CHARING CROSS HOSPITAL,

KING WILLIAM STREET,

(CHARING CROSS.)

The GOVERNORS of this Hospital, in soliciting the assistance of the benevolent, beg to state that its Plan and Objects comprise the two-fold intention of a DISPENSARY for the relief of the Sick Poor at their own homes, and of an HOSPITAL for the reception of the more helpless and destitute; to afford immediate assistance in cases of accident, and gratuitous attendance and medicines to all needy afflicted persons, soldiers, sailors, and distressed foreigners (who, far from their native homes, and the solace of their friends, and possessing no parochial aid, have powerful claims to commiseration); to supply, under certain regulations, Trusses to those who require them, and suitable Instruments to cases of Lameness and Deformity; to provide the attendance of experienced Midwives, to poor Lying-in Women at their own abodes.

Since the first establishment of this Institution, it has afforded relief to between SEVENTY and EIGHTY THOUSAND SICK POOR, the greater portion of whom have been restored to the blessings of health, and to their families.

E. F. respectfully begs to invite attention to the above recent improvement which, without adding to the expense of the lamp, considerably increases the light, renders it perfectly shadowless, and entirely avoids the unpleasant heat so much complained of in others. These lamps, with the oil refined by E. F., which burns without smoke or smell, produce, at full two thirds less cost, a far more brilliant and pure light than the best lamps hitherto in use with the finest sperm oil; they have a more elegant and light appearance, are more simple to trim, and at a small expense (on forwarding the oil cups) may be fitted to any pedestal.

N.B. The above, from their economy, are also well adapted for halls, kitchens, society offices, &c.

E. F. also continues as usual to supply genuine Sperm Oil of the finest quality; and Patent Vegetable, as well as his new Refined Oil, for the above lamps.

F. G. MOON,

20, Threadneedle Street, London,

By Special Appointment, Publisher in Ordinary to Her Majesty.

The WATERLOO BANQU

AT APSLEY HOUSE,

From a PICTURE by WILLIAM SALTER, Me
of the Academies at Florence, Rome, &c.

Mr. MOON has the honour to announce the comple of this most interesting picture by Mr. SALTER. occasions have been many in which Mr. MOON has the distinguished honour of publishing works of character, works of great attraction, either as the pr duction of some eminent artist, or as a work of tra scendant excellence and great popular interest. But no instance has he been enabled to offer to publ attention a work of such unusual and engrossing int rest as "THE WATERLOO BANQUET," a picture painte expressly to record, by a faithful representation of th persons and the scene, those who met to commemorat the greatest event in the military history of the world.

It has been the annual custom of HIS GRACE th DUKE of WELLINGTON to rally around him, on the 18th of June, the distinguished officers who were his brothers in arms, to celebrate the glorious victory in 1815, when they aided to crush a revolutionary and military tyranny that had long subdued all Europe, except our own happy land, which, under Provdence, was saved by these heroes, who defeated an army and a general, the bravest and the best, except those who conquered them.

It is impossible to imagine a subject of greater and more general interest than this picture, which represents the actual portraiture of more than seventy of those warriors, who, having won fame and rank under their gallant host, thus assemble on the anniversary of the crowning act of all their heroism—to recall the events of that stirring time—to offer a tribute to the memory of those who fell—to rejoice with those who are spared—to offer their congratulations to their veteran leader—and to receive his hospitality beneath his roof, protected during twenty-five years of a peace which was won and has been guarded by their valour.

The painter of this scene has had the distinguished honour to receive from HIS GRACE the especial permission to paint it; and every facility which this privilege could command has been afforded to Mr. SALTER. A consideration of the last importance in such an undertaking; for the chief value of the work arises from the interest that every Englishman feels in this commemorative Banquet. It is not a fanciful representation, not an imaginary mingling of likenesses in a scene which might possibly have occurred; but these are portraits for which every individual in the picture actually sat to the painter for the situation which he occupies, according to the sketch made and studied at the Banquet, which Mr. SALTER was permitted, for several successive years, to witness and study during the festival, where he was allowed to remain, for the express object of this work. Thus the representation of the scene is actual, f the personages, real! The only liberty taken by ainter was the choice of the moment, and in this as been most happy; for, choosing that which fol- d the removal of the dinner, he has availed himself warranted license so to place his figures around the e, that the faces of all can be seen, which could not e been the case at an earlier moment. The period esented is when the company, after dinner, has broken into groups, and just as the DUKE has risen ddress them.

hus this remarkable commemoration of the greatest itary event in the annals of our country is adopted as subject of a picture, which, by means of the en- ving, will be made known throughout the world; at the interest and enjoyment of this subject is, to se who were contemporary with the battle of Waterloo, proved by the recollections of every man who remem- s that great event and its immediate effects. Our husiasm as Englishmen, and gratitude to the heroes that day, have already been caught by our children, rn since that period: and when all those who are resented on Mr. SALTER's canvass shall have passed ay, and their memories, instead of their brows, are eathed with laurel, another and another generation ll look upon the print which will contain the portraits those great men who saved the country which their scendants will enjoy. It will be looked upon with in- pressible interest, and the commemorative engraving ill be appealed to as the most faithful record of an ent which has an undying fame.

THE CORONATION,

A combination of circumstances, equally flattering and gratifying, enables Mr. Moon now definitively to announce that,

By Special Authority,

This Grand Historical Painting of the Coronation is entrusted to him for immediate Publication.

This Work of Art will, with the Portrait of her Majesty, by Chalon, and the Queen's First Council, by Sir David Wilkie, form a part of the he Incidents of the Reign of QUEEN A, which Mr. Moon has arranged to uce as events may transpire.

proved Plan for Travelling by Railroad.

es's Patent Carriages have three pair of wheels ing one on the other's axles. The upper wheel s the burden, relieves the ground wheels of their on, and by travelling 60 times slower than the id-wheels, will carry 60 times greater burden on it wheels than with common wheels, whatever r be employed to propel them. By the adoption of 's plan, the fore-wheels of a four-wheeled carriage e made to work a few cants, instead of curves a long. When working a cant the off-wheel works s flange, the inner on its periphery; on their return, versa, the little wheel becomes the big wheel, the st wheel the least, they are qualified by a step-rail everything but run off the rails; and those carriages ire no additional power to work them on cants. same plan may be employed on any common rail, or ny good Macadamised road, by cutting their axles alves, and having a cast-iron square case fitted into e work. Each axle working between two collars, though keyed to the wheels, qualifies the off wheels ork faster than the inner wheels, like those of an nary gig or carriage, they are capable of being ked by horse or manual labour. Should steam power referred, an engine of one-tenth of the power would el the same burden on curved rails, and do a hun- l times less injury to the rails (common rails). A lle when placed alongside these wheels will carry a n on each side, who can help when going too slow, check their velocity when running too fast. Man, lected man, whose labour has been despised by the m-engine, will again be enabled to compete with monster; he will have a perfect control over a train uch carriages. The step-rail and the steam-engine directly opposed to each other.—Read "Coles, on ilroads."

ADMINISTRATION of TRUSTS.

1. This Company undertakes, in consideration of a moderate commission, all Trusts of whatever nature, such as marriage settlements, trusts of accumulation for the benefit of minors or other parties, trusts for the benefit of females in their own right, executorships, investments of money, and placing of securities, &c. &c.

2. The Company, if required, will adopt the modes of investment pointed out by depositors, settlers and testators; or will adopt its own mode and give to the person beneficially entitled the double security of the guarantee of the Company, and a specific lien on the property on which his money may be invested, guaranteeing a fixed rate of interest, and the repayment after a defined period of the amount of capital committed to its charge.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

The following advantages are peculiar to this Company.

One-half of the amount of the Annual Premiums on Policies for the whole of Life, may remain on credit, the interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, being paid annually in advance.

The Company will, on receiving due notice, repurchase Policies at their full value, and will guarantee to that the repurchase money shall never be less than half the amount of the Premiums paid, always deducting the first year's premium.

It will be the custom of the Company, under ordinary circumstances, to advance money on the deposit of Policies, for the whole of Life, to the same amount at which they undertake to repurchase them, the interest on the loan being always paid annually in advance.

Parties assured may go beyond the limits allowed by the Policy, without the immediate payment of any extra Premium or previous contract, under the stipulation, that whatever extra Premiums, according to the Rates of the Office, would have been payable, shall be deducted with 5 per cent. interest per Annum from the amount assured, when the Policy shall become a claim, provided notice of the departure of the Life assured be given to the Office within a reasonable period.

The COUNTY is the only Fire Office which has constantly made returns to its Members, and for a long series of years. These returns have varied from 10 to 25 per cent., and have amounted to upwards of £100,000.

In the Life Office, nearly the whole of the profits are divided among the parties insured. Their effect may be judged of from a Policy taken out by His late Majesty on his own life for £3,000., which additions increased to £3,963.

Upwards of thirty Insurance Offices having broken up within a few years, and about fifty new ones having been projected within the last two or three years, it may be necessary to observe, that all the substantial advantages promised by such new Offices have been long realized under the plans and management of the Provident Life Office.

This Company founds its claim to the particular favour and support of the Public upon the new and peculiar advantages it offers, and the adequate security afforded by the weight and respectability of its Directors and Proprietors. The Premiums may be paid quarterly, half-yearly, annually, for a stipulated number of years, or on an ascending or descending scale.

When the Assurance is for Life, one-half of the Premium may remain unpaid for seven years: thus, a person aged 20, to assure £100. instead of £1. 14s., would only pay—remainder of life £1. 14s. The arrears of unpaid half premiums may at any time be paid off, or continue at interest, a debt against the Policy. Assurances granted payable at 50, 55, 60, 65, 70, or at death before attaining those ages.

1st Year	2d Year	3d Year	4th Year	5th Year	6th Year	7th Year
17s 10d.	18s 9d.	19s 6d.	£1 0 5	£1 1 5	£1 2 1	£1 2 11

Policies granted ascending yearly until 60, when the premium continues fixed.

	Age 20	21	22	23	24	25
Prem...	£1 1 0	£1 1 4	£1 1 8	£1 2 0	£1 2 6	£1 3 0

A special rate to cover the risks of all climates and warfare.

Pensions are granted suited to all classes.

Thus—age 20, by a small annual payment of £1. 6s., or 6½d. per week, would, at the age of 65, have the option of a pension of £24. 2s. 6d, or £200. cash, or a Policy of £236. 5s., which may be increased at the same ratio to any amount; two-thirds of the premiums paid advanced on loan, or returned to their representatives, should the party die before attaining that age.

The Rates of Premium for India and other parts, as also Prospectuses, and every information, may be obtained at the Office, where persons desirous of becoming agents are requested to apply.

The peculiar features of the New Equitable Life Assurance Company are such as to merit the confidence of the public.

1. The premiums will be found to be as low as can be offered, consistently with the security of the Society, and two-thirds of the profits are to be divided every five years among the assured.

2. No omission through inadvertency, or change of circumstances on the part of the assured, can cause a loss of the actual value of a policy, which will always be paid to the holder, even though the policy have lapsed from non-payment of premium, or other cause not fraudulent.

3. To render the advantage of life assurance more available to persons of irregular incomes, the Company, in addition to its ordinary business, will receive variable payments as premiums for life assurance, awarding to the representatives of the assured, at his death, such sum as would have become due to them had an equivalent regular premium been paid.

Assurances for any sum from £50. to £5,000. without any charge for the policy, beyond the amount of stamp duty.

The consideration may be a single sum paid down, or an equivalent annual premium.

The annual premiums required to secure an Endowment of £100. to each future child, on attaining the age of 21, are as follow:—

The Society also secures property to Heirs Presumptive, by assuring against the contingency of Children who might become Heirs.

The Society likewise assures Lives, and grants Annuities, and carries on all the business of an ordinary Life Assurance Company.

This Office combines a Proprietary Company, with a Mutual Assurance Association, and affords every variety of mode of Life Assurance.

It allows credit for the half of its premiums, for the first five years, at a fixed rate: offers the alternative of increasing or decreasing rates; or for a given number of payments, or at rates reduced in proportion to the profit; and likewise, by assuring sums to be payable at a given age, secures a provision for advanced life. Its Policies are not forfeited immediately if the premiums remain overdue; and fraud only, not error, vitiates them. Facilities are afforded for affecting Loans. The business of the Company is not confined to the Masonic body.

Assurers with this Company are allowed to participate in the profits without incurring any of the liabilities attaching to societies founded upon the principle of Mutual Insurance. The distinguishing characteristics of the Establishment, and the advantages it offers, are enumerated below.

1st. A bonus of two-thirds of the Profits of Life Assurance will be divided septennially for the whole period of life, in proportion to the amount of their policy, and the term of its existence.

2d. The bonus is either added to the policy, to be paid when it has become a claim, or it will be applied to the reduction of future premiums.

3d. Persons assuring, who are desirous of paying the annual premiums on their policy for a limited number of years only, rather than during the whole continuance of life, may be so accommodated, the Directors having caused tables to be made for the purpose.

4th. Persons whose lives are assured by this Company, are permitted to pass by sea from one part of the United Kingdom to another, in decked vessels or steam boats; and are also allowed during peace, to pass from a British to any Foreign port between the Texel and Brest, both inclusive, in vessels as before described, without any additional charge.

5th. A guarantee capital of One Million sterling having been subscribed, Assurers with this Company enjoy a participation in profit without liability of loss.

6th. Disputed Claims may be referred to arbitration.

7th. No Entrance Money, Admission Fee, or other Official Charge exacted.

This Society grants Assurances upon the Lives of Persons in every rank and situation of life, wheresoever resident, upon the lowest possible terms consistent with safety. At ages under 45 years the Premiums are lower than those commonly required by old established offices.

All the advantages offered to the public by other offices are given by this Society.

Four-fifths of the entire Profits of the Society are divided among those assured on the Participating Scale. The Profits respectively allotted may be received in present money, in reversionary sums, or by way of annuity, at the option of the parties assured.

In cases where Persons assured for two complete years in this Office, die before the division of Profits is made, a due proportion will still be allotted to their Policies, and their representatives will be entitled to receive it when declared.

The Directors call the attention of the public and the profession to the Society's Table of Premiums on the Non-participating Scale, as peculiarly applicable to Assurances made for Loans and Securities for Money.

Assurances may be effected upon the Lives of Persons residing at a distance from London, by their appearing before any respectable Solicitor.

The Abatement of Premium for the year 1840, on Policies of five years' standing, under the first of the above Plans, was £44. 9s. 3d. per cent.

In accordance with the deed of settlement, a careful examination was made of the affairs of this Society on the termination of the fifth year, and the Directors had the satisfaction to declare an abatement of FORTY per cent. on the premiums of MEMBERS of five years' standing, a result that admits of advantageous comparison with any other Institution for Life Assurance. Some examples are given at foot, shewing the effect of this reduction at different ages, and the Directors do not hesitate to express their confident expectation that the same rate of abatement, at least, will be continued annually through the remaining term of life, not only to the present, but to all future MEMBERS, when they shall, in like manner, have paid five full premiums.

The determination of the Directors not to allow Commission to agents and others, for the introduction of business, as well as the economy observed in all other respects, not only enables them to make the above reduction to MEMBERS, but also to offer reduced rates of premium to parties not participating in the profits.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

BESIDES the perfect security to the policy holder of a large paid up capital, and accumulating funds, with moderate rates of premium, the following is one amongst many of the advantages which belong exclusively to the principles of Life Assurance and Deferred Annuities, originated by the Society, viz.:—Power to borrow (without delay, expense, or forfeiture) Two-thirds of all premiums paid upon a policy of Assurance.

Premiums for assuring £100. (whole Life.)

Age	£. s. d.	Age	£. s. d.	Age	£. s. d.
25	1 18 6	35	2 10 11	45	3 9 4
30	2 4 4	40	2 18 8	50	4 4 2

Deferred Annuities Department.

By the plan exclusively developed by the Society, a single Deferred Annuity is made, not only to answer the same object, but to equal in amount the entire sum of all the advantages heretofore only obtained by the middle and industrious classes by separate investments in Savings' Banks, Benefit Societies, and Loan Banks.

1. A small yearly, or weekly contribution, will secure the most ample return for after life; thus—2*l.* 12*s.* per annum (1*s.* a week) at 20, will, at 65, give the policy holder the choice of an annuity for life of 47*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.*; 394*l.* 11*s.* in cash; or Policy without further contribution, of 466*l.* at death.

2. Two-thirds at any time lent on deposit of Policy, being a fund always available during sickness or want of employment.

3. Two-thirds of all payments returned to representatives in case of premature death.

N B.—Policies, as collateral money security for periods of one to five years, effected at lower rates than charged by any other office, (See Tables A. and B.) with option of continuance for Life at the usual rates.

Among the numerous advantages of this Company are:—

1. Participation septennially in two-thirds of the Profits of the Corporation to holders of Policies for the period of life.

North British Life Assurance

II. Premiums nearly five per cent. lower than those generally required by Offices acting upon the system of participation.

III. Option of the Assured of allowing the Profits to go either in diminution of the premium or in addition to the sum insured.

IV. For the convenience of persons not wishing to participate, a reduced scale of Premiums, calculated at the lowest possible rate that risks can be taken with security.

V. The greatest facility afforded to persons of limited means, to those of stated incomes, in the church, public offices, &c., by receiving the Premiums Quarterly, Half-Yearly, Annually, or in a Single payment, as agreed upon at the time of effecting the insurance, or by ascending and descending scales. These, with numerous other advantages, are more fully detailed in the table of rates, which can be had on application at the Office of the Company from Ten till Four.

VI. Persons resident in the country can effect Insurances by corresponding with the Resident Members of the Board—Messrs. B. and M. Boyd.

EXAMPLE—A person, aged 30, may, by an Annual Payment of 2*l*. (being about 10*d*. a week) secure to his Wife and Family 100*l*. whenever his death may occur; thus showing that, on the same principle, persons possessed of very moderate incomes may insure something; and those in the receipt of large present emoluments may insure a considerable Property to their Widows and Children.

Policies for a smaller sum than £5000, and which had subsisted for less than seven years, also participated in equitable proportion.

Persons Assuring their Lives at any period before the next division of profits, in 1845, will also have sums appropriated to their Policies, in proportion to the profits then declared.

The Assured participate in four-fifths, or 80 per cent. of the estimated profits, which are added every seventh year, as Bonus, to Policies effected for the whole of life, on lives not exceeding the age of 50 when assured.

Lives above 50, and at all other ages, may also be Assured, at an immediate reduction of Premium, without participating in profits.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THIS SOCIETY.

Particular attention is requested to the Rates, which, being founded on the most accurate observations of the duration of human life, are as moderate as is consistent with perfect security.

The Profits are declared in each year, on the second Wednesday in May, on which date, all those whose Policies have been in existence five complete years, are entitled to participation therein.

This practice, of an annual division, as observed by Mr. Babbage, "distributes the Profits with more regularity and justice than any other;" and it is especially advantageous to persons of advanced years, who cannot hope to participate in many septennial or decennial divisions.

One-fifth of the ascertained Profits of the five preceding years, is divided between the Policy-holders and Share-holders; three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The first division of Profits took place on the 13th of May, 1840, when a reduction of 60 per cent. was declared on the annual premiums of all those Policies entitled to participation.

The following Table will show the operation of the Reduction made by the Society.

Age when Policy was Issued.	Date of Policy.	Sum Assured	Original Premium.	Reduction.	Annual Prem. payable in 1840.

This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable bonus by effecting a new Policy.

All Policies, becoming Claims, will be discharged within three months after proof of the death of the Assured has been furnished to the Office.

The Society will purchase any Policy on which not fewer than five annual payments have been made; or, if required, two-thirds of its calculated value will be advanced, by way of loan.

A Board of Directors, attended by their Medical officer, is held every Thursday, at twelve o'clock, to effect assurances; and attendance is given at the Office, daily, from ten to four o'clock.

Policies are granted in London, and by resident Committees at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, on Indian risks, at very advantageous rates, calculated from extensive data and tables, exclusively in the possession of this society, to show the true risk of life during residence in India, and after retirement from foreign service.

RHEUMATISM.

Eighteen years have elapsed since Mr. Coles furnished his late Majesty George the Fourth with one of his Medicated Bands—which ultimately came into the possession of a Page to H.R.H. the Princess Augusta, and cured him. Whether his Majesty wore it is not known; but the late Mrs. Fitzherbert wore Coles's Bands, at the recommendation of the Countess of Ludolf.

Morris Lievesly, Esq., Secretary of the Foundling, after expending £1000 on his person, in trying various experiments, was cured by wearing Coles's Bands, and gave him a certificate to that effect. R. N. Croker, Esq., M.D., gave Mr. Coles his certificate, after wearing the bands forty-eight hours. The Doctor is brother to J. W. Croker, Esq., late Secretary to the Admiralty. He observed, that when the surface of the body became warm with exercise, the remission of pain was instantly manifest, and in twenty-four hours he had scarcely any pain; and makes this singular avowal without attempting to explain the phenomenon, how a local external application of a mineral, in a state of powder, can act in alleviating deep-seated muscular pain. The fact is most anomalous, and demands the attention of all Practitioners.

Joseph Clay, Esq., of Arden-mills, Denton, near Manchester, in a letter, dated July 2nd, 1835, says;—I have received the rheumatic bands, the whole of which I have worn since May last, and I have the pleasure to state, that they have relieved my sufferings in my shoulders, wrists, knees, and hip. I still feel weak in my ancles, but on the whole I think, by persevering with them, they will make me young again.

The Rev. Mr. Wilder, of Carlton rectory, near Newmarket, in a note, dated 20th October, 1835, says:—That he has suffered very severely from sciatica, for more than two years, that about three weeks since he obtained one of Coles's medicated bands, and the pain has during the short time he has worn it, nearly, if not entirely left him. He had tried many supposed remedies without receiving any benefit.

General Wilder has another son in the army, who has been cured by the use of the Medicated Bands, and has cured others by lending them.

Sir, I am in justice bound to state, that in consequence of a virulent attack of yellow fever, I returned from the West Indies with paralysis in my left hand, and a severe rheumatic affection in my right thigh. That by the use of the Waters of Weisbaden I got rid of the paralysis; but the acute pain in my limb still continuing, I applied and wore for a considerable time, with the most happy result, your medicated band, which afforded me immediate relief.

I am, Sir, your obliged Servant,

A. M. MAXWELL, Lieut.-Col. 36th Regt

Boulogne, May 17th, 1837.

Lieutenant-Colonel Stisted, of the 3d Regiment of Light Dragoons, informs those who have rheumatism that he has worn Coles's medicated bands four months; that that they have relieved him from a state of suffering scarcely to be described. The Colonel, to evince his gratitude to Mr. Coles, has authorised him to make use of his name in any way he thinks proper.

4, Craven street, Strand, London, April 22, 1837.

Colonel Francklin acquaints Mr. Coles that the medicated bands furnished to him have entirely removed the pain in his shoulder and arm, in which parts he had been for many months a great sufferer from rheumatism, although employing various remedies in hopes of obtaining relief; the pain continued, and he was unable to pull off his coat or dress himself without assistance. Colonel Francklin sends Mr. Coles this testimony to use it as he pleases.

Blackheath, March 22, 1838.

Sir,—During the last eight months I have been severely afflicted with sciatica, lumbago, and rheumatism for which I could get no relief, even under the best medical advice. Your Medicated Bands were recommended to me by persons whom they had relieved, and I am happy to say that they afforded me, during the most acute sufferings, almost instantaneous relief, and at less than one-twentieth part of the expense that I had previously incurred. You are at full liberty to make what use you please of this letter, for so invaluable a discovery cannot be too widely circulated.

I am, Sir, yours greatly obliged,

R. TYAS.

13, Cecil street, Strand, London, 21st May, 1838.

Sir,—A patient of mine, who, from repeated attacks of fever and long-continued illness, became paralyzed in both hands, and the flesh of his arms much reduced from his elbows downwards. I recommended your Medicated Bands, which he wore for several weeks, and to my surprise his flesh became firm, and his strength wonderfully restored. I then advised him to try the hot waters at Bath, where he experienced a still further change, and he is now a useful member of society, and that he never would have been, in my opinion, had he not employed your bands. I am your obedient servant,

JOSEPH CLARK, Surgeon.

Park street, Camden Town, June 2, 1838.

Sir,—Having been suffering from rheumatism four years, with scarcely an interval of ease, arising from having dislocated my shoulder, I applied one of your Medicated Bands, which I wore for three weeks; but finding no mitigation of pain, I applied a much larger Band, in addition to the former, which, I am happy to say, relieved me in twenty-four hours. I am, Sir, your grateful and very humble servant,

ROBERT ROSS.

Nightingale Hall, Lower Edmonton, Nov. 23, 1838.

Sir, I have long been a sufferer from sciatica and rheumatism, and have employed many patent medicines, and the usual medical prescriptions, which failed to relieve my sufferings. I purchased one of your Medicated Bands also, which I wore for three days, and I have gone on one year without feeling a return of the complaint.

I am, Sir, yours with gratitude,

GEORGE PAGE.

At the Marquis of Tweeddale's

June 15, 1839. 11, Belgrave square.

— Trant, Esq., of Clapham, sent a Band to a Lady of his acquaintance, who applied it to her hip on going to bed, and removed it to her ancle, and from thence to her knee during the day. She has since called upon Mr. Coles, and informed him that the band relieved her effectually in all those parts, in twenty-four hours.

John Cooke, Esq., of Rushford College, near Thetford, in a letter, dated 14th September, 1839, says that during the last seven years, he has suffered excruciating pain in his hip from sciatica, and at times was prevented from taking horse exercise; he had tried all sorts of remedies, but never obtained effectual relief till he wore Cole's bands.

Captain Lucas, of West Maling Lodge, Kent, in a letter, dated 28th February, 1840, says that a band which had been nearly six years in his house, cured him of a most severe attack of sciatica in a single night. The Captain observed, after spending thirty-two years at sea, and making nearly twenty voyages to India and China, he would as soon be at sea without a rudder, as pass the remainder of his days without a supply of the medicated bands.

Persons subject to rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, or pains in the kidneys, weak knees, bruises, tooth-ache, ear-ache, or shooting pains in any part of the body or limbs, arising from want of circulation of the blood, or obstructed perspiration, should keep these Bands by them, as they wil preserve their virtues for years in any climate, and when they feel symptoms of its approach, meet the disease half-way. Put them on.

"COLES on RHEUMATISM," price twopence, is a single post-letter, which will be forwarded (gratis) to any part of the kingdom. The bands may be procured through any London coachman or guard. All letters must be post-paid.

"Coles's Truss is the best."

I am ready to subscribe to the truth of this assertion which appears on the front, I will not say ornaments his Establishment at Charing cross, and I do it from personal experience, having in the course of thirty years tried a great many trusses. I have recommended his trusses to several medical characters, and I intend, if I live, to continue to do so, being convinced that in promoting the adoption of Coles's Truss, I am serving not only a meritorious mechanician but also the cause of humanity.

THOMAS RICHARDSON.
West Hendon House, near Sunderland.
10 first Month, 1834.

I do certify having had a Hernia some years, and have used several Trusses, which I found more or less inconvenient and painful, some of them exceedingly so. Having read Mr. Cobbett's case I was induced to try Mr. Coles's Truss, from which I have experienced the greatest comfort, ease, and satisfaction, and I most strongly recommend its use to those who are similarly afflicted.

PEARS'S

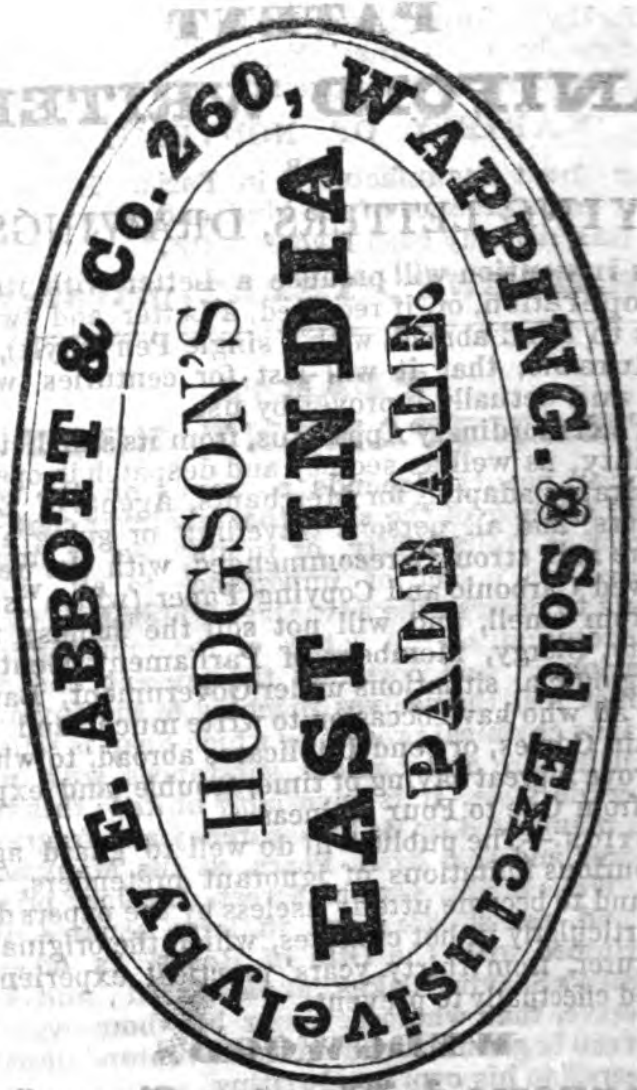

TRANSPARENT SOAP.

Personal beauty depends so much on the appearance and texture of the skin, that whatever contributes to protect it from injury, or to improve it, must be considered an object of importance to all who are solicitous to possess the advantage which Lord Chesterfield denominates, "A letter of recommendation on all occasions;" and certainly the present and future ages must feel themselves indebted to the Inventor of the curious chymical process by which Soap is separated from all impure and noxious substances with which, in its crude state, it is invariably united; this refinement is manifested by its transparency and fragrance.

Prepared and sold by A. Pears, at his Manufactory, No. 55, Wells Street, Oxford Street, London, price 1s. and 1s. 6d. per square; and in large squares, which are perfumed with the Otto of Roses, 2s. 6d.—Also Gentlemen's Shaving Cakes, at 1s., 1s. 6d, and 2s. 6d. But observe, that wheresoever or by whomsover sold, it never can be genuine without the Inventors' signature, "A. Pears," in his own handwriting.

PEARS'S LIQUID BLOOM OF ROSES, to remove the injuries sustained by the injudicious use of deleterious compositions, and to seat beauty on its native throne—the countenance. A. Pears has produced this invaluable extract from the flower whose name it bears, which is invariably admitted to be the best means of effecting this grand and laudable purpose.—3s. 6d. per bottle.

PEARS'S WHITE IMPERIAL POWDER.—This simple but effective cosmetic gives a softness to the texture of the skin unparalleled in the annals of art, and consequently enhances the value of the rich donation of nature. Price 2s. 6d. and 5s. per Box. Sold by most respectable Perfumers in town and country.

Descriptive Particulars of the New

Porous Perukes, Hair Caps, Scalps, Fronts, &c.

INVENTED by H. BREIDENBACH,

88, Park Street, Grosvenor Square.

The great advantage derived from my new system of Wig Making, can only be duly appreciated when once worn, but as far as detail will admit, I will point out the primary and most important improvements. They are lighter by far, because they are without the heavy net and ribbon, usually used in forming the foundation; the Hair itself is the only weight, consequently there is no obstruction to perspiration, which, in the ordinary method causes a wig when only half worn to shrink, look unnatural, and become heavy and greasy, on account of the adhesion of the perspiration to the mount; on my plan, it is impossible that such can arise from the above named cause: and from my immense practice and intense study on the art of Wig Making, I will engage to imitate the hair growing on the head to such a degree of perfection as to defy detection, and to fit any head however difficult the formation may be. I must also beg respectfully to engross the attention of my reader to the great improvements I have made in partings, crowns, &c., which so closely resemble the skin, that the most scrutinising eye must be deceived, and at the same time are so flat that they cannot rise from the head, as is usual with the general kind, which thickness from its unseemly appearance immediately causes detection, thus, my new Imitation of the Skin of the Head, combines the advantage of being considerably more natural in appearance, less weight, and is not attended with any increase of expense, as the following scale of charges for so superior a manufacture will show, which prices are never deviated from; therefore, Ladies or Gentlemen favoring me with their orders per post, can feel assured that they are charged the same as if personally given, which will meet with prompt attention, and if, by any chance, any mistake should arise, so as not to give entire satisfaction, I will immediately make another article, or whatever alteration may be necessary without charge.

USEFUL KNOWLEDGE.

From Cobbett's Register.

WHAT I am now going to communicate will do more good in one single day, than Lord Brougham and Vaux's book will ever do till the last moment that a sheet of them shall be kept out of the hands of the trunk-maker, or preserved by accident from still less honourable uses. To a very considerable part of grown-up-men, the complaint which is called RUPTURE, is but too well known, and the frequency of the exhibition of Trusses in the shop windows, proves to us not only the extent of the prevalence of the complaint, but also the importance attached to its cure. The complaint is purely mechanical; it consists of the dislocation, or displacing of a part of the human frame; and purely mechanical is the remedy. The remedy, and the sole remedy, consists of a Truss, as it is called, to keep constantly in its place the part displaced. There are a great variety of Trusses, some better than others; that is, more effectual, and less inconvenient; and to great numbers of persons, it is of great importance to know which sort is the best; and I, being in a situation to communicate that knowledge to my readers, know it to be my bounden duty to do it.

Twenty-two years ago, I being out a shooting, jumped from a bank, full ten feet high, into the field below, and thereby produced, by the violence of the shock, something that gave me very great pain, but of the nature of which I knew nothing. I came to London, and applied to the late Mr. Chevalier, the surgeon, who directed me to get a truss, which I did. And here I gladly stop to acknowledge the only good I, and, I believe, any other human creature ever received at the hands of old Daddy Burdett. Having told him what had brought me to town, "Well," said he, "when you have put a truss on, never leave it off on the belief that you no longer want it." A precept which he made effectual by relating to me the cause of the sudden and premature death of Francis Duke of Bedford, who thinking his rupture gone for ever, threw his truss aside, but, in playing at fives, a sudden twist of his body brought on the complaint again, and sending for a surgeon to London, instead of calling in him of the village, a mortification took place, and he slept with his fathers in a few hours. Many times, and especially in hot weather, I have by this advice, and especially by the illustration of Daddy Burdett, been prevented from risking the fate of the Duke of Bedford.

My complaint has been of very little consequence to me, except at particular times. I have ridden on horseback, and done everything that I could have done if nothing at all had ailed me. But coughing is very untoward in such a case; and I have at times, especially in November and April, a constitutional and hereditary cough, which I have had in every year that I can remember of my life, and which is always more violent and of longer duration in London than any where else. It is not a cough of the lungs but merely of the throat; but it causes a violent shaking of the whole body, and at these times I have always, until May last, experienced considerable inconvenience, and occasionally a great deal of pain. I have found it painful (and it is a nasty knawing villainous pain!) to stand for an hour or two at a time; and this sometimes annoyed me exceedingly during my lecturing expeditions. When I expected the Whig trial to come on, in May last, (Oh! the manifold blessings of that trial!) the only thing that gave me uneasiness was the fear that I should not be able to stand for three or four hours, to lay the lash on well upon Denman and his masters, I having at that time one of my periodical coughs. In order to get rid of this fear which harassed me continually, I resolved to go to Bolt-court, and never to quit it again till I had found out some one to furnish me with a truss which should be efficient for its purpose, even in these seasons of coughing. As I was going I amused myself in reading Mr. Carpenter's political letter; in this paper I read the advertisement of Mr. Coles, Truss Maker, of Charing Cross; and as I had tried seven or eight before, I at once sent for Mr. Coles; and the result has been that my complaint is as completely removed as if I had never known anything of the kind; and could I have forgotten the precept of the venerable Daddy Burdett, and more especially the fate of the Duke of Bedford, I should have thrown away the truss months ago. Oh! how rejoiced was I when I felt that I should be able to stand at my ease for the hours that I destined for the belabouring of the Whigs! I could not (if I had had a cough) without the aid of Mr. Coles, have given them the four hours and a half, which were worth more to them (if they turn them to good account) than all the rest of their lives. I should have mentioned this matter before but my April cough was nearly gone before Mr. Coles had done the truss, and I was not visited with another till late in September; and I wanted a fair trial before I spoke of this matter. I have now had the trial, and it would be a very shameful neglect of my duty towards my neighbours, for me not to tell the public that I find the remedy perfect, and that I can now scarcely perceive whether, with or without a cough, the smallest signs of my ever having had such a complaint. But am I not here, in doing bare justice to Mr. Coles, doing him an injury, by driving from his shop the tax and tithe eaters, who will have a "prejudice" (that is a villainy) against him for the good he has done to me! No, hang it; they like their worthless lives too well for that. However, my sensible readers, pay you (if you should need it) attention to what I have said; and let the tithe and tax-eaters creep along through life, with all the twitchings and achings of this harassing complaint, and under all the pains and penalties inflicted on them by the awkward, heavy, cumbrous, and still inefficient things which bungling mechanics put round their bodies. One thing bear in mind; and that is, that this is a matter with which surgeons and physicians have nothing to do, any more than they have with the providing us with suitable hoes or coats.

As Mr. Chevalier told me, the complaint is truly me chanical; and the application of the remedy must depend on the mechanic solely, just as much as the fitting of a coat must depend on the tailor. Here, however, more cleverness is required; the mechanic must be able to judge well as to the degree of force required; and he must have great ability in causing the pressure to bear in a proper manner. The moment I heard Mr. Coles speak upon the subject, I was sure he was the man. His observations showed a knowledge of his business, and the result has most amply verified my opinion. I never saw Mr. Coles before, and I have never seen him since, except to call and thank him. What I have said here of him is but justice, which I do with very great pleasure, while, as to the rest, I am only discharging a duty to the public in general, and to my readers in particular. I add this piece of advice to people in London not to write for a truss any sooner than for a coat or a pair of breeches; not to plague a surgeon to order one; but to go to the mechanic in person, and let him fit the force and the form to the necessity of the case.

WILLIAM COBBETT.

OLD ENGLISH INK.

The secret of making this highly-valued Ink, which was for ages lost, has been brought to light by a well-known antiquary of the present day; its intense and perfect colour, as well as its permanent and durable qualities, had long rendered it a desideratum. The Public are informed that the Proprietor has made extensive preparations to enable him to supply them at the same price as any other Inks, notwithstanding its immense superiority and difficult manufacture. It is not a little singular that it should meet the peculiar circumstances of the times, now the practice of writing on thin letter-paper has become prevalent, that while it retains its fluidity sufficiently for all purposes, both sides of the thinnest paper may be written on with impunity. It may be had in bottles of the usual size, wholesale of his agent,

W. G. ADLARD,

QUEENHITHE, LONDON;

And Retail of any Stationer in the United Kingdom.

CAUTION.—The public are particularly cautioned against having a spurious article palmed upon them for the genuine one. They will please to observe that every bottle will be sealed, and each label will bear a facsimile of the Proprietor's (H. HERBERT) signature.

12, Michael's Place, Brompton.

Sir,—I TAKE the liberty to acquaint you that, having purchased the Establishment No. 12, Michael's Place, Brompton, lately in the occupation of Mr. H. S. CHINNOCK, Surgeon, I have secured the valuable co-operation of Doctor CAHILL, of Dublin, by whom, in association with myself, the general practice will be carried on as usual. Doctor CAHILL is a gentleman of high standing in his profession, who has distinguished himself by his contributions to Medical Literature, and is highly appreciated in his native city as an experienced Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur. I have the gratification to present to you some of the Testimonials to his professional character and attainments, which he has received from the leading members of the Faculty in Ireland;

And have the honor to remain, Sir,

Your faithful and obedient Servant,

R. W. BRYDEN.

TESTIMONIALS.

From William Stokes, M.D., Fellow of the College of Physicians, Regius Professor in the University of Dublin, one of the Physicians to the Meath Hospital, and Lecturer on the Practice of Medicine, Park Street, Dublin.

I have had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with Doctor Thomas Cahill for several years, and have had repeated opportunities of meeting him in consultation.

I consider Dr. Cahill to be a very highly informed Physician. He is an excellent observer, and in his diagnosis and prognosis of disease he is singularly accurate. He possesses a more extensive knowledge of the collateral sciences of medicine than most practitioners, and has already successfully contributed to the literature of the profession, by his paper on "The Treatment of Delirium Tremens without Opium."

I am of opinion that Dr. Cahill is a gentleman in every way deserving of the confidence of the public, as a sound and practical physician.

From Sir Henry Marsh, Bt., Fellow of the College of Physicians, and Physician to Stephen's Hospital, &c. &c.

DEAR SIR,

I have much pleasure in complying with your request that I should express in writing my opinion of your professional character and attainments: as I have had frequent opportunities of meeting you professionally, this I am enabled to do. You impressed on my mind, at our various meetings, the conviction that you were an ardent, sagacious, and judicious practitioner,—one in whose sound judgment, and knowledge of disease and its treatment, I should place very great reliance. More words are not necessary to express my opinion of you. Believe me to remain, very truly,

Your obedient Servant,

H. MARSH.

During the Session of 1833, Doctor Thomas Cahill became a pupil of mine at the Coombe Lying-in Hospital, of which Institution I was at that period Master; and I feel much gratification in embracing the present opportunity of testifying to his correct and gentlemanlike conduct in every particular. In the discharge of his professional duties he evinced much humanity and skill, while at the same time he manifested an earnest and unremitting desire for acquiring an intimate knowledge of the particular branch of the medical profession for which the Coombe Lying-in Hospital affords such extensive opportunities. I cannot conclude without expressing my conviction that Dr. Cahill will be found a desirable acquisition, wherever the aid of his valuable and efficient services may be required.
