LIVERPOOL ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.

STRANGERS and Visitors in Liverpool, and the Inhabitants generally, are respectfully informed, that these Gardens are now open daily, from Seven in the Morning till Dusk.

This Establishment is the first of the kind formed in this Kingdom, except the London Gardens, and combines unprecedented attractions for the Naturalist, the Botanist, and the general Visitor, and is situated within half-an-hour's walk of the Exchange. It extends over about ten acres of ground, tastefully laid out in walks, lawns, and shrubberies, and planted with forest trees, shrubs, and flowers of all descriptions.

Interspersed through the grounds are the

GRAND MENAGERIE,

containing the larger Carnivorous Animals, including LIONS, LION-TIGERS, TIGERS, PANTHERS, LEOPARDS, PUMAS, WOLVES, HYÆNAS, SLOTHS, &c. &c.; a large Stable and Paddock, occupied by

THE RHINOCEROS;

Three ELEPHANTS, one Male and two Females;

An Elegant AVIARY,

With a Choice Collection of Small BIRDS;

An AERIE, for EAGLES, CONDORS, VULTURES, and other Birds of prey; an Extensive

BEAR-PIT,

Occupied by several Specimens of the Ursine Tribe;

A PHEASANTRY;

MONKEY-HOUSE, HUTS, ROCKERIES, and LAWNS for GOATS; specimens of Foreign SHEEP and DEER; Stables and Enclosures for ZEBRAS, the TAPIE, KANGAROO, OSTRICH, the BRAHMIN BULL, the GNU, &c. &c.; together with

PONDS for PELICANS, SWANS,

And other AQUATIC BIRDS.

Mr. ATKINS, the Proprietor, is continually adding to his stock of WILD BEASTS, BIRDS, &c. &c. and he heretofore has spared neither pains nor expense to merit a continuance of that patronage, which has been bestowed on the Liverpool Zoological Gardens, by a liberal and discerning public.

A full MILITARY BAND performs at the Gardens three times a week, during the season.

EDWARD S. TUTON

In soliciting the attention of his widely-extended connexion and the public to his present comprehensive and valuable STOCK comprising every fashionable and novel description of GOODS calculated for the present season, the greater part of which he has selected personally from the extensive stocks of the most eminent houses in the metropolis, the whole being purchased upon the best of terms, namely, for cash; and being determined, as heretofore, to charge the SMALLEST POSSIBLE REMUNERATING PROFIT, E. S. T. with no small degree of confidence, submits a compendium thereof to their inspection and consideration, being fully satisfied that discriminating purchasers, whether wholesale or retail, families or individuals, will be immediately convinced that the above Establishments are decidedly the most eligible, comprehensive, and complete.

E. S. TUTON pledges himself to the superior manufacture and quality of the goods enumerated in the Silk and Drapery department, and still more particularly with regard to those in the Tailoring and Outfitting department, every article being made up in the most RESPECTABLE MANNER, and all descriptions of imperfect goods carefully excluded.

SILVER and CO. contract at the maximum price above, that the quality and fashion of their Clothing shall be the counterpart of that which is supplied by the West-end London Tailors. To effect this, they have engaged a Foreman, who, for several years past, has been managing a first-rate West-end London business. They will receive and adopt the best Fashions, with a succession of new Articles within twenty hours from the time of their appearing in London, and they will render only the most approved makes of Woollen Cloths and Cassimeres, having from their great Consumption in London, a more than common intimacy with, and influence in, the Cloth Market.

Fancy and Plain Shirts, ready-made or made to order, Handkerchiefs, Stocks, Hosiery, Gloves, &c. &c.

Persons proceeding to Foreign Parts furnished with every requisite for the voyage, and the outfit so arranged as to form a supply on arrival.

THIS Society has for its basis, ECONOMY COMBINED WITH SECURITY—the terms of Assurances for young and middle aged Lives, being much lower than those of any other Office which gives a bonus to the Assured; and a full statement of its affairs is annually made to the Shareholders and Policy-holders, who have a control over the Society.

Three-fourths of the profits are now divided among those Assured on an equable scale, for the whole term of life after the Policies shall have been in force four years; and eventually the whole of the profits will be so divided.

A bonus was declared up to the end of 1833, which gave to Policy-holders, on an average, £16 per Cent. upon the amount of premiums paid. Persons assuring during the year 1834 will be entitled to share in the profits to be divided up to the end of 1838.

Endowments for children are granted, and Assurances on Joint Lives, Survivorships, Survivorship Annuities, as well as every species of Life contingency, at rates proportional to the nature of the risks, which are as low as possible compatible with security to the Assured.

Assurances are also effected, either by paying small premiums at first, and increasing them every five years, or by paying a high Premium at first, subject to periodical abatements, and, ultimately, the payments to cease altogether. In fine, persons may be assured in any way which may be best adapted to their circumstances or wishes.

Medical Referees are appointed in most cities and large towns, and Agents in many, from whom information may be obtained and Prospectuses had.

MINERAL SUCCEDANEUM,

FOR FILLING DECAYED TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, HEAT, OR PRESSURE, AND

INCORRODIBLE MINERAL TEETH,

Placed without Wires, Springs, or any other Ligatures.

MONS. MALLAN and SONS, No. 46, BOLD-STREET, LIVERPOOL, and 36, MOSLEY-STREET, MANCHESTER, SURGEON DENTISTS, (at 32, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, and 9, Half Moon-street, Piccadilly, London,) ardently thank their Friends and the Public for the distinguished support which they continue to receive, and beg respectfully to announce that they may be consulted daily at the above Establishments.

Mons. MALLAN and SONS continue to RESTORE DECAYED TEETH, however large or small the cavity, with their celebrated MINERAL SUCCEDANEUM, so universally recommended by the Faculty of England, France, and other Continental Cities. The operation of stopping Decayed Teeth is performed in a few seconds; the Mineral is put into the cavity in an almost liquid state, without pain, heat, or pressure, hardens into enamel, allays the most excruciating pain, making a stump into a whole Tooth and last for many years, preventing the necessity of extraction. Messrs. M. during their course of study, have adopted a mode of FASTENING LOOSE TEETH, particularly of aged persons, whether arising from neglect, or the use of calomel, or disease of the Gums.

INCORRODIBLE MINERAL TEETH placed, from one to a complete set, which are incapable of discolouration or corrosion, fixed without wires or ligatures, rendering it impossible to distinguish the Artificial Teeth from the Natural ones, and warranted to answer every purpose of mastication and articulation, and will be found in every respect, amply competent to supply the place of their predecessors.—NATURAL TEETH fixed on the above improved principle.

The Faculty are constantly welcome to witness the application of the Mineral Succedaneum, which they so universally recommend.

The instances of the perfection of this NEW PRINCIPLE, as regards mastication, and the articulation of words, are so numerous in the British Metropolis, that Messrs. M. rely more on the good report of their patients than upon any thing which they themselves could publicly advance to recommend it; they cannot, however, refrain from stating, that the eminent advantages of their system of constructing and fixing artificial PALATES and TEETH, are in no case so evident as in giving the patient the power of clear and distinct pronunciation, more particularly in the sound of the Dento-lingual Double Consonant TH, whilst the nasal and palatal sounds are rendered perfect and uninterrupted. Messrs. M. submit that these are advantages of the utmost consequence to Public Speakers, as well as to private individuals, labouring under natural or accidental defects of enunciation; but, when to them are added the appearance of JUVENILITY, which their Artificial Teeth give to the countenance of aged persons,—and that they are guaranteed to ble the hardest substances, without pain or injury—they feel themselves justified in claiming that palm of superiority in DENTAL SURGERY, which has been so unanimously awarded to them by the Inhabitants of PARIS and other Continental cities.

Messrs. M. recommend to Parents and others, having the care of Children, to be particular in having their Teeth examined previous to their second growth, as various diseases of the mouth have arisen from that neglect.—Charges as in Paris.

WOOLFELD'S BAZAAR,

71 AND 72, CHURCH-STREET, LIVERPOOL,
ADJOINING THE POST-OFFICE,

EMPORIUM FOR

SUPERIOR LONDON JEWELLERY,

SUPERB BRONZES, CLOCKS, LAMPS, CHANDELIERS,
CHIMNEY ORNAMENTS,

AND ALL THE VARIOUS

FANCY MANUFACTURES OF ENGLAND, FRANCE, GERMANY, &c.

MANUFACTORY FOR WORK-BOXES, WRITING-DESKS

AND DRESSING-CASES.

VISITORS and Strangers in Liverpool, and the Public in general are respectfully invited to visit this Unique Establishment, whether as Purchasers or Parties in search of amusement, the whole of the STOCK (certainly one of the largest and most varied in England) being conveniently arranged for inspection, and the price marked on each Article, from which no deductions are made nor credit given,—this system enabling the Proprietor to offer his Goods lower than any other.

The JEWELLERY is of the best London Manufacture, and has given general satisfaction: in consequence, T. WOOLFELD finds a continually increasing demand, and he is therefore enabled daily to replenish his Stock with the choicest and most fashionable Articles, and to keep a most extensive Assortment, the moderate price of which cannot fail to secure to the Jewellery department of the Bazaar a continuance of the favoured and increasing patronage of the Public.

The WRITING-DESKS, DRESSING-CASES, WORK-BOXES, and JEWEL-BOXES are all made on the Premises, and the regular finished Stock of these Articles is certainly much more extensive and varied than in any other House in the Kingdom. In the planning of both Ladies' and Gentlemen's Dressing-Cases the utmost pains are taken to make them as convenient and complete as possible for Travelling. Purchasers have likewise the option of taking or rejecting any part of the Fittings or Instruments as may suit them, or can have Cases made to accommodate their own Articles.

A large Assortment of GENTLEMEN'S DRESSING-CASES and POUCHES, in Russia or Morocco Leather; also, Small MILITARY DRESSING-CASES, containing all that is needful, and weighing only six ounces each.

NE PLUS ULTRA WRITING-DESKS, for Travelling, complete with Patent Inkstands, &c. in great variety, from 12s 6d to £4 each.

PAPER CASES, FOLIOS, TRAVELLING BAGS, &c.

In the Repairing and Refitting of DESKS, DRESSING-CASES, &c. T. WOOLFELD's Workmen have great experience, and he has the means to complete every thing that is entrusted to him in this branch in the most substantial manner, with economy and despatch.

T. WOOLFELD begs to draw particular attention to his splendid array of CLOCKS and TIME-PIECES, in GILT, BRONZE, ALABASTER, FANCY WOODS, &c.; the Stock is immensely large, and the Designs suited to Rooms of any size or style, the price varying from £5 to £120; the utmost care is taken with regard to the Movements, which are Warranted.

T. W. has also a choice Collection of ANTIQUÉ CLOCKS, of the time of LOUIS XIV. extremely well suited for Country Mansions, large Staircases, &c. These Articles are now much in favour, and very scarce.

OIL and GAS LAMPS and CHANDELIERS in great variety, adapted for Private Rooms of all sizes, Public Buildings, Churches, Chapels, &c.

TABLE, SIDEBORD, BRACKET, FIGURE, & HALL LAMPS, on the newest and most approved construction.

T. WOOLFELD also re-bronzes, re-lacquers and repairs LAMPS of all descriptions; and keeps for Sale a great variety of GROUND and CUT GLASSES, adapted to all kinds of Lamps.

A superb variety of FLORENTINE, PARIS, and other BRONZES, of the most beautiful and costly finish, consisting of FIGURES, BUSTS, VASES, CANDELABRA, &c.

Elegant CUT GLASS LUSTRE CANDLESTICKS, for CHIMNEY-PIECES, with an immense choice of other appropriate CHIMNEY ORNAMENTS, including a recent Importation from Leghorn of a most tasteful variety of ITALIAN ALABASTERS; also, a fine Collection of TABLES, in MARBLE and SCAGLIOLA WORK.

CHINESE GOODS of various kinds, including some fine Specimens of very Old CHINA, in Jars, Vases, Jardinières, Plates, Dishes, &c. Elaborately carved IVORY FANS, CARD-CASES, &c. Likewise, a variety of real INDIA ARTICLES, in Japanned and Lacquer'd Work.

JAPANNED TEA TRAYS, in PAPIER MACHE, and IRON, from the plainest to the most expensive Patterns.

Japanned PAPIER MACHE TABLES, POLE-SCREENS, VASES, CARD BOXES, CAKE BASKETS, HAND-SCREENS, &c. All these Articles may be had in Plain Colours for Ladies themselves to finish.

A large Assortment of MUSICAL SNUFF BOXES, direct from Geneva, playing from two to twelve Tunes.

Several very fine large MUSICAL BOXES, playing the most celebrated Overtures; price from £5 to £50.

Rodgers and Son's warranted CUTLERY, in RAZORS, PENKNIVES, SCISSORS, TABLE-KNIVES, and DRESSING-CASE INSTRUMENTS. Also, a variety of very complete Sets of TABLE CUTLERY, fitted up in Cases, exceedingly convenient for preserving them in good condition.

SILVER DESSERT KNIVES and FORKS; Plated on Steel DITTO, with Plain and Carved Pearl and Ivory Handles, in Single or Double Sets, and in Cases lined with Silk Velvet, admirably arranged for their preservation, and forming very suitable Marriage or Housekeepers' Presents.

TORTOISESHELL COMBS, BRUSHES, and all kinds of the most approved and fashionable PERFUMERY.

Genuine EAU DE COLOGNE, imported direct from Cologne, 3s 6d per Bottle, or 20s per Box of Six Bottles.

An immense choice of LADIES' SILK, VELVET, and other RETICULES, from 3s to 3 Guineas each. Also, PURSES, Plain and very richly Embroidered, from 1s to 30s each.

LADIES' FRENCH SATIN SHOES, at 5s 6d per Pair.

LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S KID GLOVES of the best Paris Manufacture.

A variety of FANCY ARTICLES, in IVORY, MOTHER-OF-PEARL, and TORTOISESHELL.

CHESSMEN, BACKGAMMON BOARDS, BAGATELLE TABLES, and various other Games and Fancy Articles too numerous to mention.

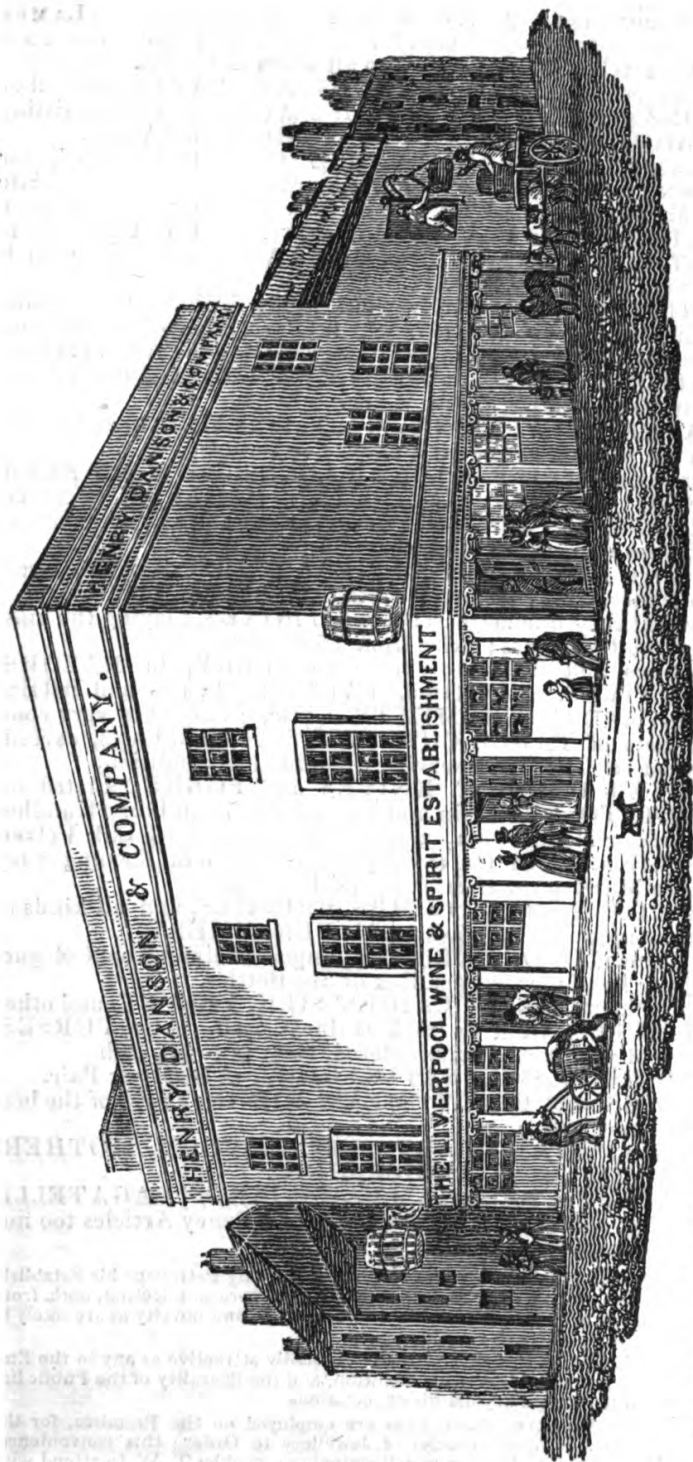

THOS. WOOLFELD begs to state, that the increasing Patronage his Establishment has met with will encourage him to persevere in selecting, both from London and the Continent, such Articles of taste and novelty as are likely to be pleasing to his extensive connexion.

To make his Establishment in Liverpool equally attractive as any in the Empire has been a great object of his ambition, and the liberality of the Public has enabled him to succeed beyond his expectations.

N.B. Three WORKING JEWELLERS are employed on the Premises, for the Repairing and Making of Articles of Jewellery to Order; this convenience, with a Daily Parcel to London and Birmingham, enables T. W. to attend with the utmost promptness to all Commissions in that department with which he may be favoured.

In the DRESSING-CASE and WRITING-DESK Department, T. W. has Fifteen of the most experienced Workmen in the Trade constantly employed on the Premises in Church-street. The advantages he has in the Manufacture of Sound Work in this branch of his business must be obvious.

MERCHANTS and CAPTAINS would find good DRESSING-CASES very safe and profitable Articles for SHIPMENT to most parts of the Civilized World.

THE LIVERPOOL WINE AND SPIRIT ESTABLISHMENT,

Nos. 16, 17, and 18, SCOTLAND-ROAD.

THE Proprietors of the above Establishment, in annexing their LIST OF PRICES, beg leave concisely to observe that their Business embraces every branch of the Trade, both RETAIL and WHOLESALE; serving the Trade, as well as Private Families in both Town and Country, they can, consequently, hold out advantages which Houses differently situated could not.

They beg leave also to renew their former pledge that in all cases when they shall receive an order by letter, and their judgment depended upon, on arrival, should it not give entire satisfaction, it can be returned, and the money will be refunded, including any and every expense.

PREPARED BY

MONS. BEKEART,

SUPERFINE

CLARIFIED

WRITING INK.

THIS INK was invented in 1805, and, as a testimony of its excellent qualities, the Inventor received from the EM-PEROR NAPOLEON, the sum of 10,000 francs. It possesses qualities not to be found in other Inks. It never becomes thick or mouldy, and flows freely through the pen; it is indelible; it writes pale at first, but after a few hours it becomes a perfect clear black, which time cannot obliterate.

It also possesses peculiar properties adapted to Copying, and is highly preferable in writing on vellum and parchment, and its clear and fine quality gives it the preference with steel pens.

It is very suitable for Exportation, and will keep for any period.

Sold by J. and J. MAWDSLEY, (Gores' Advertiser Office,) S. FRANCEYS, (Standard Office,) T. TAYLOR, Castle-street and Church-street, J. F. CANNELL, Castle-street, RICH'D. TAYLOR, Paradise-street, G. GROOM, Lord-street, and J. ARNOLD, Post Office-place.

Fruiterer to His Majesty.

J. MIDDLEWOOD

BEGS to inform the Nobility, Gentry, and Families visiting Liverpool, that he is always prepared to furnish Desserts to any extent with the Choicest FRUITS. His PINES are splendid, and his Charges moderate.

FRUIT WAREHOUSE,
18, Parker-street, Church-street, Liverpool.

J. M. has the honour to announce to the Nobility, Gentry, and the Public, that his Celebrated BOTANIC OIL is now held in high estimation, and patronised by the Nobility and Families of distinction; also his VEGETABLE OIL SOAP renders the Hands agreeably white and soft, prevents them chapping in winter, or tanning by excessive heat. The BOTANIC OIL for several years attracted the attention of his Majesty's Commissioners of Stamps, being a new and valuable Discovery, and the only article by which Baldness could be prevented; it renovates and restores the Hair after a decline of years, producing a luxuriant growth, and giving a rich lustre and fragrance, which renders it a valuable acquisition to the toilet.

Sold from 2s to 15s, (being a reduction from the original price of 5s in 20s;) Vegetable Soap, 6d and 1s, 5s and 10s per dozen. The Botanic Oil and Vegetable Oil Soap is a safe speculation for export, as no other article for the same use can cope with it. A single bottle of the Oil and a square of the Soap will prove their superior efficacy. Sea Captains or Gentlemen travelling will find the Vegetable Oil Soap a valuable article in shaving, as it mixes well with hard or salt water, and prevents all irritation of the skin.

BEG leave respectfully to return their sincere thanks, for the very liberal and extensive patronage they have experienced since their commencement.

In soliciting a continuance of these favours, they pledge themselves to continue those rules which they consider of such paramount importance, and which they have hitherto strictly adhered to in the conducting of their Establishment, viz. : purity of medicine and constant personal attention.

In the compounding of PHYSICIANS' AND SURGEONS' PRESCRIPTIONS AND FAMILY RECIPES, the most scrupulous care will be observed, and to prevent the liability of mistakes, every Prescription will be compounded by one of the Principals.

Genuine PATENT MEDICINES, direct from the Proprietors.

FAMILY AND SEA MEDICINE CHESTS ; also Medicine Chests fitted up exclusively for the use of Families going abroad, with appropriate directions.

MAW'S ENEMA APPARATUS, STOMACH PUMPS, &c.

Select Preparations sold at this Establishment :

DR. GREGORY'S STOMACHIC APERIENT POWDER, composed of genuine Turkey Rhubarb, pure Calcined Magnesia, and Prepared Jamaica Ginger, for Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Acidity of the Stomach, &c. prepared from the original Recipe of the late Professor Gregory, of Edinburgh.

CONCENTRATED ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER, for Indigestion, Flatulence, Spasms, Gout, and for restoring the tone of a debilitated stomach.

STOMACHIC BITTER TINCTURE, a very agreeable Tonic for relieving Indigestion, Debility of the Stomach, &c. &c.

ASTRINGENT TINCTURE, for the Teeth and Gums.

LAVENDER WATER, of very superior fragrance.

Superior DRESSING FOR SALAD, LOBSTERS, CRABS, &c. &c.

A Dressing for Salad which can be at all times available, and warranted to keep unimpaired in any climate, has long been a desideratum. OWEN & GERDES, in presenting this article to the Public, feel convinced that a trial only is necessary to render it indispensable at the table. The flavour will be found much superior to the Dressings generally used, and being always at hand, prevents the waste which unavoidably occurs by mixing the article at the time it is wanted.

SOLICITORS.—Messrs. Macdougall and Bainbrigge, 46, Parliament-street.

The advantages held out by this Office comprise all the benefits which have been proved by the experience of the system; and parties insuring with the "United Kingdom" can avail themselves of nearly all the favourable results of Mutual Insurance, as two-thirds of the Profits will either be added periodically to the sum insured, or applied in the reduction of the future Premiums; or they may, without participating in the profits, secure at their death a certain sum at a very low rate of premium. In either case, the assured will have the most ample security from the subscribed capital of the Company, without the responsibility of co-partnership, as in all mutual Insurance Companies.

The attention of the Public is earnestly directed to the annexed Scale of Premiums, which will be found extremely moderate, particularly on the younger and middle ages, as well as where Insurance is required for a short period only—which may be paid by instalments.

Gentlemen going abroad, particularly to the East or West Indies, will find it essentially for their interest to Insure their Lives with this Company, who have adopted a Scale of Premiums much Lower than has hitherto been charged by all other Offices for Foreign Residence.

To Professional Men, Army and Navy Agents, &c. the usual allowance will be made for procuring and transmitting Insurances to the Company, which may be completed by corresponding direct with the Secretary, to the Office, No. 8, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, London.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Assurances are now effected by this Company, except in special cases, at the following Rates:—

	s.	d.
For risks of the 1st Class	1	6 per cent.
2d Class	2	6
3d Class	4	6

FARMING STOCK, 2s per cent. Free of Duty, and without the Average Clause. On all Policies for £300, and upwards, the Assured will, every fifth year, be entitled to participate in the Surplus Premium.

In addition to the benefit of Return, this Company offers to Assurers the advantage of an allowance for the loss of RENT of Buildings rendered untenable by fire.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Persons Assuring for the whole term of Life for £100, and upwards, in Great Britain or Ireland respectively, will be entitled, at the end of every seventh year, to participate in the surplus Premiums, to be then ascertained by actual valuation.

The Amount of such surplus Premiums, when so ascertained, may be applied at the option of the person assured, in either of the three following ways, viz:—

- 1st. In adding to the sum assured by the Policy.
- 2nd. In reducing the future annual Premium.
- 3rd. In rendering the parties assured free from all payments of Premium, after a fixed number of years.

So that, by this last option, a party, instead of having the Sum assured by his Policy increased by the surplus Premium that may be assigned to it, or his Annual Premium reduced, might continue to pay his present Annual Premium, for a fixed number of Years, (say ten or fifteen years for example,) and thenceforward have the Assurance continue in force without any further payment whatever; at the same time retaining his right to participate in all subsequent amounts of surplus Premium, which would then, necessarily, be applied in increasing the Sum assured by his Policy.

This advantage is given by the ATLAS Office alone.

VALUATION of the Company's LIFE POLICIES to Christmas, 1830.

The second septennial valuation of the Company's Life Policies has been completed, and the following Table shows the total Additions made to Life Policies for £1,000, effected in London or through an Agent in Great Britain, which had been in force for the Fourteen Years ending at Christmas, 1830.

Duty of Policy.	Sum assured.	Annual Premium.			Age at commencement	Amount that has been added to the sum assured payable at the Party's death.

Equivalent Reductions have been made in the future payments of Premium, where the parties assured have desired to have the amount of surplus premiums so applied.

The next valuation will be made at Christmas, 1837, and Policies effected before that date will participate in proportion to the time they may then have been in force.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS OFFICE, among others, are:—

1. A participation, septennially, in two-thirds of the profits, which may be applied either in reduction of the Premium or to augment the sum assured.

On a division of profits from the seven years terminating on the 25th of March, 1832, BONUSES amounting from 18s. to £2 12s. per cent. per annum on the sums assured, varying with the age, were assigned to all Policies for the whole continuance of life effected previously to the 16th of May, 1829.

2. Premiums may be paid in a limited number of annual sums instead of by annual Payments for the whole of life; the Policy continuing to participate in profits after the payment of such premiums has ceased.

3. The Assurance or Premium Fund is not subject to any charge for Interest to Proprietors.

4. Permission to pass to Continental Ports between Brest and the Elbe inclusive.

5. Parties (including Officers of the Army, Navy, East India Company, and Merchant Service,) may be assured to reside in or proceed to all parts of the World, at Premiums calculated on real data.

6. Claims to be paid within three months.

7. The Assured may dispose of their Policies to the Company.

8. No charge but for Policy Stamps.

Sir F. Walker Drummond, Bart. of Hawthorden.

The Hon. Lord Moncreiff.

The Right Hon. Chas. Hope, Lord President of the Court of Session.

His Grace the Duke of Buccleugh and Queensberry, K.T.

THE large accumulated Capital and Annual Revenue of this Institution, (which, as a Life Assurance Association, is the oldest and most extensive in point of business in Scotland,) enables the Directors to offer to the Public the full advantages arising from the principle of its constitution, combined with the utmost measure of SECURITY.

The great value of the principle of mutual contributionship, or, as it is generally termed, MUTUAL ASSURANCE, on which this Society is founded, is now well known. By the operation of this principle, taken in connexion with the careful selection of lives, and an economical management of the Society's business, it is evident that the advantages of Life Assurance are secured to their utmost possible extent. Indeed, they only require to be known and understood to be fully appreciated; and so rapidly accordingly has been the growth of this Society, that, during the last fifteen years, the annual revenue has increased from £2300 to EIGHTY THOUSAND POUNDS STERLING per annum, and the accumulated Fund from £3000 to nearly FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS STERLING; and both are in a state of steady and rapid increase.

The President, Vice-Presidents, Trustees and Directors, are all personally interested in the Society, and must, in terms of the articles of constitution, be members of more than three years' standing.

The last periodical investigation of the Society's affairs took place at 31st December, 1831, when large additions were declared to the Assurances entitled thereto. In order to show the value of the additions made out of the Surplus Fund, the following particulars are given of the claim arising under a Policy opened previous to 1820, if emerging in the current year, by the death of the party assured:

Vested additions up to 31st December, 1831	392	6	0
Contingent prospective additions applying to the annual premiums paid for 1832, 1833, and 1834.....	62	13	0
Total sum payable.....	£1454	19	0

The ordinary Court of Directors meet weekly for the purpose of receiving and deciding on applications for Assurance, which are now granted to the extent of £5000, on approved single or joint lives.

Tables of rates of Premium, and every necessary information will be readily communicated on application to the Subscriber.

JAMES BELL, AGENT.

Liverpool, 7, Tower-garden.
July, 1834.

PHOENIX FIRE OFFICE,

For Insuring all kinds of Property against Loss or Damage by Fire.

THIS OFFICE, established upon principles of public utility, rests its claim to patronage upon the promptitude and liberality with which it has invariably fulfilled its engagements during a period of half a century, by the payment of upwards of THREE MILLIONS STERLING to SUFFERERS by FIRE.

Insurances are effected by the PHOENIX COMPANY upon every description of Property, both at Home and in Foreign Parts, upon a scale of Premiums, which, while it is graduated conformably to the nature of the several risks, is as low as is found to be compatible with an honourable and liberal adjustment of the claims of Sufferers by Fire.

The Proprietors of Manufactories, and other Premises of extra hazard, which may require to be inspected, are respectfully informed that the Agents will, at all times, be ready to wait upon them for that purpose.

Printed Proposals, together with every necessary information for the effecting Insurances, may be had on application to Mr. GEO. GREEN, No. 1, Exchange-street East.

Messrs. T. CROOK & SON, 19, Exchange-street East.

Messrs. LANGTON & GLYNN, 17, Exchange-st. East.

Agents for Liverpool.

Losses by Fire occasioned by Lightening, are made good by this Company.

INSURANCE FROM FIRE.—The great and numerous benefits derived by the public in general, from Insurance against loss by Fire, are now so well defined and understood, as to render any comment unnecessary. The Directors, therefore, in recommending the UNION ASSURANCE SOCIETY, have only to state, that the advantages which it offers, are founded on the experience of more than a CENTURY.

THE RATES AND CONDITIONS for insuring Houses and other Buildings, Goods, Merchandise, Farming Stock, and Ships in Harbour, in Dock, or while Building, from Loss or Damage by Fire, are of the most moderate description.

Losses by Fire occasioned by Lightning will be made good.

INSURANCE ON LIVES AND SURVIVORSHIPS.—Life Assurance has been found of great utility to every class of persons deriving income from offices, employments, or other sources depending on the continuance of Life, by providing a principal sum for the benefit of their families or representatives, after their Decease. Its advantages have been likewise extensively applied in securing Annuities, Fines payable upon the renewal of Leases, personal Debts, and numerous other contingent interests.

The Directors of the Union Assurance Society are empowered to offer the following important advantages in Life Assurance.

1st. Every Insurance made for the whole continuance of Life, will participate in the Profits, every Seven Years; it being declared in the Deed of Settlement, That a division of profits shall be paid with the sum insured by Policies made for the whole continuance of Life, in force when such division shall be declared.

2nd. This division to be calculated, not from the Profits of the Year only in which the death may happen, but from the whole number of years each Policy has been effected, and in force when that event takes place.

3rd. No insurer to incur responsibility, nor be liable for the losses of others; the Capital of the Company being the guarantee for all claims upon it.

4th. No Entrance Money nor Admission Fees required.

5th. The usual Tabular Rates of Insurances for terms of One and Seven Years, are reduced generally Twenty per Cent.

Those who insure with this Company will, therefore, on payment of a definite sum for premium, be secured from risk; and their Representatives will not only be certain of receiving the original sum insured, but will also participate with the Proprietors in the Profits of the Establishment, which will be added, every Seven Years, to the respective Policies of Insurance, the security for the payment of which, will be the Capital Stock of the Company, and the amount of the accumulated premiums.

* * By an Act which the Society has obtained from the Legislature, the Directors are sanctioned in granting and purchasing Annuities, and are ready to receive Proposals for such Investments at equitable Rates.

SEAMEN'S SHIPPING OFFICE,

11, BATH-STREET,

OPPOSITE THE

MIDDLE GATES OF THE PRINCE'S DOCK,

AND

BRANCH OFFICE,

No. 1, Kitchen-street, East-side Queen's Dock,

ESTABLISHED IN 1827,

SUPPORTED BY THE PRINCIPAL SHIP-OWNERS OF THE PORT,

AND CONDUCTED BY

W. H. HODSON.

The principal advantages of which are:—

1st. The certainty of the Crew being complete, and on board at the time of sailing.

2nd. The having a more efficient Crew, through a regular Register being kept of their conduct.

3rd. The check which it is already found to have upon the general conduct of Seamen sailing out of the Port during the Voyage.

In proof of which, Masters who have not shipped their Crews at the Office, are respectfully referred to the annexed respectable Testimonial, (among many others,) as well as to Masters of Vessels now in Port.

“ Liverpool, Sept. 25th, 1833.

“ We, the undersigned, having been Masters of Vessels in the employ of Sir John Tobin for some years, consider it nothing more than justice to give Mr. Hodson, of the Merchant Seamen's Shipping Office, this Testimonial of our approval of the manner in which he conducts that Establishment, and we have no hesitation in stating that the Owners of Vessels are consulting their own interest in employing him to assist Masters in the Shipping of their Crews.

“ The advantages which we have found more particularly are, the having the Ship's Company complete, and on Board at the time of Sailing, be the hour ever so early, thus relieving the Master from any anxiety at a time when matters of greater importance occupy him. The having a more efficient Crew, from Mr. Hodson being always on the spot, and after Six Years' experience having made himself personally acquainted with the best Seamen sailing out of the Port. Fewer Applications for Monthly Money, consequently less trouble at the Owners' Office, and getting younger men; and lastly, we have found that of late Mr. Hodson's Establishment has had a very material Check upon the irregularities and general conduct of Seamen, for as Mr. Hodson is now employed by the major part of the most respectable Ship-owners in the Port, a Seaman misconducting himself is reported accordingly upon the Vessels' arrival, and thus prevented from imposing upon others.

In conformity with the foregoing, we do consider that Mr. Hodson's exertions deserve support from both Owners and Masters, and that in so doing they are only consulting their own good and that of the Port of Liverpool generally; and whilst the Shipping Interest is so much upon the increase here, the greater the necessity for such an establishment.

J. FERGUSON

RESPECTFULLY informs the LADIES of Liverpool and its vicinity, also Strangers and Visitors, that he has constantly on hand, an extensive, fashionable, well-selected, and valuable STOCK of GOODS in the above departments. Also a very large Assortment of DRESSES for BOYS and GIRLS, from one to ten years of age, suitable for all seasons, made of CLOTH, MERINOS, SATTEENS, JEANS, and NANKKEENS, and every other material, suitable for Children's Apparel.

J. F. in announcing to the Ladies of Liverpool and the Public, that, for the convenience of his extensive connexion, he has opened the Shop, No. 64, BOLD-STREET, which by giving more opportunity for arrangement than he could previously avail himself of, has enabled him to make the above Establishments as eligible for the aforesaid purposes as any in the kingdom.

Mr. FERGUSON has just returned from Paris and London, where he has made it his diligent business to attend to whatever was most rare, elegant, fashionable, and useful, and begs to call the attention of the LADIES to his most brilliant and unrivalled display of every Article in the above branches, and which he is determined to keep constantly in an improving condition, having formed connexions for that purpose in both Paris and London.

J. F. in informing Merchants, Captains, and Traders, that he has every kind of Apparel in the above line suitable for all seasons and climates, begs leave to intimate that they will find it greatly to their advantage to purchase at his Establishments, feeling confident his Goods will yield them a sure and profitable return.

78, BOLD-STREET, (next the Old Music-Hall) LIVERPOOL,

AND

39, BUCHANAN-STREET, (opposite the Arcade) GLASGOW.

PRINGLE & LAWSON,

SHAWL MANUFACTURERS.

RESPECTFULLY intimate, that at both their Establishments will be found an unlimited Assortment of all that is novel, elegant, and imposing in the various descriptions of SHAWLS, as they confine their attention exclusively to that particular Trade; and one of the Partners resides at their House in Glasgow, which, being in the immediate vicinity of the Manufactories, enables them to have all the NEW PATTERNS there and in Liverpool, before their appearance in London.

An immense variety of BORDERS; and also MIDDLES for SHAWLS, in Thibet, Patent Cashmere, and Silk.

The Patent Cashmere is also admirably adapted for Ladies' Dresses, being beautifully fine, in the textures, alike on both sides, and of uncommon durability.

piercing Wind, as well as against the heaviest Rain.*

✶ The following testimony in favour of the Article is taken from Captain Parry's Narrative of an Attempt to reach the North Pole :—" We narrowly " escaped the loss of a bag of cocoa, which fell overboard. The bag being " made of Macintosh's Water-proof Canvass, the cocoa did not suffer the " slightest injury. Of this invaluable manufacture it is impossible to speak
" too highly. I know of no material which, with an equal weight, is equally
" durable and water-tight. In the latter quality, indeed, it is altogether
" perfect."

The HYDROSTATIC or WATER-BED for Invalids, so strongly recommended by the Faculty.

Orders regularly transmitted to the Manufactory three times a week.

Also, WATER-PROOF UNIVERSITY UMBRELLAS, warranted superior to any other Substance of a single texture for Resisting Water, and to retain this property to the last.

JAMES COMER & CO.
DRAPERS AND TAILORS,
LORD-STREET,

(Corner of North John-street,)

Liverpool,

GRATEFULLY acknowledge the kind favours they have received, and beg to inform their Friends, the Public, Commanders of Vessels, and Passengers, that they continue to supply the best West of England CLOTHS, made in the first style, at their new Establishment, (the business having been carried on for many years, in Bold-street, under the late Firms of "Heron and Comer," and "Megraw and Heron,") where they hope, by punctuality and moderate prices, to merit their future favours.

REPORT ON PANTER'S PATENT MALT VINEGAR,

By MICHAEL FARADY, Esq. F.R.S.

Director of the Laboratory of the Royal Institution of Great Britain.

I HAVE inspected a Model of, and have had explained to me, the Patent Process for Making Vinegar, which is used by Messrs. JOHN R. PANTER and Co. of Bristol, and am satisfied the latter is an improvement on the ordinary London Process.

It appears capable of producing Vinegar of great strength, and the operation includes nothing that can affect the purity the product.

I have analyzed a specimen of their Vinegar, made by this process, and placed in my hands by their directions, and find it to contain no acid in a free state, other than the true Vinegar, or Acetic Acid; and on comparing it with a sample of Vinegar made in London, and said to be of the strongest quality, (called No. 24,) I found that both Vinegars contained nearly the same quantity of Mucilaginous and Saline Matter, but that the specimen of Panter's Patent Vinegar was much stronger in Acetic Acid than the London Sample.

Dated, Royal Institution, 12th June, 1829.

RICHARD QUINN, AGENT,
No. 2, MANESTY-LANE, LIVERPOOL.

N.B. The above Vinegar is highly recommended for Pickling; from its superior quality and purity, it gives a delightful flavour to the Vegetable.

LIVERPOOL,

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to acquaint his Friends and the Public, that he Makes and Repairs all sorts of Fancy CLOCKS; Lever, Horizontal, Duplex, & other WATCHES; French and English Repeaters, &c. &c.; likewise Musical Boxes, Birds, Seals, &c. and confidently trusts, from the long experience he has had in the above branches, that he will be able to give the fullest satisfaction to all who may please to favour him with their commands.

D. V. has on Sale, a large quantity of Elegant MUSICAL BOXES, from three to twelve inches long.

D. V. is the only Person from Geneva in the above-mentioned business.

THOMAS WARD,

HATTER,

No. 9, CHURCH-STREET, LIVERPOOL,

And Strand, London,

IN deciding upon personally conducting the Liverpool Concern it is determined to present to the notice of the Public a more extensive and Fashionable Stock than they have ever before had an opportunity of selecting from; and he feels certain that his connexion with the first London Houses, from whence he receives his Fine Goods, and with the principal Lancashire Manufacturers, who supply him with Low-priced Hats, added to the great advantage of buying for Cash, which is no object to him, will enable him to sell Goods better, cheaper, and finished with greater taste, than can be furnished at any other establishment.

T. W. has made such alterations in the Church-street Premises as will afford him space for an immense Stock, which has been selected with much care and discrimination, on extremely advantageous terms; and he feels assured, that if strict attention, a varied assortment of Goods, excellence, taste, and fashion, with economic prices are requisites calculated to ensure favourable attention, he is certain to experience it from a liberal and discerning Public.

T. W. particularly recommends to notice the Extra double-napped Beaver Hats, made by FORTH, Manufacturer to the Queen, which have in London obtained much deserved celebrity.

Superfine Fashionable London Black and Drab Waterproof Beaver Hats, as light as can be made. Youths' and Boys' Superfine Beaver Hats. Superior Summer and Winter Caps. Gentlemen's Travelling and Fancy Caps. Ladies', Children's, and Infants' Fashionable Caps and Beaver Bonnets, in every variety, and upon extremely moderate terms.

The Opera or Elastic Folding Dress Hat

Now universally worn in the Metropolis when visiting Theatres, Assemblies, Public Dinners, and on all occasions of a crowded nature,—first quality 21s.—second quality 16s.

T. W. respectfully informs his Country Friends, and all Gentlemen who require the Hat to serve the double purpose of shade and covering, that he has the celebrated Broad Brimmed Farmer Shapes, in great abundance, and at all prices.

T. W. begs leave to add that his mode of selling will be that of invariably placing the very lowest prices upon all Goods, subject to no abatement whatever; which reasonable and just method of transacting business he trusts will elicit general approval and support.

MR. J. BROOKS,

(Late Brooks and Rose, Duke-street,)

DENTIST,

28, GREAT GEORGE-STREET,

BEGS leave to inform the Nobility, Gentry, and Public, that he continues to supply ARTIFICIAL TEETH, from one to a complete set, either of Hippopotamus, Tusk, Human, or Terro Metallic,—answering all the purposes of the original in Mastication, Articulation, and Appearance; being perfectly secure and comfortable in the mouth, without the assistance of tyings, twistings, or any thing injurious to the Gums, or the remaining Teeth, or inconvenient to the wearer, who may take them out and replace them with the utmost ease.

Decayed Teeth stopped and rendered useful with Tin or Gold Leaf, Anodyne Cement, or the celebrated Mineral Succedaneum.

Cleaning, Sealing, and every operation connected with Dental Surgery.

J. B. takes the present opportunity of returning his sincere thanks for the flattering encouragement which he has hitherto received from particular Friends, as well as from the Public in general, and begs to assure them, that no attention or labour shall be wanting to merit a continuation of their many favours.

Passengers by the LORD MOSTYN will arrive in Liverpool a Quarter-before Twelve o'clock, and leave again, a Quarter-before Four in the afternoon, allowing four hours to remain in Liverpool.—The LADY MOSTYN returns to Liverpool, a Quarter-before Seven o'clock in the evening, allowing three hours in Holywell and neighbourhood.

Post Horses, Carriages, Chaises, Cars, &c. supplied on the shortest notice.

WOODSIDE ROYAL MAIL FERRY.

This Ferry is the nearest point on the Cheshire shore to Liverpool. The Quay is the most spacious on the River Mersey, and for shipment and transhipment of Carriages, Horses, Goods, &c. is superior to any constructed on the river. At the west end of the quay is a commanding and extensive Pier.

The salubrity of the air of Woodside and Neighbourhood is almost proverbial. Invalids resort thither from all parts of England, and hopeless cases of failure of health, have in most instances been cured by a visit to this place.

The STEAM PACKETS, Francis, King Fisher, Ribble, and Ann, are constantly plying every Half-hour during the Day, from George's Parade, to Wilkams's, Woodside Ferry.

CANARY WINE VAULTS,

17, CROWN CHAMBERS, REDCROSS-STREET.

THE Inhabitants of Liverpool and its vicinity, Visitors, Merchants, Captains of Vessels, and Persons going abroad, are respectfully informed, that they may still be supplied with the old, esteemed, and fine-flavoured

CANARY WINE,

By application to

JAMES RENWICK, Redcross-street.

Price, 21s per Dozen, Bottles included.

N.B.—Orders from the Country, enclosing a remittance, will be promptly attended to.

BARUCHSON AND FAWCETT,

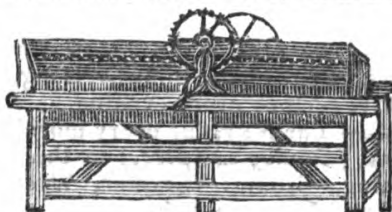

Drysalters, Paint and Colour Manufacturers,

No. 5, BACHELOR-STREET, LIVERPOOL,

AND

HESSLEROD, HULL,

BE G to inform the Merchants, Exporters, and Trade in general, that they have opened an Establishment in this town as above, where they keep a constant supply of PAINTS, OILS, COLOURS, VARNISHES, &c. of the best quality, in various-sized packages, for exportation and home use, from their Hull Manufactory, at the most reasonable prices. Also, every other article connected with the Drysaltery trade.

T. OLLIS,

TURNER AND CABINET MAKER,

MANUFACTURER OF

MANGLES AND TURNING LATHES,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

No. 20, BERRY-STREET,

Liverpool.

TOLLIS respectfully begs leave to call the attention of Families and Individuals to his superior Improved PATENT MANGLE, which has given such general satisfaction for several years past; and which is so constructed as not to be liable to be out of order.

Mangles may be seen in constant use, by application as above, and reference given to Families now using them.

T. O. also manufactures Mangles on the several principles now in use, and likewise Lathes for every description of curious and excentric Turning, in great variety.

N.B.—T. O. begs to state that, by reasonable attention to oiling, &c. his Patent Mangles will work so light, that a girl of ten or twelve years old, will work it with more ease, than a man will work a Mangle on the common principle.

Under the Patronage of the King.

WEDGWOOD'S

HIGHLY-IMPROVED

PATENT MANIFOLD WRITERS,

FOR

Copying Letters, Invoices, Drawings, Plans, &c.

THIS Invention will produce a LETTER WITH ITS COPY at ONE OPERATION; or if required, a Letter with TWO FAC-SIMILES to send abroad, with a single Pen (Style) which is so durable that it will last for Centuries without repair.

This extraordinary Apparatus, from its simplicity and despatch in operation, as well as portability in construction, is admirably adapted for Solicitors, Merchants, and Persons travelling or going abroad; they are also strongly recommended (with the recently improved Copying and Carbonic Paper, which is quite free from smell) to the Nobility, Clergy, Members of Parliament, Bankers, Stewards, and Agents of Estates, and to all who have occasion to write much, and desire to keep Copies or send Duplicates abroad, to whom it will prove a great saving of time, trouble, and expense.

This Invention has obtained the Approval of their late Majesties and Royal Family, the Patronage of his present Majesty, and the Emperor of Russia, (who was pleased to honour the Inventor with a superb Diamond Ring, of great value, in testimony of its utility,) and has been adopted by British & Foreign Ambassadors, and Persons of Rank, Science, and Abilities, in Situations Official and Commercial.

WEDGWOOD'S

IMPROVED NOCTO-GRAPHS.

By this Invention persons who have had the misfortune to lose their sight, or others in the dark, are enabled to write either Single or in Duplicate, without the aid of any person whatever. The apparatus is so extremely simple in its construction and mode of operation, that it is impossible it can fail of answering its purpose with the least possible trouble to the writer.

It is also particularly adapted to the circumstances of nervous and aged persons, who find a difficulty in managing common Pens and Ink, the Pens requiring no repairs or feeding, and the Ink is perfectly portable and cannot blot. Price, Morocco, with Lock, £2 12s 6d, or Roan, with Tuck, £2 2s.

MANUFACTURER OF
COPYING, JAPAN, STEEL-PEN, & OFFICE
INKS,

Respectfully calls the attention of Merchants, Professional Gentlemen, and Others, to his highly-esteemed and very superior which may be had of every respectable Bookseller & Stationer, and which has met with the most decided approbation, both in the United Kingdom and also on the Continent, where its extensive Sale has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the Manufacturers.

The Properties of this COPYING INK are such as are rarely met with in other Inks,—it will give a clear and perfect Copy two days after use, and it possesses the advantage of giving two distinct Copies, when required.

The following unsolicited Testimonial from Mr. Ritchie, the eminent Engineer, and Proprietor of the well-known "RITCHIE'S PATENT COPYING MACHINE," may perhaps be deemed worthy of notice:—

"Dear Sir,

"I have made several trials of MARTIN'S COPYING INK, a Bottle of which I had from you when in Liverpool, and find that it writes remarkably freely, and takes an excellent Copy, and, in fact, excels every other Ink which has come under my notice. You will please to send me Six Dozen Bottles, per first Carron Company's vessel.

"I am, dear Sir,

"Yours, truly,

"P. RITCHIE."

Instituted in 1805.—Capital, £1,000,000.

THE DIRECTORS being of opinion that the certain and immediate advantages afforded by a low rate of Premium is more beneficial to Persons effecting Life Insurances than the remote and contingent prospect of a Bonus, dependent upon profits, Insurances are undertaken by the Albion Company on reduced Terms, giving to the Parties Insuring an annual saving in the Premium, or an equivalent increase in the Sum Insured. The annual payment usually required, at the age of 25, for an Insurance of £1,000, by Companies holding out the prospect of a Bonus derivable from Profits, would ensure £1,200 with the Albion Company free from all contingency, and payable whenever the Death might happen. The rates will be found very advantageous for securing temporary Loans, prospective Bonuses from other Companies, and all objects to which Insurances for limited Periods are applicable.

Losses are paid in thirty days after sufficient proof of death; and every facility is afforded by which the interest and convenience of the Public may be promoted.

NEW STEAM SHIP,

THE NEWCASTLE.

THE CARLISLE AND LIVERPOOL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY beg to inform the Merchants, Manufacturers, and Tradesmen of Liverpool and Carlisle, and the Towns adjacent, and also of Newcastle, that in place of the Solway and Cumberland Steam Packets, which have plied regularly between Liverpool and Port Carlisle, they have brought on the Station the powerful new Steam Ship, the NEWCASTLE, JOSEPH SEWELL, Commander; measuring 396 Tons, coppered and copper-fastened, propelled by two Engines of Eighty-Horse Power each, and performs the Passage in One Tide, calling at Annan, Waterfoot, & Whitehaven, to land and receive Passengers, &c. on her way.

Freight of Trusses at and above 1 cwt. 3s. 3d.

Ditto Ditto below 1 cwt. 4 0

The Company have made arrangements with the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, and the Old Quay Company, for the Forwarding of Goods to and from Manchester, and cannot Charge at the above low Rates unless the Goods come through their conveyances.

All Goods are received and forwarded by the Company's Agents, free of Commission.

The Newcastle sails from Liverpool on Monday and Thursday, and returns on Wednesday and Saturday. All Goods shipped in Liverpool on Mondays will be delivered in Newcastle on the following Saturday, and those shipped on Thursday on the following Tuesday.

This vessel has roomy and convenient Cabins for the accommodation of Passengers, fitted up in the first style, and attended by Male and Female Servants. Refreshments of every kind may also be had on board, on the most reasonable terms, and it may be further stated, that the Carlisle Canal Company have built a swift Iron Boat to ply on the Canal to suit the times of arrival and sailing of the Steamers, and for the sole purpose of conveying Passengers between Carlisle and Port Carlisle, which will entirely do away with the unpleasantness and inconveniences heretofore experienced.

With these advantages, this is the most expeditious and economical line of conveyance between the above places, and when the Carlisle and Newcastle Railway is completed, it will admit of no comparison whatever.

Third Patent FOR THE PERRYIAN PENS.

Nine Patent Perryian Fountain Pens, with Holder, 3s.

THE FOUNTAIN PEN is warranted to write more than Fifty lines with one dip of Ink. The Ink flows from this New Instrument in an even and uninterrupted stream, exactly proportioned to the strength of the letters formed, thus producing a greater uniformity in the appearance of the writing. This New Instrument never blots or fails to mark: and the economy of time attending its use must render it a desirable acquisition to every writer.

Nine Patent India-Rubber-Spring Pens, with Holder, 2s. 6d.

INDIA-RUBBER-SPRING PEN.—This novel application of Caoutchouc, effects an extraordinary elasticity in the Patent Pen, and its advantages over the Quill must be universally acknowledged. The distinguishing feature of the India-Rubber-Spring is to make the same pen capable of accommodating itself to all the various degrees of pressure used in different hand-writing, so as to produce, with perfect ease, any strength of character, at the will of the writer.

PEARCE & GARDNERS

RESPECTFULLY draw the attention of SHIPOWNERS, STEAM-PACKET COMPANIES, and MASTERS of VESSELS, to the following new and approved

PATENT INVENTIONS.

The SCREW FID, for the purpose of striking all the upper masts of Vessels, and setting up or slackening the rigging.

The SIGNAL LANTHORN, to prevent those serious and melancholy accidents which so frequently occur by Vessels running foul of each other in the night.

PADDLE WHEEL for STEAMERS.—This Wheel may be emmersed one-fourth of its depth in the water, as the Paddles are so constructed as to enter the water in an almost vertical position, and quit the back water with a corresponding angle, at once attaining the object long sought after for Steam-vessels.

Also, a BRAKE WHEEL for Ships, giving the man at the helm a complete control over the Wheel, and protecting him from injury, and, in cases of emergency, liberating him, and keeping the Wheel in any fixed position until his return.

Models of the above may be seen at the Office of the Patentees, PEARCE & GARDNERS, No. 7, HURST-STREET, and References given to those who have them in use.

HARWOOD'S IMPROVED

Patent

Memorandum Book,

WITH METALLIC PENCIL.

THE Paper of these Books being perfectly smooth, admits of the utmost rapidity and freedom in writing, and is not in the slightest degree injured by friction; the legibility is, therefore, as perfectly retained, as if it were written with Ink. The Pencil is so highly finished and unique in its appearance, as to obtain general admiration, while it will be found completely to possess the hitherto inimitable softness of the Cumberland Pencil, from which it differs only, in possessing superior durability of the point. They may be had in various forms, either plain or ruled, as Pocket or Order Books, Surveying, Inventory, Reporting Book, or Diaries.

Manufactured by J. and F. Harwood, 26, Fenchurch-street, London.

"We have been highly pleased with HARWOOD'S IMPROVED PATENT MEMORANDUM BOOK, with METALLIC PENCIL, and glad to hear that a Book which promises to become so useful to the Public, may be obtained almost for any purpose. The Paper is of a very close, smooth surface, and purposely adapted to receive a clear and perfect impression from the slightest touch of the Pencil, and when once made is indelible. The Pencil itself is a clever, ingenious, and complete model of what a pencil should be; and in its use, retains to the fullest degree that beautiful softness which has rendered the lead of Cumberland so justly celebrated, besides combining the additional advantage of durability."—Morning Chronicle.

One of HARWOOD'S IMPROVED PATENT MEMORANDUM BOOKS, with METALLIC PENCIL, has been put into our hands, and we must allow, that it surpasses any thing of the kind we have ever seen, indeed we could not have supposed it possible to have been brought to such perfection; it is like writing with a very fine black lead pencil with a durable point, and however clear and delicate the strokes, their legibility is preserved, equal to writing with Ink. The peculiar qualities of both pencil and paper seem adapted to each other, and are so particularly agreeable to use, as to act as a stimulus to good writing."—Morning Herald.

N.B. As there are books and pencils made in imitation, the Public are informed that neither are genuine unless they bear the name.

HARWOOD'S DIARIES.

These Diaries are arranged on the most approved plans and in the most convenient forms, and may be had of various sizes, from the waist-coat-pocket to the folio for the counting-house; also without the dates, so that they may be commenced at any period of the year.

N.B.—The Pocket sizes may be had of the Improved Paper, with a Metallic Pencil.

HARWOOD'S LONDON BANK PENS.

These Pens are manufactured from the best tempered steel, combined with the greatest care and skill in the workmanship. They possess the flexibility of the quill, with the preservation of elasticity to a much greater degree; and are so remarkable for producing beauty and clearness in writing as to render them distinguished in numerous public offices, which is the greatest testimony of their excellence.

In order that the purchasers of these Pens may ensure the kind most particularly suited to their own writing, they are made to possess different characters, which are distinguished by the following letters, and each Pen is stamped "Harwood's London Bank Pen."

F for Fine or Running-Hand. M for Middling or Round-Hand.
B for Broad or Text-Hand.

HARWOOD'S LADIES' PENS.

The finest description of steel is used in the manufacture of these Pens; they possess all the delicacy of the crow quill pen, and for Etching, the use of Architects, and Ladies' Writing, are incomparable.

HARWOOD'S LONDON PENS.

For Common purposes of writing, the London Pens will be found highly useful, as they possess warranted qualities with greater strength than the other Pens.

Sold by all Stationers and Booksellers in Liverpool, and principal Towns throughout the Country.

INSURANCE ON LIVES.

Two different objects being generally contemplated in effecting Live Insurances, some persons desiring to secure only a fixed and certain Sum to be received at their decease, and to pay no more than may be sufficient for that purpose, while others prefer paying larger Premiums for the purpose of participating in the Septennial Profits, the Directors have caused tables to be prepared, by which an option is given to effect Insurances in either way; those who may desire to Insure only for a certain sum, may do so at the rates exhibited in table No. I.; others who wish both to Insure and to become participators in the Profits, may do so at the Premiums shown in table No. IV.; and persons Assured for the Whole of Life upon that higher scale, will be entitled to receive their proportion of three-fourths of the Profits arising from all the Insurances of that class. The profits will be declared every seven years, but no Insurer will be entitled to participate therein until he has paid six annual Premiums—such profits may be appropriated, either as additions to the Sum Insured, or in diminution of the Annual Premium payable on the Policy, the Assurer making his election at the time the division of Profit is made.

Persons from any cause wishing to discontinue their Policies, may dispose of them to the Company at a fair price.

The Company make no charge for Entrance-money, nor for Policies beyond the amount of the Stamp.

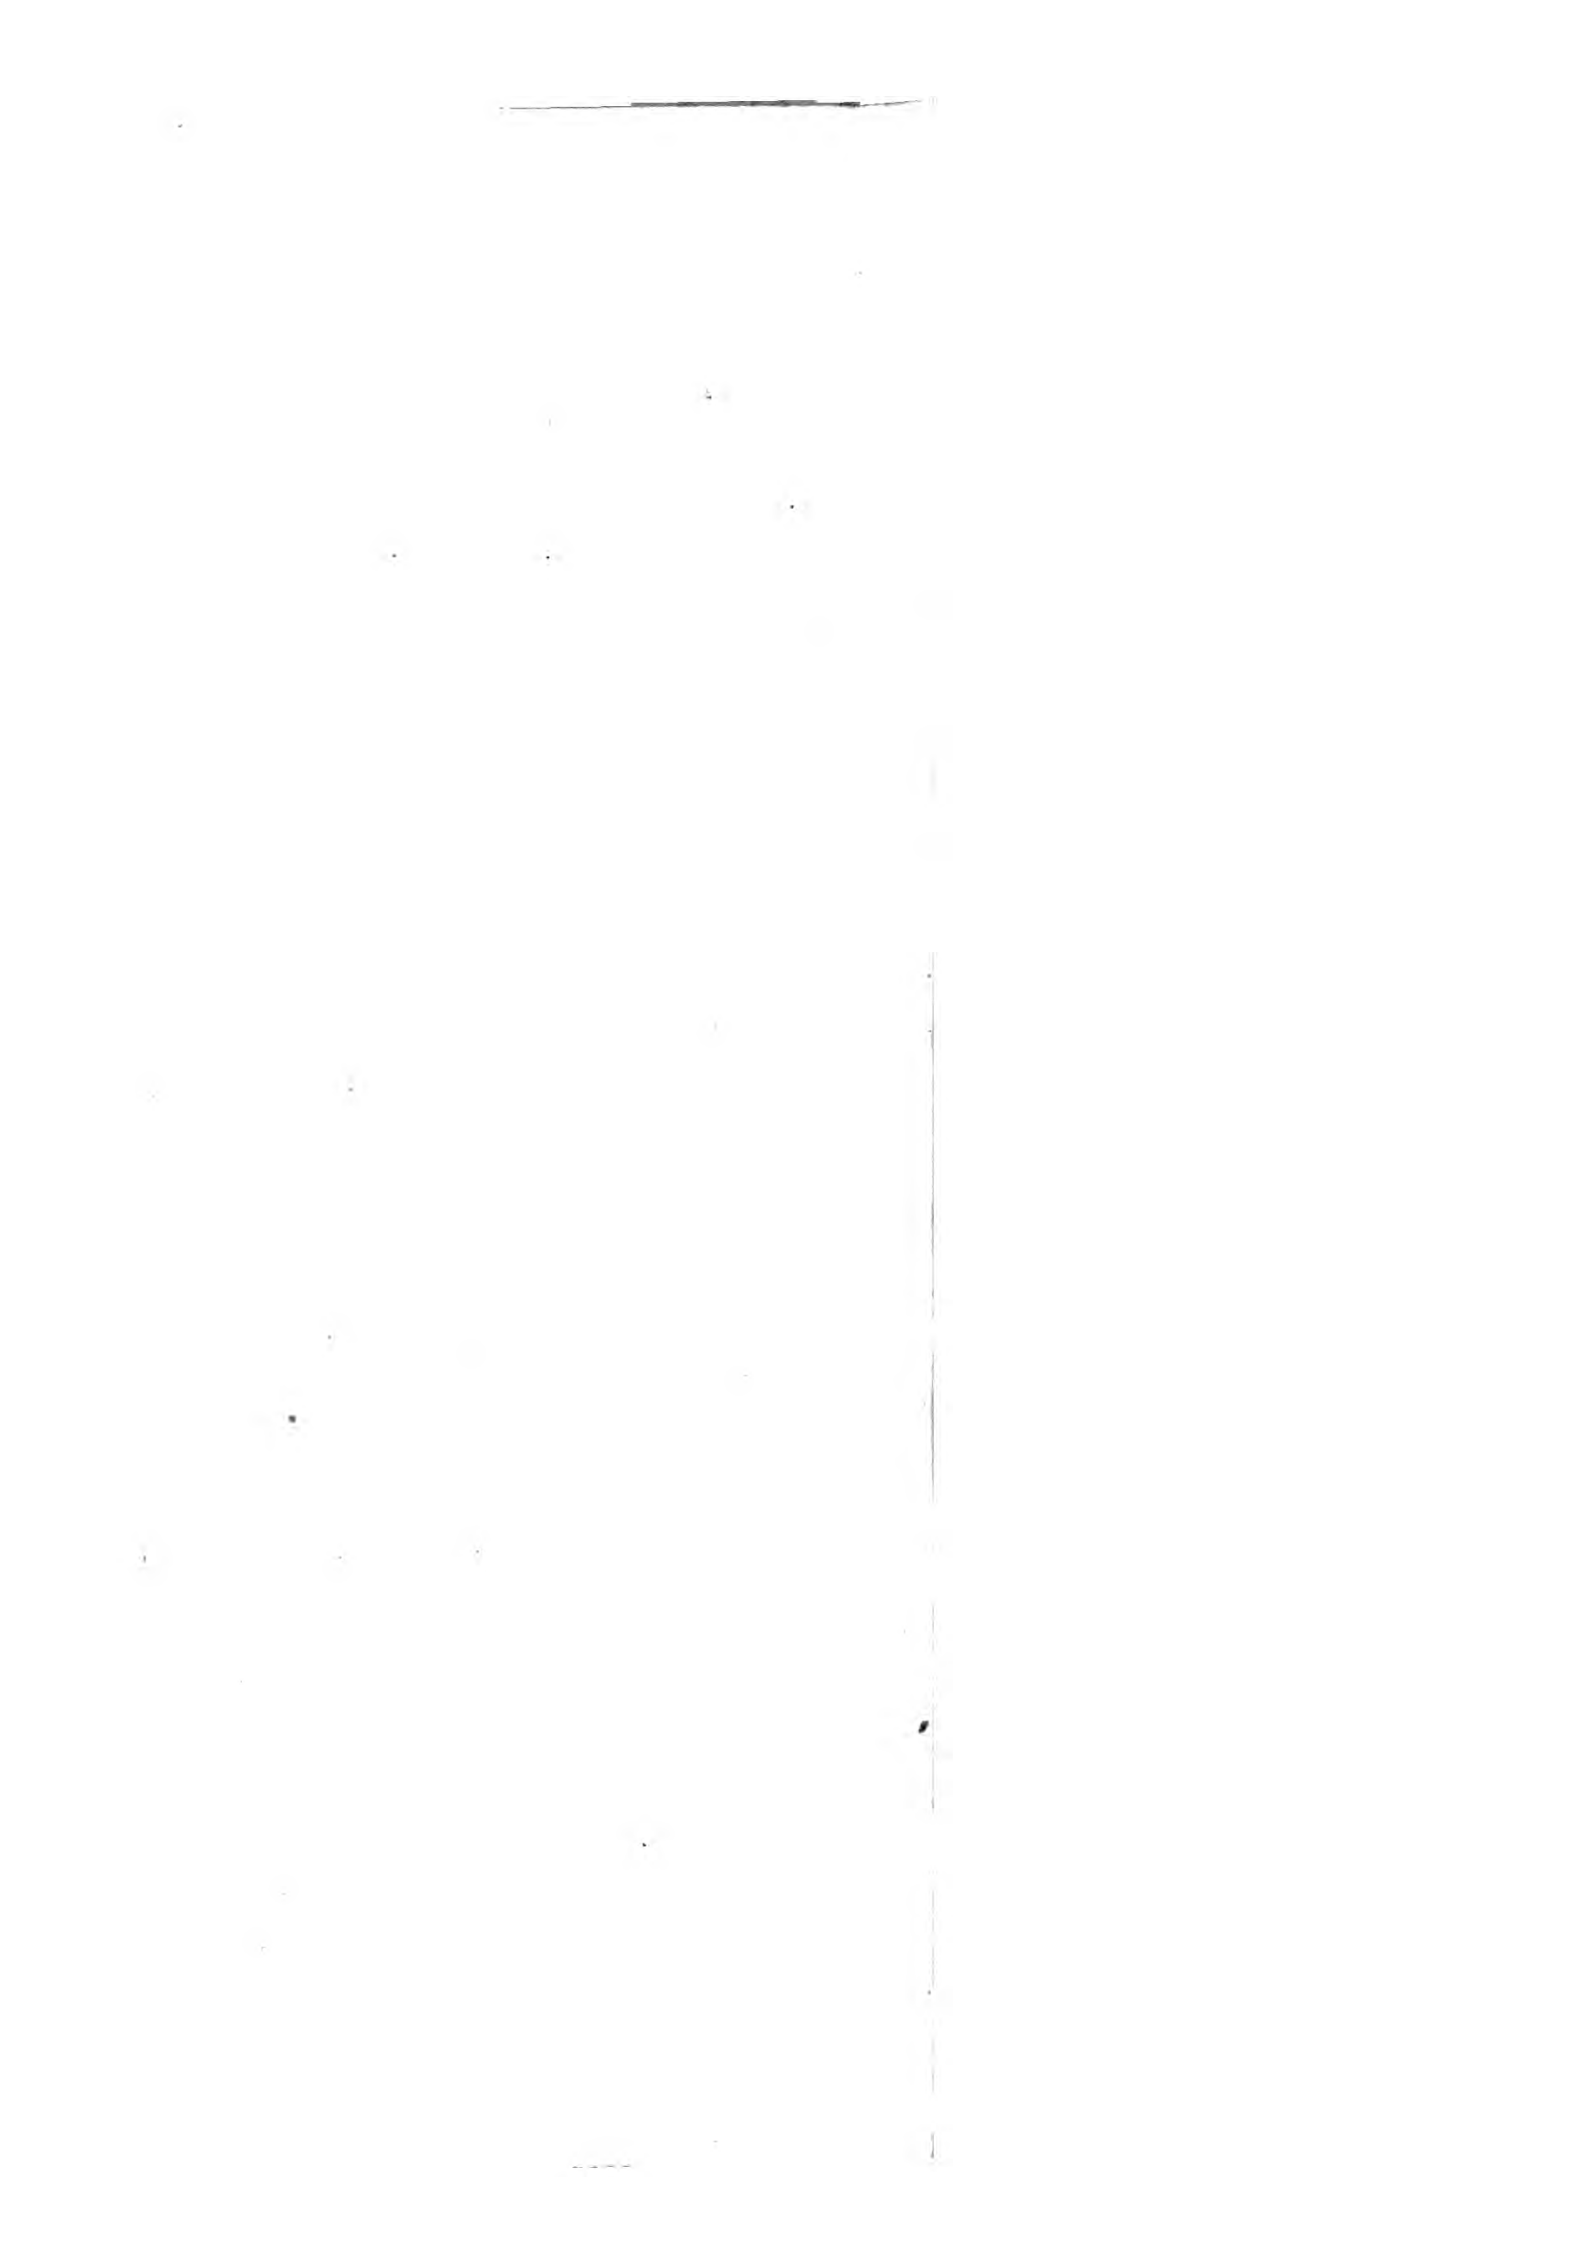

THE ENDOWMENT OF CHILDREN.—Children may be endowed, either by immediate or annual payments, for which the Child will receive a certain sum on attaining the age of 21.

PURCHASE OF ANNUITIES.—The Directors advance money on well-secured Annuity, either certain, or redeemable at a given notice, at the option of the Grantor.

SALE OF ANNUITIES.—To persons desirous of increasing their income by the purchase of Annuity, Annuities are granted on terms which may be learned on application at the Office.

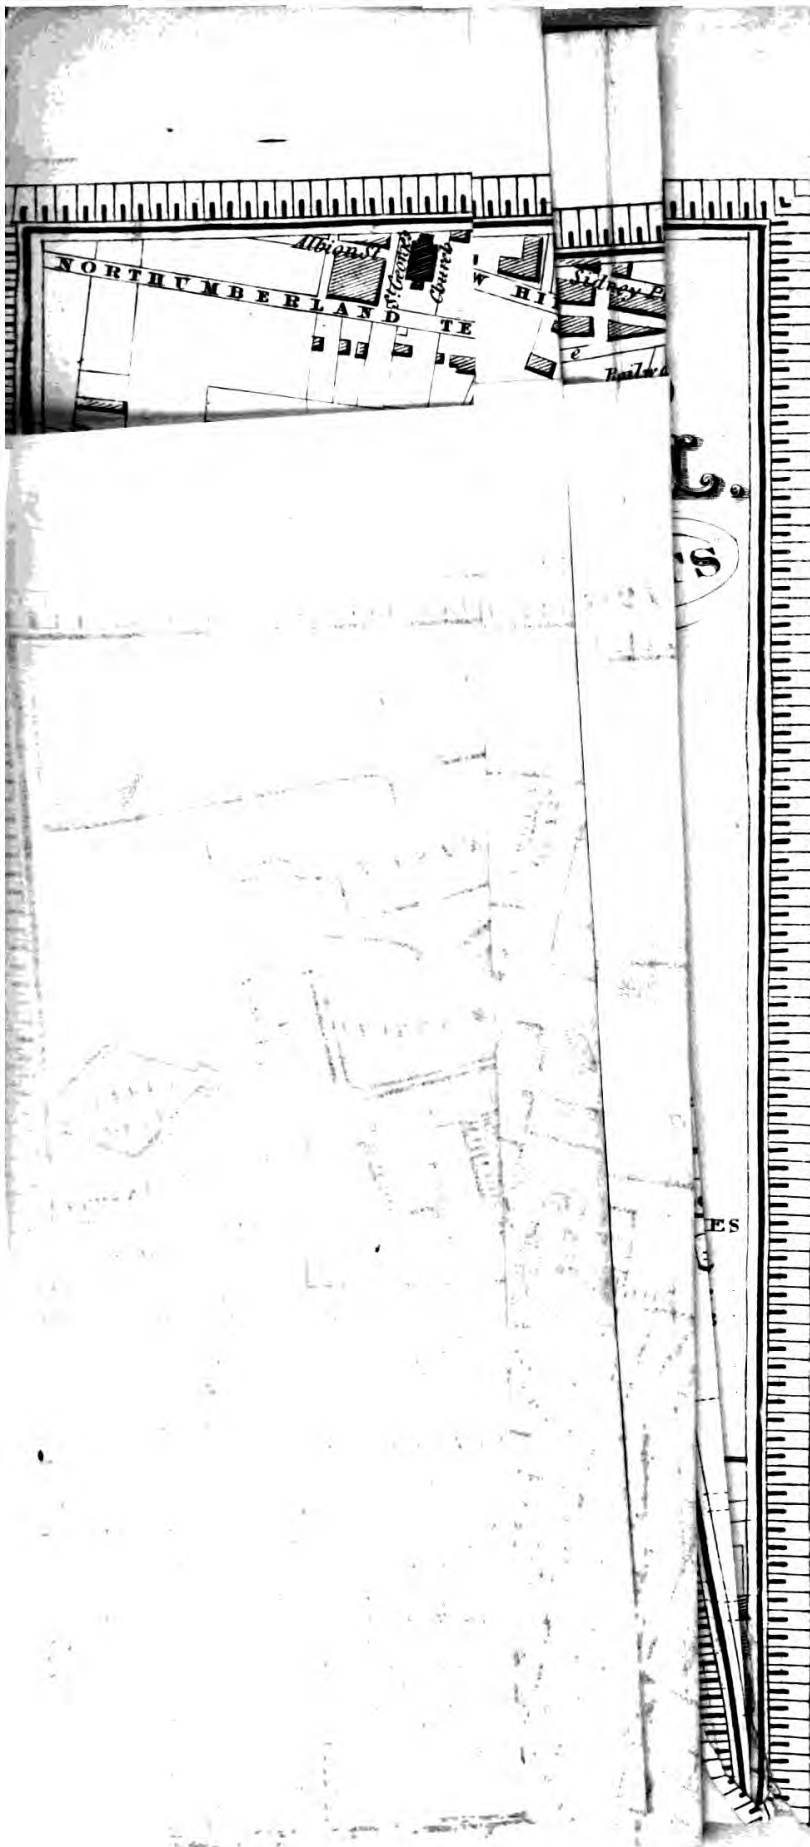

The very moderate premiums charged by this Company, afford great advantages to those parties Insuring with them.

LIVERPOOL.

THE first mention found of the spot where the Town now stands is in the deeds of estates between the Ribble and the Mersey, then belonging to ROGER of POICTIERS. CAMDEN states that this feudal chief was Lord of the Honor of Lancaster, and built a castle there, the government of which he bestowed upon VIVIAN DE MOLYNEUX. Charters were afterwards granted from the crown, in 1207, by John, and, in 1229, by Henry III. By this last charter, for a fine of ten marks, the town was vested with corporate rights; made a free borough for ever, with a merchant guild, and allowed other valuable liberties. Its privileges were further enlarged by succeeding kings; the town, however, did not keep pace with its facilities and immunities, or if it had made a progression towards eminence, it suffered a severe relapse; for we find the inhabitants in 1570, petitioning Queen Elizabeth to be exempted from a subsidy, and styling themselves of her Majesty's decayed town of Liverpool. Decayed indeed it must have been, for in the number of inhabitants, and the trifling nature of its trade, it presented nothing but the materiel of a paltry fishing town. It remained in a state of comparative obscurity for years after, and the eye of the historian cannot be said to rest upon it till its investment by Prince Rupert in 1644, when it capitulated to that General after a protracted siege. In 1699, an Act of parliament was obtained for building a new Church, and erecting it into a Parish; other favourable enactments followed; still its trade continued moderate, and the opening of the eighteenth century saw it in the possession of but a small share of Foreign commerce; for the tonnage of all the vessels, Foreign and English, which then cleared from the British ports, was but 190,533 tons; of this number Liverpool could have had but a small portion, for in 1709, her clearances of British and Foreign ships amounted to no more than 12,636 tons, or in proportion to those of Great Britain as 1 to the decimal 22,888 of these clearances. 270 tons were the amount of all the Foreign ships that traded to her port, while that of all England were 45,625 tons, making the Foreign trade of Liverpool, in proportion to that of the whole kingdom, as 1 to the decimal 164,711; clear evidence of the inferiority thus adverted to. In this state was the commerce of Liverpool at the beginning of the last century—moderate and unpretending, and contributing more to the support of its inhabitants than to the increase of their fortunes. Their little attempts at the West India and American markets were, however, in some small degree successful, and the encouragements they received in such adventures emboldened them to proceed further in the race. Bristol had given them an example they were more willing than able to imitate. They saw their inability to rival it in such articles as at that time made a Bristol consignment acceptable to the white inhabitants of the Islands. Their proximity to Ireland, however, led them to an exportation of provisions, and although in the article of dry goods they were far from being on a par with Bristol, yet they found they could procure from Scotland, checks, handkerchiefs, and osnaburghs, for the ordinary demands of the plantations; which, together with some little apparel and secondary articles, enabled them to freight a few vessels, and support an humble endeavour at that lucrative trade which then held out so much encouragement. Bristol, however, continued to find the German coarse goods always preferred to the ordinary Scotch checks and osnaburghs, which then filled the Liverpool invoice, and consequently her pre-eminence remained unassailed. Liverpool would have perhaps continued for a series of years in this restricted line of trade, had not MANCHESTER at this time began to rise into considerable importance. Her industry being stimulated by necessity, and encouraged by success, produced fabrics, which almost at once gave to British superiority a decided preference in the West India market.—

ii.

The Liverpool commerce, as the great port of the district, was of course increased, and consequently, the trade of Bristol has considerably diminished. The supply of the Spanish colonies with goods was the next effort of her enterprise, and this trade, with the former, soon gave her high commercial station, by accumulations of wealth. Bristol finding herself thus rivalled, looked out for other occupations for her energies and capital, and on the abrogation of the charter of the African, and the partial expiration of the Assiento Company, entered largely into the African trade. In this, however, they were soon imitated, and again compelled to follow in the wake of the "good old town." This trade was found to be most lucrative, and to wonderfully advance the wealth and revenue of the port: it was not, however, of long continuance, a prohibitory act having been passed by the legislature in 1806.—When a "new world was called into existence to balance the account of the old," she was not backward to take advantage of the new order of things. She was among the first to enter spiritedly into the East India trade, and considerably extended the sphere of her operations. In common, therefore, with all the other towns in the empire, she at present directs her attention to China and our vast possessions in the East.

With this rapid sketch of the early history and precipitate advance of the "good old town," we hasten to direct attention to the present state, wealth, and importance, of the second port in the British Empire.

LIVERPOOL is situated on the north-west coast of England, in 53 degrees 22 minutes 30 seconds of northern latitude, and 2 degrees 57 minutes of western longitude from the meridian of London. It lies on the south-west side of the County Palatine of Lancaster, and is bounded on the north by the township of Kirkdale, on the west by the river Mersey, on the south by Toxteth Park, and on the east by Lowhill and Everton. Its extent is considerable, forming an area of 2202 acres within the boundaries; but the population, spreading on every side, has caused a long succession of new streets. The climate is healthful, and the temperature a happy admixture of heat and cold. It is partially screened from the severe easterly winds in winter, and the refreshing sea breeze from the west, frequently allays the excessive warmth of summer. The transitions from heat to cold are frequent and sudden, and its air partakes of a greater moisture than in more elevated situations. Copious exhalations from the Irish sea, formed into low clouds, and carried along by the stream of air attending the flowing tides, frequently water the banks of the Dee and Mersey, without extending further, which may account for the quantities of rain that fall here. The humidity of the atmosphere often occasions thick fogs and dark weather in the winter season; but this humidity is serviceable in spring and summer, by affording moisture proper for vegetation to the sandy soil of part of the surrounding country, which would otherwise suffer considerably by drought. The sea air renders the town so healthful, that epidemic diseases are generally unknown. The effects of the winds upon the state of the weather may be classed as follow: the north winds are turbulent and strong, the southern productive of rain, the easterly often accompanying a serene sky, and the severest cold usually comes with a north or north-east wind.

The River Mersey, the key of the Liverpool commerce, and the great contributor to its wealth, originally divided the kingdoms of Northumberland and Mercia, but now marks the boundary of Lancashire and Cheshire. It is formed from the confluence of several small rivers that unite at Stockport, and, taking a south-westerly direction, becomes available for navigation at the spot where it receives the Irwell, in the parish of Flixton, about nine miles below Manchester; then flowing past Warrington, it expands below Runcorn into a spacious estuary, and at Liverpool, might be considered an arm of the sea, from its proximity to St. George's Channel and the Atlantic. Its breadth, at high water, from Seacombe Point to the opposite shore, is 1200 yards, and 1500 in another direction. The distance from the town round the Rock Point does not exceed a league, by the Rock Channel. If the passage is preferred by Formby Channel, the distance is about four leagues to the Spit, at one league from which you are clear of the sands; so that the greatest distance is not more than five leagues, which, with a moderate south-easterly wind, will bring a vessel into the open sea, and on her direct voyage, in a few hours, and not liable to those retardations so common to London and other cities, where the maritime seat of trade is distant from the main ocean. The tides are subject to such variations, depend so much upon the moon's distance from the earth, and the state of the winds, that perfect accuracy in their calculations can never be completely relied on. The following, however, will be found to be nearly their state in this river: in spring tides, which are at their greatest height three or four days after full moon, the water rises about thirty feet, and in neap tides, which are lowest after the first and third quarter of the moon, about fifteen feet. For the first two or three days after the full and change, the daily difference of time, including two tides, is at a medium about thirty-five minutes at the mean; between spring and neap, it is fifty minutes three seconds; about two or three days before quarter day, it is upwards of an hour; and after that time the daily difference increases; so that there will often be the difference of above fifty minutes for each tide, till about three days before the full and change, when it gradually returns towards the mean point. From the beginning of May to the beginning of November the night tide rises highest, and from November to May the day tide rises highest, sometimes with a difference of two feet.

Few ports afford such facilities for shipping as Liverpool. The number and magnitude of its Docks, would alone give it a distinguished pre-eminence. They cover an immense extent, and have most spacious quays in front, to give room for loading and unloading, and to afford accommodation to the crowds that daily congregate about them. The entrances are formed by swivel-bridges, of a construction particularly calculated for the purposes for which they are intended. The dock-gates are formed not only for retaining the water, but also for regulating its depth according to the height of the tide, by means of sluices which can be opened at pleasure. The present range of docks, with their basins, although covering more than 70 acres, have been found insufficient, and new ones are now building, which will extend over thirty acres more. The docks are nine in number, and being at the south of the town, and "beginning at the beginning,"

The BRUNSWICK DOCK first salutes the eye, it is situated in Queen Anne-street South, and is principally intended for the use of shipping employed in the timber trade. The east and west sides measure each 420 yards, and the north and south ends extend 120 yards each.

The QUEEN'S DOCK cost £35,000 in its construction, and was opened on the 17th of April, 1796. Its gates are 42 feet wide, and over the entrance is a swivel-bridge. The length of the east side is 460 yards, and that of the west 435 yards. The north end measures 110 yards, and the south 90 yards. The quay affords every facility, and between it and the river, are Nos. 4 and 5 GRAVING DOCKS, each 170 yards in length, and presenting every facility for the repairing of ships.

The KING'S DOCK, from its contiguity to the King's Tobacco Warehouse, monopolizes all vessels that come freighted to the port with "Raleigh's favoured weed." It gives ample room for the purpose for which it was designed, its length being 270 yards, and its breadth 95, disclosing an area, including its passages, of 37,776 square yards. The gates are 42 feet wide, and 28 feet deep. At the north-west corner a FLOATING CHAPEL for seamen is moored, where divine service is performed every Sunday.

The DUKE'S DOCK owes its origin to the celebrated Duke of Bridgewater, who found it essential for the loading and unloading of his flats. The warehouses that adjoin it are most commodious, and are so constructed that cargoes can be received and vessels loaded without the articles of commerce being in the slightest degree exposed to the weather.

The SALTHOUSE DOCK is of irregular construction: its quay measures 759 yards in length, and the area and passages extend over 23,025 square yards. The gates are 34 feet wide and 23 deep. Vessels employed in the Levant, Irish, and Coasting trades, generally find accommodation here.

The CANNING DOCK (altered from Dry Dock on the 2d of May, 1832) has a fine quay of 500 yards in extent. The west side is 150 yards in length, the north end 64 yards, the east side 219 yards, and the south end 108 yards in length. On the west side are three Graving Docks for the repairing of vessels, &c. The vessels that occupy this dock are principally employed in the Coasting trade—Between the last-mentioned Graving Dock (No. 3) and George's Pierhead, the Manchester and Irwell Navigation Company have a small dock, called the MANCHESTER DOCK, for the reception of the flats employed in that extensive trade, by which a great portion of the production of Cheshire and the adjoining counties is brought to this town.

GEORGE'S DOCK commenced in 1767, and was finished in a few years after; it has been since considerably enlarged, being carried $21\frac{1}{2}$ yards further to the westward. At the south end it communicates with the Canning Dock by means of an entrance 110 yards long, the gates of which are 25 feet deep and 36 feet wide, and those at the north end are 29 feet deep and 42 feet wide. A magnificent pile of warehouses stands upon the east side, under which runs an extensive piazza for the accommodation of passengers.

The PRINCE'S DOCK, destined for the accommodation of the North American and India trades, is the pride of the commercial community, and from the solid, bold, and masterly style of its architecture, must be viewed with feelings of more than ordinary emotion. Its foundation stone was laid on the 17th May, 1816, and on the 19th July, 1821, its capacious gates were thrown open to "the wide spreading main." The day was a gala one, the coronation of Geo. IV. was celebrating in Liverpool, the trades lined the quays, the municipal authorities were present, and numbers of distinguished strangers testified by their animated looks the interest they took in the imposing ceremony. The first vessel admitted was the May, a Liverpool-built ship, whose entrance was announced by a salute of nineteen guns. The length of the Prince's Dock, from north to south, is 500 yards, and the width, from east to west, 110 yards; containing an area of 54,000 square yards. The total expense has been estimated at £650,000. Its gates are 45 feet wide and 34 feet deep, with locks on each end. The whole dock is enclosed by a lofty brick wall, with gates at convenient distances. Along the west side a splendid parade appears, from which the most striking views of the river, shipping, and opposite coast of Cheshire, are obtained. It is a place of general resort, and the maritime subjects of all states may be found here during the hours of relaxation and pleasure.

The CLARENCE DOCK was opened on the 16th Sept. 1830, and consists of a principal dock, 250 yards long, and 150 yards wide, with a basin 160 yards by 100 yards, between it and the river, furnished with gates, by means of which vessels may be admitted inwards or outwards at half tide. This dock is intended for the exclusive accommodation of steam-packets belonging to the port. Other docks are in progress in the immediate neighbourhood of the Clarence Dock, which, when completed, it is presumed that Liverpool will be able to accommodate any influx of shipping.

A committee of twenty-one, deriving their powers from a special act of the legislature, is entrusted with the government of the docks, and the laws formed are found adequate to all the purposes for which they were designed. Fires are not suffered on board any of the vessels, and gunpowder, or any other combustible matter, is particularly interdicted. The internal economy of each dock is regulated by a dock master, whose business is to superintend the entrance or departure of ships, to appoint them situations for the receiving or discharging of their cargoes, and to see that the gates are properly attended to. A harbour master superintends the whole, so that complaints are seldom heard, and when made always receive prompt and immediate attention.—Bidston-hill, in Cheshire, which commands a most extensive prospect, is the signal-station of the town. Here numerous poles are erected, and the signals of the different merchants are hoisted when their vessels come in sight. A Code of Signals has been established by Mr. Hurry, the agent for Lloyd's, and a TELEGRAPH, under due direction, renders this department as perfect as any in the kingdom. Two Floating-light Ships are moored 15 miles from the entrance of the harbour; there is a brilliant revolving light at the end of the Cheshire peninsula, and, to guard against accidents, buoys and perches are placed at all the most necessary situations. Light-houses are also in their proper places, and every means employed to give necessary information to the mariner. A number of experienced pilots are in constant readiness for the aid of ships inward or outward bound, who are under due regulations—are as critically examined as those from the Trinity-house, and are chosen by a committee of merchants, who never hesitate to give rewards for extra skill and exertion. Two Batteries protect the entrance to the harbour; the one on the Cheshire coast is well situated to defend and to annoy.

The TOBACCO WAREHOUSES are situated on the west side of the King's Dock, and extend nearly the whole length of the quay. Their dimensions are 575 feet by 230, and the area inside the walls contains 2A. 1R. 25P. statute measure. They were erected by the Corporation, and are at present rented by the Government.

The LIVERPOOL BATHS are situated on the east side of George's Pier, and were opened for public accommodation on the 8th of June, 1829, and from their exterior appearance and interior conveniences, are worthy of particular commendation from the casual or critical observer. Their length in front is 239 feet, their breadth 87, and their altitude one story. The walls rusticated, are finished upwards by a cornice, surmounted by a parapet. The roof pro. jects to form two piazzas, and is supported by a colonade of eighteen columns and two pilasters; the principal entrances are at the north and south ends. The gentlemen's baths are behind the north colonade. The most extensive is quadrangular, and is 45 feet by 27. The landing is covered by a projecting roof sustained by iron columns, and reaches from the dressing-rooms to the baths, which are entered by steps at each end. The dressing-rooms are numerous, and handsomely fitted up. A spacious saloon leads to the private warm baths, which are constructed upon the most approved principle. In the south wing are the ladies' baths, of which the principal is 39 feet by 27: it is also of quadrangular shape, with a covered gallery and dressing-rooms adjoining. Four private and two cold baths are annexed to this branch of the establishment. A reservoir, capable of containing 800 tons of water, is immediately under the centre of the building, by which means an ample supply of salubrious element will be always at hand. An addition (for the purpose of placing a clock with an illuminated dial) has lately been made to the front, which adds much to the beauty of the whole, and, when lighted up, must be a great convenience in the night time.

The TOWN-HALL, and the edifices called the EXCHANGE-BUILDINGS, strike by their grandeur, and are both imposing in design and magnificent in execution. The latter takes the lead in the commercial buildings of the empire, and is styled, by way of eminence, the great architectural ornament of Liverpool. The area is 194 feet by 180, and contains 35,066 feet. The structure is formed by four inside façades or fronts, three of which adjoin to each other, and the other side is formed by the north front of the Town-hall, and thus an uniform quadrangle is exhibited. The building consists of a rusticated basement, with a piazza extending round the whole, and opening to the area by a series of rustic arches, between piers of much strength and some adornment. Two stories are above, ornamented with Corinthian pilasters, and surrounded with a bold cornice and parapet. In the centre, on the north side, resting on the basement, is a magnificent portico, with eight Corinthian columns of striking proportions. The façades of the east and west sides measure 131 feet 2½ inches along the plinths, and 55 feet 9 inches in height from the ground to the top of the balustrade. In the east wing is a News-room 94 feet by 52, supported by sixteen Ionic columns, which are so placed that a splendid colonade is formed in the middle of the room; 20 feet 9 inches, from the floor to the bottom of the architrave, is the admeasurement of each of the columns, including its capital. The walls are ornamented with sixteen pilasters, to correspond with the colonades. A Coffee-room adjoins. Above is another spacious room, occupied by the Underwriters, and conducted on the same plan as Lloyd's, in London. Both rooms are supplied with newspapers, lists, &c. of the day, and are generally crowded during the forenoon. In the centre of the Exchange area is a fine group of figures to commemorate the deeds of the hero of the Nile, the illustrious NELSON. They are of bronze, and of exquisite workmanship; the principal is the hero himself, with one foot resting on the body of a prostrate foe, and the other on a cannon, whilst, with a steadfast gaze on victory's smile, he is receiving a fourth naval crown on his sword, which is held in his left hand. The maimed limb is concealed by the enemies flag which victory is lowering to him, and under its folds Death is grasping at his victim, in intimation of his glorious fall in the arms of conquest. The other figures are in proper keeping, and in a moulding round the upper part of the pedestal on which they stand is inscribed, in letters of brass, the well-known charge, "ENGLAND EXPECTS EVERY MAN TO DO HIS DUTY." The monument was designed by Wyatt, and executed by Westmacott, at an expense of nine thousand pounds, which was collected in a few days. The Exchange-buildings were erected by John Foster, Esq. a native of the town, from designs by Wyatt, at a cost of £110,818, raised in 800 transferable shares of £100 each, and by other liens on the building. The Town-hall, at the north end of Castle-street, was executed after the designs of Wood, of Bath, an architect of rare talents, whose works in his own city (the royal crescent, &c.) exhibit the vigor and boldness of genius. From a well-proportioned basement, an elegant range of Corinthian columns and pilasters arises, between which are large windows, with circular heads supported by small Corinthian pilasters. The capitals of the columns are divided by tablets of bass relief, rich in various emblems of commerce. The portico in front is of comparative modern standing; is of the same style of architecture, with a bold pediment, which adds considerably to the effect. The interior was destroyed by fire, in 1795; but the manner in which the injury was repaired, leaves us less to regret the ravages of the destructive element. The principal entrance is by an arched door way. The entire height from the pavement to the centre of the dome, is 106 feet, and the whole is in the purest style of Grecian architecture. The principal story contains a suit of rooms, communicating with each other, gorgeously furnished, and ornamented with full-length portraits of Geo. III.

by Sir Thomas Lawrence; Geo. IV. when Prince of Wales, by Hopner; the Duke of York, by Phillips; and His present most Gracious Majesty, when Duke of Clarence, by Sir George Shee. A beautiful and well-executed statue, by Chantry, of the late Right Hon. George Canning is placed on the landing of the first flight of steps in the staircase. Spacious drawing and ball-rooms adjoin, all of which are fitted up in a style to receive the most brilliant assemblage. A colossal figure of Britannia, in a sitting posture, crowns the dome, and a circular gallery on the outside is frequently visited, which affords scope for a rich and varied prospect.

The SESSIONS HOUSE, situated between the westerly wing of the extensive building before alluded to, and Rumford-street, is in the plainest style of Grecian architecture, and extends in length on the east side 174 feet, in breadth at the north end 81 feet 3 inches, and on the south end 59 feet 2 inches. At the north or principal front there are two entrances, each having a winding staircase of 5 feet $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in width, leading to a saloon, the ceiling of which is supported by four pillars. From the saloon, which is 23 feet in width, by 17 feet 6 inches in length, entrance is obtained to a large room, used for the sittings of the Court of Quarter Sessions. This apartment is 61 feet 6 inches in length, and 39 feet in width; the upper end is fitted up for the use of the magistrates, barristers, jurors, and officers of the court: the prisoners' bar is near the centre of the room, and from it a communication leads to the cells below, from which there is an under-ground passage to Bridewell. The building was erected by the Corporation in 1828, at an expense of £19,312.

NEW CUSTOM-HOUSE.—Liverpool, notwithstanding the extent of its commerce, has at present but a mean and unsightly building for its Custom-house; a building every way inadequate for the purposes of trade. This was long felt as a reproach, and an edifice is now rearing which promises to yield to none in chasteness of design, vigour of execution, amplitude of room, and splendour of the tout en ensemble. The whole has been designed, and will be executed by John Foster, Esq. a gentleman to whose talents his native town is much indebted. The first stone was laid on the 12th August, 1828, by T. C. Porter, Esq. Mayor, on which occasion a splendid procession took place. The stone was placed in the north-east corner of what was formerly the Old Dock, and underneath were deposited several coins, plate, &c. amongst which were (in gold) a two sovereign piece, a one, and a half ditto, and (in silver) a crown piece, a half crown ditto, one shilling, and sixpence, (in copper) one penny, halfpenny, and a farthing. The works are now rapidly progressing to a conclusion.

The POST-OFFICE is situated in Post-office-place, Church-street, and possesses no architectural features worthy of an enlarged notice. Its internal arrangements are upon the most approved principle, and for all necessary information on the subject, the reader is referred to the appendix of the Liverpool Directory.

The CORN EXCHANGE, a modern building of plain Grecian architecture, is situated in Brunswick-street, and here the merchants engaged in the corn trade assemble three days in the week. It was erected by public subscription, and is conducted upon the same plan as the Exchange in Mark-lane, London. It is 114 feet long, by 60 feet wide.

The PUBLIC MARKETS are numerous and the supply of provisions fully commensurate with the demand. ST. JOHN'S MARKET, situated in Great Charlotte-street, is of great extent, and cost £35,000. It is roofed throughout in five ranges from end to end. There are thirty-six windows in two tiers, all the casements of which are upon spring centres. The length of the building is 182 yards, and its breadth 45 yards, forming a space of 8235 square yards, nearly two statute acres! The interior is one large well-formed hall, covered in, and divided into five avenues; the whole when lighted has a brilliant effect. ST. JAMES'S MARKET, at the south of the town, includes an area of 3000 square yards, is a structure plain, and commodiously fitted up with stalls, and from its position is found of considerable convenience to the extensive district which surrounds it. ST. MARTIN'S MARKET, Scotland-road, has two stone fronts, the façades are of the Doric order of architecture, with three portals, the principal one being adorned with pillars and pilasters that support an entablature which is surmounted by a magnificent pediment. The dimensions of the building, within the walls, exclusive of the garbage yard, &c. attached, are 213 feet long, by 135 wide, extending from Scotland-road to Bevington-bush. Like St. John's, the main building is covered in; with this evident advantage, however, that the fish-market is not included under the same roof, but situated to the south-west of it, with a yard, vault, and every other necessary convenience; thus, at once obviating that great objection to all our present markets, where the effluvia caused by fish being admitted into a covered area, is at once unwholesome and offensive. This building was erected, like the before-mentioned ones, by the Corporation, at a cost of about £12,000, and designed by their architect, John Foster, Esq. There are other extensive Markets besides those enumerated, all of which are more or less deserving of notice.

The CHURCHES and other Temples devoted to the service of religion in Liverpool are numerous, and many of them exhibit some fine specimens of architecture. The CHURCH of ST. NICHOLAS, on the banks of the Mersey, built on the site of a church, which was "in other days" the only place of worship in the town, and a chapel-of-ease under Walton till the close of the sixteenth century, when Liverpool was made a distinct parish. The body of the church presents none of the venerable features of antiquity, its architecture declares the hand of the modern, but the lower part of the old tower had the legible finger of time upon it. This was however taken down some years back, in consequence of its spire falling, by which several lives were lost, and a new one erected in the decorative Gothic style of architecture, surmounted by an open lantern, light and elegant, graceful and striking. The inside of the church is of recent adornment. It is lighted by six windows on each side, and the large one over the communion table is emblazoned with scriptural figures. The font is the principal bequest of antiquity; it is of marble, and its cover not unworthy the notice of those read in the language of the antique. The church dedicated to ST. PETER, in which the senior rector of Liverpool officiates, stands on the south side of Church-street, and is said to have been the first church built in Lancashire after the Reformation. The funds for its erection were imposed by assessment, and it was opened for divine service in 1704. It is not remarkable for the uniformity of its architecture. The tower towards the top is octangular, and ornamented at the angles with pinnacles each bearing a gilt vane. The interior of the church is plain and unadorned, if the altar be excepted, which exhibits a bold specimen of carving in oak, in the first excellence of the art. The east window is decorated with a representation of Saint Peter; a fine organ is placed at the west end of the church, with a gallery on each side, set specially apart for the accommodation of the children belonging to the Blue Coat Hospital.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH may be termed the local Cathedral, as it is here the municipal authorities attend divine worship, and here distinguished visitors usually resort. It is situated on the site of the old Castle, and was consecrated in 1732. It has however since undergone most important alterations, if indeed re-building can be justly described by so confined a term as alteration; for with the exception of the frame-work of the pews, gallery, and pulpit, the entire has been reared within the last fifteen years. The first stone of the present steeple was laid in 1819, and completed in a few years after; its base, which is rusticated is 30 feet square, and the entire height 214 feet. The body of the church is also rusticated and surmounted by a Doric entablature, on which rises an empanelled parapet. Six windows with circular heads are on each side, and the entrance door on the west side of the steeple is decorated with two pilasters of the same enduring style of architecture, which support an entablature and pediment. A square pedestal resting on the base, supports a portico of an octangular form, having eight Ionic columns placed opposite each of the angles, and crowned with a suitable entablature. Belfry windows occupy the spaces between the columns, which are surrounded with an architrave, and above these fixed in sunk panels, are the dials of the clock. The splendour of the Corinthian order next lends its aid, the tier of columns which surround the circular base of the spire being in that imposing style. They are eight in number, 21 feet in height, and 2 feet 1 inch in diameter, surmounted by a balustrade, which forms a circular gallery. The spire is plain, with oval openings for light, and terminates in a point. The interior of the church is striking, the pulpit, altar, and fronts of the galleries being mahogany, richly decorated with carved oak. The organ is of great compass, and the choir efficient.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH ranks amongst the first of modern Gothic structures. It at once arrests the eye of admiration by the boldness of the design, and the beauty of its execution. Its architect, John Foster, Esq. has been certainly most successful, and has reared a pile highly creditable to his talents. The entrance is grand and sweeping, and the elevation every way in accordance with the character of the building. The body of the church is 90 feet long, and 56 feet wide; and the chancel is 55 feet long, and 30 feet wide. The height of the ceiling of the centre aisle is 39 feet, and the side aisles and the chancel 32 feet. The idea of the design for the chancel was taken from the Beauchamp Chapel, at Warwick, which is considered one of the best specimens of the style. All is open from the ground to the ceiling, and from side to side, except where the two ranges of truly elegant pillars spring to support the principal roof, the panelling of which is characteristic of the building. The ceilings of the side aisles are in miniature cathedral style, called simple groining, divided by Gothic bands and rosettes. The fittings-up of the church are of Dutch oak. There are two pulpits, or rather, a reading-desk and a pulpit, one near each side of the arch separating the body of the church from the chancel.

ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH is situated at the bottom of Park-lane, and was consecrated in 1750. Its body consists of a rustic base, and two rows of windows, between which are Ionic pilasters, with a cornice and balustrade above, terminated with vases. The east end has a circular projection, which forms the chancel. The lower part of the steeple is quadrangular, furnished with windows ornamented with Corinthian columns, and a suitable balustrade. The spire, when complete, was 258 feet high; but on the 15th March, 1757, a violent gale curtailed it by about 42 feet: it was subsequently restored; but in 1822, considerable alarm was excited by its perceptible vibration, when it was ordered to be taken down. The chancel is panelled and adorned with fluted Corinthian pilasters. The columns rest on eight pedestals, which support a like number of Corinthian columns.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, a miniature imitation of Sir Christopher Wren's sublime chef d'œuvre, is situated in St. Paul's-square, at the north end of the town; was consecrated in 1769, and built at the expense of the public. A sweeping flight of steps lead to the several entrances. The top of the stone work is adorned with balustrades and vases, and an octangular base supports a lofty dome, that rises from the centre, and which is topped by a lantern, bearing a gilt ball and cross. The galleries are supported by brackets, inserted in the shafts of eight Ionic columns, which sustain the base of the dome.

TRINITY CHURCH, situate on the east side of St. Anne-street, was built at the expense of several individuals, and consecrated in 1792. It is a plain stone edifice, with a tower at the west end, which is adorned with vases.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH, situated in Great Richmond-street, was erected at the expense of two individuals; and opened for divine service in 1772. It is a plain building, not remarkable for architectural beauties.

ST. JAMES'S CHURCH, situated in Parliament-street, was opened for divine service in 1775; it was erected at the expense of several individuals. Its architecture is plain.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, situated near the Old Haymarket, was erected in the year 1784. The steeple is 123 feet high, is square, and decorated at the top with pinnacles. The interior of the church is plain, the pews in the gallery are rented, but those underneath are exclusively set apart for public accommodation.

CHRIST CHURCH, situated at the top of Hunter-street, was erected in the year 1797, by a private individual, at an expense of £21,000. It is built of brick, ornamented with stone. It has no tower, but a dome rises from the north end, from which the town, &c. are seen to advantage. The interior is fitted up with pews: two tiers of galleries run along three sides of the church, the upper ones containing four hundred free sittings, which are specially set apart for the use of the poor.

The CHURCH of the SCHOOL for the BLIND, situated in Duncan-street, is of the Doric order, and boasts of a portico, which is an exact copy of the portico of the temple of Jupiter Panhellenius, in the Island of Egina. The remaining external portions of the building are in perfect unison with the character of the portico, and the whole has a most imposing effect. The church is capable of containing 1000 persons.

ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH, originally licensed as a Protestant dissenting meeting-house, situated on the west side of Key-street, is a building humble in its pretensions, and possessing no features deserving of particular notice; which remarks are also applicable to ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, in Byrom-street, ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, in Grosvenor-street, and ST. DAVID'S CHURCH, in Brownlow-hill.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH, situated in Duke-street, was erected at an expense of £18,000, raised by public subscription. It is a plain brick building, with a square tower, adorned at the top with vases.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH, situated in the immediate neighbourhood of Great George-square, is a noble specimen of the Corinthian order of architecture. The west side is adorned with a portico, which is remarkable for its elegant proportions, and consists of ten entire and two half columns, surmounted by a fine entablature and pediment. The height of each is 31 feet 8 inches, and the length of the portico is 64 feet 7 inches. The spire is octangular, and is finished at the top with a capital. The total height of the steeple from the ground is 201 feet. In the church are 1306 sittings, of which 520 are free. The church was erected at an expense of £15,267 10s 6d, borne respectively by the Parish and Corporation of Liverpool.

ST. MARTIN'S CHURCH, situated on the north suburb, was planned and executed by John Foster, Esq. Its area is so extensive as to render it the largest religious structure in Liverpool. To it is attached a spacious burial ground, surrounded by a wall, lofty and solid. Each outward side is supported by a range of buttresses, disposed at equal distances, forming, at their extremities, pediments, which are ornamented by mouldings and crockets, and which terminate in pinnacles. The intervening windows, six in number, are in very excellent taste, surmounted by finely sculptured heads, and possessing a large portion of the customary adornments. The east presents a finely pointed window, on either side of which are two compartments, distinct from the nave or body of the church; the one forming a sort of vestibule, and the other allotted for the vestry room. In the body there are 90 seats—the centre ones, between the pillars, are allotted for the children of the free schools; and on both sides, six pews next the public entrances, together with the galleries, are open for the accommodation of the neighbouring poor. The choir is immediately over the centre of the gallery, adjoining to the tower.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH was erected by J. Gladstone, Esq. at an expense of £12,000; is situated in Renshaw-street.

ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH, in Hardman-street, also owes its origin to individual enterprise, having been built by Mr. John Cragg, at the cost of £12,000.

ST. CATHERINE'S CHURCH, on the east side of Abercromby-square, is a beautiful structure, recently erected from a design by Mr. Foster. The building is lighted from above. It was built at an expense of £10,000, raised by public subscription.

ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH, situate in the immediate neighbourhood of Upper-Parliament-street, is another modern structure, in the Grecian style of architecture. It has a fine portico of six columns, of 3 feet 3 inches in diameter, and in height 29 feet 4 inches. It is of the Ionic order. The accommodations are spacious, there being room for 1400 persons, including 400 sittings for the poor. Mr. Samuel Rowland was the architect.

ST. AUGUSTINE'S CHURCH, situate in Shaw-street, Everton, is a building of considerable magnitude. A circular gallery runs nearly all round the interior of the building, which, with the pews, can accommodate 1000 persons. The church is intended to form the centre of a square, which will be a great addition to that fashionable part of the town.

ST. JUDE'S CHURCH, Lowhill, has no tower, but four large square turrets, with lofty pinnacles. The windows are lancet, covered with arches, and having solid buttresses between them. The interior is 87 feet long, and 53 feet wide, having galleries on the north and south side, and affording accommodation for 600 persons.

The Dissenters are a numerous and most respectable body, and their Chapels are many, costly, and beautiful. [See list of Chapels, &c.]

CEMETERIES.—The Necropolis, established in 1824, at an expense of £8000, at Lowhill, contains about 24,000 superficial square yards, and from the manner in which it is laid out, is admirably suited for the solemn purpose for which it is intended.—St. James's Cemetery, top of Duke-street, is in design and execution unequalled. It is a most romantic spot, and must attract attention and rivet notice, whether we regard the novelty of the idea, the boldness of the design, the pertinence and mutual relations of the parts, or the admirable adaptation and commanding effect of the whole. The plan is novel, and the merit, it is understood, belongs exclusively to the architect, Mr. John Foster. The funds for the erection were raised by the disposal of fifteen hundred shares, at £10 each, and the ground, in their usual spirit of liberality, was presented to the Committee of management by the Corporation of Liverpool. The church or oratory of the cemetery is a correct specimen of an hypæthral temple of the Doric order. On either side of the door-way, in the interior of the building, and running at equable distance, in paralld lines, are Ionic pillars of cast iron, surmounted by capitals of the same metal, and of extreme elegance. The reading desk, placed at the extremity, remote from the entrance, a pavement tessellated, the vacancies behind the pillars traversed by pews, and a ceiling set off with pannelled enrichments, display the superiority of the model and the strictness of classical conformity. The Chaplain's house is a most suitable structure, and the Porter's lodge a neat and commodious dwelling. The grounds are laid out in proper and befitting style, and the slopes are extensively planted. The vaults are now becoming numerously tenanted, and in the midst of the principal plot of ground, rests all that is mortal of the once great Commercial Minister of the Empire—the Right Honourable William Huskisson.

The Institutions erected in Liverpool to aid the cause of suffering humanity, are numerous, and when the stranger contemplates the INFIRMARY, BLUE COAT HOSPITAL, LUNATIC ASYLUM, DISPENSARY, SCHOOL FOR THE INDIGENT BLIND, and LADIES' CHARITY, he will see that the finer impulses of our nature have not slumbered at the summons of distress.

The places of Public Amusement in Liverpool are numerous, the Reading-rooms extensive, the Scientific Institutions many, and the taste for literature progressing with considerably activity.

BOTANIC GARDENS.—These gardens are situated near Edge-hill, and occupy an extensive plot of ground, enclosed by a stone wall, with two lodges at the entrance, and a very spacious and well-constructed conservatory. Strangers obtain admittance by a note from any of the proprietors. In consequence of the number of houses by which the garden is surrounded, it was determined in 1831 to lay out new ground in a situation further in the country. Six acres have been purchased for this purpose in Edge-lane.—When this is completed, the present garden will be sold for building upon.

ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.—These gardens are situated in Derby-road, and were opened on the 27th May, 1833. The capabilities of the land, which are well known, have been turned to the very best advantage, and the style of the various buildings is beautifully in accordance with the different uses for which they are designed; indeed, in the whole of the arrangements a prevailing air of superior taste is obvious, and but a short time must elapse before they will rival, if not excel, their prototype in Regent's-park: as they now are, it is scarcely possible to imagine a more delightful or interesting place, being in every way capable of affording, either to the zoologist, the botanist, the admirer of nature and art, or to the general visitor, a never-failing fund of instruction and amusement. Amongst other buildings may be enumerated, an extensive aviary, a capacious bear-pit, a house for the eagles and other large birds, and a pheasantry. Since last year, the pond for the pelicans, swans, and other aquatic birds has been considerably enlarged; as likewise a great addition has been made to the stock of forest trees, shrubs, and flowers. A full military band is in attendance three days in the week for the summer season. The gardens are supported by subscribers, who enjoy the privilege of writing visitors' tickets, without which non-subscribers are not admitted.

The opening of the LIVERPOOL AND MANCHESTER RAILWAY will constitute an interesting and important æra in the annals of Liverpool, and be deemed a brilliant event in the achievements of science. The inhabitants of this town may recount with pride and pleasure, the circumstances connected with the developement of a vast and novel theatre for the display of commercial energy, the unshackled career of industry, and the employment of capital—the consummation of a stupendous and unprecedented national operation, originating in the honourable enterprise and indomitable zeal of their townsmen. The scientific mind may expatiate with pleasure on the perfection of a new momentum in promoting the intercourse of society, whereby the ordinary ideas of celerity, facility of communication, and distance, become totally changed. By it, fresh energy has been infused into the operations of the merchant, the manufacturer, the tradesman, and the traveller; and an extraordinary spring of irrepressible elasticity put in action, for the advancement of the beneficial operations of man. The subject was first entertained in 1822, in consequence of a communication from Mr. James, the engineer, to Mr. Sandars, of Liverpool, merchant, who being alive to the existing obstacles in the regular conveyance of goods, devoted considerable exertion to forward the proposed plan, at once guaranteed the preliminary expense of a survey, and advocated the undertaking in an address to the public. Eminent traders and capitalists were easily induced to engage in so promising and popular a speculation; and on the 20th May, 1824, a resolution was adopted to embody a company of proprietors, for the establishment of a double railway between Liverpool and Manchester. Mr. Lawrence, then Mayor of Liverpool, was appointed the chairman of a permanent committee. The plan was determined on, and Mr. George Stephenson was appointed engineer, and the survey commenced. A prospectus was issued by the committee, detailing their views, and furnishing a judiciously arranged exposé of the scheme.—The expense of the undertaking was estimated at £400,000, which was proposed to be raised by the allotment of 4000 shares, at £100 each. The time to be occupied in the carriage of goods was calculated at from four to five hours, a consideration of importance, when contrasted with the average time, (including the delays at wharfs) at thirty-six hours employed by water conveyance; and the charge was estimated at 10s per ton, which they put in competition with that of 15s, by the then usual mode: this set forth the immense profit which must have accrued thereby, by the astounding fact, that a share in the Old Quay Navigation Company, which originally cost £70, having been sold for the enormous sum of £1250. The draining of Chat Moss was commenced in June, and the first shaft of the Liverpool Tunnel was opened in September, 1826; but the operations on an undertaking of such magnitude, must have required a vast preliminary arrangement before a uniform course of action could take place. The immense preparation of an adequate number of waggons, implements, and other machinery, induced a considerable delay; accordingly the cutting and embanking were not commenced till July, 1827, when the work was fairly and spiritedly in action. That bold achievement of skill and indomitable labour and perseverance, the tunnel under Liverpool, was the first great object which engaged attention. It was carried forward both night and day during the year 1827; it was excavated in seven or eight separate lengths, and parties employed at each shaft pursuing the level towards each other. This noble work is throughout 22 feet wide, and 16 feet in height, and when viewed by the illumination of gas, may justly be pronounced one of the wonders of the age. Through this channel goods are brought from Wapping in the waggons to Edge-hill, by the power of fixed engines at that station, which waggons are subsequently attached to the locomotive engines on the open railroad, thence to Manchester. This conveyance takes place in two hours, and sometimes less, a celerity of movement never contemplated by the projectors of the work, but which was effected by the extraordinary powers developed by the locomotive engines, the perfection of which principle was induced by a spirited offer on the part of the directors, of £500, as a premium for the most effective engine. In September, 1830, the engineer witnessed the consummation of his labours, and it being determined that the whole would be opened on the 15th of that month, the directors were ambitious that the élite of the kingdom should be present on the occasion. Accordingly, invitations were forwarded to His Grace the Duke of Wellington, Prince Esterhazy, Count Potocki, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earls Cassillis, Glengall, Gower, Wilton, and Lauderdale; Viscounts Belgrave, Combermere, Grey, Ingestrie, Melbourne, and Sandon; the Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry; Lords Colville, Dacre, Delamere, F. L. Gower, Granville, Hill, Monson, Stanley, Skelmersdale, and Wharnccliffe; the Right Hons. C. Arbuthnot, J. Calcraft, and W. Huskisson; Sir J. Graham, Sir Robert Peel, Sir Samuel Scott, and Sir Jeffrey Wyatville; Gen. Gascoyne, Admiral White, W. W. Whitmore, Esq. M.P. John W. Patten, Esq. M.P. the Boroughreeves of Manchester and Salford, &c. &c. All the arrangements were on the most magnificent scale, and Wednesday morning witnessed the tide of population progressing towards those suburbs through which the procession would pass. The numbers congregated were immense, and popular expectation was excited to the highest pitch. At a quarter before ten, the Duke of Wellington entered the yard, supporting his noble hostess the Marchioness of Salisbury, and followed by the Marquis, Lord Hill, and other Noblemen and Gentlemen. He was greeted with the warmest regards, and ascended the car amid the general and enthusiastic salutations of the company, which he most gracefully acknowledged. The engines proceeded at a moderate speed towards Wavertree-lane, when, increased power having been added, they went forward with arrow-like swiftness. In a short time afterwards, the magnificent embankment between Broad-green and Roby was traversed, and the antique tower of Huyton Church, marked the velocity at which the procession was moving. Rainhill-bridge was soon neared, and the inclined plane at Sutton began to be ascended at a more slackened rate. The summit was soon gained, and twenty-four miles an hour became the maximum of speed. At a quarter before twelve o'clock, Sankey embankment and Warrington were in view. The viaduct and embankment particularly obtained the attention, and "magnificent!" "stupendous!" were heard frequently from his lips. The viaduct was rapidly passed, and the engines on the Kenyon embankment, and, at Parkfield, seventeen miles from Liverpool, they stopped to renew the feeders and take in a fresh supply of fuel.— Here, however, a most melancholy accident occurred, which threw a damp over the entire proceedings, and made a day of exultation one of deep and unmitigated distress. Several gentlemen descended from the different carriages, and after walking on the road for some moments were preparing to return. Amongst the number was the Right Honourable Representative for Liverpool; he approached that part at which Mrs. Huskisson was sitting, when he caught the eye of the Duke of Wellington. A recognition immediately followed, when the Duke extended his hand, which Mr. Huskisson advanced to take. While in the act of shaking hands, sounds announced the approach of the Rocket engine, on the opposite rail: a cry of danger was instantly raised, and Prince Esterhazy was helped into the carriage by Mr. Littleton, the member for Staffordshire. Mr. Huskisson remained outside, and several voices exclaimed “come in,” “take care, Mr. Huskisson.” The unfortunate gentleman became flurried, and rapidly caught hold of the door; but unhappily in endeavouring to ascend, he missed his footing, and either fell, or was thrown down by the door, and on falling to the ground, part of his person extended on the other rail, and the Rocket coming up at the instant, went over his leg and thigh, and fractured them in a most dreadful manner. The entire was the work of a moment. To portray the scene that followed would be impossible; Mrs. Huskisson uttered a scream of horror, and sunk apparently under her affliction. The sufferer was with difficulty raised, and being placed in a carriage proceeded, accompanied by Mrs. Huskisson and one or two friends, to the house of the Rev. Mr. Blackburne, the Vicar of Eccles, where every assistance was rendered him.—After a considerable delay, the engines were fastened and again began to move, the grand car being attached to the engine on the adjoining rail. No display was permitted, and the bugles ceased their sound. The crowds that cheered on either side met no kindred response, and no doubt felt much surprised at the apparent want of courtesy in those they were anxious to compliment. On their arrival at Manchester, the Duke did not leave his carriage, and at 37 minutes past four he set out on his return. He quitted six miles from Liverpool, for Childwall-hall, the seat of the Marquis of Salisbury. The procession to which he belonged arrived at the tunnel at seven o'clock.—Mr. Huskisson languished in great torments till twenty minutes past nine o'clock at night, when he breathed his last. Thus perished by a violent death, in the comparative vigor of life, a man whose name was associated with principles that will go down to posterity—whose wisdom enlightened the council, and whose eloquence illumined the senate. His loss was a public one. The Empire looked up to him, and the day, it was considered, was not far distant, when the helm of some important national department would have answered to his able guidance: his talents were of a commanding order, and the private excellence of his character, attached to him a circle of warm and devoted friends. To Liverpool his bereavement will be long and deeply felt—introduced to it by the lamented CANNING, he at once obtained the suffrages of an influential constituency, which he preserved by a high and honourable Parliamentary career. His bereaved widow was applied to, and she, acting under the influence of what she considered an imperative duty, consented that he should be interred in Liverpool; and accordingly, on the 24th September, a public funeral took place, which started from the Town-hall, the body having been previously brought there. The morning was scarcely matured, when Castle-street, Lord-street, Church-street, Bold-street, Slater-street, and Duke-street, were densely lined with immense congregated masses of people. The windows (with few exceptions) exhibited crowds of sympathising observers, principally clad in the habiliments of woe, and the roofs of the houses were covered with spectators of the mournful scene. Amongst the houses in Duke-street, that of John Bolton, Esq. appeared to be especially the house of mourning; all the windows were closed, and the blinds down. At eleven o'clock a piece of ordnance was discharged to announce that the movement of the procession had commenced. The procession was numerous, and the pall was borne by the most distinguished friends of the deceased. Having arrived at St. James's Cemetery, the place of sepulture, the burial service was read by the Rev. Jonathan Brooks. On the body being lowered into the vault another piece of ordnance was discharged. The entire procedure was most solemn and imposing.

The New Tunnel is intended to form a communication between the railway, near Edge-hill, and the central part of the town. Its termination is in the Old Cattle-market, in Lime-street, which the Railway Company have bought for the purpose of a station. This tunnel is larger in dimensions than the one in Wapping: its height is 20 feet, width 25 feet, and the length 6600 feet, or $1\frac{1}{4}$ miles. Considerable progress has been made in the excavation, and it is expected that portion of the work will be completed in the latter part of the present year. The Tunnel will be ready for the reception of Passengers in the succeeding Summer. When this is accomplished, the trains for passengers will proceed from Edge-hill, without delay, to Lime-street; and it is calculated that they will arrive at their destination in about the same time that is now occupied in reaching Crown-street, thus avoiding all the delay and inconvenience attending the omnibusses. The trains, as they proceed through the new tunnel, are to be brilliantly illuminated with portable gas. Arrangements have been made for bringing the passengers that may come by the Grand Junction Railway from London and Birmingham, to the station in Lime-street, and it is a subject of great advantage to these Companies, and of equal importance to the public, that a situation so central affords so many facilities for extension and enlargement.

The Warehousing System, which took its rise from the enactment of 1805, that allowed goods imported from foreign countries to be warehoused without the payment of the duty, has been long in full operation here, and warehouses have in consequence arisen in extent and number equal to the great important trade of the port.

The Customs of Liverpool form an important item in the national resources. Their increase has been rapid, and now average four millions sterling! a contribution which necessarily attaches to Liverpool a great importance in the eyes of the Empire.

In 1700, the inhabitants of the town were only 5145, in 1720 that number was doubled, in 1750 it was quadrupled, and in 1770 it was swelled to 34,050; in 1801 the number was 77,653; in 1811, 94,376; and in 1821, it increased to 118,972; and has since advanced rapidly, and according to the late returns, the population of Liverpool alone may be estimated at 165,221 souls! and, including the suburbs, at 205,974, exclusive of 10,000 seamen.

The Town is amply supplied with water, conveyed through pipes to the different dwellings from springs and spacious reservoirs. The manufactories of the town are not extensive. There are several works however in which trades are carried on incidental to sea ports, and the manufactories of watches and time-keepers, fine saws, earthenware, &c. employ numerous hands. Ship yards and roperies are extensive, and in the former a body of men are to be seen, "the Liverpool Shipwrights," whose skill and activity have given them the highest distinction. The Commercial Associations are numerous, and are found to be of great utility to the different branches of commerce under their protection. The principal are the East India Association, the Portugal, Brazil, South American and Mexican Association, the West India Association, the Ship-owners' Association, the American Chamber of Commerce, the British Chamber of Commerce, the Salt Association, the Underwriters' Association, and the Merchants' Seamen's Registry. There are eight Banks, and a Branch of the Bank of England here; the banking hours are from nine o'clock in the morning to three in the afternoon, except on Friday, the bank post day to London, when business is over by one o'clock. There are nine Newspapers published in Liverpool, whose circulation and patronage give them an extensive influence.

The Corporation is one of the most opulent bodies in the kingdom, and their extensive funds are most freely and liberally devoted to the public good. They possess a considerable portion of the fee-simple of the town, and their estate is rendered more and more productive by the skill and care displayed in its management. The Corporation consists of forty-one persons, a Mayor, Recorder, (who hold Courts of Session and Passage four times a year) two Bailiffs, Aldermen, and Common Council-men. The election of the Mayor and Bailiffs resides in the freemen at large, but the vacancies in the council are filled up by the members themselves. The Police of the town is effective and justice is daily administered at the Town-hall by the Mayor and other Magistrates.

Liverpool sends two Members to the Imperial Parliament. Its present representatives are William Ewart, Esq. and Lord Viscount Sandon. Mr. Canning was elected after a severe contest in 1812, and continued to sit in Parliament for the Borough, till his acceptance of the seals of the Foreign office in 1822, when he took leave of his constituents, who, although they hailed the advancement to a commanding place in his country's affairs, deeply lamented the separation from one, whom they regarded with pride and with honour. They participated in the general woe at his decease, and the genius of a Chantry, has given to Liverpool a monument to commemorate its connexion with him, whose name will hold a distinguished place in the annals of the Empire.

The extensive inland Navigation of Lancashire has contributed much to the present flourishing state of Liverpool. The Irwell and the Mersey Navigation, for which an act of parliament was obtained, opened rivers to commerce hitherto impenetrable. Other works, on a stupendous scale, were afterwards undertaken: the Sankey-Brook Navigation, the Duke of Bridgewater's Canals, and the communications between the Trent and the Mersey with the Leeds and Liverpool Canal, have each intimately connected opposite districts in a close affinity, based upon reciprocal interests.

The soil in and near Liverpool is dry and sandy for two miles round. The North Shore consists of barren sands for an extent of twenty miles. Between the town and villages to the eastward, fine dales appear, which afford excellent pasturage. The ground in the neighbourhood is well adapted for gardening, and the soil is peculiarly favourable for the growth of potatoes, which gives to Lancashire a character second only to Ireland.

The environs of Liverpool are studded with charming villages, and a marine one has lately arisen, that gives promise of another Brighton. The towns on the Cheshire side of the Mersey have rapidly gained in importance, and the facility of communication to them, attracts numerous visitors.

Such is Liverpool, starting as it were in a few years from the vale of necessity, to the brow of national commerce. Such is the wonderful place that called forth the lofty panegyric of an Erskine. "If I were capable of painting in words the impression Liverpool made in my imagination, it would form a beautiful picture indeed! I had before and often been at the principal seaports in this Island, and believing, that having seen Bristol and those other towns that justly pass for great ones, I had seen every thing in this great nation of navigators, on which a subject should pride himself. I own I was astonished and astounded, when, after passing a distant ferry and ascending a hill, I was told by my guide—'All you see spread out beneath you—that immense place which stands like another Venice upon the waters—which is intersected by those numerous docks—which glitter with those cheerful habitations of well-protected men—which is the busy seat of trade, and the gay scene of elegant amusements growing out of its prosperity—where there is the most cheerful face of industry—where there are riches overflowing, and every thing that can delight a man, who wishes to see the prosperity of a great community, and a great empire;—all this has been executed by the industry and well-disciplined management of a small number of men since you were a boy.'—I must have been a stick or a stone not to have been affected by such a picture."

Extracts from the several Acts of Parliament, together with the By-Laws relating to Masters of Vessels frequenting the Docks and Harbour of Liverpool.

Any owner, or master, or any person having the command, agency, or consignment of any vessel chargeable with dock duties, refusing to pay the same, is liable to have such vessel or goods seized.

Any person throwing any ballast or rubbish from out of any vessel upon any of the quays, &c. shall immediately cart or carry away the same; penalty 40s.

Every ship shall, before she comes within any of the piers, take down all her sails; penalty £5.

Any person having the charge of any vessel in any of the docks, refusing to remove the same, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, shall forfeit £20, and pay the expenses of removal by the water-bailiff.

Any person having the command of any vessel moored in the river, refusing to remove the same, when ordered by the water-bailiff, shall forfeit £20.

The master or other person having the command of any vessel from which any cannon or gun shall be fired whilst in the port, shall forfeit £10.

Any person making payment of dock duties, who refuses to answer such questions as shall be put to him by the collector, or give a false or untrue answer, shall forfeit £10.

Any master, &c. evading payment of the duties, shall forfeit and pay double the duties evaded; and by 53d Geo. III. a sum of £20 in addition thereto.

Whenever it shall be necessary, for the purpose of cleaning or repairing the docks, to remove the vessels lying therein, the master, mate, or other person taking the command of such vessel, shall, within three days after notice given, remove such ship from such dock, on pain of forfeiting £10.

Any master, &c. refusing to moor and remove the same in docks, according to the direction of the dock master, will forfeit £5, together with the costs of removal by the dock master.

Any master, &c. acting contrary to the direction of the dock master, will forfeit £20.

Any master, &c. entering and giving false information of the draught of water of any ship to any of the dock masters will forfeit £20.

Any master, &c. bringing the same into the entrance basins, when a signal is hoisted on the pier, at the entrance of such basin, signifying that such dock is full of vessels, will forfeit £20.

Any master, &c. bringing his vessel into any of the docks, contrary to the directions of the dock master, will forfeit £20.

Every master, or other person, damaging any of the dock gates, bridges, piers, quays, &c. is liable to have the ship seized and sold, to compensate for damage done.

Any person opening or shutting any of the dock gates, sluices, or clews, is liable to forfeit £100, or opening or shutting any draw-bridge, £20.

Any owner, &c. leaving gunpowder, pitch, tar, &c. or combustible matter of any kind, on the quays of the docks, &c. or upon the deck of any vessel lying in any of the docks, for above forty-eight hours after passing the custom-house officers, is liable to a penalty of 5s. an hour; or neglecting to watch such goods in the night time, to a penalty of £5.

Any master, or other person, having the command of any ship, suffering any fire, candles or lamp to be lighted and burning on board; penalty £10.

Any owner, &c. landing, or causing to be landed and laid, any pumps, boats, anchors, cables, limestones, &c. or other things whatsoever, upon any of the dock quays, shall within forty-eight hours wholly remove the same from off such quay, or shall forfeit 5s. per hour above the forty-eight.

Any person wilfully cutting, damaging, or destroying any cables, &c. by which any vessel in the river, or in any of the docks shall be fastened; penalty, £50.

Any person damaging or breaking any lamp, &c. set up near the docks; penalty for each lamp, £5.

Any master, or other person, having the command of any vessel about which any offence shall have been committed, in relation to any of the docks, &c. is liable to the penalty imposed for such offence.

Any owner or master of any ship or vessel giving or offering a bribe to any officer employed in pursuance of the dock acts; penalty £20.

Any owner, consignee or master of any vessel arriving and departing in ballast without payment of dock duties is liable to a sum equal to double the amount of dock duty which should have been paid, and the master liable to the penalty of £20 in addition.

Every master, &c. wilfully throwing, casting, or putting any earth, stones, rubbish, &c. out of any ship, &c. into any part of the port; penalty £50.

Any owner, &c. of any vessel laid up for sale, or which shall not be actually employed for two months, not removing the same within twenty-four hours' notice in writing from the harbour-master, or left on board; penalty £5, and costs of removal.

Any person discharging timber in any dock without having obtained the consent in writing of the chairman or deputy-chairman of the dock committee, or of some justice of the peace; penalty £10.

Any person having consent, not removing the same therefrom within twenty-four hours, liable to a fine of 5s. an hour.

Any person damaging any ship, &c. in any of the docks, &c. or in the river, and refusing to make a compensation, liable to have his goods or the tackle of the ship, &c. doing the damage, seized.

Any justice of the peace for the county of Chester or borough of Liverpool, upon complaint made to him, may summon persons to appear before him, and may fix the amount to be paid to boatmen and persons finding and taking possession of anchors, &c. in any part of the port of Liverpool.

Any person throwing, casting, or emptying any ballast, ashes, &c. out of any ship, &c. into the River Mersey, the Rock or Horse Channel, or Formby Channel, to the eastward of the Floating Light, or from any of the piers into the docks or basins, or into the River Mersey; penalty £10.

That every vessel laden with a cargo consisting solely of limestones, paving-stones, flintstones, gravel and chalk, shall be charged tonnage rates as if coming in ballast.

Every owner or master, &c. of any vessel arriving at or departing from the said port, shall produce to the collector, upon demand, at the time of making entry, all books, accounts, &c. in relation to such vessel, or which show the weights and quantities of the goods, &c. In case of dispute, such owner, &c. shall produce a statement in writing, to be verified by oath, and showing the actual weights and quantities of such goods, &c. or the accuracy of the said books, &c.

In case the master, &c. of any vessel from which rubbish, ballast, dirt, or other refuse of any kind, shall be landed, shall permit or suffer the same to be so landed or laid within three yards from the margin of any such dock or basin, or of the River Mersey, and shall not cause such rubbish, &c. to be wholly removed from off such quays, &c. within twenty-four hours after the same shall be so landed or laid; penalty £5.

Any owner, &c. of any boat or vessel, permitting gunpowder, exceeding ten pounds in weight, to be brought into any of the docks or basins, or any vessel or boat lying therein, without the previous consent in writing of a justice of the peace of the borough of Liverpool; penalty £100.

That upon due proof, on oath, to the satisfaction of any justice of the peace of the borough of Liverpool or county of Lancaster, that any dealer in marine stores, within the said borough or Toxteth-park, shall have been guilty of receiving stolen goods, or purchasing or receiving, &c. every such person shall forfeit £20 for the first offence, £30 for the second offence, and after conviction for such second offence, shall not carry on business as such dealer in marine stores within 200 yards from the margin or side of any dock or basin (exclusive of 40 yards prohibited by a former act) on pain of forfeiting the sum of £10, for every day he, she, or they shall carry on such trade or business.

In case any person or persons giving or accepting any bribe to or from any water-bailiff, harbour-master, &c. give information thereof, he or they shall be excused from the penalty of £20, imposed by the 51st Geo. III, for such offence, provided such information be given before any proceeding for punishing the said offence shall have commenced, or any information laid before any justice of the peace against such person in respect of the same.

Justices of the peace may, upon complaint made, summon parties and ascertain and award the amount of recompense for any services rendered by boatmen, &c. to vessels in the said docks or basins, and in case of non-payment, may levy the sum so awarded by distress.

BY-LAWS.

1. That the master, &c. who shall permit or suffer any pitch or tar, or any other combustible matter, to be boiled or heated for the use of such ship or vessel, either on board of such vessel, or within five yards of the same, shall forfeit 40s. for every offence.

2. That the master, &c. discharging or loading any cotton or other combustible goods on or from any of the quays, who shall permit or suffer any person or persons to smoke or burn tobacco, shall for each offence forfeit 20s.; and any other person or persons who shall burn or smoke tobacco, or any other thing, amongst cotton or any other combustible goods, lying and being on the quays, shall for each offence forfeit the like penalty of 20s.

3. That if the master, &c. shall bring the same into any of the docks, basins, or entrances, with loaded cannon or guns, with gunpowder on board, or when driven in by stress of weather, shall neglect immediately to discharge the same, or who shall take gunpowder on board, until clear of the docks and pierheads, shall forfeit £5.

4. That the master, &c. of any vessel, or any other person or persons whomsoever, who shall permit or suffer any rope from such vessel to be made fast to any chain-post or quay-fender, or any rope, chain or tackle of any description, to be made fast to any of the pillars of any iron or other shed on any of the quays, or to the roof or any other part of such shed, shall for every offence forfeit 40s.

5. That the master, &c. of any vessel lying within or up to any of the docks, basins, &c. who shall suffer any ballast, &c. to be taken on board such vessel, or thrown, discharged, or carried out of the same, without having a canvass nailed to the ship's side, or some other safeguard from falling into any such docks or basins, shall for every offence forfeit the sum of 40s.

6. That the master, &c. of any ship or vessel lying in any of the said docks or basins, or the entrances to the same, who shall suffer any repairs to be done to the outsides of such vessels, without having a canvass or some other safeguard secured from the side of such vessel, and placed or fixed so as to prevent any chips or pieces of wood from falling into the said docks or basins during the whole of such work or repairs, shall for every offence forfeit 40s.

7. That the master, &c. of any vessel lying or being within any of the docks, &c. who shall not cause all ballast, &c. discharged from or to be laden on board of any vessel, to be thrown at least five feet from the edge of the quay, or on the outsides of the cart or chain-posts of the said quay and taken away immediately, shall for every offence forfeit 40s.

8. That the master, &c. or other person having the charge or command of any vessel lying within any of the docks or basins, shall have a shipkeeper on deck to attend the vessel every tide, at least two hours before the time of high water, and one hour after high water, under the penalty of 10s.

9. That the master, &c. of any vessel, when hauling into or out of the docks or basins, &c. shall (except when any such vessel be driven by stress of weather) have the yards a-peak, and the sprit-sail yard fore and aft, and the jib-boom run in, within three feet from the cap, if practicable; and after any such vessel shall be brought into any dock or basin, shall have the anchors got in on the fore-castle or deck, and shall have the steering-sail booms and irons taken off from the yards, and shall have the main or mizzen booms and the stern or quarter davits rigged in, within twenty-four hours, under the penalty of 40s.

10. That the master or other person having the command of any vessel, who shall, by negligence or otherwise, leave an anchor in the entrance to any of the docks, or upon the strand of the river, without a buoy, for a longer period than one tide, shall for every offence forfeit £5.

11. That the owner, &c. of any vessel who shall refuse to strike the topgallant masts and yards of every such vessel entering any of the repairing or graving docks, shall forfeit £5.

12. That the owner or driver of any cart, &c. or any other person or persons who shall draw, or cause, or permit, or suffer to be drawn upon or over any of the dock bridges, any anchors, barks, &c. shall for every offence forfeit 40s.

Every day, two hours before high water, a bell will be rung for one minute at each dock, when every shipkeeper is to make his appearance on the deck of his vessel, or incur the penalty of 40s.

All merchants and other owners or agents of ships and vessels trading to the port of Liverpool, will be required to enter the names of such vessels, their draught of water, and the date of their arrival at the port of Liverpool, together with the name of the dock into which they are intended to be brought, in a book kept for that purpose in the office of the Harbour-master, in Trentham-street. And all vessels will thereafter be admitted into the said docks or basins in the order only in which they shall be so entered; except when vessels are prevented entering the docks in their regular turn by want of sufficient water, in which cases lighter vessels will be allowed to enter the docks out of their regular turn, provided space be reserved for the accommodation of such heavier vessels when the tides will admit of their entrance.

All vessels are allowed to enter the docks when signals are not hoisted at the respective pierheads, notwithstanding the late regulation requiring all vessels to be registered at this office. But all owners, masters, and consignees, are nevertheless recommended to register their vessels as expeditiously as possible, in order the better to secure their right of turn to accommodation at the dock quays.

The signals for the several docks will hereafter be as follows, viz. :—

FOR PRINCE'S DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier of the entrance into Prince's Dock-basin.

FOR GEORGE'S DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier of the entrance into George's Dock-basin.

FOR THE CANNING DOCK.—A Ball on the Pole of the last-mentioned signal.

FOR THE SALTHOUSE DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier of the entrance into the Dry-basin.

FOR THE KING'S DOCK.—A Flag on the North Pier of the entrance into the King's and Queen's-basin.

FOR THE QUEEN'S DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier of the entrance into the King's and Queen's Dock.

FOR THE QUEEN'S HALF-TIDE DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier of the entrance into Queen's basin, south.

FOR THE CLARENCE DOCK.—A Flag on the South Pier at the entrance of the Half-Tide basin.

For every progressive 50 Tons.

1. No vessel to be entered for the Repairing or Graving Docks before she arrives in the River Mersey, or in some of the Docks or Basins, nor for a more distant period than the spring tides that will happen within one month from the date of such entry.

2. All vessels intended for the Repairing or Graving Docks, shall be entered at the Harbour Master's Office, and pay one guinea entrance, specifying at the time of entry the spring she is to go in; and if she does not take her turn, the Graving Dock being ready and fit to receive her, the guinea to be forfeited. The guinea entrance to be allowed as part of the dockage, provided the money be paid within ten days after the bill is delivered, but if not so paid, the guinea to be forfeited.

3. No vessel shall be entered for admission into any of the Graving Docks for the purpose of being broken up therein, without the consent of the Dock Committee, to be signified in writing, under the hand of the Secretary for the time being; and in case the Master, Consignee, Owner or Owners of any vessel which may have been admitted into any of the Graving Docks, shall permit or suffer the same to be broken up therein without such consent as aforesaid having been obtained, he or they shall forfeit and pay the sum of Forty Shillings for each and every day on which such vessel, or any part thereof, shall remain in the Dock.

4. No changing of turns to be allowed, except in case of an outward-bound vessel having received damage by accident, and relief is to be given in such cases to vessels either inward or outward-bound, according to the judgment and by the authority of the Dock-master; but if it should not be in his power to settle with the parties, according to his own opinion of what may be right and proper, appeal must be made to the Chairman or Deputy-Chairman of the Dock Committee, whose determination shall be final.

5. Any vessel staying in the Docks above one Neap, or a longer time than entered for, must allow the Gates to be opened for other vessels to go out or in, as their turns or time may require.

6. The Dock-master shall appoint the Dock and Berth for each vessel, as may be most convenient for the general accommodation of the Docks and vessels; and he shall regulate all matters and things for the well-governing these Docks.

7. Ground Blocks and Horizontal Shores only are to be provided by the Docks; and if any of them are let-adrift, lost, or negligently or wilfully damaged the same must be made good by the Owners of the vessel that occasioned the loss or damage; the same to be estimated by the Dock-master.

8. Every person who shall cut, destroy, or be guilty of wilful or negligent injury to any of the blocks, shores, machines, stoves, water-cisterns, or pipes, pitch pots, cranes, tackle, or other appendages belonging to the said Repairing Docks; or shall, in particular, hereafter throw down heavy timber or other things upon the steps or stone works, instead of the sledges prepared for that purpose, shall not only make good the damage or injury they do, but shall over and above forfeit the sum of Ten Shillings. The damage to be computed and ascertained by the Dock-master.

9. The pitch pots and stoves will be heated at each Dock by a man appointed and paid for that purpose; but the Owner and Master of the vessel requiring the use of them, must provide fuel at their own expense.

10. The dockage must be immediately paid, (between the hours of ten and three o'clock) at the Dock Treasurer's Office, upon delivery of the bill of charge to the Owner, Master, or Consignee of the vessel; and no vessel is to be admitted into any of the Repairing or Graving Docks, whilst the dockage or any part thereof for any vessel belonging to the same Owner or Owners, Master or Consignee, is in arrear or remaining unpaid, and the deposit or deposits paid on entering such vessels in arrear, shall be forfeited to the said Trustees, if the money shall not be paid within ten days from the delivery of the bill for dockage.

Relative to the FERRY-BOATS, BOATMEN, &c.

That the following basins, stairs, and slips, be appropriated to the use of boats of different descriptions, plying or sailing on the river Mersey, in the port of Liverpool, viz.—The slip upon the north-side of George's Dock basin.—The slip or basin upon the west-side of George's Dock, called the Parade Slip.—The stairs at the west-ends of Nos 2 and 3 Graving Docks.—The stairs at the west-side of the King's Dock.—The basins and slips at the west-end of No. 1 Graving Dock.—All the slips within the Dock-basins.

That the owners of every ferry-boat, or other boat plying upon the river Mersey, shall enter at the Water-bailiff's Office the name of the master or principal boatman, with his residence, and the number and burthen of his boat, under the penalty of 40s.

The owner of every such boat shall have her number and master's name cut or painted in a conspicuous part of the boat, and in figures and letters at least two inches long, under the penalty of 40s.

No boat shall be suffered to take the ground within the distance of fifteen yards of any of the slips or stairs, so as to interrupt the boats sailing to or coming from the same, under the penalty of £5.

Every boat lying at the slip or stairs, not loading or discharging, shall be hauled off, to make room for other boats coming to land or take on board passengers, horses, carriages, cattle, corn, or other provisions, under a penalty of 40s.

Any boatman obstructing another in landing or taking on board any passengers, horses, carriages, cattle, corn, or provisions, shall forfeit 40s.

Any boatman being in a state of intoxication and attempting to work his boat, with any passengers on board, or who shall use any abusive language, or shall not keep his boat clean and in good condition, fit for the reception and carrying of passengers, shall forfeit 40s.

Any boatman refusing to obey the orders or directions of the Water-bailiff, or any of the Dock-masters, in their respective districts, shall for every offence forfeit £5.

No flat, sloop, or other vessel, not used for the purpose of carrying passengers, horses, or cattle, or plying for hire upon the river Mersey, to lie, or to anchor within fifteen yards of any of the slips and stairs before mentioned, under the penalty of £5.

Notice to Boatmen and Porters plying for Hire at the various Slips and Basins within the town.

That no owner of any boat plying for hire at any slip or basin, nor any boatman on board the same, shall cause, permit, or suffer his boat to come alongside of any steam-packet, or other packet, upon the arrival of the same, for the purpose of taking any passengers, parcels, goods or things therefrom; or for the purpose of taking persons from the shore on board the same, unless the owner of such boat, or such boatman shall have been called or employed by the owner of such steam-packet, or other packet, or by some passenger or other person for that purpose, under the penalty of 20s for each offence.

That in case any porter shall go on board any steam-packet, or other packet, within this port, for the purpose of carrying thereto or therefrom, any parcels, goods, or things whatsoever, not being called or employed for that purpose, or after any parcel, goods, or things, shall have been placed or landed on any quay, shall take up or remove the same without being called or employed for that purpose, he shall forfeit and pay for each offence, the sum of 10s.

The Act of Geo. IV.

Grants—Power to punish boatmen cutting or defacing buoy ropes.

Boatmen and other persons picking up anchors, cables, &c. to deposit the same in a place of safety, within forty-eight hours after being in their possession: penalty £10. Salvage to be fixed by a Justice of the Peace, whose decision shall be final. Boatmen not prevented from acting as porters by any person for the conveyance or carrying any luggage, or other goods, &c. conveyed or to be conveyed by any steam-packet, vessel, or boat.

FLOATING-LIGHT

AT THE ENTRANCE OF THE RIVER MERSEY.

Towards this light the following Rates are payable.—

All vessels sailing to and from Liverpool, to any port or place between Duncan's Bay-head and the Land's-end, on the west-side of Great Britain, and between Malling-head and Cape Clear on the east-side of Ireland, $\frac{1}{4}$ d $\frac{1}{2}$ ton.

All vessels sailing to or from Liverpool, to any port or place between Duncan's Bay-head and the Land's end, on the east and southern coast of Great Britain, and between Malling-head and Cape Clear on the west coast of Ireland, $\frac{1}{4}$ d $\frac{1}{2}$ ton.

All vessels sailing to or from Liverpool, to any port or place not being within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or the adjacent Islands to the northward of the Cape of Good Hope, and the northward of Cape Horn, 1d $\frac{1}{2}$ ton.

All vessels sailing to and from Liverpool, to any port or place to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, and the westward of Cape Horn, 2d $\frac{1}{2}$ ton.

Signal—In the day-time, from sunrise to sunset, a blue flag, with the letters N. W. in white, will be hoisted at the main-mast head; and in thick and foggy weather, either by night or day, a bell will be kept constantly ringing, to prevent vessels from running foul of the Light Vessel.

HACKNEY COACHES.

The following Rates, for the hire of Hackney Coaches, were determined upon at a General Quarter Sessions of the Borough, held 19th January, 1824, to commence on the 1st March, 1824.

For the fare or hire of every coach (carrying not more than four persons) or of a chaise, going a distance, not exceeding 1000 yards..... } s. d.
Exceeding 1000 yards, and not exceeding 1700 yards..... } 1 0
And for each 700 yards afterwards or any intermediate distance, the } 0 6 additional sum of

The hire of every coach and two horses by the day is 18s. and by the hour 2s. 6d. for the first hour, and 1s. 6d. for every subsequent hour. The hire of every car is 12s. per day, or 1s. 6d. for the first, and 1s. for every subsequent hour. But every driver of a coach or car has it in his option to be paid either by time or distance.

Where the fare for any coach or chariot shall amount to 4s. or upwards, or of any car to 3s. or upwards, it shall be at the option of the hirer to detain the coach, &c. to return in the same on payment of half fare, provided the coach be not detained more than one hour, and for which detention no additional sum shall be demanded.

If the coachman, in the course of his fare, be detained by the passengers at any place or places, above ten minutes in the whole, he shall receive 6d. above his fare.

Coachmen are allowed to charge double fare if employed after twelve at night, or before seven in the morning.

There are also several By-Laws for the regulations of the coachmen, which they are required to observe under the penalty of Ten Shillings for each offence.

APPARENTLY DROWNED PERSONS, &c.

The following are the methods recommended by the Royal Humane Society.

CAUTIONS.

1. Lose no time.—2. Avoid all rough usage.—3. Never hold the body up by the feet.—4. Nor roll the body on casks.—5. Nor rub the body with salt or spirits.—6. Nor inject tobacco-smoke or infusion of tobacco.

If apparently drowned, send quickly for Medical assistance, but do not delay the following means:—

I.—Convey the body carefully, with the head and shoulders supported in a raised position, to the nearest house.

II.—Strip the body and rub it dry; then wrap it in hot blankets, and place it in a warm bed in a warm chamber.

III.—Wipe and cleanse the mouth and nostrils.

IV.—In order to restore the natural warmth of the body:—

1. Move a heated covered warming-pan over the back and spine.
2. Put bladders or bottles of hot water, or heated bricks, to the pit of the stomach, the arm-pits, between the thighs, and to the soles of the feet.
3. Foment the body with hot flannels.
4. Immerse the body in a warm bath, as hot as the hand can bear without pain, as this is preferable to the other means for restoring warmth.
5. Rub the body briskly with the hand; do not, however, suspend the use of the other means at the same time.

V.—In order to restore breathing, introduce the pipe of a common bellows (where the apparatus of the Society is not at hand) into one nostril, carefully closing the other and the mouth; at the same time drawing downwards, and pushing gently backwards the upper part of the windpipe, to allow a more free admission of air: blow the bellows gently, in order to inflate the lungs, till the breast be a little raised; the mouth and nostrils should then be set free, and a moderate pressure made with the hand upon the chest. Repeat this process till life appear.

VI.—Electricity to be employed early by a medical assistant.

VII.—Inject into the stomach, by means of an elastic tube and syringe, half-a-pint of warm brandy and water, or wine and water.

VIII.—Apply sal-volatile or hartshorn to the nostrils.

If apparently Dead from intense Cold.

Rub the body with snow, ice, or cold water. Restore the warmth by slow degrees; and after some time, if necessary, employ the means recommended for the Drowned. In these accidents it is highly dangerous to apply heat too early.

If apparently Dead from Hanging.

In addition to the means recommended for the Drowned, Bleeding should early be employed by a medical assistant.

If apparently Dead from noxious Vapours, &c.

1. Remove the body into a cool fresh air.—2. Dash cold water on the neck, face, and breast, frequently.—3. If the body be cold, apply warmth, as recommended for the Drowned.—4. Use the means recommended for inflating the lungs in Direction V.—5. Let Electricity (particularly in accidents from lightning) be early employed by a medical assistant.

If apparently Dead from Intoxication.

Lay the body on a bed, with the head raised; remove the neckcloth, and loosen the clothes. Obtain instantly medical assistance, as the treatment must be regulated by the state of the patient: but in the mean time, apply cloths soaked in cold water to the head, and bottles of hot water, or hot bricks, to the calves of the legs and to the feet.

If apparently Dead from Apoplexy.

The patient should be placed in a cool air, and the clothes loosened, particularly about the neck and breast. Bleeding must be early employed by a medical assistant; the quantity regulated by the state of the pulse. Cloths soaked in cold water, spirits, or vinegar and water, should be kept applied to the head, which should be instantly shaved. All stimulants should be avoided. In cases of Coup-de-soliel, or strokes of the sun, the same means to be used as in Apoplexy.

General Observations.

On restoration to life, a tea-spoonful of warm water should be given; and then, if the power of swallowing be returned, small quantities of warm wine, or weak brandy and water, warm; the patient should be kept in bed, and a disposition to sleep encouraged, except in cases of apoplexy, intoxication, and coup-de-soliel. Great care is requisite to maintain the restored vital actions, and at the same time to prevent undue excitement.

The treatment recommended by the Society is to be persevered in for three or four hours. It is an erroneous opinion, that persons are irrecoverable because life does not soon make its appearance; and it is absurd to suppose that the body must not be meddled with or removed without the permission of a Coroner.

ANNALS OF LIVERPOOL, &c.

The Township of Liverpool is situated in the County Palatine of Lancaster.—Lat. 53. 22. 41. N. long. 2. 54. 15. W. from Greenwich. Observation taken by Lieut. Thomas Evans, R. N.—Station, St. Paul's Church, Liverpool. Distant from London 204 miles.

Extreme breadth.....	2300 ...
The longest line from Beacon's-gutter to Smithdown-lane	4600 ...
Its circumference	18600 ...
Or 6 miles and 100 yards.

Contains 1104 squares of 96 yards each, making 2160 acres.

It is a Borough Corporate; sends two Members to the Commons House of Parliament, the first in 1159, 5th Henry II. That Parliament granted the King 2d in the pound. The resident burghers of the cities of London and Bristol, and of Waterford and Wexford in Ireland, are free from all toll dues upon the importation of their merchandise into the port of Liverpool.

Its Fair-days are 25th July and 11th November. Ten days before and ten days after each Fair-day, a hand is exhibited in front of the Town-hall, which denotes protection—during which time, no person coming to or going from the town, on business connected with the Fair, can be arrested for debt within its liberties. Its markets are held on Wednesday and Saturday, and the Corn market on Tuesday, Friday, and Saturday.

660 Tradition informs us that St. Patrick this year sailed from the banks of the Mersey on his celebrated mission to Ireland, and suffered shipwreck at the Isle of Man.

1076 A baronial Castle, on the site of St. George's Church, built by Roger of Poitiers.—Taken down in 1721.

REGULATIONS FOR LICENSED PORTERS.

At a General Quarter Sessions for the Borough, held on the 28th June, in the fifth year of his late Majesty's reign, several By-Laws were enacted, ordering a certain number of Porters to be licensed, and fixing the rates which such Porters were authorised to demand. They also contain regulations for the government of the Porters, punishing them for non-compliance in the penalty of Ten Shillings: they require them not to take up luggage from any boat unless properly employed,—not to be insolent,—and not to refuse going an errand if disengaged. The following are the rates so fixed upon:

For any Errand or Message, either without Luggage or with Luggage, not exceeding 25lbs. weight, from any Steam-packet or other Packet or Ferry-boat, lying at any of the Slips or Stairs to the westward of the Canning Dock, George's Dock, or the Prince's Dock, to any part of Castle-street, or any place within the line of the east-side of such street, as marked in the Plan deposited in the Town Clerk's Office, not being further to the north than Queen-street, or the south, than the south-side of Canning-place, 6d. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 1s.

To any place within the above line, not being further to the north than Barton-street North, or to the south than Sparling-street, 9d. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 1s. 3d.

To any part within the above line, beyond Barton-street North, or Sparling-street, being within the borough, 1s. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 1s. 6d.

To the Waterloo Hotel, in Ranelagh-street, or any place within the line of such hotel, as marked in the said Plan, not being further to the north than the line of Adlington-street, or to the south than the north-end of Grenville-street, 1s. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 1s. 6d.

To any place within the above line, not being further to the north than Canning-street, or to the south than the boundary of the Town, 1s. 3d. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 2s.

To any other place within the borough, more to the east or south-east, or to the north-east or north, 1s. 6d. To ditto, with luggage exceeding 25lbs. weight, 2s.

And the like Rates of Portage shall be paid and payable only from any of the places above specified, to any Steam-packet or other Packet or Ferry-boat, lying at any of the said Slips or Stairs to the westward of the Canning Dock, George's Dock, or the Prince's Dock.

For any other Errand or Message within the borough, not exceeding the distance of 500 yards, without luggage or any article not exceeding 25lbs. weight, 6d. With ditto, exceeding such weight, 1s.

And so in proportion, the postage increasing progressively one penny for a single letter for every like excess of distance of 100 miles.

Guernsey and Jersey, 3d, by packet boats, over and above all other rates.

All double, treble, and other letters and packets whatever, (except by the penny post) pay in proportion to the respective rates of single letters; but no letter or packet to and from places within the kingdom of Great Britain, together with the contents thereof, is charged more than a treble letter, unless the same weigh more than one ounce, when it is rated as four single letters, and so in proportion for every quarter of an ounce above that weight, reckoning each quarter as a single letter.

Single letters from any seamen in his Majesty's navy, or from any serjeant, corporal, soldier, &c. in his Majesty's service, within any part of his Majesty's dominions, on his own private concern, only, are charged one penny each, to be paid when put into the post-office:—the name of the writer, his class or description, and the name of the ship, regiment, &c. must be given by himself, and the officer actually having the command must sign his name, and the name of the ship, regiment, &c. he commands.

Single letters to any seamen or soldier, &c. under the same restrictions, to pay one penny each, at the office where the letter is put in: to specify on the superscription, the class of the person, and the name of the ship or regiment, &c. to which he belongs; such letter not to be delivered to any person but the one to which it is directed, or to some person appointed to receive the same, under the hand-writing of his commanding officer.

Not to extend to commissioned or warrant officers, midshipmen, masters' mates, captains' clerks, or schoolmasters in the navy; or to commissioned or warrant officers in the army.

Officers endorsing letters, knowing them not to be on the private concerns of such seaman or soldier, under his command, to forfeit five pounds for every offence.

Officers endorsing letters of seamen, &c. not under their command, to forfeit five pounds.

Any person directing a letter to any seaman, &c. intended for another person, to forfeit five pounds.

Any person procuring any seaman, &c. to obtain the signature of his officer, which shall not be on his own private concern; or if any seaman, &c. obtain his officer's signature for any purpose contrary to what is here intended, each and every person so offending to forfeit five pounds.

One half of any of the above sums for the use of his Majesty, the other to the informer, recoverable before any justice of the peace where the offence is committed; in default of the payment, to be committed to the house of correction for any space not exceeding one month, or till the penalty be paid.

His Majesty's West India Islands, Gibraltar, Malta, North and South America, and the Continent of Europe:—

For letters conveyed by packet-boats, between Great Britain and any part of his Majesty's West India Islands, and North America	s. d.
Carthage, Mexico, and Cuba	2 3
La Guayra, in Colombia	3 1
St. Domingo	3 1
Gibraltar	2 3
Malta and the Mediterranean	2 11
Brazils, Buenos Ayres, and Rio de Janeiro, &c.	3 3
Madeira, Azores, Canary Islands, and Cape de Verd Island.....	3 7
Portugal	2 8
Spain, via France.....	2 7
France	2 11
Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, and Turkey	1 11
Holland and the Netherlands	2 8
Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Prussia, Russia, and all the North of Europe	2 1
.....	2 5

Letters for all foreign parts, except British America and the British West India Islands, must be paid for at the Post-office when put in, without which they cannot be forwarded. In default they are sent to the General Post-office where they are opened and re-directed back to the writers.

NEWSPAPERS SENT TO THE BRITISH COLONIES.

Newspapers and other printed Publications, liable to the Stamp Duties, and printed Votes and Proceedings in Parliament, may be sent to any of his Majesty's Colonies or Possessions beyond Seas, by the Packet-boats, upon the payment of one penny halfpenny for every such paper; such payment to be made at the time the paper is put into the Post-office, provided the same be sent in covers open at the sides, and be put into the Post-office in any town of Great Britain or Ireland, within seven days of publication.

Newspapers printed in the British Colonies and brought to Great Britain and Ireland by the Packets, in covers open at the sides, will be charged with a postage of threepence upon each paper.

FOREIGN POST NIGHTS.

For Jamaica, the Leeward Islands, North America, Carthage, and La Guayra, the Tuesday before the first Wednesday in each month.

For the Leeward Islands, Demerara, Jamaica, St. Domingo, Cuba, and Mexico, the Tuesday before the third Wednesday in each month.

For South America, Madeira, Gibraltar, and the Mediterranean, the Monday before the first Tuesday in each month.

For Portugal, every Monday.

For Spain, France, Italy, Sardinia, and Turkey, every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

For Holland, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Prussia, Denmark, and Russia, every Monday and Thursday. For Sweden, every Thursday.

The return of the Packets are calculated thus:—to Jamaica and back, 16 weeks; America, 12 weeks; Leeward Islands, 13 weeks; Malta, 14 weeks; Brazil, 20 weeks; Buenos Ayres, 22 weeks; Mexico, 18 weeks; Lisbon, 4 weeks.

From July to December inclusive, the Packet touches at Pernambuco and Bahia, on her outward passage to Rio de Janeiro; the other six months on her homeward passage.

Letters for places abroad, to which there are no Packets; as China, New South Wales, Sierra Leone, Cape Coast Castle, Goree, Senegal, St. Helena, and many parts of South America, are forwarded in sealed Ship Letter Bags, by vessels sailing from London or the Out Ports. The postage, which must be previously paid, is 1s. 9d.

MONEY-ORDER-OFFICE—To prevent the loss of money sent in letters by post, for which the Post-office is not accountable, and for the convenience of persons remitting small sums, not exceeding five guineas, a clerk attends at the Money-order-office, Post-office, from eleven in the morning until three in the afternoon, (Sunday excepted) to pay orders drawn upon the Postmaster, Liverpool, and to give orders payable at sight, on the Postmasters where the remittance is required to be paid, to any part of the United Kingdom.

The Clerks in waiting at the General Post-office, London, publish a daily and weekly statement of the sailings and arrivals of the Packets; also a general shipping and commercial list, with necessary information for the use of the mercantile world in their foreign correspondence.
