BRIGHTON AND HOVE DIRECTORY.

The borough of Brighton, in the county of Sussex, comprises the parishes of Brighton and Hove. It is distant from London by railway 50, and by road 51 miles. The borough consists of about 300 streets and squares, extending from east to west next the sea about 3 miles, and contained, at the census in 1841, 49,170 inhabitants, viz., Brighton 46,661, and Hove 2,509. The assessment to the Property and Assessed Taxes is nearly £300,000, and in its contribution to the Window-tax the town ranks third in the kingdom. The Income-tax assessment for real property in 1842 was—Brighton £257,967, Hove £29,651. Some idea of its extent and importance may be gathered from the fact that the lodging houses are computed to afford accommodation for above 30,000 visitors; the average number of whom, from the 1st May to the 1st February, is calculated as varying from 20,000 to 25,000. The borough of Brighton returns two members to Parliament.

The town of Brighton, which is co-extensive with the parish, is in the hundred of Whalesbone. It is governed by a body of commissioners, 112 in number, chosen under a local act for lighting, watching, and other municipal purposes, passed on the 22nd June, 1825 (6 Geo. IV.), by the £20 householders, one-seventh being elected annually, and the vacancies occasioned by death, non-attendance for six months, &c., being filled up at times directed by the body. The police consists of a chief officer, Mr. Thos. H. Chase, three superintendents, an inspector of hackney coaches, here called "flys," three inspectors, a night constable, and 50 men, appointed by and under the control of the commissioners. They are regulated by a police committee, chosen from the body of the commissioners, and the general control of the whole force is vested in the clerk to the commissioners (Lewis Slight, esq.) in cases of emergency, subject to the revision of the body of commissioners at their meetings. The high constable of the hundred of Whalesbone, and eight headboroughs appointed on Easter Tuesday at a Court Leet of the lord of the manor, the Earl of Abergavenny, also act occasionally for the preservation of the peace, in keeping public-houses in order, and on special occasions.

The parish of Hove, containing 720 acres and a population of 2,509, forms the western portion of the borough of Brighton. It is in the hundred of Preston; with Brunswick square, and the terraces adjoining the westernmost part of the town of Brighton, is governed by commissioners appointed by the £20 householders. The commissioners appoint their police for the square and terraces, independently of Brighton.

The parish of Brighton is only partially under the jurisdiction of the Poor Law Commissioners. The vicar of Brighton appoints one churchwarden, and the ratepayers elect two in vestry on Easter Monday. There are four overseers appointed by the magistrates. The parish funds are disbursed by a board of guardians, consisting of 30, elected by the ratepayers, with the vicar of the parish, the high constable of the hundred of Whalesbone, and the churchwardens and overseers as ex-officio members. The parish of Hove is in the Steyning union for Poor-law purposes. The magistrates of Brighton are the county magistrates of the Brighton petty sessional district, who hold petty sessions on Monday and Thursday, and one or more of whom sit daily. The petty sessional district comprises Brighton, Hove, Preston, and a few other adjacent parishes, and cases arising between seamen in Shoreham harbour, and requiring prompt magisterial interference, are taken by the Brighton bench, although the harbour is in the Steyning petty sessions district.

The town is built on the coast of a large bay formed by Beachey Head eastward, and Worthing Point westward. The Steyne, the Steyne Inclosures, St. Peters Inclosure, and the Level, are in a valley running north and south, up to the centre of the town. Hills rise east and west of this valley, forming portions of the South Downs, which also shelter the town on the north. From all these fine views are obtained of the English Channel and the low country westward, towards Shoreham and Worthing. In clear weather the Isle of Wight is also seen. The Steyne, which was formerly a piece of waste land used by the inhabitants for boat building, net making, and by the fishermen for drying their nets, has for many years been surrounded by handsome buildings, and is now a spacious and noble promenade. Through the spirited exertions of J. Cordy Burrows, Esq., a magnificent fountain has been erected here, and the Steyne also planted with trees and shrubs, much to the improvement of the centre of the town.

On the eastern side of the Steyne, the Inclosures, St. Peter's Church and the Level, are Pavilion Parade, Grand Parade, Richmond place, Waterloo place, Richmond terrace &

Hanover crescent, forming contiuuously the Lewes road; and Marlborough place, Gloucester place, St. Georges' place, York place, and London road are on the west.

The principal streets west of the Steyne are Castle square, East street, North street, New road, Ship street, Middle street, West street, Preston street, Montpelier road, Western street, Western road, and King's road. The latter fronts the sea, and extends to the western limits of the town, and in continuation of which runs Brunswick terrace with its adjacent square. This terrace is a magnificent range of buildings in the Corinthian style, 2,800 feet in length, erected in 1826. The square which opens into the terrace on the the south contains equally good houses. In front, on the sea side of the road, is a fine promenade, which also extends eastward in front of the King's road as far as the battery. To the extreme west is Adelaide terrace, an unfinished range of first rate houses. Between the King's road and the Western road, which runs parallel with it, are Norfolk square and Russell square, and, on the upper part of the Montpelier road, a new crescent, built during the past summer: it is a beautiful range of buildings, commanding a view of the hills and low land to the west and north-west, and is called Montpelier crescent. The principal streets and squares eastward of the Steyne, are St. James's street, Manchester street, German place, New Steyne, Lower Rock gardens, Upper Rock gardens, Royal crescent, Portland place, Marine square, Eastern terrace, Marine parade, and Kemp town. The latter is at the eastern extremity of the town, near Blackrock. It was built in 1821, and stands on a cliff nearly 200 feet in height on the estate of Thomas Read Kemp, Esq., formerly M.P. for Lewes. The principal feature is an extensive crescent, called Lewes crescent, the opening in the centre of which (Sussex square) is 840 feet, and the wings (Chichester terrace and Arundel terrace), each 350 feet in extent, present a sea front of 1,540 feet. The glacis is terminated by an esplanade, commanding a beautiful and sheltered prospect of the ocean. Beneath this, at the base of the cliff on which Kemp town stands, a walk is carried to the west end of the Marine parade, and is united with the gardens and lawn in the centre of the crescent by a tunnel.

The Pavilion, the chief marine palace of her Majesty, was built by George IV., who contributed greatly to raise this town to importance by making it his residence when Prince of Wales. It was built from designs by Nash, in 1819. It has numerous cupolas, spires and minarets, in the Chinese style, and the interior is richly decorated. The banquetting room is 60 feet by 42, the music room the same size, the rotunda 55 feet in diameter. The Chinese gallery is 162 feet in length, decorated with Chinese paintings. The stables are in the Moorish style.

The Chain Pier, at once an object of great utility and ornament, was commenced in October 1822, and opened to the public in November of the ensuing year. This light and elegant structure was erected after the design and under the superintendence of Capt. Sir Samuel Brown, R.N., at an expense of £30,000. The length of the Chain pier is 1,130 feet, and width 13 feet; the platform is supported by the chains, which, at the south end, pass 54 feet into the cliff, and are there strongly bolted; from thence passing, with alternate dips, over the towers, they descend into the sea at the furthest extremity, and are imbedded in the rock. The rods by which the platform is hung on the chains are 362 in number, and each division of the chain, of which there are four on each side, formed by the intervention of the towers, has 117 links, each weighing about 112 lbs. The clumps of piles are four in number, at a distance of 258 feet. The towers are of cast iron, each weighing 15 tons, and are 25 feet high from the platform, which is itself 13 feet above high water mark. The steam packets to Dieppe, which is 81 miles distant, leave the pier-head daily during the summer, and to Havre twice a week, which renders this town a desirable route to Paris from the metropolis, since by way of Dieppe and Rouen, the two capitals are nearer by 90 miles than through Dover and Calais.

The Custom house is situated on the King's road, between Middle street and West street, but for the convenience of passengers, some of the officers of the customs attend at the Chain pier on the arrival of the packets.

The Town hall in Market street and Bartholomews is a large building, and, with the market, cost the town £30,000. It contains offices for the magistrates and parish authorities, Court of Requests, and the Police station. The upper story also contains handsome Assembly rooms, and the great room below is used on Saturdays as a market. The Market house, opposite to the Town hall, is both lofty and spacious, and is built in the form of the letter T; the principal entrances are in Market street and Black Lion street; it is open daily for the sale of meat, poultry, fish, and vegetables. The Corn market is held every Thursday at the King and Queen inn, in Marlborough place, where grain is disposed of by sample. The wholesale fish market is held on the beach, near the end of Market street, and the mode of effecting sales is by Dutch auction. About 400 persons and 120 boats are employed in fishing for mackerel and herrings; of the latter upwards of 100,000 have been deposited on the beach from one boat, and the average number of persons is four to each vessel. The chain of nets used for taking mackerel is of almost incredible length, varying from two to three miles, and thousands of fish are sometimes captured at a single draught, large quantities of which are despatched by railway for the London market. The town also is well supplied with every kind of fish.

The parish of Brighton is a vicarage, in the patronage of the Bishop of Chichester; its value, with the rectory of West Blatchington annexed, is £1,041. The church, dedicated to St. Nicholas, stands on a hill, about 150 feet from the level of the sea when the water is at ebb, and from its elevation, is not only an excellent sea mark, but the view from the churchyard is one of the most extensive in the vicinity. Here are several curious monuments, amongst which is one to Mrs. Crouch, the actress; another to Captain Tettersel, who assisted Charles II. in his escape to France after the battle of Worcester, in Sept. 1651; and another to Phœbe Hessel, who served as a soldier in 5th Regiment of Foot for many years abroad, fought at the battle of Fontenoy under the Duke of Cumberland, and died at the advanced age of 108. In the interior of the church there is a rude and ancient font, supposed to be of Saxon origin; a representation of the Last Supper is sculptured round its circular edge.

There are no less than twelve episcopal churches and chapels in Brighton. St. Peter's Church at the north centre of the town is a beautiful gothic structure, and one of the the best modern specimens in England; the style of which is of the 14th century. The church consists of a lofty nave and two side aisles, upwards of a 100 feet in length, the centre projecting in a semi-octagonal sweep, adorned with three handsome windows with ramified tracery; at the west end, is a neat tower and four tall pinnacles; it will accommodate 2,000 persons, and was erected under the superintendance of Mr. Barry, the architect, at an expence of about £20,000. The Roman Catholic Church, dedicated to St. John the Baptist, contains a magnificent altar-piece by Carew representing the baptism of Christ by John. The churches and chapels are enumerated at the end.

Amongst the numerous charities in the town we may notice the County Hospital, a neat edifice, situated near Kemp town on an elevated piece of ground given by T. R. Kemp, Esq. It will accommodate 100 patients. There are also a variety of other valuable institutions, of which the particulars are given at the end of this work.

Schools of all kinds are numerous in Brighton. For the children of tradesmen there are proprietary schools, for both males and females. The Chichester Diocesan Association, for training female teachers in Brighton. The National schools are well supported, under the constant care of the vicar and clergy; connected with the National schools are also schools for the deaf and dumb and the blind. Ther is a school for girls on a foundation established by Swann Downer, and there is a female Orphan Asylum. For the dissenters there are the British schools, the Puget schools (attached to the Countess of Huntingdon's chapel), and several others. There are Infant schools connected with both the National and the British schools; the particulars are given at the end of the work.

There are many libraries in Brighton: Folthorp's, Parson's, Wright's, &c. The reading rooms of which are well fitted up. The Albion Rooms Society having a library and reading room, in which lectures are delivered once a fortnight, i well supported. Three newspapers are published in the town—the Gazette, Herald, and Guardian; the former i on the Conservative and "Protection" side of politics the other two are Liberal, and support "Free Trade."

The Post Office is in the New road.

The Theatre is also in the New road, until the last season the management is said to have been carried on at a loss for many years. The present lessee, Mr. Hooper, declared his speculation to have been profitable during the last season, although depending for attraction on the Star System. The season is from the beginning of August till about February. There are Assembly rooms at the Old Ship, the Newburgh rooms, the Devonshire rooms, and the Town hall. The German Spa, in the Queen's park, is well attended.

The Race course is situated on the summit of the Downs, to the north and north-east of Brighton, on one of the loftiest eminences in the vicinity of the place, commanding an extensive view of the ocean, the town and the adjacent country. The races are held in the beginning of August. This year there was a Spring meeting, which is intended to be continued in snbsequent years.

The Baths are numerous and well attended. Adjoining to the Level are the Royal gardens and Box's ground, which is the scene of frequent trials of skill between the most celebrated cricket clubs of the kingdom, among whom the Sussex players hold a first place.

The annual fairs on Holy Thursday and the 4th September, are held on the Level, at the northern extremity of the town, for pedlary only.

Brighton is supplied with gas by two Companies. There is also a water Company which supplies a considerable portion of water from wells sunk in the parish of Preston.

The Infantry Barracks, for 288 men, are in Church street, opposite the Palace stables; the Cavalry Barracks, for 202 men, are on the Lewes road, in the parish of Preston.

The London and Brighton Railway, which was commenced on the 17th July, 1838, was opened throughout on the 21st September, 1841. There are five tunnels on the line, viz.—Mersham, a mile in length; Balcombe, 51 chains; Hayward's Heath, 230 yards; Clayton, 1¼ mile; and Patcham, 480 yards. The Ouse viaduct is one of the most stupendous works of the kind in England, it consists of 37 arches of 30 feet span, is 100 feet high in the centre, and is a quarter of a mile long. It is surmounted by a beautiful balustrade of Caen stone, flanked by four turrets at each end.

Brighton has been greatly improved by the Marine Wall, a splendid structure, which was commenced in September, 1827, and completed near the end of 1838; the length is upwards of 2 miles, extending from the Battery to Kemp town. The wall is formed of "concrete," a mixture of sea-beach sand, and lime; it is 20 feet thick at the foundation, and gradually diminishes by a slope on the outer side to about 3 feet at the top, and cost nearly £100,000 in erecting. The line of road facing the sea is 3 miles in length, from Kemp town to Adelaide terrace, forming what is said to be the finest marine drive in the world. Along the whole extent the road is of good width, with the exception of the space between the bottom of Ship street westward to the battery. The commissioners have adopted a plan for widening this part of the drive, and the improvement will be immediately commenced. In part of this line of road stands the Battery, mounted with 6 28-pounders. The commissioners are desirous of removing this structure southward on to the beach, so as to get rid of a curve in the King's road, but the most favourable terms which they have been able at present to obtain from the government is to reconstruct the battery at their own expense, according to plans of the government engineer.

The Devil's Dyke, 5½ miles north-west from Brighton, and 8 miles from Chanctonbury, is immediately above the picturesque village of Poynings; formerly known by the name of Poor Man's Wall, exhibits in its deep trenches the form and extent of a Roman encampment. The outline of the Dyke itself approaches an oval, and is nearly a mile in circumference; it is accessible at a narrow neck only, and that fortified with a deep broad ditch, and a very high vallum. It is beyond the power of language to describe the picturesque charm of the almost boundless views of the fertile vale to the right and left, extending over six counties, which here meet the eye; while to the south every object upon the ocean between Beachy Head on the east, and the Isle of Wight to the west, may be plainly discerned; it is therefore the favourite resort of visitors.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

UNPRINCIPLED SHOPKEEPERS, for the sake of gaining a trifle more profit, vend the most SPURIOUS COMPOUNDS, under the same names; some under the implied sanction of Royalty; they copy the labels, bills, advertisements and testimonials (substituting fictitious names and addresses for the real) of the original preparations, and use either the word "GENUINE," or a FEIGNED name, in the place of "ROWLAND'S."—It is therefore highly necessary to see that the word "ROWLAND'S" is on the wrapper of each article.

MR. W. R. WOOD,

DENTIST, ETC.

7, GERMAN PLACE, BRIGHTON.

Mr. WOOD most respectfully directs the attention of the Nobility, Gentry and Public in general, to his peculiar mode of constructing and fitting NATURAL AND ARTIFICIAL TEETH, from one to a whole set. Mr. W.'s method perfects the Mouth, greatly improves the appearance of the Countenance, and completely restores the means of articulation and mastication, which the loss of Teeth always impairs.

Mr. W. further assures those who may favor him with their visits, that they may faithfully rely on his effecting the above salutary results without the extraction of stumps, or causing the slighest pain or inconvenience; he also guarantees their great durability and perfect comfort in wear, avoiding those front fastenings which (when apparent) are so very disfiguring to the mouth.

Salivary Calculus, or Tartar, is an earthy matter deposited on the Teeth from the Saliva, and is of so truly destructive a nature that Mr. W. feels it deeply incumbent on him to call the attention of the Public to it. The Tartar grows in scales on the necks and interstices of the Teeth, gives a very unpleasant fetor to the Breath, and by its corroding and vitiating qualities destroys the Gums and Sockets of the Teeth, deprives them of their natural support, and causes them to fall out prematurely. Mr. W.'s skilful and simple method of removing this deposit, and restoring the Teeth and Gums to health and beauty, is of so easy a nature to the Patient, that the cure is effected without the slightest pain. To those who are totally unacquainted with his system of Scaling Teeth, Mr. Wood feels it necessary to say thus much, in order to remove a very erroneous impression which sometimes exists that the operation is both painful and injurious.

Stopping the Teeth with Gold, &c. &c.—This necessary operation when performed at a proper period of a Tooth's decay, will preserve it for many years, thereby preventing the excruciating and protracted pain of Tooth Ache, and the necessity for extraction.

Every operation connected with Dental Surgery performed with attention and care.

Irregularities in Children's Teeth removed and prevented.

TO STRANGERS.—Confidential references are permitted by several of Mr. W.'s patients who have received the benefits of his professional treatment.

Charges strictly moderate. That all may avail themselves of aid in every branch of Dentistry, Mr. W. makes no charge for consultations.

This Society grants Insurances to meet every kind of Pecuniary risk contingent upon the duration of human life.

The advantages of the Mutual System of Association are afforded to persons insuring in this Office, by the division of four-fifths of the Profits among the Assured; the remaining fifth being applied to meet the risk incurred, and the share of the expenses borne by the Proprietary. Lower rates of premium are charged to Assurers desirous to commute the prospective advantages of Profits, for a higher fixed sum Assured to them in their Policies.

A Capital of One Million, constantly augmenting by the Returns of the business, provides the most ample security for the protection of the Assured; this is further guaranteed by the constitution of the Proprietary, all of whom, as provided by the Deed of Settlement, must be Members of the Legal Profession, and as such, known and responsible parties.

In cases where a Life Assured by another has gone beyond the limits prescribed by the Policy, without the knowledge of the party interested, the Society will upon his application and proof of the Life being then in a satisfactory state of health (but subject to their Medical Officers' approving of the risk as applicable to such Life) renew the Policy upon the same terms, as they would have required for its continuance had their consent been previously obtained.

The Rules are calculated on the lowest scale, consistent with security from the Government Returns. The Premiums may be made Annually for Life, or in one sum or by a limited number of Annual Payments (afterwards to cease) or upon a decreasing scale to suit the circumstances of the Party Assuring.

Assurances for the whole term of Life may also be effected upon an Increasing Scale, commencing at a Rate much below the ordinary Premiums, and exempt from any augmentation for a period of seven years.

All enquiries, whether by letter or personal attendance at the Office between the hours of Ten and Four, relative to the business of the Society, or Life Assurance in general, will meet with immediate attention.

The usual Commission allowed to all Solicitors.

ADVANTAGES OF THIS INSTITUTION.

The whole of the Profits divided ANNUALLY among the Members, after payment of five Annual Premiums.

An ample guaranteed Capital, in addition to the Fund continually accumulating from Premiums, fully sufficient to afford complete security to the Policy-Holders.

HALF CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

The attention of ASSURERS is particularly directed to the Half Credit Rates of Premium, by which means Assurances may be effected and loans for short periods secured with the least possible present outlay, at a less premium than for short terms only, with the option of paying up the arrears and interest, and the difference between the two rates, thus becoming entitled to participate in the whole of the profit of the institution.

EXTRACT FROM THE HALF CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

	Age 20.	Age 25.	Age 30.	Age 40.	Age 50.	Age 60.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.

With profits....	1 0 11	1 3 0	1 5 8	1 13 11	2 8 10	3 15 11

Thus, for example—a person in the twenty-fifth year of his age need only pay 18s. 9d. per cent. yearly for the first five years, and afterwards by paying up the remaining half with interest, and the difference between the above rates, he will be entitled to share in the entire profits, which it is expected will reduce the future payments to little more than half the original Mutual rate. The GREAT BRITAIN is the only Society in which this very great accommodation is given to the Assured.

Transfers of Policies effected and registered (without charge) at the Office.

Claims on Policies not subject to be litigated or disputed, except with the sanction, in each case, of a General Meeting of the Members, to be specially convened on the occasion.

Members Assured to the extent of £1,000 entitled (after payment of five Annual Premiums) to attend and vote at all General Meetings, which will have the superintendence and control of the funds and affairs of the Society.

Full particulars are detailed in the Prospectus, which, with every requisite information, may be obtained by application to LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The important advantages offered by this Society, are—that Insurers are protected by a large invested Capital, upon which there is no interest to pay, and for which no deduction of any kind is made;—which enables the Directors to give the whole of the profits to Insuring Members.

The following table will show the effect of the reduction of Premium made by the Society on Members' Policies that have been five years in force:—

Age when Insured.	Sum Insured.	Annual Premium for first five years.	Reduction made on the sixth premium.
30	100	2 13 5	1 6 8
40	100	3 7 11	1 13 11
30	500	13 7 1	6 13 6
40	500	16 19 7	8 9 9
45	1,000	38 19 2	19 9 7
40	2,000	67 18 4	33 19 2
45	5,000	194 15 10	97 7 11

The Abatement for the years 1842, 1843, and 1844, was at the rate of £45 per cent. each year, and for the year 1845, £50 per cent.

This system of reducing the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Members, or enables them to Insure a further sum upon their Lives equal to more than one-third of the present Policy.

THE LONDON ASSURANCE CORPORATION,

Established by Royal Charter in the reign of King George the First, have been Effecting Insurances on Lives since the year 1721.

The Governors and Directors of this Corporation have greatly enlarged their system of Life Assurance, and invite public attention to their new prospectus. In addition to their system of an annual abatement after five payments have been made, they have established a new series of Life Assurance under ten Participating Tables, wherein a Bonus will be added to the Policy at the expiration of five years, or the present value of it will be paid in Cash, or the Premiums will be reduced for the following five years or for the whole term of life, at the option of the assured at the periods of the quinquennial division, the first of which will take place at the end of the year 1850.

One amongst the many advantages offered by this Corporation is that the Assured are exempt from the charges of Management, these charges being paid by the Corporation out of their share of the profits.

The rates for all other ages, and a detailed Prospectus, containing their very liberal conditions, and the rates under their nine other Tables, may be had on application at their offices, 7, Royal Exchange, Cornhill, and 10, Regent-street; and of any of the Corporation Agents in Great Britain and Ireland.

Fire Assurances are effected at the lowest rates.

The benefits to the Shareholders will be, that out of the funds of the society they will receive on the capital actually paid up £5 per cent. interest, payable half-yearly, with a bonus of £50 per cent. on paying off the last moiety of the capital.

It is proposed to appoint local Directors, chiefly of the medical and legal professions, with a view to the ultimate establishment of provincial boards. The qualification will be 20 shares, or an assurance for life of £500.

The Periodical Valuation of the Policies effected with this Company on the RETURN SYSTEM will be made after the 3rd of July, 1847, when an equitable proportion of the surplus premiums will be allotted to the Holder of every such Policy issued prior to that date.

The peculiar feature in the mode of division adopted by this Company, consists in the admission of every member to participate in the surplus he has assisted to create.

The general Plan of the Office comprises all the real advantages of which the System of Life Assurance is susceptible. Insurances may be effected on the Return or Non-Return Systems; in either case, the Assured will be guaranteed from all liability of partnership, and will possess the most ample Security arising from the large accumulations of the Company invested in the Government Funds, and the unlimited responsibility of its Proprietary.

The rates of premium of this Company are moderate, and have regard to economy as well as perfect security, the most important point to be looked to in a Life Assurance Society.

A septennial appropriation of profits, to be divided equally between the Assured for the whole term of Life and Shareholders, and may be applied either in addition to the sum assured, or in reduction of the future premiums.

Assurances can be effected to any amount from £50 to £5,000.

1st.—On a scale entitling the policy-holder to a periodical division of profits.

2nd.—On the reduced scale, by which only the original Sum Assured is secured, and which is peculiarly favourable to parties assuring for the purpose of securing a debt.

The payments of the premium may be so arranged as to meet the convenience or wishes of the Assured, and may be made in a single sum, Annually, Half-yearly, or Quarterly, on an ascending or descending scale, or for a limited term of years, &c., &c.

Credit of half the premiums for five years.—When an assurance is effected for the whole term of life, one half of the Annual Premiums may remain on credit for Five Years at 5 per cent. per annum interest, to be paid off at the expiration of the Five Years, or to remain as a charge upon the Policy as may be agreed upon.

AGENT FOR BRIGHTON.—Mr. F. Foster, chemist, &c., King's road.

THE LEADING FEATURES OF THIS SOCIETY ARE,

First.—The very moderate rate of Premium, when viewed as combined with Security to the assured.

Secondly.—The advantage to assurers (by table 2) of becoming entitled to Three-fourths of the Profits.

Thirdly.—The assurance of a certain Bonus.

Fourthly.—The facility for securing Debts.

Fifthly.—The allowance of half the Annual Premiums to remain unpaid for Seven years.

And lastly.—The accommodation of Temporary Loans to the assured on available security.

By the mode adopted at this Office the prudent man is enabled, by the payment of a moderate Premium, to secure a certain provision to his family in the event of his death, even should that take place immediately after the Assurance has been effected. For Example—a person aged 30, may, with this Society, assure his life for £500 by the annual payment of £11 3s. 4d., which in a Society where the Bonus is held out as a main inducement, would cost him £13 7s. 1d.; or in other words, for the same annual premium he could at this Office assure very nearly £600, whereby he derives at once a Bonus of £100.

Immediate and deferred Annuities are granted by this Society on liberal terms.

EDWD. T. RICHARDSON, Secretary.

W. KELLY & Co. respectfully announce that they have now published the

POST OFFICE DIRECTORY OF THE SIX HOME COUNTIES.

VIZ.:—

ESSEX, HERTS, KENT, MIDDLESEX, SURREY, & SUSSEX.

The entire, including a Map of each County, prepared expressly for this work, at the price of 25s.

The want of a good Directory of the Home Counties has long been much felt in the Metropolis, now so closely connected with them by the various Railroads and Steam-boats. By its publication, facilities such as never before existed, are afforded for communicating with the Gentry, or with all the Members of any Trade or Profession THROUGHOUT THESE COUNTIES. To WHOLESALE ESTABLISHMENTS the Work must be of very great value, and to all who either have present transactions with the Gentry, Traders, or Farmers, or who would wish to communicate with them, it is indispensable.

It will not, however, on account of the immense expense incurred in its preparation, appear annually. It is calculated that once in six years is as often as such a work can be advantageously produced. When it is remembered that within the Six Counties there are upwards of eighteen hundred Cities, Towns, and Villages, all of which have to be visited by persons competent to the survey, the cost and labour incurred in the production of such a book as the must be obvious.

W. KELLY & Co. have likewise published, with the same elaborate care, the

and its environs, including Dudley, Wolverhampton, &c., with Warwickshire and South Staffordshire, with Maps.

It will probably be a sufficient recommendation of these Works to state that they have been prepared by the Editors of the Post Office London Directory, and that all the arrangements, typographical and otherwise, are identical with those of that Work, which has now been published for nearly half a century, and is without a competitor.

W. KELLY & Co., are now preparing uniform with the above, the

POST OFFICE DIRECTORY OF THE COUNTIES OF
