ADDRESS.

The Proprietor and Publisher (Isaac Slater), in offering to his numerous subscribers and the general public the THIRD EDITION of the DIRECTORY of SOUTHPORT, BIRKDALE, &c., is again desirous of recording his sense of the liberal and encouraging patronage bestowed upon the previous issues, and trusts that this Edition will be found to be as complete and reliable as its predecessors.

The 1883 Edition being completely out of print, and a desire having been very generally expressed for a new one to be issued in time for the meeting of the British Association at Southport this year, the Proprietor, in deference to the wishes of his numerous patrons, has published the present Volume at an earlier date than would otherwise have been the case. Neither trouble nor expense have been spared to compile and print the work in the shortest possible period consistent with fulness and accuracy of information.

To many gentlemen who have during the compilation of this Volume given his Agents the benefit of their local knowledge, and who in numerous instances have supplied information likely to enhance the value of the work, the Proprietor returns his warmest thanks.

SOUTHPORT & BIRKDALE,

WITH

AINSDALE, BANKS, BLOWICK, CHURCHTOWN, CROSSENS, FRESHFIELD, MARSHSIDE, AND NORTH MEOLS.

SOUTHPORT is a handsome town, municipal borough, and well-frequented watering place, in the parish of North Meols, 9 miles N.W. from Ormskirk, 37¾ N.W. from Manchester, 18 N. from Liverpool, 18 S.W. from Preston, 18½ N.W. from Wigan, and 27 N.W. from Bolton, favourably situated between the rivers Mersey and Ribble, near the mouth of the latter. In 1809 there were only 38 dwellings here, then called South Hawes, and the inhabitants did not number more than 100. Since 1830, and more noticeably the last twenty years, it has increased considerably, owing to its railway communication with, and proximity to, several of the most considerable towns in the country; and its salubrity and mild atmosphere have raised it to the rank of a fashionable watering place. Southport has been honoured by being the town selected for the meeting of the British Association for 1883, the sittings of which body will commence about the time this work is in the hands of the public. The New Pier, erected by a joint-stock company, was commenced in August, 1859, and opened to the public in August, 1860. It begins at the level of the Promenade, and runs to low water. It was originally 15 feet wide, but was in 1864 widened to 24 feet; and being formed of iron lattice work, supported on cast iron pillars, is light and elegant in appearance. A substantial wooden flooring covers it entirely, and a neat railing on either side affords protection from accident. A tramway has been laid down, and by means of a stationary engine placed midway, passengers can be conveyed to the pier-head in five or six minutes. About the same time as the widening of the pier was being carried out, an addition was made to its length, by carrying it, on the same level, 265 yards to low water, so that steam boats could come alongside at any time of tide. There is a continuous traffic from the pier-head to Lytham, Blackpool, Llandudno, and other places; this requiring more accommodation, the directors have completed other improvements of a very extensive character. The entrance to the pier has been covered in so as to form a very useful sheltering place, close to the Promenade; sheltering rooms, with shops, have been erected on the main pier, and there are shops and waiting and refreshment rooms close to the old pier-head, the latter having been made twice its original size. On the north-east side seats are provided, and also two sheltering rooms. At its further end the extension pier, to the length of 100 feet, is widened from 24 to 40 feet, and across the end is a platform 180 feet by 30 feet wide. The extreme length of the pier is 1,465 yards, and is, with one exception, the longest in the kingdom.

The Hesketh Public Park, the land for which was the gift of the late Rev. C. Hesketh, covers an area of 30 statute acres, fenced in by a low stone wall and palisades, and was opened to the public in 1868. At two of the entrances are handsome lodges, one in Albert road and the other in Queen's road. The grounds are tastefully laid out with ornamental mounds, walks, shrubberies, lake, &c., and, as an agreeable change from the rest of the district, form an attractive place of resort. Round the park there is a drive of ample width. In this park is placed the Meteorological Observatory, presented to the town by the late John Fernley, Esq. of Birkdale Park. It is an ornamental wooden structure in the French-Italian style, erected on the highest eminence, at an elevation of 51 feet above the mean level of the sea. It is rectangular in form, 13 feet 3 inches by 10 feet, and 9 feet high. It is louvred on all sides and in the roof, to insure a perfectly free circulation of air, and, at the same time, to exclude all direct sunlight. The observatory and instruments are placed under the charge of the park keeper, who makes and records the observations under the general direction and superintendence of Mr. Joseph Baxendell, F.R.A.S.

The new and magnificently arranged baths of the Southport Baths Company, Limited, are erected on the site of the late Victoria Baths, on the Promenade. The building is in itself an ornament, and is very striking, especially to strangers. It is, however, the interior which gives it the high character for beauty and perfection of arrangement. The material externally is Burnley pierre-point facing, with Longridge stone dressings, the form of architecture being a combination of the Italian and Grecian styles. There are two pathways leading in a semi-circular form from the Promenade to the two main entrances, one for ladies and the other for gentlemen, each of which again leads into first and second class departments. The whole of the baths are upon the ground floor, and are well lighted by top lights. They are most admirably and conveniently arranged, with good and spacious dressing rooms, and are in point of fact perfect in all accommodation. There are ranges of private vapour, medicated, shower, and other baths, and seven spacious plunge or swimming baths. The architects were Messrs. Horton and Bridgford, of Manchester. The cost was at first estimated at £23,000, but about £40,000 has been required to carry out the plans. Southport shore is an extensive flat; a portion of it, forty acres in extent, has recently been reclaimed by the Corporation at a cost of £30,000, and now forms valuable building land, bounded on the seaward side by an elegant promenade. The tide recedes nearly one mile from the beach, which forms a safe and desirable place of exercise. Lord street, the main street, is a mile in length, perfectly straight, and 88 yards in breadth, containing many of the principal edifices and business establishments in the town, and is ornamented with trees, boulevards, and tastefully laid out gardens and lawns.

A memorial lamp to the memory of William Sutton, better known as the "Old Duke," and the builder of the first hostelry in Southport, is situated at the western end of Lord street. The Promenade, elevated above high water mark, skirting the beach, has been considerably lengthened, and by the construction of the Cheshire Lines Railway will be further extended, and will ultimately terminate close to the Palace Hotel, at Birkdale.

Near the centre, and opposite the entrance to the pier, is a handsome drinking fountain and marine barometer, on a raised base, enclosed with ornamental iron rails, the gift of the late John Fernley, Esq. of Birkdale Park. It is a stone structure, beautifully designed, and on the upper portion is a barometer, with other apparatus for meteorological purposes.

The Winter Gardens and Aquarium, upon which a sum of upwards of £100,000 has been expended, are the property of a joint-stock company, many of the shares being held by the principal inhabitants of the town. The site is the best that could possibly have been selected, being in the busy centre of the town, with a sea frontage of some three hundred and seventy yards, and bounded on the north side by Coronation walk, and on the east by Lord street. The entire area is about nine acres, which has been most tastefully laid out from designs by the architects. The gardens facing the sea have been formed with especial care so as to form sheltered walks in boisterous weather, and although not covering more than four or five acres, appear, by the skilful and artistic manner in which the mounds are formed, much more extensive. Cool sheltered caves, grottoes, and ornamental rock bridges are great features in the grounds. The Winter Garden proper is between the building and Lord street, and owing to the fact that it is sheltered from the prevailing west and south-west winds, and from the east, forms a great feature in the gardens, as it is well known that the climate of Southport will grow anything if only sheltered from these strong winds. There are two entrances to the grounds, one, for pedestrians only, at Coronation walk; the other, the principal entrance, is in Lord street, and consists of two very handsome stone lodges, with massive carriage gates between. Entering here, we drive direct to the carriage porch at the west of the building, a very elaborate piece of ironwork, doing credit to the ironfounders, Messrs. Rankin & Co. of Liverpool. From the carriage porch we enter the grand staircase, 15 feet broad, leading to the promenade above, and the aquarium below. On each side of this entrance hall are spacious cloak-rooms fitted with every requisite in the most complete manner. This staircase is in the centre of the building, which in out line resembles a double cross, the band pavilion being at one extreme, the conservatory at the other, and the promenade between. As a building designed to be a place of resort and amusement for the numerous visitors to Southport it stands alone; we believe there is nothing of the kind in any town in the kingdom, not even the Metropolis itself. There is under one roof an aquarium second to none in the kingdom; a magnificent band pavilion, capable of seating two thousand people; a promenade, 170 feet long, 44 feet broad, with verandahs and terraces running the entire length outside, and galleries on each side inside; together with one of the largest, and certainly one of the most handsome conservatories or winter gardens in the kingdom. Returning to the grand entrance, and descending the main staircase, we enter the principal hall of the Aquarium, a splendid apartment, with richly moulded columns and groined arched roof. The peculiar effect of light here is most striking, no light being admitted direct into the hall without passing through tinted glass, or being reflected through the twenty-three tanks along the sides. Each of these tanks is now filled with most magnificent specimens from the deep sea. At the end of this hall we come to another quite as long, and filled entirely with stand tanks for both fresh and salt water fish. The display of anemones and zoophytes in these tanks is a perfect picture, being admitted by many who have seen all the aquariums in the kingdom to be the most beautiful display they ever beheld. In this hall there is also a very fine seal pool, containing large seals. To those who are not familiar with these animals, they will prove undoubtedly one of the chief features of the place. Passing along at the end of this hall we come to another about half the size, containing the tanks devoted to the larger specimens of the finny tribe, and in which are now most magnificent specimens of sea perch, congers, sharks, twille, &c. In this also there are two other pools respectively devoted to the crocodiles, alligators, and sea lions, in which are to be seen fine specimens of these very interesting animals. Referring to the structure from an architectural point there are many features worthy of note, concrete having been used with great success, more extensively than at any other building in the kingdom, notably for staircases, halls, arches, and pillars. The whole of the timber is pitch pine, and the roofs are all open timbered, stained and varnished. The entire building is heated with hot water. All the works were designed and carried out under the superintendence of Messrs. Maxwell & Tuke, of Bury, architects. The Gardens were opened on the 16th of September, 1874, by Walter Smith, Esq., J.P. of Southport, before a fashionable assembly of ladies and gentlemen, among whom was the late Mr. Frank Buckland, M.A. inspector of salmon fisheries.

During the winter of 1876, a handsome Skating Rink of great extension was erected, and when open is at all times thronged. The flooring is of Val de Travers asphalte. The rink extends outside the covered-in space, up to the marginal wall of the gardens. Skaters can thus pass from one rink to the other, underneath archways, and have the advantage of skating in the open air, and, in inclement seasons, under cover. The building has been erected at a cost of about £10,000.

The Churchtown Botanic Gardens and Museum, which were opened in 1875, are now in a handsome and delightful state of completion. Possessed of a fernery, which, in connection with any public place of resort, is unequalled in the North of England, an elegant series of conservatories, well stocked with flowers, and the choicest exotics and shrubs, they are both to residents and visitors a superior attraction. The grounds, arranged under the supervision of the designer and landscape gardener, Mr. Shaw, of Powdon, command attention from the pleasing effect of a true imitation of nature. This is further enhanced by an ornamental piece of water twined artistically through mounds of vegetation and by shady walks. Rowing boats and canoes dot the serpentine in all directions, which is crossed in several places by elegant bridges, from the elevation of which a prospective view can be taken of nearly the entire grounds. The lodge gates, museum, refreshment rooms, and conservatories were designed and carried out under the supervision of Messrs. Mellor & Sutton, architects.

The Alexandra Gardens, situated close to Blowick station, within easy drive of Southport, are a source of great attraction to numbers of visitors who frequent Southport during the summer season. A dancing pavilion and pleasure grounds form the principal sources of interest.

The Glaciarium, or real ice skating rink, is a handsome building, erected by a joint-stock company, in Lord street, at the corner of Manchester road. It includes, besides the skating rink, promenade, smoking gallery, billiard and news rooms, &c. The promoters manufacture ice upon a large scale for the supply of the town and district, for which purpose the premises have been fitted up at great expense with the necessary machinery.

Within the last few years a complete system of sewerage for the town has been undertaken by the Corporation; this has been carried out in sections along the main thoroughfares at a depth varying from 15 to 21 feet, all of which have been completed. The main outlet for discharge of the sewage is near Crossens, about three miles from the centre of the town.

Among the hotels may be named the Victoria, Royal, and the Queen's, on the Promenade. The Prince of Wales, Bold Arms, and Scarisbrick are in Lord street; the Mornington Private Hotel, in Hoghton street; the Imperial, in Albert road; the Palace, at Birkdale; the London, in Windsor road; the Railway Commercial, in Chapel street; the Hoghton Arms, in Hoghton street; the Shakespeare, in Scarisbrick New road; and the George, at the end of Duke street; all of which will be found replete in all arrangements necessary to the comfort and well-being of visitors. In addition to these there is also the Smedley Hydropathic Establishment, Trafalgar road, Birkdale.

The Town Hall is an imposing building, situated in Lord street, erected by the Commissioners in 1853, at a cost of £4,500. It is in the Grecian style of architecture, with portico, the balcony being surmounted by a pediment with full length figures, representing Justice, Mercy, and Truth. The magistrates' petty sessions courts and assembly rooms occupy a portion of the building, other parts of which are devoted to the offices of the town clerk, borough surveyor, and other public officials. The Cambridge Hall, standing on the east side of Lord street, and contiguous to the Town Hall, is a beautiful building, erected for public purposes, and contains a handsome hall for public meetings, balls, bazaars, and entertainments, capable of holding 2,000 persons; it also contains ante-rooms and lavatories, and was erected at a cost of about £30,000. A handsome tower, with illuminated clock and chime of bells, the gift of the late W. Atkinson, Esq., J.P., ornaments the south front corner of the edifice, and is a marked feature of attraction and admiration. The Post Office occupies part of this building.

The town was granted a charter of incorporation in 1867, and is divided into six wards, viz.: West Ward, Craven Ward, Talbot Ward, East Ward, Hesketh Ward, and Scarisbrick Ward. To the first four wards there are six councillors and two aldermen from each ward, the first election having taken place June 1st, 1867. For Hesketh and Scarisbrick Wards there are three councillors and one alderman, the first election having taken place November 1st, 1875.

The Gas Works, in East Bank street and Crowlands, are the property of the borough, and the Water Works, at Scarisbrick and Aughton, belong to a public company, who have their offices in Portland street.

The old Victoria Market in Chapel street being found inadequate to the increasing trade and requirements of the town, a new and spacious building has recently been erected in East Bank street, in which ample market accommodation is provided for dealers in the various branches of common necessaries. The building, which is ornamental in its exterior, consists of three sections or avenues, each 15 feet wide, spacious archways through the intersecting walls affording ready access to customers at the various stalls. The main portion is allotted to butchers, poulterers, fruiterers, and provision dealers, the other two sections being divided between the fishmongers and general dealers. The roof is supported by cast-iron columns and lattice girders, surmounted by a dome, in front of which is placed a large turret clock; the interior is lighted by large circular pendants, suspended over the main avenues, while ornamental lamps at the principal entrances furnish a brilliant display of light. The market, which covers an area of 4,550 square yards, the entire cost amounting to the sum of £40,000, was opened by the Earl of Derby, on the 7th September, 1881. The old market has since been pulled down, and handsome shops erected on its site. At the rear of the Town Hall, with access through Cambridge arcade from Lord street and Chapel street, is the Victoria Toy Market. There are three newspapers published here, viz.: the Southport Visiter, the Southport News, and the Southport Guardian.

The Atkinson Art Gallery and the Atkinson Public Free Library, adjoining the Cambridge Hall, which was erected at a cost of £8,000 (the gift to the town of the late William Atkinson, Esq. J.P.), is a composite Italian structure of much beauty, and was opened on the 21st February, 1878, by Richard Nicholson Esq., Mayor, the memorial stone being laid on the 9th November, 1876. The front elevation is of stone. Over the door is a large carved medallion, "Inspiration," and also six large panels containing allegorical groups of figures; the side and back elevations being finished in brick, relieved by stone dressings. The arrangement of the interior is admirably adapted to the purposes for which the building was erected, and the fittings are generally of a plain and substantial character. The Free Library occupies the ground floor of the building, and comprises a general reading room (also capable of being used as a lecture room), the general library, the reference library and newsroom. The Art Gallery provides a main picture gallery 67 feet 6 inches by 26 feet 9 inches, and two other galleries, each 44 feet 9 inches by 25 feet 9 inches. Two galleries are also provided for sculpture, casts, &c. each 21 feet 9 inches by 18 feet. The wall space of these galleries gives a hanging space of over 6,000 feet. The lighting, ventilating, and heating arrangements are of the most modern and complete character. The plans of the building were designed by Messrs. Waddington & Son, Burnley, and the contractors were Messrs. Robert Neill & Sons, of Manchester.

The Convalescent Hospital and Sea Bathing Infirmary, in Sea Bank road, offers to the poor the benefit of seaside residence, medicine, &c. The hospital is now being extended by the erection of a new building capable of admitting 350 patients, the present premises having only room for 150. The plot of land for the new building extends from Adelaide street to the Promenade front, and the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund have set aside close upon £40,000 for extension purposes. It is expected that the new portion will shortly be completed and ready for the reception of patients. An infirmary, dispensary, hydropathic hospital, homœopathic dispensary, and a sanatorium for children, a marine fund, Turkish baths, temperance society, steam laundry, &c., are in full operation. The Lime House Hydropathic Establishment, situated at the corner of Bath street and Bold street, and having a S.S.E. and S.W. aspect, is now well known and highly commended for its efficient accommodation and management. Its nearness of approach to the Promenade and to the boulevards of Lord street, as well as its central position and easy access to the various places of pleasure and amusement, renders it a most desirable place of residence to those seeking health and change. The establishment is under the supervision and management of the proprietor and resident medical adviser, Mr. Samuel Kenworthy, by whom it was established in 1876. This gentleman has had more than 25 years' practical experience in hydropathy, which has been attended with great success both here and elsewhere. The premises afford superior accommodation for carrying out the treatment, and the baths and bathing appointments, which are constructed on the most modern and advanced scientific principles, include the Turkish, Russian, vapour, electro-chemical, and the various hydropathic baths.

There are nine churches of the Establishment in Southport, the oldest being Christ Church, Lord street, erected in 1820; it is a large and commodious structure, with a beautiful tower and spire, an illuminated clock, and a peal of eight bells; the living is a perpetual curacy. Holy Trinity Church, Manchester road, erected in 1837, is a neat building with square embattled tower; the living is a perpetual curacy. St. Paul's Church, St. Paul street, is a handsome erection of stone, with a tower and spire. The interior presents a fine effect, the whole of the windows being of stained glass; the living is a perpetual curacy. St. Andrew's Church is situated in East Bank street. This church owes its erection chiefly to the late W. Atkinson, Esq., J.P. D.L., whose munificent offer to contribute a large proportion of the cost of the building met with a liberal response from the residents in Christ Church and the other parishes of the town. The building contains 998 sittings, of which 498 are free, and the entire cost, exclusive of site and fence walls, was £4,600. All Saints' Church, the gift of Mrs. Charles Hesketh, is a neat and handsome structure, erected at the corner of Queen's road and Hesketh Park, and has recently been enlarged. Besides those mentioned above, there are All Saints' School Church, situated in Ormskirk road, St. Luke's, Hawkshead street South, St. Paul's School Church, Duke street, and St. Philip's, Scarisbrick New road. There are places of worship for nearly all denominations of dissenters, many of which, notably St. George's Presbyterian, Lord street, Mornington Road Wesleyan, Trinity Wesleyan, Talbot street, the Methodist Free Church, the Independent, Chapel street, and the West End Congregational, Duke street, are elegant and substantial structures, and aid in ornamenting this rapidly increasing and prosperous town. There are schools in connection with most of the places of worship. The Cemetery is on the south-west of the town, the ground occupied being 240 yards in length by 186 yards in width, and is surrounded by a stone wall five feet in height. It contains three mortuary chapels for members of the Established Church, Dissenters, and the Roman Catholics. The Cemetery was opened in December, 1865, when the portion of it devoted to the use of the Established Church was consecrated by the Bishop of Chester.

The station of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway is situated in Chapel street; the waiting rooms are conveniently arranged and there are comfortable refreshment rooms. The West Lancashire railway, which was opened for public traffic on the 4th September, 1882, forms a direct communication between Southport, Preston, Blackburn, and East Lancashire and Yorkshire districts, having stations on the route at convenient distances. The principal station at Southport is situated at the junction of Kensington road and Derby road, in the centre of the town, and named the Central Station. The Southport and Cheshire Lines Extension Railway was incorporated by Act of 11th August, 1881, for the purpose of constructing a double line of railway from Aintree to Birkdale. Power was obtained in the Session of 1882 for the further extension of the line from Birkdale, along the beach, into the centre of Southport, which will necessitate the erection of a sea wall for its protection. The terminus will be in Lord street, and the building will form an attractive feature in the town, the site being one of the best possible. The railway is to be stocked and worked by the Cheshire Lines Committee under agreement. The advantages of this line of railway (alike to Southport and the public) are obvious, as connecting Southport with the entire system of the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire, the Great Northern, and the Midland Railways, thus affording a direct and continuous communication with the Midland counties and the whole of the South of England. Passengers by this route will be able to reach Southport without the necessity of changing carriages or crossing in Manchester or Liverpool from one station to another. The convenience of both residents and visitors alike has been greatly added to by the construction of tramways. Cars are now running to Churchtown, Birkdale, and along the Scarisbrick New road. In 1871 the municipal borough of Southport contained 18,086 inhabitants, andin 1881, 32,191, showing an increase in the ten years of 14,105.

BIRKDALE is a township in the parish of North Meols, and a station on the Liverpool, Crosby and Southport Branch of the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway, one mile and a half from Southport. It is governed by a Local Board. The Town Hall is situated at the corner of Weld and York roads, and was built at a cost of £3,500; there is an assembly room, capable of containing 300 people, let for concerts, balls, &c., and two dressing rooms, lavatories, &c. On the ground floor is the board room, surveyor's and collector's office, the estate office of T. Weld Blundell. Esq., and the offices of the Birkdale Land Company. There is also the surveyor's house attached to the building. Birkdale Park is in the township, but forms a suburb to Southport. It has good roads lighted with gas, handsome mansions, villas, boarding schools, &c. The church of St. James is a neat building, built of red sandstone, with tower and spire. There is also another church, dedicated to St. Peter, situate in Everton road. There are two hotels, the Park Hotel and the Palace, the latter a magnificent edifice, was erected by a limited liability company at a cost of £60,000. Population in 1871, 3,375, and in 1881, 8,706.

BANKS is a village in the parish of North Meols, five miles north-east of Southport, and constituted an ecclesiastical district in 1867. The living is a vicarage.

CHURCHTOWN is a village in the parish of North Meols and a station on the West Lancashire Railway, two miles north-east from Southport. The parish church of Saint Cuthbert is a neat stone building, with tower and spire; it contains several handsome monuments to the Hesketh and Fleetwood families. The living is a rectory, in the incumbency of the Rev. Charles Hesketh Knowlys. There are chapels for Independents, Wesleyans, and Primitive Methodists, and a National school. A fair for cattle, sheep, &c., is held here on the Monday and Tuesday before the 20th of August. North Meols Hall, near the village, is an ancient brick building, once the residence of the Hesketh family, but now a farmhouse. Population returned with the parish.

CROSSENS is a village in the parish of North Meols and a station on the West Lancashire railway, one mile north-east from Churchtown, and three from Southport. It is a separate parish for ecclesiastical purposes. The church of St. John, consecrated in 1837, is now in course of demolition, it being the intention, in consequence of the increasing population, to erect a new and more commodious building. The old structure had accommodation for only 210 worshippers, whereas the new edifice will contain 420 sittings, and will cost about £3,000. The living is a vicarage in the gift of trustees. There are places of worship for Wesleyan and Primitive Methodists, and also a National school. Population returned with the parish.

NORTH MEOLS is an extensive parish, divided into the townships of North Meols and Birkdale. The parish church is at Churchtown. Many of the inhabitants are engaged in fishing and agricultural pursuits. The trustees of the late Rev. Charles Hesketh M.A., and of the late Charles Scarisbrick, Esq., are joint lords of the manor, and hold courts annually. The acreage of the parish is computed to be 24,541. The entire parish of North Meols contained, in 1871, 25,649, and in 1881, 42,454 inhabitants, of which number 33,454 were returned for the township.

AINSDALE is a small township, three and a half miles south from Southport, with a station on the Crosby and Southport branch of the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway.

BLOWICK and MARSHSIDE are hamlets from one to two miles from Southport.

Thomas Yates,

WINE, SPIRIT, AND BEER MERCHANT,

"MANSION HOUSE,"

35 CHAPEL STREET, SOUTHPORT

Opposite the Lancashire & Yorkshire Railway Station.

THOMAS YATES has the pleasure of informing his customers and the public generally, that he has secured one of the New Shops just erected in Chapel Street. These buildings, which are the handsomest and most commodious business premises in Southport, are not only centrally situated, but have been specially fitted up for the various trades to be carried on in them. In the shop occupied by him every convenience will be found for keeping his

SELECTED

STOCK OF WINES AND SPIRITS,

IN THE BEST POSSIBLE CONDITION;

Whilst great care has been taken with the cellars so as to secure dryness and the requisite temperature.

☞ SPECIALITY:

OLD SCOTCH

Those whose health requires them to use the most perfect Quality of this Article may rely on procuring such from the above Establishment, the long experience and practical knowledge enabling the Proprietor to supply this Article of great age and of the highest possible Quality.

For the new premises, he has been at much pains to select a Stock of the VERY FIRST QUALITY. His intimate knowledge of the Wine and Spirit trades will enable him to place before his customers sound and genuine articles, which is saying a great deal in these days when the markets are flooded with inferior descriptions of Wines and Spirits. As heretofore, his business will be carried on upon the principle of supplying the best articles on terms which will enable him to compete, both for quality and price, with any other house in the trade.

THOMAS YATES trusts that, in his new premises, he may continue to receive the liberal support which has hitherto been given him; and his customers, both old and new, may be assured that their orders will be executed in a manner that will afford them the fullest satisfaction.

All persons contemplating warehousing their Furniture should inspect the above premises, which are thoroughly heated and ventilated.

Families removing in Town or Country can be supplied with an estimate, free of cost, to include the entire unhousing of the Furniture, packing of Glass, China, Ornaments, Books, and Wine, by experienced workmen, including the use of all packing cases and material that may be required.

SOUTHPORT STEAM LAUNDRY,

SUSSEX ROAD,

Built for the purpose, and lined throughout with White Enamelled Bricks.

This Laundry offers special advantages for the washing of

— BEDDING. —

The present Proprietor has lately added New Machinery by means of which Shirts, Collars, the finer Linen, and Embroidery are washed without the brushing so much practised in laundries as well as by washerwomen generally. The customers of the Sussex Road Laundry will find that the clothes washed by the process now in use there will last much longer than those treated in the ordinary way.

There is a Stoving House for Blankets, Cricketing and Tennis Suits, and Flannels generally, in which the articles are Stoved and purified as new Woollen Goods are treated by the manufacturers.

Muslin and Lace Curtains of all kinds are finished on frames with fine closely-set pins, which do not injure the fabric.

But curtains are so liable to become tender by exposure to sunlight, even when apparently sound and good, that they are at times torn in washing. We exercise every care with them, but cannot hold ourselves responsible for such breaks as these.

THE ECRU TINT CAN BE GIVEN, IF DESIRED, TO CURTAINS, TIES, OR LACE.

Wedding Trousseaux receive careful attention.

LADIES' ZEPHYR & SATEEN DRESSES

ARE GOT UP IN FIRST-RATE STYLE.

PRICE LIST ON APPLICATION TO THE PROPRIETOR.

A Van will call at any address on receipt of post card.

LIFE, HEALTH, AND DISEASE:—MEDICAL OPINIONS.

"All important preventive measures must resolve themselves into such measures as have the effect of restoring the living principle when enfeebled; and, in all cases, of exalting it to the highest pitch of energy which it is capable. Does the Hydropathic system possess this power of restoring, strengthening, and exalting the living principle? Undoubtedly it does; this is admitted on all hands; those who deny to it every other merit, acknowledge that it may justly lay claim to this. And, indeed, with those persons who have no organic disease—in whom there is nothing wrong, save some depreciation of the living principle—its effects are really wonderful. The appetites they get—the power of digestion they acquire—the rapidity with which they gain weight, not in fat, but in blood and living tissue, and by the development of muscle—the physical strength and nervous firmness to which they attain—is perfectly marvellous."—The late EDWARD JOHNSON, M.D., Great Malvern.

"Disease is no entity; it is but a modification of health,—and this must at all times be insisted on. In health, the balance of function is even; incline it to the other side and there is disease. To the charlatan, disease is a set of symptoms to be attacked by a variety of drugs,—a drug for each symptom." (Extract from address of Sir WM. GULL, M.D., British Medical Journal, 3rd February, 1872.)

"At Hydropathic Establishments a GREAT AMOUNT of benefit is continually obtained, by those who are afflicted with the SEVEREST CHRONIC DISEASES; and REMARKABLE CURES ARE EFFECTED by WATER TREATMENT."—The late J. HORNER, M.D. M.R.C.S.

LIME HOUSE is centrally situated in Southport, having a Sheltered Position, Southern Aspects, and Superior Baths.

REMARKS ON HYDROPATHY.

The Diseases treated Hydropathically are not confined to those enumerated in these columns, but to every class of disease, or diseased condition of the human organism. Hydropathy is applicable to those stated here, and it may be said to be a true specific. The principle upon which the system is based—namely, to assist Nature in her own effort to heal herself, which she is constantly attempting to do,—is the same, as seen in ordinary wounds being healed, without medicine or any other application. So it is with greater diseases when rightly assisted by this treatment, and not attempted by unnatural means—generally of a poisonous character.

The judicious Hydropathic Practitioner will adapt his remedies to meet the special conditions of disease, the age and vital power of the patient, and the season of the year. He will accordingly modify and regulate the temperature and duration of the treatment, in order to produce soothing, sedative, derivative, stimulating, tonic, and astringent effects, as the nature of each case may require.

"The Turkish Bath GIVES AN APPETITE, and strengthens the digestion. Non-bathers often express alarm lest the Turkish Bath may be weakening; but the Bath STRENGTHENS. It never weakens unless it is used improperly."—DR. ERASMUS WILSON.

"No person who has watched its (Hydropathic) operation can deny that it is a remedy of a most powerful kind; and if its agency be fairly tested, there is strong reason to believe that it will be found to be the most valuable means we possess for various specific diseases." DR. CARPENTER.

BARILLA ASH SOAP.

"We have seen lately such very remarkable effects from the use of this Soap, that we are constrained to bring it again before our readers. Take a case—One of Chloralism and Sleeplessness. The drug was taking fatal effect on the patient, and yet it seemed impossible to get sleep without it. Here, the head was first of all soaked throughout with lather; working it in with kindly care to the skin of the head, a wonderfully soothing feeling is produced. Then, in the case we are thinking of, the whole body was so soaped that the patient felt as if laid in a mass of it, but perfectly comfortable. This gave natural sleep. It is the best and most lasting of soap for washing purposes, apart altogether from its use in curative processes, so that in recommending it we are not promoting the use of a merely medical thing, but of one for ordinary purposes of a genuine and excellent character."

Extracts from papers on Health, by Professor KIRK, EDINBURGH.

COMMUNICATIONS TO BE ADDRESSED TO 45 BELMONT STREET, SOUTHPORT.

A slice of stale MALT-BREAD, toasted and buttered, is a great relish.

Pooley's Patent Malt-Bread.

Sole Maker for Southport, Birkdale, & District,

E. BURGIN,

GROCER, BAKER,
And PROVISION DEALER,
67 CLAREMONT ROAD, BIRKDALE.

IT may be stated as an axiom that, other things being equal, the measure of a man's strength will be in proportion to the amount of the nutritive food he can take and assimilate. Bread being universally consumed in larger quantity than any other food, it is of the utmost importance that it should contain the largest amount of nutriment in the most readily assimilative form. By the addition of Malt in due proportion to Wheat-Flour, in the process of making, it has been found that the resulting Bread is much more readily digested, the stomach being saved a portion of the preliminary process of preparing it for assimilation. The advantage of this, in so many cases familiar to the Medical Practitioner, will be self-evident; and it is confidently anticipated that the Patent Malt-Bread will speedily become the standard Bread for persons with feeble powers of digestion.

Invalids are not the only persons interested in the Malt-Bread, as it is not only more readily digested, but it is more nutritious, more agreeable to the palate, and will keep sweet and moist much longer than ordinary Bread.

DR. HASSALL'S REPORT ON A SAMPLE OF MALT-BREAD RECEIVED FROM MR. JOHN C. POOLEY.

"This Bread is of a sweet and very pleasant odour and taste, and possesses a malt-like flavour. Subjected to analysis it was found that it contained less than the usual percentage of moisture, that it was free from alum, and in all other respects genuine and of good quality. The flavour and other peculiar characters of this Bread are, no doubt, due to the presence of the malt-flour, the diastase contained in which renders the subsequent digestion more easy and rapid. "ARTHUR HILL HASSALL, M.D."

DR. VOELCKER (LATE OF THE ROYAL AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CIRENCESTER) WRITES AS FOLLOWS:

"Malt assists digestion, and thus is not only a valuable article of food in itself, but, by the manner in which it acts, tends to render other kinds of food along with which it is given more useful than they would be without it. . . . . It seems to help digestion remarkably, it might be said wonderfully."

MEDICAL TESTIMONIALS.

From DR. HOLLAND. "15 ST. CATHERINE PLACE, BATH.

"Since I furnished you with a testimonial as to the general efficacy and digestibility of your Malt-Bread, I have had additional proof of its superiority over ordinary bread, in all cases of imperfect assimilation, and its concomitant, habitual constipation. I have prescribed it in upwards of a hundred cases, and have uniformly found that it has been productive of the happiest effect in improving digestion and removing the tendency to constipation. I consider it a most valuable dietetic agent.

"To MR. POOLEY. "E. C. HOLLAND."

"HASTINGS.

"I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the digestive and nutritive qualities of Pooley's Malt-Bread. Its flesh-forming properties are above that of the ordinary white bread, and its richness in Phosphates make it THE food for children, and invalids especially. "CHAS. ASHENDEN, M.R.C.S. & L.S.A.,

"Medical Officer of Health for the Borough of Hastings."

DIRECTORY of LANCASHIRE

And the MANUFACTURING DISTRICT around MANCHESTER,

For 1882-83,

IN ONE VOLUME.

PRICE - - - - - - - - - - - - - £2. 10. 0.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the MANCHESTER CITY NEWS.

DIRECTORY OF LANCASHIRE, 1882.—Mr. Isaac Slater has just issued a new edition of his Directory of Lancashire and the manufacturing district round Manchester, an immense volume of over two thousand five hundred closely printed pages, which deserves to be classed amongst the wonders of bookmaking. Manchester is catalogued very fully, then follow Liverpool, Lancaster, Oldham, Preston, Rochdale, and in fact all the towns of Lancashire down even to such places as Cartmel; and finally there are directories for such of the Cheshire and Derbyshire towns as have direct manufacturing relations with Manchester, such as Stockport, Hyde, Glossop, Mottram, and Altrincham. A monumental undertaking like this, requiring an immense organisation to bring it to perfection, is, of course, an indespensable and invaluable adjunct to the business of the city and of the county. Its methodical arrangement is excellent, and its accuracy, so far as we have been able to test it, is unimpeachable.

From the MANCHESTER COURIER.

DIRECTORY OF LANCASHIRE, 1882.—The appearance of the new edition of this bulky but most useful volume (the Lancashire Directory) will be generally welcomed by the community for whose benefit the work is published. The changes of residence which take place with such frequency in large mercantile communities render a directory, however carefully it may be compiled at the time of its publication, speedily obsolete. The reliance which, all throughout this district, is placed in Slater's Directory forms the best testimony which could be offered to the accuracy with which the complicated task of compiling it is performed. As a result of such tests as we have been able to apply, it appears certain that the accuracy of the new edition is even greater than that observable in the previous ones.

SLATER'S

ROYAL NATIONAL COMMERCIAL

DIRECTORY of SCOTLAND

IN ONE VOLUME.

— PRICE £2. 5s. Od. —

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the DUNDEE COURIER AND ARGUS, September 5, 1882.

DIRECTORY OF SCOTLAND, 1882.—A new edition of this very useful work has just been issued, and it is really a ponderous volume, got up in a most handsome and painstaking style. As showing the manner in which this Directory has gradually grown, we are told in a prefatory note that while the volume originally issued by the enterprising publishers in 1821 did ample justice to the commercial interest of Scotland in 246 pages, such has been the national progress since that period that the names demanding insertion have increased the size of the work to the appalling total of 2,330 pages. The amount of information comprised within these limits is simply overwhelming, but all is so admirably arranged and classified as to be capable of easy and instantaneous reference. It is four years since the last edition of "Slater's Directory of Scotland" was issued, and we notice that several new features have been introduced. A Shipping Trade List of Export Merchants is given for the first time, and will be found exceedingly useful to those interested. The leaves are also indexed on the outside so as to indicate the several sections into which the Directory is divided.

From the ABERDEEN FREE PRESS, August 29, 1882.

DIRECTORY OF SCOTLAND, 1882.— . . . . Embracing, as it does, the whole of Scotland, it contains, in handy form, a great amount of useful and interesting information for business purposes. . . . There is an index to the counties, the cities, and towns, &c., embraced in the work, and it is accompanied by a very good map of Scotland.

From the DUNDEE ADVERTISER, September 7, 1882.

. . . Slater's Directory of Scotland is so well known and so widely appreciated that any word of commendation would be superfluous.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the IRISH TIMES, Oct. 21, 1880.

DIRECTORY OF IRELAND, 1881.—This elaborate and comprehensive work is very imperfectly described by the above heading. A much more lengthy title would be necessary to indicate, even in the most meagre manner, the scope of a very useful directory, which is intended principally for the commercial world. . . . . Mr. Slater's magnum opus is so well known that it scarcely requires a word to commend it to the notice of the public. The present issue is, however, considerably amplified, and is the largest and most comprehensive that has been undertaken since the commencement of the enterprise in 1795. To commercial men having business relations with provincial towns in Ireland as well as the cities it will be specially valuable.

From the FREEMAN'S JOURNAL, Oct. 20, 1880.

DIRECTORY OF IRELAND, 1881.—Another edition of the Directory for Ireland has been issued by Mr. Isaac Slater, of the Royal National Directory Offices, Manchester. As a commercial book of reference the work is certainly a valuable one, the closeness of its information to the date of its issue being remarkable. There is a very fine map of Ireland, it should be added, attached to the work.

OPINION OF THE PRESS.

From the SOUTH WALES DAILY NEWS, April 23, 1883.

SLATER'S DIRECTORY OF CARDIFF.—This admirable directory has just been re-published for 1883-4. It is so well known in the town and district that it is scarcely necessary to enumerate its many excellencies, but for the benefit of those who have hitherto not seen or patronised it, we may say that it includes the following useful classes of information:—A historical notice of the borough, a street list, a street register, and alphabetical and classified trade lists, the present regulations of the post-office, municipal lists, places of worship, public buildings, institutions, offices, &c., with their officials, and a full list of London and Provincial Bankers. The whole of the information has been brought down to the latest possible date, and thus the directory will be found invaluable to business men.

OPINION OF THE PRESS.

From the SOUTHPORT VISITER.

SLATER'S DIRECTORY FOR SOUTHPORT AND BIRKDALE.—Slater's Directory is an established institution, and widely known and highly appreciated throughout the country. The immense labour that is attached to such an undertaking is best known to those who have to prepare them from time to time, and it is astonishing that many of the inaccuracies arise from the people's own carelessness in supplying the information. In the Southport and Birkdale edition, which has recently been published, one gentleman who has been deprived of his distinctive titles which he is entitled to use after his name, was annoyed to find them omitted in the new edition. Of course, the publishers were blamed, and his wrath was only appeased by the agent showing the complainer his own caligraphy, which he had furnished himself. It could scarcely be expected but one or two mistakes like that should occur when so many addresses had to be given; but taking it as a whole it is astonishingly accurate, and the publishers deserve to be greatly encouraged in supplying so valuable a directory to business men in this district.
