable form—got up in the first style—and adorned with a fine portrait of the author. We are not aware that there is any edition of Campbell's Poems to be met with which will bear a comparison with this for elegance and portability combined."—Berwick Warder.

"For example, we feel convinced that Oliver & Boyd's edition of Campbell's Poetical Works will find its way into every reading family, unless they have previously been introduced there, from the castle to the cottage, and that perhaps within the first six months many thousands of them will be disposed of. Thus will good taste, sound sentiment, and elevated feeling be promoted; and an impression made on the character and progress of society, the beneficial effects of which cannot easily be predicated."—Edinburgh Chronicle.

"A neat volume at a low price, with a portrait, and all the works of the poet. If it fail to exalt his fame, it will at least extend the circle of his readers, and introduce him to a class better able to appreciate his beauties than to purchase costly volumes."—Atlas.

"The volume is so cheap as to be brought within the reach of all classes and readers, and is adorned by a very fine and correct engraving of the poet by Horsburgh, from Sir Thomas Lawrence's well-known painting."—Perth Courier.

"The sheets have been revised carefully by the author—the notes are for the first time collocated at the foot of the pages—and there is prefixed a beautiful portrait of the author, engraved by Horsburgh, from the original picture painted by Sir Thomas Lawrence;—so that there is nothing wanting to render this cheap and popular edition of Campbell's Poems as complete, correct, elegant, and useful, as any of the large and expensive editions which have hitherto only gratified the rich, and tempted the poetical yearnings of the lettered poor."—Weekly Journal.

"Of all the editions we have seen this is the most complete and beautiful, and, from the smallness of the price of the volume—not exceeding the half of the original cost of the single poem of 'Hope'—we are certain it must spread the poet's fame among multitudes who only know him by name, and by a few quotations and songs that are in every one's mouth."—Fife Journal.

"A handsome, portable, and low-priced edition of Campbell's Works has long been wanting, and here is such an edition. It includes the Pleasures of Hope, Gertrude of Wyoming, Theodric,—in fact, all the poetry that Campbell has ever written. We find some lyrics which we had not met before, and notice only one omission—that is, the poem to the Jewess at Altona. Campbell has the rare lot of being ranked, while living, among the standard poets who have given perpetuity to their 'land's language.' This edition, beautifully printed, and complete in every particular, is just the book to diffuse Campbell's fine poetry throughout the land."—Liverpool Mail.

"The little book contains not only all the more generally known poems of its author, but also some of exquisite beauty, now, we believe, culled for the first time from the more fugitive pages of magazines, &c. in which they first appeared. Among these are some fine blank verses, entitled 'Lines on a View from St. Leonard's'—a style of versification which Campbell has seldom attempted, but over which he evinces no ordinary mastery. There is also the four-verse romance of Adelgitha—perhaps the most finished thing he ever put out of his hands."—Glasgow Argus.

"This is a beautiful pocket edition of the whole Poetical Works of one of our most estimable bards, estimable alike for his patriotism, his morality, and his poetry. There is something delightful, something peculiarly charming, about the very idea of possessing in one neat small volume the Pleasures of Hope, Gertrude of Wyoming, O'Connor's Child, Lord Ullin's Daughter, and the vast number of small but truly effective pieces which from time to time have come from the truly British mind of Campbell."—Tyne Mercury.

"Thomas Campbell is one of the most fortunate poets of this or of any other age. He gained immortality in a night. He launched into the world his 'Pleasures of Hope,' and in the morning he was roused by the ear-stirring blast of 'Fame's far-reaching trump.' Any man, particularly a poet, to know before he descends to the silent tomb that his name is imperishably linked with the literature of his country, and that, as a classic writer, he will ever hold an exalted station, is an assurance that few, if any, ever attained during their pilgrimage on earth."—Glasgow Courier.

"We close this beautiful and precious volume not without regret that the highly gifted author had not favoured the world with more numerous and more sustained flights into the empyrean of poesy. He has certainly done enough to win and secure a poetical immortality, for his lays will stir and refine the hearts of ages yet unborn."—Dumfries Courier.

"This is in every respect the best edition of Campbell's Works that we have seen. It contains the most recent of his poems, and we are convinced that all the admirers of this elegant writer will be gratified by the publication of so cheap, portable, and full a collection of his Poetical Works. It has an Appendix, with a number of interesting Notes: there is also a portrait of the author, engraved by Horsburgh, after Sir Thomas Lawrence."—Leeds Mercury.

"The admirers of the 'Pleasures of Hope' are now afforded an opportunity of becoming possessors of the Poetical Works of their favourite author at a very cheap rate. We are glad to notice that publishers now see their real interest by affording such standard works at a rate within the power of the whole British public, as we are assured that they in their turn will appreciate the gift thus offered, and remunerate them for any sacrifice they may make by more universal purchasing. The present volume is well got up, and worth a place in any library, both by its exterior trappings, as well as by its intrinsic value, which is too well known to require any comment from us; for who does not admire the lays of Thomas Campbell?"—Sheffield Iris.

PUBLISHED BY STIRLING, KENNEY, & CO.,

46, GEORGE STREET, EDINBURGH.

THE SCOTTISH TOURIST and ITINERARY; or, A GUIDE to the SCENERY and ANTIQUITIES of SCOTLAND and the WESTERN ISLANDS. With a Description of the Principal Steam-Boat Tours. Illustrated with numerous Plates, Maps, and engraved Routes. THE SEVENTH EDITION, considerably enlarged. Price 9s. 6d. boards, or 11s. bound.

 The MAPS and ROUTES may be had separate, done up for the pocket.

Amongst many other testimonials in favour of this book, the Publishers are enabled to submit the following from the pen of the late Sir Walter Scott, Bart.:

"Sir Walter is much obliged by the copy of the Tourist which he found lying for him at his return from Ireland; and returns his thanks, and permission to inscribe the Work to Sir Walter, in case it shall not find a worthier patron. The general plan and execution of the Work seem highly commendable."

HOYLE MADE FAMILIAR; containing an accurate Description of Whist, SHORT WHIST, Quadrille, Piquet, Quinze, Vingt-un, Cassino, Put, All-Fours, Pope-Joan, Thirty-one, Brag, Commerce, Earl of Coventry, Lansquenet, Loo, Ecarte, Cribbage, Five and Ten, Pharo, Rouge et Noir, Matrimony, Reversis, Connexions, Speculation, Snip-Snap-Snoreim, Boston, Catch the Ten, Commit, Lift Smoke, Lottery. With the RULES and PRACTICE, as admitted by the most fashionable Establishments in the United Kingdom. By EIDRAH TREBOR, Esq. 24mo, boards, gilt edges. 2s. 6d.

 In this Edition, an attempt has been made—successfully, it is confidently hoped—to incorporate the "Reading made Easy" with the "Grammar" and "Philosophy" of Cards—in other words, to give such a plain and perspicuous description of each game, from the cutting for deal to scoring the last point, as will enable the person who never saw a pack of cards, by perusing the three or four prefatory pages, and the treatise on the game he wishes to acquire a knowledge of, to understand its principles, and with a little practice to play it well.

A number of New Games, never before published, have been inserted in the present Edition, among which may be mentioned the fashionable game of Ecarte, freely translated from the French treatise, with "Catch the Ten," or Scotch Whist, and the Irish game of "Five and Ten," "Short Whist," besides several new Round Games, and varieties of some of the old ones.

THE RHETORICAL READER; consisting of Choice Specimens in Oratorical Composition, in Prose and Verse; to which are prefixed, Mr Walker's Rules on Elocution, pointing out the Pauses, Emphasis, and Inflections suitable to every variety of Sentences; illustrated by Apposite Examples. FULTON & KNIGHT'S NEW DICTIONARY.

Just published, and sold by all Booksellers, in square 12mo,

A DICTIONARY of the ENGLISH LANGUAGE, GREATLY IMPROVED; the Pronunciation ascertained by a new and simple Notation. To which are prefixed, the Principles of English Pronunciation, and the Elements of Reading; with copious Lists of Greek, Latin, and Scripture Proper Names, &c. &c. BY G. FULTON and G. KNIGHT.

FULTON & KNIGHT'S "System is, in our opinion, decidedly superior to any which has yet been adopted, for it combines the principles of Etymology and Orthoepy, which were unfolded by Sheridan, with all the real improvements of Walker, reduced to a degree of SIMPLICITY and PRACTICAL facility, which neither the one nor the other ever attained."—British Critic.

"We cordially recommend this work to both natives and foreigners as a useful, correct, and greatly simplified pronouncing Dictionary of the English language."—Scotsman.

"This popular Dictionary comes before us with many additional claims to the support of the public. The improvement in every department is manifest at a glance."—Aberdeen Journal.

"The editors have introduced a more simple method of notation; the spelling is less varied, and consequently less inconvenient."—Evening Post.

"We cordially recommend this Dictionary to teachers, families, and students. It is at once simple and complete, and of never-failing accuracy."—Inverness Courier.

JUST PUBLISHED,

In 4 vols post 8vo, price £1, 10s. bound in cloth, the SECOND EDITION of LECTURES on THEOLOGY. By the late Rev. JOHN DICK, D.D., Minister of the United Associate Congregation, Greyfriars, Glasgow; and Professor of Theology to the United Secession Church. With a Memoir of the Author by his Son.

"From this brief analysis, our readers will perceive that the author has taken a comprehensive range, and when we add, that there are few opinions or topics, either more immediately or more remotely connected with these various subjects, to which he does not less or more advert, it must be admitted, that in point of extent, the lectures are not exceeded by any in the English language. For simplicity, precision, and perspicuity, the language is pre-eminently distinguished. We cannot conclude this notice of so valuable a work without cordially recommending it to our readers."—Congregational Magazine.

"As far as published works (on systematic theology) are concerned, Dr Dick's Lectures now before us are entitled to an undisputed pre-eminence."—Evangelical Magazine.

"The late Dr Dick has long been known and esteemed as an able theological writer; and this posthumous publication will serve still more to elevate his reputation. It contains one hundred and five lectures, which were originally addressed to students in divinity, and revised by the author, at different times, with great care. They constitute a body of theology, upon strictly Calvinistic principles; but at the same time embrace a large portion of divine truth, in which all orthodox Christians are agreed, clearly proposed and powerfully defended."—Wesleyan Methodist Magazine.

"The Lectures, throughout, display an extensive and a most accurate knowledge of the great variety of important topics which come before him. His system has all the advantages of fair proportion; there is nothing neglected, and nothing overloaded. His taste is correct and pure, even to severity; nothing is admitted, either in language or in matter, that cannot establish the most indisputable right to be so; hence, he is alike lucid in his arrangement, and perspicuous in style.—Among modern systems of Theology, this work is entitled to occupy a high place. To young divines—and to some who are young no longer—we would cordially recommend it as a rich storehouse of valuable information. There are few topics upon which they will not here find the justest views correctly stated, clearly illustrated, and ably established."—Edinburgh Christian Instructor.

"We consider these Lectures as no small accession to our theological literature, and would cordially recommend them to the perusal, not merely of the professional divine, but also of the general reader. They are characterized throughout by a clear and perspicuous style, by tasteful illustration, by fervent manly piety, by candour and perfect fairness in stating the opinions of all from whom he differs, and by a modest and firm defence of 'the truth as it is in Jesus.' The most intricate doctrines are unfolded with admirable tact."—Presbyterian Review.

"We recommend this work in the very strongest terms to the Biblical student. It is, as a whole, superior to any other system of theology in our language. As an elementary book, especially fitted for those who are commencing the study of divinity, it is unrivalled. On every subject which he discusses, Dr Dick may safely be trusted as a scriptural guide. He always thinks for himself, displaying a mind of much acuteness, enriched with extensive information, imbued with the deepest reverence for the authority of scripture."—Christian Journal.

VIEW of ANCIENT and MODERN EGYPT. By the Right Rev. MICHAEL RUSSELL, LL.D. 3d Edition, revised and enlarged. In one volume.

PALESTINE, or the HOLY LAND: from the Earliest Period to the Present Time. By the Right Rev. MICHAEL RUSSELL, LL.D. 4th Edition. In one volume.

PERSIA, from the Earliest Ages to the Present Time: With a Description of AFGHANISTAN and BELOOCHISTAN. By JAMES B. FRASER, Esq. 2d Edition. In one volume.

"This is a very valuable addition to our historical literature, and derives less of its useful properties from the standard authorities on Persia than from the author's experience, which so pervades the whole of the contents as to secure to them all the advantages of novelty and originality."—Monthly Review.

BRITISH INDIA, from the most Remote Period: Including a Narrative of the Revolutions in the Mogul Empire, and the Origin, Progress, and Establishment of the British Power. By HUGH MURRAY, F.R.S.E.; JAMES WILSON, F.R.S.E.; R. K. GREVILLE, LL.D.; PROFESSOR JAMESON; Sir W. AINSLIE, M.D., M.R.A.S.; PROFESSOR WALLACE; and Captain CLARENCE DALRYMPLE. 3d Edition, containing the latest Information. In three vols

"This publication is a phenomenon in the manufacture of books, using that phrase in its most eulogistic sense. So many competent hands probably never combined in the treatment of one subject in so small a compass; and a large and most interesting branch of information was altogether never more successfully handled, and undoubtedly never until very lately, if even then, vended at so cheap a rate. Every department is in the hands of its master, and yet the whole is so well harmonized, that the work may be read from end to end without being conscious of a change of writer."—Spectator.

CHINA: Its Ancient and Modern History, Language, Literature, Religion, Government, Industry, Manners, and Social State; British and Foreign Commerce; Directions to Navigators. By HUGH MURRAY, F.R.S.E.; JOHN CRAWFURD, Esq.; PETER GORDON, Esq.; Captain THOMAS LYNN; PROFESSOR WALLACE; and GILBERT BURNETT, Esq. 2d Edition. In three volumes.

"We have examined the compendium of the History of China, compiled by Mr H. Murray, with the assistance of several able gentlemen, for that excellent work, the Edinburgh Cabinet Library, and we can venture to pronounce it the best digest which has yet appeared, adapted to the object in view, that of giving a popular account of the empire of China."—Asiatic Journal.

"The volume seems to us extremely well designed, being clearly arranged and temperately written."—Spectator.

"The work is written with ability, and prepared with a due attention to the objects proposed to be attained by its study."—Atlas.

"Its utility will be found to be universal. It contains as complete and comprehensive a body of evidence on the great fundamental truths of Christianity as has yet been brought together. Nor do we know any work in which that evidence is to be met with in so compact and concise a form as it is presented here, nor anywhere is it treated in a manner so plain, rational, and intelligible."—Scotsman.

"The volume of Dr Dewar is distinguished by great neatness and perspicuity of style. Many of his illustrations are peculiarly happy."—Edinburgh Weekly Journal.

A DISSERTATION on the REASONABLENESS of CHRISTIANITY. By the Rev. JOHN WILSON, A. M., Minister of Irvine. 2d Edition, enlarged.

"This is a work of no ordinary description. The author of it has lighted on a vein of virgin gold, and he has wrought it nobly. It is the following out of one of the most precious books in our language—Bishop Butler's 'Analogy.' A more able, dispassionate work, it has seldom been our happiness to peruse."—Scottish Guardian.

"The author has our cordial thanks for presenting us with a well-written and well-sustained argument on a subject of infinite importance. The work, we think, will be popular."—Church of Scotland Magazine.

"This is a very able and most meritorious production. Altogether we think it a decided acquisition to the theological literature of Scotland."—Scotsman.

TO TEACHERS.

In one volume 12mo, 3s. 6d. bound, the TWENTY-SECOND EDITION of

THE HISTORY of SCOTLAND, from the Earliest Period to the Accession of Queen Victoria. To which is added, An Outline of the British Constitution. With Questions for Examination at the end of each Section. By ROBERT SIMPSON.

The simple fact that twenty-two large impressions of this work have been thrown off, bears sufficient evidence to the high estimation in which it is held by the public. With a view to increase its utility, various improvements were made on the twenty-first edition; among the most important of which was the re-composing of the more ancient part of the narrative by a distinguished writer, whose works have thrown great light on the annals of Scotland. A similar process has been adopted with regard to the remainder of the volume, a large portion having been written anew, and the whole carefully corrected. A valuable chapter has been added, which brings down the record of public events from the death of George IV. to the reign of Victoria; and the chapter on the British Constitution has been completely remodelled.—These improvements, it is hoped, will be considered at the same time valuable in themselves, and well calculated to facilitate the study of Scotish history. The publishers therefore trust that the work, which is not enhanced in price, will be considered worthy of an increased degree of approbation; and the volume having been stereotyped, the uniformity of all subsequent editions is secured.

Also, lately published,

SIMPSON'S IMPROVED EDITIONS of GOLDSMITH'S HISTORIES of ENGLAND, GREECE, and ROME, price 3s. 6d. each.

FIFTEENTH EDITION OF EWING'S GEOGRAPHY.

In 12mo, 4s. 6d. bound, or with Nine Maps, 6s. 6d.

A SYSTEM of GEOGRAPHY, from the latest and best Authorities; including also the Elements of Astronomy, an Account of the Solar System, a variety of Problems to be solved by the Terrestrial and Celestial Globes, and a Pronouncing Vocabulary containing all the Names of Places which occur in the Text. By THOMAS EWING, Teacher of Elocution, Geography, History, &c., Edinburgh.

In preparing this the FIFTEENTH edition for the press, every exertion has been used to render the work more worthy of the very high reputation which it has acquired with teachers and the public. The utmost pains have been taken to ensure accuracy in the various alterations rendered necessary by territorial changes and the advancement of geographical science. The additions to the statistical and historical details, with the population of the different countries, have been derived from the most recent and authentic sources.

Emblematic & Ornamental Bookbinding.

THE taste and beauty displayed in the various Pictorial and Literary Works at present issuing periodically from the British Press, entitle them to a distinguished place in the Boudoir, the Drawing-Room, and the Library.

To render these, when complete, still more acceptable to the lovers of Literature and the Fine Arts,

JOHN GRAY, BOOKBINDER. 7, MOUND, EDINBURGH, has been induced to devote his attention to the device of appropriate styles of Binding, harmonizing with the subjects of the works, and in unison with the present advanced state of the Arts of Typography and Engraving.

From the complete success which attended his efforts in the Binding of "Nickleby," and the general satisfaction expressed by the possessors of that work who honoured him with their employment, J. G. has been induced to make arrangements with a first-rate Artist for the execution of a set of Dies expressly adapted to the Binding of "THE LAND OF BURNS," and "VIEWS ON THE BOSPHORUS," now nearly completed. In order to enable him to carry out his system of adaptation to the fullest extent, other Dies are in progress, from which he hopes to execute Bindings in a style not hitherto attempted. Although in the pursuance of this object no expense has been spared, J. G. trusts that those who favour him with Orders will find that his Rates of Charge are on the most moderate scale, while his improvements in the Art of Bookbinding at least keep pace with the state of those arts which it is the object of Bookbinding to protect as well as beautify.

The Trade in Town and Country supplied, on the usual terms, with these Bindings or Cases, either in Cloth or Morocco.

 All Branches of Bookbinding executed in the most approved modern Styles at corresponding moderate charges.

EDINBURGH, DECEMBER 1839.

OLIVER & BOYD'S

NEW EDINBURGH ALMANAC, 1837-1838-1839.

THE varied and important information in Statistics, Commerce, Chronology, and Legislation, contained in this work, have given to it a permanent value, and the publications for 1837, 1838, and 1839, have been constantly called for. In order to supply this continued demand, re-impressions of the volumes were made after the usual sales at the beginning of the year had ceased; and copies may still be had at the original price on application to the Publishers.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The Caledonian Insurance Company offers to the public the security of an AMPLE SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL, as a GUARANTEE FUND, together with all the advantages resulting from a participation of profits on THE MUTUAL ASSURANCE PLAN, without the risk which attends every such scheme in the outset.

For the convenience of those who prefer a certain future benefit, at a low rate of premium, the Company grant Policies without participation in the profits, at diminished rates.

Insurances may be effected either for the whole period of life, or for one year, or for seven years; and the premium may be made payable either annually, half-yearly, or quarterly, which must prove a great accommodation to many.

A Prospectus, containing full information and Tables of Premiums at all ages, furnished gratis, on application at the Head Office, No. 13, Bank Street, Edinburgh; 51, Dame Street, Dublin; 8, Wellington Street, Southwark, London; or at any of the Branches.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Company insures houses, manufactories, rents, furniture, goods and merchandise, farming stock, shipping in port and dock, and while building, or used in canals, and all other property, from loss and damage by fire, on the usual terms. A duty is payable to government of 3s. per cent. on all property insured against fire, with the exception of agricultural stock, which is now exempt from duty.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

THE SYSTEM ADOPTED BY THIS CORPORATION COMBINES THE PRINCIPLE OF MUTUAL ASSURANCE with the security of a large subscribed capital, and the support of an influential body of Proprietors.

Those who pay the PARTICIPATING RATE OF PREMIUM share in the PROFITS to the extent of TWO-THIRDS, GUARANTEED AGAINST ALL RESPONSIBILITY BY THE CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY.

BONUSES may be either added to the sum insured, or applied in Reduction of future Premiums.

Although LIFE ASSURANCE was contemplated and provided for when the Office was originally established in 1809, yet the business was not extended to that department until towards the end of 1823, by which time the Company had formed a connexion, and acquired a status in the country which secured success. Hence, without any overstraining for business, the ACCUMULATED FUND from LIFE PREMIUMS alone, already, at 31st December 1838, amounted to £229,847, 13s. 3d. The ANNUAL INCOME was then £60,792, 11s. 11d., AND CONTINUES RAPIDLY TO INCREASE.

In addition to the ordinary UNIFORM RATES, TABLES OF ASCENDING AND DESCENDING Premiums have been deduced from the same data, to suit the objects and convenience of parties.

For another class of Insurers, Premiums have been deduced, making the sum insured PAYABLE ON THE PARTY ATTAINING THE AGE OF SIXTY, OR, AT HIS DEATH, IF IT OCCUR SOONER—a mode of insurance which in many cases may be found desirable.

ADVANCES are made by the Company on its Policies to the extent of their acquired value, whereby to that extent the Premiums paid become deposits on which the Assured can draw as required.

LOANS TO A LARGER AMOUNT are made to Policy-holders, on approved security.

Policies assigned to third parties for onerous causes, are placed on the same favourable footing as if the Insurance had been originally effected by the assignee.

NORTH BRITISH INSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

The Directors are empowered to purchase, at a fair price, Policies for the whole term of life, which have subsisted for three years, if the holders should wish to discontinue the Insurance.

No Entrance-money or other charge is made, excepting the stamp for the Policy.

Moderate extra Rates are charged for risk of foreign climates.

THIS INSTITUTION is the OLDEST, and, in point of business, the most extensive LIFE OFFICE in Scotland. A slight consideration of the following statements will abundantly satisfy intending Assurers, that while to this Institution is unquestionably owing the successful introduction of the important benefits of Life Assurance into Scotland, and while it may therefore justly claim the preference and favour due to a NATIONAL INSTITUTION, there is not at this time any other Life Office in the United Kingdom which, whether in respect of the sound principles on which it is constituted, or the extraordinary prosperity of its course throughout, can hold out more solid advantages, especially to that important class of Assurances effected as Family Provisions.

The Surplus Profits ascertained at 31st December last were sufficient to secure,—

1. A Retrospective Bonus of Two per cent. per annum, or 14 per cent. for the Septennial Period, not only on the original sum assured, but likewise on the Bonus-additions previously declared.
2. A Contingent Prospective Bonus of Two per cent. per annum, to be paid from and after 31st December last, on all Policies of five years' standing that may emerge before 31st December 1845, when the next Investigation, and consequent Declaration of Bonus, takes place.

The Directors are authorized, by a bye-law of the Society, passed in 1827, to grant Loans to members on the security of their Policies (without any expense except the Stamp for a Promissory Note), to the extent of nine-tenths of their calculated value at the time. They are likewise empowered to allow members to commute their Bonus-additions, i. e. to have their Bonus applied towards reduction of their future Annual Premiums.—Thus, for example,

A, in the year 1820, being then 40 years of age, insured his life for £3000, paying an Annual Premium of £98 5 0

He is now 59 years of age, and has an actually vested Bonus or Addition, declared and attached to his Policy, of £1035, 12s., which, with the £3000, the original sum assured, shows the full amount of the sum presently contained in the Policy to be £4035 12 0

Were A to die in 1845, after payment of his premium for that year, the sum payable under the Policy would be £4600 11 9

Or, if it were an object to him to reduce his present Annual Contributions, he might, by giving up his Bonus, reduce his future premium from £98, 5s. to £30 1 1

Or, if he preferred receiving immediately the present value of his Bonus, he would, by surrendering it, be entitled to a sum of £563 10 8

If he were desirous at present of having a loan on his Policy, he might borrow to the extent of £1430 0 0

The above example will probably be admitted to be perfectly sufficient to show, in a practical point of view, the great benefits to be derived by parties insuring with this office.

The Directors are at all times ready to entertain proposals for Loans, either on Redeemable Annuity or on first Heritable Security. Every information on this or any other subject connected with the Society may be obtained on application (if by letter, post-paid) to the Head Office in Edinburgh, or to any of the Society's Agencies.

THE following are among the distinctive features of the Company:—

1. One-tenth of the entire profits is appropriated by the Contract to reducing the Premiums payable for Insuring the Lives of Dissenting and Methodist Ministers, or in other ways similarly beneficial to their families.
2. Certificates of age and character, and of the amount of loss in case of fire, not required from the Parochial Clergymen or Elders.
3. A Table of Premiums for Policies payable at the age of 60, or of Annuities to commence at that period, suitable to the case of superannuated Ministers and other professional men.
4. The Lowest Rates of Premiums, consistent with security; and the payment of policies guaranteed by a capital of one million.
5. Two Tables of Premiums, the one giving an interest in the profits of the Company, the other not.
6. Every facility given, on moderate terms, to persons going beyond the prescribed limits of their policy.
7. Premiums paid annually, half-yearly, or quarterly; in a limited number of payments, or in one sum.
8. Loans advanced on Policies of the value of £50; or Policies purchased on liberal terms.
9. All claims payable three months after satisfactory proof of death, or earlier, on deduction of discount.—10. No Entrance-fee required.

FIRE INSURANCES are effected on reasonable terms.

Transferences from other offices occasion no expense or trouble to the parties.

The amount of business done evinces the public confidence in the Company.

Their FIRE INSURANCES cover Property in value about Three Millions.

The Capital Sums assured on LIVES in two and a half years amount to Two Hundred and Two Thousand and Seventy-one Pounds Sterling.

Solicitor, William Pollock, Esq., 13, York Place.

THE DESIGN of this Institution has been to combine the several advantages of the systems formerly in use.

Until its establishment, a person proposing to effect an assurance must either have submitted to see the profits of the transaction go to raise the shares of a Proprietary Company, or, in joining a Mutual Assurance Company, he must consent to pay a rate of premium confessedly much higher than was proved by the experience of these offices themselves to be adequate to the risk of his assurance.

The PRINCIPLES upon which the Institution is founded are fully explained and exemplified in a report submitted to the General Meeting held in February last; since the publication of which, the degree of success which has attended the office is believed to be unexampled.

The following are the most important of these principles:—

1. The Premiums for young and middle ages (as will be seen from the annexed examples) are on an average one-fourth lower than those of most other offices, which divide their whole profits among the assured. At the age 20, for instance, the premium charged by such offices is higher than in this at the age 30; while no Entry-money, which generally forms a heavy addition to the first year's payments, is required by this office.

2. The whole Profits are divisible among the members; and the Directors would solicit attention to the principle which is adopted in their distribution.—This scheme was devised by their late eminent Manager, Mr JAMES CLEGHORN, Accountant, whose experience in such matters exceeded that of any other Actuary in Scotland; and intending assurers are requested to compare it with the plan followed by other offices.—The Surplus is reserved for the benefit of those from whose longer payments it has been raised, instead of being frittered away among policies of only a few years' standing, and on which, instead of profit, there must be a great loss to those who survive. It is manifest that this arrangement, while it is the safest and most equitable, is also the most favourable for good lives, as a surplus, comparatively small in itself, must obviously afford a large Bonus for the classes to which it will be appropriated. The superiority of this principle is recognised in the following extract from an article in the latest number of the QUARTERLY REVIEW:—"The general use, "by insurance offices, of the word 'profits,' is an abuse of the term, they being "wholly contingent and remote. It cannot for a moment be questioned that, "instead of 'profit,' the insurance office must sustain a loss by every insurer "who dies before the amount paid by him in premiums, with the accumulated "interest, shall be equivalent to the amount of his policy, yet, in most of these "offices the representatives share in the profits, should the insured die immediately after seven payments. The equitable rule would be to assign the "bonus to such as had survived the expectation of life, according to the generally received law of mortality, or who had paid in premiums, with interest "upon them, a sum equal to that for which the life was assured."—Quarterly Review for October 1839.

The PRACTICAL EFFECT of these two principles is, that, by the first,—the diminution of the premiums,—the greatest present benefits are secured; while the greatest future contingent advantages are comprised in the peculiar mode of division of the profits, embraced by the second; a combination which is presented by no other office than the SCOTTISH PROVIDENT.

If, after seven years, a Member is unable or unwilling to continue his annual payments, the fair value of his Policy (according to a Table already prepared) will be given on its surrender;—or, a new one will be granted for a smaller sum corresponding to the premiums already paid. This provision is peculiarly adapted to the vicissitudes of a COMMERCIAL LIFE, and effectually removes an objection frequently urged against Life Assurance by persons of that class.

Every facility will be afforded in the transaction of business; and the Directors feel confident that, in addition to the advantages which are peculiar to this Institution, its provisions in every other respect will be found as liberal as is consistent with a due regard to security.

ANNUITIES—Immediate, Deferred, and Contingent—granted on very favourable terms.

For further information reference is made to the Prospectus, which, with copies of the Report, may be had at the Offices in Edinburgh and Glasgow, or from the subjoined, or any of the other Agents.

THIS Incorporation, composed of a numerous, wealthy, and influential body of Proprietors, was instituted in the year 1824, and affords unquestionable security to the public from the magnitude of its Capital,—a large proportion of which is invested in Government or real securities. By conducting its operations on an extensive scale, and over the whole Empire, it is enabled to equalise those vicissitudes which may arise from the influence of local causes; and from the success which has attended this National Establishment, it is permanently placed on a secure basis.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Property, real and personal, of almost every description, may be insured on the most advantageous terms; common insurance, of the first class at the reduced rates, and property involving more than ordinary hazard, at rates of premium commensurate with the value of the risks.

Losses when satisfactorily ascertained are IMMEDIATELY PAID.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Various Tables of Rates have been computed to accommodate those classes of the community who may be desirous of participating in the profits of the Incorporation; and a reduced scale is prepared for those who may wish to secure a specific sum in case of premature decease.

TWO-THIRDS of the Profits are allotted at regular periods to the insured, without being subject to any deduction for charges of management, and additions are made to Policies, or corresponding reductions of Premium, at the option of the Insured.

The general accounts are patent to the Insured, but the individual transactions are held as strictly private and confidential.

SCOTTISH UNION INSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

To facilitate Loan Transactions, a reduced scale of Rates has been adopted, which will be found particularly favourable to the Insured, more especially for young and middle-aged persons.

LOANS.—The Directors are ready to make advances by way of Loan, on the following securities:—1st, On Policies of Insurance on Lives to the extent of their estimated value. 2d, On such Policies, with the addition of personal security for payment of the future premiums and interest.

THIS Company combines the advantages of the Mutual Assurance system with the security and influence of a Proprietary Body, who must themselves be assured with the Company.

The Assured may either participate to the extent of four-fifths in the whole Profits of the Company, without the liability of partnership or mutual guarantee; or, They may secure a precise sum at reduced and very moderate Rates, without participation.

THE EDINBURGH LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

Independent of the large proportion of Profits allowed by this Company to the Assured, it will be observed by a reference to the Tables that the moderation of the Rates of Premium even on the Participation Scale, is equivalent at the early ages to a PRESENT Bonus of considerable amount when compared with the rates required by most Mutual Assurance Offices, whilst the mode of division adopted by this Company secures to the older lives a full proportion of profit for the larger premium paid by them.

In all money transactions, where a Policy is required as a part of the Security, the Rates charged by this Company for Short Risks will be found very advantageous.

No Entry-money or other Charge beyond the Policy Stamp.

Liberty to pass to any part of Europe, without extra Premium.

Annuities, Reversions, &c., present and contingent.

Claims paid three months after proof of death.

Assurances of Capital Sums or Annuities may be effected in any way that parties may require.—Moderate rates for special Risks.

THIS Company transacts every description of Business carried on by any Proprietary Assurance, Reversion, or Trust Company in Great Britain, and grants Policies payable upon the Assured attaining the age of 60 years, or on occasion of Death previously. The Company also lends Money on the Security of its own Policies.

Persons of the younger ages (those under 50) who intend to insure, will find on an inspection of the Rates of this Company, Specimens of which are subjoined, that it will be greatly for their advantage to deal with it. From the Company's having taken the most recent and extended observations as their guide in judging of the value of life, the Rates of Premium charged to persons of the above ages will be found to be more moderate than those of almost any other Company.

The Directors request particular attention to the 2d Table subjoined. It possesses, among other advantages, that of assuring sums which may be payable during the lifetime of the person insuring.

The Company gives to those who take out Participating Policies two-thirds of the Profits arising on that Class of Policies.

FORTH MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

THE DIRECTORS beg to announce, that having appointed Mr WM. THORNBORROW (who has retired from the Secretaryship of the Marine Insurance Company of London, of which he was the originator,) Manager for this Company; they commenced business, at their Office in Baltic Street, on 15th May last.

The Directors being desirous of affording full protection to the parties effecting Insurances with this Company, have introduced the following clauses in their Policies on Sailing Vessels :—

1st, Upon taking the insurance, to admit the sea-worthiness of the hull of the ship and materials.

2d, To indemnify the owner to the extent of fifty per cent. in the event of his vessel doing damage.

3d, Upon all British-built ships, the owner not to be liable for one-third of the repairs until the vessel exceeds eighteen months old.

4th, The risk upon the ship to continue until the cargo is discharged, provided such time does not exceed ten days from the date of the vessel being reported at the Custom-house.

Also, giving the following advantages to the Assured:—

Upon all Time Policies cancelled, the Assured not to be charged with premium for the month last commenced, unless the period exceeds ten days.

All losses and averages will be paid in cash, without discount, within ten days after adjustment.

No extra charge on policy duties will be made by this Company upon prompt accounts.

The Directors have authority to submit all cases of dispute to arbitration.

The terms for doing business with the Company (subject to such alterations and amendments as the Directors may from time to time find necessary) will be as follows, viz. :—

Upon effecting Insurances, all parties to be allowed £5 per Cent. Brokerage, and £10 per Cent. discount for cash.

Current credit accounts may be opened with this Company; the same to close on the 31st December in each year, and the balance to be paid on or before the 5th February following, when £10 per Cent. discount will be allowed on the balance. Such discount to be forfeited if the account be not then paid.

THIS Society is on the principle of mutual assurance, on the model of the original Equitable of London, dividing all the surplus funds in equitable proportions to the members. There are no proprietors to withdraw these funds from the members, to whom, in this Society, they exclusively belong, thus avoiding those inroads on that fund which are so heavily felt in all proprietary institutions.

The astonishing and unrivalled prosperity attending the Equitable of London is a sufficient proof of the accuracy of the principle on which this Society is formed, a prosperity to the individuals holding policies absolutely unattainable in any proprietary institution whatever.

The following Table shows the Bonus added to the Society's Policies at the 1st December 1832 :

Years of Entry.	Original Sum Insured.	Bonus or Surplus now Declared.	Accumulated Sum or Benefit.
1826	£1000	£105	£1105
1827	1000	90	1090
1828	1000	75	1075
1829	1000	60	1060
1830	1000	45	1045
1831	1000	30	1030
1832	1000	15	1015

Thus, a Policy issued in 1826 for £1000, and now emerging, is worth the sum of £1105, in place of £1000, and so on with the other years, with this reservation, that by the Deed of Constitution all additions made to Policies become vacated and ipso facto void, if the parties assured die before the lapse of five years from the dates of their respective Policies.

No Society in Scotland has ever given a larger Annual Bonus; and there is none, either in Scotland or England, which holds forth greater advantages to those who wish to effect Life Insurance. The Bonus added to the Policies at 31st December 1832, amounts to 1½ per cent. per Annum on the sum insured, during the subsistence of the Policies.

THIS Company has been established for the purpose of conducting every branch of LIFE ASSURANCE on the most liberal and favourable terms, and for affording every possible facility and encouragement to its extension among all classes and ranks.

The Capital of the Company is subscribed by an extensive and influential body of Proprietors, thus affording the most ample security for the fulfilment of its engagements. The Proprietors are required to promote the business of the Company to an extent proportioned to the number of Shares which each holds, in consequence of which there will be a large and constant supply of the best Assurances secured; and, through this united and powerful co-operation, there is every prospect of great benefit to all who shall have transactions with th Company.

Two plans are offered by this Company to Assurers; by the first of which th are entitled to participate in the profits of the Company to the extent of two-thirds; and the principles and periods of division will be fixed according to th more favourable system which the experience of later years has shown may b adopted for equitably securing the several interests of those entitled to participat The rates of premium of the participating scale are lower than those general charged by Mutual Assurance Societies, and will be found to bear a very favour able comparison with the Tables of other Companies.

By the other plan, the Assurer, if he intend to secure only a certain fixed sur at the least expense, without a view to participation in the profits, as may often the case in connexion with loans and other money transactions, is enable at once to attain his object by adopting the Table of Reduced Premiums, whi this Company have calculated upon the lowest scale consistent with safet This advantage Proprietary Companies alone are enabled to offer,—as Mutu Assurance Societies have but one scale of Premiums, and one plan of Assuran

It is occasionally a ground of objection with some to Life Assurance, that i a future period they may be prevented from continuing payment of the Premiu and thus lose most of the benefits which they wished to secure. To obvia this, Tables have been constructed, by which a party is enabled, on paying somewhat higher Premium, spread over that number of years during which can calculate more certainly upon the continuance of his income, to secure the end of that period the full amount of his Assurance,—or at any time whe his circumstances permit, he may redeem the future Annual Premiums by single payment on advantageous terms.

Parties assured with this Company will be entitled to cash advances to th full value of their policies; or, if they may desire at any period to discontinu their Assurance, they will have an opportunity of doing so, and a liberal sum will be allowed by the Company for a surrender of the same.

Assurers are allowed, without payment of any extra charge, and without ob taining permission from the Directors, to reside anywhere within the limits o Europe, and, in time of peace, to pass and repass by sea from one part of it t another. Rates of additional Premium for permission to reside beyond the abov limits are fixed on a scale better graduated than heretofore to the nature of th risk; and facilities will now be afforded to parties requiring this license whic formerly could not be obtained.

Every advantage will be given by the Company in Redeemable Annuity an similar transactions; and on Redemption, a Policy of Assurance will be deliver at the rate of premium applicable to the age of the party at the date when th transaction was entered into.

Parties who are holders of Policies effected by others upon their own lives on Assignation for onerous causes, after being admitted by the Company, wi stand in as favourable a position as if the Policy had been issued in their ow names,—thus freeing them from the operation of the restrictive clause, whic provides for the case of the Assured dying by his own hands, or in any oth manner there excepted.

No charge whatever is made against Assurers at entry, under the name admission-fee; and no expense is incurred except the Stamp-duty, which ha lately been much reduced.

The Company will avoid any approach to litigation, or attempt to protra the settlement of just claims upon them; and should any cause of dispute aris the matter, if it is desired, will be submitted to the immediate decision of Arbite

It will be the constant study of the Directors to carry on the business of th CITY OF GLASGOW LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY on such principles of liberali and encouragement, combined with prudence, as will ensure the rapid extensi of the advantages which the Company offer to every class of the Community.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS OFFICE, among others, are:—

1. A participation septennially in two-thirds of the Profits, which may be applied either in reduction of the Premium or to augment the Sum assured.

The following BONUSES have been assigned to all Policies, of at least three years' standing, effected for the whole duration of Life:—

FIRST DIVISION, IN 1832.

From 18s. to £2, 12s. per cent. per annum on the sums assured, varying with the age, being equivalent, on the average, to 26½ per cent. on the Premiums paid.

SECOND DIVISION, IN 1839.

From upwards of £1 to upwards of £3 per cent. per annum on the sums assured, or, on the average, 33 per cent. on the Premiums paid for the preceding seven years.

2. Premiums may be paid in a limited number of annual sums, instead of by annual Payments, for the whole of life; the Policy continuing to participate in profits after the payment of such Premiums has ceased.

3. The Assurance or Premium Fund is not subject to any charge for Interest to Proprietors.

THIS Society is founded upon the principle of Mutual Assurance, and has been instituted to afford the Assured every advantage which can be derived from Life Assurance, consistent with security, combining all the good features which other Companies present, with several additional and important benefits peculiar to itself.

Persons may Assure by a Scale of Premiums by which Policies are granted as in Proprietary Companies, and on as low terms as security will permit.

Policies will be granted for the amount assured, to be received at the end of a term of years, although the party may be alive.

Premiums payable annually, half-yearly, or quarterly, at the option of the Assured.

A greater extension of liberty to travel and reside abroad, without payment of extra premium, than is allowed by any other office.

Policies not invalidated in case of death by Duelling, Suicide, or by the hand of Justice.

Claims paid within one month after satisfactory proof of death.

Policies, after five years' standing, may be kept in force by the payment each year of half the premium.

The value of the Policy will at all times be advanced to pay the Premium, by way of loan generally.

Prospectuses may be had on application at the Office, No. 448, West Strand, London; or of

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THIS Branch of the business comprises Insurance on Lives and Survivorships, the Purchase and Sale of Reversionary Property and Life Interests, the Sale and Purchase of immediate, contingent, and deferred Annuities, and the Endowment of Widows and Children.

The principles upon which the Life Tables of the Glasgow Insurance Company are formed, have been adopted after a most minute investigation of the principles and practice of Established Offices; and the Directors being desirous of affording every encouragement to the extension of the system of Life Insurance, their object has been to ascertain to what extent the Rates of Premium usually demanded might be reduced consistently with security. For this purpose a careful analysis has been made of such observations on the decrement of Life as are considered entitled to credit; and the Directors are now enabled to present to the public, Tables adjusted according to different ages, and the various contingencies intended to be provided for.

Two distinct plans are offered by this Company to Insurers. By the first plan, persons may effect every kind of Insurance at a reduced rate of Premium, without participating in the Profits of the Company. By the second plan, persons may insure for the whole term of Life, and participate in the Company's profits to the extent of two-thirds, and at the same time be protected, by a Capital subscribed by a large and substantial Proprietary, from the responsibilities attached to Societies for Mutual Insurance. The principles and periods of Division of the Profits will be fixed upon favourable terms for the Insured.

PERSONS effecting Life Assurances with this Corporation have the choice of two plans:—

The one entitling them to an annual Abatement of Premium after five years' payment.

The other at a lower fixed Rate without Abatement.

The leading features which distinguish the first of these plans from those of other Life Assurance Offices are, that the Business is carried on by the Corporation without any charge for management being deducted from the Profits, and that the assured are exempt from all liability of partnership.

Annual Premiums required for the Assurance of £100 for the whole period of any single Life, under the plan entitling the Assured to an Abatement of Premium.

THIS Company was established for the purpose of "making or effecting Insurances of all descriptions of Property against Loss or Damage by Fire, Assurances of Lives and Survivorships, and generally for the transaction of all matters connected with the contingency of Life."

Complete security is afforded to the Assured, by the ample Capital and the personal guarantee of a very numerous and responsible body of Proprietors; at the same time, the business is conducted on terms highly beneficial to the Public.

LIFE ASSURANCE BRANCH.

The great advantage of Life Assurance has already been amply verified, immense numbers of individuals having, by the payment of a small Annual Premium to an Assurance Company, been enabled to secure at their death a provision for their WIVES and CHILDREN, who otherwise must have experienced all the horrors of want.

It is therefore of the first importance that the RATES of PREMIUM should not be greater than the security of the Assured requires.

For this purpose the NORTH OF SCOTLAND FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY have had tables calculated expressly for the use of the Office, from the best and most recently ascertained probabilities of human life, and the result has shown the superior advantage now offered to the Public.

EXAMPLE.—For an Assurance of £100, payable Three Months after Death, without Participation.

Age.	Annual Premium.	Age.	Annual Premium.	Age.	Annual Premium.	Age.	Annual Premium.
25	£1 18 0	34	£2 6 0	43	£3 0 5	52	£4 7 3
26	1 18 7	35	2 7 2	44	3 2 4	53	4 11 1
27	1 19 2	36	2 8 6	45	3 4 7	54	4 14 11
28	2 0 3	37	2 9 10	46	3 7 4	55	4 19 0
29	2 1 0	38	2 11 4	47	3 10 0	56	5 3 1
30	2 1 11	39	2 12 10	48	3 13 2	57	5 7 5
31	2 2 9	40	2 14 6	49	3 16 5	58	5 11 11

33	2 4 10	42	2 18 1	51	4 3 7	60	6 1 9

To parties wishing to PARTICIPATE in the PROFITS of the Institution, the plan adopted by this Company will be found peculiarly advantageous.

The funds of this Class are invested at a high rate of Interest, separately, and are kept distinct from the other funds of the Company. Thus the Assured have the whole benefit of the accumulation of Premiums, under deduction only of the small per centage of ten per cent. charged by the Proprietary body for expense of management and guarantee against Loss. In other words, nine-tenths or ninety per cent. of the Profits will fall to be added periodically to the amount Assured, or to be applied towards the reduction or gradual extinction of the annual Premium.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

While the Premiums are as moderate as is consistent with security, ıe Holders of Life Policies are entitled to periodical additions from the ırplus Premiums, which may be applied either to increase the sum ayable at the death of the insured, or to reduce the future Payments f Premium. That this is a very substantial advantage will be perceived :om the following TABLE showing the additions that have been made to Policies for £1000, which have been in force for the full period of Seven Years ending at Christmas 1837, and also the amounts that would be deducted from all future payments of Annual Premium thereon.

EQUIVALENT ADDITIONS or REDUCTIONS would be made for Policies that had been in force for a less term than seven years.

ATLAS FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

The following TABLE shows the additions made to Life Policies for £1000 effected in London, or through an Agent in Great Britain, which have been in force for the Twenty-one Years ending at Christmas 1837.

Date of Policy.	Age at commencement.	Annual Premium.	BONUS.
			Gross additions to the Sum assured.	Equivalent to the following per Centage on the Premiums paid to the Compy.
		£ s. d.	£	£ s. d.
Dec. 25, 1816.	25	24 0 10	338	66 18 11

Do.	45	38 19 2	461	56 6 11
Do.	50	45 6 8	526	55 5 0
Do.	55	53 3 4	626	56 1 4
Do.	60	63 13 4	789	59 0 3

Thus, by the above Table, it will be seen, that a person insuring £1000 at 25 years of age, at the end of 21 years will have paid £504, 17s. 6d. of Premium; and, were he then to die, his heirs would receive £1338 instead of £1000.

These additions will, on comparison, be found AS GREAT AS HAVE BEEN MADE BY ANY OTHER INSURANCE OFFICE WHATEVER.

The next valuation will be made at Christmas 1844. The Atlas Company holds itself liable for policies of five years' standing though assured on his own life by a person afterwards committing suicide.

As to the Rates charged by the Company, it may suffice here to say, that the Tables adopted by the Directors were originally framed upon the sound principles of mathematical computation; and the practice of the Equitable Society has put them to the unerring test of long and extensive experience.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Assurance of every species of property from loss or damage by fire is undertaken by the Company on highly favourable terms.

The following are the rates for all policies where the premium exceeds 5s.

Common Risks,.....1s. 6d. per cent.
Hazardous ditto,.....2s. 6d.
Doubly Hazardous,.....4s. 6d.

The duty on Farming Stock Assurances being wholly taken off, ALL FARMING STOCK may be assured at the low price of two shillings for every £100, without any restrictive clause whatsoever, the former charge having been 5s.

A payment for rent is made by the Company in case of Loss of Buildings, without any extra premium.

SUPERIOR FACILITIES OFFERED

BY THE United Kingdom Life Assurance Company,

8, WATERLOO PLACE, PALL MALL, AND 2, CHARLOTTE ROW, MANSION HOUSE, LONDON.

THIS Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security from an ample Capital, and only requires when an Insurance is for the whole period of life ONE-HALF of the very moderate Premiums to be paid for the first Five Years after the date of the Policy, the other half may remain, subject to the payment of interest at 5 per cent. annually, to be deducted at death, or may previously be paid off at convenience.

It obviously becomes easy for a person of very moderate income to secure by this arrangement a provision for his family; and should he at any time after effecting the insurance succeed to or acquire a fortune, he may relinquish his policy, having only paid one-half of the premiums for the first Five Years instead of the whole, as in all other Companies.

Thus a man 25 years old, may, by an annual payment of £28, 16s. 3d. for the first Five Years, and afterwards the full premium £57, 12s. 6d. yearly, secure to his widow and children at his death payment of no less than £3000, subject only to the deduction of £144, 1s. 3d., being the amount of premium unpaid.

This Company holds out in various other respects great inducements to the public. When such facilities are afforded, it is clearly a moral duty in every parent who is not possessed of a fortune, but of an income, however moderate, to insure his life for a sum which may yield a comfortable provision for his family.

THIS COMPANY is among the oldest of the Scottish Offices. It is constituted by Act of Parliament; and the principle of its constitution is sanctioned by the highest authorities on the subject of Life Assurance.

THE CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY IS £500,000, besides which, the Premiums and accumulating interest form an increasing fund, wholly applicable to the purposes of the Institution.

THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY

embraces every kind of transaction in which life is the contingency; and the Directors are at all times ready to negotiate Loans on approved securities. Money is also advanced by way of Redeemable Annuity.

TO PERSONS ASSURING AT THE LOWEST RATES OF PREMIUM, in connexion with Loan Transactions or otherwise, either for a short period or the whole of life, the terms of this Office will be found particularly favourable, while the most perfect security is afforded, as the Company possesses a subscribed Capital adequate to the most extensive business, in addition to its accumulated Fund.

PERSONS IN EXPECTATION OF ANY FUTURE BENEFIT, to be realized after a term of years, or upon survivance of any other life or lives, may provide against loss through death before the object is attained, by particular forms of Assurance adopted by this Company, giving to a postponed or contin-gent interest all the security, and nearly the same value, with an absolute property.

TO PERSONS ASSURING AS A PROVISION FOR THEIR FAMILIES, OR AS AN INVESTMENT, who may wish to secure, as far as possible, the advantages which the system of Life Assurance holds out, the regulations adopted by this Company for permitting a participation in the profits of the business will be found peculiarly beneficial. The first Investigation of the Company's Affairs took place at 15th November 1835, when very considerable additions were made to Policies. The Second will be instituted at 15th November 1840, and so on quinquennially thereafter.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Persons opening Assurances in this last-mentioned class before the close of the books in the year 1840, participate in the Division of Profits to be made in that year, with this additional advantage arising from the particular system of Division adopted by the Company (being similar to that originally pursued by the Equitable Society of London), that one year's standing upon the books gives one year's additional claim for Profits at every future Division the party may survive.

Tables of the Rates of Premium, and every other information connected with the business of Life Assurance and Annuities, may be had at the Company's Office, 3, George Street, Edinburgh; or from any of their Agents in Scotland, England, or Ireland.

THIS Institution was originally founded by that wealthy and influential body—the Licensed Victuallers of England—and has in the course of a few years established its character as one of the most successful Assurance Offices in London. Though connected with the Licensed Victuallers, it is not exclusively confined to persons of that class, but is open to all who may wish to partake of its various advantages.

The Capital Stock of the Company, subscribed by a numerous and wealthy body of proprietors, affords ample security for all its engagements.

The Company Insure every description of Property from Loss or Damage by Fire.

In the Life Department, the Assured may either participate in two-thirds of the Profits arising both from the Fire and Life Policies, as the same shall be declared every five years, or by a lower rate of premium secure a precise sum, without contingent additions.

The premiums are moderate, especially on the Non-Participation Scale and for the early and middle periods of Life, and may be paid either annually, half-yearly, or quarterly; one-half of the Premium for the first five years may remain in the hands of the Assured, on interest at five per cent.

Advances will be made at all times on Policies proportioned to their acquired value, and Loans of larger sums will be granted on approved securities.

Annuities are granted on peculiarly favourable terms; and the Company are prepared to treat for every description of business dependent on the contingency of human life.

BY the new principles of LIFE ASSURANCE, in this Society, many essential advantages, besides that of securing a provision for a family, or for old age, are gained by the Assured, and thereby a vastly increased value is given to each Policy effected with the Society.

The Society peculiarly adapts itself to that large class whose incomes are precarious, exposed to vicissitude, and dependent on professional emolument or daily toil: it provides against the possible approach of misfortune during life; and by conforming itself to meet the eventual requirements of the insured, prevents him, in any event, from being a loser, and affords him, during periods of temporary privation, a fund for his support, without impairing the provision destined to his family at his death.

The assured may also participate in two-thirds of all profits made by the Society.

The Society's scheme of DEFERRED ANNUITIES, founded on the same principles, affords the most beneficial application of the savings of prudence and frugality, and in the mode best adapted to the interests or wishes of the proprietor; it gives the option, on arriving at the stipulated period, of an annuity—a large sum in cash—or a still larger policy, payable (without further premiums) at death; while by enabling the proprietor at any time to borrow two-thirds of his payments, it practically combines the full benefits of a Savings Bank and Benefit Society, and

Foreign and Domestic Life Office,

70, CORNHILL, AND 5, WATERLOO PLACE, LONDON.

Established in 1824.

"THE Asylum (says the historical sketch of the various Life Offices) was instituted for the express purpose of assuring deteriorated lives—lives rejected by other Offices, and lives avowedly diseased. To this unprecedented but most useful business it was at first restricted; and the Philanthropist will say it ought to succeed.

"Soon after its establishment, this Office added to its original business the assurance of select lives on lower terms and under a greater variety of modes than any other Office, and by thus ringing changes on equivalents, holds out attractions well suited to the taste and circumstances of the public at the present day."

Descending scales of premium, to commence at a price, and continue for a term, to suit the convenience of parties.

DOMESTIC INSURANCES.

Select lives at very low rates.

Persons under chronic disease, peculiar form, in pregnancy, and in old age.

To cover Bills of Exchange and Credits, without appearance of or reference to the parties whose lives are to be assured.

Officers, whose destinations are not known, covered to all parts of the world at a small but fixed extra rate of premium.

TO EQUITABLE POLICY HOLDERS.

The 5000 favoured Members of the Equitable Society who live until January 1840 will have further large additions to their Policies.—The representatives of those who die previously would merely obtain a return for the current years of the Decennial period.—To facilitate the Policy holders the Asylum grant Assurances, for the whole of life, for a smaller advance of money than is necessary for a term of three years in the generality of offices.

Insurances, either for foreign or domestic risks, may be effected without delay, and full particulars obtained from

ENDOWMENT BRANCH.

NOVEL MODE OF ENDOWMENT PECULIAR TO THIS SOCIETY.

THE peculiar object of this Society is to secure a given sum to each Child of a Marriage at a given age (or to the Parent or Guardian on its behalf).

The advantage it offers over all other systems of Endowment is, that it provides for the future as well as the existing Children, and that the premium is the same, whatever may eventually be the number of the after-born Children.

An explanatory Pamphlet and Prospectus may be had, gratis, at the Office, and of all the Society's Agents throughout the United Kingdom.

Life Assurance Branch.

Includes Assurances for the whole term of Life, for short terms, for joint lives, for survivorships, and also on an ascending or descending scale.

Two sets of Tables have been constructed, admitting the parties to participate in the profits (four-fifths) or not, at their option.

THIS Society grants Assurances upon the Lives of Persons in every rank or profession, wheresoever resident, upon favourable terms. At ages under 45 years, the Premiums are lower than those commonly required.

Four-fifths of the entire Profits of the Society are divided among those assured on the Participating Scale. The Profits respectively allotted may be received in present money, or in reversionary sums, or by way of annuity, at the option of the parties assured.

The sums due on Policies will be paid within three months after proof of the requisite facts.

Persons assured for the space of two years, in £1000 or upwards, for the whole period of Life, will have the power of electing Two of the Four Auditors of the Society.

Prospectuses, fully explanatory of the principles and rates of the Society, may be obtained from afforded for the purchase of Immediate Annuities, or Endowments to Children on attaining a specified age; or the Company will undertake at other rates to return all the premiums with compound interest at 4 per Cent. if the party should die before attaining the age specified. Policies of Assurance are granted for short periods, or the whole life, with or without participation of profits. Four-fifths of the declared profits of the Assurance Branch, and one-half of the declared profits of the Trust business, will be divided amongst the Assured, who enter on the principle of participation.

The Company will advance money to the holders of Life Policies and of Immediate and Deferred Annuities; and will also repurchase Policies at their full value, and will guarantee to all assurers whose age at the time of assurance did not exceed 55, that the repurchase money shall never be less than half the amount of the premiums paid, always deducting the first-year's premium.

Parties assured may reside in any part of Europe, and (if not Mariners by profession) may proceed in time of peace in decked or steam vessels, to or from any port between Gottenburgh and Gibraltar, and to and from any European port in the Mediterranean.

FOUR-FIFTHS of the Profits made by this Society will be appropriated to the persons assured for the whole term of Life.

On the 31st day of December 1840, and at the end of every Seven Years from that period, the profits divisible amongst the Assured will be apportioned amongst such of the Assured for the whole term of life as shall have been so assured for the space of three years or upwards previously to those periods respectively, subject only to the reservation of such a sum of money as the Directors shall deem necessary to be carried forward to the period of the next septennial division, for the benefit of the Assured. For the amounts which shall be so apportioned, equivalent reversionary sums will be added to the Policies respectively of those entitled.

THIS ASSOCIATION ASSURES,

1*st*, A Sum of Money of from £20 to £4000, to be paid to a Wife, or Family, or Nominee, at the Death of the Assured.

2*d*, A Provision in Sickness, whether arising from accidents or other causes, of from £1 to £5 a-week, connected with a Life Policy of from £100 to £4000 at death. To the Clergy, Solicitors, Medical, and other professional men, as well as to Tradesmen, Clerks, and others, having fixed or limited incomes, such arrangement must be a great desideratum.

3*d*, Deferred Annuities, or Yearly Sums to be paid to the Assured, of from £10 to £100 per Annum, to be payable at the respective ages of 50, 55, 60, or 65.

4*th*, Endowments, or the Assuring a sum of money of from £100 to £2000, to be paid to a Son or Daughter at various ages from 14 to 21.

5*th*, Securing the payment of from £100 to £4000, at fixed periods, as, at the expiration of 7, 14, 21, or 25 years.

6*th*, Assuring a Sum of Money to be paid to the Assured himself, should he live beyond the age of 65, and in case he should die previously to attaining that age, then his Wife, or Family, or Nominee, would be entitled to receive the amount instead.

7*th*, Assurances may be effected either on an Ascending or Descending Scale, and also at Limited Periods, as 1, 5, or 7 years.

8*th*, A Sum of Money to be payable either at the Death of One of Two Lives, or at the Death of both.

9*th*. Immediate Annuities will be granted, Reversions and Annuities purchased, and the General Business of similar Associations transacted.

Assurances may be effected in any of the large Towns throughout England, Agents having been appointed for that purpose.

The Manchester Assurance Company,

FOR

ASSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, AND ON LIVES & SURVIVORSHIPS, PURCHASE OF ANNUITIES, REVERSIONS, &c. &c.

OFFICE, 98, KING STREET, MANCHESTER.

Established March 1824.

THIS SOCIETY is established upon principles combining security with advantages to the Assured superior to those offered by any Institution of a similar character.

The Capital is TWO MILLIONS, subscribed in shares of £100 each, and of which a deposit of £10 per cent. has been paid. This deposit, with a further claim upon the Subscribers to pay such sums as may be required, to the extent of their respective shares, is held as a guarantee-fund for claims.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The Assured are entitled to two-thirds of the Profits, and are guaranteed against all responsibility for loss.

The Directors are empowered to purchase any Policy granted for the whole period of life; or to advance on the security of such Policy any sum not exceeding two-thirds of its value.

The Rates of Premium are lower than those charged by the majority of similar establishments.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Assured are entitled to one-third of the Profits, without any liability on their part to the losses.

The Rates of Premiums, and all other particulars, may be obtained on application to any of the Company's Agents, or to JOSEPH MORTON, Secretary.

BONUS.

At the Annual General Court of Proprietors, held on the 20th June 1839, Bonuses were declared to the Assured in the Fire Department of £10 per cent. on the Premiums received during the five years previous to the 25th March 1839, to be paid on all Insurances of two or more years' standing; and to the Assured in the Life Department, on all Policies for the whole duration of life, of four or more years' standing, on the 25th of March 1839, of very nearly 26 per cent. on the amount of the Premiums received thereon, improved at compound interest, to be added to the sum assured by such Policies when they become claims, or an equivalent reduction to be made in the Annual Premiums upon them, at the option of the parties entitled thereto.

THE DISTINGUISHING PRINCIPLE of this OFFICE is, that the RATES are reduced to the LOWEST POSSIBLE SCALE THAT IS COMPATIBLE WITH THE SAFETY OF THE ASSURED and of THE COMPANY, whereby a LARGE and CERTAIN PRESENT BONUS is in effect secured to every individual assured in it. Thus:

ANNUAL PREMIUM TO ASSURE £1000.			ADVANTAGES BY ASSURING IN THE ARGUS OFFICE.
Age.	In the Argus Office.	In Offices dividing Profits.	Annual Saving upon each Payment.	Equivalent to an immediate and certain Bonus of	Or a Policy of Assurance for
21	£15 19 2	£22 5 0	£6 5 10	£400	£1400
26	17 19 2	24 10 0	6 10 10	370	1370
31	20 9 2	27 5 0	6 15 10	330	1330

41	27 16 8	34 18 4	7 1 8	270	1270

BY THE ABOVE TABLE it will be observed that a person 26 years of age may secure to his family or friends, by insuring with this office, £1370 for the same amount of Premium that he would have to pay in most of the offices dividing profits to assure £1000, being a fixed and certain Bonus of £370, though the party die within a year from the Assurance being effected; and so on, agreeable to the age of the party assuring.

PROSPECTUSES, with the Tables of the Company, Printed Forms for effecting Assurances, and every other information, may be had GRATIS by applying at the Office in London, or to OFFICE, 32, ST ANDREW SQUARE.

IN all Benefit Societies, with the exception of the Palladium, the Profit which is returned by way of Bonus is given to all the insured. In the Palladium it is only given to those who insure when under fifty years of age; consequently the profit on all lives being added to their policies only, will at once show how (combined with the prosperity of the Society) these additions have been greater than those given by any other.

The highest first Septennial Division ever given by any other Society has been 25 per Cent. on the Premiums paid.

The first Septennial Division of the Palladium was 44¼ per Cent.; and judging from the present state of the Society's affairs, the probability is that the next Septennial Division will be fully as superior.

Those who insure before the expiry of this year will reap all the advantages which they would do by insuring in any other Society before that period.

Lives above 50 may also be assured, but they do not participate in the profits.

POWER VESTED IN THE ASSURED.—THE HOLDER OF A LIFE POLICY effected for the whole term of the life will be entitled, after two annual payments of Premium, to Vote at General Meetings, viz.—on a Policy for £1000, One Vote; £2000, Two Votes; £3000, Three Votes.

By this most important arrangement, the Assured obtain an effectual protection against an improvident application of the Capital and Funds of the Society; which, with the ample subscribed Capital, and the accumulation of Premiums, affords the best security for the payment of all just claims.

TRAVELLING ALLOWED.—All persons whose lives are assured in this Office, may pass and repass, in time of peace, from any part of Europe to another, by sea or land, without payment of additional premium.

No Entry money charged.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THIS COMPANY.

A very considerable reduction of Premium in the earlier stages of Life, so that £1200 may be assured for the same annual payments as are required by other offices for the insurance of £1000: thus securing at the outset, and without the liabilities of a partnership, a bonus equal to 20 per cent. on the sum insured, instead of waiting, as in mutual Insurance Companies, for deferred periods, to which, after paying higher rates of Premium, the Insurer may never attain.

A large invested capital in the public funds, for the security of the assured.

Payment of claims three months after death.

Extension of time for payment of renewal Premiums to thirty days.

Permission to persons, not seafaring by profession, to pass by sea, in time of peace, from any part of Europe to any other part, without paying any extra Premium, and without license of the Directors.

A tender of arbitration in all disputed cases.

Purchase of Policies on the most liberal terms, when the object of an Assurance has been effected, or individuals are unable to continue their annual payments.

Endowments on children attaining the ages of fourteen or twenty-one years.

Annuities granted on the most equitable terms, under a special Act of Parliament.

Ed. H. Williams, Solicitor.—John Helps, Secretary.

THIS Office was established in 1792, and presents the following advantages:

1. PERFECT SECURITY, without any Partnership or responsibility whatever to the Insured.

2. RATES equally moderate as those of other respectable Establishments.

3. A POSITIVE ADDITION of FIVE per Cent. at the end of five years, and of ONE per Cent. every succeeding year, to all sums insured (after 13th May 1835), on single lives, for the whole term of life. This addition, let it be observed, is certain,—not contingent,—nor in any way dependent on the profits of the Company.

EXAMPLE.

Suppose £1000 insured on a life aged 30, the annual Premium, at £2, 13s. 4d. per Cent., amounts in the first five years to £133 6 8

At which time a positive addition will be made to the sum insured of 50 0 0

Being upwards of 37 per Cent. on the Premiums paid. If the Insurance is continued, the payment for the sixth year is, as before, £2, 13s. 4d. per Cent., or, for £1000, £26, 13s. 4d. But at the end of that year a further addition is made to the sum in the Policy of £10, and so on annually thereafter; which additions are subject to no contingency whatever, but are payable to the Assignee or Executor of the Insured, at the same time, and with equal certainty, as the original amount of the Policy.

On a life aged 40, the additions will average upwards of 29 per Cent. on the Premiums paid; at 20, upwards of 45 per Cent.

Tables of Rates, and other requisite information, may be had on application to the Agents in Edinburgh; and all Proposals of Insurance are disposed of without being subjected to the scrutiny of a Local Board of Directors, which, from prudential motives, Parties may, in some cases, be desirous to avoid.

Ed. H. Williams, Solicitor.—John Helps, Secretary.

At this old established Office, Insurances may be effected on Goods and Property of every description, at Rates equally moderate with those of the other Principal Offices of the United Kingdom. Losses are promptly and liberally settled; and the Insured have the most AMPLE SECURITY, free from all responsibility whatever.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

THE allowance of ten per cent. which has been made on the Premiums paid on Policies of seven years' standing, is the surest proof of the unprecedented success of this Institution.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Tables have been calculated expressly for this Institution, and, independent of a reduced rate of Premiums, as compared with other offices having a subscribed Capital, persons assured for the term of life will be entitled, at the end of every seven years, to one moiety of the profits of the Company, after a deduction of such sum per annum for the Guarantee of the Capital as the Directors may think reasonable,—the extent of which is, however, limited by the deed of settlement.

The share of the profits to be so allowed to the assured may be applied, either by adding to the amount of their respective Policies such reversionary sums as are equivalent to such profit, or in reduction of the Premiums thereafter to be payable on such Policies, provided such option be declared in writing within three calendar months after the division shall have been declared; but if such option be not so declared, such share of profits will be added to the amount of the Policies.

The first division of profit to the assured was made to Christmas 1828, and a second division of profit was made to Christmas 1835. At each period the reversionary bonuses added to the several Policies averaged rather more than 28 per cent. on the amounts of Premiums paid thereon during the preceding seven years.

If any person assured with this Company for seven years, or for life, should die within thirty days after the Premium shall become due, such assurance is to be valid in case the Premium be paid within such period of thirty days.

No additional Premium will be required from Military men, unless when called into actual service.—No charge will be made for Entrance-Money, Admission Fees, or for Policies beyond the cost of the stamp.

European Company for Life Insurances,

AND THE SALE AND PURCHASE OF ANNUITIES,

No. 10, CHATHAM PLACE, BLACKFRIARS, LONDON.

President, Sir CHARLES FORBES, Bart.
Vice-President, Sir JAMES RIVETT CARNAC, Bart.

LIFE Insurances are effected at reduced premiums, which may be paid Quarterly, Half-Yearly, or Annually, at the option of the parties; and the Assured with this Company participate periodically in the profits.

☞ In consequence of numerous representations, the Board of Directors have resolved to admit the documents, upon the faith of which any Policy shall be granted, as conclusive evidence of the age and state of health of the Life Insured, except in cases of gross fraud or wilful misrepresentation. This regulation will effectually protect innocent parties against every risk, and prevent the possibility of delay in settling claims.
