1st February. | 3rd May. | 2nd August. | 1st November.

LAST DAYS FOR SERVING NOTICE.

NOTE.—All the calculations in this year's Almanac are made according to mean time, that is the time shown by well regulated clocks and watches.

As the differences of the heights of the consecutive Day-tides and Night-tides on the Bar of Dublin rarely exceed ten inches, unless influenced by high winds, which cannot be foretold: so the heights of the tide which come between six o'clock in the morning and six in the afternoon are only inserted in this Almanac.—The times of High Water, and also the Heights of the Tide, were calculated from the Tables of the late Rev. Bernard M'Mahon, adding to the latter 4 feet 4 inches, a quantity deduced from the most recent observations of the Harbour Master, Captain Hutchinson, R.N.

 For an easy practical method of finding the error of a clock or watch on true time, the reader is referred to a little work entitled "Sidereal Tables," published by W. Curry, jun. & Co. 9, Upper Sackville-street, Dublin:—a Work evidently intended for the use of persons unacquainted with astronomical calculations.

This Table is intended for the use of Persons engaged in making Surveys in Ireland, or on the Coas thereof, by enabling them readily to find the Variation of the Needle at the place of the Survey.

The difference between the Sun's distance from the North, as observed by the Compass, and that given by he Table, is the Variation.

Places to the East or West of Cork, Dublin, and Belfast, have the same Azimuths as in the Table, and at intermediate places they may be found by proportion, and also for intermediate days. Allowance is made for the effect of refraction, by which the Sun appears rising or setting when it is actually below the Horizon. The Table is sufficiently accurate for the purpose for which it is intended, without making allowance for the height of the Instrument; but it is supposed the Observer is on the level ground, and that there are no considerable inequalities of ground between him and the Sun at rising or setting.

NOTE—The Variation of the Needle at the Observatory of Trinity College, Dublin, in July, 1842, was 27°. 10′. West.

TABLES FOR ASCERTAINING THE TIME OF THE RISING AND SETTING OF THE SUN AND MOON IN ANY PART OF IRELAND.

A correct knowledge of the Time of the Rising and Setting of the Sun and Moon, being a matter of importance, and of very general utility, as affording a ready and true means of ascertaining the correctness of, and regulating Watches and Clocks; * and as the calculations in a Dublin Almanac will not answer for any place North or South of Dublin, the following Tables have been constructed, by the application of which the Calendar of this Almanac may be rendered generally useful:

The figures after the comma, in those Tables and the following Examples, are decimals: thus, in 1st Example, the 4 in 84,04 (the distance of Belfast from Dublin) denotes 4 hundredths of a mile; and the 4 in 3 26,4 (the time of Sun-rise at Belfast on the 23d June) denotes 4 tenths of a minute.

METHOD OF USING THE TABLES.

The distance of the place in English miles to the North or South of Dublin being known,† multiply it by the Tabular Number, the product of which will be a number of minutes, with a decimal annexed, either to be added or subtracted, according to the following Rules:—

FOR PLACES NORTH OF DUBLIN.

CASE I.—If the Argument is found on the left hand side of the Table, add to the time of Rising at Dublin, and subtract from the time of Setting.

CASE II.—If the Argument is found on the right hand side, subtract from the time of Rising, and add to the time of Setting.

FOR PLACES SOUTH OF DUBLIN.

CASE III.—If the Argument is found on the left hand side of the Table, subtract from the time of Rising at Dublin, and add to the time of Setting.

CASE IV.—If the Argument is found on the right hand side, add to the time of Rising, and subtract from the time of Setting.

* To regulate a Clock or Watch by the Rising or Setting of the Sun and Moon.—Observe when the Centre Rising or Setting coincides with the Horizon, and note that instant by your Watch; then, if the time shown by it agrees with the calculated mean time, the Watch is right; if not, the difference will be the error of the Watch, fast or slow.

† By this is not to be understood the direct distance of the place from Dublin, but rather its distance from an East and West line passing through Dublin. It is equal to the difference of the Latitudes of the two places, and may be taken from a good Map of Ireland with a sufficient degree of accuracy.

It may be proper here to observe, that the calculations in this Almanac were made for the Latitude 53d. 23m N.—Also, that the length of a degree of the Meridian has been assumed equal to 69,07 English miles.

FAIR AND FOUL WEATHER PROGNOSTICATOR.

THE following Table—constructed upon a philosophical consideration of the attraction of the Sun and Moon, in their several positions respecting the Earth, and confirmed in the experience of many years' actual observation—will, without trouble, suggest to the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the Moon's entrance into any of her quarters, and that so near the truth, that in very few instances it will be found to fail.

NEW OR FULL MOON.	SUMMER.	WINTER.
If it be a new or full moon, or the moon enters into the first or last quarter at the hour of 12, noon.	Very Rainy	Snow or Rain.
Between 2 and 4 o'clock,	Changeable	Fair and mild.
Between 4 and 6 o'clock,	Fair	Fair.
Between 6 and 8 o'clock,	Fair if wind N. W.—Rainy if S. or S. W.	Fair and Frosty if N. or N. E. Rain or Snow if S. or S. W.
Between 8 and 10 o'clock,	Ditto	Ditto.
10 o'clock midnight,	Fair	Fair and Frosty.
2 o'clock midnight,	Fair	Hard Frost, unless wind S. or W.
Between 2 and 4 o'clock,	Cold, with showers	Snow and Stormy.
Between 4 and 6 o'clock,	Rain	Ditto.
Between 6 and 8 o'clock,	Wind and Rain	Stormy.
Between 8 and 10 o'clock,	Changeable	Cold Rain if W.—Snow if E.
Between 10 and 12 noon,	Frequent showers	Cold, with high wind.

Hence, the nearer the time of the Moon's entrance at full, change, and quarters is to MIDNIGHT, (that is, within two hours before and after midnight,) the more fair the weather is in Summer; but the nearer to NOON, the less fair. Also, the Moon's entrance at full, change, and quarters, during six of the afternoon hours, viz. from 4 to 10, may be followed by fair weather, but this is mostly dependant on the wind. The Moon's entrance in all the hours after midnight, except the two first, is unfavorable to fair weather. The like nearly may be observed in the Winter.

If the clouds in the western hemisphere, at the time of sun-set, are tinged with a light red and yellow; or, if there are no clouds, and the sky, towards that part of the horizon where the sun sets, be of a beautiful red and yellow, it will be fine weather: but, if the sun be of a pale colour, or if the clouds change to a dark red, and continue, it will rain. The clouds tinged with a dark red in the opposite hemisphere to the sun, whether at rising or setting, presage wind.

In Winter, when large clouds are observed with white edges, and a strong blue sky above them, it will be hail or snow; or probably these may be dissolved into rain before they reach the earth.

THE FOLLOWING OBSERVATIONS ON THE WEATHER ARE BY THE REV. W. JONES.

1. Heavenly bodies.—A haziness in the air which fades the sun's light, and makes the orb appear whitish, or ill-defined; or at night, if the moon and stars grow dim, and a ring encircles the former, rain will follow.—If the sun's rays appear like Moses' horns, if white at setting, or shorn of his rays, or goes down into a bank of cloud in the horizon, bad weather is to be expected.—If the moon looks pale and dim, we expect rain; if red, wind; and if of a natural colour, with a clear sky, fair weather.—If the moon is rainy throughout, it will clear at the change, and perhaps the rain return a few days after. If fair throughout, and rain at the change, the fair weather will probably return on the fourth or fifth day.

2. Wind.—If the wind veers about, much rain is pretty sure. If in changing it follows the course of the sun, it brings fair weather; the contrary, foul.—Whistling or howling of the wind, a sure sign of rain.

3. Animals.—Before rain, swallows fly low; dogs grow sleepy, and eat grass; water fowl dive much; fish will not bite; flies are more troublesome; moles, ants, bees, and many insects are very busy; birds fly low for insects; swine, sheep, and cattle are uneasy; and even the human body

EXAMPLE.—To find the number of days from the 15th June to the 15th March following, counting the first but not the latter date. Find June in the first column, and then in a line with that under March, is 273 days. If it were from the 15th June to 25th March, it would be 10 days more, or 283 days; but if from the 15th June to the 5th March, it would be 10 days less, or 263 days. In leap years, when the last day of February is included between the two times, there would be one day more than by the Table.

IMPERIAL STANDARD MEASURES.

In the Imperial system, introduced January 1, 1826, the legal measures of extension and weight are continued as before; but a variety of corn, wine, and beer measures, previously in use, are superseded by a new measure of capacity called the "Imperial standard gallon," containing 277.274 cubic inches, or 10lbs. avoirdupois, of distilled water, at 62° Fahrenheit, the barometer being at 30 inches. The following tables exhibit the Imperial standards, and their usual multiples and divisions.

MEASURES OF LENGTH.

12 Inches	=	1 Foot
3 Feet	=	1 Yard
5½ Yards	=	1 Pole or Perch
40 Poles	=	1 Furlong.
8 Furlongs or 1760 Yds.	=	1 Mile.

The hand=4 inches; the English ell=45 inches; the pace=5 feet; and the fathom=6 feet. The geographical degree=20 nautical leagues, or 69.121 miles. In land measure, the chain of 100 links =66 feet.

MEASURES OF SURFACE.

144 Square inches	=	1 Sq. foot
9 Square feet	=	1 Sq. yard
30¼ Sq. yards, or 272¼ sq. feet	=	1 Sq. Pole
40 Square poles	=	1 Rood
4 Roods, or 4840 square yards	=	1 Acre

And 640 acres make 1 Sq. mile.

MEASURES OF CAPACITY.

I.—GEN. MEASURES OF SOLIDITY.

1728 Cubic inches	=	1 Cubic foot
27 Cubic feet	=	1 Cubic yd.

The ton measurement=8 barrel bulk, or 40 cubic feet.

II.—MEASURES FOR LIQUIDS, CORN, AND DRY GOODS.

8.665 Cubic inches	=	1 Gill
4 Gills	=	1 Pint
2 Pints	=	1 Quart
4 Quarts	=	1 Gallon
2 Gallons	=	1 Peck
4 Pecks	=	1 Bushel
8 Bushels	=	1 Quarter

The peck, bushel, and quarter are used for dry goods only; there are besides, the coom=4 bushels; the wey or load=5 quarters; and the last=2 loads or 1½ quarters.

In Beer Measure, the barrel contains 4 firkins or 36 gallons; and the hogshead 1½ barrel or 54 gallons.

In Wine Measure, besides the gallon and its subdivisions, various denominations are used, as the butt, pipe, &c. The standard gauges in trade are as follow:—Pipe of Port, 115 Imp. galls.; pipe of Lisbon, 117 do.; pipe of Cape or Madeira, 92 do.; pipe of Teneriffe, 100 do.; butt of Sherry, 108 do.; hogshead of Claret, 46 do.; aum of Hock, 30 do.

Herrings are measured by the barrel of 26⅔, or cran of 37½ gallons.

MEASURES OF WEIGHT.

I.—AVOIRDUPOIS OR COMMERCIAL WEIGHT.

27.34375 Troy grains	=	1 Dram
16 Drams	=	1 Ounce
16 Ounces, or 7000 grs	=	1 Pound
14 Pounds	=	1 Stone
2 Stones, or 28lbs.	=	1 Quar.
4 Quarters, or 112lbs.	=	1 Cwt.
20 Cwts.	=	1 Ton

Flour Weight.—1 stone = 14 pounds; 1 boll=140 pounds; 1 sack=280 pounds, or 2½ cwt.; 1 barrel=196 lbs.

II.—TROY WEIGHT.

24 Grains	=	1 Pennyweight
20 Dwts	=	1 Ounce
12 Ounces	=	1 Pound

The use of this weight is confined to the precious metals.

The fineness of gold is expressed in carats and grains, the unit of reference being divided into 24 carats, and the carat into 4 grains. The standard of gold coin is 22 carats; that is, the pound or other weight should contain 22 parts pure and 2 alloy. The mint-price of gold is £3 17s. 10½d. per ounce; and hence the full weight of a sovereign is 5 dwts. 3.274 troy grains, but the sovereign of 5 dwts. 2½ grains, and the half-sovereign of 2 dwts. 13⅛ grains, are allowed currency, (Proclamation, June 7, 1842.)

Wrought gold has two legal standards; one is 22 carats, the same as the coin, and the other 18 carats. The latter, instituted in 1798, is used chiefly for watch-cases and rings.

The fineness of silver is expressed in ounces and pennyweights; the standard fineness is 11 oz. 2 dwts. of pure metal and 18 dwts. of alloy, making together 1 pound troy. Prior to the recoinage in 1816, a pound of standard silver was minted into 62 shillings, and was thus issued at 5s. 2d. per oz.; but although the market price of standard silver bullion has for many years varied little from 5s. per ounce, the new coin is minted at 5s. 6d. per oz. as 66 shillings are coined from a pound of bullion. The act of 1816, however, declares "that silver coins shall be a legal tender for 40s. only at one time," and "that gold coins shall be in future the sole standard measure of value and legal tender for payment, without any limitation of amount."

Wrought silver has two legal standards; one is the same as that of the coin, and the other 8 dwts. better, or 11 oz. 10 dwts. But the latter, called new sterling, is seldom used.

Diamond Weight.—Diamonds are weighed by carats, 151½ of which make one ounce troy; this carat is therefore equal only to 3⅛ troy grains.

Pearl Weight.—The troy ounce contains 600 pearl grains, and hence one pearl grain is 4-5ths of a troy grain.

Apothecaries' Weight.—20 troy grains make 1 scruple; 3 scruples make 1 dram; and 8 drams make 1 ounce. The ounce and pound are the same as in troy weight. This weight is used in medical prescriptions only.

WEST INDIES.—In the British islands, sterling money and dollars have now generally superseded the old currencies. By Proclamation, Sept. 21, 1838, the value of the dollar is fixed at 4s. 2d. and of the gold doubloon at 64s. sterling. The nominal values of £100 sterling in the old currencies were:—Jamaica, £140; Barbadoes, £135; Windward Islands, except Barbadoes, £175; Leeward Islands, £200; but these values differed, in most instances widely, from the actual exchange. In 1836 the rates on London of several of the islands for £100 sterling were in currency as follows:—Jamaica, £160; St. Vincent, £235; Grenada, £240; St. Lucia, £227; Antigua, £220.

The inventory-duty is paid, in the first place, on the whole succession without deduction of debts; but the act 55th Geo. This repayment must be claimed within three years; but the time will be prolonged on cause shown. If there be any omission in the inventory, an additional one must be lodged.

A SIMPLE AND CONCISE METHOD OF COMPUTING (WITHIN ONE HALFPENNY) A HALF-YEAR'S DIVIDEND ON ANY AMOUNT OF STOCK IN THE PUBLIC FUNDS, &c.

Rule—Multiply the stock by the rate per cent—Take the unit of the pounds for the pence, and the figures on the left hand of it for the shillings. Thus—The half year's dividend on £281 1s. 2d. in the Three per Cents, which being multiplied by 3, makes £843 3s. 6d. is 84s. 3d. or £4 4s. 3d.

But when this unit is more than 4, and when the shillings are more than 5, then one penny must be added to the result for each unit and fraction. Thus—On £281 13s. 4d. which being multiplied by 3, makes £845, is 84s. 5d. or £4 4s. 5d. Add 1d. for the unit, being more than 4, and it is then £4 4s. 6d.

On £281 1s. 2d. in the Three-and-a-half per Cents, which being multiplied by 3½, makes £983 14s. 1d. is 98s. 3d. or £4 18s. 3d. Add 1d. for the shillings, being more than 5, and it is £4 18s. 4d.

On £281 18s. 2d. which being multiplied by 3½, makes £986 13s. 7d. is 98s. 6d. or £4 18s. 6d. Add 1d. for the unit, being more than 4, and 1d. for the shillings, being more than 5, and it is then £4 18s. 8d.

This method may be considered sufficiently accurate for the general purposes of the public, but it cannot be adopted by the clerks in the Bank of England, because Government never pay the smallest fraction more (although they frequently pay less) than the time computation.

The annual dividend paid half-yearly at the Bank on 5s. 7d. stock in the Three per Cents, is two-pence, but on 5s. 6d. stock no dividend at all is paid. The Bank pay the same half-yearly dividend on £287 15s. 6d. as on £287 10s. viz. £4 6s. 3d.

GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES, per Act 10th Geo. IV. Cap. 24.

This Act empowers the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt to grant Annuities on lives and for terms of years certain; but no person can be appointed the nominee for any life annuity who shall be under the age of 15 years, nor can any annuity certain be purchased for less than 10 years. These annuities are payable half-yearly, and are transferable; but life annuities cannot be transferred in parts or shares. No sum less than £100 of stock (or money equal to £100 of 3 per cents) can be transferred or paid in the first instance; but additions may be made to any annuity already purchased, by transferring not less than £20 of 3 per cents, or other stock or money equivalent thereto. Upon the death of any nominee, a sum equal to one-fourth of the annuity depending upon the life of such nominee, over and above all arrears, will be payable to those entitled thereto, or their executors, &c. provided the same shall be claimed within two years after such decease. Annuities are also granted on joint lives, and for deferred terms, &c.

Life Annuities, which £100 (Money) will purchase, when the 3 per cents, ex dividend, are at the following prices:—

SAVINGS BANKS' ANNUITIES,

PER ACT 3d WM. IV. CAP. 14.

This act was framed with the view of enabling the industrious classes to purchase annuities from the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt, by the payment of a certain sum in the first instance, or by weekly, monthly, quarterly, or yearly instalments. These annuities may be either immediate or deferred, for life or for a limited term of years; but no annuity less than £4 can be purchased, and no individual can hold any annuity or annuities exceeding in the whole the sum of £20,—neither can an annuity be contracted for on the life of any nominee who shall be under 15 years of age. The annuities are, in all cases, payable in equal parts half-yearly.

RULE—Multiply the Principal by the rate per cent; that product multiply by the given number of months, weeks, or days; cut off from the last product two figures to the right hand; for every 10 in which, if for months, set down two-pence; if for weeks, one half-penny; and if for days, one farthing for every 40—consider the figure or figures to the left as Pounds, for which the Interest will be found in the Table, under the head of months, weeks, or days, as the case may be, thus—£20 for three months, at 6 per cent. would produce, by Multiplication, a sum of 3 | 60—for the six tens in the right-hand figures, set down 1*s.* and for the left hand figure, as per Table, 5*s.* making 6*s.* 0*d.* the Interest required.

For an inside Seat in a Coach or Caravan drawn by two or more Horses .....1*s.* 6*d.*
For an Outside Seat on same .....0*s.* 8*d.*

☞ Those Carriages cannot be compelled to leave Kingstown Road, except by private agreement.

1. Parliamentary Petitions and Addresses to her Majesty. —2. Parliamentary Proceedings.—3. Letters and Packets addressed to or received from places beyond sea.—4. Letters and Packets to and from Public Departments.—5. Deeds, if sent open, or in covers open at the sides. They may be tied with string and sealed, in order to prevent inspection of the contents, but they must be open at the sides, that it may be seen that they are entitled to that privilege.

All other Packets above the weight of sixteen ounces will be opened and returned to the writers.

Inland Letters or Packets put into the unpaid Letter Boxes, are charged double the amount of Postage to which, had they been prepaid, they would have been liable. The same regulation applies to Letters prepaid by money, where the full and proper rate of Postage has not been paid in advance.

and so on progressively. When Letters are not specially marked by the sender with the words "by ship," or "by private ship," or if not prepaid, they are liable to be sent by packet, and charged packet rates.

FOREIGN LETTERS BY PACKET.

A new rate of postage on Letters from France, and passing through France, came into operation on the 6th June, 1843. The single British rate being charged on Letters under half an ounce, while a Letter under a quarter of an ounce is liable to one Foreign rate, and so in proportion, as shown in the following scale:—

	British Rates.	Foreign Rates.
Under ¼ oz.	1	1
Above ¼ oz. and not exceeding ½	1	2
.. ½ .. .. ¾	2	3
.. ¾ 1	2	4
.. 1 .. .. 1¼	4	5

The British charge increasing two rates of postage for every additional ounce, and the Foreign charge increasing one rate of postage for every additional quarter of an ounce.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS, NEWSPAPERS, &c.

PRINTED PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS may be sent by Post from place to place in the United Kingdom, or to the Colonies by the packets, and the proceedings of colonial legislatures sent by packet may be received, at the following rates:—If not exceeding 4 oz. 1d.; above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 2d; above 8 oz. and not exceeding 12 oz. 3d.; and so on.—The privilege as to the Colonies does not embrace the Mediterranean packet conveyance to India. When conveyed by private ship the above rates are double. There is no limitation as to weight. Papers must be without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and must have no enclosures or writing other than the address. In papers passing inland, pre-payment is optional.

MEMBERS of PARLIAMENT may receive Petitions and Addresses to her Majesty, or Petitions to either House, free, if not exceeding 32 oz., and sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides.

PERIODICAL WORKS and Parliamentary Papers may be forwarded to France only if the postage is paid in advance, and they are printed in the English language, and sent in covers, open at the sides,—Not exceeding 2 oz. 1d.; above 2 oz. and not exceeding 3 oz. 6d.; above 3 oz. and not exceeding 4 oz. 8d. and 2d. additional for every oz. up to the weight of 16 oz. to which they are limited.

SAILORS and SOLDIERS in Her Majesty's service, or that of the East India Company, can send and receive Letters under half an-ounce weight, on their own private concerns only, for one penny, to be paid when put into the Post office. The name of the sailor or soldier, his class or description, and the name of the ship or regiment, must be given by himself; and the officer having the command must sign his name, and the name of the ship or regiment to which he belongs.

NEWSPAPERS.—Stamped British and Irish Newspapers pass free from one place to another. When addressed to a person residing within the delivery of the Post-town where it is posted, 1d. is charged on a paper. British and Colonial Newspapers pass free to and from the Colonies by Her Majesty's packets,—the privilege includes papers to and from the East Indies by the Southampton packets; and if sent by the Monthly Closed Mails, via France, they are charged 3d. and must be prepaid. When the conveyance is by private ship, the postage is 1d. Foreign Newspapers received in Britain, and British Newspapers sent to foreign countries, are liable to a postage of 2d., unless there be a reciprocity treaty with the foreign Post-office, when they pass free. The exemption, however, is only total in the case of Post-office conveyances. Newspapers to and from France are charged ½d. each on delivery; when sent by private ship, they pay a postage of 1d. Foreign and Colonial Newspapers cannot be re-posted, after having been read, with a new address, under penalty of full postage charged as a Letter; but if the person to whom they are originally addressed has removed or left the place, they can, if not read, be re-directed, and forwarded without any expense. All Newspapers must be without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and must have no writing on them but the address, and no enclosures. It is recommended that the address be written, not only on the cover, but on some exposed part of the paper. All Newspapers sent out of the Kingdom must be posted within 7 days after publication.

PRICES CURRENT, AND COMMERCIAL LISTS, published in the United Kingdom, if duly stamped, and under the weight of 2 oz. will be treated as newspapers, and enjoy the newspaper privileges—the sanction of the Postmaster-General having been previously obtained. Printed Prices Current, and Commercial Lists, from the British Colonies, France, and China, are admitted into the United Kingdom at the reduced rate of 1d. each, whether conveyed by packet or private ship. From any other foreign country, the rate is 2d. each.

POST-OFFICE COVERS AND STAMPS—Letters, Newspapers, and Parliamentary Papers, may be prepaid by affixing postage stamps, or enclosing in stamped covers bearing the proper rate of postage. Any number of stamps of any denomination will be admitted, provided the whole cover the postage. Where there is not a sufficient number of stamps in the case of letters inland, the difference is treated as an unprepaid postage, and charged double. Postage stamps are applicable to letters going abroad. In this instance there is no double postage charge to make up deficiency; but where prepayment is not optional, if there be a deficient stamp, it is returned through the Dead-letter office. Colonial Letters deficiently stamped are charged full postage. Covers and stamps are sold by all postmasters and letter-receivers, viz.:—Penny and Twopenny Label Stamps, at 1d. and 2d. each; Penny and Twopenny Covers, at 1¼d. and 2¼d. each.

TRANSMISSION OF MONEY, AND MONEY ORDERS.—In the transmission of small sums, the use of the Money Order Office is recommended, where an order from any one Post-Office on any other, for any sum not exceeding £2, may be obtained for 3d., and for a sum between that and £5, for 6d. In the case of very small sums, the transmission of an equivalent value in Post-office stamps may be had recourse to. Where bank-notes or drafts to bearer are sent, it is requested that they be cut in two, the halves being sent by different posts. In the case of bank-notes, and post-bills, a note of the numbers and amounts should be preserved.

REGISTRATION.—Letters, whether containing coin or not, can be registered at any Post-office on payment of a fee of 1s. in addition to the ordinary rates of postage, which must also be prepaid.

RE-DIRECTION.—When a Letter (by reason of the person it is addressed to having removed or otherwise) is re-directed, it incurs a new inland postage according to its weight; but though the new postage should not be paid on re-posting the Letter, it will be charged on delivery only with the lower rate of a prepaid Letter, and not with the double rate to which Letters not prepaid are liable.

To this office have been transferred the Records of the following departments, viz;—

RECORD DEPARTMENT OF THE OFFICE OF PAYMASTER OF CIVIL SERVICES IN IRELAND.

The Records of this department originally belonged to the abolished office of Auditor General of the Exchequer. They commence, for any practically useful purpose, in the reign of Henry VIII., and come down, with almost unbroken continuance, to the present period. Their nature is twofold– namely, Records relating to real Property, and Records relating to the Revenue of the Kingdom.

The Records "relating to real Property" comprehend rolls and books of survey, which describe the nature and extent of the landed estates and interests forfeited to the Crown in Ireland; they contain the grants of such estates and interests made by the Crown to its subjects; they comprise Rent Rolls, setting forth, in county and baronial arrangement, the detail of the rents payable to the Crown out of said estates; and they show the names of the parties by whom said rents have been paid since the passing of the several letters patent; combining, for the benefit of suitors and others tracing title to real property, a chain of evidence at once satisfactory and conclusive. This class of Records further shows all dealings between the Crown and its subjects, and frequently between subject and subject, connected with landed estates and interests.

The second class of Records, "relating to the Revenue of the Kingdom," shows, from an early period to the year 1822, the several sources from whence the Public Revenue of Ireland has flowed, the annual amount thereof, and the application of the same.

RECORDS OF THE OFFICE OF REGISTRAR OF ESTATES FORFEITED IN 1688.

These Records contain the proceedings of the Parliamentary Trustees, in whom were vested by the Act of Re-assumption, 11 & 12 William III. the estates forfeited to the Crown in that Reign, formerly kept in a room at the Custom House, called the Forfeiture Office. This class of Records was transferred to the custody of the Paymaster of Civil Service, by directions of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

All applications for searches, &c. amongst the Records in the New Public Record Office, may be made to the officers above mentioned, between the hours of 11 and 4 o'clock, daily.

RECORDS OF THE SURVEYOR GENERAL'S OFFICE OF CROWN LANDS.

These Records consist of the Down Survey Maps and other Records and muniments relating to the estates forfeited in 1641. They were heretofore kept in the Tower, in the Lower Castle Yard.

RECORDS OF THE LATE OFFICE OF FIRST FRUITS, &c.

The Records of this Office consist of returns made by the Archbishop and Bishops of Ireland, to writs issued out of the Court of Exchequer, showing the names of those persons to whom Ecclesiastical preferments were granted within their respective dioceses, from the reign of Henry VIII. to the year 1833; the object of such returns being for the purpose of charging the persons named therein with the first fruits and twentieth parts imposed upon them by Act of Parliament.

RECORDS OF THE LATE OFFICE OF IMPREST ACCOUNTS.

A considerable portion of the Records of this Office was transmitted to the Audit Office, London; the remainder are in the New Record Office. They commence about the year 1720, and come down to the present time. They consist of the accounts of the expenditure of moneys granted by Parliament for the advancement of public works, and support of charitable and other institutions in Ireland.

THE RECORDS OF THE POPULATION OF IRELAND FOR THE YEAR 1831, AND THE AMENDATION OF THE SAME IN THE YEAR 1834.

The Records of the four last above-mentioned offices were, by command of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, given into the custody and charge of Mr. Hardinge, the Senior Clerk of the Record Department of the Office of Paymaster of Civil Services, and the duties incidental to such custody are executed by the officers of that department.

RECORD TOWER, DUBLIN CASTLE.

OFFICE OF ARMS.

First, The Records of the Office of Arms, consisting of many volumes of the pedigrees of the Nobility and Gentry of Ireland, recorded chiefly since the reign of Henry VIII.; many volumes of certificates of the deaths and funerals of the Nobility and Gentry, reciting their marriages, descents, arms, &c., during the reigns of Edward VI., Queen Elizabeth, and the House of Stuart, to the year 1700. Records of grants of arms, &c. to the Nobility and Gentry of Ireland, from the same period to the present day, with many volumes of religious ceremonies, professions, &c., which have taken place in Ireland.

The founders wish to be understood, that as it is their desire to establish a system of religious education in strict conformity with the principles and formularies of the united church of England and Ireland, none but Members of the church can be received into the School. The course of instruction preparatory to the University, is of the same nature as that of the great public schools of England. The governors have already founded ten scholarships, of the value of forty guines a year, to be held by boys in the school; which they desire should be given principally to the sons of the clergy. All pupils holding scholarships on the foundation, must learn to read and speak the Irish language; and the same study will be as much as possible encouraged in all other pupils, but without interfering in either case with their regular preparation for the Universities. Two additional scholarships have also been founded, of the value of fifty guineas per annum, which are open to such boys only as can speak the Irish language vernacularly. Pupils educated in the college, on entering the University of Dublin, will be eligible with preference to the Irish scholarships, already founded in Trinity College.

The fixed college fees, including all tuition, are seventy guineas a year; they must be paid half-yearly in advance at the beginning of each term. All applications for admission to the college must be made to the Rev. the Warden, Stackallen, Navan.

PRIMATE MARSH'S LIBRARY, ST. PATRICK'S, DUBLIN,

GOVERNORS AND TRUSTEES,

The Right Hon. and Most Reverend Lord John George De la Poer Beresford, D.D. Lord Archbishop of Armagh. Primate and Metropolitan of all Ireland; the Right Hon. and Most Reverend Richard Whateley, D.D. Lord Archbishop of Dublin; the Right Hon. Maziere Brady, Lord High Chancellor of Ireland; the Right Hon. Francis Blackburne, Lord Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench; the Right Hon. John Doherty, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas; the Right Hon. David Richard Pigot, Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer; the Hon. and Very Rev. Henry Pakenham, A.M. Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Patrick, Dublin; the Rev. Franc Sadleir, D.D. Provost of Trinity College, Dublin.

Assistant Librarian, Robert Travers, A.M. M.B. of Trinity College, Dublin; Licentiate of the King and Queen's College of Physicians.

This establishment, which has now subsisted nearly a century and a half, is the PUBLIC LIBRARY OF DUBLIN, but founded and endowed by an eminent and generous individual, the Lord Primate NARCISSUS MARSH, who died in November, 1713. With the exception of the University of Dublin, this is the oldest literary establishment in Ireland, its incorporation having preceded the first institution of the Royal Dublin Society by twenty-four years, and that of the Royal Irish Academy by seventy-five years. The collection being especially rich in Theology, it was most appropriately placed by the founder in the immediate vicinity of the Cathedral Church, the Deanery House, and the Archiepiscopal Palace of the See of Dublin. Primate MARSH placed in it, besides his own collection, the entire library of the celebrated STILLINGFLEET, Bishop of Worcester, who died in 1693, amounting to about 10,000 volumes. There have been some additions from other sources since the library was opened: The principal addition has been that from the library of Bishop STEARNE, in 1745.

The endowment which is small, is not improveable, and is quite inadequate to the proper support of such an establishment as was intended by the founder, for "the publick good of this kingdom, for the propagation of the true Christian religion, and for the encouragement of learning." It is now less in amount than in the founder's time, when money was at least twice as valuable as it is at present. The Trustees are empowered to receive donations in lands and tenements, money, books, printed and MSS. or other property, subject to such uses, intents, and purposes as shall be expressed by the donors by deed or will, the statute of Mortmain, and all other laws and statutes (previous to the incorporation) to the contrary thereof, in anywise notwithstanding. Donations are to be made to the Governors and Trustees, under the title of "The Governors and Guardians of the Library erected by NARCISSUS, Lord Archbishop of Armagh, at or near St. Sepulchre's, Dublin;" and all gifts, grants, and legacies so given, may be either applied to the general use of the establishment, at the discretion of the Trustees, or may be appropriated by the donor's direction to some particular purpose, such as the repairs or enlargement of the buildings, which are old and extensive, the purchase of books, insurance, salaries, &c. There is no limitation imposed as to the amount that may be so given or bequeathed.

Donations are greatly desired, for the purpose of affecting the insulation of the edifice and rendering it as secure from fire as the Trinity College Library at present is; and could that object be effected, it will next be requisite to provide means for the reparation and maintainance of the fabric, which is old and extensive, as well as for the enlargement of the library, the binding of the books which require it, and other incidental expenses of the establishment.

The library now contains nearly 18,000 volumes of printed books and above 100 MSS. It includes the Holy Scriptures in all the ancient languages; all the Polyglott Bibles (except Bagster's); Fathers of the Church, both Greek and Latin; Councils, Schoolmen; Historical and Controversial Writers; among the MSS. is the original MS. of the Irish Bible. It possesses also the works of many of the older Naturalists, as Gesner, Aldrovandus, Ray, and Tournefort; but nothing in modern science. There are no periodicals of any description; no Encyclopædias; no modern versions of the Holy Scriptures; nothing of recent Philology. Additions are desirable, but there are neither funds to purchase, nor space to receive, any large number of volumes.

 The admission of readers is gratuitous, and without religious distinction; nor is there any restriction except what is necessary for the safe custody and preservation of the books.

The regulations of the reading room are similar to those of the British Museum, London, and here as well as at that institution, it is required that every person who applies for admission "should produce a recommendation satisfactory to a trustee or an officer of the house. Applications defective in this respect will not be attended to." Persons engaged in literary inquiries will receive every assistance and facility, that the principal and assistant librarian may be able to afford.

Entrance in the South Close, adjoining St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The first-named Twenty-one of the above General Committee were the Selection Committee, 1846. The Royal Irish Art Union General Committee meet at the Board-room, College-street, Dublin, the first and third Friday in every month, at Three o'clock, except the Selection Committee is at work, when it is summoned specially according as there is business to be transacted during the period.

Plan, as arranged at a meeting held in Dublin, 8th April, 1839. The Marquess of Ormonde in the Chair; and confirmed at a General Meeting, held the 15th April, 1840.

This Society is established for the encouragement of the Fine Arts in Ireland, by the purchase of the Works of Living Artists exhibited in the metropolis. A Committee, consisting of Twenty-one Members, chosen at a General Meeting of Subscribers, select and purchase, at the Exhibitions, from the Artists of Dublin, such Works of Art as are creditable to the talent and genius of the country; and at the close of the season these prizes are distributed by lot among the Subscribers. One chance of obtaining some valuable prize work of art, allowed for One Guinea. Two chances for Two Guineas, and so on in proportion for every Guinea contributed, while every Member is certain of an impression of the Annual Engraving, finished in the highest manner, and published exclusively for themselves, for every Guinea subscribed, and in strict orded of subscription. Persons subscribing Two Guineas, are allowed the option of taking a Proof before letters; and those subscribing Three Guineas, a proof on India paper, instead of plain impressions of the Annual Engraving.

GOLDEN RULES, WHICH ALL MEMBERS ARE MOST RESPECTFULLY REQUESTED TO ATTEND TO.

1. Make no delay in taking out your Voucher Tickets for the year. The difference, whether paid late or early, to an individual is nothing, but the interest on the aggregate sum is of considerable consequence to the Society.

2. Get one friend, at least, to join the Society.

3. In remitting money by post, make use of post or bank orders. If notes are sent, retain one-half till the arrival of the first has been acknowledged.

4. In writing to the Honorary Secretaries or Committee for information, always mention the number and date of the Voucher, respecting which you wish to inquire, as the books can be at once referred to, and much time and trouble will be saved.

5. Apply for and take away such Engravings as are ready. The committee cannot supply any casualities, for the Plates are always broken up after the number required are printed.

6. Frame your Engravings. In a portfolio they can only occasionally be of service to the Society or to the Arts, and when loose are easily injured and destroyed.

7. Never be impatient or in a hurry for an Engraving; notice will be sent when they are ready. It is the earnest desire, as it will be the particular care of the Committee, that no unnecessary delay shall take place; but first-rate works cannot be produced without considerable time and trouble, and some risk. Nothing could be easier than to buy up ready-made, or rather manufactured Engravings, as some Societies do, at one-quarter the expense; but this course would not forward the objects of the Society, or maintain its already well-established character in this department.

The Subscription Lists for the year 1847 are open, so that all persons desirous of sharing in the next distribution of Prizes, as well as of obtaining Impressions of the above splendid Engraving, will make no delay in forwarding their subscriptions, One Guinea per Ticket, to Stewart Blacker, Esq., Honorary Secretary, 20 Gardiner's-place, Dublin; at the Royal Bank, Foster-place, or at the Board-room, College-street, Dublin, or to any of the Honorary Collectors as above.

Particular attention to this is requested, both by Members and all wishing to become such, as it is very material that the Committee should be early acquainted with the full amount of their resources; and once the Lists are closed, it will be out of their power to admit any one to share in the advantages now held out by this Society: of these it is sufficient to say, that independent of valuable Prize Works of Art, distributed among the Members, and the national good effected, double and treble the original amount of subscription is offered for the Engravings of this Society by those who were too late, or had omitted to subscribe.

The object of this Society is to rescue from oblivion, and publish in a convenient form, for the use of its members, such ancient monuments, civil, literary, or ecclesiastical, as tend to illustrate the early history, laws, manners, local customs, and the geography or topography of Ireland; including such works as have been already printed, whenever the scarcity of the original edition, or any other cause may render a reprint desirable. Attention has been paid to the preservation of glossaries, grammars, and other works illustrative of the philology of the Irish language, including ancient translations into Irish from Latin or other languages, when the originals are known. The publications of the Society already printed, or in progress, contain specimens of the Bardic poetry, Romantic Historical Tales, and Genealogical Records of the ancient Irish; the Ecclesiastical Chartularies, Obituaries, and Martyrologies of the Anglo-Irish Monastic Houses; the celebrated inedited glossary of Cormac Mac Cullionan, king of Munster and bishop of Cashel; the history of the first attempt at a survey of Ireland by Sir William Petty; and the articles of Capitulation of the Cities and Castles of Ireland to Oliver Cromwell. A series of the Latin Annalists of Ireland has been begun, by the publication of Grace's Annals, and the Annals of Multifernan, Dowling's Annals, and Clyn's Annals; and it is intended to follow them up by such other unprinted annals as are accessible to the Society, and by new editions of the Latin Annals already in the hands of the public. A series of the native annalists whose works are extant in the Irish language, will also be commenced, as soon as the funds at the disposal of the Council will permit. A specimen has also been printed of the hitherto unpublished Acts of Parliament of the English pale; and a very rare work illustrative of the policy of the first English settlers in Ireland in the reign of Elizabeth has been reprinted.

The subscription to the Society is £1 per annum, which becomes due in advance on the 1st day of January. A payment of £10, in lieu of the annual subscription, constitutes a Life Member. In addition to this, all members must also pay an entrance fee of £3 on their election. No Member who is in arrear of his subscription is entitled to vote, or to receive the publications of the Society. The number of Members is at present limited to 500. There are still some vacancies.

Noblemen and gentlemen desirous of becoming Members of the Irish Archæological Society are requested to forward their names and addresses to the Secretary, Rev. Dr. Todd, Trinity College, Dublin. Literary societies and public libraries may procure the Societies publications, by causing their librarian or any other officer to become a Member of the Society in their name. As some copies of the early publications of the Society still remain, new Members can have complete sets, until further notice, on paying the subscriptions for the past years.

Subscriptions will be received in Dublin by Messrs. Hodges and Smith, the Society's booksellers, 104 Grafton street. In London, by Messrs. Barthes and Lowell, booksellers, Great Marlborough-street; Belfast, by Edmund Getty, esq. Victoria-place; Cork, by John Lindsay, esq. Maryville, Blackrock; Edinburgh, by Mr. Stephenson, 87 Princes-street; Glasgow, by John Smith, esq. LL.D. 70 St. Vincent-street.

Those Members who may find it inconvenient to pay their subscriptions to these gentlemen, will have the goodness to procure a Post-office order made payable to the Secretary, Rev. J. H. Todd, D.D. Trinity College, Dublin; or to the Treasurer, Joseph Huband Smith, esq. 1 Holles-street, Merrion-square.

It seeks to accomplish those objects by means of a Reading Room, well supplied with all the literary and scientific periodicals of the day ; a Lending Library, consisting of three thousand well selected volumes ; courses of Lectures, delivered periodically, to which the members are admitted gratuitously, with the privilege of introducing a lady.

Ireland.

Ireland is the second in size of the British Islands, and the second largest island in Europe. In form the kingdom resembles an oblique parallelogram, the longer diagonal lying between the Mizen Head on the south-west. and Fair Head on the North-east; and the shorter between Erris Head on the north-west, and Carnsore Point on the south-east. The south-western, western, north-western, and part of the northern coasts of the island are deeply indented by inlets penetrating between rocky and mountainous promontories, and the western is almost what is called iron bound, or rocky and precipitous. Ireland lies between 51° 25′ and 55° 22′ N. lat., and 5° 27′ and 10° 35′ W. long. Another authority assigns 51° 25′ and 55° 23′ N. lat., and 6 and 11° W. long. The Island is separated from Great Britain by St. George's Channel, the Irish sea, and the North Channel. St. George's Channel is contracted by the projecting coast of Wales, between the coasts of Dublin, Wicklow, and Wexford, expanding into the Atlantic Ocean at its southern or Wexford extremity on the Irish side. Northward from the Dublin coast is the Irish Sea, between the coasts of Louth and Lancashire, containing the Isle of Man. Still farther north is the North Channel, between the Mull of Cantyre in Scotland, and Fair Head in the county of Antrim, the distance between the Irish and Scottish coasts in that quarter being within 14 statute miles. The other distances crossing to Great Britain are between Donaghadee and Portpatrick, both on the Irish Sea, 22 miles; and between St. David's Head, in Wales, to Carnsore Point, in Wexford, 47 miles. The remainder of the coast line on the north-west, west, and south-west, is formed by the Atlantic Ocean.

Extent.—The length and breadth of Ireland are variously stated. According to one authority the greatest length, in a line nearly direct north and south, is from Bloody Foreland in Donegal to the Old Head of Kinsale, 245 miles; and the greatest breadth, from Achill Head in Mayo on the west to the entrance of Strangford Lough on the east, is 200 miles; but in an oblique direction the greatest length, from Fair Head in Antrim to the Mizen Head in Cork, is 306 miles, in a line bearing N.N.E. by S.S.W. Another authority assigns the length, from Malin Head in Donegal to Cork Harbour, at 224 miles, and from Howth Head near Dublin to Slyne Head in Galway, at 168 miles; comprising an area of 32,513 square miles, or 20,808,271 acres. So devious is the coast, however, and so deep are the indentations, effected by numerous bays, that there is not any part of Ireland quite 50 miles distant from the sea; total length of sea coast, 1,737 miles.

Coasts—The Northern, Western, and Southern coasts are indented with numerous deep and safe bays; Waterford and Cork harbours on the south, Bantry and Dingle bays on the south-west, the estuary of the Shannon and the vast bay of Galway on the west, the bay of Sligo on the north-west, and Lough Swilly and Foyle on the north, are the most considerable; the eastern side presents but few harbours suited for large vessels, yet there are many which are much frequented, Belfast, Newry, Dublin, Drogheda, and Wexford. Their total number has been estimated at 14 capable of harbouring the largest men of war; 14 for frigates; from 30 to 40 for coasting vessels, and 25 good summer roadsteds, besides numerous inlets for fishing craft.

Islands—Adjacent to the coast are 196 islands, nearly 100 of which are inhabited, exclusive of those embosomed in the different principal bays; most of these are fertile, and many very productive: the largest are Rathlin and Tory, N.; Achill, Clare, the South Arran Isles, and Valentia, W.; and Whiddy and Cape Clear, S.

Surface—The interior of Ireland is generally flat. The great limestone plain stretches across the island from Dublin to Galway, including the whole of the vast tract of peat moss known as the Bog of Allen, and having numerous branches among the intervening hills. In the counties of Clare, Limerick, Kerry, and other districts, are extensive districts of various soils. The principal mountains rise along the coast; the chief inland ranges are in Kilkenny, Wexford, Carlow, King's County, Tipperary, Tyrone, and Londonderry, and the western ranges occupy the greater area; the principal of these are, N.E, the Mourne mountains in Down county; highest, Slieve Donard, 2,796 feet above high sea level; W., the mountains surrounding Clew Bay in Mayo county; highest, Muilrea, 2,688 feet; S. W., M'Gillicuddy's Reeks in Kerry county; highest, Carran-Tual, 3,414; on the west and south sides of the lake of Killarney is also another very high range, one of which, Mangerton, rises to the height of 2,693 feet; E., the Wicklow mountains, abont 30 miles in length and 12 in breadth; highest, Lugnaquilla, 3,039 feet.

Rivers and Lakes.—No country is, perhaps, more beautifully watered than Ireland with fine rivers and lakes, or more indented by harbours, affording every accommodation to an extensive maritime commerce. The principal is the Shannon, which rising in the northern part of Connaught, almost insulates that province and the county Clare, 159 miles long, from Lough Allen to Limerick, where it expands into an estuary of 45 miles, opening into the Atlantic ocean, between Clare and Kerry; it is navigable through nearly the whole of its course. The Suir, Barrow, Nore, Blackwater, Slaney, Boyne, Foyle, Erne, Lee, Bandon, Bann, and Moy, are all navigable to a greater or lesser extent; small rivers serving chiefly for agricultural and domestic purposes, are to be met with in every district.

The number of lakes or loughs is very great, and some of them are large; many of these are in reality arms of the sea, as Lough Swilly, Lough Foyle, and others: the largest, Lough Neagh in Ulster, covers 98,255 acres. The more remarkable are, Lough Erne, Corrib, Mask, Conn, and Lein, or the Lakes of Killarney, the most celebrated for its beauties. The term lough is also given to expansions of the Shannon, and to several gulfs with narrow entrances.

Climate.—The climate is in general more temperate than the climate of other countries in the same latitude; the heat of the summer is less oppressive, and the cold of the winter less severe, and even when immoderately hot or cold weather does take place, it continues for a much shorter time. The climate seems, however, much more inclined to moisture than that of England. During the winter the south-west and south winds prevail more than in the other seasons of the year; in summer and autumn west winds are common; and in spring the east, south-east, north-east and north. The mean temperature in the north is about 48° Fahrenheit, in the middle 50°, and in the south 52°. At Dublin the thermometer ranges between 80½° and 14½°; at Kilkenny it seldom sinks in winter below the freezing point, and in summer rises above 79° in the shade; at Limerick its greatest height is 72°, in winter it is under 55°, but never below 28°. This peculiarity of climate is not prejudicial to health; the average of life is much the same as in Great Britain. The prevalent diseases are low fever and consumption.

Minerals.—The soil of Ireland is, generally speaking, a fertile loam. Limestone, in great abundance and variety, is met with in all the counties, except Antrim, Wicklow, and Londonderry. In most parts it is covered with bog of various depth, from a superficial layer to 40 feet, extending over a large portion of the level districts, under the name of the Bog of Allen. Exclusive of small mountainous and detached patches, the bog covers 4,585,752 acres, mostly reclaimable. The great limestone plain contains six coal districts, viz., the Leinster or Castlecomer district on the south-east, the Slieveardagh or Tipperary district on the south; the Munster district on the south-west, extending through parts of the counties of Cork, Kerry, Limerick, and Clare; the Lough Allen district, round the source of the Shannon, on the north-west; and the Monahan and Tyrone district on the north. A coal district of limited extent is on the north-east extremity of the county of Antrim. The coal raised in the southern districts is what is called anthracite, or blind coal, that in the counties north of Dublin is bituminous. Granite prevails in the districts near the coast, chiefly in Wicklow, the Mourne mountains, and in the N. W., from Donegal to Galway. The old red sandstone is of very general occurrence. A great variety of marbles are found, some of which are uncommonly beautiful, and capable of a very high polish; the most highly prized is that of Kilkenny, nearly equal in quality to that of Italy. Copper is found in Cork, Clare, Meath, Waterford, Dublin, and Wicklow; and lead in Wexford, Dublin, and Donegal. Iron ore is very abundant, but fuel is wanting for smelting it.

Ireland once had the name of the Island of Woods, from being covered with forests; and latterly acquired the poetical name of the Emerald Isle, from the perennial brilliancy of its verdure.

Population.—The number of its inhabitants, according to computations made at varions times, was, in

1712,	...	2,099,094	1805,	...	5,395,456
1718,	...	2,169,048	1813,	...	5,937,856

1791,	...	4,206,612	1841,	...	8,175,124.

Divisions. Ireland is divided into four great provinces, viz—Leinster, Ulster, Connaught, and Munster, which are again sub-divided into 32 counties, containing 316 baronies, or 2,422 parishes, besides the eight small exempt jurisdictions of Dublin, Cork, Kilkenny, Limerick, Waterford, Carrickfergus, Drogheda, and Galway; the first five of which are styled counties of cities, the remaining three, counties of towns.

The country is divided differently, according to its Political, Ecclesiastical, Judicial, Fiscal, and Military arrangements.

Law Courts.—Consists of the Chancellor, the Master of the Rolls; four Judges in each of the courts of Queen's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer; a Bankrupt Court, with two Judges; two Commissioners of the Insolvent Court; the Judges of the Prerogative and Admiralty courts. Their salaries per annum is—Chancery, Chancellor, £8,000; Master of the Rolls, £3,969.—Queen's Bench, Chief, £5,074; three Puisne, each £3,688.—Common Pleas, Chief, £4,613; three Puisne, each £3,688.—Exchqeuer, Chief, £4,613; three Puisne, each £3,688.—Prerogative, Judge, £3.000.—Admiralty — Judge, £500. — Appeals, Three Commissioners, £737 each.—Insolvent Debtors, Two Commissioners, £1,846 each—besides 32 Assistant Barristers for each county, at £466 10s. each, Stipendiary Magistrates, &c. &c.

With respect to the adult population, the occupations are professional, mercantile, mechanical, and agricultural,and the fisheries. According to the Census of 1841, the number of persons of 15 years of age and upwards, in the most important classes of occupations, are as follows;—Clerical, Established Church, 1.560; Roman Catholics, 2,156; Presbyterian, 249; other Dissenters, 242; not specified, 872; total, 5,279.—Legal. ARMAGH,

An inland county in the province of Ulster, bounded on the north by Lough Neagh, on the east by the county Down, on the south by the county Louth, and on the west by the counties of Monaghan and Tyrone. Greatest length north and south, 32 miles; greatest breadth east and west, 20 miles; comprising an area of 512½ square miles, or 328,076 acres, of which 265,243 are arable, 35,117 uncultivated, 8,996 in plantations, 778 in towns, and 17,942 under water. The county is divided into 8 baronies—Armagh, Fews Lower and Upper, Oneiland E. and W., Orior Lower and Upper, and Tiranny. These are subdivided into 28 parishes and parts of parishes. TENANTS' DEDUCTIONS FROM RENT ON ACCOUNT OF POOR RATE.

This Tax being imposed on the annual value of each Tenement, say 5d. on £50, £60, or whatever the valuation may amount to; the Tenant is to deduct one half the Rate, say 2½*d.* from every Pound in the year's Rent, when paying either a Half Year's, Quarter's Month's, or Week's Gale.

Suppose the annual value is £50, the Rate of 5d. will amount to £1 0*s.* 10*d.*; and in paying a Half Year's Rent of £25, the tenant must deduct fifty times 2½*d.* or he will not retain 10*s.* 5*d.* being half the tax paid. In like manner, on paying a Quarter's Rent of £12 10*s.*, he is also to deduct fifty times 2½*d.*; for if he deducted only 2½*d.* for each Pound paid, he would retain but 2*s.* 7½*d.*, 1-8th of the Tax. Again, on paying a Month's Rent of £4 3*s.* 4*d.* or, on paying a week's rent of 19*s.* 3*d.* he must still deduct 50 times 2½*d.* to get his 10*s.* 5*d.*

The Rate is imposed for a Year; it may happen that no further rate will be necessary in the Year, or it may occur that three or four rates will be necessary; still each rate is for the Year, and is either the whole amount required, or an Instalment. In any event it is levied on a Year's Value; and Landlords are to allow their Tenants one half of each Rate of 5d., 6*d.*, or whatever it may be, out of every Pound in the Year's Rent, when receiving either a Half Year's, Quarter's, Month's, or Week's Gale, otherwise the Landlords who receive Monthly or Weekly Rents, would be liable to a much smaller proportion of the Rate than those who are paid Quarterly, and still smaller than those paid half Yearly, as will be seen by the computation already made. The words of the Poor Relief Act are,—"Where the Person occupying said Property shall be liable to pay a Rent in respect of the same, he may deduct from such Rent for each Pound of the Rent which he shall be liable so to pay, one half of the sum which he shall have paid as Rate in respect of each Pound of the net annual value, whether such Rent shall be greater or less than said net annual value."—Act 1 and 2 Vic. cap. 56. sec. 74.

If the Year's Rent be greater than the annual value, the Tenant will deduct more than half the amount of the Tax. Thus a rate of 5d. on an annual Value of £50, being, as already stated, £1 0*s.* 10*d.* if the annual Rent be £80, the Tenant will deduct for the first Gale falling due, after the Rate is declared by the Guardians, eighty times 2½*d.* or 16*s.* 8*d.* On the other hand if the annual Rent be less than the Value, say £40, the deduction will be only forty times 2½*d.*, or 8*s.* 4*d.*

The Tenant and Landlord become liable to the Rate at the same moment; therefore a Rate declared in April, 1840, attaches to Rent then accruing, and not to a gale previously due. It attaches to a Gale due in May or Midsummer, or Michaelmas, but not to the Gale due in the preceding March, although still unpaid. The persons "immediately liable" to pay Tithe Rent Charge, are entitled to deduct the whole amount of each Poundage Rate, that is, the entire 5d., 6*d.* or 10*d.* as the case may be, from each Pound in the annual amount of the Rent Charge.—(Sec. 76.)

Columns D, E, and G, H are reconstructed from the Return No. 334, printed by Order of the House of Commons, in the Session of the year 1843. As the annual value of Lands and Houses, as set forth in columns G and H, are incorporated in the gross amount in that document, the value of each could not be given in the Table. We are enabled to state, upon the authority of Mr. Kingsley, that the nett annual value of the Lands subject to taxation in the county of Antrim amount to £322,000; that of the houses being £144,856. Likewise, in Tyrone county, the nett annual value of the land is £246,739, and that of the houses is £28,297. With the foregoing data the inquirers may form some notion of the relative value of houses and lands in the remaining counties.

The annual value of the Houses in the counties of Antrim and Tyrone would appear to be considerable. But the number of acres, viz.:—2,969, as set forth for the thirteen rural counties in column F, being thereby exempted from taxation, cannot materially affect the general levy, inasmuch as that amount bears a very small proportion to the 6,890,553 acres, (in column E) which are subjected to the visits of the Baronial Collectors of the Cess.

The Trinitarian Bible Society confines its membership to the professors of an orthodox faith, of which faith the doctrine of the Trinity, in conformity with the judgment of the Church of England, is taken to be the symbol—(See the Athanasian Creed.) It maintains, also, the paramount importance of imploring the Lord's blessing upon all its proceedings ; nor can it admit for a moment, that the exercise of devotion in this respect, by individuals, supersedes the duty of prayer, by the Society, in its corporate character. Subscribers of one guinea or upwards annually, or ten guineas or upwards at one time, become members.

The Committee earnestly desire to direct the attention of the Christian Public to the nature and peculiar claims of this valuable Institution, and to solicit their assistance and support.

Its object is to provide for children who had one Protestant parent, and who would be altogether destitute, were it not that a provision has been made for their spiritual and temporal wants by this Society.

All children, the unhappy offspring of mixed marriages, under the age of eight years, are considered eligible, one of their parents being dead, and the survivor incapable of affording them proper maintenance and education. Upon their admission, they are removed from scenes of misery, ignorance, and vice, and from the dangers of proselytism to which they are peculiarly exposed, and placed with Protestant Nurses of good character and comfortable circumstances, in the most healthy parts of the country, and at a convenient distance from the Church, and from some School in which they shall receive a good secular education, and, above all, enjoy the blessings of sound Scriptural Instruction.

Subscriptions and donations in aid of the Society, received at the office each day, between the hours of one and four.

The object of this Society is to provide diet, lodging, clothing, and Scriptural education for the destitute Orphans of deceased Protestants, and to apprentice them to Protestant masters or mistresses, of approved religious principles and conduct. No child is taken under the protection of the Society, either of whose parents at the time of his or her decease was a Roman Catholic, or whose surviving parent is a Roman Catholic. No child is admissible whose age exceeds nine years, or who is afflicted with any mental infirmity, or bodily complaint, likely to make it incapable of labour, or a permanent burden on the Society. The children of Subscribers, who paid their subscriptions as long as they were able to do so, have a preference among claimants. Elections of Orphans take place six times in each year, the last week in January, March, May, July, September, and November. All memorials, with their accompanying certificates, should be lodged at the office on or before the second Friday in each of those months. There are now 340 Orphans maintained, clothed, and educated by this Society, besides 207 who have been apprenticed.

Subscriptions will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the Bankers, the Secretaries, or at the Society's Office between the hours of 11 and 4.

PAROCHIAL VISITORS' SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDIOCESE OF DUBLIN.

This Society has been formed under the presidency of His Grace the Archbishop of Dublin, and in strict conformity to the existing frame-work of the Church, for the purpose of enabling the clergy in and near Dublin to have, in their respective parishes, the assistance of fit persons to act under their direction in matters which the spirit and constitution of the Established Church allow its clergy to depute to such Agents. That the clerical department of the Established Church, especially in the populous parishes in about Dublin, is unequal to the quantity of work which it is required to perform, is a fact so notorious that none can doubt the want of such a Society. Nineteen Visitors are at present employed by the Society, who, with one exception, are Divinity Students, preparing for Ordination. It is to be observed, that these visitors are by no means to be considered as instructors or preachers, or as infringing, in any way, on those duties which peculiarly belong to the Clergy. Their duty simply is, to visit the poor—to see that they are provided with Bibles and Prayer Books, that they attend the Parish Church, and that the children attend the Weekly and Sunday Schools. They report to the Clergyman any special cases, such as sickness, which may require his attendance; they bear messages and exhortations from him to some, and temporal relief to others. And, should they neglect this duty or go beyond it, the Parochial Minister has the power of dismissing them.

Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received by Henry Gilpin, esq. Molesworth-street, Treasurer; the Rev. L. G. MacDonnell, Secretary; or by any of the following members of the Committee;

THE DORSET INSTITUTION,

54 Upper Sackville-street,

Founded in 1815, by the late Viscountess Lorton.

The object, it is now well known, includes not only the affording work to industrious females, but the giving a useful education to their children, and following up the school instruction with maternal care when they are set forth into the world to earn their own subsistence. The number of poor women at present in employment in the Institution is 112; of children in the girls' school, 100; of children in the infant school, 67; of children in the deaf and dumb day school, (under distinct superintendence,) 15. The poverty of the children being found extreme, so that many even of the very youngest were sent to school without having tasted food, the charity of a few individuals affords breakfast and dinner to 100 of the most destitute. This is procured for the moderate subscription of 9d. per week for dinner, and 7d. per week for breakfast, for each child, and it is earnestly urged on the benevolent to supply this pittance, otherwise the support may be necessarily withdrawn from several of the poor children, their being no fund of supply, except that arising from individual care of individual children. The Governors have to press upon the public the necessity for yearly subscriptions, to enable the Institution to be carried on.

The object of this Institution, which was opened in January, 1839, is to prevent the evil which the various Asylums in this city have been opened to remedy, by affording a shelter to young and unprotected females of good character. Since its opening upwards of 800 inmates have been received into the house, of which number about 760 have been provided with comfortable situations, for which they were qualified in the Institution, by being taught washing, mangling, needle work, &c. The house would accommodate 40, but the Committee have found that the maintenance of 28, their usual number, has involved them in an expense very disproportionate to their funds, which entirely depend on voluntary donations and subscriptions. Subscriptions will be received by the members of the Committee, at the Bank of Messrs. La Touche and Co. the Provincial Bank of Ireland, the Royal Bank, Foster place, and by Miss Goldsmith, matron, at the Institution.

The Committee meet every Wednesday, at 12 o'clock, to examine candidates for admission, and a lecture is held once a week for the inmates.

ST. JOSEPH'S ASYLUM FOR AGED AND VIRTUOUS SINGLE FEMALES, 7, PORTLAND-ROW, SUMMER-HILL,

St. Joseph's Asylum has been established for the relief of this most deserving but hitherto neglected class of persons. It is confidently hoped, that all who are desirous to hold out a premium to virtue, as well as a relief to the most deserving of the bashful poor, will assist in supporting an Institution where food, clothing, and every other necessary are provided, and where none are admitted but those who have been most conspicuous for the practice of virtue, and can produce the strongest testimonials of an industrious and exemplary character. Look round your acquaintance—who is the one universally useful, the one applied to in every time of difficulty and trial?—the SINGLE sister of the family.

The smallest donation will be thankfully received by the Rev. P. Cooper, Guardian, 79 Marlborough-st.

This Institution was first founded in the year 1832, to afford shelter and protection to virtuous single females who, destitute of friends, and no longer able to work, have no means of support except what is supplied by the charity of a humane public. To afford immediate and permanent relief to these creatures hitherto so much neglected, a managing committee was formed on the 18th November, 1839, composed of clergymen and laymen, who meet on every Monday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the Chapel-house of Bridge-street, to forward the interests of this institution.

Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received by His Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Murray, and the Very Rev. Dean Meyler, V.G. and by the following members of the managing committee;—

CLARENDON-STREET, (LATE CLARKE'S-COURT,) FOUNDED 1793.

This Institution was established by the late Simeon Ferrall, esq., a gentleman whose untiring zeal in the cause of benevolence and humanity, rendered him an object of universal regard and esteem.

It contains twenty-five aged widows, who are selected (without parochial distinction) from the most destitute of the many that are constantly seeking admission; but none are admissible unless those who were originally housekeepers of the City of Dublin. Its revenue is derived from the benevolence of the public, through an annual sermon, a public ball, voluntary contributions, &c.

There are at present forty-five inmates, who are constantly employed in washing and needle-work. Many of those who have been admitted into this Asylum, have been provided with situations as servants, &c. and satisfactory accounts of the good conduct of most of them have been received from time to time. There is still a very heavy debt upon the Institution, which prevents the Trustees from extending the benefits of the Asylum to many who are seeking for admission.

INSTITUTION OF MERCY, BAGGOT-STREET,

FOUNDED 24TH SEPTEMBER, 1827,

In this Institution from Fifty-five to Sixty young women are protected, maintained, and instructed, till placed in suitable situations; very many respectable persons are always amongst the number. Those who cannot be lodged in the house, are assisted as much as means will admit, until employment is obtained for them. Six hundred servants engaged from the establishment within the last year, prove its utility, especially to the inhabitants of Dublin.

In the Poor School from three hundred and sixty to four hundred children receive a religious and useful education, while the most destitute are assisted with clothing.

There are, however, other claimants on the Institute, whose wants the Sisters of Mercy find it very difficult to supply—the sick poor, who are visited in the damp cellars and unwholesome lanes of the city; none but an eye witness could have the most distant conception of the wretchedness that seeks refuge there.

Branches of this Institute are spreading through Ireland; and similar establishments in different parts of England. A Public Laundry attached to the House of Mercy will be found a great convenience to persons stopping at hotels in the neighbourhood. From the construction of the drying-rooms, clothes can be quickly got up and well aired, under the direction of a perfect laundress.

ST. MARY'S ASYLUM, DRUMCONDRA-ROAD.

Under the Patronage of the Most Rev. Doctor Murray, Very Rev. Dean Meyler, v.g. and Very Rev. Doctor Yore, v.g.

Guardian, Rev. John Smith, Exchange street.

This meritorious Institution, which at present entirely provides for more than forty poor Penitent Females, was founded in 1833, on principles of strict discipline. From its commencement more than 150 of the most miserable of human beings (unfortunate fallen females) have been rescued from sin, scandal, and degradation, and placed in this retreat of repentance, retirement and peace. Some, after giving proof of their sincere conversion, have again, like the prodigal child, returned to their father's house; others, dreading their own weakness, and the many dangers of a world that once flattered and then deceived them, have resolved never to leave this, their happy abode. Here, then, the charitable and humane Christian can directly co-operate with our Divine Redeemer, by their contributions, who came not to call the just, but sinners, to repentance.

Donations thankfully received by the Most Rev. Dr. Murray (patron), the Very Rev. Dean Meyler, v.g. the Very Rev. Dr. Yore, v.g. the Roman Catholic Clergymen of the City, by the Sisters of Mercy, Baggot street Convent (under whose special care the Penitents are instructed at the Asylum), and the Rev. John Smith (guardian), Exchange street.

N.B.—This Institution has a depository, 23 Essex quay and Lower Exchange street, which is supplied with foreign, theological, and moral works, crucifixes, altar charts, missals, breviaries, diurnals, beads, medals, prints, paintings, &c. which are sold at a small profit for the benefit of the poor Penitents.

THE GENERAL MAGDALEN ASYLUM, DONNYBROOK,

FOUNDED IN 1798,

For Female Penitents of every Religious Persuasion. Removed from Townsend street.

The Governesses of this Institution beg to inform those friends who have for many years contributed to its support, and the public in general, that the establishment, under the immediate care of the Sisters of Charity, has been removed to Donnybrook, on the premises lately occupied by the Castle School, where the different branches of washing, making up family and fine linen, mangling, glazing, and needle work, will be carried on with the strictest attention and punctuality, from whence a confidential person will be sent to receive directions for any work to be done. A line by post, addressed "To the Superintendent, St. Mary Magdalen's Asylum, Donnybrook," will be promptly attended to.

Benefactions will be thankfully received by the Most Rev. Doctor Murray, J. C. Bacon, esq. P. Boylan, esq. by the Treasurer, A. O'Brien, esq. 5 Mountjoy-square, East, and by the Governesses, Mrs. Corballis, Mrs. Codd, Mrs. Boylan, Mrs. Devereux, and Mrs. O'Brien.

THE DUBLIN FEMALE PENITENTIARY,

CIRCULAR ROAD, NORTH.

This Institution is under the direction of a Committee of Ladies, whose exertions are directed to the religious and moral improvement of the women, and the advancement of habits of order and industry. Washing, bleaching, mangling, and needle-work in all its branches, are executed with care and despatch. A repository has been opened at the house for the sale of fancy and ornamental works, baby-linen, &c. in aid of the funds of the establishment. A subscription of twenty guineas constitutes a member for life; one guinea, a member for one year. A chapel connected with the Established Church is attached to the Institution, in which there is ample and commodious accommodation for the public.

Treasurer, P. Æ. Singer, esq. 1 Temple street, by whom donations are received, and also by the members of the Committee.

Chaplain, Rev. William Burgh, Kingstown
Assistant Chaplain, Rev. D. Flynn, Harcourt st.
Physician, R. S. Sargent, M.D. 3 Up. Gardiner st.
Surgeon, Richard Carmichael, esq. 24 Rutland sq.
Apothecary, John Murphy, esq. 75 Dorset street
Matron, Mrs. Wallace
Collector, Mr. W. G. Hulbert.

PENITENT ASYLUM, BROWN-STREET.

This Asylum was opened in the year 1830. Since then nearly 300 poor females have found a shelter within its walls, and many have been provided with comfortable situations. The average number in the house is 20. Although industrious habits are strictly enforced, the religious instruction of the inmates forms the chief object of the Managers, therefore Friday evening and Sunday are appointed specially for this purpose, when a lecture is delivered to them, beside the portion of each day which is allotted to the reading of the word of God. The affairs are conducted by the following Committee of Managers, who meet at the Asylum every Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock:—

Rev. T. Kingston, Treasurer
Mr. W. J. Stokes, Secretary
Mrs. Atkinson
Mrs. Bluett
Mrs. Sillery

Matron, Mrs. Edgeworth.

Washing and needle-work executed on the most moderate terms. Donations and subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Committee.

THE OLIVE MOUNT INSTITUTION OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN.

FOUNDED A.D. 1842, BY THE REV. B. KIRBY,

Under the patronage and support of the people of Ireland.

"A certain Samaritan being on his journey came near him; and seeing him, was moved with compassion."—ST. LUKE, c. 10.

This Institution was opened (without any religious distinction) to save from vice and degradation the chaste, but unprotected female, and to raise from a low estate the fallen and penitent children of the poor—the victims of brutal treachery and cruel abandonment. Those form two classes, hitherto neglected amidst domestic ruin on one side, and public apathy on the other. There are at present in the Institution 135 inmates, who are employed in washing, mangling, needle work, &c. The Institution is conducted under the superintendence of the Rev. B. KIRBY.

The Rev. B. KIRBY returns his sincere thanks to the people of Ireland, who so nobly and generously came forward in support of this work of benevolence, and to the ladies and gentlemen who so zealously have devoted their time and labour in collecting subscriptions. He feels confident that the public, who have placed the Institution on its present extensive basis, will enable him to carry out the original intention of extending the number of inmates to six hundred.

Donations and subscriptions will be thankfully received by the Rev. B. Kirby, at the Central Office, 15 Arran-quay, Dublin, or at the Institution. Washing, mangling, and every description of needle-work executed on the most moderate terms.

N.B.—The spiritual wants of the Protestant and the Roman Catholic are attended to with the greatest care and consideration.

SHELTER FOR FEMALES DISCHARGED FROM PRISON,

CIRCULAR ROAD, HARCOURT-STREET, FOUNDED IN 1821.

The Ladies' Association for bettering the condition of female prisoners in the city and county of Dublin, have opened the above Asylum for such wretched females as, on their removal from prison, have evinced a total change of mind, by earnestly imploring any shelter from their formerly depraved state, and willingly submit to hard fare, strict discipline, and continued labour, until such time as the superintendents may feel justified in recommending them to suitable situations. Forty females are at present in the house. Washing, mangling, and plain work taken in, and carefully executed. In the house at the end of last year, 30. 34 Women have been received from the different prisons within the year, 33 in the house at present, 4 gone to service, 2 returned to their friends, and 15 discharged at their own request.

This Institution was established in the year 1832, for the purpose of affording additional Hospital relief to the sick poor of the metropolis, and is supported by voluntary contributions. All patients residing in the city, or its vicinity, are admissible on the recommendation of a subscriber, and the order of a medical attendant, unless affected with contagious fever. Severe accidents are received at all hours without recommendation.

An extensive Dispensary forms part of the Institution, at which extern patients daily receive advice and medicine. The attendance on them commences at nine o'clock, and continues until all are prescribed for; patients seeking admission into Hospital are required to present themselves at the same hour. In the beginning of the year 1839, the Adelaide Institution was opened for Protestant patients, and short as has been the period of its operation, the results are such as to encourage the Committee to go forward in this work of faith, and of love. Some of us have undertaken to attend regularly as Clergymen, to read and pray with the sick inmates, and already this ministry has afforded much comfort and promise. All regular Subscribers of One penny per week or upwards, being Protestants, shall be entitled to admission for themselves or families in case of sickness, or be attended by a medical person at their own homes. Annual Subscribers of not less than One Pound can recommend persons (Protestants) who are not weekly subscribers.

The foundation of this Hospital in February, 1826, was owing to the necessity felt by some of the medical practitioners residing in the Liberty, for such an Institution in that part of the City.

This Institution, which is one of the oldest in the City of Dublin, was established in the year 1745, in Nicholas-street, under the name of "The United Hospital of St. Nicholas and St. Catherine," by means of a Lottery Fund, and also a Kinnegad Road Debenture, bequeathed to it by Dr. John Smith in the year 1759; together producing a small yearly income. In 1753 it was removed to Francis-street. On the establishment of the Meath Hospital and County of Dublin Infirmary, this Institution, which had flourished for many years under the superintendence of our distinguished countryman, Surgeon Dease, was not deemed to be further necessary in its original locality, and was therefore, in 1808, removed to Mark's Parish, where it was re-established, in connexion with an Alms' House, during several years of scarcity, and is now situated in Mark-street, adjoining the Widows' House of that parish. For many years past, this Hospital has been in a decaying condition, and was closed for several years prior to January, 1843, when its original fund, which is now under the control of the Commissioners of Charitable Bequests, was again allocated to the purposes for which it was originally intended; the Institution was re-opened, and all debts which had been incurred through the mismanagement of its former Treasurers were liquidated. At the end of February, 1844, it was opened as an Ophthalmic Hospital and Dispensary for Diseases of the Eye and Ear, put into thorough repair, and supplied with so much additional furniture and other necessaries as the immediate wants of the Institution required, or its available funds could supply.

The Dispensary is opened on the mornings of Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from Nine till Eleven o'clock. The Hospital contains two lofty well-ventilated wards, and is provided with 14 beds, (seven for males, and seven for females) besides a large Waiting-room, a Surgery, Kitchen, and Nurses apartments, &c. The indoor patients are visited twice a day; and the attending Surgeon, Mr. Wilde, delivers a course of Clinical Instruction in the Hospital during the Winter Session. Each patient attending this Institution, with the exception of a few paupers, pays 6d. per month for medicine and attendance at the Dispensary, and those who are admitted into Hospital pay One Shilling per week, which, while it induces a spirit of independence among the lower classes of society, assists in defraying a portion of the expenses of the establishment. The Hospital is at all times open for the inspection of those who may take an interest in its welfare. Donations and Subscriptions will be thankfully received at the Banks of Messrs. La Touche and Co. and Messrs. Boyle, Low, Pim, and Co.; by the Secretary, Wm. Longfield, esq. 19 Harcourt-street; or by the Medical Attendant, W. R. Wilde, esq. 15 Westland-row.

THE HOUSE OF INDUSTRY,

NORTH BRUNSWICK-STREET.

The House of Industry was established by Act of Parliament, and opened on the 8th November, 1773. It now comprises 97 cells for violent and incurable Lunatics, and for Idiots and Epileptic Patients—four general Hospitals detached from each other, viz.: two for fever, one for chronic-medical, and one for surgical patients—a dispensary for the relief of the sick poor of the north-west district of Dublin—an asylum at Island Bridge, county Dublin, for the accommodation of harmless, incurable lunatics, and an establishment for the relief of the ruptured poor of Ireland.

The two Fever Hospitals—The Whitworth Chronic Hospital, and the Richmond Surgical Hospital—are attended daily by the physicians and surgeons, who examine and admit applicants, as vacancies occur.

The Talbot Dispensary, attached to the House of Industry, was opened on the 24th April, 1820. From its establishment, to the 30th of September, 1846, 489,176 new cases have been relieved with advice, medicine, flannel, &c. Of this number, 4,224 were in the last year. Patients unable to attend at the Dispensary, are visited at their homes, and prescribed for by the medical inspectors.

Ruptured Poor, requiring surgical aid, should attend on the 1st Monday of each month, at the Richmond Surgical Hospital, where the surgeons examine applicants, and apply and issue trusses gratuitously, on proper certificates being issued—printed forms of which are to be obtained at the Hospital. During the last year, 944 paupers have been gratuitously supplied with trusses.

FOUNDED 1790.

Office, 70 Dame street; Office hours from 12 till 4 o'clock.

This Institution, since its commencement, has relieved the immense number of 1,179,448 Sick and Distressed Roomkeepers, of whom 29,372 individuals received aid during twelve months, ending the 6th November, 1846. The resources of the Society are derived from voluntary donations, subscriptions, bequests, and two charity sermons, one in a Protestant Church, on the last Sunday in April, the other in a Roman Catholic, on the first Sunday in November, of each year. A general meeting of the Society takes place at the Royal Exchange, on the first Friday of every month, at eight o'clock in the evening. The mode in which applicants come before the Society is by petition, signed by a subscriber of at least 8s. per annum; all clergymen and medical gentlemen have likewise the privilege of recommending objects; every petition requires at least one week for inspection, except cases of sickness, which are immediately attended to, and to suit the convenience of applicants, the city has been divided into four districts, the committees of which meet weekly at 70 Dame street—namely, the Barrack division on Monday evening, the Workhouse division on Tuesday evening, the Stephen's green division on Wednesday evening, and the Rotundo division on Thursday evening, at eight o'clock, for the purpose of receiving petitions and deciding on the merits of those previously inspected. At those or any other meetings of the Institution, no conversation of a political tendency is ever permitted or tolerated, and should any inspector interfere with, or notice the religious belief of any applicant he visits, and shall, in consequence, either reject a petition, or withhold a just measure of relief, he is by the fact excluded from the Society, and rendered incapable ever after becoming a member thereof.

Donations are most earnestly entreated, and will be received and acknowledged by the following:

PROTESTANT REGISTRATION SOCIETY FOR IRELAND.

23 UPPER SACKVILLE-STREET, DUBLIN.

Founded 18th March, 1844.

The Committee entreat the special co-operation and assistance of the Clergy of the Established Church, and of the Laity, as the Institution is intended for the interests of Protestants of all classes, and for the mutual benefit of the employer and employed.

The Committee have great gratification in being enabled to announce, that although the Institution is only in its infancy, it has steadily advanced, and has been the means of providing, during the past two years, situations and employment for 1,366 individuals.

PRIESTS' PROTECTION SOCIETY FOR IRELAND,

Founded 5th May, 1844.

Office, 23 Upper Sackville-street, Dublin.

"In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."—Isaiah xxx. 15.

Patron—THE EARL OF RODEN.

The object of this Society is to protect Priests of good character, who abandon the Church of Rome, for the pure faith of the Gospel, and to find employment for them, when thoroughly grounded in its saving truths, both as Parochial Ministers, and as Missionaries in the most benighted parts of the country, subject, of course, to the rule and judgment of the Bishops of the Church.

A secondary object is to afford protection and education to a class of young men, originally intended for the priesthood in the Romish Church, but who, in consequence of the influence of Divine truth, as exhibited in the Holy Scriptures, may have relinquished the design of prosecuting their studies for that profession. To aid young men entertaining those views, to relieve them from the heavy pressure of a troubled conscience—to protect, educate, and qualify them for the ministry of the Gospel, for the office of Scripture Readers, or for any other employment, to exercise which the Committee may consider them qualified, is one of the objects of this Society, which your Committee feels, must call forth the deepest sympathy and the warmest support of all who are interested in the spiritual welfare of Ireland.

As this undertaking requires much care and considerable expenditure, the Committee entreat the co-operation and the prayers of the Lord's people, and of all who are desirous to promote the best interests of Ireland.

Assistant Secretary, George Powell.

Subscriptions and Donations are anxiously solicited in aid of this Society, and will be thankfully received by the Secretaries, at the office of the Protestant Registration Society for Ireland, 23 Upper Sackville street, Dublin, or at the Royal Bank, Foster-place.

PROTESTANT TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY,

Founded on Christian principles, May, A.D. 1839.

Vice-Presidents,

Rev. W. W. Berry, B.A.	Robert R. Guinness, esq.	John Coulter, esq. M.D.
Rev. William Drake, B.A.	H. Wakeham, esq. B.A. S.T.C.D.

Superintendent, Michael Groome, esq.
Auditors, Chas. Banks, esq. Michael Groome, esq.
Treasurer, The Meath-street Savings' Bank
Registrar, Mr. George Donaldson
Registrar of Juvenile Branch, Master Isaac Domacan
Librarian, Mr. Francis Taylor
Honorary Secretary and Sub-Treasurer, Mr. Thos. Henry Killingley
Assistant Registrar and Secretary, Mr. Charles Carnegie
Collector, Mr. William S. Frewin.

Since the formation of this Society in May, 1839, it has been instrumental, under God, of effecting much good, particularly amongst the Protestant poor. The number of bonâ fide members enrolled is upwards of one thousand, many of whom were the victims of intemperance and its consequent evils.

A division has been specially formed for juvenile members, that adult members may have their children enrolled, as the sooner sober habits are formed the more lasting and beneficial are they likely to become. A library is also established for the benefit of the members, and a loan fund—which has proved of great advantage to them—is now in full working order—the funds to carry on same being raised by weekly subscription from the members themselves.

Country Branch Societies have been formed in connection with this Society in Portobello, Arklow, Kilmeague, and Parsonstown, and pressing calls are made to send deputations to other parts of the country to form other branches, which the Committee are unable to send from want of funds for the purpose of defraying the necessary expences attending same.

The public meetings of the society is held every Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock, in the Merchants' Hall, Wellington quay, where the Librarian attends to receive and give out books to the members.

The Committee of the Loan Fund meets every Wednesday evening, at half-past eight o'clock, in the same Hall, to enrol members, grant loans, and transact other business.

Contributions of money (or books for the library) will be thankfully received and acknowledged by any Member of the Committee, or by the Honorary Secretary, Mr. Thomas Henry Killingley, Raleigh place, Dolphin's barn, or at the Merchants' Hall, Wellington quay.

☞ The Seventh Annual Report is now printed, and copies of it will be supplied, gratis, on application to the Honorary Secretary.

The COMMONWEALTH, under Cromwell and his Son, lasted from Jan. 30th, 1649, to May 29th, 1660; or 11 years 3 months 29 days.

The authority for the above is Sir Harris Nicholas's "Chronology of History." The three longest reigns were those of Henry III. Edward III. and George III. Richard I.'s body was buried at Fontevrault, his head at Rouen, and his heart at Charron, agreeably to his own directions. John was crowned four times, viz. on May 27th, 1199; on Oct. 8th, 1200; on March 25th, 1201, and on April 14th, 1202. Edward III. was King of France from January, 1340, to May, 1360. Some legal documents between July 5th and 17th, 1553, refer to Jane (Grey) as Queen. It was not until the reign of Elizabeth, that the principle so universally assumed, that "the King never dies," was admitted.

PRIVILEGES OF THE PEERAGE.

Peers are free from all arrest for debt, and cannot be outlawed in any civil action, nor can any attachment lie against their person. They are exempt from attending courts-leet or Sheriff's turns; or, in case of riot, the posse-comitatus. When arraigned for any criminal offence, it must be before their peers, who return a verdict, not upon oath, but upon honour. Peers are tried in courts erected specifically for the purpose, in the centre of Westminister Hall, at the expense of the crown, which courts are pulled down as soon as the investigation terminates. By the law denominated scandalum magnatum, any man convicted of spreading a scandalous report regarding a peer of the realm, no matter whether true or false, is subject to an arbitrary fine, and to remain in prison until the same be discharged. Peers have the privilege of sitting covered in courts of justice during their proceedings. Peers of parliament had, until recently, the privilege of franking letters; but it was as members of parliament, not as peers. Peers have the privilege of voting in parliament by proxy. The Barons of Kingsale enjoy, exclusively, the hereditary privilege of being covered in the royal presence. Peers have the privilege in parliament of wearing parliamentary robes of scarlet cloth, differenced from each other by bars of ermine, Dukes having four, Marquesses four on the right side, and three on the left, Earls three, and Viscounts and Barons two rows of plain white fur only. By the curialitas regni, the eldest sons of each degree of created dignity is as of the degree next to his father; and such eldest sons of Peers as enjoy a plurality of titles take and use the secondary one by courtesy. All Peers carry supporters to their arms, as incidental to their hereditary dignity, and otherwise adorn them exteriorly with their respective coronets and mantles.
