Andrews' Tea & Coffee Warehou

42, OLD BOND STREET.

Four doors from Piccadilly.

SAMUEL ANDREWS (late LONG, YOUENS, Co.) begs respectfully to solicit the Attention of the bility, Gentry, and Public to his TEAS and COFFE and assures them, they may invariably rely on the qua of every Article, as the most undeviating adherenc regarded in their selection, and an equal attentio vending them in their native purity.

S. A. deems it superfluous, from the long, and, hopes, justly merited pre-eminence of his Establishme to detail a long List of Prices: he is proud in being a to assert with confidence, that on trial, each Article its respective price will be found equal to any, and su rior to what is generally sold. Finally, he invites co parison, and defies competition. He has a strong Co gou Tea at 5s.; very finest, 5s. 6d. to 6s.; Hyson Ki of great strength and flavour, 7s. 6d. to 8s.; Hyso 8s. 6d. to 10s.

From the system pursued at this Establishment, in pu chasing only the best Coffees imported, its sale has i creased ten-fold, which enables the Proprietor to keep Stock unequalled in point of variety; for the truth which, he respectfully solicits an inspection. A ver superior Berbice Coffee is now selling at 2s.; Mocha o Turkey, 3s.

The improved Cocoa Paste and ready prepared Cho colate manufactured on the premises every Week Patent Cocoa, Cocoa Nuts and Nibs, of the finest qua lity. Broma, and every description of Chocolate.

Just published, in 1 vol., the Third Edition of the

SPEAKING

rming a Series of Sixty Explanatory Lessons, with loquial Essays, particularly adapted to render the speak- of French easy to English persons. By J. V. DOU- LLE, Professor of the French Language. 1, Soho-square, d 2, Lawrence-lane, Cheapside, London, 1828.

" In preparing this edition of the SPEAKING FRENCH RAMMAR for the Press, I have spared no pains in my deavours to give the work the greatest possible degree perfection: every part of it has undergone a complete vision, many of the rules and observations have been mplified and condensed, so as to render them more distinct d easy of recollection; while much additional and use- l matter has been introduced. Extensive experience ving confirmed me in the conviction that unless a learner early habituated to conversation he will never be able converse with a native of France, I have principally plied myself to facilitate the speaking of French to nglish persons. How far I have succeeded in this great sideratum will be for the Public to decide; and I indulge hope that individuals will read and judge for themselves, ther than be influenced by any professions of mine. The ork is concluded by a Grammatical Analysis, and a Trea- e on French Prosody and Versification; besides a clas- fied Vocabulary; a Collection of Familiar Phrases, ranged under distinct heads; and numerous models of otes and Letters, with some Forms of Bills of Exchange, romissory Notes and Receipts. In the execution of the hole, in short, the Speaking of the language has been the ain object; and I flatter myself the present edition will e found much improved, and still more worthy of the libe- al patronage by which the work has been distinguished."—
